BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

Dr. Johnston,

THE FOUNDER OF THIS CELEBRATED Institution offers the most Certain, Speedy and only effectual remedy in the world for

SECRET DISEASES

Gleets, Strictures, Seminal Weakness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Diseases of the Head, Throat, Nose, or Skin; those serious and melancholy Disorders arising from the Destructive habits of Youth, which destroy both body and mind. Those secrets and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering Marriage, &c, impossible.

YOUNG MEN,

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dark and deadly Error which has been the ruin of thousands and has caused many a young man of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have extended listening Senates with the thunder of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Dr Johnston invites young men and all who have injured themselves by improper indulgence, and who find themselves suffering from the effects of those habits practiced in youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the head, Dimness of sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons, of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, have a singular appearance about the eyes, cough, and symptoms of consumption.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This dreadful disease is the penalty most frequently paid by those who have become the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of Procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental powers weakened, nervous debility, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, a wasting of the frame, cough, symptoms of consumption, etc.

MARRIAGE

Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c, should apply immediately.

He who places himself under the care of Dr J may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

OFFICE, NO 7 SOUTH FREDERICK ST 7 DOORS FROM BALTIMORE STREET, EAST SIDE, UP THE STEPS

☞ Be particular in observing the Name and Number, or you will mistake the place

DR JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduate from one of the most eminent colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the first Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known, many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashful area, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

CERTAIN DISEASE

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone be trusted him; delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, affecting the head, throat, nose, skin, &c; progressing on with rapidity, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miserable.

YOUNG MEN

who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating MARRIAGE, reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR GENTIAL DEBILITY

This great and important remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, many of whom had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties becoming restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline to sound and pristine health. All impediments to

MARRIAGE,

Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Trembling and Weakness, or Exhaustion of the system, from any cause, cured in a few days by this celebrated and specially prepared Medicine.

TO STRANGERS

The many thousands cured at this Institution within the last fifteen years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr Johnston, witnessed by the reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

THE ONLY PHYSICIAN ADVERTISING.

Dr Johnston is the Only Regularly Educated Physician in Baltimore advertising to cure Private Complaints. Ignorant and worthless Quacks, swarming in our large Cities, with innumerable and mischievous Advertisements, disgust the public of which is usually Free, by publishing a list of useless and noxious compounds, various false names and a separate condemned quack shop, so that the affected stranger escaping one is sure to fumble headlong into the other—copy Dr Johnston's advertisements and call at his Office. Young men easily deceived by these pretenders, should consult a gentleman who has devoted his whole attention to these diseases.

The class of persons falling victims to these cunning and contemptible Pretenders, are not the wise and intellectual, who capable of discovering at a glance the true sons of the Star eyed Science, from the ignorant and lying quack, but the simple and unreflecting, who do not value their health, as long as they can get medical advice for a trifle.

Or the unsuspecting stranger, unacquainted with their various modes of trickery, attracted by small fees, different assumed Names, &c, quickly falls into the snare set for him, but finds, alas! when too late, that instead of being cured he has not only lost both time, money and patience, but that his future health has been inevitably ruined by the filthy and poisonous compounds of an imprudent and illiterate Impostor.

How can it be possible for an individual, destitute of knowledge, name, or character, whose life has been spent at the most degrading and mental of employments, either as a boot black, or at a soldier's lap stone, attendant in a shoe store, or earning $5 per week as a scrubbing, sweeping out and trimming the lamps of a little Quack Shop, to be capable of understanding that most difficult and complicated of all Sciences, the noble and beautiful science of medicine. A single glance at these vile and unlearned pretenders, will convince the most simple and inexperienced, that they are both bodily and mentally incapacitated to be any thing more than what in reality they are, a set of base and paltry knaves, whose disgraceful and unworthy existence is spent in duping by their low bred cupidity, the afflicted, the unfortunate, and the unsuspecting; incapable of curing they keep you trifling month after month, taking their filthy and deadly compounds, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in deeper leaves you with ruined health to sigh over your gulling misplaced confidence.

Reasons Dissuading these remarks can try these impostors, be ruined in health, and be convinced.

Dr. Johnston wants no Patients, but those fully capable of appreciating and distinguishing the services of a regular thorough bred Physician from the paltry, designing and unlearned Quack.

To those unacquainted with his reputation, the Dr deems it necessary to say that his Credentials or Diplomas always hang in his Office.

His remedies and treatment are entirely unknown to all others. Prepared from a life spent in the Great Hospitals of Europe and the First in this country, viz: England, France, the Blockley of Philadelphia, &c, and a more extensive practice than any other Physician in the World.

☞ No Fee required unless cure, perfect and positive, is effected. Persons writing should state Age and send that portion of advertisement describing symptoms. [April 30, 1857.

POETRY.

CHARITY.

In the hour of keenest sorrow—
In the hour of deepest woe—
Wait not for the coming morrow,
To the sad and sorrowing go—
Make it thy sincerest pleasure
To administer relief,
Freely opening thy treasure
To assuage a brother's grief.

Go and seek the orphan sighing—
Seek the widow in her tears,
And on mercy's pinions flying,
Seek the stranger and the weary.
Pass not on the other side,
Though the task be irksome, dreary,
Heeding not the scorn of pride.

Do thy duty
In a meek and quiet way,
Over it not never presuming,
Though by brother scorned, slighted,
'Tis a Saviour's command impressed—
'Tis in right consists the merit,
All unmerited salvation.
That at most thy path is bright.

When thy heart is warm glowing
With the sacred incense of prayer,
Be thy works of kindness flowing
Not as with a miser's care.
Don't ever wait for thy watch hard—
Pity drop the sunny tear;
Always to ward the needy cherish
Sympathy and love sincere.

SELECTED STORY.

MRS. SMITH'S GREAT PARTY

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MY WIFE'S ECONOMY."

Mrs. Smith was dying to "get into society." Ever since Mr Smith—they called him Smithey upon change—had made his lucky hit in Barnegat bonds, she had aspired to live in the West End and to figure among fashionables. When Mullins the millionaire failed, and retired into the country and obscurity on three thousand a year, the Smiths bid off his splendid mansion, his Axminster carpets, his gallery of pictures, and the contents of his establishment generally. They set up a carriage and bought a coat of arms, and they proceeded to give a party.

"We must be very recherche, (she pronounced it recharchy) Smithy, my dear," said Mrs Smith. "It won't do to invite any of our old set."

"No, it won't do," replied Mr Smith, "unless we except Lucy Darcie. Her father did me more than one good turn, when I was young, and now she an orphan." For Mr Smith, though purse proud and vulgar, had a good heart.

"Hem!" said Mrs Smith, dubiously. "But, as you say so, we'll have her."

"Yes, my dear," retorted Mr Smith, assuming a grand air, "we'll have her. It won't do to drop all our old acquaintances, or people will say we're stuck up, you know."

Lucy and her mother received accordingly, a few days after, an engraved card, as follows:

MR AND MRS AGUSTUS SMITH'S COMPLIMENTS

For Thursday evening January 21st

313 Sandcoat Street.

"T is card was enclosed in a white envelope, stamped with the Smith arms, and was left at the door by a footman in livery.

The Darcies belonged to what is called "an old family." One Darcie had been governor, in colony days. Another had fallen at Princeton, at the head of his regiment. The father of Lucy, the last of his line, had been a brilliant young lawyer but had died early, and had left behind little but his patrimonial estate, which, though greatly reduced from what it had been in former generations, consisted still, as the Darcies reflected with pride, of properties that had been in the family for a hundred and fifty years. Lucy, who remembered their narrow means, and knew that accepting the invitation would involve the purchase of an evening dress, would have sent a regret, but Mrs Darcie, who wished to see her daughter's beauty and accomplishments appreciated, overruled her.

The dress was bought, and made up—we are not ashamed to say—principally by the nimble and tasteful fingers of Lucy herself. It was a simple white cambric, prettily trimmed, and when Lucy came down, on the evening of the party, she looked like a fresh rose-bud, on the brightest June morning of all the year. We think the lords would have sung it, they had been there to see her. We happen to know that the obsequious African, who let her and her mother in, saying, "ladies second story front, gemmen second story back," opened his big yellow eyes with admiring amazement, and announced afterward in the kitchen, that de most aristocratic and beautiful young lady dare, was Miss Darcie, dere she was. And afterward, when Lucy and her mother descended to the parlors, the three bashful bachelors who stood in the door-way, afraid to go further, were thrown into such a flutter of excitement, that they did not get over it for the whole evening, but followed Lucy with their eyes wherever she went.

Mrs. Smith was delighted, so she said to her sister Mrs Darcie and her sweet daughter." Mr. Smith tailored his watch-key and was quite patronizing. He would mention to them, beside, some of the company. Thus, was Count Swindlesteuski, a Polish exile—"Very high bred, indeed, but not a bit proud; had come quite early and as we old friend, Amelia Ann, this was the dear daughter of the Smiths—had entertained him for an hour, with music and singing, before the rest of the company arrived. Thus was young Mr Poultney, of the

The heart—the heart that's stricken hard,
Is cold, all cold, if never

The heart—the heart which feels its share,
A sigh for other's pain,
The breath that to the brother's care,

A farmer and his son Hans having [illegible] to market in the next town, and [illegible] their load of potatoes, got ready to [illegible] home. The farmer laid himself down [illegible] and commenced sleeping while Hans drove the wagon.

Soon Hans commenced thinking about the baked peas and pork his mother had promised to keep him until his return smacked his lips, and drove the horses faster.

The old man lifted himself upon his elbow and exclaimed

'Hans, don't drive them horses so fast.—They had a good, full load this morning' and laid himself down and snoozed again.

A little time the horses were driven slower; then again Hans thought of the pork and peas, and imagining that the old man was asleep, he whipped up the horses at full speed.

The old man sat up in the wagon a second time and exclaimed

'Hans how many times [illegible] to tell you not to drive [illegible] if I would have [illegible]

ANGELIC.

Miss Mollie and Miss Peggie are two sisters. Miss Mollie is the eldest. She is not a member of any church, but like all well bred young ladies, says her prayers before retiring. One night she carried with her to her room a pickle and laid it upon her bureau, thinking she would eat it after her devotions. She knelt at the foot of her bed for the purpose. Peggie entered the room, and seeing her deeply absorbed, thought to improve the opportunity by appropriating the pickle to her own use. She had bitten off a piece, and in chewing it, made a noise, which her sister heard, and wishing to know the cause, looked up, and beholding Peggie devouring the pickle, hurriedly arose, exclaiming 'Oh, Lord, excuse me a moment; Peggie is eating up my pickle!'

A GOOD WORD FOR CHRISTIE.—The Philadelphia Ball tin points out the following advantages resulting from the use of crinoline. It frees women from a needless weight of skirts, it strengthens the system by exposure to cold, and aids manufacturers stimulates the whale fishery, improves figures, displays ankles to a delirious extent in getting up stairs, and gives editors subjects for articles. All things considered, we see no great reason to grieve over the institution. It is not every fashion which develops so much or such varied industry as crinoline.

Give No Pain—Breathe not a sentiment, say not a word, give not the expression of the countenance that will offend another, or send a thrill of pain to his bosom. We are surrounded by sensitive hearts, which a word, a look even, might fill to the brim with sorrow. If you are careless of the opinions of others remember that they are differently constituted from yourself, and never, by word or sign, cast a shadow on a happy heart, or throw astride the sunbeam of joy that linger on a pleasant countenance.

☞ A mother was hushing her child to sleep a 'four year old,' when she exclaimed

'Charley what does make you so wicked?'

Charley thought a moment, as he had been taught that he was made out of the dust of the ground, replied with a roguish smile

'I think mother God must have put a little thugar in the dust, don't you?'

☞ Sir, said a pompous pettifogger who once undertook to bully an editor, do you know that I take your paper? I have no doubt you take it, replied he manfully the quill—'for several of my honest subscribers have been complaining lately about their papers being missing in the morning.'

THE NEWSPAPER BORROWER REPUKED.—Colonel Gentleman.—Look ahere, gemman, I buys dat 'ere paper for my own 'tickular use, indewidually! If you hasn't got four cents to buy one I will make an effort, personally, to raise de money for you. I pays for my paper, I does!

☞ A young and blooming [illegible] sparkling eye and a ringing laugh [illegible] most fascinating thing in existence. [illegible] rest of the world in comparison sinks into utter insignificance.

CERTIFICATES.

CHARLESTOWN, VA., MARCH, 1858.

Messrs. Rohr & Davis—I have one of your Washing Machines in use in my family, and have to answer the purpose admirably. I have used several other Washing and Wringing Machines, and despaired of ever getting one to answer the purpose, but I finally was induced to try your machine, and have no hesitancy in recommending it to the public as admirably adapted to the purpose of washing and cleaning clothes. I would not be without one for any consideration.

Yours Respectfully, JAS. H. WELCH.

Harpers Ferry Feb. '58

Messrs. Rohr & Davis Gentlemen—Your Washing Machine is performing my family very well, and is a pleasure to me. It gives great satisfaction. One thing I know, the clothes come out much whiter than by any other machine I have used. It is quite a saving to my family, and I am pleased with it. Yours, &c.
