The many thousands cured at this Institution, and the very extensive practice of Dr.-Johnstoh (ex. ad-ing all others) is a sufficient guarantee that he i. the only proper Physician to be consulted. Dr. Johnston, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spentin the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadel-phia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most as-tonishing-cures that we're ever known. Many troubled conshing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with a ringing in the cars and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended some-times with derangement of mind, were tured immediately.

A Certain Disease.

When the misguided and impudent votary of plea-sure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from apply-ing to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease hake their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deaf-hess, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face, and extremities, progressing on with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this nwful-disease becomes a horrid object of commisera-tion, till death puts a period to their dreadful suffer-ings by sending them to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. JOHN-STON pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable sceecy, and from his extensive practice in the first hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend the most safe and speedy cure to the un-fortunate victim of this horrid disease. It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillfulness or ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunatesufferer to an untimely grave, or makes the residue of his life miserable.

Take Particular Notice. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfiting them for either business or society. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early hables of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight,

He sees far expand

Like silvery sand.

Now distance disguises

The city and vill;

The rough path or hill.

Nor house o'er the plain,

And rapidly flying; The trees and rocks wane.

A league now is lying, Surpass'd in quick flight

The snow-goose shrill crying

The Coot-too uprises,

His listening ear.

His eye, tho' desiring

No traveller spies, To point him inquiring,

Now fast he advances

On velvet-like show,

The bright Lake when glances?

The loud waves when flow?

And Winter eve early, Casts 'round him its shade j

While distant lights clearly

Appear from the glade.

Now trees are disclosing;

From robes misty-grey ;

I was standing in the broad crowded street

There had been rain; and although the sun was shining brightly, yet the long icicles hung from the eaves of the houses, and the wheels rumbled loudly as they passed over the ground. There was a clear, bright look, and a cold, bracing feeling in the air, and a keen northwest wind, which ouickened every step. Just then a little child came runhing along-a poor, ill-clad child; her clothes were scant and threadbare : she had no cloak and no shawl, and her little bare feet looked red and suffering. She could not have been more than eight years old. She carried a bundle in her hand. Poor little shivering child! I, even I, who could do nothing else pittied her. As she passed me her foot slipped, and she fell with a cry of pain; but she held the bundle tightly in her hand, and jumping up, although she limped sadly, endeavored to run on as before. "Stop, little girl, stop," said a sweet voice ; and a beautiful woman, wrapped in a huge shawl, and with furs around her, came out of a jewellers store close by. "Poor little child," she said, " are you hurt? Sit down on this step and tell me." How I loved her, and how beautiful she looked.

"Oh, I cannot," said the child; I cannot wait-I am in such a hurry. I have been to the shoemaker's and mother must finish this work to-night, or she will never get any more shoes to bind."

"To-night," said the beautiful woman-" tonight!"

"Yes," said the child-for the stranger's kind manner had made her bold-"yes for the great ball to-night; and these satin slippers must be spangled ; and -"

The beautiful woman took the bundle from the child's hand and unrolled it. You do not know why her face flushed and then turned pale but, I, yes I looked in the bundle, and on the inside of a slipper-I saw a name-a lady's name-written; but-I shall not tell it. "And where does your mother live little girl?"

So the child told her where, and then she told her that her father was dead; and that her little brother was sick, and that mother bound shoes that they might have bread; but reside, and enjoy the favor of the Sultan. that sometimes they were very cold, and that The Sultaness died in 1811, the Empress her mother sometimes cried because she had Josephine in 1814, and their grandsons now no money to buy milk for her little brother. rule over two wide and powerful empires, And then I saw that the lady's eyes were full and are entering, as friends and allies, upon of tears; and she rolled up the bundle quickly one of the most momentous and sanguinary and gave it back to the little girl; but she gave struggles in which Europe was ever involved. her nothing else,-no not even a sixpence, and Pittsburg Post. turning away, went back into the store, from THE HOURS MOST FATAL TO LIFE. which she had just came out. TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION: LOUIS NAPOLEON AND THE SULTAN. The past history of the families of Louis Napoleon and the Sultan of Turkey is full of in-teresting and marvellous incidents, some of which are probably not generally known to our readers: These two monarchs, now so cordially united in the struggle to maintain the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, are both grandsons of American ladies. These ladies were born and raised in the same neighborhood, on the Island of Martinique, one of the West Indies. They were of the French origin, and companions and intimate friends in childhood and youth. They were Josephine de Tascher and a Miss S.

The history of Josephine is generally known. She went to France, and was married to M. de Beauharnais, by whom she had one son, Eugene, and a daughter, Hortense. Some time after the death of Beauharnais, Josephene was married to Napoleon Bonaparte, and became Empress of France. Her daughter, Hortense, was married to Joseph Bonaparte, then king of Holland, and the present Emperor of France is her son by that marriage. Miss S. quitted the Island of Martini-the vessel that was carrying her to France was attacked and taken by the Algerine Corsairs, and the crew and passengers made and sixty acres of land; the Mormons with a prisoners. But this Corsair ship was in turn attacked and pillaged by Tunis pirates, and Miss S. was carried by them to Constantinople, and offered for sale as a slave. Her extraordinary beauty and accomplishments found her a purchasser in the Sultan himself; and she soon became the chief lady in his seraglio and Sultaness of Turkey. Mahmoud II.

was her son; and the present Sultan, Abdul Medjid, is the son of Mahmoud. Thus the two sovereigns who now occupy so large a space in the world's eye are grandsons of two American Creole girls who were playmates in their youth, and were as remarkable for their beauty and excellent dispositions, as for their varied and singular fortunes.

Both these women, in the height of their power, remembered all the friends of their youth, and provided munificently for their welfare. Many of the relatives of the Sultan-ess left the Island of Martinique, and settled at Constantinople, where their descendants the Richmond Examiner, have recently been discussed in Congress with great fierceness .-The members of that body of stern anchorites. and strictly virtuous enthusiasts in the cause of practical morality, were a few days ago greatly incensed, and their tender feelings of propriety awfully outraged, by the delegate from that paradise of the saints-Utahopenly avowing and advocating the blessings to be derived from a plurality of wives. The casus belli was this: A territorial proposal to allow three hundred and sixty acres of land to every married man, " provided that the ben-efits of this act shall not extend to any person who shall now, or at any time thereafter, be husband of more than one wife." This novel proviso was so obviously intended as a slap at our Mormon fellow-citizens of Utah. that their delegate at once moved to strike it out.

This estimable gentleman, whose private allowance of wives we have heard variously estimated from twenty to a hundred and twenty, protested against the bill, and declared that the more wives a man possessed the more liberal the government should que, some time before her friend. But be in susporting him, and also insinuated that while gentlemen in the other territories, with one wife, deserved only three hundred well filled harem, an additional appropriation for every wife. The delegate from Utah, from a long formed acquaintance with the members of Congress, evidently believed that polygamy would be regarded by his fellowmembers with much favor. Mr. Lyon, of New York, signalized himself by a terrible rhetorical howl and exhortation against the sins of polygamy, and the lamentable consequences of that Eastern vice. Mr. MILLSON, the anti-Nebraska-Young-America hating-representative, from the Norfolk district, spread terror and dismay through all the harems of Utah, by a short and exemplary burst of indignation, which no doubt made the Blue Beard delegate from the Salt Lake smart like the bite of a mosquito. If Mr. Millson, thinks that polygamy is one of the peculiar vices of Young America, he is in the partition of Turkey, but for the dread greatly mistaken. Polygamy comes to us strongly perfumed with the sanctified odor of Old Fogyism. It should recommend itself to Mr. Millson as something sanctioned by the patriarchs, and approved of by all the old

THE SOVEREIGNS OF EUROPE: Nicholas, Emperor of Russia, is 59 years old, six feet one inch high, erect and soldierlike in form, haughty in demeanor, proud of his person, and, when young, was decidedly handsome. He is intelligent, shrewd, stern, resolute, and by no means wanting in personal courage. He is a good disciplinarian, but not a skillful commander in war, as was proved in his younger days. His information in regard to the condition and policy of all nations is minute and extensive; his plans nations is minute and extensive; his plans vast and his ambition boundless. In the last respect, he truly represents the Russian char-acter and sentiment. The same disposition exists in Russia now, to pour down on the more fair and wealthy and sunny realms of the South and the West of Europe, as in the days when the Roman Empire was overwhelmed.

Frederick William, King of Prussia, is the brother-in-law of the Czar, but a very different kind of a man. He is about 50 years of age, despotie in feeling, but somewhat liberal by compulsion. He would gladly join the Emperor of Russia in his plans if he dare; but his people are otherwise inclined. He is a fat, good looking, tolerably good natured, and somewhat stapid sort of a man. Should the present war continue for some years, he will probably be found on the side of Russia: His present declaration of neutrality is merely designed to gain time to watch the course of events for one campaign, and then to shape his course according to results. Francis Joseph, the Emperor of Austria, is 23 years of age, and has succeeded in raising small mustachois for his handsome face, and a small loan for his exhausted treasury. He has a high, broad forchead, a good form, about five feet ten inches in height, and is an expert and excellent horseman. He exhibits no signs of extraordinary administrative capacity, and will probably add little to the rep-utation of the House of Hapsburg. He fell in love with a lady last fall, "at first sight," and, it is reported, will marry her during the present season. His Government is almost bankrupt in pecuniary resources; his people are discontented; and his Empire is exposed to desperate peril between the contending interests and nations now at war on the continent of Europe: He is greatly indebted to the Emperor of Russia, and would join him

Abdul Medjid, Sultan of Turkey, is but 332 fogy nation of the East-that oldest of lands. years of age, though he has one daughter married, and two more betrothed. He is ramild expression of countenance. He is in favor of reforms in his empire ; is just and merciful in his rule; and delights more in superintending his schools and public improvements than in marshaling his armies and navies for battle; but, forced into war for the existence of his Empire, as he is, he will doubt-less maintain the ancient renown of his gallant and warlike race. Thus far in his difficulties with the Czar, he has shown a moral courage. a firmness and moderation, and an energy preparing for war, that have enlisted on his side the sympathies of nearly all civilized nations. He has no wife. Sultans do not marry. He is evidently a sincere and zealous Mahommedan; though he has stipulated with the Western Powers that he will place the Greek and Christian population of his empire on the same footing, as to civil rights, as the Turks. Louis Napoleon, Emperor of France, is rather below the middle statue; has a dull and drowsy eye, and a countenance that ordinarily expresses but little. He is about 44 years of age, and has had an adventurous life: From an artillery officer in Switzerland, a rowdy in New York, a special police officer in London, and prisoner at Ham, he is now firmly seated on the most dazzling throne of Europe, and wields a power second only to that of the Emperor of Russia. Public opinthrone of France. He has manifested an ability of high order as a ruler and statesman; and, at this moment, exercises a greater influence over the affairs of Europe than any other sovereign, not even excepting the Emperor of Russia. And this influence he has weilded wisely for his own interests, and thus He enters on the conflict with his great ana of the true metal of his uncle " of glorious memory." Queen Victoria of England, rules over the most populous, wealthy, and powerful Empire on the globe. On her dominions the sun never sets; and under her government the people of England and Scotland, at least, enjoy more freedom than under any other monarchy: Queen Victoria is now thirty-four years of age, of a mild and amiable disposition, and is an exemplary wife and mother.— But as a ruler, she exercises little real author-ity: Her Cabinet, Councillors, and Parlaiment are the actual rulers of the British Empire .--The naval power of England is nearly as great as that of all other nations combined; and her commerce and manufactures greater than Oscar, King of Sweden, is now in the prime of life, and, personally, is strongly inclined to side with the Czar in the present war. But bis people, almost unanimously, are hostile towards Russia. An armed neutrality is his declared position, and to this position and its rights the Czar accedes. The King of Denmark is under personal obligations to the Emperor of Russia, but is compelled, by his position and the voied of his people, to adopt the policy of neutrality. The King of Belgium is controlled in his policy by dread of his powerful neighbor of France: has been founded for the encouragement of Christina, Queen of Spain, is fully occupied idleness. The many thousands of the most despetate and hopeless cases cured at this institution within the last twelve years, and the numerous important Surgi-cal Operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by file reporters of the papers and many other persons notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted. "It who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician." There are so many ignorant and worthless Quacks c opying Dr. Johnston's advertisement, and advertising the health of the already Afflicted, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say especially to those unacquainted with his reputation that his cre-dentials or diplomas always hang in his Office. Polygamy may now be regarded as the peculiar institution of Utah. That it is a most brutal, horrible and abominable vice and sin. utterly at variance with the habits and morals of our people, and degrading in its effects upon both sexes, no one denies. But, as the oak protects, under its umbrageous limbs and boughs, from the fays of a summer noonday's sun, the noblest not more than the most vicious and ignoble animals, so does the Constitution, in its broad catholic views, protect the Pagan Chinese of California not less than the purest disciples of the Church of Christ, and so does it protect the polished citizens of Virginia in his conjugal relations not more than the coarse brutal Mormon with his harem of debased females. The Constitution of the ægis of RELIGIOUS TOLERATION. The prohibition imposed by the rules of the Roman Church upon the Catholic priest, forbiding him to marry, the vows of nuns, and the rules of the Shaking Quakers, are things unwise and unnatural, but they are not subjects for Congressional interference. The agrarianisms, immoral and indecent in their character, of which the Tribune is the unclean or- ion has undergone a great change in regard gan, are as injurious to private integrity and to his mental capacity since he ascended the the morals of our people as polygamy. Laws relating to marriage, divorce, &c., belong to the States, and whilst Congress, as a guardian may provide laws and regulations for the Territories, the power does not extend to an interference with the religious regulations and morals of the citizens. We have Chinese in California worshipping idols, and polygamists far, for the honor and interests of France.in Utah with sixty wives, but they claim the protection of the same Constitution, under the | tagonist of Russia with a dauntless spirit, and battlements and barriers of which we repose an energy of preparation, that shows much in the secure enjoyment of our own peculiar rights.

The idea of direct interference with polygamy in Utah is glaringly unconstitutional. CHARLESTOWN: TUESDAY MORNING, MAY SO, 1854.

SMALL NOTES.

On the first day of June next the new law against the circulation of small notes will be in force. We are glad to see that there seems to be a general disposition throughout the State to give it a fair trial, and respect its provisions. We have no doubt that it can be successfully carried into effect, and that the channels of circulation can be freed from the miserable shinplasters, with which they have, for some time past been disgraced. There is plenty of gold and silver coin in the country, and if we but get tid of small notes, specie will take their place, and quarters, halves, and gold dollars no longer be cu-Hosities

As evidence of the disposition of our own business men on the subject, we have been requested to pub-Hsh the following:

The undersigned, among those who are engaged in business in Charlestown, hereby pledge themselves to each other, and the community at large, that on and after the 1st of June, they will pay out no note of less denomination than five dollars, except at such points as they can be converted into specie, or remable in funds authorized to be circulated by

law.	at a start and a start of the start of the

A VALUABLE INVENTION.

Mr. GEORGE P. DOOLEY, an ingenious mechanic of this town, has exhibited to us a medel for a Snow Plough on Railroad tracks, which is one of the most complete inventions of the kind ever yet invented .-It has been examined by several gentlemen of acuteness in such matters, all of whom agree that it will effect the purpose desired, and prove of incalculable benefit to the public. The model may be seen at our office for a few days. Dooley will apply at once to the Patent Office for a Caveat, and in the course of a few months will make application for a Patent.

LOUDOUN COUNTY AGRICULTURAL INSTITUTE. We would call the attention of gentlemen, havin ons to educate, to the advertisement of the Loudo county Agricultural Institute and Chemical Acade my. Any man who wishes his son to receive tho rough practical instruction which will qualify him for a man of business, would do well to enter him at once as a student. In this establishment he can learn all the branches of Mathematics and Science tanght in our best colleges: and every branch is taught thoroughly and practically. The students are not required to commit to memory stereotyped answers to set questions, as is too frequently the case, without understanding the import of the terms em ployed. But they are questioned and re-questioned examined and cross-examined, and the explanations and illustrations are repeated and varied and presented in so many ways that the students are bound to understand. A gentleman, who lately visited the establishment, expressed his astonishment at the mount of truly valuable knowledge which the students had acquired in a few months. They seemed to be familiar with the nature and composition of every thing around them-the constituents and the properties of the soil-the elements of plants and the names and functions of their various parts-the composition of plaster, limestone, marble, metallic compounds and other minerals useful in agriculture and arts, the various acids, bases and other ingredients of manures-in fact it was only necessary to give the name of any compound and they would immediately tell its composition and the relative proportion of its parts. Mathematics and Chemistry seemed to go hand in hand, and calculations were made with astonishing facility, and although the Institution has been in operation but three months, the students have more practical knowledge than many who have gone home with diplomas. Professor Benton, expressed his willingness for any gentleman, from any county, to visit the establishment and call them up for examination without a moment's notice. This is the right kind of instruction. Young men should be taught not only to read and talk, but to understand and apply. Professor Benton, who has been long known in Virginia as a practical chemist and profound Mathematician, is also an excellent practical mechanic. He is equally dexterous in the use of the plane, the saw and the turning lathe as in the delicate manipulations of the laboratory. Being a practical man himself, he is able to impart practical instruction. Hence his success as a teacher. Every proposition in Mathematics-every experiment in Chemistryevery fact in Physical Science, he not only illustrates and explains but shows its use in the every day pur-. suits of hife. When this is generally known and understood the establishment will be patronized by all parts of the State. In addition to handsome apparatus constructed under the Professor's own supervision, he has collected from the best makers in America and Europe. He is determined to have everything necessary for complete illustrations, and to spare neither pains nor expense in making the establishment both profitable to the country and agreeable to the students. The buildings are new and commodious. The grounds are being laid out with much taste in walks.

terraces, flower beds, &c. The entire establishment including the apparatus furniture, land, buildings and other improvements will cost, when completed, upwards of fifty thousand dollars. We really hope the enterprize will succeed, and for "the honor of the Old Dominion " it ought to succeed. Agricultural societies should take hold. Let the officers and members of every agricultural society in the State exert themselves to send in a list of

COUNTY ELECTIONS An election was held on Thursday last, in ounty of the Commonwealth, for a Sher ner of the Revenue and Constable for the sev eral Districts, as also in some instances to fill vacan cies for the Magistracy: The Sheriffalty election i this county, excited unusual interest, and has re sulted in the re-election of JOHN W: MOORE, Esq the former incumbent, by a majority of 135 over the contending candidate, Mr. TRIBERLAKE. rejection of the amendment would lead if the Senate would not concur, determitied to let it alone and vote for the Bill, as one, in the best shape in which it could be obtained. The Senate you will observe is debating the Bill, as it came from the House, and efforts are making to get back the "Clayton amendment" which was stricken out in the House. Bu the movement will fail, not that the Senate is opposed to it, but they fear to throw the Bill back upon the turbulent waves of agitation in the House, and especially as it is agreed the practical importance of the amendment is not much one way or the other. The Bill in my judgment will be favorably and quietly received by the country. The abolitionists and slevery agitators have made all of the noise over it, that they can pump up: In fact the North has no cause of complaint, for if any of the country gains any advantage by the Bill, it is the non-slavcholding portion of it, and the most ignorant of their blind and fanatical followers, must soon discover the fact, that their Sumners, Chases, Giddinges, &c., have been cheating and deceiving them from first to last about the whole matter. ring London Times of the 5th hast says.—Ind month just opened is bringing a remarkable proof of the slender influence which war as yst exerts on the daily habits of the population. We have ob-served our national Fast-day, and received our ex-traordinary budgets, and there end the outward signs which may change the face and destinics of Errors. The root is left to our seemen and Europe. The rest is left to our seamen and our soldiers, who are despatched with cheers and acclamations to scenes of conflict where England's glory may be exalted or imperiled, but where ficthing is anticipated to interfere with Engand's tranquility. We are not transporting our billion from the Bank to Stirling Castle, or removing the jewels from the Tower, or preparing for the migration of the Contt, or exhibiting any other symptons of forecasting terror: If we launch a ship larger than usual, the frent only makes a holyday estimationary, and, it we plant new batteries on off coasts, it is scarcely with any belief that on our coasts, it is scarcery with any benef that their thuders will be ever provoked. English life goes on its every-day course. Beyond a little more eager inquiry for news every morning, there is no new or notable feature to be observed in so-ciety; and though a largely increased taxation is more more hough a largely increased taxation is supervening upon bad crops and dear markets, there is no visible evidence of suffering or presanre.

We all see therefore what can be done, and what nust and will be done, if the war should go on. Just see what the French are talking about, and what we must do if they do. We must "occupy"-yes; that is the word-with intrenched armies and forti-fied camps, Revel, Helsingfors, the Crimea, and the mouths of the Danube. If we do the thing at all we must do it well, and take our part in it, lest the French run away with all the glory: The sudden death of Mr. Adams, a partner in sentatives on the last day of its consideration of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, will very conclusively repel the idea, that the bill as passed, countenances the doctrine of squatter sovereignty.

Mr. MACE of Indiana moved the following amendment to the bill:

"And the Legislature of said Territory is hereby clothed with full power, at any session thereof, to es-tablish or prohibit slavery in said Territory." And in support of the amendment said-

"I know, and every man knows who has read the bill carefully, that it does not, and was not intended to confer the power upon the Territorial Legislature to pass laws rejecting slavery or admitting it. But if in this I am mistaken, and the friends of the bill are, in fact, in favor of popular sovereignty, and more particularly the friends of General Cass, the father of he doctrine of popular sovereignty in the Territories, the committee will readily adopt my amendment, and relieve the bill of all doubt as to the power of the Territorial Legislature over the question of slavery. But, sir, full well do I know that the amendment will be rejected, not by the vote of the members acting with me against the bill, but by the friends of the bill, the pretended friends o popular sovereignty. I desire to place on the re-cord the fact that the friends of the bill did most directly and distinctly repudiate the doctrine of squatter," or popular sovereignty, while those who act with me support it to the fullest extent, so far as this bill is concerned.

It has been said that the following clause of the fourteenth section of the bill confers the power upon the Legislature to legislate on the subject of slavery, to wit

" It being the true intent and meaning of this act not to legislate slavery into any Territory or State, nor to exclude it therefrom, but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their do-mestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States."

Now, what is the true construction placed upon this southern clause of the bill by its friends, and perhaps others? It is, that the people of the Territo-ry, when they form a State constitution, and not before, are "left perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions (which means slavery) in their own way, SUBJECT ONLY TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES." The vote on my amendment will monstrate that I have placed the construction upon this clause intended by those who concocted the bill. "Squatter sovereignty" has no vitality in the bill; all she has is a short, high sounding, well adjusted little stump speech, put up to enable venal presses and cross-road stump orators to deceive the people. The bill in fact, is nothing more nor less than an ordinary bill establishing Territories, such as has in the main been adopted since the organization of Territories, except the repeal of the Missouri compromise act, and the provision granting foreigners the right to vote as soon as they make the declaration to become citizens.

Amendment of Mr. Mace rejected, aves 76, noes 94. Subsequently Mr. Fuller of Maine proposed an amendment to the first section of the bill, to come in after the word "Nebraska," in the eighteenth line : And the Territorial Legislature shall have the power to establish or exclude slavery as to them shall

"This bill has been advocated at the North solely upon the ground that it gives to the people of the Territory the right to legislate for themselves upon the subject of slavery while in a territorial state. I declare myself here to be the friend and advocate of that doctrine, and it is because this bill does not establish this great American principle, and vindicate this doctrince, that I am opposed to it in its present

THE THIRTY-SECOND STATE.

A bill has been introduced into Congress, providing for the admission of Oregon into the Union, as a State; and the legislature of Oregon are taking the preliminary steps for calling a convention to form a Constitution. In the year 1856, Oregon will probably be the thirty-second State of the Union. Its population already exceeds forty thousand and the emigration to it is likely to be very large this year. Accounts from the territory represent the people as made: prospering ; valuable gold mines and other minerals are discovered. As a farming region it is unsurpassed by any of the old States, even rivaling in wealth her southern neighbor, California. In 1850 the population of Oregon was only 13,294. It is now over 40,000. In two years more it will contain a sufficient number of inhabitants, doubtless; to entitle it to admission as a State.

The trial of GEO. McCatLey for the murder of GEO. LILLY, in Rockingham, last fall, was terminated in the Circuit Court for that county on the 12th inst, and given to the jury, who, on the following day, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The Register, says "the prisoner heard his doom announced in the verdict rendered without relaxing a muscle of his face. The same apparent indifference which had marked his deportment during the whole of the trial, seemed to possess him at its conclusion. Application was made to the Court for a new trial, which was refused. The counsel for the accused, we understand, intend to make application to the Court of Appeals for a new. trial."

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

Mr. Jefferson, in a letter to Dr. Benjamin Rush, dated in this city, on the 4th of October, 1803, made the following allusion to the war in the Old World of that day:

"Tremendous times in Europe! How mighty this battle of lions and tigers ! With what sensations should the common herd of cattle look on? With no partialities, certainly. If they can so far worry one another as to destroy their power of tyrannizing the other over the waters, the world may perhaps enjoy peace till they recruit again."

A SIGNIFICANT FACT.

Of the seventy-four whigs in the House of Representatives, only thirteen voted for the Nebraska bill-not one of whom was from the free States.

Of the one hundred and sixty democrats, one hundred voted for the bill-of whom forty-five were from the free States, and fifty-five from the slave States.

The question arising on this state of facts is, which, as a party organization, is truest to the Constitution and to the country, the whig or the democratic party? That question is easily answered. No one can deny that the palm belongs to the democracy. We would not, however, by any reason disparage those gallant whigs from the south, who despite the unbroken front presented against them by northern whiggery, and, despite the division in their own ranks at the south, came out gallantly, nobly, and manfully, in support of the Nebraska bill. received by a gentleman of this town, from our es- deserve much credit, and we cheerfully accord it to

[FOR THE SPIRIT OF JEFFERSON.] 39880 cents is composed of the square of the motiey which he spent multiplied by five times the square root of the money; and consequently dividing by five gives 7776 equal the square of the money multiplied by its root; now the money spent is a square and a square multiplied by a square is a fourth power and a fourth power multiplied by the root is a fifth power; therefore 7776 is the fifth power of the root of the money spent the fifth root of which is 6 and 6 squared equal 6-the money spent.

This ebullition of temper, so thingual in so grave a statesman as Gov. Bell, might be intexplicable, if the orator's efforts were not Ciceno, "pro domo sua." Gov. Bell is pretty generally agreed upon among the members of his party to be the next whig candidate for the presidency, with the Hon. Jos. R. Chandler for vice president, and it was necessary for him to define his position before the public: As an independent chronicler of events past and foreshadowed, I hasten

Many a heart will be made glad sleepers of the wearied city from the orthodox pro when the bill shall become a law. There is but a priety of recumbent positions. The bill is now in the hands of the President, and small chance for the water-works, and less for the western custom houses, in the Senate amendments of the bill. The water-works necessary to the city will no doubt be put in the civil and diplomatic bill, where they belong; and in the meantime the people of Washington will have an opportunity of showing we presume ere the lapse of many hours cer-tainly not days it will receive his signature, and thus become the law of the land. ment, as, in the present temper of the House, no such monster scheme could possibly prevail. It is, however, under all circumstances, a defeated measure, as the President will never sign such a bill. The omnibus and bill will certainly break down, as will some of he private coaches which it is infended to hitch to it. Indeed, I doubt very much whether anything will pass safe except the regular appropriation bills.

The Senate passed the Nebraska bill in the form The Senate passed the Neoraska off in the form in which it came from the House, between one and two o'clock last night, by a vote of 34 to 13. The announcement of the vote was accompanied with some applause from the crowded galleries. Soon

The western section of this county was visited on Wednesday of last week, by the most terrific storn ever known in this section of the State. It commence ed a few miles south of Shickersville, and extended in a northern direction towards Harpers-Ferry. It was confined to a compass of about 60 or 70' yards in width, in which the wind seemed to have concent trated all its power and fury, literaily sweeping had fields and the forests of everything which opposed it. Barns, stables and corn cribs were blown down; and several dwellings seriously injured. Mr. Ezekiel Potts, an estimable citizen near Hillsborough, we' learn, had every building on his premises torn down; except his dwelling which was seriously damage if various others sustained scrious losses though not to so great an extent. We have heat'd of no deating from its violence. The scope of country over which it passed presents a wrecked and shattered appearance. The orchards within its reach, were swept of their fruit trees, and the forest looks as if some huge monster had hewn a pathway through their milat; leaving the ground strewed with the largest and heaviest timbers. Some of the roads in that section are blocked up by the large trees which have been blown across them, and will require considerable labor to have them cleared: We hope no part of our country will be again visited with the vengeance of so terrible a storm - Leesburg Washingtonian.

A MOST FOUL AND HORRIBLE MURDER .-- Mrs. Mc-Braver, wife of Jas, McBraver, Esq., of Anderson' county, Ky., was murdered a few nights ago, according to the Frankfort Yeoman, under the following circumstances:

"After Mr. and Mrs. McBraver bad retired to rest; man entered their room with an axe, and approaching the bet, passed his hand over her face, in order to be sure of the right one, which awoke here Being satisfied that it was her, he commenced cut-ting with his axe; first striking her breast and arms in many places; he then, with several strokes, sev-ered one of her legs entirely off. Mr. McBraver, being awakened by the noise, reached ont his hand to rotect his wife and received a blow, cutting his hand in two. The incarnate fiend, thinking ! killed her, commenced striking about at random over the bed, with the hellish intent to kill their youngest child; who was in bed with them, but not finding it, he went to the lounge in the room where slept their other child, and aimed a blow at its head. but only cut the back of its neck. He then went-out leaving the bloody axe at the door. Mrs. McBrave had life enough left to tell who, as well as sh she could see in the darkness, had committed the horrible deed. From her statement her step-son has been arrested and put in jail to await his trial."

THE PRESERVERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY, OLD SCHOOL.-It appears from the minutes of this body that there are now in connection with the Old School branch of the Presbyterian Church 28 Synods, 143 Presbyteries, 2,879 churches, 2129 min-isters, 506 licentiates and candidates, and 219,263 communications: These 143 Presbyteries cover the entire territory of the United States, except a portion of New England. A HAPPY PEOPLE.

The citizens of Bath, a small town in Bath county, Va., succeeded in obtaining from the last Legislature, an amendment of their corporation charter, giving them the right to elect trustees and other corporation officers. The passage of the bill gives rise to great rejolcing on the part of those concerned. A public meeting was called to give expression to their feelings, and a number of congratulatory resolutions were passed. We give a specimen, by copying two of the resolutions :

Resolved, That we regard the victory achieved in the passage of this Bill, equally signal and glorious with that achieved by the illustrious sires of "76---differing only in magnitude, but involving the same endearing principle, Liberty, and therefore, to us, a second Declaration of Independence.

Resolved. That we bail with delight and joy the Resolved. That we bail with delight and joy the beaming star of hope that now stands in the blue expanse above us, reflecting her light upon our hith-erio down trodden town, dissipating the murky darkness that has so long enveloped us, and point-ing directly to the erection in our midst of a first class Hotel with all its glorious concomitants, which in their development shall cause a thrill of joy to penetrate to the most adamantine heart, and give a new impetus to every species of enterprise among us 11

A more piquant and exciting discussion never oc-curred in the Senate than that which prevailed in it yesterday and last night. Some of the minority did yesterday and last night. Some of the minority did not speak in their best temper, and it cannot be said that all of the majority minced their words. Mr. Wade, in a very energetic and frank harangue, gave notice of the separation of the Northern whigs from national party complications, and both he and Mr. Seward drew a lively picture of the eelipse under which the Union is to pass, with the passage of the bill this day.

Mr. Benjamin, about dark, finished his splendid appeal to his Northern compatriots in favor of the bill, by a remark that the eclipse would not be total, nor long continued, and that we would soon again ejoice in the sunbeams-fit which moment the gas et down suddenly a stream of light, and some applanse arose in the galleries. This is said to have been offensive to the minority; but it cannot be im-puted to citizens of Washinhtion as a discourtesy o the minority, for, of the whole crowd, there were few citizens. I learn, too that, when applause was manifested from the galleries upon the passage of the bill, some of its northern opponents towed vengeance against Washington, as the sect of government. But the re-mark as to the other case holds good as to this, and the Senators who, on both occasions, were most forward to censure and check the disorder, were the Southern Senators, friends of the bill. Moreover, the whole country will rejoice at the conclusion of this pro-tracted struggle, and the public inquire, very anx-ionsly, whether Congress has really alandoned their ordinary and legitimate functions of legislation. Dechert & Co. Its cir-culation is three times as large as the average circula-tion of County papers in Pennsylvania, and care has been exercised to have it extensively circulated among the agricultural community, they being gen-crally the most substantial patrons. It is generally believed that an advertisement of Real Estate in this paper, wild be read by more Farmers, and therefore by more persons disposed to purchase that kind of of property than if inserted in any other journal in this part of the country. The Valley Spirit's circula-tion lies mainly in the rich and populous counties of FRANKLIN and CUMBERLAND, but yet it is not confined to those counties. Charlestown, April 25, 1854-tf [rr] TO FARMERS, DALRYMAN, AND OTHERS. The subscribers, having obtained Letters Patent for their Improved Hydro-Themäl Churn, are prepar-ed to dispose of rights for States, counties, and towns, and individual privileges, on most reasonable terms. It would be superflueus to present, in the form of extravagant newspaper pulls, the many advantages our Churn has over all others. We will simply state that with our improvements butter can be produced from pure cream in from 1 to 4 minutes, and from fresh unskinamed hilds in from 8 to 10 minutes, the milk being fit for table use thereafter. By the peculiar form of construction of the dasher, the butten is readily accumulated and gathered in mass, requiring no additional labor other than the mere usual seasoning or salting. Our Church Apparatus is also admirably adapted for the producing of cream ices, the frothing of eggs, &c., and in this respect is most valuable to Confec-tioners and Families. The Churn is simple, cheap and durable in con-spears of age. In a word the invention needs only to be tried to prove its great and general utility. Traulars will be furnished in a few days showing drawings and giving description of the churn. Parsons desiring further information, Churne, or drawings and giving description of the churn. Persons desiring further information, Churns, or rights, will address postage paid.

DROSPECTUS OF THE "SPIRIT OF DEMOCRACY."

In consequence of the intended removal of the put lication of the "Valley Democrat" to Harrisonburg and being strongly solicited by numerous citizens, of the counties of Shenandoah, Page and Rockingham the counties of Shenandoah, Page and Rockingham, we, the undersigned, propose publishing a weckly newspaper in the town of New Market, to be called the "SPIRIT OF DEMOCRACY." The paper as indicated by the title, and as the loca-tion demands will be thoroughly democratic in all its leading features. It shall be the organ or advocate of no party or clique in the promotion of their private or selfsil schemes; but the most rigid scorntiny will be exercised in regard to public men and public meas ures-commending or condemning, as their merits may justly deserve. Great attention will be given to the markets, Ag-riculture, Mechanical Arts, Editcation, News, local and foreign; and such other matters as may be calcuand foreign; and such other matters as may be calcu-lated to interest and instruct all classes. The material of the office will be entirely new, by which advantage the proprietors will be enabled to furnish a paper, excelled in mechanical execution and beauty by none in the Valley. The publication of the paper will be commenced so soon as the necessary arrangements shall have been completed on the following terms, viz: $2.00, if paid in advance; or $2.50, if not paid within six months from the date of subscription. Music, §12 for 26 lessons. School Rooms at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Griggs in Charlestown. IMPORTANT TO AGRICULTURISTS. DESIRE to call the attention of the farmers of Vir-ginia, Maryland, &c., to my Patent Attachment for grinding and distributing Guano; and togive no-tice that I claim to be the true and original inventor of these machines now on sale at the Agricultural Warehouse of Addison & Meade, Alexandria; Va., and which will be for sale at the Warehouse of Baker & Brown, Winchester, Va. They are also in pasca-sion of many farmers in Clarke, Jefferson, Culpeper, and other counties. Although a patent has been granted by mistake to Messrs. Henson & Rhor of Charlestown, Va., for a part of my machine, I have taken measures at the Patent Office to establish my original exclusive title to the invention claimed by them and shall enforce my rights by the due course of law. Persons desirous of obtaining these machines or wishing to purchase rights for Counties, States or Territories, will please apply to me at Summit Point, Jefferson, Co., Va., or to Addison & Meade, Alexan-dria, Va., or to Baker & Brown, Winchester, Va. Farmers can have the attachment affixed to any drill y application as above.

May 16, 1854.—3t CF Free Press, Winchester Virginian, Winchester Republican, and Loudoun Democrat will copy three times and send bill to this office.

STRAYED. FPDM the subscriber's residence, in Charlestown, about three weeks since, a pale red and white GOW, lame in the right hind foot, from a wart between her hoofs. Any information will be thankfully received or a reasonable reward pud if delivered to me. May 16, 1854-34 UNO. R. A. REDMAN.

THE PEOPLE'S PATENT OFFICE. THIS well-known establishment is still carried on under the personal superintendence of the undersigned, through whom Patents may be secured both in this and all forgin countries, with the ut-most fidelity and dispatch, on very moderate terms. Persons wishing for advice relative to Patents or Inventions, may at all times consult the undersigned without charge, either personally at his office, or by letter. To those living at a distance, he would state, that all the needful steps necessary to secure a Patent can be arranged by letter. When parties wish to be informed as to the probability of heing enabled to ubtain Patents, it will be necessary for them to forward by mail a rough outline sketch and description of the invention. No fee or charge is made for such ex-amnations. Private consultations held daily with Inventors from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Models from a distance may be sent by express o biodels from a distance may be sent by express or otherwise. For further information apply to or ad-dress, post paid, ALFRED E. BEACH, Editor and Proprietor of the People's Journal, Solicitor of American and Foreign Patents, People's Patent Office, 86 Nassau-st., New York. May 16, 1354.

Hay 16, 1354. HOE & CO.'S PATENT  GROUND SAWS. The subscribers manufacture from the best CAST STEEL, CIRCULAR SAWS, from two inches to eighty inches in diameter. Their Saws are harden-ed and tempered, and are ground and finished by machinery designed expressly for the purpose; and are therefore much superior to those ground in the usual manner, as they are strengthened and stiffen-ed by increasing them in thickness regularly, from the cutting edge to the centre, consequently do not become heated or buckled, and produce a great sav-ing in timber.

KNOW NOTHINGS.

It is said that this organization is now very strong and growing stronger as often as they meet, but as many persons "out of the order" seem to know nothing about them, and as it is the duty of the press to give information on every subject, we take great pleasure in laying before our readers the following constitution. said to have been received from the Grand Sachem in Boston. The Philadelphia Argus is responsible for its circulation, and all we can say now is, that if any body after reading it, knows anything about it, we can only add that we "know nothing." In introducing it to the readers of the Argus that paper says:-"With a view to be instrumental in indoctrinating our friends in the arts and mysteries of Know Nothingism, we present them this morning with the constitution of the association; which we have obtained from a most reliable source in Boston which is understood to be the headquarters of the Grand Sachem of the tribe. We trust that our readers will duly appreciate the trouble we have taken to obtain for them so important a document, and that they will study its precepts and be governed by its directions. As some of our readers may not be entirely familiar with the language in which the constitution is printed, we translate for them the first article, which, when rendered into English, reads, mind your own business. But here is the constitution ; read it for yourselves, those who can :--

THE TRIAL OF C. B. CHRISTIAN AND | Co. · ITS INCIDENTS.

From the Lexington Gazette, May 18th. The incidents attending this trial, could not fail, to arrest public attention. That the jury failed to agree, seemed to excite no surprise; the actual re-sult appeared to have been generally anticipated sult appeared to have been generally anticipated from the moment the jury were impannelled. It was, in fact, currently rumorea, from the time the first witness was examined, and before the facts mainly relied upon by the Counsel for the accused in his defence, had been proved; that a certain named member of the jury, would hang it, unless the rest would agree to a verdict of acquittal. We shall make no attempt to account for this extraor. shall make no attempt to account for this extraor-dinary, but notorious fact; but proceed to notice others, deserving the calm consideration of every man, who feels any interest in the safety and good order of society. The circumstance which struck us as most remarkable in the trial, was, that the prisoner should, in effect, have been allowed not only to have given testimony in his own behalf, without even the sanction of an oath; but to give it under circumstances, which imposed upon the jury, the necessity of re-ceiving his statements, (made after the act was done, and when he was fully apprised of his dan-ger,) as true, unless contradicted by other evidence, or shown by circumstances to be unworthy of cred-it. We refer to the fact of the friends of the prisoner being introduced, on the part of the Common-wealth, to prove his declarations, made at the time, and under the circumstances just referred to. That such was the necessary consequence of these wit-nesses being introduced by the Commonwealth, was, as we have understood, intimated by the Court, in one of its instructions. Whether there is an inevitable necessity, of inroducing such testimony on behalf of the Commonwealth, in criminal cases, we shall not undertake to determine. We know of no Legislative enactment, or rule of Law, however, which requires anything of the kind. And we venture to affirm, that the consequence of pursuing such a course, must be, nine times, in ten, to acquit the accused, however guilty he may be. For it can scarcely be questioned, but that any sane man will be able with sufficient time to reflect, to make up a tale, which, if the jury are bound to take it as true, must ensure his acquittal, on the ground of self-defence. Whether the other testimony in the case, would have justified a conviction or not, we shall not presume to say; but we thought then, and still think, it was all the Commonwealth ought to have intro-duced. Had the testimony referred to, as improp-erly introduced (in our opinion) on the part of the Commonwealth, been introduced for the defence; the prisoner's declarations would have had no more weight, (if they could have been introduced'at all) than they ought to have had, under the circumstances of the case. It is not our purpose in these remarks, to cast censure on the Counsel, who conducted the prosecution, We doubt not they took the course which they thought to be right and proper. Our only purpose, is to point ou', what we re-gard, as the almost inevitable effect of the introduction of such testimony on behalf of the Commonwealth. Another circumstance in this case, which seems worthy of public attention, was the fact, that no less then six Lawyers appeared as the Counsel of thes accused. One of the consequences of this, which every one perceives, was, that the whole unusually long term of the Court was consumed in the trial, not only to the great detriment of all the suitors in the Court, but creating the necessity, of another person accused of the same crime, remaining incarcerated without a trial, until the September term of the Court. But these are by no means the only, or the principal evils of allowing persons the only, of the principal evits of allowing persons accused of crimes, to engage as many Counsel, as they have the pecuniary ability to employ. It re-quires no extraordinary sagacity to enable one to perceive, that it multiplies the chances of a weal-thy man being able to postpone a trial, until the witnesses against him may disappear, and thereby ensure his ultimate acquittal. The chances of a trial being ablested by the inshift of some one of trial being defeated, by the inability of some one of the jury, or of the Counsel, or of the Court, to endure such long confinement, would appear to be more than equal. Apprehensions were entertained during this trial, that a trial would be defeated, twice, on account of the sickness of a juror, and once on account of the excepted death of a juror's wife. And one of the Defendant's Counsel was 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 prevented by illness from speaking at the time he was expected to speak, and another did not speak at all, and perhaps the jury would not have had the case submitted to them at all, if he had notbeen able to procure a substitute. Unless some Legislative provision is made, to prevent the employment of so many Counsel, it will be idle to talk of there being any equality between a poor and wealthy man, as to their responsibility for offences against society; and our country must bear the reproach, of the possession of wealth, being an ample security, against punishment for public offences. Not the least curious circumstance in this trial, was the introduction on behalf of the accused, of evidence in relation to an affray, which occurred some two years ago, between some of the Cadets and a Cow-drover. And this evidence introduced in violation of every principal of Law, and propriety; and but partially gone into; turnished the only foundation, of a most unjust imputation against the deceased, (Mr. B.) of being of an overbearing, fierce, and violent temper; an imputation known to all who were acquainted with him, to be wholly unjust. And the facts of that very case would have shown it to be so, had they been fully gone into. But there was no part of the testimony introduced on the part of the Defendant, which appears to us, liable to greater exception, than that introduced to prove a remark, alleged to have been made by Miss A. to Mr. Christian, and overheard by the witness, who was not engaged in the conversation. The substance of the remark was, that she reminded Mr. C. of his engagement to accompany her to Church. The first question which occurs to the mind, is, whether the witness could consistently with the rules of etiquette and propriety, which prevail in respectable society repeat a remark overheard un-November. der such circumstances, without the consent of the October. party alleged to have made it, and without any op-November portunity given to explain or deny. But a more material inquiry is, was such a remark ever made? And we are justified in saying, on the best authority, that it was not, and that nothing of the kind ever occurred. Nor was there the least foundation for the pretence of Mr. C.'s having been upon terms of intimate friendship or acquaintance with her; still less, was there a shadow of foundation in truth, for pretending that she even sought to encourage or desired his attentions. The facts of the case, as to their acquaintance and her having consented that he might accompany her to Church, are simply these : She never spoke to him but on two occasions in her life. He procured an introduction to her, at a party at Mr. White's, and in the course of the evening, asked her permission to accompany her to Church a few days afterwards; to which she assented. On her return home that night, she told her Aunt, that she regretted she had done so. She said she had given her consent because he had been introduced to her by a gentleman-and she could not give as an excuse for refusing to let him accompany her, any previous engagement-and that she had seen nothing exceptionable in his deportment up to that time ; but from what afterwards occurred, she had determined not to go with him to Church, if she could avoid it. The next, and only other time, he ever spoke to her, was at the Episcopal fair, where his attentions were annoying to her, and her previous purpose of declining to let him accompany her to Church, were confirmed .-She had moreover, ascertained, on what she regarded as satisfactory evidence, that he was an object of ridicule to some of his acquaintances, and that for some reason, his society was beginning to be shunned by most of the ladies of the Town. We have reason to believe, that she had intimations from at least two other persons, similar to that given by Mr. B. as to C.'s standing in Lexington, before that given by Mr. B., and we know that the note written to Mr. C., declining to accompany him to Church was written with the knowledge of. her Uncle, and the propriety of her doing so was acquiesced in by him. Had Mr. B. known all the facts of the case, he probably would not have taken the course which he did; under the influence of those high, noble and chivalrous feelings, by which Lis conduct was ac-tuated, and his family and friends would have been spared the infliction of that terrible calamity, which has overwhelmed them with grief. If the Uncle of Miss A. had known of the letter of Mr. C. to her, before it was seen by Mr. B. he would have handed it back to Mr. C. accompanied, probably, with a decided expression of his disapprobation of its having been written. In reference to the assaults made on Col Smith for his agency in employing counsel to aid in the prosecution, we shall merely remark, that we confidently believe, that his course must meet the de-wealth fully re would be better at once, to declare that any man who takes the life of another, shall pay a certain pecuniary penalty, and be exempted from being subjected to undergoing the formality of a criminal property.

We understand, that complaints were made during the trial, of extianeous influences being brough to bear against the accused. How little founda to bear against the accused. How little founda-tion there was for any charge of an unreasonable desire on the part of the citizens of the town or coun-ty, to have the accused convicted; may be judged of, from the very remarkable circumstance; that one of the most important facts in the case, and which wentstrongly to overthrow the whole ground of the prisoner's defence, although known to per-base twentst respectable men. was not accused by a of the prisoner's defence, although known to per-haps twenty respectable men, was not proved by a single witness, until near the close of the examina-tion of the Commonwealth's witnesses. 'That the witness who first stated it, should, when he saw that his testimony was to be assailed on that point, have felt, and manifested, a desire to fortify it with the testimony of other witnesses, is surely not to be wondered at. The truth is, that whilst most of our officiant fail that the interest of consist menuined that citizens felt that the interest of society required that the matter should be fully investigated, each individual felt such a repugnance to appearing to take an active part against the prisoner, that the Com-monwealth was in danger of losing the benefit of much of its most important testimony. On the other hand, if we are correctly informed efforts were not wanting to bias the public mind in favor of the prisoner. What effect, if any, those efforts had, in producing the result which took place, those who were apprized of what occurred, can best judge. If the friends of the prisoner are right, in the idea which they seem to have entertained, that in crim-inal prosecutions, no man is to be at liberty to afford any assistance to the prosecution, or informa-tion to the representative of the Commonwealth, without being subjected to the imputation of seekwithout being subjected to the imputation of seek-ing for revenge, or of having a disposition to hunt down the prisoner, and that the Attorney for the Commonwealth must be left to grope his way in the dark; every law for the punishment of crime might as well be repealed at once. We contend, on the contrary, that it is a duty that every good citizen owes to society, to afford the constituted au-thorities, such information, as will lead to a faith-ful and memor excention of the laws of the land ful, and proper execution of the laws of the land. In conclusion, we will say that in what we have written, it was not our purpose to cast censure on any of the Gounsel engaged in the case, much less the Court. Nor do we desire to do injustice to the party accused, or inflict pain on any of his friends or relatives; our purpose has been to vindicate the dead and do justice to some of the living, who have incidentally, in the course of the trial and the publication of its proceedings, been subjected to great injustice. We will further remark, that there are very great inaccuracies in the reports of the evidence and of the debates in the trial, which we have seen; owing no doubt, to the difficulty of making a correct report; under the circumstances in which the reporters were placed. JUSTICE.

In fact, the rich and the poor, young and old, in every place, in the city and country, find that the same success attends its use. TRUTH 18 MIGHTY. A Plain and Unvarished Statement. We commend the perusal of the extract below to our readers. Mr. Bullis a merchantof high character: SANDY BOTTON, Middleser County, Va., August 29th, 1852. Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray - Gents: You may think it strange that I have taken the liberty to write you this letter, but I do so under circumstances that you this letter, but I do so under circumstances that you this letter, but I do so under circumstances that you this note, hoping it may be a part of the hemora-ble means of giving this medicine that notoriety which its merits deserve. Being in the habit of vending medicines which re-late to the patent, and regular system, I consider my-self to some extent, a judge of the real merits of many of them. My experience teaches me that "Hampton's Tincture" is a medicine of real merit and intrin-sic value. When I say this, I do not say that it is an infallible cure, in all cases, but I mean to say that "Hampton's Tincture" will favorably operate in all diseases originating from a want of proper secretions of the gastric juices, bad digestion, and consequently had deposit of animal matter from that source. I be-lieve that many diseases located in various parts of the system, such as inflammation, Ulcers, Scrofula, euc., originally have their being in the stomach, from badfood, bad digestion, and consequently bad deposi-tions of the circulation to those parts; and I will be-lieve Hampton's Vegetable Tincture will even react these causes. Having found out, myself, what it is, I recommend heve Hampton's Vegetable Tincture will even react these causes. Having found out, myself, what it is, I recommend it to others in such cases, as I have described, and I have done it upon the "no cure no pay system," and I have done it upon the "no cure no pay system," and I have done it upon the "no cure no pay system," and I have yet to have the first bottle returned, or the first objection about the pay. It is a great plty it cannot be more extensively circula.ed among the people. * I warrant it in the following cases :-Gout, Rheumatism, Inflammations which proceeds from the stomach, Sores, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, long stand-ing cases of Ague and Fever; first stop the chill, and then give the Tincture—the difficulty in this case is not in stopping the chill, but the return of it, this the Tincture will certainly do. In general debilitations, I warrant it, and as I said before, I have procured a trial of it in this way, which otherwise 1 could not; the people have been humbugged by patent medicines so long, that they are afraid of all. This is clearly a stomach medicine, it works all its wonders there, and in all such cases it is a specific, if anything in the in all such cases it is a specific, if anything in the world is. Having given the Tincture a fair trial with myself, in my family and neighborhood, I think I am warrant-ed in what I say about it, and which I do without any other interest than the wish to see it in general circu-lation, and in every man's family, where it ought to be. If what Isay be doubted by any of the afflicted, and they will write to me at Sandy Bottom Post office, Middlesex county, Va., stating the nature of the dis-ease, and I recommend it for such a case I will war-ont it, and if it don't do good I will pay for the me-dicine. #### THE GRAND HOAX.

It having been stated in the New York Tribune that a company of "Light Guards, composed of young females, and headed by the daughter of an Ex-Governor of New Jersey," were to make a grand entry into that city on Tuesday morning on horseback and exercise in the Park, a crowd of people, men, women, and children, numbering about ten thousand, were, at an early hour, in the vicinity, anxious to see the show; but, after waiting several hours, they began gradually to find out that they were still "green" enough to be decidedly "sold."

Barnum, it appears, was among those who were hoaxed, and has published a card stating that he had no idea there was any trick about it until Tuesday evening. It appears that on Friday last a man called upon his agents at the Museum, and represented himself to be the agent of the trustees of a large family academy, and desired to bargain for the admittance on Tuesday afternoon of a body of young ladies in military costume, called the Fairy Guard. He represented them to be pupils of the academy in Elizabethtown, New Jersey, said they would number about one hundred, and would be accompanied by a band of music. On account of the number, he wished to obtain a small deduction from the regular price of tickets. A bargain was made. Two hours after the same person returned and mentioned that the ladies proposed to present a banner to some juvenile society, and that a distinguished gentleman had consented to make the necessary address, if not objectionable to the manager of the Museum. He was informed that no exception could be taken to such a proceeding, when he departed. The event was even mentioned on the bills of the Museum for Tuesday afternoon.

Subsequently the fellow waited on Horace Greeley and engaged him to deliver the address He also went to the Astor House and engaged dinner for ninety-six ladies, all to be in uniform, and accompanied by the Lafayette Band of Harrisburg, Pa. After this he disappeared, but no one expected a hoax until the distinguished visitors" failed to make their appearance. Hundreds, it is said, lingered bout the Park until after night, under the impression that they had been unavoidably detained.

Mortimer & Mowbray-Gentiemen: It is with real pleasure that I am able to attest to the gene-ral healing and curative powers of Dr. Hampton's Ve-getable Tincture. Some time during last November, I was taken with a very bad and serious cough. I was advised to take Cod Liver Oil, and did so, bat get-ting no better, I was induced to try your Tincture-got one bottle, and before I had taken it all, mycough left me. Permit me also to state, that for the last hf-teen years I have suffered very much from acute Rheu-matism and Vertigo, confining me at times to my bed. I am fully convinced that I owe my present good health to the use of the Tincture, and a kind Provi-dence.

You are, my friend, at liberty to use this as you may think proper, and believe me, Yours very respectfully, G. DUNN. N. B.-I can be seen at any time at the Mayor's G. D.

Delicate females and children will find this a great essing. It has restored thousands to health HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE .- Call and get
