BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL, WHERE may be obtained the most speedy remedy for weakness, Loss of Organic Powers, Pain in the Loins, Disease of the Kidneys, Affections of the Head, Throat, Nose and Skin; Constitutional Debility, and all those horrid affections arising from a Certain Secret Habit of Youth, which blight their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering Marriage, etc., impossible

A Cure Warranted or no Charge. Young Men especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of cloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

Office No. 7, South Frederick street, Baltimore, Md., on the left hand side, going from Baltimore street, 7 doors from the corner. Be particular in observing the number, or you will mistake the place. Dr. Johnston,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with a ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended some-times with derangement of mind, were cured immedi-

Take Particular Notice. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfiting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Pains in the Head, Dinness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dispepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

Minyally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, timidity, &c., and some of the evils produced.

Nervous Debility: Weakness of the system, nervous debility and prema-ture decay, generally arising from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice so fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its victims from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and guar-dians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, indigestion, derangement of the nervous system, cough, and symptoms of consumption, also those serious mental effects, such as loss of memory, depression of spirits or peculiar fits of inclancholy, when the truth is they have been indulging in pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both body and mind. Thus are swept from existence, thousands who might have been of use to their istence, thousands who might have been of use to their country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to ils, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the nervous system, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an amaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion. Such persons before contemplating Marriage.

Dr. Johnston's Invigorating Remedy for Organic Weakners. This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated

should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immedi-

From "Lafitte," a forthcoming poem by G. W. Pierce.

How beautiful is night, With all her myriad starlit eyes, Like sentinels of Paradise, Guarding the Tree of Life—that stands In those far-off and Eden lands, Casting the spirits' mellow shade, In beauty o'er the moonlit glade— And gilding floating clouds that come Like heralds from the spirit home!

Noetry.

There's beauty in the Night. How musical is Night,
From every hill, and stream, and vale,
Come lovely sounds—the Nightingale
Breathes round her a melodious song— And whispering zephyrs steal along, The dim aisles of the ancient wood, Chanting a hymn to solitude-And the deep sea rolls to the shore In solemn anthems evermore!

There's music in the Night.

How quiet is the Night! How still the calm blue ether glows, All nature slumbers in repose. The islet clouds sleep on the air, Pillowed in dreams of beauty there; Life's stormy passions sink to rest, Hope dreams, and memory is blest, And o'er the heart all heaven descends, And with love's loveliest vision blends, There's quiet in the Night.

Miscellaneous.

THE LITTLE "MORNING GLORY."

BY FANNY FERN. Dear little pet! She was going a journey in the cars, with mamma; and her little curly,head could not stay on the pillow, for thinking of it. She was awake by the dawn, and had been trying to rouse mamma by the dawn, and had been trying to rouse mamma for an hour. She had told her joy in lisping accents to "Dolly," whose stoical indifference was provoking especially when she knew she was going to see "her dear white-haired old grandpapa," who had never yet looked upon her sweet face, although pen and ink and long since heralded her polite perfections. Yes, little pet must look her prettiest, for grandpapa's eyes are not so dim, that the sight of a pretty face doesn't cheer him like a ray of glad sunlight; so the glossy waves of golden hair are nicely combed, and the bright dress put on, to heighten by contrast the dim-pled fairness of the neck and shoulders; then, the lit-tle white apron, to keep all tidy; then the Cinderella boots, neatly laced. I can see you little pet? I wish I had you in my arms this minute!

Good bye! How the little curls shake! what a nice seat our tinny voyager has, by that pleasant window, upon mamma,s knee! How wonderfully fast ever any thing like it? and how it makes her eyes wink, when the cars dash under the dark bridges, and how like the ringing of silver bells that little musical laugh is when they dart out again into the fair sunlight. How cows, and horses, and sheep, all run at that horrid whistle. Little pet feels as though she was most a woman, to be travelling about, seeing so many fine things. On they dash! it half takes her breath away-but she is not afraid, no indeed!-What little darling ever could be afraid, when its hand was in mamma's love clusp?

Alas! poor little pet! Grandpapa's eyes grow weary watching for you, at the cottage window. Grandmamma says, "the cakes will be quite spoiled;" and she "knits to her scam needle," then moves about the sitting-room uneasily; now and then stopping to pat the little Kitty, that is to be pet's playfellow. And now lame Tim has driven the cows home; and the dew is falling, the stars are creeping out, and the little crickets and frogs have commenced their evening concert, and still little pet hasn't come! Where is the little stray waif? Listen! Among the "unrecognised dead" by the ate railroad accident at Norwalk, was a female child about three years of age; fair complexion and hair; had on a red dress, green sack, white apron, linen gaiters, tipped with patent leather, and white woollen

ONE HAPPY HEART.

Have you made one happy heart to-day? | Enviedprivilege. How calmly you can seek your pillow! how sweetly sleep! In all this world there is nothing so sweet as giving comfort to the distressed, as getting a sunray into a gloomy heart. Children of sorrow meet us wherever we turn; there are no moments that tears are not shed, and sighs uttered. Yet how many of those tears, those sighs, are caused by our own thoughtlessness! How many a daughter wrings the very soul of a fond mother by acts of unkindness and ingratitude! How many husbands, by one little word make a whole day of sad hours and unkind thoughts! How many wives by angry recrimina-tions, estrange and embitter their loving hearts!— How many brothers and sisters meet but to vex and injure each other, making wounds that no human heart can heal! Ah! if each one worked upon this maxim day by day, "strive to make some heart happy," jealously revenge, madness, hate, with their kindred evil associates, would forever leave the earth. Our minds would be so occupied in the contemplation of adding to the pleasures of others, that there would be no room for the ugly fiends of discord. Try it, ye discontented forever grumbling devotees of sorrow, self-caused; it will make that little part of the world in which you move as fair as Eden.

PRIM PEOPLE

There is a set of people whom I cannot bear-the pinks of fashionable propriety—whose every word is precise, and whose every movement is unexceptionable; but who, though well versed in allthe categories of polite behavior, have not a particle of soul or of cordiality about them. We allow that their manners may be abundently correct. There may be elegance in every gesture, and gracefulness in every position; not a smile out of place, and not a step that would not bear the severest scrutiny. This is all very fine; but what I want is the heart and gaiety of social intercourse—the frankness that spreads ease and ani-mation—the eye that speaks affably to all, that chases timidity from every bosom, and tells every man in the company to be confident and happy. This is what I conceive to be the virtue of the text, and not the sickening formality of those who walk by rule, and would reduce the whole of human life to a wire bound system of misery and constraint.

[Dr. Chalmers. COOL IMPUDENCE.

There is a gentleman residing in Western New York, whom in default of his real name we will call the Colonel. He has one son. Ned rather a graceless youth, full of all the wild pranks in which stulents generally excel. Being at home during the vacation he corresponded regularly with his chum who by agreement was to keep him "posted up" in regard to every thing that transpired with him worthy of note. Of course he was very careful to keep all his precious epistles from the eye of the Colonel, and as Ned was "Colonel, Jr.," it became necessary to watch the mail arrivals closely, as his chum wasn't very particular in adding that distinguishing feature to

One day he rode round to the Post Office, as usual, the letter and left for home. He started at a gallop but was unable to make up the time, for Joe arrived ahead. Hoping that nothing very bad would come of it, he marched into dinner as cavalierly as possi-ble. One glance at the Colonel's face revealed to him that he was in for it.

The substantials being disposed of, as usual the lady mother left the room, and left Ned and the Colonel sipping their wine. Leisurely pulling the letter from his pocket, the Colonel passed it to Ned and asked him what he thought of it. Ned quietly perused it, its contents being an account of his chums doings, both lawful and unlawful, and ending by urging him to come to him without delay. Ned finished it in silence, and handing it back to his father said:

"Well, sir, considering your age and station in life, I think you keep very bad company!" and before the Colonel could recover himself sufficiently to reply, he vanished from the apartment.-Dutchman. ADVERTISING A RUNAWAY.—A native of the

This did not meet Patrick's idea: 'he did not wish to advertise him, only jist to give him a hint.' After various attempts at framing a suitable notice, the following was suggested by himself as all sufficient, namely: "Patrick Flaherty would inform his apprentice, Timothy Dougherty, that he does not wish to expose him, but-gives him the hint to return to his master, and serve out his indenture like a good boy, or he will be advertised in the

were made most vehemently against the underside of the table-so that a large tin candlestick was, by every blow, raised completely from the table by the concussion. I afterward examined the underside of the table, (which, it will be recollected, was of cherry) and found indentations in the wood, made by the end of the bell, which was tipped with brass. Could electricity cause those violent knocks with the handle of the bell, causing indentations and raising the candlestick from the table at every blow? Or was it done by the same invisible power that riveted the table to the floor, and again raised it, with all the weight upon it, entirely above the floor?

Here the ringing of the bells ceased, and then I felt sensibly and distinctly the impression of a hand on my foot, ankle and knee. These manifestations were several times repeated. I was then directed to put the guitar on the drawer. We were all seated as before, with our hands and arms resting on the table.

The guitar was touched softly and gently. and gave forth sweet and delicious sounds like the accompaniment to a beautiful and exquisite piece of music. It then played a sort of symphony, in much louder and bolder tones. And, as it played these harmonious sounds, becoming soft, and sweet, and low, began to recede and grew fainter and fainter till they died away on the ear in the distance. Then they returned and grew louder and nearer, till they were heard again in full and gushing volume as when they commenced.

I am utterly incapable of giving any ade quate idea of the beauty and harmony of this music. I have heard the guitar touched by the most delicate and scientific hands, and heard from it, under such guidance; the most splendid performances. But never did I hear any that fastened upon the very soul like these prophetic strains drawn out by an invisible hand from the spirit world. While listening to it I was ready to exclaim in the language of the Bard of Avon!

"That strain again-it had a dying fall; O, it came o'er my ear like the sweet south, That breathes upon a bank of violets, Stealing and giving odor."

After the music had ceased, the following communication was received: "This is my hand that touches you and the

"JOHN C. CALHOUN." At another time, the following physical manifestation was made in the presence of General of the neck. It was an old, and, as I after-Hamilton, Gen. Waddy Thompson of S. Carolina, and myself:

We were directed to place the bible on a drawer under the table. I placed it there, completely closed. It was a small pocket bible, with very fine print. Numerous raps were then heard, beating time to "Hail Columbia." which had been called for. Soon the sounds began to recede, and grew fainter and fainter, till, like the music of the guitar, they died away in the distance. The alphabet was then called for and, it was spelled out "Look." I looked on the drawer; and found the bible open. I took it up, and carefully kept it open at the place as I found it. On bringing it to the light I found it open at St. John's gospel-chapter II, being on the left side, and chapter III, being on the right side. I said: "Do you wish us to look at chapter II?" Ans.-"No." "Do you wish us to look at chapter III?"

Ans.-"Yes." And it was then said "Read." I commenced reading the chapter, and significant and emphatic raps were given at many verses: and at verses 8, 11, 19, 34, most vehement raps were given. By looking at these verses, you will appreciate the significancy and intelligence of this emphatic demonstration. This manifestation purported to come from Calhoun, who had previously invited us three gentlemen to be present at a particular hour. In reflecting on the preceding manifesta tions, one cannot but marvel at the power by which they are made, and the intelligence by which that power is directed. And it would seem impossible for one to doubt the source of that intelligence. If, however, doubt should remain on the mind of any one acquainted with similar manifestations, that doubt must be entirely dispelled by the account of the manifes tation which follows: I was present, by Calhoun's appointment with the Misses Cox and their mother. We were seated at the table as heretofore, our hands and arms resting on it. I was directed to put paper and pencil on the drawer. I placed se veral sheets of unruled letter paper, together with a wood pencil on it. I soon heard the sound of the pencil on the paper. It was then rapped out, "Get the pencil and sharpen it." I looked under the table, but did not see the pencil. At length I found it lying diagonally from me, three or four feet from the table.-The lead was broken off within the wood. sharpened it and again put it on the drawer. Again I heard the sound of the pencil on the paper. On being directed to look at the paper I discovered pencil marks on each side of the outer sheet, but no writing. Then was received the following communication:

"The power is not enough to write a sentence. This will show you that I can write. If you meet on Friday, precisely at seven, I will write a short sentence. John C. Calhoun." We met pursuant to appointment-took our seats at the table, our hands and arms resting on it as usual. I placed the paper with my silver-eased pencil on the drawer, and said, "My friend, I wish the sentence to be in your own hand writing, so that your friends will recognise it." He replied, "You will know the writing."

He then said: "Have your minds on the spirit of John C Calhoun."

I soon heard a rapid movement of the pencil on the paper, and a rustling of the paper, together with a movement of the drawer. I was then directed to look under the drawer .-I looked, and found my pencil outside of the drawer, near my feet, but found the paper on the drawer where I placed it. On rai the drawer, I discovered the paper all under it. The sheets were a little deranged, and on examining I found on the outside these words: " I'm with you still."

I afterwards showed the "sentence" to Gen. James Hamilton, former Governor of South Carolina, Gen. Waddy Thompson, former Minister to Mexico, Gen. Robert B. Campbell, late consul at Havana, together with other intimate friends of Calhoun, and also to one of his sons, all of whom are as well acquainted with his like to know by what laws of electricity known hand-writing as their own, and they all pro nounced it to be a perfect fac simile of the hand-writing of John C. Calhoun. exerted to raise it; and at another time, raised · General Hamilton stated a fact, in connex ion with this writing, of great significance.-He says that Calhoun was in the habit of writing "I'm" for "I am," and that he has numerous letters from him where the abbreviation is thus used. Mrs. Gen. Macomb has stated the same fact to me. She says that her husband, the late Gen. Macomb, has shown to her Calhoun's letters to him, where this abbreviation "I'm" was used for "I am," and spoke of it as a peculiarity of Calhoun. How significant, then, does this fact become

We have not only the most unequivocal testimony to the hand-writing itself, but lest any skeptic should suggest the possibility of an in-timation or a counterfeit, this abbreviation, peculiar, to himself, and known only to his most intimate friends, and which no imitator or counterfeiter could know, is introduced by way of putting such a suggestion to flight forever.

This "sentence" is perfectly characteristic of This was at different times repeated. Knocks Calhoun. It contains his terseness of style and condensation of thought. It is a text from which volumes might be written.

It proves-1. The immortality of the soul. 2. The power of spirits to re-visit the earth. 3. Their ability to communicate with relatives and friends. 4. The identity of the spirit to all eternity. How one's soul expands at these sublime conceptions! How resistless is this testimony of their truth! How surprising that men can doubt, when this flood of living light is poured upon them by spirits who, in the language of Webster, "revel in the glory of the eternal light of God."

Very truly, yours, N. P. TALLMADGE. Mrs. SARAH H. WHITMAN, Providence, R. I. GALVANIC EXPERIMENT.

The following description of a galvanic experiment with a criminal who had been hanged, is from the "Portfolio of an Excitement Seeker:"

"At length one of them got back again within his circle, and said, "Well, well, let us go to work. We can think of other things after." "Every one seemed to regard this as a sort deal took place which I did not understand, and do not understand, even now. They turned the body over and cooly carved away with their knives at the back of the neck, and close to the base of the skull. I shuddered as I saw: for though the man was dead enough in all. conscience, I could not persuade myself that he did not feel. Still and motionless he lay, however, as they handled him so roughly; and there was something very horrible even in that stillness. The dull smoky glare of the lamps gave a more hideous expression to the features as they turned him over; and the oppressive atmosphere, together with the sensations of dread and awe that I felt, seemed almost to take from me the power of respiration. Then they filled up the great porcelain trough that I have mentioned, with acids and water, adjusted it properly, let down the metalic plates into the liquid, and drew some wires from the battery to the dead body, inserting the end of one of them into the wound they had made in the back wards found, celebrated anatomist, who held it in its place with a long pair of forceps, apparently tipped with glass. I had got as near to the table as I could, and I saw his hand shade a good deal; I wondered if it was with age or agitation, and I quietly raised my eves to his face. It was as pale as that of the corpse; and glancing round, I saw all the rest, who had gathered closely about gazing with straining eyes, and faces equally white, upon the form of the dead man. had hardly dropped my eyes to that cold. dead countenance again, when a sudden quivering twitch passed like a flash of lightning over the muscles of the cheeks, and the old surgeon's hand shook terribly, but he held the wire firmly in its place. "A little more acid" he whispered, in tones hardly audible. and Mr. White ran and poured something out of a vial into the trough. Suddenly the protruded tongue was drawn back into the mouth, and every one retreated a step from the table in awe and fear, except the old man who held the wire, and I could see him shut his teeth hard, and knit his brows, as if struggling resolutely against the feelings of dread and awe within him. His eyes seemed start-after he said, almost with a gasp-"It is coming." "So, indeed, it seemed. As the subtile current of unexplained relations poured into the corpse, all the features began to work convulsively; the jaw moved; the teeth chattered; the eyes began to roll.

"My God?' cried some one. "For Heaven's sake, stop!' exclaimed an-touched it; but my heart seemed as if it had nearly ceased to beat. "Every one was awe-struck, and I could see

"In the meanwhile, the ghastly contortions of the face of the corpse, which the act of strangulation had left, had gradually given way to movements and expression, convulsive, indeed but much more natural. The eves still rolled. but there seemed a light in them. The muscles quivered all over; but hardly more than those of a man under strong emotion. The cornse seemed to look at us; and the agitation of all round became intense. Suddenly the knees were drawn up almost to the chin; the arms raised widely. One man darted towards the door and threw it open. The next instant the corpse raised itself suddenly, and satupon the table, and dropping the wire, the old surgeon himself fell fainting to the floor.— Every one else rushed from the room, except myself; and why I did not follow, I knew not. My feet seemed rooted to the floor, however. I could not stir; I could hardly

"For an instant-for merely an instantthe dead man sat there a living one; then swayed heavily backward and forward, and then fell and rolled over upon the table. "The spell which held me there seemed dissolved; I regained the use of my limbs, which had seemed paralyzed; and rushing out of the room as the others had done before me. I hastened down the stairs." The Virginia Protestant Episcopal Convention has appointed the following delegates to the General Con-

DESTINY OF REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES.

"There is a people mighty in its youth "A land beyond the oceans of the west [Revolt of Islam.

The prophetic spirit of poetry has often gazed upon the Republic of America and predicted its greatness; it has been considered the happy region, where truth, virtue and liberty would build a home for man. Foes and friends have watched our career with the utmost solicitude—the former desiring that the Republican experiment would prove a failure, and that this country would crumble into fragments and resort back again to monarchy; the latter cherishing bright hopes that it would triumphantly succeed and prove a guiding beacon to the world—that other nations might be sufficiently illuminated by its glow to cast might be sufficiently illuminated by its glow to cast off, in their turn, the chains of despotism and oppres-

Thus far our experiment has been successful, and our question now is, will it confinue to be so, and end in a triumphant lesson to the nations of the earth, proving that man possesses the power of self-government?

The idea has often been advanced that as nations of former periods have waxed strong, passed their culminating points of progress and waned again, so we too must run the same course, and that our sun of prosperity must decline, and that our nation must of prosperity must decline, and that our nation must know a grave. At this idea our natures revolt, we cannot feel the force of it, nor can we see the proprie-ty of any conclusion of the kind, and it is only by giving loose reins to speculation that a thought of this character can be entertained. True, this idea is founded upon a view of the past; but one thing should be remembered, that the history of the nations of the past is not the criterion by which we are to judge. Our origin, times, and circumstances are altogether different from those of the nations who have preceded us:

If rations of antiquity, professing republicanism, were perpetually at war, instituting and subverting of relief. They had god rid of an importunate thought, and about their experiment they set governments, conquering and being conquered, and finally subverted—it does not follow as a necessary with zeal, and doubtless with skill. A great consequence that we too must pass away and only leave the trace of what we once were. Our nation possesses an inherent strength, such as was not possessed by republics of the past. While it is true that in our infancy we had but little strength, it is equally true that we possessed those principles and resources which were calculated to form a nation of the firmest and most durable character. No lawless banditti were the founders of our Commonwealth; no wild adventurers, regardless of the prin-ciples of religion, honesty and right, were the forerunners of American liberty—but they were men who, in their quiet and peaceful homes, possessing the enjoyments and competence of civilized life, severed the links of the chain that bound this country to monarchy.

It would be useless to investigate the amount of liberty enjoyed by the colonists. The issue that caused the rupture with the mother county is a matter so well known that it is useless to refer to it in this connexion, only as may be sufficient to obtain a clear view of our strength and resources. As we have already intimated the men who were the principal actors in dissolving our connexion, were already favored by the smiles of fortune their competence gave them a personal independence. Owing to the distance (at that day) from the presence of royalty and all the machinations of courtly usages, the people of America entertained but little respect for so useless an appendage; this being the case it was a very easy matter for those who even had been favorable to the previous order of things, to drop their prejudices and give their weight on the side of the triumphant cause.

What then were the materials? Simply these—a vast extent of country, pleasant and fertile, presenting a face that would yield an abundant reward to he hand of industry and perseverance-a population of firmness, energy and industry—severed from every national tie except that of the home that now smiled so propitiously upon their labors. A few statesmen who had nerved themselves, cast off the yoke of oppression, and were anxious to mould into form the government best suited to the genius of the people.-But a few years elapsed when the task of organizing these materials was accomplished—a constitution ra-tified by the people. Under these mild auspices our country has become great and powerful.

Here we see no grounds for the slightest reason why we should decline. The materials of the past republics, and those which were the ingredients of ours, are altogether different. Their power was ounded and reared by conquest, ours has grown up as the development of the resources of our own counery and the spirit of man, when under the influence of the principle recognizing freedom and equality.

Former Republics sunk into the ease and luxury of riches, obtained by conquest; these in turn became the game sought for by more barbarious nations. Hardy sons of other climes visit our shores, follow industrious pursuits, commence extracting the wealth embedded in our country's fruitful soil; they enjoy civil privileges, their children grow up amongst us, and have all the attachment for the country that is ing from his head; but a moment or two possible for them to possess; they are happy and help to sustain and strengthen the home of their adop-tion; their interests become inseparably identified with us and in the qualities of our institutions they behold every incitement for their perpetuation.

Public opinion (although it has been said that the Americans had no public opinion) is too strongly impregnated with the importance of our liberties ever to consent to the dismemberment of our nation, or to the introduction of any other mode of government than the republican.

Though individuals may thoughtlessly give vent to expressions and opinions that seem erroneous—yet, when the great American people speak, they speak in unmistaken tones of their attachment for, and their determination to sustain and perpetuate the Republican faith which promises to be the guiding star of the world.

THE FALL OF AN EMPIRE.

The Chinese Empire which, according to its own istorians, dates so far back that it might as well have had no beginning at all, now seems to be in a very precarious situation. The sacred and celestial Emperor, the brother of the Sun and Moon, is now cursed with a set of subjects who care little or nothing for himself or for his high-sounding titles -There must be contagion in modern progress. The Chinaman never could have invented the idea of revolution. He must have caught it from some American or European. He is the last man in the world, who would be suspected of a disposition to indulge in any such excitements; but now that he has begun he seems determined to carry the affair through, in good earnest. Our readers are already informed that Nankin has fallen into the hands of the rebels. They also threaten Shanghai with a force of fifty thousand men. The general impression is that the Emperor must abandon his throne. He has just lost Krozing, his commander in chief, and has exposed his weakness, by issuing a proclamation calling on the people for help. He has legalized the opium trade at moderate duty, and a newspaper, mis-named the "Friend of China," hints that if England or America will help to keep him on his throne, a hard bargain can be drawn with him in regard to the opium or anyother rade. This looks like a great bribe, but it will scarcey be accepted.

If this rebellion should finally triumph, and that with other civilized nations. The effects of such a change on the commerce of the world is incalcu-

it will, seems almost certain, the old exclusive policy will be abandoned and China will take her place

NATIONAL ARMORIES.

The act of Congress passed at its recent session in reference to the National Armories, authorizes the President to substitute a Civil Superintendent on the 1st day of July, ensuing, in lieu of the Military officers who now preside over these establishments. In addition to this, more by mistake and want of consideration than design, a proviso was attached to the bill, authorizing the President if in his discretion it was deemed necessary, to appoint a Committee of civilians and Military men, to examine into the comparative merits or abuses of the two systems, and report the result of their investigations, for the consideration of the President. The President, we are justified in saying, feels himself called upon to appoint this commission, which he will do at the earliest period possible constituting it of men of the highest integrity, and disconnected by either interest or prejudice, with either system. In a case where the people and their representatives have so clearly designated their desires, we had hoped the President would have taken the "responsibility," and on the 1st of July have swept from the statute book, every vestige of military domination over the mechanics and artizans of our National Armories. He has thought proper, however, to await the report of the Committee which the law authorizes him to constitute, and from the most rigid investigation, the friends of the Civil System neither shrink or dread. As to economy it is equal, as to abuses not greater, and as to justice and equality, consonance with the spirit of our institutions and the guaranty of exact justice to all men, it vastly preponderates. This Committee, we presume, will be at once organized, but can scarcely report for some month or two to come. We have no reason to fear, as yet at least, that all things will not "come out right." WONDERFUL.

The above assertion of the Spirit is not true, as will be seen by an examination of the Smithfield poll. Now what would you suppose, reader, was "the assertion of the Spirit," which authorized the "Free Press," with the recklessness which usually characterizes that journal, in overleaping the bounds of common courtesy and propriety, and with neither sense in its logic or reason at its command, feel itself called upon to pronounce our assertion "not true." Here it is: "The Whig party on the other hand, outside of Harpers-Ferry, were not only united, but most bitter and vindictive in their hostility to Mr. Faulkner." But, says the Free Press, for no sane man in the county would pretend to deny it, the above assertion as the Smithfield poll will show. Wel now what does the Smithfield poll exhibit? Here is the result, upon which the Free Press has undertaken to convict us of having uttered a falsehood:

Boteler 63, Gibson 70, Button 59. Add the vote of Messrs. Gibson and Button together, and we see that they only exceed the vote of Mr. Boteler by 11. On the other hand, Mr. Faulkner beats the average of the Democratic candidates for the Legislature, at which precinct one resided, only six votes, making a gain over all the Delegates of 71 votes. Now, neighbor, when did you ever make an assertion, half as near the truth, as the one you undertake to denounce as false? Try your hand again, and if you can't do better, out of your own mouth will you stand condemned.

NEW PAPER IN WASHINGTON.

The correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writing from Washington under date of June 3d, says: The most important news of the day is that a new paper is about to be established here as the representative of the principles and views of the national democracy. Beverly Tucker, Esq., of this city, is to have the editorial control of the paper. He was about to depart for California, when he was induced to remain here by the offer of the charge of this paper. main here by the offer of the charge of this paper. I learn that the establishment of the paper is recom-mended and is to be supported by a number of emi-nent politicians, both Northern and Southern. The paper is to be put on a stable basis in regard to funds, and will be conducted with a degree of ability that will secure for it public favor and political influence. We chanced to be in Washington at the time this announcement was given to the public, and it created quite a furor. The propriety or policy of a new "organ," is a question upon which men very much differ, yet as there is room enough and to spare in the Federal Metropolis for another paper devoted to the interests of the "National democracy," but few men can bring around it so many auguries of success, as the gentleman designated for its head, BEVER-LY TUCKER, Esq., formerly of this county. He is a gentleman of considerable capacity, most indefatigable and untiring energies, of extensive acquaintance, and in his social and general intercourse; universally esteemed. Should this new enterprise be commenced. he will have the best wishes of his old friends for its success, and their ardent desire that it may not only be of benefit to him personally, but productive of good, and a faithful reflex of the sentiments, of the national democracy.

Sorry to hear it, but nevertheless true. We commend the wise discretion which has been exercised over our neighbor, in not having been afforded even an opportunity of trying "the turf" once, though he may have had many anxious longings in that direction. Hector Bell's remedy, we are sure, will never be applicable as to his case, as he has long since been turned out to grass, as unfit for use either upon the turf or in the plough. We therefore "pity the sorrows of the poor old man," and leave him alone like Patence upon a monument, weeping over the ingratitude of the world.

STRAWBERRIES.

We acknowledge, on the part of our good lady, the receipt of almost a half bushel of the largest and the finest Strawberries, we have ever seen grown in any moth size, but the most delicious flavor and exquisite taste, and reflect the highest credit upon the careful husbandry of the gentleman in whose garden they were grown. Were he not a widower, and a most modest man at that, we should give his name to the public, but as the strawberry season is nearly over, the ladies must estimate him by his numerous social virtues and great personal worth.

MARIETTA AND CINCINNATI RAILROAD.

The President and Chief Engineer of the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, invite proposals for constructing the portion of the line of that road not yet under contract. This is one of the most important roads now in construction in the West, and will meet the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Wheeling, making the shortest route from Cincinnati to Baltimore, and from Cincinnati to Philadelphia, New York and Boston. About eighteen months ago, 75 miles of the road were let, and are now nearly ready for the iron; last fall 65 miles more were placed under contract, and now between 80 and 90 miles are to be let. It is the longest road in Ohio, and it is said that nearly 100 miles will be finished during the present year.

THE LOSS OF THE WILLIAM & MARY .- The New York Commercial Advertiser severely condemns the captain of the barque William & Mary, now that the safety of the passengers shows that he deserted the ship,regardles of every thing but his own safety

"It is now plain, his report was false in reality, as t appeared heartless. He did not see the William & Mary go down. He and his crew deserted their post and abandoned the multitudes of passengers to their fate, while yet the ship floated, and their safety might have been provided for. to cover up the unparallelled inhumanity, he made and circulated a false report, calculating the abandoned would never bear testimony against him." A majority of the 194 passengers who were rescued were taken into Nassau, and were kindly cared for by a committee of ladies of that place, who furnished them with food and clothing. Collections were also taken up in all the chrches in aid of the unfortuate

Wm. Ward and Samuel D. Harris, refused to abandon the ship with Captain Stinson and the rest of the crew. After the captain left, the two sailors, discerning land eight miles ahead, slipped the chain cable and endeavored to get the ship under way, but unsuccessful, as the passengers were unable to assist them, though they continued to work the pumps.— The ship after the cable was slipped, drifted to the North-East; during the evening the two sailors busied themselves in constructing rafts, to be launched on the following morning, when, fortunately the wrecking schooner, Oracle, Captain Sands, hove in sight, and soon rescued the passengers, the ship going down just as the last passenger jumped from the deck. Had not the Captatn and crew deserted the ship, it is the conviction of the seamen referred to that the ship migh have been runashore. The Guardian says that Capt. Sands deserves the warm approbation of the humane, and generous reward from the British

RESULT OF THE ELECTION.

The recent election in this State has resulted in returning an entire Democratic delegation to Congress. Charles S. Lewis, independent Democrat, being elected in the 11th district, over Snodgrass, nominated Democrat, and Sterrett, Whig. The Legislature is also Democratic in both branches, but by a reduced majority. Edward J. Armstrong, Archibald Graham and Thos. J. Boyd, all Democrats, (the last named independent, having defeated Daniel, the regular democratic nominée,) have been chosen to constitute the Board of Public Works. The following is a list of the Congressmen elect:

The slavery question received more attention than any other, and was disposed of in a harmless way. There was a strong conservative influence in the body-nearly all its best and most able men deprecating further action as unnecessary and inudicious. The fashionable amusement of promiscuous dancing was unanimously denounced by the General Assembly, as improper and injurious to professing christians either to take part in it, or qualify their children for it by teaching them the art; and it was also recommende that the discipline of the church be exercised towards those guilty of the offence. Resolutions were also adopted in relation to the marriage of a man with his niece, declaring such marriage as evidently contrary to the teachings of the scriptures, and incestuous, demanding the judicial action of the churches, and if not repented of should incur church censure.

The progress of the railway system in the South is briefly yet satisfactorily exhibited in the following ar-

Virginia is extending its lines from the seaboard to the Ohio and the Tennessee; on the one hand by the Covington and Ohio Railroad towards Cincinnati, Louisville, Chicago and St. Louis, and on the other hand by the Virginia and Tennessee railroad and its connections towards Knoxville, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis and the whole South-west. Already its complete roads measure six hundred miles, and those now in progress six hundred miles more. North Carolina, too, is pressing on towards the West; and forming connections with the great lines of Virginia by the Roanoke Valley railroad, and with those of South Carolina by the Central Railroad, uniting with the Charlotte and South Carolina Railroad near the State line; and the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad opens to its chief port the riches that ertswhile have raised Charleston to its lofty position. The completed lines in this State measure two hundred and eighty miles, and those progressing to some five hundred miles additional. In South Carolina and Georgia, from Charleston towards Mobile and New Orleans, and towards Nashville and Memphis the lines within this State are complete. In the northern part of this State but few places are wanting in railroad accommodation. Soon she will scale the Blue Ridge. Georgia has two lines crossing the State and uniting with the roads of Tennessee and Alabama, and two others are in progress; the one from Savannah to Albany on the Flint river, and the other from Brunswick to Tallahassee and several other points in the Southwest portion of the State.

The Atlantic and Gulph Railroad, in Florida, is a grand conception, and will form the high way of a commerce now endangered by the treacherous shoals and rocks of her Southern point. Other railroads will seek her harbors, from Montgomery, from Oglethorpe and other points north of her Western territorial extension.

He arrives at the conclusion that it is a valuable invention, with some important improvements over the steam engine. He says that the Ericsson engine saves rom one-sixth to one-third the fuel, and that if its full estimated power should be hereafter developed it will save seventy per cent. of the fuel; that its weight for the same actual power is three times as great as that of the steam engine; that if its estimated power be developed, as much as 30 per cent. will be added to its weight! that this great weight will prevent its application to the propulsion of vessels at a high speed; and that the same reason will prevent its adaptation for inland navigation and locomotives Bosrov, June 3 .- By a late arrival here, letters have been received from Montevideo, which report that the Captain, both mates, the steward, and two passengers of the well-known ship Reindeer, bound for Valparaiso, from Boston, were murdered by the crew, who subsequently scuttled the vessel off Cape Antonio.— She was afterwards discovered, the cargo thrown out, and towed to Montevideo. The Reindeer had a large amount of bullion on board, which the murderers secured and placed in a small boat, in which they made their way to Montevideo. On their arrival there, one of the murderers, it seems, became conscient en at seeing the Reindeer in the harbor, which he sup posed had been sunk. The panic was so great and unexpected that he made a full confession of the terrible crime. The murderers were finally all arrested, and will be sent to England for trial.

VIRGINIA WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

In the last few weeks, under the superintendence of Mr. Herbert (says the Richmond Enquirer) the granite work of the monument on the Capitol square has made considerable progress. The beautiful pedestals for the Eagles, and the large inscription stones with the name of "Washington" deeply cut, together with one higher course have been put up. There are other courses of stone cat, which will be soon in their proper places. As the structure rises, it excites general admiration. Mr. Crawford, at Rome is progressing well with the bronze statues. An artist of fine talents and accomplished taste, now in Rome, writes to his family in Boston that "Mr. Crawford is hard at work on the great Washington Monument for Virginia and doing it grandly too. His studio is counted as one of the principal in Rome; and that is saying a great deal where there are so many."

In connection with this subject, it gives us sincere pleasure to republish from the Norfolk Argus the following beautiful and noble tribute to a young Virginia artist, in the recent Lecture of G. P. R. James, Esq., the British Consul at that place. Proceeding to show the intimate connection which exists between literature and the arts and sciences the lecturer re-

Again, if we turn sculpture, and place ourselves be-fore one of the master pieces of the chisel; if we gaze on the marble image of Python slaying of God, or of the marcie image of Python slaying of God, or contemplate with wondering admiration the Venus of Medici, or behold the sculptured agony of the La-ocoon, or look upon the motionless and everlasting tragedy of Niobe, as she stands with slaughtered children at her feet—where is the heart so cold, so dull, so irresponsible, as not to feel that he has a poem be-fore his eyes—a poem written on the marble with a pen of iron? Nay, to you who hear me I might put the question Did ever an Anacreon himself produce a sweeter lyric than your own young countryman GALT has chisled in his Bacchante? I cannot quit this theme without saying a word or two more. He has achieved a feat which few if any have ever accomplised before.— There is something in the hard fixed nature of the material on which the sculptor works, that adapts it to the expression of passion in its extreme. Agony, scorn, and disdain, intense grief; the grace which depends on poise and lines-all that is persistent and profound, we have often seen caught and petrified inder the chisel. But the light and evanescent exressions, springing from what Byron beautifully calls the lightning of the mind," are more difficult to fix upon the unvarying stone; and it is in this that GALT I may say almost stands alone in past or present times. In looking at his Bacchante, it is not the beauty of features, the graceful turn, the exquisite contour, but it is the faint and delicate but distinct and expressive smile that most strikes us-the spirit of subdued joyfulness-the ready laugh just dawning on the lips. Well, my friends, may you be proud of this young artist whose genius, even if it achieved no more, might make the fame of a greater city than Norfolk. Sculpture, I may assuredly say, is poetry. So it is with every one of the fine arts—so it is with the pictures of a Raphael, a Michael Angelo, a Guido, a Correggio—so with the sunny, meditatives landscapes of Claude de Lorraine—so with the deep and solemn woods and ruined fanes of Poussin.

OLD FEDERAL AUGUSTA AND OLD FEDERAL LOUDOUN.

For the first time in the history of the two federal counties whose names stand at the head of this article, Democrats have been elected to represent them in the next Legislature of Virginia. In Augusta county with whose politics we are familiar, the result is on of our California possessions.

The shipments of specie to foreign countries during that astonishes us. Sheffey, the Whig candidate for the Senate, has been laid on the shelf, and the senate the month of May, have been $2,204,545. The entire shipments of specie to foreign countries since the 1st who will be considered quite an accession to that shipments of specie to foreign countries since the 1st of January, amount to $6,294,532, against $9,511,570 who will be considered quite an accession to that body as he is a man of action, and not given to that penchant for volubility which has so greatly distinfrom California, since January 1st, exceed our exguished his defunct opponent. The delegates also are practical men, and we apprehend that the county will be gainers by the transfer of the sceptre to Democratic hands. The coons of that county have long needed a skinning, and we rejoice to learn that they have at last found a Skinner. Skinner, Koiner and Walker, Democrats, are elected and we herald the result with great satisfaction.

In Loudoun, for the first time in her history, a Democrat is the first returned. John West Minor, be t remembered, is the first man, and no better could have been selected, to turn back the tide of federalism which has so long swept over and overwhelmed the Democratic party in that now regenerated county. lowever the whig of Londoun may feel, they have o confess, that one Minor among them has attained his Majority. They will also find out after a while that he has likewise reached the full years of dis-

THE CHINESE REBELLION.

TROUBLE BETWEEN THE FRENCH AND ENGLISH.—The editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer has seen a letter from an efficer on board the U. S. ship Plymouth, dated Hong-Kong, March 24th, in which the writer states that the almost universal topic was the Chinese rebellion. The rebel army was much larger than the regular army, and the head or chief represents himself as a descendant of a former Emperor. At the last accounts they were surrounding Nankin, and great fears were entertained that that city, as well as Pekin, would be destroyed. The writer says: In conformity with the request from the Chinese authorities, the British had despatched two steamers and a brig of war, to assist the troops of the Government. The U.S. steamer Susquehanna had been sent to Shanghai. Capt. Kelly was the senior officer of the station, in place of Com. Aulick. The Mississippi was soon expected, and great impatience was manifested for her arrival. Quite an excitement prevailed in consequence of an affair at Canton between the French and English. The French Consul undertook to raise a flag pole on the parade ground occupied by foreigners. The English prevented them, whereupon the Cohsul wrote to the Captain of a French frigate, stating the whole affair to him. He sent a Lieu and a draft of marines to Canton, to protect the flag. The Lieutenant first civilly requested the Englishmen to desist, and on refusing, he in connection with his men, drove every opponent from the square, and immediately proceeded to erect the flag-staff.

The writer adds that it is doubtful if the United States expedition will go to Japan this season. The equadron will not reach Hong Kong before July, and vill not be ready before August. The coast at that time is very dangerous, and a delay may be deemed

THE SOUTH AND SLAVERY. For ourselves we would prefer the authorship of the volumes of Mrs. Stowe and all the celebrity which they have given to her name.—National Intelligencer. "The longer we look at this subject (slavery) the more fully are we convinced that the best friends of the slave are the dwellers in his own South. In that South are those who received him a poor, naked savage fresh from Africa and the horrors of the middle passage: they have clothed him, fed him, visited him in sickness have taken charge of his children in infancy, and provided for him in helpless old age; have taught him a Saviour's name, and been intrumental in shedding abroad in his heart a Saviour's love, and preparing for him a crown and a kingdom in Heaven. A whole nation of his people have grown up here, and under the genial influence of Southern to an extent to which history shows no parallel.

homes, they have been elevated from barbarism to civilization and christianization with a rapidity and part of his people have gone back to Africa, bearing with them the princeless treasure of the gospel—a compensation ample for all their hardships; more of them are going to join those already there; others are to go, and what is to be the final result will be known, perhaps, in that day, when Ethiopis shall stretch forth her hands to God. In all this process of elevating in the mass a whole people from barbarism whose hands have plied the lever but thos of Southern men? Who have had the responsibility care, vexation, expense, even impoverishment of their lands and their families, but the people of the South? We believe that God in his providence is working out a mighty wonder for Africa's sons, both in their own and in this land, though what for the time seem an evil, and that the final development will be ful of joy and gladness; and the results will then be traced to their right sources; when Uncle Tom' Cabin shall have erumbled to the dust, and Mrs. Stowe's name her silver salver, and her British banquets are remembered no more."-Presbyterian.

THE HESSIAN FLY.

The attacks of this insect have been equal in damage and extent, this season, to those of the joint worm. Our readers may therefore be interested in the following account of the fly, taken from the Abstract of the Seventh Census, which we find in the Staunton

In 1776, there was entailed upon this country ar enduring calamity, in consequence of the introduc-tion of the Hessian or wheat fly, which was supposed to have been brought from Germany in some straw employed in the debarkation of Howe's troops on the west end of Long Island. From that point this insect gradually spread in various directions, at the rate of twenty or thirty miles a year, and the wheat of the entice region of the Alleghanies is now more or less infested with the larvæ as well as in large portions of the States bordering on the Ohio and Mississipp and on the great lakes; and so great have been th ravages of these insects that the cultivation of this grain in many places have been abandoned."

BANK BILL VETOED .- The Governor of New York has vetoed the bill to enlarge the basis of banking in that State. The bill proposed to extend the basis of banking by admitting city stocks. This extention he says would induce a desire on the part of city corporations to create debts; and he thinks that at the present time, when banking profits were increasing so rapid ly, a due regard for safety demands that those profits should be limited, otherwise there must be a revolution in the money market soon.

The Port Tobacco Times, of vesterday, states that Mr. Brawner has lost four valuable slaves out of the number attacked —three men and one woman. If the summer pass away without mis-chief growing out of this concentration of force, we shall be glad; but as things now stand, there is such a temptation for British officers to knock our fishermen about, as they did last season, "just for the fun of the thing," that we fear there is mischief ahead.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Doves, N. H., Jan. 26, 1853. 4 Messrs. A. G. Brage & Co.—I had a valuable horse that about three weeks since was wounded severely in his thigh, with a sharp hook, opening a gash three inches in length and an inch or more deep. I tried various articles to heal it, but inflammation getting into it caused large quantities of matter to collect, and the limb was quite-stiff. A friend of mine asked me if I had tried the Mustang Liminent, to which I replied in the negative, but thinking it might do some good, was induced to try it. It had only used one half bottle when the inflammation began to be removed, and the wound to heal. Now it is entirely healed and the hair is growing over the wound, making it look as well as ever. Hoping that others may be benefitted by a trial of your valuable compound, I remain yours, CHAS. E. WHITEHOUSE. Messrs. A. G. Brage & Co.-I had a valuable horse

RUSSELL COUNTY, Ala., Feb. 1st, 1853. In justice to the proprietors, and for the benefit of the afflicted, I feel it my duty to state publicly, the remarkable cures that have been effected in my family by the Mustang Liniment. A negro of mine had what was called a Bone Felon or Whitlow on her midwhat was called a Bone Felon or Whitlow on her middle finger; the pain was most intense and exeruciating. The inflammation had been so extensive that the whole finger had become almost a mass of corruption, and the only hope of saving her hand, and perhaps her life, appeared to be to have it cut off. As her general health was very delicate, the physician advised us to try the Mustang Liniment a few days, till she could be sent to a surgeon in Columbus, as it could do no harm, and might prevent mortification. To the astonishment of the doctor, and myself, the pain soon ceased, the inflammation subsided, and the wound rapidly healed. The finger is now perfectly well and sound: One of my boys were severely burned. The skin was entirely taken off from the knee to the ankle. The Mustang Liniment was freely applied, and nothing else was used. The relief and cure was almost beyond belief—but a short time elapsed before the wounds were perfectly healed. I consider it an invaluable remedy, and it should be in every family and on every plantation.

JAS. PHILLIPS. The Liniment is put up in three sizes and retails for 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1—the 50 cts. and $1 sizes contains three and six times as much as the 25 cts. size, tains three and six times as much as the 20 cts. size, and is much cheaper.

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF LOUDOUN COUNTY.

THE election is over and I am much disappointed in the vote I received; and why am I disappoint ed? When I first announced myself as a candidate, ome of my friends said that I was too honest a man to be elected—that no honest man could be elected. I then believed that honest men were the very men that could be elected over all others. I had two thousand copies of my platform address published, and I took it for granted that every man who read it could vote for me, if he voted for principles, not men; and in every neighborhood that I visited, I was assured by the people, as also by letter, that my prospects were most cheering. I and many others looked upon my election as certain, when, on a certain occasion, I made a speech, and other gentlemen, mine was pro-nounced by a majority to be the best yet made; and yet when the time to vote arrived, those that pronised to vote for me did not do so. Why did they not do so? I had been misrepresented in Leesburg, by gentlemen who call themselves honorable men. nose men could make no charge too monstrous, and no stone was left unturned, no nook or corner of the county that those men did not send their impostors to. I shall at some early day make known to the people of Loudoun the names of those gentlemen who have been guilty of the worst kind of robbing that man can be guilty of—robbing me of my character— the defamation of my good name. "He who steals my purse, steals trash! 'Twas mine, 'tis his. It has been the slave of thousands. But he who robs me of my good name, robs me of that which enriches him not, but makes me poor indeed." During the recent canvass, and in its result, I have in my own experience, fully realized the truth of the sentiment just referred to. My name and character have been so familiarly handled in connexion with misrepresentation and slander that not only has my election been defeated, but it may create a loss of confidence on the part of the people in me. I ask is there a single man in the county of Loudoun, who would not tell me if he saw a robber stealing my goods? the name of reason, I again ask, is there a man who would fail to acquaint me with the ruthless despoiler of a character which for a period of twenty-five years has been carefully nourished and guided. Surely not, I therefore call upon all men who heard my name misrepresented, to forward the names of any persons who may have done so. Some of the most odious charges and misrepresentations was extensively circulated in the county, both by tongue and by pen—that I was a crazy man—that I was an abolitionist—that I was guilty of forgery, and that I was a great liar, and all such pusillanimous charges; and not satisfied with all this, an express was sent out from Leesburg, with the pretended statement of the polls, at 12 o'clock, that I had but one vote—this was to have an effect at Waterford—when I had eleven: to have an effect at Waterford-when I had eleven; and it had the desired effect; and moreover, they circu-lated at different precincts, that I was no candidate, that I had withdrawn; and how could any man get support when all this was circulated, and ten-times more.— The names of these gentlemen will be forthcoming as soon as I get some more evidence of the wire-work-ing and their determination to kill me off, so that I may never be in their way again. I am defeated, but not conquered. I shall be a candidate for the first rable office that is to be given by the suffrages of cople of the county of Loudonn. I shall not be I hope all papers favorable to justice will copy the bove, without pay, owing to the circumstances of THOMAS PURCELL.

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE, The Great Restorative & Invigorator, AND CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, DYSPEPSIA, SCROFULA, &c. THIS Medicine is altogether from the Vegetable L Kingdom, and may be used by any one without injurious consequences.

By a wise choice and combination of some of the best of each class of co-operative simple remedies, it fully reaches all the essential organs of the human system, and thus it has proved itself so effectually curative of the whole round of CHRONIC AFFECTIONS. This article was discovered by Dr. Jesse Hampton, now in fine health in the 79th year of his age. He was born in Virginia in 1775, emigrated to Kentucky—then a wilderness—with his father, in 1779. In early manhood he was so reduced by disease as to be almost wrecked in constitution. He spent much of his living for medical advice and attention, and grew nothing better, but worse. Finding no relief from his physicians, he resolved to try the restorative powers of the roots, barks, leaves, plants, ect., of the forest. He then dwelt in the midst of the Red Men of the Western wilds. Having heard much of their skill in the use of vegetable remedies of the forest, and knowing their mode of medicinal practice must be one of practical experience and not of theoretical speculation, he made himself acquainted with their remedies, and also with of Kentucky, had obtained from the 'medicine men' of the Indians. He carefully studied the nature of the medicine had the cheering satisfaction of finding disease driven from his emaciated body, and vigorous health given in its stead. His case was of no ordinary kind, but astonishing to his friends and neighbors. The fame of it spread; the people far and near sent to the doctor for his successful and wonderful combination of Indian remedies: which was fearly given them, until the for his succession and wonderful combination of rindian remedies; which was freely given them, until the cases became so numerous and the demand so great that the doctor was advised by his friends, and induced through justice to himself, to put up his Vegetable Tincture in bottles, and charge a price for it which was freely given. Finding its way into the first and most intelligent families, and astonishing all by its wonderful cures; commanding certificates and testi-mony in its favor from the leading and some of the most talented men of the country. UNPARALLELED SUCCESS!

The many cures made by it, and the great demand have induced the proprietors to offer it to the afflicted in this city, with the honest conviction that the same happy results will follow its use here, as in nu other places. HON, HENRY CLAY AND HON, R. M. JOHNSON have certified to its merits. CAPT. GANOT, brother of the celebrated physician to the EMPEROR OF FRANCE, was cured by it of Chronic Inflammatory Rheumatism of seven years duration, after the skill of the physicians of Paris, London, and of this country had failed Rev: Vernon Eskridge, chaplain U. S. Navy, was cured by it. Also, Judge Davies, Hon. T. H. Shelby, members of Congress, with members of the State Department, Washington, and hundreds of others, who give thei testimony to this wonderful discovery.

have cured themselves, and the members of their fami-lies, by its use, after their own remedies had failed and some of them are so generous as to recommend i to their patients.

It has shown itself most powerfully curative of NERVOUS DISEASES in their various forms, giving new life and vigor, restoring the shattered constitution, and thus infusing hope in place of despondency. By its mild, pleasant, and safe action on the stomach, liver, kidneys, lungs, and the nervous system, it cures DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, DISEASES OF THE URINARY OR-GANS, COUGHS, ASTHMA, BRONCHIAL AFFEC-TIONS, CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA, KING'S EVIL, WORMS, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, NEU

RALGIA, ST. VITUS' DANCE, FITS, FISTULA, PILES, with all diseases arising from impure blood.

THE FEMALE SYSTEM,
has, in DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE, A CURE for its numerous and complicated derangements. Hundreds who have been debilitated and dispirited, and on the verge of a premature grave, have been restored by its use to blooming health, which we are abundantly able to prove by such a host OF LIVING WITNESSES as we think no other medicine can produce.

To publish ALL THE TESTIMONY in its favor would nake a large volume.

Numerous Letters and Certificates, showing its RESTORATIVE AND HEALING QUALITIES, are published in a pamphlet, which with their originals, and a host of other commendatory letters not ye ublished, the proprietors will be pleased to exhibit to Attention is not called alone to the quantity of the testimony, but also, to its HIGH CHARACTER.

Thousands will testify to cures on themselves, wives children and friends, after all other remedies had fail ed: We give below a few extracts.

we gree believe a lew a read the certificates of its cures, showing a mass of testimony, such, as we believe was never given to any other medicine.

LIVER COMPLAINT, DEBILITY.

Extract from Larger Harris, Fig. 1, Letter, Alexandria. Extract from James Harris, Esq's., Letter, Alexandria Virginia.

After speaking of wonderful cures on himself, he says: "Mrs. H. has been suffering with the liver complaint and with inability, constantly complaining from weakness, through her whole system. She now enjoys better health than for thirty years, being entirely restored by the use of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture." DISEASED SIDE, BREAST, EYES.

DISEASED SIDE, BREAST, EYES.

Extract from a Letter from J. Grimes, Esq., Loudoun county, Virginia.

"My wife has been for years afflicted with great weakness; pain in the breast, side and back; palpitation of the heart; feebleness of the nervous system; loss of appetite; complexion sallow; the sight of one eye almost gone, the other very weak. I am pleased to say, Hampton's Tincture has restored her to perfect health. Her eyes are as good now as ever they were."

RHEUMATISM, 38 YEARS.

Mrs. E. Bagwell, of Virginia, suffered from Rheumatism from her 12th to her 50th year of age; at times entirely helpless. Being wealthy, she employed the best medical attention, and tried many medicines, but was cured only by Hampton's Vegetable Tincture.

CHRONIC INFLAMATORY RHEUMATISM.

The wife of Thomas M. Yeakle, 76 Pearl street,

The wife of Thomas M. Yeakle, 76 Pearl street was a great sufferer for eight years. Restored to per fect health by Hampton's Vegetable Tincture.
MERCURIAL RHEUMATISM! Mr. Jarrett Plummer, 158 East Baltimore street, suffered this disease intensely six years; could not sleep; dreadful ulcers formed on his limbs, from which splinters of bones issued. His physician pronounced him incurable; but Hampton's Vegetable Tincture cured him. HEREDITARY SCROFULA! A boy in the family of Hon. W. P. Thommasson once member of Congress from Kentucky, was a mass of sores from head to foot. His eyelids turned inside out, protruding over the eyeballs so as to produce blindness. He was cured by Hampton's Vegetable

DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASE, &c.
Mr. Wm. Oldham, of Baltimore custom house, suffered these complaints for eighteen months, with both body and mind seriously affected. He was cured by Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, after other things failed. COUGH, CONSUMPTION, &c.

Mr. Henry C. Winn had a cough for five years great weakness, ect.; had, in all, five or six physicians; tried all their remedies, but was cured only by HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE.

ISAAC ROSE. IMPORTANT FOR BOATMEN & BOAT-Builders, Railroad and Bridge Builders. I HAVE invented (and am applying to use so far as to fully test its properties) a Check or Rubber, for the purpose of checking and holding permanently a boat when entering the locks or any other close place, through which it may pass, on the several canals.— The invention is as follows, viz: A sill of proper dimensions laying across the boat, in the centre of which is a fulcrum or axle to work a lever or tiller on, paral-lel to and on the top of the sill are two pieces of tim-ber, of suitable size, for the purpose of sliders; at the centre above named, in the sill, is also a pivot fulcrum or axle for the lever to take hold of and work the slid ing pieces in straight lines with, and in opposite di-rections to, each other, jutting the ends of the sliding pieces out of the sides of the boat and thus check its headway, by rubbing against the mason work of the lock. The lever when placed on the two sliding pieces will be in form as in Euclid, book 1st, propositions 27th, 23th, and 29th, of a line falling on two straight lines, and the changes by the required moving of the straight line producing at the same time different an-gles at their junctures. The same movement of the two sliding pieces may be effected by other fixture, such as the placing between the two sliding pieces a og-wheel, to turn with a crank or lever, or by placing cog-wheel, to turn with a crank or lever, or by placing in a line with them something operating as a jack-screw, or other something of the kind which will produce the required operation, such as two pieces, one end of each piece made fast to a sliding piece and the two ends joined, so as to form an obtuse angle, which when drawn to a straight line will produce the same operation on the two angles at opposite sides, such as would form the rhambus or rhambaid, all of which will answer the same purpose; rollers may be placed in different ways on the end of the sliding pieces that juts out if such be required. I think the above will sufficiently describe the form of the check, and the line or lever falling on the other two straight lines or pieces will fully illustrate the fluxional co-efficient or moving cause.

N. B. Mr. SAML. W. STRIDER has agreed to be-N. B. Mr. SAML. W. STRIDER has agreed to be-come agent, for the distribution of the above named Rubber, after a Patent will have been obtained. I will Rubber, after a Patent will have been obtained. I will here state, also, that I have yet many inventions in my shop of years standing, which are new and useful—such as Levers and Jacks for raising the spans of bridges, after they have sunken by usage, without the trouble of tresseling in the water. The same can be applied in building wood or iron bridges, so that in a short time they can be raised without much expense or loss of time, besides others which I shall not mention further than that the drafts can be seen at any time.

SHANNONDALE SPRINGS. THIS health-giving and beautiful Watering Place will be under the personal superintendence of the undersigned during the coming Summer, who will use every effort in his power to render it one of the most attractive and agreeable watering places in Virginia. It is situated on an elevation or spur of the residue Place Bidge Ways tails in the second of majestic Blue Ridge Mountain, in the county of Jef-ferson, five miles south of Charlestown the county seat. Passengers leaving Baltimore or Washington by the morning train of cars, will arrive at Harpers-Ferry at half-past 11 A. M., from thence, in the Winchester and Potomac Railroad cars, ten miles to Charlestown, where a twelve-passenger Coach will receive and convey them into Charlestown, and if desired to the Springs to dispute the care was a good road and through a ngs to dinner, over a good road and through a lovely country.

The Analysis made by the late Dr. De Butts from 100 grains of the water from the main fountain, afforded 63 grs. of Sulphate of Lime, 10½ grs. Carbonate of Lime, 23½ grs. of Sulphate of Magnesia (Epsom salts,) 1 gr. of Muriate of Magnesia, 1 gr. Muriate of Soda, 3-10 grs. Sulphate of Iron, and 7-10 grs. Carbonate of Iron.

From the above analysis the waters of Shannondale may very properly be classed among the Saline Chalybeates—a combination of the most valuable description in the whole range of Mineral waters. It may therefore be recitively experient the company of the control tion in the whole range of Mineral waters. It may therefore be positively asserted, without exaggeration or fear of contradiction, that no mineral water within the limits of the United States, possesses the same constituent parts, or is a more salutary and efficient purgative than the waters of Shannondale Springs. This water acts as gently as the mildest aperient, without giving rise to those unpleasant sensations of pain and debility so often occasioned by ordinary cathartics, prenared by the most skillful physicians. debility so often occasioned by ordinary cathartics, prepared by the most skillful physicians.

The free use of this water, acts almost immediately upon the skin and kidneys, removes worms; relieves the convalescent from bilious or other fevers, dyspepsia, dropsical swellings, calculous affections, hemorrhoids, scrofula, indigestion, rheumatism, loss of appetite, exhaustion, general debility, gravelly concretions, strictures, and a variety of other diseases to which man is subject, and it is freely acknowledged by all who-have been afflicted with any of the above diseases that the free use of Shannondale waters have effected permanent cures.

effected permanent cures. Sulphur, Mineral; hot and cold Bathes furnished upon application at the Bar. The Hotel is large and commodious-the cottages unnerous and comfortable.

DENTIST, Is now at Carter's Hotel, Charlestown, Va WE witnessed the extraction of Teeth by Dr. J. F. CALDWELL, and we pronounce him to be the Prince of Tooth Extractors, and the Chief of Surgeon Dentists! He extracted one for each of us. We consider his method original and more safe, and less pain ful than any other that has come within our notice .-He operates without endangering the gum or injuring the jaw, and uses apparently but little force, and con-sequently regarding all the principles of his plan, it is evidently the best that has been, or could be devised to remove teeth; all other methods when compared to his, are murderous in the operation, alarming to the mind, and imperfect in manner. BYRD CARTER, M.D. G. W. NETTLETON, M.D. by Dr. Carter and others, but will add, that Dr. Caldwell has fully and most satisfactorily explained to us the principles on which he bases his operations on the Teeth, and we with pleasure state that his remedial treatment of the teeth in correcting pain, abating derangement, and extracting Teeth, is not only scientific, but comparatively the safest of any of which we have any knowledge. If medical men will consult him, we are induced to believe they will be fully satisfied of the correctness of his views. R. E. ROBINSON, M.D. [See handbills.] G. W. VARNUM, M.D. April 12, 1853-tf NOTICE.

OLD THINGS DONE AWAY AND ALL THINGS BECOME NEW. THE subscribers respectfully call the attention of the farming community to their very large assortment of FARMING IMPLEMENTS, comprising every kind of implement used by the farmer to facilitate and cheapen his operations, including our celebrated Patent Premium Thresher and Cleaner, which received the first premium over the New York Agricultural Fair last fall; also, at the Washington County Fair, Hagerstown, Maryland, and at our Valley Fair, Charlestown—which for simplicity, durability, and capacity has no equal in the world. By a recent improvement we can make the machine clean all kinds of grain perfectly clean for market, taking out, all cheat, smut, and light wheat if wished, saving altogether the use of a Wheat Fan; thus saving the farmer two-thirds his expense over the common thresher, requiring but eight hands and from six to eight horses to thresh from 200 to 400 bushels per day, perfectly clean for the mill. This has never been accomplished by any other machin ist but ourselves, and all sceptic minds can have their doubts removed by trying one CLOCKS.--Iron, inlaid with Pearl Cases, and hogany; a few of the best time-keepers, but ceived by May 10.

Combined with countless graces As often in the ladies' names As in the ladies' faces. Some names are fit for every age, Some fit for only youth,
Some passing sweet and musical,
Some horribly uncouth;
Some fit for dames of loftiest grades, Some only fit for scullery maids.

Ann is too plain and com And Nancy sounds but ill, Yet Anna is endurable, And Anne is better still. There is a grace in Charlotte, In Eleanor a state,

An elegance in Isabella, A haughtiness in Kate; And Sarah is sedate and neat, And Ellen innocent and sweet Matilda has a sickly sound, Fit for nurses' trade, Sophia is effeminate,

And Esther sage and staid, Elizabeth is a matchless name, Fit for a queen to wear, In castle, cottage, but, or hall, A name beyond compare; And Bess or Bessy follow well, But Betsey is detestable. Maria is too forward, And Gertrude is too gruff,

Yet, coupled with a pretty face, Is pretty name enough. Adelaide is fanciful, And Laura too is fine, But Emily is beautiful, And Mary is-divine. Maud only suits a high-born dame, And Fanny is a baby name, Eliza is not very choice, Jane is too blunt and bold,

And Martha somewhat sorrowful, And Lucy proud and cold; Amelia is too light and gay, Fit only for a flirt. Caroline is vain and shy, And Florassmart and pert, Louisa is too soft and sleek, But Alice gentle, chaste and meek; Harriet is confiding, And Clara grave and mild, And Emma is affectionate And Janet arch and wild:

Five Hundred Dollars Reward. TMPRESSED as I am with the controlling influence A which is exercised by the fine arts upon the direc-tion and destiny of human affairs, it has given me infi-nite-pleasure to witness the bountiful manner in which, from time to time, painting and statuary has been en-couraged and rewarded by the councils of the nation. But while the acknowledgment is due to the discerning and worthy patrons of the noble arts, it is an equal source of humiliation and sorrow to behold the apparent apathy and indifference with which they seem to regard the incomparably more valuable creations of

To see them adorn the walls of the Capitol with the glowing revelations of the pencil, and decorate the public grounds with the costly CHEF D'GEVERES OF the chisel, is an omen of good which will be hailed and applauded by all as a cheering pledge of the progress of refinement. But, whilst they lavish their thousands upon these immobile products of canvass and marble, and bronze, they offer no reward for the more exalted, more enduring and renowned ovations of the pen.-No fostering hand from these high places has ever yet invited the Promethean fire of poetry to animate the history of our country, which with all its harmony of form and wonder of proportion, lies asleep around the humble vault of Mount Vernon, ready to spring into life and beauty at the first kindling touch of this genia

It surely were a work of supererogation to introduce the proofs that crowd the records of the past to show how far above all others stands the "divine art" of poesy. What are all the paintings, statues, and regalize of Versailles, of Fontainbleau, & the Tuileries, compared Versailles, of Fontainbleau, & the Tuileries, compared with the "Marscilles Hymn?" What the kingly panoply of gold and gems heaped up in the Tower of London; what the collections of the Royal Academy, or even the time hallowed shrines of Westminster Abbey, when compared with the songs of Burns, and Dibden, and Campbell? Or what has the world that we would take in exchange for "Hail Columbia" and the "Star-Spangled Banner?" Well might the British statesman exclaim. "Let me but write the balleds of a nanan exclaim, "Let me but write the ballads of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws."

As far as the living breathing man is above the cold, insensate marble that is made to represent him; as far as the radiant skies of summer are above the perishable canvass to which the painter has transferred their feeble resemblance, so far is poetry above all other arts that have their mission to console and elevate and inspire the immortal mind of man.
In view of these facts, and considering the lamenta ble paucity of patriotic songs in my distinguished and beloved country, and with the hope of being the hum-ble means of arousing a proper public feeling upon this interesting subject, I have been induced to offer, and do hereby offer, the sum of five hundred dollars as a prize for the best National Poem, Ode or Epic. Let the whole afflicted world read the testimony of lady after 38 years of suffering:

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY, April 3, 1852. Messrs. Tyler & Adair: I have been afflicted with rheumatism at times from my twelfth year. I will be fifty years of age the 18th of this month; the attacks were so severe at times as to render me helpless. I have tried various remedies to very little effect. Last October I was attacked in my shoulders, sides, back and hips; I could not rest day or night; I could not move any part of my body without crying with pain. At this time I also tried many remedies, internal and external, without relief. I was at last advised to try HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. Before I had taken one bottle of which, I felt much better, and as I continued taking it I felt strength coming into my back and limbs, and my stomach strengthened and revived every way. I have taken five bottles, and am much better than I ever expected to be. I intend to use it whenever I need, and would recommend it to the afflicted, believing it unequalled.

Yours, ELIZABETH BAGWELL. Yours, Messrs, Mortimer & Mowbray: Mrs. Elizabeth Bagwell is a lady of the highest respectability, wealthy and influential. The cure in her case speaks volumes in favor of this wonderful Tincture. Several other persons we have heard of, have derived great benefit from its use in our county. We are entirely out of the article, and have daily anxious enquirers to know when we will receive another supply. We expect large sales of it from the present demand, and want you to send us a box as soon as possible.

G-This is the testimony of thousands.
Cure of Consumption, Neuralgia, Pain in the Side,

Messrs. Mortimer and Mowbray-Gentlemen: It is with pleasure I can testify to the great healing powers of HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. My wife had been afflicted for three years, laboring under constant backing cough, with a most violent pain in her right side, neuralgia in the head, and a dimness of sight; very little rest day, or night, and much emaciation, and to all appearances a rapid consumption inevi-table. We had the most eminent physician in Annapois, but his medicine did not give her any relief at all, but growing worse if any change in the least; and af-ter having read one of your pamphlets, in July last, she concluded to try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and after taking but two bottles of which (under a kind Providence) we perceived a great change for the better her appetite improved, her skin became quite clear, coughs, pains, neuralgia, &c., entirely left her, and by the time she had taken a few bottles more she was completely cured, and is now in the enjoyment of most excellent health. I have seen also its beneficial effects on several other ladies of Annapolis, and I think I can say from what I have seen of the Medicine, I do not believe its curative powers can be equalled. A sense of duty to the afflictd has induced me to drop these few lines for their
