Tuesday Morning, June 16, 1868. Lyman Trumbull was born at Colchester. Connectiont, October 12, 1812. He was well-educated and studied law. After obtaining license he settled in Illinois and commenced practice in which he was not only successful but became distinguished in the profession. In 1840, he was elected a Representative in the Illinois liegislature. He was elected Secretary of State in 1848, and held the position for one year. From 1848 to 1853, he was one of the Judges of the Supreme Coars of Illinois. In 1854 he was elected a Representative in Congress; but before outering apon his duties as such he was chosen a United States Secator, as the successor of Gen. James Shields. He took his sent in December 1855. He was successively re-elected in 1861 and 1867. Hence he is serving a third term, which expires in 1878. His home at present is in Chicago, though he formerly resided at Alfan.

From 1848 to 1856 he was a member of the Missouri Legislature, He was a Presidential elector of the Buchanus ticket in 1856. He ran for Congress as an anti-Lecompton Douglas man; and was defeated. In 1860 he was a Douglas elector though pledging himself to vote for either Douglas or Bell in preference to Lincoln or Breckenridge. In August, 1860, he was again defeated for Congress. He was a member of the Missouri Convention called in 1861 to determine the position of that State in regard to secession, and took decided ground against secession. For about a year he commanded a regiment in the Federal army. In 1862, he was appointed a United State State in response to the welcome given him by the Great Liberator as a citizen of Massachusetts, in you are from Boston, I believe." "Yes," was elected United States Senator, as a Whig, to succeed John W. Bradbury Democrat. He was re-elected in 1859. In 1864 he resigned to accept the position of Secretary of the Treasury under Mr. Lincoln, as the successor of Mr. Chase, who was appointed Chief Justice. In 1865 he was again elected Senator to succeed Nathan A. Farwell, who had been appointed to fill the va-cancy occasioned by his former resignation. cancy occasioned by his former resignation.

Peter G. Van Winkle was born in the city of New York September 7, 1808. He received a good education, studied law, and located as a prastitioner in Parkersburg, Virginia. The first political position he ever held was that of delegate in the Virginia Constitutional Convention of 1850. In 1852, he became Treasurer and soon thereafter President of a railroad company. He was a member of the Convention of 1863, which formed the government of West Virginia and was that year elected to the United States Senate for a full term ending March 3, 1869.

THE CHICAGO PLATFORM AND THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.—A correspondent asks us if we think that the committee who prepared the resolutions at Chicago "intended to dodge the question as to the payment of the government bonds in gold?" Fortunately we can present in reply something more than our mere opiniou. A discussion between the New Hayen Register and the Journal of that city has brought out the fact, admitted by the republican paper, whose editor had a first-rate opportunity to know, that a resolution was prepared in the committee pledging payment of the bonds in gold, and it was voted down, the one we commented on being substituted. That settles the question, we think, beyond dispute.—N. Y. Journal fo Commerce, will be in attendance. Much improvement is being made, and all the bed-rooms, etc., will be furnished with new jurniture, &c.

A Wonderful Dome. The dome of the Capitol at Washington is the most ambitions structure in America.—
It is a hundred and eight feet higher than the Washington Monument at Baltimore, sixty-eight feet higher than that of Bunker Hill, and twenty-three feet higher than the Trinity Church spire of New York. It is the only considerable dome of iron in the world. It is a vast hollow sphere of from weighing 8,200,000 pounds. How much is that? More than four thousand tons, or about the weight of seventy thousand full grown people; or about equal to a thousand laden coal cars, which, holding four tons apiece, would reach four miles and a half—Directly over your head is a figure in bronze, "America," weighing 14,085 pounds. The pressure of the iron dome upon its piers and pillars is 18,477 pounds to the square foot. St. Peter's presses nearly 20,000 pounds more to the square foot, and St. Genevieve, at Paris, 66,000 pounds more. It would require to crush the supports of our dome a pressure of 775,280 pounds to the square foot. The cost was about $1,100,000. The new wings cost about $6,500,000. The architect has a plan for rebuilding the old central part of the capitol and enlarging the park, which will cost about $3,200,000.

Sharwo Derectives—Some time ago a package containing $50,000 was stolen from a desk in the Canal Bank, of New Orleans, in a most mysterious manner. On a careful examination of the premises, the detectives discovered the mark of a small nail upon the edge of a railing, on which the thicf must have placed his foot, and that he must have been a tail man. They concluded the nail was in the heel of the robber's boot, and that the wear of the leather had left the nail head projecting so that it would mark whatever he would step upon. The officers became thenceforth, anxious observers of all bootheels, and after many days two of them happened into the City Hotel. Among the crowd a man was sitting, with one foot trised upon his knee, engaged in trying to bend or break off a projecting tack in the heel of his boot. A glance showed that he was tall enough, and forthwith the officers arrested enough, and forthwith the officers arrested him charging him with the robbery. He confessed; said he went to the bank to inquire the rate of exchange, saw the package lying upon the desk, and, when the clerk turned his back for a moment, reached up snatched the money and left. He had not ventured to use any of it, and the whole was

A Sharp Argument. A Clergyman was once accosted by a doctor a professed unbeliever in religion, who asked him if he followed preaching to save souls.

And, may it be, for a short time we shall be spoken of, but things of life will creep in, and our names will soon be forgotten. Days will continue to move on, and laughter and song will be heard in the room in which we died; and the eye that mounted for us will be dried, and glisten again with joy; and even our children will cease to think of us, and will not remember to lisp our names."

Two Irishmen were travelling, when they stopped to examine a guide-hoard.

from Newburgh, N. Y., exploded at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The graining mill, where the first explosion occurred, was a double building, twenty by sixteen feet, built of stone with wooden sides, and one story high. It stood about one hundred feet from the main ed from the latter by a clump of road, separated from the latter by a clump of trees. It contained at the time of the explosion five to of powder, the most of it being in the gra. The glazing mill was situated across the dam, about one hundred feet from the graining mill, and was about fifteen feet in diames, a cotagonal in form, and was in no way confected with the graining mill. In it at the time of the explosion was a ton of powder.

In it at the time of the explosion was a ton of powder.

Huge sticks of timber were thrown through the air for a quarter of a mile, small trees were uprooted, and hurled a long distance, while largest and older trees were entirely stripped of leaves and branches, and their trunks blackened and charred. At the foot of trees numbers of dead birds were found, having been instantly killed by the powerful shock. A large iron shaft, four inches in diameter, led from the graining mill to another building on the south side of the road. It was seventy five feet long. The end nearest to the building which exploded was bent almost double, while a portion of the shaft 15 feet long was broken off and hurled over 400 yards from the scene. Huge timbers, blackened and splintered with powder, heavy and long limbs of trees, and in many instances whole trees, ragged and torn, block the paths and roads leading to the spot. A storage building on the south side of the road, distance all of 150 yards from the graining mill, was badly shattered. It contained three tons of powder in kegs. The large door at the main entrance was blown off, the sides of the main entrance was blown off, the sides of the building crushed in, and the roof greatly damaged. Fortunately, the powder in the building did not ignite.

At the time of the occurrence there was only one man in the graining mill. His name was Adam Schosser, a German. He was employed as open ive and watchman. His head and shoulders tere five hundred yards from the spot when the explosion occurred, man-shoot upward fully one thousand feet into the heavens. For a distance of ten miles back, on the opposite side of the river, the explosion was distinctly heard, while at West Point, Peekskill, Sing Sing and Poughkeepsie, the report was also noticed. Three years ago a similar explosion took place on the same spot, when the man was killed. 1, e Wrong Woman.

Reading an article in which Mrs. Oakes Smith relates a story of woman proposing to

Smith relates a story of woman proposing to the wrong man, reminds me of an occurrence that happened here some twenty years since. A distinguished professor and divine from this neighborhood was on a visit to some frends east of the mountains, and was introduced to a very respectable family which had two very accomplished daughters—one of them very handsome, and the other rather plain. After spending some weeks in the neighborhood, and having frequent opportunities of meeting the ladies, he became quite enamored with the younger and prettier of the sisters. He, however, returned home without showing any preference. He was a man of very sedate and studious habits, and soon became absorbed in his books, and for a time he seemed to forget his new acquaintances. But the image of one of them seemed to be continually before his mind. After having maturely considered the matter, and having, I ed the matter, and having, I sought guidance from on high, commence a correspondence of his affection. Unfortunwith the objet of his affection. Unfortunately, or fort, ately, as he afterwards stated he addressed the wrong lady. He had got their names transposed. The correspondence finally led to an engagement. The day was fixed for the widding, and the grave and reverend D. D., citered his appearance at the proper time. But what was his consternation proper time. But what was his consternation to find that he was going to marry a lady he had not courted. But, being a sensible and an honorable man, he said nothing about it, believing the hand of Providence was in the matter, and as actually married to the sister of the girl bettought he had won. Time wore on; she proved to be a most amiable, intelligent and affectionate wife. He never had reason to repent the mistake, and he to this day is firm in the belief that God so ordained it for the handings. "All's well that dained it for "s happiness. Do the Israel tes Neither Increase nor

An Eloquent Extract.—"Generation after generation" says a fine writer, "have felt as we now feel, and their lives were active as our own. They passed like vapor, while nature wore the same aspect of beauty as when her Creator commanded her to be. The heavens shall be as bright over our graves as they now are around our paths. The world will have the same attractions for our offspring unborn as she had once for our children.—

Yet a little while all will have happened. The throbbing heart will be stilled, and all will be at rest. Our interal will wind its way; and prayers will be said, and then we troy, has been and is literally fulfilled, for the number of Israelites this day is in round figures the same as it was two thousand years ago. Is there another nation where such phenomenon has taken place? They are not destroyed, nor do they increase. We give this synopsised ex ract from the sermon because it presents proposition that will strike our readers as culous, at least.

Herse Breaking and Horse Sense

A horse's sense is good common sense. Many a man does not know half so much abou a man does not know half so much about some things as a horse. The horse is not naturally suspicious, but he is timid when young. He learns very soon what his weapons are—teeth and heels—and in what his security lies—flight. His holdness and the "glory of his nostrils" come when "he rejoiceth in his strength." With his age comes the knowledge of his powers, and if he has never been mastered!—never broken to any will but his own—if he is to be made useful, the struggle must come sooner or later and will but his own—if he is to be made useful, the struggle must come sooner or later, and man's will or horse will must triumph. We think it best to begin quite young with colts to control them; so advise to halter a colt while it runs with the mare, and to do it after feeding it with carrots and sugar, until it thinks it will only get caressing from mankind, and has no fear as of any man. The colt submits easily, because it is the easiest and pleasantest thing it can do, provided it is not frightened, and would as leaf be led as loose, since the curtailment of his freedom is made up by sweets or carrots. The sense of made up by sweets or carrots. The sense of smell in horses is very acute, and if they are smell in horses is very acute, and if they are suspicious of anything they always approach it cautiously and smell it. They should be indulged in this; and harness, saddle, &c., should all be investigated by the nose as well as by the eye before a more intimate acquaintance is forced upon the horse. A horse ring of from forty to fifty feet in diameter is one of the greatest aids a horse trainer can have. In this a horse too restive and spirited to take a lesson may be tired out so as to be very docile, and a tired horse is much more susceptible to both favor and instruction than one full of vim and fire and play. There are a few common-sense rules, which, if followed, will commend themselves to the horse as well as to the trainer, viz:

1st. Always feel kindly towards a horse, no matter what he does to you, and consequently never show "temper." Remember sequently never show "temper." Remember the horse knows instinctively how you feel.

2d. Never go near a horse if you are afraid of him; the horse will know it and take advantage of it before you acknowledge it yourself.—Turf, Field and Farm.

HINTS TO FARMERS .- A writer gives the following advice, which we fully indorse : Don't buy a piano for your daughters while your sors need a plow. Don't let your horse be seen standing at the tavern door. Don't give a person a chance to dun you. Prompt payments make independent men.

To CLEAR A HOUSE OF VERMIN.—"Bur-leigh," of the Boston Journal, says: "I tell you, ladies, a secret that may be worth your knowing—a new remedy to clean a house of roaches and vermin has been found. So com-plete is the remedy that men offer to rid premises of all these pestilential nuisances by contract. The article is sold under the name of French green and other high sounding names, and at quite a high price. But the names, and at quite a high price. But the arlicle, in plain English, is common green paint in powder. Six cents worth used about any house will 'clear the kitchen,' and all its surroundings. These pests infest many houses in this city, ad nauseum, and we believe the ladies will thank us for suggesting so cheap.

Young CHICKENS .- One of the most scientific and successful poultry breeders of Germany, whose experiments we have person-ally examined, says that young chickens should never be fed with boiled eggs, nor should they have access to water otherwise than mixed with their food, until several days old. Many people on the farms with us are in the habit of mixing dough with cold water. This is wrong. The Indian meal ought to be cooked, or at least scalded. Many lose their young chickens from neglect to scald the neal and wonder what the matter was .-Poultry is worth too much now to afford to LIQUOR GLUE.—Crack up the glue and put it in a bettle; add to it common whisky, shake up, cork tight, and in three or four days it can be used. It requires no heating, will keep for almost any length of time, and is at all times ready for use except in the coldeat of weather, when it will need warming. The bottle must be kept tight, so that whisky will not evaporate. A common cork should not be used; it will become clogged. Use a tin stopper, covering the neek of the bottle, and fitting as closely as possible.

REMEDY FOR SCRATCHES.—In answer to the inquiry for a remedy for scratches, I will-give one which I used for 35 years with complete success; having never failed in one instance. Take white pine pitch, rosin, beeswax and honey, one ounce each, fresh lard, one-half pound, melt well together over a slow fire, stir till quite thick, so that the parts may not settle and separate. This makes an excellent application for harness galls, cuts and sores of all kinds, on horses and cattle.— Furmer and Gardener.

THE PRESIDENCY.

Last week a party of politicians friendly to the candidacy of Chief Justice CHASE for the Presidency held a meeting in the city of Philadelphia, when a committee of one hundred was appointed to present his name to the National Democratic Convention which is. to assemble on the 4th of July in New York. The Wheeling Register, which deserves to be regarded as the State organ of the Demooratic party of West Virginia, and whose editor is a delegate at large to the New York Convention, thus refers to the efforts being made to put Mr. Chase on the track :

" People talk of Salmon P. Chase as the Demogratio candidate for President. The people who do that sort of talking are not generally Democratic people. For the most part, they consist of gentlemen who, failing to rule the Republican party, have kindly consented to take charge of the Democracy. They generously agree that if the Democratic parts will abandon its essential principles. surposs the Radicals in glorifying the negro shout louder than the bond-holders for the payment of the bonds in specie and nords. operate with the Democrats to the extent of press would no longer exist.

But there is another order of General Grant leading them and filling whatever offices they may have to bestow.

While we are not disposed to underrate the liberal spirit of these gentlemen, we are not quite pepared to accept them as guides and rulers. We have become somewhat accustomed to the idea that men to lead must first have served, and that for a party to preserve its self respect, if not to achieve success, it must have some regard for the ideas upon which its organization is built, which give it its force and entitle it to the confidence of the men who support it. In the estimation of men who regard victory and plunder as everything, principle as nothing, this may seem ridiculous, but there are nevertheless a goodly number who are willing to brave the ridicula which such a position entails.

The masses who compose the Democratic party, believe that this Union is composed of States whose right to control their own internal affairs is not to be questioned; they believe the white race to be capable of selfgovernment, without the aid of the negro that the currency which Congress compels private citizens to accept should be good enough for bond-holders; that taxation should be uniform and that no species of property should be specially exempt, and that military government over one third of the people is a wrong and an abomination. In order to support Judge Chase the Democrats must renounce these opinions. They must accept the ideas that the highest race in the world cannot preserve free government without going into partnership with the lowest; that the military is superior to the civil power; and that the working classes of the land must mortgage their energies to secure to a privileged class, enbstantial golden value, while themselves receiving the painted fancies of a paper circulation. They must renounce intelligence, freedom and equal taxation; as ideas of government, and accept instead barbarism, despotism and public robbery. Abandoning their ancient faith, they must ucknowledge the sovereignty of the "loval trinity, beyonets, bondholders and buck nig

Does any man suppose that the masses the Democratic party will support a Presi deptial candidate upon any such conditions If so he has much to learn concerning the people who built up this Republic and gave it its greatness and its glory.

The ideas which we have cited as the lead ing articles of Democratic faith, have proved a source of tremendous strength in the pas twelve months. They have enabled the Dem ocratic party to become a mighty power this land, to rescue State after State from Radical control, and to acquire a prestige which must make it dominant in the country unless its opportunities are wasted. Shall we abandon them, and rely for success upon the influence of a single name, which owes its greatness to a record of autagonism to Democratic ideas? Let us not exchange substance for shadow, or abandon the sunlight to follow a will-o-the-wisp.

-The Presidential campaign is now opened in earnest. Oregon sends greeting to Con necticut. - The West re-echoes the song of triumph started by the East. The first member of the forty-first Congress has been elected, and he is a Democrat. The Oregon clean tion, of which we received intelligence las week, resulted in a complete triumph for the Demogracy. Our friends carried every county in the State but one, and have a large majority in both branches of the Legislature securing thereby a Democratic United States Senator. From ocean to ocean the people of this country are now being thoroughly aroused and are moving on in solid column agains the usurpers who have drained the land of its best blood and of untold millions of treasure.

- The fragmentary Senate of the United States on Monday passed a resolution tendering thanks to Secretary Stanton for his services as Secretary of War, Messrs. Ross. Fowler and Henderson voting with the Demnation for their sterness in refusing to become tools in the hands of their own party to perpetrate a disgrace upon the nation by the deposition of President Johnson, without evidence, law, or even precedent. History will write them patriots, and generations yet in the future, if for nothing else, will honor their names for this one act of greatness, which is a world in the way of apology for whatever other legislative indiscretions they may have committed.

-The conspirators intend to throw the recusant Senators off all the standing committees as soon as the carpal baggers get in.

The real platforms of Grant and Col are to be looked for elsewhere than in the set of double faced resolutions passed by the Chicago Convention: Here is a plank in relation to the newspaper press which was laid

"Assistant Adjutant General."

The above infamous order was issued long after the war had ended. It shows a readiness on the part of General Grant to put the most absolute and despotic restraint upon the freedom of the press. "Hostility to the Government or any of its branches" was regarded by him as a crime, and he deliberately proposed to suppress all newspapers indulging in criticism. We are sure there is no intelligent American citizen who will not agree that a man capable of issuing such an order is entirely unfit to exercise the duties of President of the United States. POLITICAL BREVITIES.

-The bill admitting Arkansas into the Union, as agreed upon by the two Houses Congress in Committee retains the negro feature in all its vigor. In behalf of "Sambo" the Radical Congress shows more feeling than for any principle embodied in our fundamental system of government-it expressly stipulates that there shall never be any change of the Constitution depriving him of a vote. Butchmen and Irishmen may be deprived of the ballot, but not negroes "on account of race or color." Negroes have just shown, under the nose of Congress, and simultaneously with this action of Congress in their favor, what a high appreciation they have of the elective franchise. Congress has done well to give them the ballot to which they have superadded the bullet and the razor. The spirit of Radicalism is exemplified in the rule of the negro mob at the canital of the nation.

- The New York Times chides southern people for "crying for a distinction which perished with slavery." The Times is a great paper for trimming. It is the paper of the age that can safely ride both sides of the sapling! It would be surious to see it sliding on the other side of this very question-recognizing the fast that the distinction did not die with slavery, and that Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and other States, proclaim its existence and their determination by majorities of thousands that it shall not be abolish-

- A reward of $25,000 is offered for commission of Ben. Wade as President of the United States. Any person finding it, or giving information which will lead to the recovery of the same, will be paid the above reward by applying to Beast Butler.

- A Tribune correspondent is credited with the statement that Hiram U. Grant "still preserves the sweetness and simplicity of country boyhood." It is put up in cans, and orders from Oregon and Connecticut are respectfully solicited.

- If the Jackobites succeed in electing their "no-policy" President, what is to save us from a headlong descent to anarchy and revolution: since anything they may choose to demand of their pliant, would-be Execurive is already, by anticipation, openly and distinctly Granted.

- The Senate has rejected the nomination of Gen. McClellan as minister to England and S. S. Cox to Austria. The nomination of Hon. Reverdy Johnson of Md. as minister to England was confirmed by the Senate on Priday.

Jefferson. LOCAL MISCRLLANK

Memorial Day in Charlestown.
On Saturday last, according to previous notice, the ladies of Jefferson paid their annual floral tribute of friendship and respect to the memory of those brave sons of the Sunny our homes and firesides.

The day was warm and genial, with a sufficient breeze to prevent it from being sultry, and at 4 o'clock, the hour appointed. for the services to commence, a large con-course of the fair ones of our town and county, and many from a distance, were congregated in Edge-Hill Cemetery, ready to proceed to their silent and unostentations duty of love and affection.

The services were opened by the singing of an Anthem by the choir organized for the occasion, which was followed by a most touch ing, chaste and appropriate prayer by Rev. Mr. Penick. The beautiful ballad of "Lee" Surrender" was then sung, after which the ladies proceeded to their memorial duties with more order and uniformity than is usual or

With mourntul thoughts, with eager zeal,
With glowing pride that all must teel,
Their minds are centr'd on one hallow'd spot:
There lie those who fought and fell
For the great cause they loved so well—
Now buried and gone but not forgot!" From the Cemetery the ladies proceeded to the other burial grounds of the town, and paid the same tribute of affection to all. There were many beautiful symbols and mottoes distributed over different graves, which would occupy too much of our space to notice in detail. Over the grave of a Texas soldier-the only one from that State buried in our Cemetery-was erected a handsome arch of evergreed, on which was the word TEXAS in large characters; on the headboard was a star, emblematic of the "Lone Star

The graves of Col. Botts, Col. Lackland, Maj. Stewart, Samuel Wright, and others. were loaded down with flowers, placed there by kindred and friends who in life knew them but to love them. Had we time and space, we might mention a large number of other neat and touching tributes, but we must forbear. Suffice it to say that not one green mound was missed, but | into the water and was drowned. all were decked with flowers, and many received a tear of affection from those who know but too well how to sympathize with the bereaved wives and mothers of our sister

All places of business were closed during the solemn ceremony, and at the commencement of the services the church bells tolled forth their mournful music, giving a feeling of deep solemnity to the occasion.

All passed off quietly and in order, and we feel assured that each and every one present felt better with the proud consciousness of a high and sacred duty performed. We hope never to see this aroual memorial occasion abolished, but let us transmit is to our children and to our children's children forever.

Long, long be kept as now this day,
And let its duties have their sway
Der those who come to stand in our stead.
A holy trust to them shall fall,
A precious legacy to all—
'Tis the memory of heroic dead.'

CIRCUIT COURT. - The following court proceedings we gather from the Register of last week:-

The June term of our Circuit Court convened on Monday last. Judge-E. B. Hall; Clerk-W. A. Chapline; Prosecuting Attorney-C. E. Stubbs ; Sheriff-T. W. Potterfield; Deputy Sheriffs I. Thomas Chapline and George Koonce.

The Grand Jury, after being in session a few hours on Monday, adjourned without finding a single indictment. This speaks well for the morals of the people of our County. We hope it may so continue.

State of West Va. vs. C. Warner. Statutory misdemeanor, for refusing to assist in preserving the peace. Verdict not guilty. State's Attorney and Beltzhoover prosecuting. Blackburn and Andrews for defence.

Chambers and Hurst vs J. H. Hostler. Appeal. Verdict for appellee. Kennedy for Chambers and Hurst, Davies for Hostler. A. M. Sponseller vs Geo. L. Weaver. Appeal. Verdict for appellant. Faulkner for Sponseller. Andrews for Weaver.

A couple of cases are still pending before juries, no verdicts having been returned.

We understand that Judge Thomas Harrison is expected to preside next week in place of Judge Hall, who will be absent.

FLORAL DECORATION .- The Ladies and gentlemen of Shepherdstown and vicinity decorated the graves in the Soldiers' Cemetery on Saturday evening last. The Ladies met at Mr. McMurran's School Room and thence proceeded to the Cemetery where the following exercises took place :- Singing an appropriate piece; Prayer; Address by Capt. Morrow; Strewing Flowers upon the Graves; Singing; Benediction.

THE LOCUSTS .- For the benefit of readers at a distance-our home people being apprised of the fact-we would state that our section is now enjoying a visit from that strange and musical insect-the seventeen year Locusts. From morning till night, their melodious notes are sounding in the ear, with a monotonous noise that ought not to be heard oftener than once in seventeen years.

COURTESIES .- The warm weather of the season, which seems to have commenced at Last, has exercised a wholesome influence on however, to the general yield, very great the ice cream saloons of this town, and since our last we have been made the recipients of by the press. The crop is a small one in area the delicate courtesies of both Messrs Brown and Dumm. Appreciating their kindness. we commend their establishments as worthy of support, and assure the weary and overbested that these gentlemen will be glad to add to their comfort.

The Presbyterian Congregation at Shepherdstown, says the Register, have inereased the salary of Rev. E. W. Bedinger from $600 to $1000 and extended to him a call for his whole term. Heretofore Mr. Bedinger has only been preaching two Sabbaths in the month at this place.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE, STAUN-TON .- The commencement exercises of this flourishing female school commence on Sunday the 21st instant with the annual sermon by Rey. William V. Tedor, of Washingto concert on same staunton. Among the teachers at this institute is Miss Sallts C. Myans of Middle way, in this county.

Of this institution the Southern Opinion appropriately remarks: "We are pleased to learn that the Wesleyan Female Institute has been most prosperous for the session about to close. The high standing and great success of the institution is due, in a great measure, to the ability and learning of its corps of teachers, particularly its head, President Harris. than whom there is no more able instructor or estimable gentlemen in the entire South. tor or estimable gentlemen in the entire South.

The institution counts among its patrons many of the highest families, and among the pupils are to be found young ladies from Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, North and South Carolina, Florida, Maryland, and other States, North and South, May its prosperity ever increase, LADIES FAIR .- Don't forget the Fair now in progress at Harper's Ferry, under the management of the Catholic ladies of that place. It commenced yesterday, and will continue, day and night, during the week.

The Ladies' Fair for the benefit of he German Reformed Church, in Shop herdstown, closed on Monday night week, realizing about $400 nett.

THANKS .- We omitted last week to acknowledge the receipt from Mrs. JAMES H. CONKLYN, of a fine bunch of radishes, some of the finest of the season.

VALLEY ITEMS

From our Valley exchanges we clip the ollowing items :-- A young son of Mr. John Brannon

Staunton, about 7 years old, whilst fishing in the Creek in sight of his father's house, tell - An army surgeon, sent by Gen. Scho-Dumb and Blind Institutions at Staunton. reports that; "They are not only a credit to

- The Shenandoah Valley says that the late freshet damaged the R. R., bridge at Narrow Passage, to the amount of $2,000, which will retard the work on the road very nuch. The rain was the heaviest known to the oldest inhabitants, and all the mills in the county were more or less injured. - Two of the sons of Morrison Ott, Esq., and a young man named Knicely, were arrested at Woodstock, on Saturday morning week, bout one o'clock, by U.S. soldiers, and taken to Winchester. The charge preferred against them was disloyalty, exhibited by cutting down a liberty pole.

- The corner stone of the new Protestant Episcopal church, of Harrisonburg, will be laid, with appropriate Masonio Ceremonies, by Rockingham Union Lodge, No. 27, A.Y. M., on St. John Baptist's day, June 24, 1868. Rev. J. D. McCabe D. D., Past Grand Chapine of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, is nnounced as the orator of the day.

- The floanoke Times says a white female of that county gave birth to a child as black as the ace of spades, one day last week. The father of the girl was a member of the League who held meetings at his House. It also peaks of another case in which the wife of a white man was driven off with her black paramour, and thinks there is a radical defect - Thos. Harris (colored) charged with committing rape on two colered children under 12 years of age, was tried before the Circuit Court of Augusta last week. In the first case the jury rendered a verdict of guilty and fixed the term of his imprisonment in the Penitentiary at 19 years. After the trial of the second case and when the jury were about to return with the verdict the prisoner fainted and remained prostrate for several days. The jury, although ready, were unable to render their verdict on account of the con dition of the prisoner, and were compelled to remain until Tuesday last, when they brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed the term of imprisonment in the Penitentiary at 11 years.

INTERESTING SCENE .- In the Carlisle. (Pa) Herald we find the following interest

On Sabbath morning last a most interesting and impressive scene was witnessed in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of Carlisle. It was the appearance there of three clergymer—Rev. George Duffield, Sr., Rev-George Duffield, Jr., and Rev. Samuel Duffeld. field, father, son, and grandson. The ser-mon in the morning was delivered by the Rev. George Duffield, Sr., and it was truly an eloquent and impressive one, filled with devotion to his God and overflowing with the love of souls. Although the sermon was one of unusual length, the venerable clergyman evinced unwonted bodily power for one of his great age, and showed that time had robbed him of none of his mental faculties. During its delivery, many of his auditory were melt-ed in tears, and all appeared deeply affected.

THE WHEAT CROP IN VIRGINIA -The Richmond Whig says: "In consequence of the excessive rains great anxiety has been felt respecting the Wheat crop, now at the most critical period of its existence. We are glad to hear that the damage sustained by rust has not been as great as was apprehended .-In some localities it has been greater than in others, but we believe it has not been very exaggerations have been propagated, as usual, compared with the crops before the war, perhaps not exceeding one third, on this side of the mountain. The yield per acre does not promise to be large, while the indications are that the quality will be very good."

A few weeks since the trustees of Wil-— A few weeks since the trustees of William and Mary college received from England a remittance of some $8000, the accumulated proceeds of a legacy left them for the college in 1742 by an English lady by the name of Margaret Whaley. The original legacy was £50 sterling, to be applied by the executors of the Whaley estate to William and Mary college, and has been hitherto unknown or forgotten until accidentally discovered by forgotten until accidentally discovered by a ROOFING Paint-both Water and Fire Proof-lawyer in searching over some old papers. HUMOROUS.

A BERRY ANECDOTE.—Once upon a time there might have been seen a very anxious merchant by the name of Berry, with the fear of a bank protest before his eyes, entering the office of a very erabbed, crusty old "business man," who was wont to do everything by the square and compass of "busines law." Berry, with some apologetic hesitation, presented a bill which was not mature. In great indignation this "first class-business man" completely withered the hapless Berry with the following avalanche. Looking at the date of the bill, he shouted: "What do you mean, sir? You have presented your bill-berry, before it was due-berry. Your father, the claer berry, would not have been such as quose-berry. You need not look so black berry. I don't care a straw-berry!" Where-upon the Berry, bruised, mashed, and a little of its flavor gone, incontinently "sloped," declaring, sotto voce, "Yourage not worth a Whorde-berry."

A youngster who was taken to a toy ba-mar the other day by his doting mamma, was shown a number of articles by the attentive-salesman, who was in the hope of enlisting-his attention and effecting a sale, but without his attention and effecting a sale, but withouteffect. At last a papier mache model of a mouse was produced, and after being wound up by a key was set upon the floor, when it ran about in the most mouse-like manner imaginable. The youngstet's attention was enlisted at once; but the result was not as the mother or the salesman espected, for he shouted out, "Oh, mamma, I don't want that; we've got lots of them at home, and don't have to wind 'em up either."

"Father, I think you told a fib in the pulpit to-day," said a little son of a clergyman. "Why, what do you mean?" "You said, "One more word and I have done."— Then you went on and said a great many more words. The people expected you'd leave off, "cause you'd promised them. But, you didn't, and kept on preaching a long while after the time was up."

As a physician and his friend were walking down one of the principal streets the other day, the doctor said to his companion:
"Let us avoid that pretty little woman you see there on the left! She knows me, and casts on me looks of indignation. I attended her husband." "Ah, I understand; you had the misfortune to dispatch him." "On the contrary," replied the doctor, "I saved him."

— Aunt Susan, about seventy yers of age, is "unanimous on man. She says "If all the men were taken off, she'd make arrangements for he funeral forthwith." She also says: "Suppose all the men were in one country, and all the women in another, with a big river between them. Good gracious! what lots of poor women would be drowned."

— A gentleman after giving his servant a severe scolding, wound up by saying "we must part." Pat scratched his head for a moment, then remarked: "Sorry am I that we must part, yer honor; but if we must, may I make so bold as to ask where your honor's going ?" Pat got another trial.

- A few hours before the death of Marshal Narvaez his confessor told him that he ought to forgive all his foes. The Marshal declared he had none. The priest remonstrated, when the dying man interrupted him: "I had some opponents, but I had them all shot a long time ago."

- The latest puzzle has relation to a very lamentable fact in regard to the present

Which a long-headed friend interprets to mean "The C's on is backward;" and so it is

-To an indignant person who was per-petually boasting of his ancestry, an industrious, successful tradesman, of humble origin, observed. "You, my friend, are proud of your descent; I am proud of my ascent."

I believe Dr. Lawrence's "ROSADALIS" to be the Best Alterative in Use, and therefore cheerfully recommend it as such.

THOMAS J. BOYDTON, M. D.

RALTIMORS, Feb. 10th, 1988. Dear Sir—I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other a case of scrofula, of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of afterative ingretients.

Yours truly, R. W. CARR, M. D. 93-We know Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis to be safe and reliable Alterative, &c., and take pleasure in recommending it to the profession and the public.

T. C. DAVIS,

Mayor of Wilson, N. C. ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES

READ THE STATEMENT BELOW AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, SEPT. 10, 1867.

Dr. J. J. Lawrence—

Dear Sir: My youngest daughter, aged five years has been dreadfully afflicted with Scroluta nearly all her life. I tried a great many physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, it ost of them said there was no hope of cure. During the last spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosaddils. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well. I am yours, With much respect and gratitude.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES. BOSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

Wilson, N. C., September 15, 1867,

Dr. Laurence-Dear Sir-In 1862, my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician, Dr. A. D. Moore, After taking it a few weeks my son became and remains entirely well.

Yours truly,

J. B. DANIEL.

CHRONIC LAVER COMPLAINT CURED. This is to certify that I was cured of Chronic Liver Comptaint by Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, af-ter having been confined to my bed and house for a long time, and trying various medicines without benefit.

I know of several others in this country cured through the use of Rusadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and all praise it as a great medicine.

GEORGE W HLOUNT.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE VERY WORST CASES OF CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

PORTSMOOTH, Va, Vehrnary 25th, 1868, Captain J H Baker:

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have been af flicted with Rheumatism for the last five or six years, many times unable to move. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, without receiving any benefit. Having heard Rosadalis highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well.

I not only consider the Rosadalis a sovereign remedy for Bheumatism, but I believe it also a preventive, and cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted. Yours very truly, Wason, January 7, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used Br. Lawrence's justly celebrated Resadalis in my family as a general Alterative and Tonic, with the most satisfactory results, and I therefore, conscientiously recommend it to the public as a Medicine of rare and genuine merit.

Sheriff of Wilson county, N.C.

Rosapatas-Tiris Medicine has met with an unprecedented success in this community. Captain Baker, the police and attentive agent for this city, informs us that it is next to impossible to supply the demand made for it; and that the medicine is effecting some wonderful cures, and giving great satisfaction to all who have used it.—Norfolk Jour.
