We are indebted to a friend for the following method of raising cucumbers, which he assures us he has known practised with the most satisfactory results. He is a bachelor himself, and consequently has had no opportunity of personally testing its expediency, but some of the finest cucumbers he has ever seen were raised in this way. The experiment will cost but little, and is certainly worth the trial. Squashes and melons may be raised in the same manner.—Vandemeeum.

On Wednesday week, Mr. Wm. H. Miller and Mr. James McDonald had an altercation on Back Creek, in relation to some rails which had drifted on the lands of Mr. Miller, who claimed the rails, and which was also claimed by Mr. McDonald.—McDonald was knocked down, and Miller was told that he had killed him, when he (Miller) immediately fell and expired. Coroner A. S. Chambers held an inquest upon the body on Friday last, when the jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his "death by previous indisposition and present excitement." Mr. Miller had been subject to a disease of the heart.—Martinishary Gazette.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD.

From the Philadelphia Freeman of April 22. The New York merchants have complained with some bitterness, that business this spring has been extremely dull-that the South, espe cially has been very backward, both in respect to payments and purchases. The following paragraph from the "Tribune" of Monday, shows that this duliness of trade has not di-minished the business of the most important line of travel which passes through the great

EVIVAL OF BUSINESS .- The directors of the Underground Railroad report to us the pass-ge, though our city, last Monday, of 41 hu-man chattels, from the land of the slave-whip and coffle, on a pilgrimage to the North Star. They are now all safely landed in Canada, where they have ceased to be stray cattle, and become men, women and children, no more to be subjects of the auction-block and brand.— The directors report the rail road in excellent order, and doing a safe and increasing busi

GEORGIA UNION CONVENTION .- Delegales Baltimore.—It appears that about twenty five of the members of the Georgia Union Convention, icluding, it is said, several Whigs, seceded from that body, and subsequently held a meeting, and adopted the Baltimore Platform of 1848, together a "finality," and declaring in favor of the resolu-tions of Mr. Jackson and Mr. Hillyer, recently passed in the House of Representatives. Twen-ty-one delegates were also appointed to the De-mocratic National Convention, with the under-standing that that hody should declare in favor of the Compromise as a final settlement of the alayery agitation.

Her eyes were sparkling bright;

A very lovely girl was she—
And for about a year and a half there had been a young man paying attention to her by the name of Reuben Wright.

Now Reuben was a nice young man, As any in the town; And Phobe loved him very dear-But on account of his being obliged to work for a living, he could never make himself agreeable to old Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

LETTER TO THE ROITOR.

HAMPSHIEE County, Va., April 13th, 1852. WELL, my old Democratic friend, I again re-sume my pen to drop you a few lines touching various matters and things that have trans-pired in these mountaineous "diggings," since ing various matters and things that have transpired in these mountaineous "diggings," since I last wrote to you.

We have just passed through a very long and an intensely cold winter. But during the whole of its greary continuance we were fortunately surrounded by circumstances that were well calculated to loosen its grip upon us. I allude to the fact, that we have here in abundance, and very near our dwellings too, the very best and cheapest kind of fuel—dry pine timber and rith pine knots. With these bighly inflammable materials, and a little green oak or hickory mixed therewith, we can have the most brilliant and comfortable fires—aye such as will frighten and effectually prevent old Boreas from ever poking his frosty nose into our humble domicils. And what is more comfortable, in a very cold and bleak day in winter, when the piercing winds cut almost like a knife, and the hall and snow are bespattering our windows, than to be snugly seated in a warm house and than to be snugly seated in a warm house and surrounding fires of this description?

Our farmers, the bone and sinew of our land, are now busily engaged in ploughing, prepara-tory to pitching their corn crops. They most heartily subscribe to the truth of the scriptural aphorism—"He that soweth not cannot expect to reap." It is much feared by them, at this time, that their growing crop of small grain will be very short this season, owing to a good deal of it having been "frozen out" pending the past of it having been "frozen out" pending the past cold winter.

Notwithstanding the general health of these "diggings," we have recently had a good deal of sickness in them. The scarlet fever being the most prevalent disease—many children having fallen victims to it. This fever however is fact.

TAKE NOTICE.

THE Notes given at my sale were due on the debted are requested to pay the same to GEO. C. BLAKEMORE, who is authorized and ampowered to collect said Notes.

abating, and ere long, I presume, it will take its flight from among us. "So mote it be."

T perceive in the columns of the "Spirit," that a nost of condidates for her offices under the reign of our new organic law. This speaks well for the general intelligence of your county, admitting all are qualified who thus solicit office.

A NY good, active and intelligent men, with a small capital of from $30 to $100, can make large profits by engaging in the sale of the fellowing may county too, we have no scarcity of some profits by engaging in the sale of the fellowing may county too, we have no scarcity of some profits by engaging in the sale of the fellowing may be a selected with the sale of the fellowing may In my county too, we have no scarcity of aspi-rants, and among this lungry array for its loaves and fishes is the humble writer of this letter, who is a candidate, for the first time in the whole course of his life of 50 years, for a very humble office. And should be be defeated, which is not office. And should be be defeated, which is not at all improbable, it is more than likely that it will be his last effort to climb the official ladder.

I have been spending the last few days in Romney in attendance on our Superior Court, merely as a "looker on in Venice," never having had a suit in Court in the whole course of my life. Judge Parker presides, and that too, with much dignity and ability. A number of distinguished lawyers are in attendance on this Court, among whom are Ex Governor Thomas, of Marylano; U. S. Senator, James M. Mason, Philip Williams, Mr. Conrad, and J. Randolph Tucker of Winchester, and Mr. Seymour of Moorefield. And, as there are several heavy cases, upon our civil docket, involving very large same of money, it is truly, as might be expected, an intellectual feast of no ordinary character to hear their ingenious, eloefer running Cass, and some Buch one however, so far as I can learn, prefer oughts to these very ripe scholars and able and specienced statesmen. We go for rotation in first as well in the Presidential as in minor of

I do not suppose any intelligent farmer would now dispite the advantage of drilling over broadcast soving; I also consider the above Drill altogether equal to any drill now in use, and the advantage of applying a compost box to it, makes it very depirable. The compost part of the drill acts well is every particular and is one of the greatest inventions of the day for the farmer; it might well be called the the day for the farmer; it might well be colled the farmer's friend, as it saves both time and labor.

Boots, which I am desirous of alcoing to direction. ble of holding 2000 bushels of wheat. All the buildings necessary for the comfort and convenience of a family have been erected within a few years past and are in good repair. There is upon the farm a variety of choice fruit selected from the best nurseries and most of them now bearing, viz : apples, peaches, cherries, apricots, plums, &c. The land has been farmed exclusively with a view to its improvement, clover and plaster has been freely used, and it is now in a fine state of cultivation. The Winchester and Potomac Railroad 1 miles distant, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad 4 miles distant, offer great facilities for the transportation of the produce of the farm either to the Raltimore or District markets. The Harpers-Ferry and Smithfield Turnpike affords a good and safe route to Charlestown at all seasons of the year.

Its location will compare favorably with that of any farm in the county of Jefferson, as regards health, society, fertility of soil, or facilities to market. Persons wishing to purchase land, well improved, with every thing to hand, are requested to call and view the premises.

Dear Sir: Immediately on receipt of your Currar Pectoral, I carried a bottle to an acquaintance of mine who was thought to be near his end with quiet consumption. He was then unable to rise from his better and was extremely feeble. His friends believed is must soon die, unless relief could be obtained for his and I induced them to give your excellent medicine trial. I immediately left town for three weeks, and you may judge of my surprise on my return, to meet him the street on my way home from the cars, and find had entirely recovered. Four weeks from the day is commenced taking your medicine, he was at work in and uous trade of a blacksmith.

There are other cases within my knowledge, when the CHERRY PECTORAL has been singularly successful but none so marked as this.

Very truly, yours, G. W. UNDERWOOD.
