From the Columbian.

Freedom's sons, awake to glory ; Bid Columbia's eagle soar ! Once your deeds have rung in story : Burns the patriot flame no more ?

Shall that arm which haughty Britain In its gristle found too strong-That, by which her hosts were smitten Shall that arm be palsied long ?

See our sons of ocean kneeling, To a tyrant's stripes and chains ! Partisan ! hast thou no feeling, When the hardy tar complains ?

See the British press gang seize him, Victim of relentless power !

Stout his heart is, but must fail him In this evil trying hour !

Wife and children did enfold him, Ere he launch'd upon the deep : These shall ne'er again behold him ; These are left alone to weep.

Dragg'd on board his prison dwelling, Snapp'd the cord of tender ties ! While his manly heart is swelling, To the winds he gives his sighs.

Sons of freedom ! rise and save him ; Spatch him from the tytant's power ; And thy country then shall have him, Friend in peril's darkest hour.

From the National Intelligencer. CANCERS.

As I have been always successful in curing Cancers, I wish to inform the public at large, that through the good providence of God, I have it in my power to cure cancers of all kinds on any part of the human body, in the eye, mouth, nose, or breast, whether it be broke or not : by applying the medicine once only, without the least injury to any part affected by the cancer. The cancer will be dead in less than eight hours, at which time the Christopher Ridenhour, Josiah Reves. pain will subside. I can discharge the patient-in one quarter of an hour, and they may go where they please, and by my directions nurse the sore until well. Let no one doubt of the cure in the most extreme case, it never was known to fail when applied ; there are witnesses enough to certify the salutary and happy effects it has had on those who have been cured in this part of the world : if I do not cure Whiting (2) Horace Walpole, James Wright Jonathan Wright, James Wood Adam Wea-ver, Maria A. Washington, Henry Well. the cancer I will oblige myself to return every cent of the money they pay me when I undertake to cure them, and I will have nothing. I live six miles above Prince Edward Court House, on the north side of Spring Creek.

From the Edenton, (N.C.) Gazette. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

A person who is interested in every thing that can be, useful to humanity, is desirous of giving the public a remedy that chance has discovered :- An officer who had a consumptive complaint in his » breast, was dissolving over a chaffing dish of fire in a very close room, an equal quantity of white pitch and yellow beeswax, with an intention of soldering some bottles ; and after having breathed some | herd. time in the vapor rising from it, he found the complaint in his breast greatly relieved. This observation, extremely interesting to himself, determined him to continue the same fumigation some days. He soon perceived a very considerable amendment, and was at length entirely cured.

This cure was much talked of-Madame la Margrave de Bade was informed of it; and she was desirous that a trial was despaired of. The success equalled every hope that could be conceived, and the patient was perfectly cured. In consequence of which, the Princess gave orders that the fact should be published in the Carlsrhue Gazette .- The same public paper confirms this recital; adding that this remedy has been experienced with equal benefit by several persons who were attacked with complaints in the breast ; and that many, even when their lungs were ulcerated, & who were entirely given over, had been cured by this simple remedy.

It should be observed, that the room in which the fumigation is to be formed. ought to be very closely shut up, and that the person should walk about to suck in the vapor by degrees.

BATTLE OF MASSASINEWA. To the Editor of the Ohio Centinel.

SIR-Discovering, in your paper of the 23d, an account of the battle of Massasinewa, in many respects incorrect, arising probably, from statements given by grotlemen not properly informed upon the subject, to prevent which from being generally Colonel commanding, to hand you a cave comments to the public.

Some Indians fled over the river, on the bank of which the town was ; some made a slight resistance, and others surrendered. The resistance made by those in the town was very slight, perhaps not more than two or three guns fired .them were killed. They were pursued by capt. Johnson, at the head of a part of custed by all but one squaw, whom we found and left in a cabin; the other houses, amounting in all, perhaps to 40, were reduced to ashes, and property of every description we could find destroy. ed. Garrard's right and capt. Hopkin's left. In a little time the action became general along the left line, & on the rear line about as far as Capt. Hopkins's troop extended. The angle first attacked was reinforced by the spy company, consisting of eight men, and capt. Butler's company of infantry, Capt. Hopkins inclining to the right, so as to give him room to form on the left of the rear line. The action continued about an hour, and was most gal-lantly supported by maj Ball's squadron, with the addition of Capt. Butler's com-dred and sixty six feet deck, forty two the confidence of Capt. BRITISH MAGNANIMITY.

Journal of an American officer (captured tuna at Queenstown on the 18th October) fer. kept on his passage from Fort George to Boston.

Part of the regulars taken prisoners in the action had been sent to York, the day after. On the 19th October, the remainder embarked for Montreal. Touched at York to receive the prisoners sent ahead, and here lieutenant colonel Scott . (the senior officer) and lieutenant Bayley were shifted to the Royal George, of 22 guns ; lieut. colonel Christie, lieutenants Kearney, Huginin, Sammons and Reab, remained on board the Earl of Moira, of 10 guns ; and lieuts. M'Cartey, Turner, Fink, and Carr, on board the Simcoe. Besides seamen, there was on board each vessel a strong guard of land troops.

Arrived at Kingston on the 21st, and remained till the 26th ; during which period, officers and men were confined on board. Lieut. col. S. addressed a note to colonel Vincent, commanding officer at Kingston, requesting leave to go a-shore for a few minutes, but received no answer. Lieut. col. Christie, made a similar application in behalf of a sick officer and experienced a like neglect. A British lieutenant on board the Earl of Moira, hav- this corps did every thing in their power ing witnessed the effects of confinement to ameliorate the condition of the priin that miserable dungeon, permitted soners. Arrived before Quebec on the some of the American officers to walk on 7th, and ordered on board a prison ship, the adjoining wharf with himself. For this act of humanity, he was deprived of next morning a note was received from his sword ! Lieutenant Turner being maj. gen. Glasgow, commanding officer sick, remained behind at Kingston for a few days, and signed a parole, which gave him the limits of the whole town. When he became a little convalescent, he stepned across the street into a shop, to have himself shaved. An officer was despatched to order him back to his room ; but finding the barber had not finished the operation, a moment's respite was allowed. This unmanly weakness did not escape the keen eye of col. Vincent .- The that " this measure is attributable solely subaltern was arrested, and another offiof the baiber, shaved or not shaved.

At Kingston, seven prisoners were seluced from their allegiance to enter the British service. One of these miscreants, by way of testifying his zeal to his royal master, was induced to charge lieut. col. Scott with having killed a British soldier after the surrender. This false and ridiculous accusation, the British officers of fected to check ; but before our arrival at Montreal, it had been reported to his excellency, and was so generally propagated and believed at head quarters, as to render it in the opinion of a British officer, highly imprudent for lieut. col. S. to be seen in the streets. Thus was assassination invited by an infamous report, which sir George Prevost must have known to be false. Major general Sheaffe, in his official dispatch, could have given no grounds, for such a belief, because this officer and every other who was in the action, would know it to be false. Captain Gibson, and lieut. Totten, (of the U.S. Army) from their situation, particularly know it to be so.

Nov. 2d, embarked for Quebec, guarded by Canadian militia. The officers of anchored in the middle of the river-The at Quebec, stating "I am directed to acquaint you that his excellency, the commander of the forces, has thought proper to detain the prisoners of war on board the transports with them." "Six hundred of these cossacks were killed; wounded or taken ; 30 men of the guards were wounded, and three killed. "The general of division, count Rappe, had a horse killed under him ; the inhas been said a fourth remained, because trepidity of which this general has given in that calculation 800 churches were so many proofs, is shown on every occa-

" At the commencement of the charge, the cossack officers called the guard, which they remembered (Muscadins de burn what remained of the city, to treat Paris,) Paris Dainties. The major general of dragoons, Letort, distinguished himself. At eight o'clock order was reestablished.

"The emperor marched to Malioardslavitz, reconnoitred the position of the enemy, and ordered an attack for the next morning ; but in the night the enemy retreated. Prince Eckmuhl followed him for six hours. " The emperor then let him go, and directed the movement upon Vereja. "On the 26th, head quarters were at Borowsk; and on the 27th at Vereja.

" Prince Eckmuhl is, to-night, at Borowsk; the duke of Elchingen at Mo-
