Mr. Davis to be Released in October by reddor bue the President antesk is now ing a sons of similar orgales attend to smok a built Washington Correspondence New Mork Herald, September 13. In a previous dispatch I stated there was good reason to believe that in a few days

Mr. Davis would be released on parele or hail. I received my information from a high official, who possesses excellent facilities for learning the President's views and intertions on such subjects a The autouncement greated quite a flutter among the patiticians, and several very influential ones, favorable to the President's restoration policy, ventured to call on him to ascertain if the aunonneement CHERRY EXPECTORANT; were well founded. This I have on undoubted anthority. The President replied that any distiliguished and loyal gentlemen from oth the North and South had appealed to im for the release of Mr. Davis, and praated several considerations, which imade a orable impression on his mind, wity Mr. eavis should not be held longer in confine-tent, and that he had, said to them, that if rom any fault of the court or the proper fficers of the Government Mr. Davis should ot be brought to trial in October, he should ot, from any reasons then known to him, em it his duty to hold the prisoner for other term; but that in giving the triends Mr. Davis this assurance he had not anticited the action of the couft, and had not ipointed any time for Mr. Davis's release the event of his not being tried. He deared that he had from the first desired to ave Mr. Davis tried for treason, and had sed such influence and authority as he possed to have the trial take place at an early y; but that if there should be further delay bringing off the trial, he believed that ither the interest of the country nor hisity demanded that he keep the prisoner nger in custody. He also stated that he was unable to perceive that the release of Mr. Davis on parole or bail would furnish the Radicals with a valuable weapon, but that he believed the masses, if there should be further

The North Pole is only a matter of six, hundred miles from the island, and it is thought by the two explorers, as by many others, that the Pole it-self, and the sea which is supposed to sur-round it, could be reached from Spitzbergen without any great difficulties being encountered. A singular fact noticed by the explorers in connection with this island, is the enor-mous quantities of floating timber which lif-erally cover the water of the bays and creeks. villagers bear witness that they are renewed almost every day. Any Awful Murder

On Saturday evening last, a murder was committed by a negro named Joe Haff, upon the person of Mr. Kilmatrick, whom the ne-pro deliberately shot with a short Enfield ri-fle, loaded with a heavy charge of buckshot, kulling him instantly. Mr. Kilpatrick, who resided between O. A A LESSON FOR DAD .- An old gentleman farmer, who had two or three very pretty ghters, was so very anxious of his charge that he would not permit them to keep the company of young men. However, they a-dopted the following expedient to enjoy the society of their lovers, without the knowledge of their father : After the old man had retired to rest, the girls would hang a sheet out of the window, which was quite a distance from the ground, and the beaux would seize hold of it, and with the assistance of his lady-love, who tugged lustily at the end above lady-love, who tugged lustily at the end above would thus gain entrance. But it so hap-pened that one evening the girls hung out the sheet rather early; for the old gentle-man by some ill wind, was blown around the corner, and 'spying the bed-covering, could not conjecture the meaning of its being there. He took hold and endeavored to pull it down. The girls, supposing, it to be one of their The girls, supposing it to be one of their beaux, began to hoist and did not discover their mistake until the head of the old man was level with the window-sill; when one of them exclaimed, "Oh ! An ascetic tas e has been shown in the suran upright foot-stone of a foot and a half in height, with nothing more in way of legend than T. J. J. These are all of words or monuments there are about the grave of Jackson. But there are other visible signs and more significant. Yesterday morning was the holy Sabbath, but the green turf was covered with the rarest flowers. At the head of the grave was an elaborate wreath, and almost every inch from stone to stone bore flowery tribute to the sleeper beneath. Nearly all these flowers were as fresh as if pulled from the stalk but an hour before, and the the chivalrous gentleman, the kindly Christian, and loving neighbor and friend, rather than for a dead hero and the cause for which he

The principal time for this continued feast is the night before the consumntation. The conduct is entrusted to the "friend of the bridegroom." (John iii. 29.) About the thiddle of this day the bride arrives at the house and retires to the harem, where she sits with her mother, sisters and female friends. At the third or fourth watch of the night-three or four hours after sunset—the bride-groom, who has not yet seen his fair one, goes to the mosque to pray, accompanied by "mashals," or torches, and lanterns, with music. Upon his return he is introduced to his bride, with whom, having given her at-tendints a present to retire he is left alone. tendants a present to retire, he is left alone. He then throws off her vail, and for the first time sees her face. If satisfied he informs the women without; who immediately express their joy by screaming "Zuggareet," which is echoed by the women in the house, and

Marriage. uoiteda as

Marriage is to a woman at once the happiest and saddest event of her life-it is the promise of future bliss raised on the death of present enjoyment. She quits her home and her parents, her companions, her amnse-ments everything on which she had hitherto depended for comfort, for affection, for kindness and for pleasure. The parents by whose advice she had been guided—the sis-ter to whom she had dared to impart the embryo thought and feeling—the brother who has played with her, by turns the counsellor, and the younger children to whom she has hitherto been the mother and playmate—are all to be forsaken at one foul stroke-every former tie is loosened-the spring of action is changed and she flies with joy in the untrodden paths before her; buoyed up by the confidence of requited love, she bids a fond and grateful adieu to the life that is past, and turns with excited hopes and joyous anticipation to the happiness to come. Then we to the man who can blight such fair hopes who can treacherously lure such a heart from its peaceful enjoyments and watchful protection of home-who can, coward like, break the

Change of Base.

The New York Herald, with its accustomed laxity of principle and supteme contempt for consistency, has leaped over bodily from the Conservative to the Radical side. It jumps at the conclusion that the increased majorities in the New England States afford an unerring indication that the popular tide in all the Northern States is setting against the Administration. The Herald has a keen scent for majorities, and knows no other principle of action. But its sagacity is by no means infallible, or how comes it that it has so long believed that the Conservatives would win? If it has been so egregiously mistaken in its calculations of the results in New England, what reason is there to image that it must be right in its predictions of the results in other

A Polite Boy:

The other day we were riding in a crowdd car. At one of the stations an old gentleman entered, and was looking around him for a seat when a lad, ten or twelve years of age, rose up and said "Take my seat, sir."-The offer was accepted, and the infirm old man sat down "Why did you give me your seat?" he inquired of the boy. "Because you are old, sir, and I am a boy," was the quick reply. The passengers were very much pleased and Conservative County Convention. The Conservative Voters of the different Townships of Jefferson county, are earnestly urred to hold Township Meetings, and appoint Delegates to a County Convention, to ! be held at Charlestown, on SATURDAY, the 6th day of October; for the purpose of nominating candidates for the House of Delegates, and for the various county offices to be filled at the approaching JOHN W. KENNEDY. election. Chm'n Ez. Committee. CONSERVATIVE STATE TICKET. Below we give the names of the candidates nominated at the Conservative Convention held in Parkersburg in August last : For Governor, COL. B. H. SMITH, of Kanawha. Secretary of State, JUDGE J. W. KENNEDY, of Jefferson. Auditor, 10068 C2 160 CAPT. PETER DARNEL. Treasurer, CAPT. J. S. BURDETT. Attorney General, N. RICHARDSON, of Wheeling. Supreme Court, CALEB BOGGESS For Congress-First District. COL. D. D. JOHNSON, of Tyler. Second District. MAJ. E. W. ANDREWS, of Berkeley. The platform upon which these nominees stand and expect the support of the people. is in exact accordance with the restoration policy of President Johnson, and the success of this ticket would justly be regarded as a triumph of that policy in the State. If there could be anything like an uninterrupted expression of the sentiments of the people of West Virginia, we would not entertain a doubt of the triumphant election of every capdidate on the ticket, but the proscriptive and intolorant registry law, in the hands of the unscrupulous tools of Boreman. may thwart the wishes of the people, and elect Boreman and his co-partners in iniquity. Such a result-to be deplored almost as much as the advent of cholera-would have to be endured as one of the means of punishment employed by a mysterious Providence for the chastisement of a rebellious generation.

THE PROSECUTING OPPORTUTION Some of the radical admirers of the old Bitter, of Leetown, represent his chances for election as steadily increasing. All he wants, to save the prize, is time. Like old parson B-, eating jelly with a fork, he is "gradually gaining on it." But we are inclined to think that he cannot get in. The election is bound by law to be had between the hours of sunrise and sunset, and as the old man's best time has been made between two days, it will not be in his power to put himself well out to his speed in daylight. If, however, the oath known as the test oath : this I could our predictions are wrong, and the old "jury charger" should win the race, we bespeak the aid of some Ports Crayon to take his picture, and would suggest that it be in the cos-

Stugg's friends, confident of the great per sonal popularity of their candidate-of his well known ability, and long legal experience, laugh at the Leetown favorite, and say that no matter who else may be on the track, Stugg's is sure to win. And Stugg's is of the same mind; and is busily engaged in drawing imaginary indictments, and addressing the old oaks along the banks of the Potomac, as his gentlemen of the jury ; and, we are told, that he sets up an old stump and calls upon his old oaks to convict the prisoner at the bar. Stuggs's eloquence is of the order of the jay bird, and, of course, the old oaks listen with all gravity, and in due time do as Stuggs wishes, and the old stump is tumbled into the Potomac as its penitentiary. Seriously speaking, is it not disgraceful to the intelligence of the people of Jefferson that the important office of prosecutor should be filled by such men as the radicals have put before them for their suffrage? Is it not mortifying that the place which has been filled by Griggs, Worthington and Lee, should be occupied by either of the men put forth by Leetown and Shepherdstown? Let the people look at this matter calmly and in the light of common sense; and let them make a united effort, in spite of all parties, to put a good and true man in the office-one who has suffinent legal knowledge and personal virtue to properly perform the responsible duties of the post.

continued until this term. At this term I brought the case up and argued it before Judge Harrison, presiding in place of Judge Bunker. After mature conideration, the Judge, on Friday last, directed the following order to be entered : JAMES D. ARMTBONG, Plaintiff.

THE GALLANT ASHEY .- The commit who have in charge the removal of the remains of the lamented and distingui ASHBY, whose deeds of gallantry are fresh in the momory of our people, and whose ma-ny virtues so much admired and cherished in this community, expect to arrive in this town with the remains sometime during the first - week in October, where we trust they will receive the sad rites preparatory to their final sepulchure at Winchester, which will take place on the 25th of October. A beautiful offin is now being made by Mr. Geo. W. Saddler, which we are assured will be worthy the remains of one who has endeared him-self to every Southern heart, and whose first exploits of valor were enacted in our county. We are sure that we need only suggest to our ladies, and those gallant gentlemen who tollowed Ashby, the propriety of paying proper tribute to his memory, and the thing will be done. The expenses attending the removal, and the preparation for the inter-ment of his remains, should not be permitted to fall upon one or two, but the whole community should derive a melancholy pleasure in contributing to such an object.

OUR CEMETERY .- This quiet resting place of the dead, where repose the remains of so many gallant Confederate soldiers, has recently undergone a thorough cleaning up, and now presents a most beautiful and neat appearance. Strolling the walks which re defenders of th a beautiful divide into sections. the right, we were board which has recent een erected, bearing the following inscription : WILLIAM LESHER, Co. B, 12th South Carolina Regiment.

This brave soldier fell in an engagement in our county, in the summer of 1864, and in June last, his remains, with others, were deposited in bur cemetery. A short time there-after, his bereaved widow arrived here with the intention of removing him to her distant Southern home. After visiting the cemetery and witnessing the care which had been bestowed in the interment of the Southern dead, she concluded to let him repose with his sleeping comrades, where the hand of affection had strewn flowers over his grave .-We trust that no rude shock of war will ever again deface our beautiful cemetery, and the dead heroes buried there may be permitted to rest quietly until God's summons shall arouse them.

THE MATCH GAME .- According to previ us arrangement the Nameless Base Ball Club of Frederick, Md., visited this place on Tuesday last, and was met at the depot by a committee of the "Stonewall" Club, who es corted them to the Carter House, where they donned their very neat uniform, and from aired to the grounds east of tow which had been carefully arranged for the occasion. The game commenced with the Stonewall" at the bat, and considering it was their first attempt in a regular match their playing was very good. On the second inning the Nameless changed their Pitcher, and his manner of delivering the ball being so different from that of the first, the "Stone wall" seemed to be much disconcerted, and made rather a bad score, but on the third inning they recovered themselves and played very handsomely. The Nameless played like veterans and are well worthy their reputation in this manly sport. At the third inning, Nameless at the bat, the rain began to fall in torrents, which put a summary end to the game, and it was therefore declared, by the Umpire, according to the rules of Base Ball, "drawn game."

As the political campaign in the North rogresses, the dangers seem to thicken, and the less cheering becomes the pro-for reconciliation. We copy the follo article upon this subject from the New York Times of the 17th :--

The Approaching Danger.

"The missionaries of hate and ince who have gone forth under the lead of Brownlow and Hamilton, proclaim that there is to be another war. Butler has taken charge of the Massachusetts militia, in view of a con-tingency which he has asserted to be neither improbable for remote. Brownlow, whose fiendish malignity seems to grow in intensity as he totters nearer to the grave, declare mequivocally that war shall be renewed war of destruction, devastation and robbery. And a score of similar oracles utter the same minous threat. Nor is threatening all. Brownlow has publicly intimated that one purpose of his mission to the North is to borrow or otherwise obtain ten thousand rifles, to be distributed among his' minions in Tennessee. In Missouri, the Radical Governor, Fletcher, has advanced much further. Under his auspices, illegal military' organizations have been effected in various parts of that most unhappy State; they have been armed at the State expense for partisan purposes; and in many counties a reign of affianism and outrage has been inaugurated. which Radical officials have made no attempt to check. In fact, a widely ramified conspiracy appears to have been set on foot, and ence by Gen. Hancock, and the issue of an though recent exposures have led to interferorder disbauding these armed and unlawful forces, the intent of Gov. Fletcher, and its agreement with the Radical policy as expound ed by Brownlow and others, remain to suggest the presence of dangers which many among us have not yet began to realize. "There are other circumstances which in the same counection challenge notice. The promotion of secret societies of a partisan haracter is always to be deprecated. Darkantern meetings and clubs, however disguised are uniformly indicative of mischief. In seasons of strong excitement like the present they are as uniformly dangerous. Now, there are reasons for apprehending trouble from this source during the progress of the struggle for the restoration of the Union. It is no longer a matter of conjecture that in several of the States, especially in the Western and Middle States, secret organizations have been started, with the view of consolidating, arming and drilling adherents of the Radicot Party. The preparations foreshadowed in Mr. Paine's resolution in Congress, by Butler's appoint-ment in Massachusetts, by Fletcher's proceedngs in Missouri, an'l by Brownlow's plans n Tennessee, are being extensively though secretly pushed forward. THE COUNTY CANVASS, Confident in their fraudulent strength, and bold in the assertion of their relentless ha tred of constitutional government, the little convention held at Shepherdstown, of which the Leetown ex-judge and the "Hon." Joe were the engineers, have given to the voters of the county a list of candidates, for whom their suffrages may be cast on the fourth Thursday in October. We have already paid our respects to this conventional action of the wool-lovers, and separately commented upon the immortal names of Koonce, Stubbs & Co. who bore off the honors in that gathering of the "happy family." Later in the canvass we may have occasion to refer to them again. "but for the present it is hardly necessary to aunoy our patient readers with any further allusions to them.

But there are some matters to which we may safely and with propriety call the attention of the conservative voters of the county. Do they intend to let these nominees of Balch and Chapline walk over the track without some concerted opposition, or do they mean to yield without a struggle, leaving the matter in the hands of some disappointed aspirants, who would perhaps have accepted nominations if they had been tendered by the radical convention ? Not being a recognized citizen of West Virginia, it may seem slight ly presumptuous in us to be offering advice to our small voting population, but we outsiders do feel a little concern in seeing Koonce & Co., beaten at the polls. We know that they have all the machinery of success in their hands, and that they are unscrupulous enough to use it, but if the conservative party ever expect to gain the ascendency in this county, they must show a determined front, and keep their ranks well together. It would be a pretty tale for Koonce to tell at Wheeling next winter, that the conservatives of his county did not dare to oppose his reelection, and Joe Chapline would be elevated almost to the explosive point by such a con-

Boreman's renunciation of the doctrine of negro-suffrage, in the black an' tan convention at Philadelphia, was but a trick to secure votes at the ensuing election, for it is yet to be written that he discards political association with the men who voted for negro suffrage in that conclave, and carried it despite his opposition .--Perhaps he owes the success of this cherished "dogma," of his party, to the open stand tiken by his friend and colleague, Willey, who declared that the doctrine had no terrors for him. Boreman is scaly as a politician, and exceedingly weak as a Governor, and we hope weaker as a candidate. Like all weakminded individuals, when entrusted with power. In the evening, a handsome entertainmen was given at Blessing's to the Maryland uests, where the most cordial feelings were iterchanged, and appropriate sentiments ex pressed. The opening speech of the evening, welcoming to our town the gentlemanly members of the "Nameless" Club, was delivered by WM. H. TRAVERS, Esq., and responded o, in a most happy and felicitous manner, by Mr. NELSON, of the "Nameless." Each of he speakers alluded feelingly to the identy of nterest, and the cordiality of feeling, which ad ever subsisted between the States of Maryland and Virginia, and expressed the wish-which met a response in every breast-that the sons of the two sister States, migh often meet in friendly contest as they had lone that day. The evening was spent pleasantly and i ood cheer, and at an early hour the company lispersed highly gratified with the entertain-nent, and Blessing's superior style of doing things. We hope that this may not be the last visit of our Frederick triends to our town, is we are assnred they can have no cause to omplain of their recent visit

CONDENSING BURNER - The discovery Kerosine Oil, with the improvements and ge-nius of man, in devising methods for its use is one of the wonders of the age. Its safety and cheapness as light, in others, and any improvement in its use, is a public benefit. Of this character is the "Connsing Burner," to be used on any Lamp and dispensing entirely with chimneys. The construction is such that the smoke is con-

ned in a gas condensing chamber, and is holly converted into flame. No trimming of wick is required, and it is said to consume one-third less oil than the chimney lamp.— Messrs. D. Humphreys & Co., have the agen-cy of this county for the sale of the "Burnand their tandsome

A Prayer for Pardon.

As the President was passing to the stairs of Willard's Hotel, after speaking, during his recent visit to Louisville, thirty-nine little maidens scattered flowers under his feet as he passed, and when he arrived at the end of their line, having stopped occasionally to kiss one of their sweet, innocent faces, one of them handed him the following beautiful petition, praying for the release from prison of Mr. Davis, which the President very kindly received, promising to read it at his first leisure moment and give it his consider.

To His Excellency Andrew Johnson. President of the United States of America:"Honered Sir-The undersigned little girls of the city of Louisville and of the State of Kentucky, taught by our mothers to venerate you as the nation's head and the people's friend, moved by sympathy for one who once stood your peer in the councils of the nation, do most respectfully present this prayer in behalf of an anguished mother and grief stricken fittle ones-

That you release from prison, on parole or otherwise, as may seem best to you, Jefferson Davis, late President of the "so called Conederate States of America." If our Chie Magistrate shall find it consistent with his sense of duty to the nation to grant our payer, millions of little ones shall rise up to call him haveal

A FACT WORTH PRINTING .- At a second class hotel, at Frankfort, Ky., a little girl entered the bar room, and in pitiful tones told the bar keeper that her mother sent her to get eight cents.

"Eight cents?" said the bar keeper. "Yes, sir.""

"What does your mother want of eight cents? Idon't owe her anything." "Well," said the child, "father spends all his money here for rum, and we have no bread to-day. Mother wants to buy a loaf of bread."

A loafer suggested to the bar-keeper to kick her out.

"No," said the bar keeper, "I'll give her mother the money, and if her father comes back again, I'll kick him out." Such a circumstance never happened before, and may never happen again. Humanity owes that bar keeper a vote of thanks. 计过行 任何

A SMART GIRL-In Cincinnati there occurred recently a scene at the door of the -Chapel, in which the prime actor came off considerably the worse for wear. A young man, who believed he knew as much as any other man, had been paying his attentions to a young lady, who, among her other attractions, possessed a very luxuriant growth of red hair. The young man could not induce the young lady to think him better than other men, and she finally gave him the mitten. One evening after this, thinking his time to get even had arrived, he stationed himself in the aisle near the chapel door, and, seeing the young lady coming, threw up his hands, pretending fright, and exclaimed,-"Stand aside, boys, or you will take fire

Here comes -----" (naming the lady ) She walked very leisurely to where the young man was standing, stopped, and looked him in the face, saying,-

"You need not be alarmed, Mr .----; you are entirely to green to burn ?" The roar of laughter which greeted the young man's ears was more than he could well relish, and he beat a hasty retreat.

TEST OF LOVE .- As a woman was walking, a man looked and followed her. "Why," said she, "do you follow me?" "Because I have fallen in love with

"Why so? My sister, who is coming after, is much haudsomer than I am; go make love to her."

The man turned back and saw a woman with an ugly face, and being displeased, turned an said:

"Why did you tell me a story?" The woman answered :

"Neither did you tell me the truth. If you are in love with me, why did you look for another woman?"

Good .- A few weeks after a late marriage, the husband had some peculiar thoughts when putting on his last clean shirt, as he saw no appearance of a "washing." He thereupon rose earlier than usual one morning and kindled a fire. When hanging on the kettle, he made a noise on purpose to wake his wife easy. She immediately peep-ed over the blankets, and then exclaimed :

The young men stood a ghast with fcar ; Some whacked their boots, some pulled their hair; Some said 'twas religion, some said 'twas money ; But it took them aback and they felt quite funry.

Among them there was a fine young man; Say: bc, "I love ther as well as I can. Now I'll make her the promise. both open and free, And agree to stand by it whatever it be."

The fair one stepped up to his side, And said "Should I now be your bride, You must promise here before us all, To buy your clothes at MARBLE HALL.

No other can suit a husband of mine, The coats are so handsome, the pants divine." Says Johnny, a laughiffy, "You dear dittle elf. If you like them so well, get a pair for yourself."

Careful chemical analysis of four kinds of Whis key-Superior Old Ryc Whiskey. Superior Old Bourbon Whiskey, Superior Old Wheat Whiskey, Superior Old Corn Whiskey-Pancatharticonized by teans of the patent apparatus invented by John E. Wilson, of Baltimore, Md., have shown them to be entirely free from the heavy Fusil Oils and from the p isonous metalic compounds often found in Whiskeys. They retain the Ethereal Products, entirely free from any TAINT produced by injured grain, of care-less fermentation, and being unmodified by the use of sugar, are remarkably pure products of delicate chemical operations.
