The debt is still due and there can be no doubt but the pledge has been renewed as a consideration for commercial advantages or rather for an expected relaxation in the tyranny of France over the commercial world. Are you prepared, inhabitants of Upper Canada, to become willing subjects, or rather slaves, to the despot who rules the nations of Europe with a rod of iron! If gies, co-operate cordially with the king's regular forces to repel the invader, and do not give cause to your chilsion of a foreign master, to reproach you with having too easily parted with the richest inheritance of this earth -a participation in the name, character and freedom of Britons.

The same spirit of justice, which will make every reasonable allowance for the unsuccessful efforts of zeal and lovalty, will not fail to punish the defalcation of principle. Previous to the retreat of the army out of Canada, Col. Miller, of the re gulars, entreated Gen. Hull to suffer himself and regiment to attack Mulden, that his life should be the forfeiture in case of a defeat. This request general Hull refused. About 500 Canadians had claimed the protection of Hull immediately on issuing his proclamation, and numbers had joined his army. It was a heart rending sight to see these numbers of them jumped into the river and swam over-some few were drowned in the attempt. Gen. Hull suffered the British to erect a breastwork on the shore opposite Detroit, without molestation, from which they killed three or four officers towards them, and loaded with grap shot, Hull would not suffer a single gun to be discharged at them. Colonel Miller again remonstrated with Hull and was so pressing in his demand for permission to sally out and drive off the

It is known that the Grand Jury of Baltimore have, on due enquiry, found bills of indictment for manslaughter against those who were in the house in Charles street, and for murder against those who attacked the jail, during the late disturbances at Baltimore. The whole matter being before the regular tribunals of the country, to be decided according to law, every public expression of mere voluntary opinion is now to be considered premature, as tending to prejudge the case and interfere with the exercise, or bias the deliberations of the civil authority. It appearing from the above Circular that the Militia of the District and the Officers of the army and Navy were comprehended in the plan of the procession, and the same being made known to the President, we understand he gave instructions to the Secretaries of War and the Navy to prohibit any of the corps under their direction from attending in a military capacity, and caused it to be made known through the Secretary of War to the commanding General of the Militia of the District, that any attendance of the corps under his command in the same capacity would, in the opinion of the President, be improper, as wanting in respect to the laws before which the entire case now rests for enquiry and deci-

Commodore Barney, an active and enterprizing naval officer during our revolutionary war, has engaged in the present contest from the most patriotic motives. In the privateer Rossie of but ten guns he has already captured ELEVEN British vessels. One ship, five brigs 'and one schooner he has burnt; a ship and brig have been manned and ordered into port, one of which has already arrived, and a brig and schooner have been released, after putting on board 108 prisoners, and sending them into Newfoundland .-We understand that Commodore Barney, sent his compliments with the above prisoners, to Admiral Sawyer, requesting him to take good care of them, and that he would send him as many more in a few days.

From Commodore Rongers to the Secretary of the Navy. U. S. Frigat President, Boston, Sept. 1, 1812.

I had the honor yesterday of inform. ing you of the arrival of the squadron, and now to state the result and particulars of Previous to leaving New York on the 21st of June, I heard that a British convoy ha. sailed from Jamaica for England on er about the 20th of the preceding month, and on being informed of the declaration of war Egainst G. Britain, I determined, in the event of Com. D catur joining me with the United States, Congress and Argus, as you had directed, to go in pursuit of them.

The United States, Congress and Argus dillioin me on the 21st; with which vessels, this si, ip, and the Hornet, I according ly sailed in he se than an hour after I receiv ed-your orders of the 18th of June, accom-panied by your official communication of

On le ving New York I shaped our course south, easterly, in the expectation of falling in with vess is, by which I should hear of the before ment, oned convoy, and he following night met with an American orig hat gave me the sought for informa tion; the squadron now crowded sail in pursuit, but the next morning was taken out of its course by the pursuit of a Broush fri gate, that I since find was the ile'v dere, relative to which I beg leave to refer you to the enclosed extract from my journal after repairing as far as possible the injury done by the B lvidere to our spars and rigging, we again crowded all sail and resumed our course in pursuit of the convoy, but did not receive further intelligence of it until the 29 n of June, on the western edge of the banks of N wfoundland, where we spoke an American schooner, the master of which reported that he had two days before passed them in lat. 43, long. 55, sterring to the eastward. I was surprised to fia. that the convoy was still so far to the east ward of us, but was urged, however, as well by what I can idered my duty as by in clination, to continue the pursuit. On the 1st of July, a little to the eastward of Newfoundland bank, we fell in lantities of cocoa nut shells, orang peels, &c. which indicated that the convoy were not far dist nt, and we pursued it with zeal, although frequently taken out of our course by vessels it was necessary to chace, without gaining any further intelligence until the 9th of July, in lat. 45, 30, long 23 we captured the British private armed brig Dolphin of J-rsey, and was informed by some of her crew that they had seen the convoy the preceding evening, the weather was not clear at the time, but that they had counted 85 sail, and that the lorce charged with its protection consisted of one two decker, a frigate a sloop of war, and a

This was the last intelligence I received of the before mentioned convey, although its pursuit was continued until the 13th of July, being then within 18 or 20 hours sail

From this we steered for the island of Madeir , passed close by it on the 21st of Corvo and Flores; thence steered for the banks of Newfoundland; and to m the lat necessary (by the time we reached our own co.st) to make the first convenient part in the Waited States; owing, I am serry to say, to that wretched disease the scurvy having made its appearance on beard of the vessels, most g nerally to a degree seriously alarming.

From the west rn parts of the banks of Newtonniland to our making the island of Madeira, the weather was such, at least six days out of seven, as to obscure, from our discovery, every object that we did not pass within four or five miles of, and indeed for several days together the fog was so thick as to prevent our seeing each other, even at cable's length sonder, more than twice or thrice in the 24 hours.

States until our arrival here, we chosed every vessel we saw, and you will not be a little astonish d when I inform you that, although we brought to every thing we did chase, with the exception of four vessels, we only made seven captures and one re-It is truly an unpleasant task to be oblig

The four vessels we chased and did not ome up with were, the Belvidera, a small pilot boat schooner, supposed to be an Ame ican privateer, the hermaphrodite priv eer brig Y akee, which we lost sight of ir fog, but whose character we afterwards earnt, and a frigate supposed to be British, that we chased on the 28th ult, near the shoul of George's Bank, and should certainly have come up with, had we have had the advantage of two hours more day

On board of the several vessels of the quadron there are between 80 and 100 priovers, taken from the vessels we captured during our late cruise.
