DECEPTION. I do confess in many a sigh, My lips have breath'd you many a lie; But who with such delight in view. Would lose them for a lie or two? Nay look not thus with brow reproving, Lies are, my dear, the soul of loving ! If half we tell the girls were true, If half we swear to, think and do, Were aught but lying's bright illusion, The world would be in strange confusion. If ladies' eyes were every one, As lovers swear a radiant sun. Astronomy would leave the skies, To learn her love in ladies eyes. Oh no! Believe me lovely girl, When nature turns your teeth to pearl, Your neck to snow, your eyes to fire, Your flowing locks to golden wire, Then ! only then! can II-aven decree That you should live for only me! And now my gentle hints to clear, For once I'll tell the truth my dear ! Whenever you do chance to meet, A loving youth, whose love is sweet, Long as you're false, and he believes you, Long as you trust, and he deceives you; So long the blissfu bond endures, And while he lies his heart is your's, But oh ! you've wholly lost the youth, The instant that he tells the truth.

mountain IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.

There has been for some years an increasing attention to the propagation of fruit trees-but it is to be regretted that the labour is as often lost by one common error-letting the grass grow too near the trees. No young trees will grow well when a sward is formed round it. Yet in travelling our country in every direction we see this error. The earth should be turned over in the spring and latter part of summer, at least 2 or 3 feet from the young trees-and then all the weeds and grass that spring up will rot and become excellent manure for them. By such culture trees will grow rapidly, but without it their growth is extremely slow, and they often die without coming to maturity. The importance of raising forest trees is Horses, Cows and Hors. every where more apparent, as there is an increasing scarcity of wood and timber in all the towns; in order to propagate them, the young trees must have the grain in the ground. Te ms made known at same culture as fruit trees.

LATEST FROM HALIFAX.

SALEM. May 25. Yesterday arrived at this port the Brih cartel schooner Union from Halifax, ith 58 American prisoners, 14 of whom were American sailors, impressed by the itish, and held from 5 to 14 years, and elivered to the American agent at Halifax, destitute of every comfort. Major Lewis L. Taylor of the 20th regiment United States infantry with 14 sailors who were kept as bostages since the 15th December, 1813, also arrived, in this cartel. They were liberated from the prison ship and sent on board the cartel. Allihe United States prisoners who were confined as hostages, were to be released in the 18th May, the day the cartel sailed. 1358 Americans were still at Halifax as prisoners, 200 of whom had lately arrived from Bermuda. ### FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

New-London, May 27. The gun-boats, 13 in number, from N. York, passed the enemy's squadron on Thursday afternoon, and came to at the mouth of the harbor in the evening. The commodore's boat received a shot between wind and water, which did no material damage. The others arrived without injury, as also upwards of 30 sail of packets and coasters, which they convoyed. More than 200 shot were fired from the enemy, which were duly returned, and it is presumed not without injury, particularly to the frigate Maidstone.

The gun-boats yesterday afternoon got under way, and proceeded to the westward. I was this morning informed they were lying off Black Point. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the British squadron, consisting of one 74, two frigates and a sloop of war, went to the westward, most

The British frigate Maidstone, and sloop of war Sylph, lay off Goshen Reef about 3 miles from land, Commodora-Lewis, with his convoy, understood to amount to 53 sail, of which 13 were gunboats and ketches were going from Saybrook to New-London, within the Reef, when a British sloop tender, armed with a 12 pounder, came in among the fleet, and commenced firing upon some of the coasters. The fire was returned by capt. Howard, of the Juno, who spent all his ammunition upon her and proceeded on. The gun boats, which were in the rear, coming up, the tender retreated, and the fire was opened by the frigate and sloop

The sloop of war being armed with carronades only (and as some supposed, having received injury from the gun boats) soon drew off, out of the reach of long shot, and left the frigate to maintain the engagement; which was continued by commodore Lewis, until all his convoy were safe in port without any damage but two grape shot which struck a New-Bedford sloop, the Lydia, captain Freeman, and another sloop grounding a few minutes and throwing overboard a few barrels of flour before she got off. The British squadron, which now consisted of two 74s, two frigates, 1 sloop of war and a gun brig, followed on, and on Friday, at 9 o'clock in the morning, a frigate, with 11 barges in tow, was off Guilford, when the alarm was given, and the militia turned out and every preparation made to repel an invasion. Three hundred barrels of good flour had been removed back from the store house a few days before, leaving the damaged flour, which was the only booty obtained by the enemy. The 300 barrels of flour were deposited about a mile back of the town, of which the enemy were apprised by some prisoners they took. But they chose to forego the plunder of it rather than trust themselves in the woods with Gen. Swift and his riflemen.

NEW YORK, JUNE 2.

Bu the Steam Boat, we learn, that the British are building at Kingston a ship to mount 80 guns, is 180 feet keel, and to be launched by contract on the 5th July, under a penalty on the part of the builder, of 8'000l sterling.

We also learn, by letter, that our fleet at Sackett's Harbor was not to sail until the new ship was ready which would be from five to six weeks.

The British squadron were still off Sackett's Harbor, closely blockading it .-It was quite uncertain when Commodore Chauncey would be able to get out with his fleet, as the loss of the guns, ordnance, and military stores at Oswego was irreparable. Nothing on the subject of adjustment of differences between this country and England. (We are led to believe from the intelligence received by the James Monroe, that we shall not have a peace just now.)

Capt, Skinner has brought despatches from Mr. Crawford, our minister in Paris, for government and to Monsieur Ser.

No treaty had been concluded between France and Spain as reported.

The following letter is from a merchant of Boston, to his friend in Boston, received by the Fair American.

~~~~~~~ The expectation of an armistice and the hope of peace have taken such hold of the public mind, that although the month. of June has overtaken us, our fleet at Sackett's Harbor is blockaded and a part of the state of New York in possession of the enemy, yet is there no anxiety, no expression of impatience at the delay in no hope of either an armistice or a peace, and if we may judge from the tone of the London ministerial newspapers, they neither wish the one nor the other, and we do expect that the British commissioners at Gottenburg will make such extravagant and inadmissible proposals as will send our commissioners home very publication of the instructions given by our government to our ministers, because we firmly believe they will do honor to the nation, and we wish the language held by the British commissioners could be resounded in the ears of every man in the United States, because we are certain it would invigorate the public arm and animate the public feelings.

It is ridiculous to boast of the expedition with which we can and do build on the lakes, so long as we permit the British flag to float on any one of them.-The people did expect that ere this the stripes and stars would have waved proudly triumphant over the conquered waters of Ontario; every body knows the panting eagerness of Chauncey to meet the foe, and it is well known that the President of the U. States did expressly direct that we should be fifty per cent stronger than the enemy on the Lakes, Are we so? If we are not so, who is to blame ?- Dem. Press.

The lieutedant general reports, that having caused six companies of the regiment de Watteville and one company of the Glengary light infantry, with a small detachment of artillery to embark on board the squadron, in addition to the 2d battalion of royal marines he accompanied sir James Yeo, in the Prince Regent, and on the evening of the 5th instant anchored off Oswego; but a violent gale of wind driving the squadron off shore, the posi-tion was not again recovered till noon, on the following day, when the disposition for landing was instantly carried into execution in the following order: the fri-gates taking a position from whence they could cannonade the fort, and the briga, schrs. and gun-boats in proportion to their respective draft of water, covered by their fire the several points of debarkation of the troops, which was attended with con-siderable difficulty, owing to the shoalness of the water—the boats grounded, the troops were in many instances obliged to leap out and wade through the water to their middles to gain the landing, and the enemy having strongly occupied the favorable position near the shore and woods with which it is surrounded, the disembarkation was attended with some loss, but effected with the utmost promptitude under the direction of lieutenant colonel Fischer, led by two new formed flank companies of the Watteville regiment, under capt. Berzy; the remaining four companies, and detachment of royal artillery, being held in reserve.

The 2d battalion of marines under lieut. colonel Malcolm, supported by a detachment of 200 seamen, under capt. Mulcaster, royal navy formed a column to the Mr. John Taylor, right. Capt. M'Millin's company of Glengary light infantry, gained the skirts of the wood to the left, and covered the advance of the columns to the fort; which was carried in ten minutes from the advance of the troops, after landing. The enemy's garrison consisting of Macomb's 3d regiment of artillery, 400 strong, and a numerous body of militia, saving themselves by precipitate flight.

Lieut, general Drummond speaks in the strongest terms of the cordial, judicious, and able co-operation of air James Yeo, and the officers and seamen of his squadron, and laments the temporary loss the service has sustained in captain Mulcaster of the royal navy, who is seyerely wounded. This distinguished and accomplished officer has crived at Nashville, Tenn on his return from the Creek war-" a war more honorable for our country or more bloody and disastrous to the enemy, the annals of Indian warfare does not furnish an example." The General was honored, on his ar. rival in town, with the discharge of artillery, and with the general acclamations of his admiring felow-citizens, with whom he partook of an enterainment, provided for the occasion. The Committee of Arrangements presented him with a very pertinent address, to which he made the follow-

We had indeed borne with many outrages from that barbarous and infatuated nation, before the massacre at Fort Mimms, roused our energies to avenge the wrongs we had sustained. I participated in the common feelings; and my country impelled me to take the field. I endesyored to discharge that duty faithfullymy best exertions were used-my best judgment exercised.

In the prosecution of such a war difficulties and privations were to be expected. To meet and sustain these, became the duty of every officer and soldier; and for the faithful performance of this duty they are amply rewarded in the expression of their country's approbation.

The success which attended our exertions has indeed been very great. We have laid the foundation of a lasting peace to those frontiers which had been so long, so often infested by the savages we have conquered-We have added a country to ours which by connecting the settlements of Georgia with those of the Mississippi Territory, and both of them with our own, will become a secure barrier against foreign invasion, or the operation of foin the south, and we have furnished the government of G. In acquiring these advantages to our country, it is true we have lost some valuable citizens, some brave soldiers; but these are misfortunes inseparable from a state of war; and while I mingle my regret with yours for the loss, I have this consolation in common with yourselves, that the sons of Tennessee who fell contending for her rights, have proved them-selves worthy the American name, and worthy descendants of their sires of the

She soon shot away her colors, and supposing she had struck, ceased firing, but finding the Kutousoff continued firing, she renewed the action, preparing to board, and sheered up alongside, at which time the captain of the Kutousoff swung his hat as a signal of surrender, but it was with difficulty that the ing her, they not observing the signal | "Sir, I take the liberty of applying to you, not Kutousoff's papers, that she had but 40 men : there were but 29 found on board, several of whom were wounded, two mortally, and the brig much shot to pieces, so that it took 24 hours after the action to repair her. The Surprise had one man killed, namely, George E. Burdick sailing master, but did not receive a wound in her hull. The prize was chased, and had to throw her guns overboard. On the 14th May, in lat. 36, N. long. 51, spoke the private armed cutter Hero, of New York bound to the United States, T. Waterman, master, 32 days from L'Orient. Captain Waterman informed captain Millikin, that in long. about 18, he tell in with a convoy of two hundred sail from England, bound to Halifax, convoyed by two 74s and 2 frigates; that he took a brig, and took out her crew, but before he could set her on fire was obliged to quit her; that the crew of the brig informed him that the convoy had on board two thousand troops for Canada, as also the frames of two frigates. The prize was afterwards, on the 12th, chased into Mount Desert, and arrived here on the 20th inst. The prize was formerly an American privateer, called the Decatur, captured by the British frigate Surprise, and was condemned on the 16th Feb, 1813, at Bordeaux.

SERIOUS AND IMPORTANT.

Among the letters brought out to New York from England, by the cartel ship Fair American, Capt. Adams, there were, we understand, a great many from American prisoners of war to their friends in this country. A considerable portion of these, in number several hundred, were written by that unfortunate class of our seamen, who, having been impressed into the British naval service prior to the commencement of hostilities, were, subsequently to that event, discharged from the enemies ships of war to prison, there to be held until they shall be reign influence over our Red neighbours | able to prove, by such evidences as the tisfactory, that they are citizens of the U. States. It may be readily supposed that the enemy has given up to the prisons as is it to be wished that government may that the number thus discharged is much take the earliest opportunity, and devise exceeded by those who have been retained to fight the battles of our foe. There occurs scarcely a naval action between a British vessel and one of ours, that we do not hear that some of our citizens have fallen in combat under the flag of the adversary. Three are said to have been slain on board the Epervier, in her late engagement with the Peacock.

The condition of these prisoners in England, is peculiarly hard, and their situation truly affecting. The British authorities, even in ordinary cases, are in the practice of rejecting the most authentic documents, that sufficiently establish the character of citizenship, and which have been verified, not only by the minor, but the higher, magistracy of our country.

Indeed, where the applications of our agents in London have been at any time attended with success, the release of our confined seamen has been marked by delays, and by a reluctance, that ill accord with the diplomatic professions of the with the diplomatic professions of the SIR-The letter of marque brig Ku-tousoff, Alexander Millikin, prize mas-unhappy American mariners, whose onter, arrived at this port last evening, prize to the Surprise, of Baltimore, capt.
