THE DEMOCRACY EVERYWHERE AT WORK. Progress of the Campaign in Michigan.

The signs of the times are auspicious .-Never in the history of political contests, have the indications thus early been so favorable to the Democracy of the country as today. In whatever direction we turn, the voice of hope and words of cheer greet us. The people already begin to take courage for the future. Democratic gatherings everywhere are large and enthusiastic, while Radical ones are small and spiritless. The whole party seems smitten with the weight of guilt which is upon its leaders.

Indiana and Illinois. In Indiana and Illinois, our friends are at work nobly and energetically for the redemption of these States from the stigma of Radicalism. Hendricks and others are on the stump and are enthusiastically received in every part of the former State; while Eden and a host of able speakers are working with determination in Illinois, and are by no means without a hope of carrying the State, notwithstanding the large majority against us two years ago.

In Ohio, Pendleton, Ward, Thurman, and others, are all dealing heavy blows upon the Radical front, with every prospect of success. It is claimed that the change in the German vote alone, in that State, will secure its electoral vote for Seymour and Blair. The Northwestern States.

In Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, the battle is being well fought, and our friends are very enthusiastic in their efforts to place these States in the Democratic column. It is not at all improbable, viewing their condition from the present stand-point, that we may receive the victory in all these States, except Iowa-and even in that our friends are not without hope. The pupular changes have been largely in our favor, and will continue to be so up to the election; but whether sufficient to overcome the enormous Radical majority of the past, the result alone will tell. Pennsylvania.

From Pennsylvania, the keystone in the old Democratic arch, the news is not only good, but cheering. Our friends are sanguine of success. They are pressing the enemy back at every point along the whole line, and intend that their route shall be final and complete on the 3d of November. New England.

In all New England our friends are doing battle most gallantly. The Nutmer State (and where will you find a greater?) is going to fully maintain its position in the Demo-eratic fold; while in New Hampshire the hardy Democracy are laboring ardently for the success of the "faith that is in them."-That they may succeed is by no means improbable.

Delaware and Maryland. Delaware, as usual, is sure for a Democratic majority. Maryland stands side by side with her sister State, and will roll up a large Democratic majority.

New York and New Jersey. New York and New Jersey are conceded as beyond Radical hope. The Democracy are "carrying the war into Africa" in those States. with a vengeance. In neither of them have the disciples of the mum candidate been able to secure a respectable number for attendance at their public meetings. The tide of enthusiasm and popular feeling is all on the Democratic side.

The Southern States. Throughout the South the Union sentiments of the people are gaining strength, and their supporters are daily organizing meetings in numbers. There is reason to be encouraged with hope, that notwithstanding the schemes and villainies of the Congressional Quirks, Gammons, and Snaps in behalf of the Tittmouse satraps, we shall have a good account of the manner in which the battle of the Union and the Constitution has been once more fought in that portion of the country.

The Western States. From the far Western States come the words of cheer and the indications of success. Our friends in California and Oregon promise to "be in at the death" of Radicalism, and make their shouts of victory heard east of the mountains.

"PROGRESSIVE."-The Radical "Progressive" party in West Virginia is making rapid strides towards negro suffrage and negro equality. The legislature passed a military law which requires the whites and the negroes to muster together, and the Radicals up in Morgantown have gone a step further and taken Sambo into full political fellowship .-The Morgantown Constitution thus refers

"We say to the people of Monongalia county, and we defy contradiction from any source. that full-blooded negroes are now received into membership equal with the whites in the Grant and Colfax Club, in Morgantown. White men, how do you like the "progressive" party? Aint it lovely?-New Era.

- It has been at times feebly denied that the ultimate object of Radicalism was entire negro equality, social and otherwise. Now. mark how a plain fact will put this cowardly evasion down. The pretended Legislature of Arkansas has just passed an act which makes it "a high misdemeanor" for any railroad, steamboat, street car, stage coach, or other conveying company, or for the keeper of an inn, hotel, or place of public amusement, to make any distinction on account of race, color, or previous condition, on penalty of fine not less than $200 nor more than $5,000, and, in the discretion of the judge trying, imprisonment not exceeding twelve months. This is mongrelization, and upon that platform Grant stands .- World.

- General Buell, who saved Grant at Shiloh, now declines to rescue him again, and supWhat Miles O'Reilly Said.

We clip the following from the New York Citizen, the last issue before the death of its talented editor :

"Major General Winfield Scott Hancock is out in a letter heartily endorsing the nomination of Horatio Seymour and Gen. Frank P. Blair. This in itself is a sufficient answer oall those slanderous speculators of the Home Brigade who have recently taken up the business of denouncing Seymour and Blair as 'copperheads.' On the whole muster rolls of our army no name shone more conspicuously for gallantry than that of Frank P. Blair, few officers have been more desperately wounded, and no officer has been more gloriously conspicuous for never saying 'come' to his men, but 'follow me.' As for the loyalty of Horatio Seymour, the fact that in every national exigency he hurled forward more troops to the scene of action-whether it was Washington or Gettysburg-than any other Governor, together with the warm letters of thanks for his loyalty and devotion from the late President Lincoln which have already appeared, must be a sufficient answer Knowing Seymour well, and having had opportunities to know him thoroughly, officially and personally during the war, we reluctantly but firmly apply to whomsoever shall question his action and practical loyalty, the famous words of that great Radical Chief who answers every charge he deems unfounded by this striking phrase of the pure Saxon dialect, "You lie, you villain, you lie; and—what the great Radical philosopher does not do-we are willing to be held responsible for these words."

A gentleman in one of the departments has made a curious discovery, which we publish below. He numbers each letter of the alphabet, and then adds the numbers correspond-Seymour and Blair, and Grant and Colfax. The result shows 177 for Seymour and Blair, and 140 for Grant and Colfax, the total being 317, which is the number of votes in the Electoral College. Thus :-

Gen. D. H. Hill, in the Land We Love, thus takes the magic utterance to task and to "What is nominative to 'will lighten'? Do you answer 'peace and prosperity'?— What then does the 'it' refer to, in the next line? There is a plural something, which is to lighten the burden of taxation, and there is a singular something, which is to reduce the national debt. Will some loyal grammarian explain what it is all about? In the preceding clause to the one under consideration, the General says: 'I always have respected that will and always shall.' the same loyal scholar explain what the 'shall' refers to? Does he mean to say that he always 'shall have respected it'? If not, whose grammar has he used? Let us have light' as well as 'peace.' ".

MR. DAVIS .- Mr. Jefferson Davis and family, as we are informed by telegraph and mail, have left for Europe. As it has been stated that he has gone there for the purpose of engaging in buisness, it may be proper for us to state that while he goes abroad mainly for his health and for that recreation which his most eventful life for the past seven years especially makes needful to him, he has been likewise induced to go to England upon the invitation of an eminent commercial firm which desire him to become a partner in its business. It is very possible that Mr. Davis, who has been deprived by the events of the war of any means of support will accept this very generous offer; but we believe we may assure our fellowcitizens of New Orleans that unless the other members of this house shall think it best that he should remain with them in England, he will make his home with us, and represent in this country the interests of the house. We shall welcome this distinguished gentleman with the utmost pleasure to this city; where his eminent abilities and Christian virtues are held in the most exalted respect .- N. Orleans Picayune, August 8. - Donn Piatt, a leading Republican of Ohio, in the columns or the Mac-a-cheek Fress, of June 1, 1867, made the following honest confession : From the hour of his (Lincoln's) first inauguration up to that of his death, the thieves ware all in office. It was impossible almost to lay hands on an official and not touch a man. made rich by his position. This was especially the case with the moneyed offices. Honest men stood aghast at the impunity with which stealing went on. All cries of shame at the outrage seemed unavailing. All opposition was thrown away. Thieves were turned out to be succeeded by thieves, and colossal fortunes were made in an hour. The amiable old President cracked jokes over the rascality, and said hand into a sack of fifty snakes to find one eel.

THE SWORD OF LEE. Forth from its scabbard, pure and bright, Flashed the sword of LEE!
Far in the front of the deadly fight,
High ofer the brave, in the cause of Right!
Its stainless sheep, like a beacon, light,

Led us to victory. Out of the scabbard, where full long It slumbered peacefully—
Roused from its rest by the battle-song,
Shielding the feeble, smiting the strong,
Guarding the right, avenging the wrong,
Gleamed the aword of Les!

Forth from its scabbard, high in air,
Beneath Virginia's sky—
And they wto saw it gleaming there,
And knew who bore it, knelt to swear
That where that sword led they would dare Out of its scabbard! Never hand
Waved sword from stain as free,
Nor purer sword led braver band,
Nor braver bled for a brighter land,
Nor brighter land had cause as grand,
Nor cause a chief like Laz!

Forth from its scabbard! how we prayed That sword might victor be!
And when our triumph was delayed,
And many a heart grew sore afraid,
We still hoped on, while gleamed the blade
Of noble ROBERT LEE!

Forth from its scabbard ! all in vain !
Forth fleshed the sword of LEE! 'Tis shrouded now in its sheath again It sleeps the sleep of our noble slain, Defeated, yet without a stain, Proudly and peacefully.

California. "How big a bear did you say you had 'A small party had chanced to meet at a little station where (owing to a defect in the track,) both trains were detained; many of them were ex-Californians, and the conversation naturally turned upon that country, and the "big things" they had seen there. It was a stranger-a quiet inoffensive man, that asked the question of Joe Ranson, who ing to the letters composing the two tickets, was semewhat fond of drawing the long bow cheeks. when he thought he could gull listeners. without even the ghost of a smile. "I was" treed by one once for four days, the brute." "Didn't you get hungry?" questioned Tom

"Hungry? Not a bit. I went two weeks once there without so much as a swallow of water; but I tell you I made a square meal when I got a chance. A whole deer first, and then finished off with a couple of watermelons, each as large as a hogshead." "Ah!" interrupted the stranger, "the regetable productions must grow to an immense size in that country." "You bet on that. I was at the State Fair at Sacramento once, and saw cabbages (stripped of their outside leaves and ready for boiling, you know) that were as large as a coach body, and weighed from four to five hundred pounds each. As for the beets, you wouldn't have known them from a pine tree stripped of its bark. There were potatoes nearly the size of a flour barrel; grapes that weighed forty pounds to the bunch; turnips that would'nt go in a bushel basket; pears' as large as the pumpkins here; and-but speaking of pumpkins, they just took the rag clean off the bush. I saw one that a man had scooped the inside out of, and used it for

"It must have made a large number of pies," said the stranger. "Pies! I am glad that you reminded me of that, for I had the figures in my pocket book for a long time, and I remember them. There was a regiment of dragoons camping there at the time, and they lived on pumpkin pies for nine weeks. Besides, every one who visited the fair had one given him to carry home. I tell you it took a power of milk and eggs, and flour to make them. Here are the figures, and I will swear to them any day in the week. Twenty-seven thousand gallons of milk; one hundred thousand dozen of eggs; five tons of butter and lard, and just an even clipper ship load of flour." "Did you ever see the great trees?" querried the strapger, as if intent upon gaining all the information possible. Joe winked at his friend, took an extra pull at his cigar, and continued in the most matter-of-fact manner possible.

"To be sure I did-camped under them often. There were the 'three sisters' and the 'old man,' and the latter just heat anything I ever saw. "Joe, have you any idea of its dimensions ?" "I should rather think I had. Jim Townsend and I started to measure it with a tape-line after sundown. I don't distinctly restranger, but it was nothing to its height,saw an eagle try to fly to the top once, and had to rest at least twenty times before it got up. I got an old Vermont lumber man to 'scale' it, and he said it would cut something over nine hundred million feet of lumber, clear stuff at that, and that there would be about five hundred thousand cords of wood left. I tell you, big things grow in the Golden State, stranger.' "I am satisfied of that. Particularly one

"What is that?" asked Joe, turning around sharply, and fearing that he had forgotten an article upon which the stranger could 'overlay' him.

- Much amusement has been created in Kiel, by the publication of the will of a rich old spinster. Here are some interesting paragraphs from the document in question: "To my cat Emmy I bequeath five thousand marks, to my cat Fides four thousand marks; to my poodle Pluto, four thousand five hundred marks. The interest of these sums is to be used by the persons below mentioned on condition that they furnish Fides, Emmy and Pluto with sufficient wholesome food, take good care of them, beware of killing that in his appointment he had to run his them in a violent manner and pay annualy the dog tax on Pluto."

Uses of "Dead Dogs."

Dead dogs have their uses as well as live ones, and we doubt not if the facts were known that as a large portion of mankind, is benefitted by the one as the other. The enactments of our official bodies, which yearly doom so many of these animals to death, may therefore be deemed, to some extent, excusable, especially when it becomes generally known to what varied, profitable and excellent uses the carcasses may be applied. With the desire to extend this information as much as possible, at a period, too, when so many of our dogs are to die, we publish the following, with the recommendation that some energetic man obtain a monopoly of all the dead dogs of the city:

To Preserve Your Teeth Use Unbolted

Flour. At the Dental Convention at Niagara Falls, Dr. John Allen, of New York, urged the necessity of supplying in the food materials which should supply the mineral wants of the system. He asserted that as a nation Americans have the worst teeth of any people because they change the proper propor tions of the constituents of the food, while in countries where this is not done the peo-ple retain their teeth sound and beautiful to old age. From every parrel of flour forty pounds of mineral matter are rejected in the process of manufacture, ind allowing half a barrel of flour as the y orly allowance of a child, every child is leprived of twenty pounds per annum of the material most ne- knew not before where it was to come from;

To accomplish this great waste, 28,000 men are employed, at an utlay of $9,000,000 and a destruction of 20,000,000, pounds of the material essential to the formation of sound teeth and bones. To offset this evil 10,000 dentists are employed by the American people, but their effor are entirely inade-quate to compete with the destructive agencies above named. When the conclusion is accepted that proper diet is the high road to improvement in the quality of the teeth, he would have hopes of a stronger and healthier organism; but any means short of a radical change in this respect would prove inade-

Lively Time at a Circus-the Canvas Blown Down and a Bull Run Stampede.

While Hemmings, Cooper & Whitney's circus was performing to an immense audience in Flemingsburg, Kentucky, a few days since, a heavy storm, accompanied by a violent wind, inundated and blew down the tent. The scene is described by a local paper as fol-

Every body rushed pell-mell for the entrance, gentlemen and ladies in a confused mass, calling alternately for help and friends. Of course, on the top seats some jumped to the bottom, some fell through, some were caught and suspended while falling, and a great many cut their way through the canvas. At this juncture the elephant broke out among the people, and created a terrible excitement, and the writer started for the entrance "at a lively

Before he reached it he was clasped in the arms of a lady, who implored him to save her. When he reached the outer world things presented a very comic appearance. The rain was falling in torrents, the lightning flashed, and the thunder roared. Men in their fright ran against the ticket wagon, over the ladies, wildly to and fro. Many of the ladies screamed, fainted, and fell, and had to be carried to Mr. Newcomb's residence, which was about two hundred yards distance. Here too, a great many more swooned away from frie or excitement, but none, we are happy to st, were killed or scared to death. After the storm had abated, the canvas was explored, but no one was found to be seriously injured.

A California adventurer was trying to get back to San Francisco from the mines, when he had worked and searched without succession until his means were exhausted. He came to a river, but the ferryman asked a dollar to take him across! The adventurer said :

'It is,' replied the adventurer. 'And your father used to live in street, New York ?' 'He did,' replied the adventurer with astonishment to find himself recognized. Thereupon the ferryman drew from his pocket and commenced counting out gold 'I have made five hundred dollars by ferrying passengers, here are three hundred of them for you. You can pay me when you are flush, or if that don't happen, all right. -The returns of the election in Kentucky last week, continue to improve in their nature. The Democratic majority in that State is now estimated at between ninety and one hundred thousand majority, nearly double what it was last year. The result satisfies the New York Herald, and other much better authorities, that the counter-revolution will be a triumphant success, and that the GRANT and Congressional usurpation is doomed to certain defeat.

- The new "sensations" in Wall street. New York, at the close of last week, were the disappearance of Mr. Samuel Strong, chairman of the arbitration committee of the open board of brokers, with an alleged deficit of $56,000 in his bank account; and the robbery of the Star Insurance Company, of $40,000 in bonds, by some person or persons, as yet unknown. But New York has a new "sensation" almost every day. - A French journalist, wishing to poke a little fun at the English, says that a British

The whale then awoke and went down, carrying the discoverer and his party, but upon all English charts the place is marked as Harris Island. -The South Carolina Legislature is said to show signs of conservatism every day. the

DEMOCRATS & CONSERVATIVES "FLOWING SPRING MILLS," SATURDAY, AUGUST 22, 1868.

3.000 PEOPLE IN ATTENDANCE!

Able Speeches by Col. Benj. Wilson Hon. J. N. Camden, Col. Okey Johnson, Hon. A. R. Boteler. and Maj. E. W. Andrews.

The political demonstration at Flowing Spring on Saturday last was a success in every sense of the word. The arrangements were admirable, the attendance large, the order observed throughout the day excellent and the speaking such as to elate the spirits of those whose breasts are animated with desire for the restoration of harmony and good will to the country. The morning dawned as bright and beautiful as the faith that cheers the hearts and buoys the spirits of the De mocracy of the country; and nature, as if sympathising with the objects for which the meeting was appointed, had decked herself in the most enchanting robes, and wore an aspect as lovely as a bride adorned for her nuptials. The spot selected for the gathering was just such an one as gave to the propitious smiles of Providence, a genial welcome and inspiring reception. Early in the day the people commenced pouring in, on foot, on horseback, and in every conceivable form of vehicle, from the rough and lumbering roadwagon to the elegant equipage suited to the aspirations of the most worldly-minded .-By 91 o'clock the woods were filled with a heterogeneous mass of all ages, sizes and sexes, and yet the people continued to arrive. Jefferson had there assembled her wealth, her respectability and her intelligence; Berkeley was represented in the persons of some of her gallant sons and fair daughters; Clarke, our little sister, had her deputation; whilst from a distance there was a sprinkling of those who felt interested in the dawn of that day which is to restore to this continent the sacred, and once revered principles of civil liberty. No one could move through that throng, and look upon the anxious faces of the aged and animated countenances of the more youthful, without feeling that there is yet much worth contending for in the constitution handed down to us by our fathers, torn, and rent and disregarded as it has been within the past eight years of radical misrule and oppression. Reviving the precious memories of the past, and lighting up the gloom which has surrounded us, the gathering of Saturday, gave to the hopeful increased faith-in the hearts of the doubting it fanned the spark of hope-to the desponding, it came like a ray of light piercing the veil of darkness that has hung like a death-pall over everything that radicalism has touched-and within the breasts of all. it inspired the feeling that there "is life in the old land yet." THE ORGANIZATION. At 101 o'clock, Dr. J. V. SIMMONS, the chairman of the executive committee of this township ascended the stand; and called the meeting to order. He then nominated as President of the Day, LOGAN OSBOURN, Esq., which nomination was seconded by acclamation. Mr. O., in assuming the duties assigned him, introduced to the audience, the Rev. W. S. PENICK, who addressed the Throne of Grace in an invocation, beautiful for its reverence and appropriate because of the devout spirit in which it was offered.

THE SPEAKING. The President then introduced to the audience, Col. BENJAMIN WILSON, of Clarksburg, who represents the Democratic State ticket as a candidate for Elector at Large .-On taking the stand, Col. W. returned his thanks for the compliment conferred in the cordial invitation which he had received to be present and address the people on this occasion, and congratulated himself upon having the privilege of appearing before such an audience. He came from a distant part of the State, but cherishing that feeling of pride in the glorious renown of his mother State, that was the inheritance of every native son of Virginia. Though unknown to most of those present, he did not feel himself a stranger, as he had served in the Convention of Virginia with the President of the Day, Mr. Osbourn, and having formed the acquaintance of many of those by whom he was surrounded .-Having briefly spoken of the pleasure he experienced in being present on the occasion, he proceeded with the directness and preci- that all the exertions that could be put forth sion of a practiced speaker, to discuss the by his doating father, would be unavailing several issues which divide the two parties of for his rescue. A rush was made for the tables as soon as the approuncement was made from the stand, and before the bread and meat provided for the occasion could be spread upon the tables, hundreds had gathered to gobble it up.-Whether this part of the entertainment gave general satisfaction we do not know, but think it strange if it did. The liberality of the people had provided abundantly, but many present seemed to be impressed with the view that life depended upon eating, and that the day was set apart for a feast, rather for the benefit of the stomach than the mind. At the carriages, the well-filled basket was present, and here the appetites of hundreds were satisfied, and good cheer prevailed .-Nearly an hour was passed in thus catering to the body, before the feast of reason was

THE SPEAKING RESUMED. About 2 o'clock the President again called the crowd to order, and introduced to the audience Col. OKEY JOHNSON of Wood county, of whom it may be said that he is an Ajax, physically and intellectually. We shall not do the Colonel or ourself the injustice to attempt a synopsis of his able speech, which it took him a little over two hours to deliver. We like his mode of dealing with radicalism, and in his treatment of this fungus, he came up to our ideas of political surgery. He paid especial attention to the outrages committed in this State, and brought it home to our own county, where, he had been informed that out of a voting population of nearly twentythree hundred before the war, there were now only about three hundred and fifty who enjoyed the elective franchise. Before him there was seated a gentleman who had upheld the honor of his government in the war with Great Britain in 1812, and on his right was another who had marched to the defence of Washington, when imperilled by the presence of a foreign foe, both of whose heads were white with the frosts of more than seventy winters, and who were now stripped of their political rights, whilst the meanest carpetbagger, whose crimes had driven him from the Northern States, was invested with the elective franchise, and enabled to impose taxes upon these old defenders of their country's the present day, and which contribute to make | presented as their candidate for the Presi- honor. [The old citizens on the stand thus the pending Presidential contest the most im- dency, Horatio Seymour, of New York—a referred to were our townsmen, Mr. William Crow and Capt. John Moler.] He said there were fifteen counts in the Declaration of Independence against the oppressions of George III., which were as applicable to our present condition as they were to the circumstances which surrounded our forefathers on the 4th of July, 1776. These counts he enumerated, beginning with that in which our fathers set forth the grievances of taxation without representation. In alluding to the outrages perpetrated by the republican party, and their attempts to crush out the liberties of the people, he quoted the spoon thief of Massachusetts; Joe Brown, thy of their support. Johnson retired, our old friend, Hon. A. P. BOTELER was introduced. He came up smiling, and from the reception given him, we fancied that the feelings of the crowd must have been akin to those which

A more enlivening day we have not witnessed in our gallant little county, since "grim visaged war smoothed her wrinkled front." Every body seemed happy, and all left the ground with the feeling that we yet have a country which, under Democratic rule, will be looked upon as the "Land of the free, and the home of the brave." The speakers from a distance went away delighted, and with a consciousness that they had been among a people who know how to appreciate true patriotism, and who are able to discriminate between the essuine and the hypocritical professions of lovalty.

Our report of the day's proceedings is necessarily imperfect. Having only one day in which to prepare it we have been compelled to make it briefer and less ornate than we would have done under other circumstances.

Let him run. He cannot escape. We need not pursue.— Above all, we need not go ahead of him, and build a "golden bridge" for him to cross over. In our plans to defeat the schemes of those who seek to bring our State under negro domination for their own aggrandizement, the most important functions have been entrusted to the able and patriotic leaders of the Conservative Organization throughout the State. The speakers and superintendents have nobly performed the duties assigned them as the effective strength which they have developed among the people most amply proves. The State Executive Committee form no junto, but are representative men of the people and having more information than the people, have, of course are better prepared to determine what is best to be done. We hope therefore they will be let alone.

A RADICAL DODGE.—The so-called legislature of Alabama, finding it impracticable to pass over the Governor's veto, the act authorizing that body to appoint Presidential electors, took a recess until November without enacting a registration law as provided for in the "constitution" of the State. According to the Montgomery Advertiser this was done for the deliberate purpose of defeating a popular election, that the legislature, upon reassembling, may then appoint electors on the plea that it will be absolutely necessary to do this in order that the State shall not be altogether deprived of its vote of peace than the monarchical and expenin the choice of the next President of the sive government of Great Britain does the United States. TO WHAT WE ARE TENDING.

GEN. FRANK BLAIR, in a recent speech at Leavenworth, Kansas, gave it as his opinion that the reason why Sherman and Sheridanwho were heretofere Democrats-were favor of Grant, a military candidate, for the Presidency, was because his election would secure the ascendency of the military power in this country. They supported him for the reason that it would bring into, prominence in the direction and in the formation of the character of our government military menin short that it would be a giant stride towards military despotism. Gen. Blair warned the people against this projected movement subvert the Republican institutions of the country, and erect upon their ruins a colossal armed power, which would sweep away their liberties, and bind them with the bayonets to do the bidding of their mailed masters.

When we contemplate, says the Cumberland Alleganian, the character of the legislation of Congress, which places under the sword of Grant the entire South-which subordinates every right the people ever enjoyed, either olitical or judicial, to the behest of a man who confesses, and truly so, that he has no political knowledge or policy, and who is the candidate of that party for the Presidency, we must concede that the apprehension Gen. Blair expresses is not the result of nervous fear, but the conclusion to which every logical mind must come.

Gen. Blair further warned these Radical evolutionists that this end would not be so easily attained as they might think; that a preponderance of one million of democratic votes in the United States would not tamely ubmit to such monstrous usurpation, and that whatever consequences might follow the attempt of the Radicals to destroy the forms of constitutional government, would rest upon. them and them alone

POLITICAL.

The Radicals are afraid to let the Demcrats in because they will show the people how rotten Government finances are. - The chance of carrying Kansas for the Democrats, improves every day. There has been a large emigration of people there who can read and think for themselves recently, and the prospect is fair for a reduction and onquest of the slim Radical majority of 1800 last year.

- During the war the Radicals insisted that the President was the Government. Now they are running a man with no ideas for Pres ident: This puts their estimation of the Government at a high rate.

- The Secretary of the Grant Club at Media, Pennsylvania, J. M. Borrell, has resigned his place, joined the Democracy, and taken the stump for Seymour and Blair. - At a late Democratic meeting in Favette ounty, Ohio, the principal speakers were Judge Briggs and Col. Connell, who have both horetofore been staunch Republicans. -Col. Gardiner, of Elmira, New York, a rominent Republican leader in that locality, has written a strong letter to Gen. Slocum, neartily endorsing Seymour and Blair.

The Radicals of Lancaster county, do propose, however, in all seriousness, to nominate Thaddeus Stevens' corpse for Congress on Saturday next. An order to that effect has been issued over the signature of the Chairman of their County Committee, from which we make the following extract: "The undersigned, therefore, after consultation with members of the County Committee and other friends, would suggest that as a fitting tribute of respect to the memory of our most able and distinguished Champion of Freedom and Justice. the unanimous vote of the party be cast for the name of Thaddeus Stevens at the ensuing primary meetings."

We are not prepared to assert that it is the purpose of the Radicals of this district to elect the corpse. We believe they only propose to nominate it After having done that they will probably burn it with all due solemnity, and then the row among the small fry politicians, who espire to take the place of the dead man, which has already begun will go on with great energy. The fight will be exciting and bitter in the extreme. The readers of the Intelligencer will be kept fully posted in regard to all its developments .-Lancaster Intelligencer.

"The income of the General Government last year, reckoning from June 30, 1867, to June 30, 1868, was over 460,000,000. This, too, in time of peace, and three years after the war was closed. If we take the British Government, the most expensive of any in the world, and which has a much larger debt than any other, by way of comparison, we shall see that our national revenue and taxes exceed those of Great Britain. The total revenue of England from all sources rarely reaches 80,000,000 sterling, or $400,000,000 This is $60,000,000 less than ours, notwithstanding the debt is about double the amount of the interest bearing debt of the United States, and the English have besides to support a costly royal establishment, an expensive government over colonies and territories covering a fifth of the habitable globe. We might make a comparison with the other great nations and empires of the world, and show a still greater difference in the cost of government between them and this country; but England is the most costly, and more to the point. Yes, our republican government taxes the people $69,000,000 a year more in time

WHATIT COSTS .- It takes twenty thousand soldiers to enforce negro equality in ten-States of the Union. According to Radical usage each soldier costs two thousand dollars a year. It can thus be seen that forty millions of the people's money are squandered in order to obtain the votes of negroes for General Grant. Are the tax-payers of the North content?

GENERAL NEWS.

- At Demopolis, Alabama, there was held recently a Seymour and Blair ratification meet ing, almost exclusively composed of colored men, and addressed by four white and six black speakers; and of one of the latter Southern journal reports as follows :-

"Old Uncle Sandy Cameron, from Hale said he was born in the South, was a South, ern man and that the Southern men were his friends. He had yo to learn of any good to the black man that could come from these vankee pedlers in secret politics. Southern men have never lied to him or deceived him when he was a slave, nor since he was free. That God had put him and the Southern man here upon the same soil, and that they must either stand or fall together. The old man gave them a scathing rebuke for being blindly hitched in by a set of traveling adventurers. who had only leagued themselves together as a kind of ladder u on which they could climb into office; and wound up by saying that he had rather be lathered with aquæfortis and shaved with a handsaw, or live on pills hewed out with a broadaxe, than be left in the hands of such a set of scalawags."

- In the last statement of the Director of he Bureau of Statistics, that officer says that our agricultural interests have been sensibly depressed, and still continue so, as indicated by a wheat crop of increasing disproportion to population, by a large falling off in the wheat exports, and by the continued high prices of this and other agricultural staples. These phenomena are attributed mainly to the war and its attendant circumstances .-The gradual tendency of the population to desert the pursuit of husbandry is due to other causes; but, whatever the cause, it is to be seriously deplored.

- The National Intelligencer says :- The rate at which we are going to ruin-the astounding sums of money drawn by the tax gatherer from the hard labor of the people. and spent-can be better understood when we say that during the seventy-three years preceeding the war (as estimated recently) the whole expenditure of the Government amounted to less than fourteen hundred millions of dollars, while the Radical party in the one year of 1865 spent nearly nineteen hundred million dollars

- The Hon. George II. Pendleton, in writing of the Presidential election, says the great battle-field is in the Northwest, and his services will be given in the States of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio. These three States, cast one-third of the electoral vote (50) required for the choice of a President (149). The Republicans heretotore have had a large majority of voters in each of them.

- Milch cows in the vicinity of Newport. Kentucky, are going blind. Not less than fifty of them have entirely lost their sight, and it is accounted for by the fact that during the warm weather they would stand in the water, and that the reflection of the sun on the water affected their sight to such an extent as to cause it to be ultimately lost.

- The latest letters from England show that the drought has not seriously affected the cereal crops, and the demand for grain from this country will not be so 'large as was expected.

- The present condition of "Rollins' History," is that Mr. Commissioner Itallins has returned to Washington, and gone to work at

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Hon. MONTGOMERY BLAIR, of Maryland, the astute politician and eloquent debater, will make a canvass of West Virginia during the next fortnight, beginning at Morgantown on Thursday, 27th, and terminating at Harper's Ferry, on Saturday, September 5th. Let our friends at that point make all needful preparation for the occasion. A full turn out of the people will be expected.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY .- The Maryland Fertilizing Manufacturing Company, whose advertisement appears in our paper, is about bringing into use, for the benefit of the agricultural world, one of the most important fertilizers yet known. Suffice it to say for the present, it is the very remarkable deposit of Phosphates which has been discovered in the vicinity of Charleston, S. C., and which extends for several miles up the Ashley River, covering many thousand acres of land. The | who should sell it to a thousand different perentire extent of the deposit has not yet been sons, scattered all over the State, and agree explored. It is known, however, to contain sources of immense wealth, in the millions of end of the year, he should give them another tons of fossilized bones underlying the surface | bushel, and agree to wait another year for his soil, and averaging in many places a foot in thickness. This inexhaustible fertility is known to extend back from the river a considerable distance into the forest. It speaks well for the enterprise of Baltimore, that a number of her citizens should so promptly have organized themselves into an incorporated Company for the purpose of working those valuable deposits, and of opening a market so convenient of access to the people of the South, and especially our Valley, by which this important fertilizer can be brought into general use.

AGAIN OPEN .- Through the energy of the Agents of the B. & O. R. R., it has been again opened for the transportation of merchandise, and at no point has its convenience been more sensibly felt than our own, Each day our merchants are receiving their needed supplies, and to provide against a similar mishap, we find most of them are laying in quite a sufficient store to provide for a "rainy day." All the employees on the Winchester road, save five on each section, were detailed to assist in the work of reconstruction. It is estimated that three thousand hands have been at work on the road, and the aggregate loss to the railroad company by the terrible freshet, is put down at three millions of dollars. It is in contemplation to lay an entire new track from the Relay to Harper's Ferry, by which the rivers are to be avoided, bridging of creeks saved, and a more direct route

CIRCUS COMING, BOYS, AND NO MIS-TAKE !- See advertisement in another column, and the half is not told. The posters on our streets, novel and attractive as they are, are but an index of the rare and attractive exhibition expected. No "Barnum humbug" now, but an old time, original Circus, with thoroughly trained horses and renowned performers in the artistic circle, as the feast, rather than monkeys and grizzly bears as the attraction. Tuesday next, September 1st., is the day of exhibition in Charlestown, and the Monday preceding it will be at Harper's Ferry, Thursday 27th, Martinsburg.

THE DROUTH .- The drouth in our immediate vicinity still continues, and whilst the prospect of a change is promising to the hope, it is still broken to the heart. With but a slight shower, we have had no rain of service to vegetation since the 5th of July, and as a necessary consequence, the early corn has have norses sunering from closes who may is able to furnish good references to those who may require it. wilted and dried up, the grass fields look as barren of herbage as the highways, and the utter loss of our vegetable gardens is distressing to the rich and utterly impoverishing to our poor. The price of all commodities of consumption is consequently advancing, and in addition to our other ailments, social and well suited for farm purposes.

August 11, 1868-3t. JAMES H. MOORE, political, we have but gloomy prospects ahead -little business, less money, and starvation prices.

VALLEY BANK .- Special Commissioner. J. S. Carson, Esq., of Winchester, gives notice to the creditors of the Valley Bank, by advertisement in our paper of to-day, that is of advantage and pecuniary importance to those interested.

BRICK POMEROY'S new paper is on our table. Its name of course is the Democrat. Its motto is: Democratic at all times and under all circumstances. It is daily, published in New York city, and starts with over 20,-000 circulation.

-George D. Prentice, the poet and editor, is said to be failing rapidly.

REV. NORVAL WILSON. This venerable man of God, who is endeared to our people by many long years of social and christian intimacy, is now on a visit to our town. We are pained to see the failing condition of his health, and greatly fear the winter last spent in Richmond, with the Congo Convention, as the delegate from Frederick county, has proven too much for his frail constitution.-If it be the will of Providence, he has the prayers of our people for his recovery of health, and many years yet of usefulness to the Church and State.

SUPERVISOR'S COURT The Board met on the 17th instant., and from its proceedings, we condense the following from the Shepherdstown Register of Saturday:

Ordered that the following bills be paid. S. Barnhart, $50 for scaffolding; Towner Schley. $23 65 for lumber; J. W. Osburn, $78 60 for Jailor fees and house rent; J. C. Schindler. $3 30 for Tin; R. N. Duke, $2 for Fox scalps; Samuel Barnhart, $10 for drawing draft; J. H. Zittle, $6 50 for printing; Beller & Burnett $13 10 for Old County Order ; Geo. McBee' $75 for Steps for Jail; T. W Potterfield, $43 00 for suppressing riot at Charlestown, and $12 50 for Jury orders; I. T. Chaplin, $92 00 for Jury orders, and $36.82 for Lightning Rods; John W. Grant, $100 buil-

Ordered that all persons who fail to pay their Tax on Licenes to sell spirituous liquors within 20 days from this date, the License will be revoked by the Board at the next meeting. The following charge was preferred against

W. W. Burton. Charlestown, Aug 17, 1868. I respectfully ask the Board of Supervisors to revoke the Liquor License of W. W. Burton, on the ground that he keeps a disorderly G. H. TURNER. Orderd that W. W. Burton be summoned to appear before the Board at the next meeting to answer the above charge. Orderd that the delinquent list be published in the Shepherdstown Register. Orderd that, the Assessor be allowed 13 per cent on the County Levy. Upon motion of J. T. Reed, W. G. Butler was appointed County Treasurer. Orderd that John E. Erwin, be paid $1 290 11 the amount of Assessor Fees. On motion the Board adjourned until the 3rd Monday of September.

CONSIDER .- We commend to the carefu consideration of a number of our readers the following, from an exchange. There are now on the books of the Spirit several hundred who are still in arrear :-

What would you think of a farmer who had raised a thousand bushels of wheat, and to wait a year for his pay from each of them, and if one half of them did not pay at the pay, and thus go on from year to year? How long would such a farmer escape bankruptcy? Probably not very much longer than publishers of newspapers who follow such a practice. It costs the editor of a newspaper more than double as much to supply a thousand subscribers for one year than it costs a farmer to raise a thousand bushels of wheat.

The farmer sells his grain in bulk. Newspapers are sold to a thousand different persons living in different places; and although he contracts for pay in advance, he must wait until the end of the year before he can get payment, and he depends wholly upon the onesty and responsibility of the subscribers. It will not pay him to go or send around the country to collect his dues, as the amount owing by each man is small; yet it makes a large sum in the aggregate.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS. Ammoniated Super Phosphates. The Maryland Fertilizing & Manufacturing COMPANY. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1867.

DIRECTORS. LAWRENCE SANGSTON.

WILLIAM NUMSEN, RICHARD J. BAKER WILLIAM TREGO, LAWRENCE SANGSTON

THIS Company, incorporated by the Legislature of Maryland for the Manufacture and Sale of Fertilizers, are now prepared to furnish the agricultural community with their products.

Deriving their supply of material from the richest of the recently deposits of Bone Phosphates in South Carolina, they have established, and will inflexibly maintain, a higher standard of Fertilizing value than any similar productions hitherto on the market. While the material they use contains 60 per cent. of Bone Phosphate of Lime, it is guaranteed to contain a larger per centage of SOLUBLE PHOS-PHATE than any heretofore used.

Ammoniated Super Phosphate, Price $50 per Ton, in Bags. FINE GROUND BONE PHOSPHATES. Price $30 per Ton, in Bags.

Containing, by the average of the Analysis of Pro-fessors Piggott, Leibig and Popplein, 60.20 per cent. of Bone Phosphate of Lime.

The unusual per centage of Soluble Phosphate will make this form very desirable to Farmers who prefer to use it in its natural state, or to manipulate for themselves. It is now a well ascertained and acknowledged fact, that Wheat cannot be successfully or profita-bly grown without the liberal use of Phosphates; and in presenting an article of high standard at a low price, personally superintended by a Chemist of Thirty Years' experience, with a determination to maintain that standard, the Company confidently rely on the confidence and support of the Agri-LAWRENCE SANGSTON President,

REAL ETATE 153 ACRES OF Jefferson Land. FOR SALE.

THE undersigned, desiring to discontinue farming, will offer for sale privately, the farm on which he now resides, located on the Potomac river, two miles East of Shepherdstown, in the county of Jefferson. The tract contains One Hundred and Fifty-Three Acres of LAND, in a fine State of cultivation, and under good fencing. The Improvements consist of a

GOOD FARM DWELLING HOUSE, A SWISHER BARN, and other OUT-BUILDINGS, in good repair. The farm is well watered, and on it there is a fine Spring of Mineral Water, believed, by good judges, to contain superior medicinal properties. THE FRUIT ON THIS FARM Is unsurpassed by any in the county, and embraces every variety usual to this climate.—
The Orchard is a young and thrifty one, and now in full bearing. Besides, there are SEVENTY YOUNG TREES on the place, set out last Fall.—
The growing crops on the land, and the wheat now being harvested, will attest its productiveness.—

Detached from this land, but sufficiently near to receive attention, I have a field of 12 ACRES, which can be purchased with the above tract if desired. Having determined to sell, because I feel too o continue its cultivation satisfactorily. I offer this and at the low figure of $50 PER ACRE. Taking ACCESS TO MARKET, ITS PRODUCTIVENESS. and its IMPROVEMENTS and FRUIT, this farm is the cheapest, and one of the most desirable in the county. Persons wishing to purchase can call and

HUMOROUS.

Never was With Him.

About ten years since a young man of very good character hired a horse from a livery stable to ride out to a little town about twenty miles distant. Unfortunately, about half way out the horse was taken sick and died. The livery man sued him for the value of the horse, representing that the horse had been killed by fast riding. One of the young man's witnesses (rather green, or supposed to be, and who had a peculiar way of talking healthy condition.

A Quaker's Letter to his Watchmaker.

I herewith send thee my pocket-clock, which greatly standeth in need of thy friendly correction. The last time he was at thy friendly school he was no ways reformed, nor even in the least benefitted thereby; for I perceive by the index of his mind that he is a liar, and the truth is not in him; that his motions are wavering and irregular; that his impulses are sometimes very quick, which betoken not an even temper; at other times it waxeth sluggish, (notwithstanding I frequently urge him.) As thou knowest his usual name denoteth, I find him slumbering and sleeping-or, as the vanity of human reason phraseth it, I catch bim napping -Hence, I am juduced to believe he is not right in the inward man. Examine him, I beseech thee; thoroughly, that thou mayest, by being well acquainted with his inward frame and disposition, draw him from the errors of his ways, and show him the path wherein he should go. And when thou layest thy correcting hand upon him, let it be

Do thou regulate his motion for the time to come by the light that ruleth the day; and let him learn from that unerring guide the true calculation of his table and education; and when thou findest him converted from the error of his ways, and more comformable to the above mentioned rules, then do thou send him home, with a just bill of charges, drawn out by the spirit of moderation, and it shall be sent in the root of evil to thee.

MAKING LOVE WITH UMBRELLAS .- A certain dramatic writer, being caught in a shower of rain, took refuge under the portico of a handsome dwelling in New York. As soon as he had taken the position a window was opened, and a lovely female face appeared. which seemed to beam with sympathy and anxiety. She soon retired, and sent him an umbrella by a servant. He fell at once desperately in love, and thinking from her anxious looks that the feeling was reciprocated, he called on her the next-morning, sent up his card, and gave into her own hand a very costly umbrella he had purchased in place of the old and shabby one he had borrowed, and then wound up all by making a profession of love. The young lady, without even noticing the exchange that had been made, perceiving how her act had been misinterpreted, naively replied: "I feel it to be my duty to undeceive you, sir. At the time of the shower I was anxiously expecting a gentleman, who is, I confess, very dear to me, who wished to see me in private, and my only motive for sending you the umbrella, was to get you off the

- When James T. Brady, the celebrated lawyer of New York first opened a lawyer's office, he took a basement room which had been previously occupied by a cobbler. He was somewhat annoved by the previous occupant's callers, and irritated by the fact that he had but few of his own. One day an Irishman entered.

"The cobbler's gone, I see," he said. " I shouldn't think he had," tartly respond-"And what do you sell?" he inquired looking at the solitary table and a few law books. 'Blockheads!' was the response. "Be gorra," said the Irishman "ye must be doing mighty fine buisness; ye haint got but one left !'

-Artemus Ward had an adventure in Boston which resulted as follows: "I returned in the cars part way. A pooty girl in spectacles sat near me and was tellin a young man how much he reminded her of a young man she used to know in Waltham .-Poorty soon the young man got out and smilin in a seductive manner, I said to the girl in spectacles :

"Don't I remind you of somebody you used to know ?" "Yes," said she, "you do remind me of one man, but he was sent to the penitentiary

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867. Dr. J. J. Lawrence-Dear Sir: My youngest daughter, aged five years has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many physicians, but without passion, lest thou drive him to depring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well. I am yours, With much respect and gratitude, W. W. BURNETT.

EXARSLEY & SHEERER,

Agents for Je erson and Clarke Counties. April 21, 1868, TOWLES' PATEN ELLIPTIC SUSPENDER. THIS invention is used on a strictly scientific principle, and is valuable improvement on the old style suspen srs. It is simple in construction, atrong and do the, and combines the qualities of Brace and Suspender. The pantaloons being attached and supported from two central points under the arms, so adjusted by the suspender, as to hang on a common centre, therefore the strain or stress on them is just their own weight, in any position in which the weaver may place himself. Both front and back webs draw from a common centre, which equalizes the stress or strain uson each which equalizes the stress or strain upon each shoulder. For sale y August 18, 1868.
