A Cure Warranted or no Charge, in from one to two days. The many thousands cured at this Institution, and the very extensive practice of Dr. Johnston (ex: \di ing all others) is a sufficient guarantee that he L the only proper Physician to be consulted. Dr. Johnston, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, I indon Graduate from one of the most eminent College s of the United States, and the greater part of whose tife has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadel-phia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most as tonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with a ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great with a ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended some-times with derangement of mind, were cured immedi-

A Certain Disease. A Certain Disease. When the misguided and impudent votary of phe-sure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful de-ease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, there him from apply-ing to these who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deaf-ness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face, and extremities, progressing on with the head, face, and extremities, progressing on with frightfal rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this a wful disease becomes a horrid object of commisera-tion, till death puts a period to their dreadful suffer-ings by sending them to "that bourne from whente no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. JOHN-STON pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend the most safe and speedy ture to the un-fortunate victim of this horrid disease. It is a m clancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the utikaliful hess or ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either settd

No Sabbath. In a "Prize Essay on the Sabbath." written by a journeyman printer in Scotland, there occurs the following passage: "Yoke fellow! think how the abstraction of the Sabbath would hopelessly enslave the working classes, with which we are dentified. Think of labor thus going on in one mono onous and con inous and eternal cycle limbs foreyer on the rack ; thefingers forever plaving, the eve-balls forever staining, the brow forever sweating, the feet forever plodding the brain forever throbbing, the shoulders forever drooping, the loins forever aching and the festless mind forever scheming. "Think of the beauty it would offace; of the merry heartedness it would extinguish; of the giant' strenght it would tame; of the resources of nature that it would exhaust : of the aspiration it would crush ; of the sickness it would breed; of the projects it would wreck; of the groans it would extort ; of the lives it would immolate; and of the chebrless graves that it would prematurely dig !- See them; toiling and moiling, sweating and fretting, grinding and hewing, weaving and spinning, sowing and gathering, mowing and reaping, razing and building, digging and planting, unloading and storing, striving and straggling-in the garden and in the field, in the the granery and in the mill, in the warehouse and in the shop, on the mountain or in the ditch, on the roadside and on the shore, on the earth in days of brightness and of gloom. What a sad picture would the world present if we had no Sabbath."

CONVENTION OF THE VETERANS OF THE LAST WAR.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 .- The Convention of soldiers and Indians engaged in the War of 1812 met at the Presbyterian church, 41 striet, at 11 o'clock this morning, and organized by the election of Joel B. Sutherland, of Philadelphia, as President. Af-ter a prayer had been offered by the Rev. Wm. Sunderland, of Washington, brilliant speeches from Peter Wilson, of Cayuga, and others followed. The Convention subsequently formed in proces-sion, preceded by the Navy Yard Band and all the military of the city and marched to the President's House. The weather was fine and the streets were thronged with reople. The Old Defenders were in high spirits and appeared quite rejuvena-

The procession reached the White House at 2 o'clock, when a portion of those composing it entered the East Room, where the President and most of the Cabinet were assembled. Mr. Sutherland, the President of the Convention, addressed the President of the United States in substance as fellows; "I feel delighted to have the honor to to present to your Excellency such a vast body of the survivors of the war of 1812. We have called because you are your elf a soldier of the revolutionary stock (you had three brothers in the same war) and the day and the cause prompt us to pay our respects to you.

About 40 years ago Packenham with his 9,000 troops came to our shores. His men were all well disciplined and armed. Our forces were but 4 000 strong and ill provided, but we drove the invaders back with a loss of 700 kitted and 1,000 wounded; whilst the loss we sustained was but seven killed and only six wounded. Contrast this with the operations of the allies before Sevastopol. The man who lought that battle knew you, and you knew him weil-all the country venerate him. The day should be commemorated henceforth and forever. Resolving this, last year we met in Inde-pendence Hall, Philadelphia. This year we gave forty days notice of our coming here, in a single paper, and the result is before you."

The President substantially replied as follows "I tender you my sincere thanks for the presentation of so many veterans of the war of 1812, and for the kind allusions to my family. No one could witness the noble countenances of these men without supposing them to be veterans of the war. I rejoice that you are here and that you come with the red men who have rendered our country service, and are entitled to our thanks. My earliest reading and associations are in reference to the war of 1813. When the news of that war arrived I was always at he country post-office for the latest tidin is. Interested because of the members of my own family and the soldiers from my own neighborhoed being engaged in it; and of the immense importance of a favorable result to my country.

As I consider it the duty of everybody to make a sacrifice for their country. I can hardly express the affectionate regard I have for the detachments which occasionally called at my father's on their way to the northern frontiers, some of them never to return. It is gratifying to meet here so large a remnant of that war. How many camp and field incidents have been raised by this meeting, and how many reminiscenses have attended your reassembling ? All these memories you will cherish. From different parts of the country you come with one heart. You well recollect it is a fundamental principle of our country, that to our citizen so diers, not to large standing armies, the defence of our country is committed. All our institutions promise peace. If that is distrusted the patriotism which you exhibited forty years ago will give vigor to our arms and courage to your sons You come animated with a common purpose. Love of your country and her institutions--the Constitution must be preserved at all hazards. It is cheering to recollect that those who have lought our battles have never been the men

Several gentlemen addressed the assembly, a-mong them Colonel Todd and ex-Governor Rit-The latter said, in the course of his remarks, "It has been my fortune to preside over many con-ventions and deliberative bodies, but I never saw the same number of men who had as respectable an appearance as those now before me." [Laughter and applanse.] At this point in the proceedings, a beautiful silk flag was brought into the church. It was the gitt of the ladies of Albany to the veterans of New York ...

Cheers three times three were proposed, in salu-tation of the stars and stripes; and it is almost need-less to say all the old soldiers rose and gave them with a will.

Capt. William Taylor, who served in "the bloody twenty-seventh regiment of Maryland, in the war of 1812," and also in the Mexican campaign said he did not believe the delegates came hither to tell long stories, but to elevate the condition of the poor soldiers. He then referred to the fact that in the State of New York, of which he is now a resident, committees have been organized to seek out the suffering poor soldiers of the war of 1812, and are already laid. relieve them. When one of those dies, and his friends are not able to bury him, they give him decent sepulture and attend him with the honors of war. This should everywhere be done, whether been completed. Congress shall carry out the views of this Convention or not. His duty was to urge every man to do all he could to alleviate the condition of the suffering poor-man who shouldered his musket in the last war. Complimentary resolutions to Gen. L. Coombs, the author of yesterday's resolutions, and to other individuals, were adopted. The Senate resolution to admit the old soldiers into the Senate chamber, was received and accepted, and then, with the flag presented by the ladies of Albany at their head, the convention marched to the Capitol and visited the Senate. After which they adjourned till to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, when in accordance with a resolution the Convention will proceed in a body on a visitto Mount Vernon, there to disband, to meet again at this city on the 8th of January, 1856. During the sitting of the Convention an excellent daguerreotype was made of the venerable assemblage,

The proceeding generally were of a highly interesting, and often of a soul-stirring character.

Destructive Fire.

At the early hour of five Wednesday morning, a fire was discovered in the warehouse occupied by Wm. B. Walter, on Cameron Street, just above the Union Hotel, and before it could be arrested it destroyed the valuable block of buildings, three in number, comprising that in which the fire originated and the adjoining two occupied by C. L. Wood & Co. There had been a light fall of snow, and there was but little wind, but the supply of water was scant, and it required all the vigilance of our efficient fire companies to keep the flames from spreading to greater extent. It was with immense labor that the warehouse of R. B. Allen, adjoining Mr. Walter's, was saved.

The fire is supposed to have been accidental .--When first discovered, it proceeded from the cellar, where it was perhaps communicated from the first We regret to state that Mr. Walter not only floor. lost his stock of goods, but all his books and accounts. Many of the goods of C. L. Wood & Co., were saved, though in the damaged condition incidental to such disastrous occasions. Mr Allen and Mr. Chase will experience some loss from the hurried removal of their goods, though we trust it will be slight. Mr. Rosenberger, the flour inspector, had his office in Mr. Walter's house, he lost his books, tools, and a quantity of flour. The two lower buildings belonged to W. L. Clark, and were insured; the corner building was the property of Isaac Wood, and the insurance altogether on it and the stock of the firm is about $7,500, of which $5,000 are in the Valley Insurance Company of this place-being the whole loss this Company sustains. Mr. Walter has an insurance of $2,500 in Pittsburg on a stock of goods worth about $4,000.

genian se enian schonher, were also lost. The breakwaters and wharves at Aspinwall were badly damaged, and the wharves of the mail steamer company were almost entirely destroyed. The Falcon, from Havana, with the New Orleans mails on board, was unable to enter the port until the 1st instant, in consequence of heavy weather. The news from California is devoid of interest. The miners are still anxiously awaiting rain. The Russian ship Kamschatka, previously referred to as a supposed privateer, turns out to be of that character. She carries ten brass guns, and a crew of 120 men.

The papers confirm the intelligence that the Melo party at Bogota suffered a total defeat, after a most obstinate resistance of two days. The revolutionists met with great loss. Gen. Murders and Executions.

The following table embraces the number of murders and executions which have taken place in the United States during the past year, as complete as we have been able to gather them from the accounts published in the newspapers. We have received none where the killing was the result of accident, or where there was the least doubt about the victim having met death by violence from the hands of some designing individual.

The whole number of murders and executions are divided between the different States as follows:

THE BEST PAPER IN PENNSYLVANIA TO ADVERTISS VIRGINIA LANDS IN, IS THE VALLEY SPIRIT, published at Chambersburg, Pa., by P. S. Dechert & Co. Its cir-culation is three times as large as the average circula-tion of County papers in Pennsylvania, and care has been exercised to have it extensively circulated among the agricultural community, they being gen-erally the most substantial patrons. It is generally believed that an advertisement of Real Estate in this paper, will be read by more Farmers, and therefore by more persons disposed to purchase that kind of of property than if inserted in any other journal in this part of the country. Six cheers were then given for the President and three more for the soldiers of 1812. The representative of the Six Nations-the Wa Chief of Onandagua-through an interpreter, said: "I have taken our Great Father by the hand and lo am happy. gratulations with the President in passing out-the soldiers dispersing to their quarters for dunner. At 5 o'clock, P. M, the convention re-assembled in the Presbyterian Church, which was crowded, the lowor floor being exclusively filled with veterans.

General L. Coombs, of Ky., offered a preamble declaring that forty years from the battle of New Orleans and in the city named after the "Father of his Country," was a fitting time and place for the surviving soldiers to meet and take counsel.

In less than forty years after the Revolution, a gratefal Congress, when the treasury was empty and a heavy war debt hanging over them, passed a general pension law for the benefit of the surviving officers and soldiers of the Revolution. Is it then asking too much for similar justice to the survivors of the war of 1512, and the widreasons and children of the deceased, when the public freasury is overflowing with gold and comparatively no debts to pay, or that fair portion of the public domain which we fought and bled for should be given to us?

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to memo-rialize Congress to make to each officer, soldier, sailou and marine who served, however short a time, during the war of 1812, at least 160 acres of land to the lowest grade, to extend to the widows and children of those who are dead; that similar provisions be made to those confined in foreign prisons in any part of the war; and also to prisoners in Tripoli, and to the widows and child dren of the deceased.

Resolved, That while we deplore the untimely death of brethren in arms, we pledge ourselves to aid and pro tect their widows and orphans ; that Congress ought to extend the same pension system to the soldiers of 1812 and their widows and children that they did to those of the Revolution ; and that the thanks of this Convention are tendered to the members of both Houses of Congress who have had the nerve to move in this matter. Resolved, That invalid pensions should commented from the time when wounds were received or disabilities incurred. Resolved, That our grateful acknowledgments are ten dored to Senator Brodhead and other Senators and Rep-resentatives who have co-operated with him in endeav-oring to obtain justice for us and to the patriotic editors who have espineed our cause. Resolved, That it is important to have in each State a complete organization of the soldners of 1812 and 215. Reso'erd That in view of the great benchits and resalts of the war of 1812, we cannot lorget a debt of grat itude to James Madison who fearlessly recommended it, nor to the immortal Clay who led on the brave men in Congress who voted for it. Resolved, That Congress by granting our petitions will entitle themselves to the grateful prayer of millions of human being now scattered over our immense domain. Resolved, That the monument to Washington in this national metropolis should be finished with all convenient speed. Resolved, That such of the old States as have now acted in relation to the proposed construction of a monu-ment to the signers of the declaration of independence, in Independence Square, Philadelphia, be requested to

GREAT POLITICAL CONFERENCE-GREAT WAR SPEECH FROM NAPOLEON-NEW FRENCH LOAN-LARGE REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE ALLIES THE SIEGE TO BE CON-DUCTED ON A NEW PLAN-SEBASTOPOL TO BE STORMED-COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS. POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

The steamer Arabia sailed from Marseilees on the 21st, with 1,620 French troops for the Crimea. A high political conference was to be held at the residence of the British Minister at Vienna on the 28th ult. The Ambassadors of England France, Prussia, Russia, and Prince Gortschakoff, were to take part in the discussion. The conference must be of the most positive character. A despatch from Vienna dated the 29th says that Prince Gorschakoff presented a note recieved from St. Petersburg to Count Buol. It is believed to be unsatisfsctory, but is not the final reply of Russia. The Allies were defining the sense in which their Cabinet was to understand the "four points" heretofore proposed.

Austria it is believed will assume the offensive and thereby influence all Germany on her side. The people it is thought will force their Governments to accept the proposition of the Allies.

Much excitement continued throughout England, on the War question, which was absorbing all interests. Nothing definite had been done in Parliament. The proposed loan, however, would be made It is fully believed that Prussia will join the Allies. Indeed that the steps tiken by Austria will compel her Large reinforcements of Russians were daily arriving at Sebastopol. The next battle, if it takes place, will be the most desperate and bloody of all. Both British and French funds were much depress ed under existing circumstances, and the necessity of making loans. England has secured a large loan. Two Bussian vessels of war attacked a French steamer bound for Sebastopol. The English frigates came to her relief and the Russians retreated.

The third parallel of French mounted guns thirty thousand Turks, with a division of French and English artillery, were about to seige Perekop .-There are 53 lines there.

There gratest event of the week has been Napoleon's speech to the French Legislature. It is warlike in its tone, and makes no mention of any prospects of peace, It was immediately followed by a lone of 500.000.000 francs unanimously voted.

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR. Affairs at Sabastopol up the 20th of December vere unchanged. The Russians however claim to be doing considerable damage to the approaches of the allies, but nevertheless the third paralle of the French was bristling with mounted cannon.

The reinforcements recieved by the allies up to the 18th of December amount to 18 000 men. Geu. Menschikoff was lying sick at Osten. Saken s in command.

Five thousand Turks had landed at Eupatoria. The distination of Omar Pacha's army was a profound secret. It was thought he would invest the north side of Sebastopol. He left Shumla for Constantinople on the 17th of December, but his future movements were not known. The Turkish troops began to arrive from Varna on the 18th. The communication between Perekop and Sebastopol was completely interrupted. A week had elapsed since a courier arrived at Odessa from Se-At the last accounts the weather had improved and there had been a heavy frost. Both armies were renewing their activity. Several sorties were re-ported, and the Russians had been repulsed. Orders have been recieved at Warsaw to complete the additional works of the Catadel, within the first fortnight of January. the movement was not gotten up by the old soldiers themselves, and having as they would have had, for the primary object, the interesting pleasure of a social re-union of those whose numbers death has so sadly thinned. It was originally conceived and agitated by speculators, as a means of overawing or distance of twenty-four miles .- Sentinel. otherwise influencing Congress, upon the pending question of a grant of lands to the soldiers. The speculators, too conceived the idea of this grant itself because it is to their interest to have an abundance of land scrip in market. We know some privale facts that justify this remark, though it is not worth while to call names. We know, too, that the highminded and gallant old soldiers, full of the patriotism that took them to the battle field, were themselves actuated by none other than the purest feeling; and would scorn to parade themselves as objects of any other than patriotic gratitude, and hence in their names we denounce the hucksters that would dare to make traffic of their honorable scars. We trust that congress will deal, not only justly but generously and lavishly, towards these venerable citizens. We cannot too often or too deeply express our gratitude. But we beg that any law for their benefit, will be so framed as to protect them from the speculating land sharks, and disappoint their vile schemes. Pay them what may be considered proper, in good hard gold; and send them not in the market with their land-scrip, there to be victimised the unrequited sufferings of 1812. Let the bill be last session. what it should be, a bill to further compensate the old soldiers,-and not a bill to enable land pirates to make immense fortunes out of the bounty of Congress to men. Give us the good,-save us the evil Fatal Affray.

James Galeece, an Irishman employed upon the Loudoun Branch Raliroad near Percellville in this county, during a melee on Monday (New year's day) received such severe injuries as to cause his death on Thursday last. A jury of inquest was had upon his body, which returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from blows received upon his head inflicted by person or persons unknown. We learned that a thorough examination was instituted by the Magistrates of the neighborhood, but that nothing was elicited calculated to fix the murder upon the guilty one. We trust that every means may be uesd to effect this purpose, else we shall be continually annoyed by the commission of such horrible crimes among the laborers upon our different roads.-Loudoun Democrat.-

Mr. Chandler on the Temporial Power of the Pope.

Mr. Chandler occupied the attention of the House for an hour on Friday upon the iemporal power of the Pope of Rome. As Mr. Chandler is a Roman Catholic, and a gentleman of elevated morality and undoubted talents, he was listened to with marked interest. In terms of the strongest earnestness and emphasis he denied the charge that the Roman Catholics owe any allegiance to the Pope as a temporal power. On this point he spoke with an eloquence and power which called forth an exhibition of applause in the House which has been but seldom witnessed. Mr. Chandler's remarks, sustained by abundant historical evidence, ought to put to rest the charge, so freely made, that Roman Catholics owe temporial allegiance to the Pope .- Union, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad held yesterday

> The Sermon preached to Governor Clark--The case of Omri. ALBANY, January 3, 1855. The New Year's festi-vities and the political caucuses have passed off without any incident to excite remark, and with a happy facility that has rather astonished the public. The new Governor was preached to on Sunday, sworn in on Monday, and on Tuesday sent his message to the legislature and the press, by which it was communicated to the people.

The sermon was delivered in the Congregational church by its eloquent pastor, Dr. Palmer. It was an excellent discovrse, but those who listened did not fail to descry its special meaning in the text; "But the people that followed Omri prevailed over the people that followed Tibni, the son of Ginath; so Tibni died and Omri reigned." 1 Kings xvi, v. 22. Some eyes were turned upon Omri, in the person of Gov. Clark, who sat unconscious in his pew, and some listeners turned to the context and smiled, as they saw, a few verses below that quoted by the preacher, the words :

"But Omri wrought evil in the eyes of the Lord, and did worse than all that were before him."-Ibid. v. 25.

Let us pray that the omen may be averted, and that Goy. Omri Clark may at least not reign worse than all that were before him.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR GOVERNOR. HENRY A. WISE. OF ACCOMAC. FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, E. W. MCCOMAS, OF KANAWHA. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, W. P. BOCOCK, OF APPOMATOX.

Know Nothing Policy. We may assert with confidence that the public mind has not been so seriously aroused on any political question for years as it is at the present time, taking our own village as a criterion. It is almost impossible to enter any place of business or amusement, without hearing the expressions of warm ardent debaters, on the propriety of a permanent organization, to carry out the principles of the party which is styled the Know Nothings. The opposition to this new party, labor under serious disadvantages

They have no way of gaining directly the substance of the principles which this new organization ad= vocate. They have only the guarded action and the unsatisfactory expressions which may occasionally fall from the lips of an uncautious member. It is a secret association. Like all other secret political associations, its first great object is power: Without numerical strength it is powerless, and therefore, its first object, its first great aim is strength, strength numerically. Now, how is this to be gained. In a country like the United Sates, where there is such a diversity of opinion, and variety of interest, a party to gain rapid and extensive power, must have principles, which will not conflict with the the interests and opinions of localities. The principles of the party seeking power, and the principles of those to whom they go for strength must assimilate. The his tory of the past, and human nature itself, prove that men are not willing to sacrifice all, unless that which they receive is paramount to all. Now the question arises are the principles of this new organization superior to all the principles of the old parties. Are the principles such as to adapt themselves to all conflicting interests, and can men of all shades of opinion embrace them as great accessories in carying out their previous principles ?

Can the Know Nothing movement succeed in the West? Ifit does, it must first engraft upon its platorm the peculiar doctrine which belong to that locality. They must be in favor of internal improvements; of river and harbor bills; of distribution of the proceeds of the public lands; of grants by government of lands to corporations. If they are willing to become the advocates of these measures, they will be very apt to succeed in the West. If they would succeed in the North, they must advocate the repeal of the fugitive slave law, of the Nebraska bill, the doctrines of the Free-soiler and the abolitionist. If they would succeed in the South, they must be States Rights men; they must be diametrically opposed to every principle which they advocate in the West and North.

But you may say in reply, they are neutral on all these grounds. They leave it to localities to settle these questions among themselves What would be the consequence of such action as this? Men will be sent to our national legislature, who will forget their Know Nothingism, to succeed in carying out any one of the principles which they professed, prior to adopting the principles of the Know Nothing party. When elected, they may say, we were Free Soilers, we were is faver of the repeal of the fugitive slave law, and also of the abolishment of slavery in the District of Columbia. You were aware of these facts. and being aware of them you supported us, you voted for us. We did not agree to sacrifice any of out previous opinions, we only agreed to adopt yours .-Take the New York Congressional Delegation for an instance. Thirty-two out of thirty-four are antifugitive slave law, and are in favor of its repeal .--We suppose that Know Nothings were neutral in New York on the subject of slavery, or if they were not neutral, then they adapted their principles to that particular locality, and added one more plank to their platform, and that plank embodied everything which was in opposition to the principles of that party in Virginia. Whether they were neutral or whether they arowed themselves opponents to the measures which are advocated by the Southern wing, is a questionof no mome it to us. In either case they are calpable and are responsible for whatever their Congressmen do, for by their votes, and their influence they were elected. Secret Political Societies. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun states that the Democratic Senators have had a preliminaty meeting, and will shortly make a public demonstration of the position of the Democracy upon the subject of secret polical societies. Senator Adams, of Mississippi, is said to be the only democ ratic Senator who will not take ground against these societies. We are glad to see this stand taken by the Democracy of the Senate upon this subject; and we hope that all Democrats who do not intend to renounce the time honored principles of their party, which has so successfully administered the affairs of the country, for so many years of our existence as a nation, and who have been so unfortunate as to have been deluded and induced to join this modern crusade against a large and respectable portion of their fellow citizens, will at once see and acknowledge the error of their ways, and will have the moral courage to leave an organization whose watch words are "presciplion" and " intolerance." The following, from the Union of Saturday, will show the Whigs also the opinions of the late Daniel Webster and Edward Everett upon this subject : The voice of the illustrious statesman of Marshfield, Daniel Webster-incomparably the greatest man the opposition to the democracy ever produced in this country-was once respected by his party when he enunciated politcal scattiments. Not many years since Daniel Webster thus expressed himself: " All secret associations the members of which take upon themselves extraordinary obligations, and are bound together by secret oaths, are natu-rally sources of jealousy and just alarm to others, are especially unlavorable to harmony and mutual confidence among men living together under popular institutions, and are daugerous to the general cause of civil liberty and good government" Mr. Everett, hen governor of Massachusetts, said in his inaugural address in 1836 :

A CITIZEN OF THE OLD DOMINION THUS SPEAKS. Scorrsvible, Albemarle co., Va., March 27th, 1853. Messifis. Mortimer and Mowbray-Gentlemen :--I have been afflicted for the past eight years with Dys-pepsia, Rhéumatism and Liver complaint, suffering all the while with pains in the shoulders, hips, back and sides-shifting from one side to the other-palpi-tation of the heart, loss of sppelife, cold sweats at night, excessive costiveness, and great debility and weakness. I tried many remedies, which done me no good, but rather grew worse. Last fall I was ad-vised to try "HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINC-TURE," and I am happy to say it cured me. I am now free from all pain, and in the enjoyment of per-fect health, and take great pleasure in recommending the Tincture to all afflicted as I have been. Yours, JAS. M. NOLE. No county in the State can be more nearly concerned in the prosperity of a road than we are in this and therefore our citizens should give a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. The commission appointed to assess land damages along the line of the road have gone to work, and we have not a doubt but that they will be met by the largest liberality on the part of our land holders.

Change of Mails. Wheat-Stacks Burned.

GEO. H. BURWELL, of Clarke county, (says the Winchester Republican,) lost by fire, last week, four stacks that would have yielded about six hundred bushels of wheat. Part of a threshing machine was also destroyed. The destruction is believed to have been the work of an incendiary, as it took place at night, some time after the operation of threshing had been stopped. Mr. Burwell is one of the most extensive farmers in the State, having raised, we believe, as much as sixteen thousand bushels of wheat in a season, to say nothing of other grains. 03-We learn from the last arrival that our minister at the Court of France, Hon, J. Boefical. "Push On !" A LAY OF DESTINY. BY H. J. SARGENT. Awake! and listen! everywhere-From upland, grove and lawn, Out breathes the universal prayer, The orison of morn. Arise ! and don thy working garb; All nature is astir ; Let honest motive be thy garb, And usefulness thy spur. Stop not to list the boserous jeers, (He would be what thou art.) They should not e'en offend thine ears, Still less disturb thy heart. What though you have no shining boar (Inheritance of stealth;) To purchase at the broker's board, The recompense of wealth. Push on 1 You're rusting while you stat Inaction will not do: Take life's small bundle in your hand, And trudge it briskly through. Push on ! Don't blush because you have a patch In honest labor won ; There's many a small cot roofed with the Is happier than a throne! Push on ! The world is large enough For you, and I, and all; You must expect your share of rough, And now and then a fall. But, up again ! act out your part,-Bear smilingly your load ; There's nothing like a cheery heart To mend a stony road. Push on I Jump over all the IF's and BUT's ; There's always some kind hand To lift life's wagon from the ruts, Or poke away the sand. Remember when your sky of blue Is shadowed by a cloud, The sun will shine as quick for you As for the monarch proud. It is but written on the moon That toil alone endures;

The king would dance a rigadoon, With that blithe soul of yours. Push on Push on! You're resting while you sta

The Beautiful Suicide.

Beautiful exceedingly is the love of a y girl who has sealed with her lips the which has given her heart to another. is no attribute or passion of man half so or tender, or holy. She is in one sense no. er hereself, since her thoughts and sentin is devoted to him who calls her his ow How she clings to him, how she deligh his smile, and then, how she trembles passing shade that may come over him kens ill! And if he be sick, how tenderly she watches over his pillow and solaces him with her gentle and angelic ministrations! You might as well try to uncoil from the forest tree by the sweep of the hand, the strong vine, which, with its purple clusters, hath twined itself around the trunk and every branch -as to rend or draw back to her the love she so trustingly lavished upon him. But let it chance, that through any whim or caprice, he whom she idolizes, becomes in the slightest degree indifferent to her-how quickly the unsleeping eye of her heart detects it ! And yet she will not whisper her suspicion even to a sister-but retiring to the secrecy of her chamber, shed burning and bitter tears at the thought of his desertion from her. But if-if the mere suspicion of infidelity, or a determination to slight her becomes, through anything which she observes, cruel reality-and if, further, it chances that he who won her love, hath betrayed, and finally spurned her-oh where is there in the wide world a more desolate, heart-broken creature than that confiding girl. It is strange, one may ask, that in the terrible phrenzy or whirl of feeling which ensues, reason should lose its balance and the poor girl, in utter despair, should look to death-to the grave and the heaven beyondas alone offering any hope of release from present suffering. No one need to be told that the instances are not a few in which the life of a beautiful girl is sought and won, for a time and finally spurned. They who thus treat a confiling woman are brutes-brutes in everything but shape. They are strangers to honor, to feeling and to virtue. They never could appreciate the untold wealth of a woman's heart. nor be able to say-(if we may coin a verse) Oh! what is woman in this world But a sweet angel from on high, Who with her glorious pinions furled, Hovers around us, ever nigh. Her tones celestial are the voice, Which God to erring man hath given, To warn and guide, and make his choice The bliss of her own home in heaven. Such were some of our thoughts when we met with a little poem, in one of the city papers yesterday, to which some one had appended our own name, as the author of it. It was published anonymously, or rather editorially, some three years since, and we had forgotten the waif, though upon it floating back again. the incident which suggested it comes vividly before us. A young and beautiful girl from Vermont, resident in Lowell, had been cast off and spurned by one who had plighted her his troth and promised to make her his wedded wife. She bore it as she best could, but the sting had entered her soul and there was no peace for her. Walking out one evening with her companions, she appeared as cheerful and happy as ever, but she had no sooner parted from them, than in the delirium of her excited feelings, which during the even-ing had been successfully controlled, she ran to the river's bank and-was taken a corpse from the water in the morning. In her chamber was found a not requesting that her remains might be delivered to her parents, and closing with these words, in reference to her melancholy purpose :-- TELL THEM I AM NO MORE. Tell them I am no more! Tell them this poor heart of mine was breaking. That in my dreaming hours and in my waking, I saw no love in store. That clouds were ever o'er my spirit sweeping, And sorrow, with its chilling dews was steeping My bruised heart to its core. Teil them I am no more! My dying words speak softly in their ear. Bid them not to weep that one they loved so dear, Heart-broken goes before-That to the golden realms its bright way winning, My Spirit shall find rest where scraphs, singing, Their sweet-tuned harps bend o'er. Tell them I am no more! That I obey a voice, soft-toned celestial, Which seems to summon me from scenes terrestial, And bids me not deplore. My mother oft hath told me of a land, By sweet and bliss-enamoured breezes fanned. Where all hearts ONE adore! Tell them I am no more! That to that land my ransomed Spirit soaring, Joins the bright Sisterhood, with hyms adoring, The Infinite and Pure. That the weary Spirit, crushed and broken Shall live anew, in bliss unseen, unspoken. Live on for ever more! Tell them I am no more! Oh tell them not to speak of me unkindly-But to forgive me, if I rush too bliadly To the far, unscen shore. Tell them they would not chide me, if they knew, What burning tears I've wept the long night tho,' The griefthis bosom bore, Tell them I am no more! That ose I loved, ave, loved him truly, only, And yet was all unloved, that, sad and lonely, I wept my troubles o'er. Life has no charms, with all its summer hues, And like a stricken flower untouched by dews, I drooped, to rise no more. Tell'them I am no more! That to the last i thought of them and prayed, That turned to dust, this poor frame might be laid Near the old farm house door. Tell them I dreamed my mother's lips of love, When the tired Spirit gains its rest above,

Stabler's Anouyne. Cherry Expectorant For Coughs, Colds, Bronchilus, Croup, &c. STABLER'S DIARRHUEA CORDIAL

STABLER'S DIARRHEA CORDIAL, THE valuable medicines above named, are not effi-pirical, but are prepared in agreement with the experience of some of the most learned and judicious practitioners; and are not secret, further than is ne-cessary to protect the proprietors and those who use them from loss and imposition, as the component parts have been made known, confidentially, from time to time, to perhaps 500 Physicians 11: in Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia, Ohio, and other places, all of whom; without a single exception, have approved of the formula, and most of them acknowledge than for the cure of the discases for which they are recom-mended. Our confidence in the excellence of these medicines, added to our desire to avoid the just preju-dice of the medical profession against secret and quack indifframs; induced us to adopt this candid course.— We append a few of the notices we have received from Physicians: From Dr. Wm. From Dr. Wm. H. Farrow, Snowhill, Md. GENTLEMEN-I have frequently in my practice pre-scribed your "Stabler's Anodyne Cherry Expecto-rant" and "Diarchest Cordial," with great satisfac-tion to myself, and to the entire relief of such diseases as they profess to curic. I consider them happy com binations of some of our most valuable and safe thera-peutical agents, and must be of infinite worth to the afflicted and mankind at large. In furnishing the medical profession with these active and concentrated preparations, so convenient for administration, and of a standard quality, you have rendered them an emia standard quality; you have rendered them an emi-neut service; and I can do no less than enrestly recom-mend these preparations to practitioners, and especial-ly in the country, where the impurity of commercial Drugs is one of the greatest obstacles to the success of the Dhurdaine.

ble incansof ving this medicine that notoriety which its merits deserve. Being in the habit of vending medicines which re-late to the patent, and regular system, I consider my-self to some extent, a jud re of the real merits of many of them. My experience teaches me that "Hamp-ton's Tincture" is a medicine of real merit and intrin-sic value. When I say this, I do not say that it is an infallible cure, in all cases, but I mean to say that "Hampton's Tincture" will fatorably operate in all diseases originating from a want of proper secretions of the gastric juices, bid digestion, and consequently bad deposit of animal matter from that source. I be-lieve that many diseases located in various parts of the system, such as inflammation, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc., originally have their being in the stomach, from badfood, bad digestion, and consequently bad deposi-tions of the circulation to those parts; and I will be-lieve Hampton's Vegetable Tincture will even reast these causes. hese cause lieve Hampton's Vegetable Tincture will even react these causes. Having found out, myself, what it is, I recommend it to others in such cases, as I have described, and I have done it upon the "no cure no pay system," and I have yet to have the first bottle returned, or the first objection about the pay. It is a great pity it cannot be more extensively circulated among the people. * I warranti it in the following cases:-Gout, Rheumatism, Inflatminations which proceeds from the stomach, Sores, Scrötila, Dyspepsia, hong stand-ing cases of A gue and Fever i first stop the chill, and then give the Tincture—the difficulty in this case is not in stopping the chill, but the return of it, this the Tincture will certainly do. In general debilitations, I warrant it, and as I said before, I have procured a trial of it in this way, which otherwise I could not j the people have been humburged by patent medicines so long, that they are afraid of all.
