WORDS FOR MUSIC.

BY REV. DR. BETHUNE.

Til love to sing when I am sad,
Till song makes sweet my very gladness;
When voices chime

To some sweet rhyme in concert only;

Is company when I am lonely.

Whene'er I greet the morning light,
My song goes forth in thankful numb
And 'mid the shadows of the night,
I sing me to my welcome slumbers.
My heart is stirred
By each glad hird
Whose notes are heard fit autumer's bo
And song gives birth
To friendly injust.
Around the hearth, in wintry hours.

Man first learned song in Paradise,
From the bright angels over him singing;
And in our home, above the skies,

The songs that cheer his people's sorrow; Till day shall break And we shall wake

Where love will make unfading morrow

Then let me sing while yet I may, Like him God loved, the sweet tongu'd Psal

The charm that keeps the spirit calmest,

I need the cheer, While sinful fear with promise blendeth

Who found in harp and holy lay,

For sadly here

Glad anthems are forever ringing.
God lends his car
Well pleased to hear

I love to sing when I am glad, Song is the echo of my gladness

[Rev. W. Jay. THE ECONOMY OF GETTING MAR-RIED IN A HURRY.

" I've known some very mean men in my time," said Sam Slick. "There was Deacon Overreach, now, he was so mean, he always carried a hen half his age, and seen her accept it, as if it were in his gig-box when he travelled, to pick up the a right, without even a passing notice of his grey oals his horse wasted in the manger, & lay an egg hairs, or the right of years, that entitled him to for his breakfast in the morning. And there was Hugo Himmelman, who made his wife dig potatees to pay for the marriage license. I must tell you that story of Hugo, for it's not a bad one; and good stories, like potatoes, ain't as plenty as | take, take this arm chair.' How my heart sprang they used to be when I was a boy. Hugo is a to meet her in her angel goodness. Such has neighbor of mine, though considerably older than ever been our idea of a lady—which is synony-I be, and a mean neighbor he is, too. Well, mous with a true woman." when he was going to get married to Gretchen Klop, be goes down to Parson Rogers, at Digby, to get a license. "Parson," says he, "what's the price of a license ?" "Six dollars," says he "Six dollars!" says Hugo; "that's a dreadful sight of money! Couldn't you take no less ?"-"No," says he—"that's what they cost me to the Secretary's office at Halifax." "Well, how much do you ax for publishing in church, then?"
"Nothing," says parson. "Well," says Hugo, "that's so cheap I can't expect you to give no change back. I think I'll be published. How long does it take?" "Three Sundays." "Three Sundays!" says Hugo. "Well, that's a long time, too. But three Sundays only make a fortnight after all; two for the covers and one for the inside like; and six dollars is a great sum of money for a poor man to throw away. I must wait." So off he went a-jogging towards his home, a looking about as mean as a new sheared sheep, when all at once a bright thought came regard to the settlement and progress of the West, mander-in-chief of several provinces. During all into his head, and back he went, as hard as his horse could carry him. "Parson," says he, "I've changed my mind. Here's the six dollars. From a very long and diffuse account of the life of General Lopez, which appeared in the New Orleans Delta, of the 10th and 11th ultimo, the Philadelphia Bulletin has condensed the following sketch of a career which is brought to a point of interest by the enterprise on Cuba, which now attracts so much attention:

Narciso Lopez was born of wealthy parents; in over the turnpike between Cumberland and West 798 or '9, in Venezuela, and is now a little over Newton, on the bed of which the planks are to be fity years of age. He was the only son that grew to manhood, though he had numerous sisters. He was trained to the saddle, as the customer of portable saw mills the plank can be pretoms in South America. His father being oblig- pared and laid down by the 1st of December next ed by civil disturbances to remove to Caraccas, where he entered upon a commercial life, his son Narciso superintended a branch of the house at Valencia, in the interior. Here, during the trou- lic will receive a large share of the benefits .bles of Bolivar's time, in 1814, young Lopez took Passengers from Baltimore will be enabled to a prominent part on the popular side, and nar- reach Pittsburg in 20, instead of 36 hours, as at rowly escaped from massacre. Even admitting that the claim, for the prosecution of which, Mr. Secretary Crawford was the agent, was just, can it, for a single moment be considered consistent with safe precedent to alduily contact, in an official capacity, with the very man whose favorable decision is sought, to be a deeply interested agent for a claim upon whose validity his colleagues in office have to determine? What would it be thought of a im toperpetual obscurity? The case, we think, H. Seward: would be the same with a member of the cabinet. Mr. Crawford may be an honest man. But if the precedent which he wishes to set, is once estalished, who cannot foresee the immense frauds that would be practised? Every member of the cabinet would soon become an agent for the prosecution of claims against the Government, and the work of plunder would then go on without restriction. And this is the doctrine that the Whigs are now advocating! They have taken their position on this subject. They, of course, will consider it no disgrace to be designated hereafter by the appellation of the "Galphin Party." Mr. Clay and the President's Policy.

The Washington Republic defends the President against Mr Clay's attack, in four columns. It endeavors to break the force of the similie of Mr. Clay, that of the "five wounds" afflicting the country, the President only proposed to heal one by admitting California. Refuting this, it says that in respect to the territories, their early admission into the Union as States, the non-intervention by Congress in respect to slavery, and non-action by the same body in regard to the establishment of territorial governments, constitute the policy recommended by the President. As to the fugitive slave bill and the abolition of the slave trade in the District of Columbia, (each a "separate wound,") the Republic says they of the proposed measures, and though held as a part of the compromise, may or not pass Congress, even if the other portions do. The President is in no wise committed against them. The conclusion of the Republic's article has something of what might, by forced construction, perhaps, be termed polished and delicate thrusts at Mr. Clay, in regard to "leadership." A statesman of his great mind, capacity and renown, as a "compromiser," in the past, it intimates could not be expected to " play second fiddle" to any man, all of which, the Republic says, is very "laudable in him, under the circumstances."

Death stole in softness o'ed that lovely face;
and touched each feature with a new born grace;

In check and brow unearth beauty lay,
And told that life's poor care had passed away—
Not lost but gone before. Weep not for her! there is so cause for woe; But a her nerve the spirit, that it walk Unskrinking o'er the thorny paths below,
And from earth's low deficements keep thee back;
So, when a few fleet severing years have flown. She'll meet thee at Heaven s gate, and lead thee on! Weep not for her.

In this preparation are strongly concentrated all the Medicinal properties of SARSAPARILLA, combined with the most effectual aids, the most salutary productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom; and it has been so fully tested, not only by patients themselves, but also by Physicians, that it has received their unqualified recommendations and the approbation of the public; and has established on its own merits a eputation for VALUE and EFFICACY far superior to the tarious compounds bearing the name of Sarsaparilla.

Diseases have been cured, such as are not furnished t the records of time past; and what it has already done for the rhousands who have used it, it is carable of doing for the millions still suffering and struggling with disease. It purifies, cleanses, and strengthens the fountain springs of life, and infuses new vigor throughout the

SOUTHPORT, Connecticut. Messrs, SANDS: Gentlemen—Sympathy for the af-flicted induces me to inform you of the remarkable cure effected by your Sarsaparilla in the case of my wife.— She was severely afflicted with the Scrofula on different parts of the body; the glands of the neck were greatly enlarged and her limbs much swollen. After suffering over a year and finding no relief from the remedies used, the disease attacked one leg, and below the knee suppurated. Her physician advised it should be laid open, which was done; but without any permanent benefit. In this situation we heard of, and were induced to use, Sands' Sarraparilla. The first bottle produced a decided and favorable effect, relieving her more than any prescription she had evertaken, and before she had used six bottles, to the astonishment and delight of her friends, she found her health quite restored. It is now over a year since the cure was effected, and her health remains good, showing the disease was thoroughly eradicated from the system. Our neighbors are all knowing to these facts, and think very highly of Sands' Sarsapa-
