of artillery, Petersburg, and capt. Mark Anthony's do. do. FIELD OFFICERS.

Commandant of this Detachment. Col. Edmund Lucas, of the 50th regiment, Greenville. Majors Peter Nestell, of the 4th regiment of artillery, Norfolk borough. Langley G. Wills, of the 71st regiment, Surry.

The commandants of regiments will take care that the companies drawn from their regiments, be provided with a waggon, team and drum, and such camp equipage as are prescribed by the 43d section of the militia law, passed January 28th, 1804-Should there be any difficulty in procuring these articles by private contract, the commandants will resort to impressment, as authorised by the above section.

The commandant of this detachment immediately on his arrival at Smithfield, will march with such portions of the militia, as shall have arrived, to Norfolk, and report himself, with his detachment to the commandant of the post at that station, to whose orders he is to yield obedience. He will leave an officer at Smithfield, in the event of the whole not having arrived, with instructions, to cause the different detachments to proceed to Norfolk with all practicable dispatch.

Until the troops shall arrive at the place of rendezvous, where they will be furnished by a regular contractor, the commandants of the respective companies are to provide the necessary ies, and draw on this department for the amount, which shall be prompt-

Tents, Knapsacks, &c. will be forthwith sent to Smithfield, for the accommodation of the troops on their arrival. Given under my hand, at Richmond, the date and day above. JAMES BARBOUR.

Pure Lemon Acid

For Punch, Lemonade, Sauces, &c. Tills acid retains all the grateful flavor of the fresh lemon, makes excellent punch, lemonade, shrub, &c. and instantly issolves in warm or cold water, is also adapted for every purpose in cookery where the 1 mon is required, such as sauces, jel-lies, &c. The convenience of this acid for teverus and public places of amusement, is sufficietnly opvious, as it will make punch, I m nade, &c. at any time of the year, qually rich as with the fruit, and always cheaper. For balls and assemblies this elegant preparation is particularly desiramost easy and expeditious manner. It is particularly recommended to private families, officers and gentlemen travelling; it is perfectly dry and portable, and will keep for any length of time, in every climate .-It is warranted to contain no extraneous matter, being nothing but the pure essence JAMES S. But divers rumors have prevailed here on the subject. It has been said that the re-establishment of the press was relinquished altogether, then it is said you are to recommence in Georgetown only, and have issued a prespectus to that effect. The other day, I heard from Shaw that some body from Baltimore had said, that the paper would be renewed there. FROM THE BOSTON CHRONICLE. Further prostration of all Law, Order, and Decency : or, Progress of Federal Mobocracy, in Massachusetts. Another Member of Congress in-

It is with feelings of the utmost horror and dismay, that we find ourselves under the painful necessity of recording another instance of federal mobocracy, having a direct tendency to produce events equally distressing in Massachusetts with those which have lately taken place in Baltimore, We call upon honest federalists to reflect on the outrage detailed below, and then judge whether the time has not arrived when their voice should be interposed against such daring and lawless attacks upon personal liberty. On the part of the republicans, we ardently hope there will be nothing like retaliation. Let the world understand, that while Messrs. Seaver and Turner, when in federal sections of the state, are hunted, hooted, insulted, and their lives endangered, by the licentious fury of a federal mob, Messrs. Lloyd and Quincy may travel alone, entirely unmolested, in the most republican districts of the same state. Let the world know this, and they will immediately discover who are the real friends to civil liberty and republicanism, and who are their inveterate enemies, seeking to overthrow and annihilate every vestige of rational, constitutional freedom.

CONNECTICUT.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council of the State of Connecticut, held A. D. 1812.

A letter from the Secretary of War, addressed to his honor the Lieutenant-Governor, dated July 14, 1812, and two letters from major-general Dearborn, one dated July 15th, addressed to his Excellency the Governor, and one dated July 17th, addressed to his honor the lieutenant governor-have Governor, tothis Board for their consideration and advice. They all relate to the subject of five companies of the militia of this state called into the service of the United States. It is obvious that the claim for the service of the milicia is made on the ground that war has been declared by the Congress of the U. States against Great Britain. No place in this state or in the United States, has been particularly designated as in danger of being invaded. The danger which exists is that alone which arises from a war thus declared-and exists throughout the United States panies of militia are required.

don and New-Haven. Upon the same principle that the militia may be called for to march to these places and do this duty, they may be called for to march to any place within the United States to perform the same duty, & this from time to time, and at all times during of July, which states, that intelligence the continuance of the war. By the constitution of the U. States, those exigencies are, to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrection, and repel invasions. It is believed the militia of this state would be among the first to perform their constitutional duties, and not among the list to understand and justly to appreciate their constitutional rights. Should any portion of this state be invaded, or menaced with invasion by a foreign power, the militia would not wait for a requisition, but hasten with alacrity to the place invaded or threatened, to meet and repel it. Of this spirit his Excellency the Gov. would doubtless receive prompt evidence, in the execution of the laws of the state, should the necessity unhappily arise. But if the Congress of the U. States have seen fit to exercise the power to declare war, before they have carried into execution, another provision of the constitution, to raise and support armies, it does not follow that the militia are bound to enter their forts and garrisons to perform ordina- liament to be convoked. It was to ry garrison duty and wait for an invasion which may never happen .-Whatever may be the disposition of this state, or the militia thereof, to office, with dispatches for Mr. Foster, render voluntarily services under state at New-York.
