SECRET DISEASES, Gleets, Strictures, Seminal Weakness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritibility, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose, or Skin; those serious and melanchely Disorder arising from the destructive habits of Youth, which destroy both body and mind. Those secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, ren dering Marriage, &c., impossible.

Young Mes especially, who have become the vic-time of Solitary Vice that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talent and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Schates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence. MARRIAGE

Married persons or those contemplating Marriage being aware of physical weakness, or any other impediment, should immediately consult Dr. John-He who places himself under the care of Dr.

Johnston, may religiously confide in his honor, as a gentl man, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

immediately cured, and full vigor restored.
This dreadful disease is the penalty most frequent ly paid by those who have become the victim of im proper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses, not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of Procreation is lost sooner by those tal ling into improper habits that by the prudent. Be-sides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive syn.ptoms to both body and mill arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental powers weakened, ner tous debility, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indirection, a wasting of the frame, cough, symptoms of consumption, etc. OFFICE No 7, SOUTH FREDERICK St., seven doors from Baltimore street, East side up the steps. ber, or you will mistake the place. TAKE NOTICE, observe Name on the Door and Windows. A Cure Warranted or no Charge, in from one to two days No Mercury or Nauseous Drug used. DR. JOHNSTON, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most emment Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and clsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known --Many troubled with a ringing in the ears and head when releep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashtulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately A CERTAIN DISEASE.

When the misguided and improdent votary of piea sure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease it too often hann as that an ill timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectlity, can alone befriend him, delaying until the constitution d symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance such as obserated sore throat dis cased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs. dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing on with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bone of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to their dreadful sufferings by sending them to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. JOHNSTON pledges him self to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend the most sate and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease It is a nelanciably fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreas ful disease, owing to the unskillfulness or ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of his life miserable. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J., addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgencies, that secret and solitary babit, which win both body and mind, unfiting them for either business or society. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Pains in the Head, dimness of Sight. Loss of muscular Power, Palpttation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility Symptoms of Consumption. &c. MENTALLY -The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, timdity, &c. are some of the evil produced. Thousands of Persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health. Losing their vigor, becoming, weak pale and emaciated nave a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption. MARRIED PERSONS, or those contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J , and be restored to per-

DR. JOHNSTON'S IVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC DEBILITY By this great and important remedy, weakness of the organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lest all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Trem bling and Weakness, or Exhaustion of the most tearfulkind, are speedily cured by Dr. Johnston.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a Certain Practice in lulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders impriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit .-

Such persons before contemplating MARRIAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessity requisites to promote connubial hap piness. Indeed, without this, the journey through ife becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect shadowed with despair, and filled with the melanchally reflection that the harpiness of another beomes blighted with our own. SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 23, 1859.

It is seldom our fortune to meet with an article, more truthfully appropriate than the following, which we copy from the Weekly National, published in San Francisco, and edited by GEORGE WASHINGTON, Esq., for merly of this county. Though written on the P-cific, it has an application which reaches politics everywhere, and is not confined to California alone. We commend it to the croakers of this District, who seem to think political ambition a damnable crime :

TRUE TO THE LETTER.

Politicians as Honest as other People: How frequently do we hear, those who from laziness, indifference or inability are incapacitated from taking part in public matters, flippantly denouscing all those who do interest themselves earnestly in pelitical affairs, as dishonest and corrupt 'To be a successful politician,' say those self-styled censors of political morals, 'one must necessarily be a dishonest man.' Indeed! If the proposition thus laid down by these selfrighteous virtuosos be true, let us see what the logical and legitimate in erence from such premises is. It first argues that every man who has heretofore been successful in political matters, as well as those who now stand as stars of the first magnitude in the political heavens, were, and are, unmitigated rascals. Not only have all those who now occupy high positions at the hauds of the people, attained to such honorable distinction by dishonorable means, but likewise those gr at luminaries whose patriotism and wisdom shone forth amid the darkness of the revelution and directed the pres ding genius of libs erty to its throne, were according to these cynical of a minorty attempting to establish a rule of fa judges, the grandest kind of scoundrels, because pre-eminently successful in all they undertook .-Washington, Adams, Madison, Jefferson, Franklin, were indeed exalted villians! Villians of the first water! They pledged their 'lives fortunes and sacred honors' to one another in the cause of liberty. not in order to free mankind from the shackles of entered his stall, 'if you wont tread on my toes, I king-craft, superstition and tyranny, but simply for the purpose of advancing their own private in- has said to iron shod hoofs: 'I-il stamp your toes terests and gratifying the promptings of selfish am- off? We have tried to play the same game of b'tion. If such be t'e case, verily they have impo- snatch as snatch can,' with the most snatching sed a magnificent swindle upon the world Truly may it be said that the providence who holds the nations in the palm of his hand, and who builds | jority host of commercial, trading, free-white, freethem up or pulls them down at his pleasure, uses exceedingly vile instruments in the accomplisment of his sublimest purposes. In the second place-if, 'in order to be a successful politician, one must necessarily be a dishonest man -in a popular government like ours, where the people have the sole awarding of honors, it proves that they, the people, are themselves, either most corrupt or woefully blind to their dear st interests, if they bestow those marks of their favor upon unworthy objects.

In either case it shows that they are totally unfit for self government, and that, as a consequence, our whole system of republicanism is a vast piece of humbuggery. 'But.' contend these wiseacres, 'the system is good enough, and the people are capable enough; but,' say they, 'the most virtuous, the most honest, and the most intelligent portion of the community seek other and more useful employments to occupy their attention and talents, and consequently have not the time nor inclination to 'dabble in the filthy pool of politics.' The consequence is, that the demagogues have it all their own way, and of course elect none but those of the same cloth to office.' Now, we ask, in the first place, what makes the 'pool of politics' a 'filthy pool ?' Is it indeed considered a disreputable and immore al thing for one to take a deep and abiding interest in the welfare of his country, and spend his life in its service? If things are out of joint and going wrong, as these self-styled virtuosos assert, why do not they-as they profess to be in the majoritycome out in their might and put them to rights again? We very much question the soundness of the morality, or the sincerity of the professions of those who lay claim to a higher order of virtue than their fellow-men, and yet show so gross a neglect of their duty as citizens. The man who f om any falsely conceived scruples of del cacy about 'dabbling in the filthy pool,' or from any other cause neglects to lend his best exertions to the advancement of the public welfare, is unfit to be a member of a tree popular government. He is unworthy of the name of an American citizen. He wants a master, and should at once 'leave his country for his country's good,' and take up his labitation in some remote region where the sun of liberty never shed its beams. The truth of the whole matter is, that honesty-pure, unadulterated, disinterested honesty-is a very scarce commodity with humanity anyhow. Pol iticians have as much of the article as the majority of the 'rest of mankind,' and if they seem more dishonest than the balance of people, it is because from the nature of their profession they are always directly in the eye of the pu lic, who areever on the a ert to detect their short-comings. The tongue of detraction-too gets at work, and many a man whose character for uprightness and integ ity had never been questioned in the private walks of life, so soon as he enters upou the political arena sees it, by partizan malice and enmity as black as Erebus. Among the merchants, the lawyers, the doctors, and the artizans of the land, one will find as much of that base coin called assurance, which often gives a villian the bearing of an honest man, and which like charity, 'covers a multitude of sins,' as will be found among those who spend their lives in descanting upon matters of public policy. An honest man is still an honest man, no matter what his profession be.

Debauchery in Paris.

Paris, under Napoleon III; appears to be return. ing to the scenes and licentious revelries of the corrupt days of the Regent Orleans. A correspondent of the Times says-

At the Palace, at the Ministries, nuble ladies in flesh-colored, coverings represent half-clothed Bachantees with flowing bowls and festive songs. Venuses with voluptous poses and amorous jests, false Vestas outraging the memory of their ancestors, and Dianas more resembling her of Poitiers than that other one of the woods. The same noble ladies seek costumes in which the charms of their person can be most exposed. The shoulder piece of a spirce dress, that last vestige of modesty that transparent bit of muslin that stood allegorically between decency and a blush, have disappeared, and dresses have been seen in public places cut horizontally across from arm-pit to arm pit, leaving the entire arm and shoulder absolutely free. We have seen return the time when the favorite Bacchante of the Palace is the feted and envise of the feminine world.

Gov. Wise and the Administration, The following characteristic letter appears in the Huntsville (Alabama) Advocate. We may dissent in very many respects from the Governor's argument, but this letter is so unique and orginal in conception so bold and manly in expression, that we cannot withhold it from our readers : RICHMOND, Vai, Jan. 3, 1859: To the How. David Husbard.—My Dear Sir.—You say in your address to me, "My once friend."

Why not friend now as ever once? It is a selfsolace of mine that I never lost a friend once won and never won an enemy by any fault of mine for which I can reproach myself. I hope that you don't reproach me with having forfeited your esteem in the least degree. I regret that the lapse of time and distance have removed us so far apart that we have not h d the opportunity of more frequent interchange of personal attention, but I hope that be regard or respect of neither for the other has

a widow." A widow is a forlorn being, and de-mands all inv sympathy. It is true that I am a married man already, and can't tender the lady in weeds my 'true and gallant' devotion as a'husbo And were I in a state of single blessedness it would still be ageinst nature for me to tender my hand to the South in holy wedlock; for I claim to be born of her womb and to be as loyal a son as ever sucked the milk or his mother, and to be ready to profect her in weal or woe against every enemy and every evil according to the best ability with which God and her nursing have endowed me. Protect her! Ay, it I do not, may my right hand forget its cunning! From what? From Abolitionists and Protectionists, and land jobbers! Yes, as always tried to do, much to my own cost. And from the treachery of sons of her own, and from the folly of his sincere friends, too, I mean to try to protect her, as I have tried of late in vain. would protect her from the authors of Kansas-Ne raska bills-from the freesoilism of Badger amend ments-from the effects of repealing laws establish ing and protect slavery in Territories-from the alse protection of non-intervention, withdrawing pretension to protect all persons and property qually and alike on the common territory of joint tilement-from Lecompton policy that had not the wisdom even of Æsop's cock in the fable-from the compromises of English bills which stripped us of every particle of prestige we had left-from the wickedness of 'force and fraud,' and the folly aut nefas' in the tace of an unscrupulous majority We were strong on the moral ground of equality We relinquished that in attempting to assume more than equality, and we lost all character for justice We were wise once in demanding no more than our due, and we have been foolish since and of late in trying to deprive others of their due. Æsop taught the cock in the fable to say to the horse when he wont upon yours.' But our cock has crowd like chanticleer the defiant notes 'Hardest fend off.' He snatchers in the world. We have challenged a competition of settlement, with a thin, shaveholding, agricultural population on our part, against a ma-soil people who have not all homes and who are keeping a sharp look out for them, and who can

cism to acquire them. All they ask is for the rule to be once fixed that you can take all you can and hold all you can take, and that no power of Congress or other power is to interfere to hinder the strongest in taking and holding all. Now, I have raised my warning of late against this weekness and wickedness on our part. I have tried to protect my widowed mother, the South, by giving honest filial counsel against the whole household The Rubens have tried to sell me into Epypt for my 'dreaming.' But I am nevertheless loyal to the house of my father and loving to my misguided brethren, and I mean to redouble my efforts the more to save the house of Israel. If I must be driven out as a dreamer, I will at least preserve 'mine integrity,' and time and the day of famine will show whose counsel and whose course will have saved the household and all the land of the stranger too. Ay-and is Democracy as well as the South to have no out-spoken, honest counsellor Are we to be given over to the federal gods of Pacific railroads? Are we to out Yazoo Yazoo? To out Adams Adams in putting internal improve ments by the general government on the most omnipote t and indefinitely stretching power of all powers of the federal government-the war power Are we to abolish ad valorem and adopt specific duties to supply a tariff for revenue, the standard of which is already 81 millions of expenditure on 321 average rate of importations? Are we to increase 81 millions of expenditure to the unknown limitless amount required for railroads across this continent; for post office that don't pay expenses; for pensions unheard of in character and amount; for a land office which gives away three acres for every one sold and brings us in debt; for increase of standing army with such as our frontiers and Indian wars and protectorates of foreign territory propose; and for such a navy as Isthmian wars with no less than eight Powers of the earth, England, Spain, France, Mexico, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, New Granada and Para usy demand, if threatened only ls protection to be tur ed into prohibition? If so what is a 'direct tax?' Is land tox the only one which can be 'apportioned?' Are the land owners to pay all the cost of the crusade of Congress and manifest destiny? Is strict construction and are State rights to be abandoned, and are we to give up State corporations to the bankruptcies of a fed eral commission? Where would have been our people and their effects last year if a federal power could have put our State banks into a course of liquidation under a commission of bankruptcy ?-Is the South-is any portion of our country, in a signation to rush into war-war, invited by the President with three European and five American Powers? And are we to be a grand consolidated elective, North and South American imperialism The question is not, 'Will the Union be dissolved? That is a settled question. But the question is, 'ls the old Virginia Democratic faith to abandoned and are we rush on with the President into a full scheme of federal policy which in its whole outline exceeds any federalism in all its points which a Hamilton or Adams or any other latitudinarian ever dared to project or propose? For my part I ake ground now firmly and at once against the war lower. I am for the Washington policy of peace, against all entangling alliances and protectorates, and the Jackson rule of 'demanding nothing but what is right and submitting to nothing that is wrong,' and for preserving and protectthe South and whole country from ambitious and buccaneering wars, of which the landed and planting interests would have to bear the burthens at a great sacrifice of present prosperity. am against internal improvements by the general government, more than ever since their construction is put un the war power. If we could beard England up to 54° 40, ten years ago, without a road or known route to Oregon-why can't we wait for emigrants to beat a path on their way to gold mines and hold California without cutting a military road in time of peace? I am for retrenchment and reform of all expenditures and for revenue only for an economical administrat on on a scale of pure, old fashioned republican simplicity, discriminating no more than is necessary to present pro hibi ion on non-dut able articles. I am for free trade, and the protection it affords is demonstrably ample for a people of enterprise and arts like ours. I am against State bank bankruptcy and all sorts of bankruptcy whatever. The federal government shall never declare again that honest debts shall be aid by gulping, and oaths with my consent: But my paper is run out.

Eve n in the high places the noisy riot goes on. The President bids high. To fil ibusters he offers Cuba and the Isthmus and North Mex co; to the West a Pacific Railroad; to the North protection to irou and coarse woolens; and to the great commercial countries the power of centralization by obvious uses and abuses of a bankrupt act to apply to State banks. Yesterday Biddle was a monster and to-day a few Wall street bankers can expand. and contract upon us more like a vice than be did; and what would they not do if they could force the poor provinces when they please, into bank-ruptcy? I have written this right on, and you may do what you please with it. Yours truly, HENRY A. WISE.

"When the mother was discovered in the act, she was sitting up in bed tossing and throwing one of the little ones to and fro in a state of wild frenzy. Immediate measures were taken to secure the babe, but the least approach of the two watchers increased her raving dreadfully. Before the arrival of aid the insane mother had seized one of the infants with her teeth, mangling and tearing the flesh from its neck and head in such a manner, that when the little thing was rescued. life had fled. The spasms and convulsions did not seem to abate in the least until the arrival of her husband, who was the only one she recognized. We are informed that Mrs. B. is suffect to fits, which have been known to last for two or three days at a time, but never, except in this case, exhibited any such raving symptoms.

FEARFUL MARATIME DRAMA .- Massacre of 330 Men. - The Courrier des Etats Unis gives a long statement of the loss of the ship St Paul, and the massacre of three bundred and thirty persons on hoard, both sailors and passengers. The news was received by the last European mails. The ship was owned by Marzion & Co., of Havre, and she was wrecked on the passage from China to Australia, with a load of Chinese emigrants:

The wreck took place near an island of the Louisade Archipelago, on the 11th of September, but the passengers escaped from this peril, and an English vessel was bailed. It was too small to carry away all the unfortunates, and three hundred and thirty were left till word was taken to Sydney and another vessel sent to their reli-f. this District, met to discuss their respective claim to the popular support for that distinguished trust on Monday last; and to define their positions upon the political issues of the day, in conformity with that time honored custom in Varginia, which contributes so much to the Intelligent political action

The ball was opened by Mr. FAULENER, in a speech of an hour in length, in which he set forth in a clear and satisfactory manner, the circumstances under which he again appeared before his fellowizens and claimed their continued support as Congressional candidate, basing it upon his fidelity to the Constitutional rights of the South and unimpeached loyalty to the tenets and doctrines of the National Democratic faith—calling upon his opponents to point to a single act, vote or speech of his while in Congress, that did not redound to the honor and glory of the country, and that was not redolen of devotion and fealty to the Constitution and the Union. His record was before the people, and to he invited their scrutiny. He complained not of any opposition to himself-this was incident to every public man + provided it was open, manly and honest, and not that wretched and discreditable opposition which rests upon private spleen and petty caviling, resorted to by disappointed aspirants and office seekers. He stood before them as the nominee of the Democratic party, fairly represented in Conrention, without any agency of his, but as a free will offering of the party, and as such he claimed the support of all true Democrats; a reasonable claim upon all who honestly desired the continued success and triumph of Democratic measures. He passed a glowing enlogy upon the steadlast and unbroken support given by the mother of States and Statesmen, to the principles of Democracy, continning as it has from the birth of the Government to the present time, citing with happy effect and taste, the ancient saying that when "Rome falls the Roman Republic falls;" showing with force and truth that when Virginia proves recreant to her ancient faith, the Union must find its grave in that abyss where Know Nothingism and Abolitionism and every other political delusion and folly fester

He spoke of the remarkable fact that the whole policy of the government, and every law upon the national statute book, bore the impress and spirit of Democratic principles, which had ruled the country without interruption-save by parenthesis, as it were-from the commencement of its existence: and in vindication of its wisdom and glory, pointed with exultant pride to the country's unparalleled growth in power and strength-its expansion in territory, the widely extended blessings of education, wealth, and individual prosperity and bappiness. Under Democratic Administrations, Florida, Louisiana, and the magnificent lone-star Republic of Texas. had been added to the bright sisterhood of States, together with every other accession of territory and power, which can contribute to the National welfare, all of which have owed their consummation to the policy of that great party which factious opposition and individual treachery now seeks to crush

Mr. F. seems to have learned by past experience, the total inability of Mr. B to grapple with him in the discussion of political details, and in the close analysis of constitutional principles, and acting upon this knowledge of his opponent's deficiency in logical acumen and power, chose to meet him rather with the lighter weapons of general truths and literary declamation, than the severe deductions of logic and naked argumentation, which he used with an aptness and ease which surprised us, knowing as we do, the practical turn of his mind, and the great solidity of his intellectual powers. After holding the assembled audience in close attention for an hour, he took his seat amidst significant ap-

Mr. Botelen, then took the stand, evidently oppressed with a sense of his novel position as a candidate, without any party endorsation, and without any particular principles to announce to the people as the guide of his political action. He had however, the charnel house of defunct political organizations, from which to draw forth an occasional bone, white with long burial, to brandish with chastly effect before his audience. There was the old Whig party, with its exploded theories and fallacies-that party upon whose ruins Mr. B. once declared that another organization (unfit now to mention) was reared, and which was not responsible for its broken vows and violated pledges-a party whose central principle was bound up in an extra-judicial oath to trample upon the constitus tional rights of a large portion of the American people; which said party more than once honored Mr. B. with the high privilege of obtaining the crown of political martyrdom, and the unique title of the 'great defeated.' At this point it occurred to us, why was the opposition so short-sighted as again to place a candidate in the field, who bore the heavy weight of oft-repeated failure, knowing as they must, the force of prestige, but we were enlightend. The party was not consulted. They had other men perhaps willing to offer themselves as a sacrifice upon the party altar, but they had no chance. They had a candidate without the trouble of calling a convention, and discussing individual claims for that high houor. Be it so, it is not our concern. and we pass on to Mr. B.

He opened in his usual graceful and happy style, claiming that he was the candidate of everybody who was opposed to Mr. F. He did not come to war upon the Democracy, but only upon their candidate : that the true men of the Democracy were with him; thus admitting in effect that he desired not so much to represent any political principles or not intended in its full unworthiness and objectionable character, but as a momentary ebullition of excitement and partizanship; but this alone should be sufficient to give him his political quietus, and to silence the gallant Shakspearian candidate forever. Mr. B. thea indulged in some impotent attacks upon the primary meeting in District No. 4, and read from the Spirit the proceedings of that meeting. The gentleman also made the astounding declaration that the Anti-Faulkner Convention had been abandoned by the disaffected Democrats, and that their purpose was to support him. We would say to him, "lay not this flattering unction to your soul." There are a great many people, good natured, sanguine people in the world, who believe everything agreeable, that is told them. Be not deceived-those socalled Democrats who have promised to vote for Mr. Faulkper and work for Mr. Boteler, if there are any such, are not to be relied upon in any emergency. No treachery can be sately trusted. Their purpose doubtless is, in the event of Mr. Boteler's electionof which the supposition even is absurd-to set up a prior claim to any patronage or influence he may have to bestow. Mr. B. then passed in review the emancipation discussion of 1832, and adverted to the fact that Mr. F. took part in that memorable debate, twenty-seven years ago, long before the slavery question had assumed the form of a great political issue; when it was presented purely as an eccnomic inquiry as to expediency, without reference to its social aspect or political bearing, and which took the position long occupied by Mr. Jefferson, the father of the State Rights Republican party, and was then held by almost every intelligent man in Virginia, and although carrying the covert insinuation that Mr. F. was imbued with sentiments hostile to the peculiar institution, Mr. B. made the

Mr. Faulkner replied to this with telling force that the gentleman now so filled with boly horror at doctrines set forth by him in 1832, took the hust ings in the campaign in 1851 with great zeal and en thusiasm in behalf of George W. Summers, who and went as far as any one at that day in his war upon the institution in Virginia. Mr. B. spoke of the moral weakness of Mr. F. in any defence of slav very he might make in Congress. If this is so, we ask how much more the objection would have applied to Summers as Governor of Virginia, But it is too late to urge this stale matter, and to call upon the Democratic party of the District to stultify itself by proscribing Mr. Faulkner, whom they have horetofore trusted for eight years in Congress, and to pronounce him at this late day unsound upon this vital subject. The more so, when that record to which he now points with pride, breathes in every act and word the most earnest and deepseated attachment to the honor and rights of the South, whenever and wherever assailed by abolition miscreants and traitors. We cannot follow Mr. B. in his rambling and desultory remarks. He made many hits and facetious allusions, which provoked considerable merriment in the crowd, especially among the boys; quoted the great Dramatist large v. in which he excels to a limited extent.

Upon the whole, we can concede that Mr. B. is a fluent and pleasant declaimer, but there can be no doubt that he is sadly deficient in the powers o close and logical argument, and evidently has but an imperfect and confused knowledge of the political history of the country, or of the philosophy of our government and constitutional system. These are only attained after long mental discipline and training, and the constant exercise of solid mental owers, and cannot be apprehended without much abor and study. Divested of these, no man is com petent to represent a district in Congress efficient or with credit. It requires something more than that graceful style of thought and expression, which s required to address the knights at a mock tournsment, or to crown the Queen of May at a female school. For these exercises we think the graceful style of Mr. B's oratory is peculiarly suited; but men in real life expect and demand something infinately more practical and substantial.

Mr. Faulkner, in reply, said that he was utterly stounded at the statement made by Mr. B. that there were men who would vote for him, and lend their influence to Mr. B; denounced their treachery and baseness, and repudiated their support. Such conduct was infamous indeed :-

"Oh for a tongue to curse the slave, &. After fully meeting Mr. B.'s points, such ae they were, and vindicating the Administration against the Black Republican charges of Congressional extravagance and corruption, he took his seat, after playing some sally upon Mr. B. and his attempt to ide two hobbies.

Mr. Boteler replied in the same vein, and the dis cussion ended harmoniously and pleasantly, only being occasionally being disturbed by the manifestations of bad whiskey operating upon imperfectly developed brains.

Loud calls being then made for Mr. ISBELL, that gentlemau came forward and made a few felicitious in any discussion of the political issues of the day in consequence of the absence of his opponent, whom he complimented highly as a high-minded and honorable gentleman, and the worthy son of a most worthy sire.

"ARISE! SHINE, OR BE FOREVER FALLEN!

Not satisfied with their significant failure to get up a Convention on the 20th inst., the anti-Faulkperites of this county continue to flaunt their banper in the breeze and call upon the ever faithful to rally to the rescue. We have undoubted assurances from every portion of the 8th Congressional District that our course meets the approbation of at least a thousand democrats in the several counties comprising it, and who like ourselves are determined to teach the tricksters who now govern our party Conventions that the rights and privileges of the people cannot nor shall not be invaded with impunity. MANY OLD LINE DEMOCRATS.

ELECTION OF JUDGE.

The important election which occurred last week for Judge of the Court of Appeals in place of Judge SAMUELS, deceased, created so little excitement that the poll at many of the precincts was not opened, and the vote in many of the counties is so small as scarce to amount to one-fourth the actual vote. The returns indicate with almost certainty, the election of Mr. Robertson of Albemarle. Said to be an excellent selection.

THE 7TH DISTRICT.

A most exciting canvass is in progress in the Alexandria District. Messrs. Smith and Shackleford, Democrats, are contesting every inch of ground, while Mr. Thomas, Whig, is on the alert to horde together the "Opposition," and secure his election by division and distraction in our own ranks. The action of the Whig party in this matter has neither been manly or just, and we cannot but express our surprise that so honorable and intelligent a gentleman as Mr. Thomas, should have lent himself to a party trick of this character .-Success may be desirable, but there are times when honorable defeat redounds more to the credit of the vanquished than the victor.

Mr. Goggin on Tea and Coffee .- The Washington correspondent of the Alexandria Sentinal says, that " by reference to page 302 of the House Journal, first session, 27th Congress, it will be seen that the Tariff bill, containing a clause taxing Tea and Coffee, was passed by yeas 116, navs 101. Messra. J.Q. Adams, Giddings and Goggin voting in the affirmative. And at page 305 same Journal, you will find Mr. Goggin voting against reconsidering the bill."

Why not have appointed any and all Demecrats who chose to attend that Convention as delegates to cast the vote of the county?

Such barefaced chicanery won't bear a bead.

The above is in strict accordance with the plan adopted by the 'Opposition' for conducts ing the present contest, and exhibits a recklessness bordering on desperation. The charge of packing is false, and the editor knew it to be when he made it. We have no desire to pervert facts or to conceal anything that has occurred in this county either in the appointment of delegates or the calling of meetings by which they were appointed. We have we have taken. In calling the meetings, which we know we had a perfect right to do. we called them for Democrats, and not for Faulkner or anti-Faulkner men. We were governed by no desire to discriminate between Democrats. We called them with a view to enable the county to have a representation in the Convention which assembled in Winchester, and not for the purpose; or with the intent of having them packed for Mr. Faulkner, or Mr. anybody else. These meetings were held under the came auspices that have characterized the party organization since we have had any knowledge of, or participation in party politics, and under a system of which we are not the author, and for which we are not responsible; and the very same system resorted to by the Opposition to secure representation in their Senatorial and Delegate Conventions. True, we appointed fewer delegates than they, but the principle of appointing was identically the same. They acted differently in their conventions, and threw down the bars for every member of the 'Opposition' who might chance to be present. Now if this course was a indicious and proper one. we are at a loss to conceive the necessity or propriety of appointing del gates at all. But, to the precinct meetings. We presume it is understood why this more of appointing delegates was resorted to, and those who look at the matter without p'ejudice, must confess that the precinct systein is the proper and correct one. It was adopted in the first place to afford the people sh opportunity of expressing their sentiments, and to do away with the old system of a few persons about the Court-House appointing delegates for a whole county. When these meetings were called in February last, it was ext pected that the people would attend them, and take part in their proceedings, but their confidence in the 'leaders' induced them to stay away and leave the work to others.

Due notice was given of these meetings, and if the opponents of Mr. Faulkner were so anxious to defeat his nomination, why did'nt they attend and express their wishes? Why stay away from the meetings, where they would have been kindly received, and where they would have had an opportunity of making known their sentiments? As to these charges of the Free Press, we unhesitatingly assert that they have no foundation in fact, and are only made to court favor with those whose minds were made up long prior to these precinct meetings to oppose Mr. F. if he should receive the nomination. The charges of "nefarious and dishonest means" are only the absurd conjectures of the editor's distempered brain, and are but the evidences of what might have occurred had he been allowed a participation in these meetings.

EXPECTED DISCUSSION.

Friday next, is the day upon which the Hon. JOHN LETCHER is expected to address the people of Jefferson on the questions at issue in the pending Gubernatorial canvass .-We have not learned whether Mr. Goggin will be present, but have no doubt the 'Opposition' will secure the service of some of their 'big guns' for the occasion. Messrs. Montague and Tucker have not been heard from, as the movements of Mr. Goggin in the East are so uncertain as to forbid any arrangement for over a few days continuance. Messrs. Faulkner, Isbell, Hoge and other of our efficient champions are expected to be in attendance. o e shall anticipate a large and enthusiastic outpouring of the Democracy. Mr. Letcher will be in Martinsburg on Thursday, and Winchester Saturday.

THE GREAT "DISSATISFIED" CONVENTION.

To-day (Wednesday, 20th April,) is the time appointed for the meeting of the great 'dissatisfied' Anti Faulkner Convention in this place. The names of the Delegates, the name of the lucky nominee, and a report of proceedings generally, will be given in our next, for the particular benefit of our opponents, who take a lively interest in everything pertaining to this Convention.—Win. And there is another matter upon which we particular ly caution you. ### THE LATE JUDICIAL ELECTION.

Although a most important election of Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals of this State occurred on the 14th instant, vet the returns thus far received are so meagre, and incomplete as to render it doubtful who is the Judge elect. The most profound ap thy invariably characterizes the Judicial elections under the new Constitution. We do not remember an instance of more than one-half the popular vote having been polled in any judicial district or circuit, in which there has en an election since the adoption of the new Constitution. Rival candidates for the office of Constable will frequently greatly excite the masses, and call the lame, the balt and the blind to the polls, but the election of the highest judicial officers in the State utterly fail to excite the slightest interest.

The election in the Rockingham Judicial District furnishes a striking illustration of this unpardonable indifference of the people in matters directly touching their lives and their property. There were in that district three candidates for the seat in the Court of Appeals, made vacant by the death of Judge Samuels, and three more learned, virtuous, able and excellent gentlemen never presented themselves as candidates for the judicial ermine. They were also widely and popularly known in the section of the State in which they were candidates, Messrs. Baldwin and Robertson being lawyers in full practice, and Judge Parker a popular and able Circuit

Yet the election returns show that there revailed in those sections of the district where the candidates were best known, the profoundest apathy and indifference, in no instance more than half the vote of a county being polled, and in the majorty of the counties not one-fourth of the voters going to the polls. The absence, however, of all political feeling or bias was a pleasant feature in the late election. The voters seem, in the midst of the political excitement pervading the State to have agreed upon a truce so far as the judicial election was concerned. Thus we find the sturdy Democracy of the Tenth Legion voting for Mr. BALDWIN almost en masse, although that gentleman is a Whig, whereas had Mr. B. been a cardidate for Congress he would not have been heard of in the great Democratic counties of Shenandoah and Rockingham, except as the recipient of the microscopic Whig vote of those counties. Although we regret the increasing apathy of the people with reference to the judicial elections, yet we rejoice at the aversion of the people of Virginia to mingling the fitthy waters of political strife with our judicial elections. The conservatism of Virginia in this particular stands forth in striking contrast with that partisan spirit in other States, which has not spared even the indicial ermine.

EASTER SUNDAY.

To-morrow, 24th inst., is Easter Sunday, and it is said to occur at a period later than since 1791. Easter Monday is well known and almost universally observed by our colored population, as one of their recognized holydays. Yesterday was recognized, says one of our exchanges:

"In the Church calendar, as 'Good Friday. It is the strictest fast of the season, being commemorative of the day on which the Son of God was crucified by the Jews, between two thieves on Mount Calvary, and of his death and burial. Holy Saturday is to remind one of the sadness, mourning and dread into which the holy disciples were thrown after the crucifixion of their Lord. It also refers to the state of anxiety in which they were awaiting the fulfilment of the promised resurrection; an event that is celebrated on the next day (Easter Sunday) with feasting, joy, hope, gladness and good will, 'for the Lord risan from the dood !

In various countries they have peculiar customs, which are practised during the above period. In England on Good Friday they eat 'hot cross-buns,' (buns on which the figure of a cross is made,) and at Easter they serve up eggs stained in various colors."

Webster thus defines the approaching fes

Try something more effectual as a humbug issue, if you have no solid objections to Mr. ISBELL:

Ma, Epiron: -In the address of Mr. K. to the Opposition Senatorial Convention, on the Sth inst, he attacked the Democratic hominee, Mr. Isbell, because of his participation in the petition to the last Legislature, to attach a part of this county to Clarke. On that subject, Mr. K. censured triends last Legislature, to attach a part of this county to Clarke. On that subject, Mr. K. censured friends and foes, in such harsh terms as would have unavoidably extorted a reply; had I been present. And you, Mr. Editor, were at one time, equally harsh. We were charged with having tased the petition upon the avowed ground of the exhorbitant country taxation. Now, I assert that we did no such thing. That the petition contained not one word of complaint of or reference to, the taxes. The application was upon totally different grounds.—

'Tis true, the member in charge of the petition was furnished with a statement, showing both the various items of county taxation, and the portion of each assessed upon that part of the county pro of each assessed upon that parties was done, to prove that the taxes within the said portion constituted so small a part of the whole,—less than three per cent;—that if the application were granted, the increased taxation of the county could be remedied by a little economy.

But, suppose we had complained of the county does not every tax-payer do the same? With an aggregate tax of more than $70,000, and a county tax, (part thereof,) of more than $22,000, who does not know that the people of Jefferson are more heavily burdened than any others outside the corporate cities? And why is it, that the poor levy in the large and populous county of Albemarle was, in 1858, about $2800; whilst in this compact, rich, prosperous, braggart county of Jefferson, the levy was some $2000 more? Why is it, also, that fully one fourth of the white male titheables are elinquents; whilst in Clarke there are only some wenty odd or thirty? Do not these facts furnish ist ground of complaint? We know that many izens were desirous of enlarging the portion of hem. And we verily believe, if we had proposed to add one third of the county to Clarke, we could have gotten the signature of every landowner therein. We prate about the extravagance of the government in Washington; but one must not dare to object to the more onerous expenditure of our county officials. Truly, the times are evil. when twelve or fourteen citizens cannot be even suspected of making complaint against notorious mismanagement, without being denounced and

Our streets presented quite a lively appearance on Saturday last, it being the day fixed for the parade sition to the Black Republicans to unite with the At Il o'clock, in obedience to Capt. Rossy's command, "Market House company fall in !" that we'lldisciplined organization took up the line of march for the "green" at the western end of the town. At the Run District, they were then joined by the "Holl's Pump company," Sergeant E. R. HARRELL, in command. Thus strengthened Capt. Robey "put them through" for a couple of hours, much to his own gratification, and the infinite delight of a large number of boys, some of a larger growth. Capt. R. evinces much improvement in military tactics since we last saw him muster his force, and we have no doubt that in a short time the ' Market House Company" will be looked on with pride by our citizens generally. The Capt. was ably assisted by Lieut. STEWART.

On Monday afternoon the "Jefferson Cadets." Capt. C. H. STEWART, had a dress parade, and went through the various evolutions with credit to themselves and their worthy Captain. The number in line was small, but this may be accounted for when we consider the kind of applause Mr. Boteler received while addressing the sovereigns.

THE SICKLES TRIAL.

Still moves its slow length along. The main evidence in the case has been gotten through with, but from the array of council and the great mass of evidence as collateral to the chief points, there is no telling as yet when the trial will be concluded.

An instance of almost unprecedented disinterestedness is related by Mr. Warren, M. P., the author of "Ten Thousand a Year." A short time ago, a gentleman in England of large fortune-worth £40,000-was indignant with his daughter, an only child for marrying against his wishes. He quarreled with her, and left the whole property to his attorney and other gentlemen. His attorney went to his co legatees, got them to sign their claims over to him, and then paid the whole £40,000 to the daughter!

.... We have heretofore failed to notice that Mr. SAMUEL S. MOORE, qualified a Court or two since, as one of the Deputy Sheriffs under Mr. CAMPBELL, the High Sheriff of the county. Messrs. ROBT. LUCAS, JR, and JAS. D. Gibson are also Deputies. John Avis,

CHAS. B. HANCOCK has been appointed postmaster at Summit Point; and M. P. Chapman postmaster at Leetown. Both offices are in Jefferson county.

late trial of Stephens in New York, for the murder of his wife, after the verdict of guilty had been rendered, and the jurors retiled, the spectators dispersed, the sheriff with his depuapproached the prisoner. His little daughter, Bella, about six years old, turned towards Stephens, and, after kissing him, said: 'Come, pa! let us go now, it is see, pa! the people are going.' Human nature, says the New York 'Express,' could not stand this-the sheriff turned away to hide a tear, and retired, leaving the prisoner alone with his relatives and counsel. Pocket handkerchiefs were drawn out by many present, and the attempts of the male portion of the audience, to stop out the outlet of the heart's fountain, were of no avail. Such an affecting scene has rarely been witnessed.

THE FISHERIES .- We regret to learn that, so far, the fishing season has been but a poor one - and that but few, if any, of the landings, have been successful. On the 17th herring cut and pile it for forty cents a cord, and take pay were selling-the few that came up-at $13 per thousand; the same day last year, they sold at $10. He referred to the fact of the Hon. Mr. Stuart having in a speech, delivered in that place the week previous, alluded to his, Mr. Letcher's connection with the Ruffner pamphlet, and declared him to be unworthy of the confidence of the people of Virginia. He, Mr. L., had only to say that this very gentleman went to the polls, time after time and voted for him as a candidate for Congress. Mr. Stuart was aware then of his connection with the Ruffner pamphlet and considered him worthy of frust and confidence; now upon that score, why have endorsed him by his vote?

He referred to the further fact that there were not 500 men in his Congressional District, of any party who did not, at some time or another, rate for him either for the Reform Convention or for Congress.

Mr. Letcher said that Mr. Alderman editor of the cate of Mr. Goggin, in his paper, the 'Greenbrier Independent' Mr. L. also referred to the 'proceedings of a meeting, held in Greenbrier county, in tice was done to the West on the basis question, which was then being considered and discussed in the Reform Convention. Of the 15 gentlemen who composed the committee which brought in the resolution, eight were in favor of Goggin's election. olusion, eight were in favor of Goggin's election.

L. spoke of the danger of reviving these sectional issues upon the basis question when that same question would come up for discussion, in 1865. Every one had believed this sectional strife was ended and it would have been, if it was not now revived in order to put him down. On the basis question, as on all others, he stood by his own people in the Reform Convention, and for his fide ity, to their interests his constituents had rewarded him on his return to them by electing him to a seat in Congress, which he had held for the last eight years; it the people believed be had done wrong in firmly adhering to the interests of his constituents; they could vote against him: He ois constituents, they could vote against him: He could live independent of the office and he should not seek to gain it by truckling to the passions of the people of the East or the West; How was it in Legislature in 1847, between Joseph Seger and Robt, E. Scott, in the discussion on the constitutionality of the Wilmot Proviso, the latter gentleman contended that it was constitutional, while Mr. Segar who advocated Mr. L.'s election, took the pposite side of the question. In 1847, Mr. Scott eclared slavery to be an evil; and yet this is one of the gentlemen who calls upon the people to pronounce judgement of cendennation against him. The Hon. W. C. Bives, who had been honored with a seat in both houses of Congress and wice the Minister Plenipotentiary to France, had in 1837, declared that slavery was not only a social and political evil, but a MORAL, social and political

'Mr. Letcher read extracts from Mr. John M. Botts' Powhattan speech, and from his New York speech, inviting Black Republicans to unite with Whigs in an alliance to defeat the Democracy. Mr. G. said when he Mr. L. died politically, over his remains would be engraven on his tomb stone, 'Died of the Botts.' He advised his competitor to make himself perfectly easy on that subject, he never knew Mr. Botts to damage any other party than his own. If the Democrats were ever hard run for an issue they had only to let Botts have a chance and he would fernish them one. From Mr. Botts' African Church speech Mr. L. read extracts favoring the acceptance of free negro votes, if they should elective franchise and then asked the audience if he Mr. Letcher, was to be condemned at the command of such a man as this. Allunding to Botts propo-Whice he asked the Southern Whice if they would concur in the opinion that the Democratic party of Virginia was less worthy to be trusted than the Black Republicans of the North. When Botts' de sires were accomplished what would they de? If you organize this party its effect, would be to divide South by building up within it, a party upon Botts holy afficience. Mr. Letcher avowed his warm and heartfelt at achment to the State of Virginia and to the Union he unhesitatingly and emphatically, declared his determination, if ever he was Governor of this ancient old Commonwealth, with the aid of the peo-ple, to resist any encroachment by the General Government upon the rights of the State, in the event of a conflict between the General Government, and any Southern State, to stop the march of Federal troops, through the territory of Virginia nost enthusiastically applauded by the audien

'Mr. Letcher read from the Congressional Glob to show that he did not vote to admit Mr. Lewi D. Campbell, to a seat in Congress. Every South American present did vote to admit him under the resolution of Mr. Gilmer of North Carolina.
The argumen sof Mr. Letcher against the Pension Birl, were conclusive and convincing. He discussed the Distribution and Tariff Bills and gave satisfactory reasons why he was opposed to them.
The party for which Mr. Goggin was allied voed for Fuller, for Speaker in the U. S. House of Representatives, in opposition to Mr. Aiken for which he, Mr. L. gave his vote. He alluded to the charge of fraud brought against the President of the United States. It was very remarkable that after Mr. Goggin appeals to the Democratic party to stand by him, he should come forward and try to arraign the President whom that party had elected. Mr. Letcher concluded by ask ng in what all this guilt consists? So e one wrote to him about a contract for the construction of one of the vessels ordered to be built by Congress end reed this application to the Navy artment as it was proper for him to do. He did of think Mr. Buchanan would be fool enough send this to the Navy Department to be recorded there was anything like fraud connected with the transaction, for by so doing he would be affording an opportunity of bringing it up at any moment.—

.The advent of John Letcher into Eastern Virginia has caused quite a fluttering in the Opposifou camp. They had fondly hoped to be able to charge cowardice on the part of Mr. Letchen and at the same time keep a clear field for Mr. Goggin .-But 'Honest John' is not made of such material and has absolutely had the audacity-to follow his competitor into the jaws of the lion of the East. ### Richmond Whig vs. Letcher.

The Richmond Whig, during last September, declared that it had never charged or insinuated ject of glavery. It said : WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT HE IS ENSOUND ON THE SUBJECT OF SLAVERY NOW .-ON THE CONTEARY, WE HAVE JUST AS MUCH CONFI-VERY, AND IN HIS ENLIGHTENED AND SINCERE DEVO-TION TO ALL THE GREAT INTERESTS OF THE STATE, AS WE HAVE IN THE LOYALTY AND DEVOTION OF ANY OTHER DEMOCRAT IN THE COMMONWEALTH. - Norfolk

We frankly admit that the Richmond Whig did employ the above quoted language in reference to Mr. Leicher, during the month of September last.

FOR THE HARVEST OF 1859. THE BEST COMBINED Reaper de Mower,

In use, as endorsed by the United States Agricultural Society, MANNYS COMBINED REAPER AND MOWER With Wood's Improvement.

MANNY'S COMBINED REAPER AND MOW. ER, with Wood's Improvement, is again pre-sented by the subscriber for public favor and pa-tronage. This Machine will be manufactured for the harvest of 1859, with improvements, and in a style that will fully maintain its character as the best combined Machine yet introduced, and inferior to none either as a Reaper or Mower. The extradrdinary competition that has sprung up in the last three years in the manufacture of reaping and Mow-ing Machines, has taxed ingenuity and enlisted capital and labor to an uncommon extent. Inven-tors and manufacturers who had achieved success, have not be an alcount of the control of the c have not been allowed for a moment to rest. In the sharp and eager strife all have been pushed, some have been overtaken, some left behind, and many, very many, new Machines, that started with wonderful vigor and promises, have utterly failed.

Manny's combined Machine, with Wood's Improvement, has had a steady and increasing popularity from the first. Achieving a complete success in the first important trial at Geneva, in 1852, it carried off the highest honors in the great National Field Trial at Syracuse, in 1857, and amidst all the competitions and trials of 1858 came out with more and better established points of excellence than ever before, for the reason that as a combined Machine it has no rival - it is beyond compe-tition. The form and combination of the guard and knife enable it to cut with less power than any other, as has been demonstrated, and without ever clogging. The oblique structure of the platform the easiest metaod of discharging the grain ever invented. These are original and elemental principles in this machine. For the future this will be looked after, and parties infringing will be prosecuted. The general principle peculiar to this machine, and upon which it is constructed have proved so successful that there has been no attempt to charge them. The main effort for the coming season will be to improve the mechanical construction of the machine, to make it stronger and more durable. In respect to strength, style and finish the farmer who wants a machine that will last and look well shall not be disappointed. The aim is to sustain the reputation of the machine as the leading and most acceptable machine to the largest class of farmers in the country. (A Any person wanting a reliable Machine should order early, as the supply is limiteo. T. W. MASON, Agent,

WILD OHERRY.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Feb. 5, 1854.

To SETH W. FOWLE.—My Dear Sir:—Having experienced results of a satisfactory character from the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry; in cases of severe colds, during the last two years, I am induced to express the full faith I have in its renovating power.

I was first induced to try this medicine as an experiment, about two years ago, in connection with the strong recommendation of a friend, who was well nigh gone with consumption, and whose relief from the use of it satisfied ine of its great value in cases of colds and dedline, and most clearly demonstrating to my mind its great value as a restorative that needs only a fair trial to insure a grateful dem onstration from the public.

April 2, 1859. DORSEY'S SELF-RAKING Reaper & Mower MANUFACTURED AND SOLD BY-

OWEN DORSEY. HOWARD COUNTY, MD.

THE undersigned have been appointed Agents of the counties of Clarke and Jefferson, for this Reaper, which is the most COMPLETE LABOR SAVING HARVESTER ever invented. It is war ranted to be a perfect, reliable, and in all respects satisfactory SELF-RAKING REAPER. In enumerating some few of the many advantages claim ed for it over all others, we will say that'.

Dorsey's Self-Raking Reaper is of lighter draught than any other machine. Its extreme simplicity of construction precludes the liability of derangement. It is compact and durable, being made of the best material

The driver sits on the horse next the grain side, where he can have a full view of the operation and avoid all obstructions.

It dispenses with the reel entirely. The Revolving Arms serving a far better purpose—gathering the grain gently to the cutters without threshing or shattering, and depositing it with regularity on the platform.
When sufficient straw has been cut to form a roper sized sheaf, the Rake, in an easy, graceful nanner. removes it from the Platform, by side delivery, leaving the track perfectly clear, so that an entire field may be cut if desired, before binding a single sheaf. The straw is laid srtaight and even at the butt. No straw will be found scattered between the sheafs; therefore a horse-rake will be unnecessary. The sheaves are delivered with regularity.— Their compact and neat appearance cannot be equalled by any hand raker, from reaping machine or cradling swathes.

The rake can be adjusted to suit heavy or light grain, forming large or small sheaves, as desired Binders prefer working after this machine-and farmers can dispense with one or more binders by using it—simply because the gavels are laid in better condition and this laborious operation of binding rendered far less fatiguing by the regu larity with which the sheaves are formed.

The rake takes off, equally well, either tangled or straight grain, leaving the butts even and The weight of the rake is near the same of that of the ordinary reel, requiring no more power to work it; and by dispensing with the weight of a hand raker it is evident that less however, is required to drive the machine. By the substitution of the rake, the labor, wages and board of a man are saved, to say nothing of the extra power requisite to draw him over the ground, especially when he is located near the grain side, thus greatly increasing the side draught. The machine is perfectly balanced, leaving no more weight on the horses necks than is necessary to keep the tengue down. The alteration from Reaner to Mower, is effected by simply unscrewing three bolts, raising or lowering the frame, and then tightening the screws. The mowing arrangement has been greatly im-proved, and operates in all kinds of clover and grass in the most satisfactory manner. In evidence of the above, we beg leave to refer to the joint certificate of the following gentlemen who have tested the merits and witnessed the op-

JEFFERSON COUNTY, Va., July 26th 1858. We, the undersigned, would certify that we have witnessed the successful operation of Mr. "Owen Dorsey's Self Raking Grain Reaper and Mower combined," and would most heartily commend i to the Farmers of Virginia as being the cheapest, of the lightest draught, and certainly the most complete labor saving machine for this particular purpose ever invented. The Rake is simple, yet perfect in its effect, laying the gavels well. needs only a trial to recommend itself. We believe tt will supercede all others. JAS. B. McGARRY. GEORGE W. NEILL.

THE FARMER. He lives apart From crowded mart 'Mid Nature's charms, Free from alarms Ot knavish arts And worldly bearts; From the usurer's paw. From attorneys at-law. From the demagogue's guile And his politic smile From grog shops and bella, The clang of fire belis, And the mob's savage yells; From the dust and din, And the shameless sin, The unpitied want, Despairing and guant, And the vain display Of wealth's proud array, That mingle and meet In the dirty street, Secluded and far, From tumult and jar, 'Mid the peace that broods Over hills and woods, As the seasons bring, On their punctual wing, The varying cheer And toil of the year, His interest ranges, Through all their changes : And his worldly pride, With fields well tilled And barns well filled Is satisfied. Character Better than Credit means dolefully contrasting their lot with that of rich men's sons. Yet the longer we live, the more we are convinced that the old merchant was right, who said to us when we began to live, Industry, my lad, is better than ingots of gold, and character more valuable than cred- John Quigley. We could furnish, if need were, from a score of illustrations to prove the truth of his remarks. In all branches of lusiness, in all avocations, character, in the long run, is the best capital. Says poor Richard: The sound of your hammer at five in the morning, or nine at night, heard by a creditor, makes him easy for six months longer; but if he sees you at a gambling table, or hears your voice at a tavern, when you should be at work, he sends for his money the next day. What is true of the young mechanic, is true also of the merchant or young lawyer. Od and sagacious firms will not long continue to give credit for thou sands of dolars, when they see the purchaser, if a young man, driving fast horses, or lounging in drinking saloons. Clients will not entrust their cases to advocates, however brilliant who frequent the card-table, the wine party. or the race course. It is better in beginning life, to secure a reputation fer industry and probity, than to own houses and lands, if with them you have no character .- U. S. Econo-

Swiss Manufacturing Industry.

The population of Switzerland is about 2,-400, 000. Of this number, 250,000 are einployed in the different branches of manufactures. Of these 73,000 are engaged in spinning, weaving, bleaching, or printing cotton, 45,000 in the silk trade, and 39.500 in the clock and watch-making trades. The silk and cotton trades are principally confined to the German cantons of Baile, Zouch, and Saint Gall; the watch and clock traces are chiefly erried on in the French cantons. From Genoa alone the United States receives annually, via Havre, about 240,000 watches, though it is believed that the success which has already signalized watch-making industry experiment-will cause a sensible diminution in the importation of Swiss watches, so long an important element in our trade with that republic.

Several physi- all parts of the United States. never seen anything of the sort, and do not know what to call the disease, and are utterly at loss to know what treatment should be adopted. The attack commences with a sore throat which soon assumes a form of most malignant ulceration, and finally the throat swells unaccountably, and the sufferer dies. Nearly all thus far attacked - mostly children -have died. The disease is of short duration. Is it not the same which has prevailed at Albany and adjacent places? Its characteristics are quite similar.

SCERE IN THE NEW YORK ASSEMBLY, - AD affair of rather an exciting character o curred one day in the New York assembly. After an unsuccessful effort on the part of Mr. Rutherford to speak in favor of a resolution, the previous question was about being put to the speaker, when he exclaimed, why you set of theiring dogs, do you meen to choke me down altogether!" Then Mr. Rutherford was ordered keep silent, which he refused to do. A call was then made by the Speaker on the House to protect the chair and pr serve order, when Mr. Rutherford said, 'Go to bell, all of you, you dogs." Mr. Rutherford was then removed, struggling violently, by the sergeant at-arms and two assistants, and held under arrest for the remainder of the evening.

There is an evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in solicude, often growing up with them to manhood; and which, if not reformed in due time not only begets serious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a sories of protracted, insiduous and devastating affections. Few of those who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until the find the nervous system shattered, feel strange and unaccountable sensations, and vague tears in the mind. (See pages, 27, 28, 29, of Dr. K's book on "Self Preservation.") The unfortunate thus affected becomes feeble, is unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply his mind to study; his step is tardy and weak, he is dull, irresolute, and engages even in his sports with less energy than usual.

If he emancipate himself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruitful, and his sense tells him that this is

TO THE PUBLIC. THE undersined would respectfully announce

I to the citizens of this and; the adjoining counties, that he is making and has on band at this time the COUGE SYRUP, which has been so much sought after during the last few months; this Syrup is intended for Coughs of long standing, and also for recent Colds, Whooping Cough, and Cro ip. The Certificates which are annexed below. will show conclusively that this Syrup is no humug, and that it has been used with the finest results, in cases of Croup, Whooping Cough and Colds of long standing. I would also respectfully refer the public to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crans, who have been using the Syrup in their family for Cough, and who can state the fine effects of it, and who are using it at this time for Whooping Cough. It is put up in bottles of various sizes, and at va-JNO. P. GORMAN, rious prices.

Jefferson Co., Va Aug. 10, 1858. CERTIFICATES.

Mr. J. P. Corman-Sir: It gives me pleasure to inform you that I have been restored to my usual health by using your Cough Syrup. I have derived more benefit from the use of it. than all the medicine I have ever taken. I have had a severe cough for two or three years, and I have never been relieved in the slighest degree, until I commenced taking your Cough Syrup After I hada aken three bottles it had its desired effect, and Ii After I hada am now well. Sir, I am happy to know that there is one in our midst who has in his possession a sure remedy for this troublesome disease, and I am glad that I have it in my power to make the above statement in praise of your Syrup. Charlestown, July 30, 1858. R. H. BROWN. I hereby certify that I have been using Jno. P Gorman's Cough Syrup in my family for Coughs, and have found it to be an excellent medicine, it is in use in my family at this time for Whooping Cough, and it is of great benefit those who are using it. I unhesitatingly recommend it to all who may be troubled with a Cough. JACOB STARRY.

Aug. 3, 1858. Mr. J. P. Gozman-Sir: Your preparation for Whooping Cough is in use in my family at this time, and my children have been very much benefited by the use of it. It has cured them of them cough in a great measure, it is much looser, and they cough with much more case than they did be fore they commenced taking your Cough Syrup. I am yours with much respect, Charlestown, Aug. 3, '5d. J. E. HILBERT. I do hereby certif, that I have used J. P. Gor-man's Cough Syrup for a cough which I had last Spring, and the result was a speedy cure. I consider it an excellent preparation. I judge it from the bene fit I received by taking it. I hereby certify that I have been jusing Mr. J. P. Gorman's Cough Syrup in my family in cases of Croup, and have to and it to be of great benefit. I am using it myself at this time for a Cough, and have been very much relieved by it. I can recom mend it to any who may be troubled with Coughs.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACAE. FOR the cure of Scrofula, General Debility, and r all Diseases arising from Impurities of the blood and the effects of Mercury. Swaim's Panacea has been for more than thirtyfive years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, some of which are too frightful for general publication, where the patients have been almost eaten up with Scrofula, and were deemed incurable by physicians.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice and has been recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. G. Gibson, M. D., Prof. of Surgery Penn. University; Valentine Mott, M. D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y., University: W. P. Dewees, M. D., Prof. Mid. Penn. University; N. Chapman, M. D., Prof. of Physic, Penn. University : T. Parke, M. D., President College Physicians. Philadelphia. The wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea have for many years made it an invaluable remedy and have occasioned unprincipled persons to imi-tate it, and thus impose on the diseased and afflicted. Almost daily we are informed of several who nave then deceived in this city.

BUY A BOTTLE OF BRAGG'S ARCTIC LINIMENT. And get the UNITED STATES JOURNAL Free Arctic vs Mustans

A N invidious and impudent card, recently published by the proprietor of the Mustang, seems to call for some notice at our hands, and although we dislike newspaper controversies, and have always avoided them, we shall in this instance depart from our usual custom. The card altituded to is aimed at BRAGG'S ARCTIC LINIMENT, and very evidently has a pecuniary origin, these dis-interested gentlemen disliking to see their article supplanted so rapidly by Bragg's Arctic Liniment. The card is to desultory for us to follow strictim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card announcing that he had no further connection with the Mustang, and would not hold himself responsible for its deteriorated quality, or for the injuries resul-ting from the use of the spurious article with which the market was glutted. Dr. Bragg's son is the only person of that name having any interest in the Arctic Liniment. Bragg's Arctic Liniment is now and has always been owned by Oliver T. Bragg and M. Burrows doing business under the style of Bragg & Burrows, and the only connection Dr. Bragg ever had with it was in the simple fact that Since inventing the Mustang Dr. Bragg has had many years of experience, and it is but reasonabl to presume that in his mature manhood he could produce a better remedy than in his comparatively inexperienced youth. The instaneous success of Bragg's Arctic Liniment wherever it was introduced. bears conclusive testimony that such was the fact. Before the Arctic Liniment had been intro-duced six months, it had superceded all other Lin-iments, including the Mustang. In the meantime a spurious article of the Mustang made its appeara spurious article of the mustang made its appearance in the market, put up externally exactly as the genuine had been by Dr. Bragg, but as unlike it in quality as possible. Dr. Bragg was constantly annoyed by letters from various persons who had used this deteriorate and injurious article of Mustang complaining of its bad effects, under the mistaken impression that he was still its proprietor. If Dr. Bragg considered it to be his duty to set the matter before the public in a card announcing that he had no further connection with it, that was his affair, with which we have nothing to do. The vaunt of the Mustang proprietors that they are well known to the business community is most amusing to those who know their status. The trouble is they are too well known. Their motive in the card alided to is transparent; they dislike seeing their cheeply made preparation superceded by Bragg's Arctic Liniment, an article so greatly its superior but which they affect to consider a failure. Notwithstanding this affectation, they offered a large sum for its suppression, and failing in that are now ex pending much money for newspaper cards, in the vain attempt to persuade the public that the Arctic Liniment is a failure. The public are not so easily gulled as these gentlemen suppose, and can readily comprehend that if it were such a failure as these unscrupulous persons pretend, they would be the last to disturb its quiet oblivion. The fact is readily perceptible that they are alarmed for the pros-perity of their own article, and well they may be, for they knew that for an article to attain the substantiat celebrity of Bragg's Arctic Liniment, it must possess an intrinsic value capable of positive demonstration, and hence their only hope is in so abusing it that people may be deterred from trying it, well assured that if they once tested its merits, they could never again be induced to use the Mustang. In conclusion, we claim that the Arctic Liniment is the best article ever offered to the public, and that it will bear triumphantly every test which may be applied to it.

MRS. MOTAGUES FEMALE CORDIAL. DISEASES PECULIAR TO WOMAN. Mrs. Montague, for many years afflicted with most diseases that are common to females, spending a large fortune in ten years in trying the different means of treatment for her relief, to no vail, was prevailed upon by her friends to visit Cuha, December '48, for the purpose of regaining her former health. While there, she obtained a prescription from a Spanish Physician Whose silver locks Were tending to the grave." With which, through the mercy of God, she was r stored to her youthful health.

Atter her return she made known to hundreds o her female sufferers the effects of the remedy with equally as great success.

This extraordinary medicine is offered to the public for the relief and cure of all the painful and dan gerous diseases reculiar to woman, and that the fe-male constitution is subject to. To those suffering from "Prolapsus Utcri," Lucorrhoea, Ammorrhoea Menorrhagia. Dysmenorrhoea-Chlorosis, a speedy cure can be obtained. To those suffering from Falling of the Womb, or Uterine Weakness of any kind, the Female Cordial' is especially recommended. It is warranted to cure this painful disease if persevered in. In all spinal affections, pain in the region of the Pelvis. Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria Sick headache, and all those diseases arising from the peculiar formation of women, the Cor. ial will be found of an immense value. This medicine moderates all excess, and removes all obstruction; it invigorates the debilitated constitution for the duties of life, and when taken in middle age proves a blessing.

Modesty forbids us. in a public advertisement, to

A RARE CHANCE 1 o make Money

THE undersigned has, at a great deal of expense, a collected together the following valuable Recipes, &c. for several of which he has paid 318 each, and he has no doubt any one can possibly fail to make, in a short time, an independent living by selling them. Some of them originally cost $50, and yet sell to business men and the afflicted, for that amount. All who wish to procure them can receive the entire lot enumerated below, by return mail, post-paid, by sending the undersigned only one dollar.
