INAUGURATION OF CAPTAIN WN. N. McDONALD. AS PRINCIPAL OF THE High School of Louisville, Ky. The Louisville Courier of September 15th, eontains an interesting account of the inauguration of Capt. WM. N. McDonald, as the Principal of the High School of Louisville, Ky. The account occupies three columns of the paper, and the occasion seems to have excited much interest in the city. In addition to the students, a large audience of ladies and gentlemen were present, and addresses highly complimentary to Capt. McDonald, were delivered by W. W. Morris, President of the Board of Trustces, by Albert S. Willis, J. T. White and C. B. Ferguson, Alumni of the Institute, and by Professor Grant. Mr. Mc-Donald made an appropriate reply, which we here append :-

REPLY OF PROF. MCDONALD. Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Alumni:-It is needless to say that I appreciate the kindness which your words convey, and in behalf of this institution I thank you for the interest you manifest in its prosperity. - Like you, I have a personal interest in its welfare. These walls are endeared by many pleasant recollections of the past. It was here I first. embarked upon the voyage of life, and I recall that part of the journey with feelings both of pleasure and pride; of pleasure when I remember my triumphs, and feel that I see before me living evidences of the same ; of pride

An experience laborious, if not long, has with the flight of time, fixed deeper and deeper in my mind the conviction that on the stage of life the teacher has a serious and difficult part to perform. What that part is in the inevitable drama, I cannot exactly express, in the language of the stage; but of this much I am certain. He is not permitted to joke it out with the clown, to strut it out with the star, or to eat, drink and louf it out with the multitude of stock actors. Still less is he an idle spectator. For the want of a better word I shall have to call him, in dramatic parlance, the scene-shifter. But that he should so conduct his government as to encourage those tendencies to good which are to some extent the common inheritance of all our youth .-Let his system be so molded that there shall unconsciously spring up in the youthful character an antipathy to evil and a love of the true, the beautiful, and the good.

In this way he can make heroes, and no other. I firmly believe that the youth who, with mind full of knowledge and with facul-ties trained by long and severe discipline, yet enters the world with the purpose of gratifying a selfish ambition, by means of his acquired skill, is not half so well educated as the boy who has only graduated in grammar and arithmetic, but who goes among his fellows with the high resolve to achieve noble ends by noble means.

The Courier calls this inauguration the happiest affair in the whole history of their chools. We are gratified to see the manner in which our old friend, Capt. McDonald has been received in his new home.

POLITICAL.

Letter of Hon. John Quincy Adams, OF MASSACHUSETTS.

QUINCY, September 14, 1868: Hon. Henry W. Paine, President of the Democratic State Convention: Dear Sir,-In consequence of a somewhat prolonged absence from my home I have only to day received your letter informing me that the Convention over which you had the honor to preside selected me to be their candidate for the office of Governor of the Commonwealth at the approaching election. I am very sensible of the compliment thus, for the second time, offered to me, and although I should have much preferred a less conspicuous service, I accept the nomination as frankly and heartily as it was given. I have carefully axamined I am not ignorant of the grave responsibili- | glad that you have determined to require a "rigid parsimony" in the expenditure of the people's money. This, in a nation as deeply indebted and as heavily taxed as ours, is but common honesty to the public creditor, and mere humanity to the groaning tax-payer .-Every dollar not absolutely required for the necessary expenses of Government, and for meeting our obligations in the fullest good faith, should be left in the pockets of the people. As to the license law, our prohibitory friends in the last Legislature used to declare that they cared very little what kind of a law was passed, as in the Presidential election the license law Republicans would not dare to bolt the regular nominations, and those they could control. I suppose, therefore, that the success of their State ticket will be equivalent to a return to the prohibitory law, with new spheres of activity for others. No mate its attendant constabulary. rights, and attaining political privileges as he grew fit to use them wisely, and the North ennobled by a victory more noble than any feat of arms—the conquest, of its own passions. I will not argue the unconstitutionality of reconstruction." The almost unanmous disinclination of the Republicans in Congress to allow it to undergo the scrutiny of the Supreme Court would seem to confirm the reported statement of the lamented Stevens, "that only two damned fools in the par-ty believed the reconstruction acts to be constitutional." Even if they were so, I should deem them unwise. The Union they impose is, to my eyes, no more like a true union of hearts and hands than a galvanized corpse with substantial despotism, where the rights resembles a healthy man. All the doings of the people are acknowledged in theory, men are governed by the laws of nature. The while they are practically trodden under foot; attempt to subordinate the trained and able classes of white landholders at the South to the rulers swear to preserve without keeping repeal God's law by statute with which history abounds. The path upon which Congress has entered permits of no halt, and retreat is ruin.shouts of applause. In my opinion we must begin anew, taking the Constitution for our guade and natural laws for our limitations. It is true that the Democratic party in success may violate the pledges of adversity, and again subvert the organic law. The teachings and the practice of Hadicalism have destroyed much of the old reverence for the precious legacy of our ancestors. We may dread lest they should do this thing, but we do certainly know that the Republican party has already done it. At least it is a chance—a last chance—of salvation. If that fails us-if we submit to the whims of a majority without appeal-it matters but little to me whether it rejoices in the name of Republican or delights in the title of Democrat .-

If a party in the nation may constitute itself the sole arbiter of the constitutionality of its own measures, then secession was illegal only Holding these opinions, I shall act with the Democratte party so long as it is the party of the Constitution. I am sir, with great respect, your friend

At the great Democratic meeting, over which he presided, in the public square of the Borough of York, Pennsylvania, on Monday evening, August 24, Hon: Jeremiah S.

Black delivered an eloquent and interesting The following were his concluding remarks: Congress must be sadly demoralized aleady. Of course you will not believe without vidence, that they vote on money bills as hey vote on constitutional questions, according to their interests and not according to their public duty. But if it were proved to your entire satisfaction that they represent their own breeches pocket with far greater fidelity han they defend the rightsof the tax-payers, any higher crime than that of betraying the liberties for which our forefathers suffered and died. But look a little further and see the horriole effect of their example. Congress has taken control of the Executive branch. The Senate usurps the power of removal from office and forbids its exercise by the Presidentthey are masters of the administration and command the army of office holders. Of course the subordinates are ready to adopt the code of morality which their masters act upon. All dishonest officers may say to Senators and Representatives, "You are bound to protect us; we are not faithful to the public, but we are as true as you are to the party and ourselves; you swore to support the Constitution and we swore to perform our duty with fidelity; one is so stronger than yours; if you can swindle the nation out of her liberties, what shall hinder us from cheating the Treasury? Aye, the lesson you have taught us we will learn, and it shall go hard, but we will better the instructions." elieve I am within reasonable bounds when I tell you that a thousand millions would not cover the frauds committed since the close of the war. We have the beaviest debt that the industry of any people ever struggled un-der without being totally crushed, and it is increasing instead of being diminished. We are taxed enough to keep the government running and to pay off the whole debt in ten years, if the money were honestly applied.— But one-half the internal revenue imposed by the Federal Government, and collected from the people, is stolen before it reaches the Treasury, and the other half is squandered by Congress in schemes of the most extravagant corruption. Before the war our current expenses were less than seventy-five millions of dollars; now they are nearly four hundred must be sown and he cannot shirk the re- conciliation in the future, which they might millions, besides the interest on the national debt and without counting what is stolen in transitu. The financial difference between Democratic rule and Mongrel mis rule is worth your serious attention. This is the necessary result of the Radical system. It cannot be otherwise as long as they remain in power. No evil tree can bring forth good fruit. If you cease to be governed by law and allow yourselves to be held down by mere brute force you must pay for it. Tyranny is always expensive. The price of your enslavement will be proportioned to the cruelty of the vassalage. Congress keeps up an army, a navy, a Freed-men's Bureau, and other machinery of despotism, and makes us pay hundreds of millions for them, in order to maintain in the South a lawless domination of negroes, scalawags and carpet-baggers. By this means they hope not only to control the South but to do what they please in the North—to rule us for their pleasure and plunder us for their

The most hideous shape that tyranny ever puts on is that of a corrupt oligarchy, where the forms of a free government are coupled that he is to administer the government on the Congressional plan of disregarding all constitutional obligations, it would be far better to let him or somebody else be proclaimed between the two most frightful evils that ever

Want of Courage. Sydney Smith, in his work on Moral Philosophy, speaks in this wise of what men lose for the want of a little brass, as it is termed : "A great deal of talent is fost to the world for the want of a little courage. Every day sends to their graves a number of obscure men who have only remained in obscurity because their timidity has prevented them from making a first effort, and who, if they could only have been induced to begin, would in all probability have gone great lengths in the career of fame. The fact is, that in order to do anything in this world worth doing we must not stand shivering on the bank thinking of the cold and danger, but jump in and scramble through as well as we can. It will not do to be perpetually calculating risks and adjusting nice change it all did very well before the Flood, when a man could consult his friends upon an intended publication for a hundred and fifry years, and then live to its | be .- Dr. Guthrie. success for six or seven centuries afterwards; but at present a man waits and doubts, and hesitates, and consults his brother, and his uncle, and his first cousin, and his particular friends till one day he finds he is sixty-five years of age, that he lost so much time in consulting first cousins and particular friends that he has no more time left to follow their advice. There is so little time for oversqueamishing at present, the opportunity slips away; the very period of life at which a man choses to venture, if ever, is so confined that it is no bad rule to preach up the necessity, in such instances, of a little violence done to the feeling, and of efforts made in defiance of strict and sober calculation.

Verdict of a Jury of Boys. When Dr. Nathaniel Prentice taught a public school in Roxbury, he was very much a favorite; but his patience at times would get very much exhausted by the infraction of the school rules by the scholars. On one occasion, in rather a wrathy way, he threatent would not excite your surprise or lower ed to punish with six blows of a heavy ferule hem in your estimation. They cannot commit the first boy detected in whispering, and appointed some as detectors. Shortly after, one of the detectors shouted-"Master, John Zeiglen is whispering." John was called up and asked if it was a fact. (John, by the way, was a favorite both with his teacher and schoolmates.)

"Yes," answered John, "I was not aware of what I was about; I was intent on working out a sum, and requested the boy who sat next to hand me the arithmetic that contained the rule which I wished to see." The Doctor regretted his hasty threat, but told John that he could not suffer him to whisper or escape the punishment, and "I wish I could avoid it, but cannot, without a forfeiture of my word. I will," he continued, "leave it to any three scholars you may choose to say whether or not I omit the

LET ME REST.

I am weary; let me rest
Underneath the nodding clover,
With the grass upon my breast,
And the daisies bending over.
Oh! the thought is very sweet!—
REST and Psacs, secure from sorrow,
And the tramp of busy feet;
REST that wakes to no to-morrow!

I am weary; let me sleep,
With my hands upon my bosom;
But, I pray you, let me keep
In their clasp some little biossom.
I have loved earth's flowers well—

Sweet the friendship they have given— Is the rose and asphodel Half as fair that blooms in heaven?

I am weary and would rest,
As a child, wish sorrow graving,
Finds upon its mother's breast
Peace in her great love believing.
So, to the green breast of earth,
Turff I, wany, tired, and briefy.
For the rest that I shall find
Oa her gentle boson only.

True Dignity.

Lofty ends give dignity to the lowest officer is, for instance, an honest, but you would all it an honorable occupation to pull an our; yet if that our dips in a yeasty sea to impel the life boat over mountain waves and through roaring breakers, he who has stripped for the renture, and, breaking away from weeping wife and praying mother and elinging children, has bravely thrown himself into the boat to pull for yonder wreck, and pluck his drowning brother from the jaws of death. presents, as from time to time we catch a limpse of him on the crest of the toaming pillow, a spectacle of grandeur which would withdraw our eyes from the presence even of queen, surrounded with all the blaze and glittering pomp of royalty.

Take another illustration, drawn from vehumbler life. Some years ago, on a winter morning, two children were found frozen to death. They were sisters. The elder contact had the younger seated in her lap, close's its feeble life, and, to warm the icy fingers, had tenderly placed its little hands in her own hosom; and pitying men and weeping women did stand and gaze on the two dead creatures. as with glassy eyes and stiffened forms, they reclined upon the snow wreath-the days of their wandering and mourning ended, and heaven's own pure snow no purer than that true sister's love. They were orphans; house less, homeless beggars. But not on that account had I been there to gaze on that touching group, would I have shed one tour the less or felt the less deeply that it was a display of true love and of human nature in its least fallen aspect, which deserved to be

What is Beauty?

What is beauty, after all? Each eya nakes it for itself. You think Smith's ladyove raw-boned and hard-featured. He calls her a "magnificent woman," and wonders what you see in your little angel with her baby face and stature. So it is the world over; and yet, we would each give something to be beautiful after our own fashion. How the powders and lotions which are to bestow upon poor billious mortal skins of satin and snow, and the hair dyes and nomades, and cosmetics of all sorts, sell, we need not mention to prove the facts. In France, old ladies are being made over, at the cost of half their fortunes. Heaven keep me from ever eateh ing a glimpse of one of these enameled, dyed and miserable old creatures after the renovation, by the way. Yes, we all want to be beautiful; and, if only our ideas of beauty were what they should be, we might accomplish our desire easily. Meekness and love make all faces pleasant. Were we good we should be beautiful. We all feel this -There are plain features so charming with the sparkle of good humor, that we love them. There are blemished faces so sweet that they are more pleasant to look upon than the most perfect. After all, it is in the expression that the actual charm lies. So that were some one to promise the secret of beauty for twenty five cents and a postpaid envelope, he would scarcely be an imposter should he return the golden rule with instructions to learn and practice it. If we only do this earnestly and truly for one generation, the next might won-der if it were not a fable that such a thin?

CHARACTERISTIC OF BOYS. - Boys are boys, not little men. They are all slike, ex. cept to the color of the hair or pinafore .-They all inherit the same pride, the same devil-may-care ambition the same freeness nry of mutual confidence in all affairs relating to the government of the boy world. Where boy who is willing to be outdone by a playmate? Where is the boy who will ack nowledge to being beaten in a fight with one in another school? Wherever such a one to be found, guard him well, for he would be silly. It is positively astonishing what hair breadth ventures boys engage in, merely to gratify some pride of rivalry or satisfy the In fact, there is nothing within range of possibility which a boy will not do, let the couse quence be what it may, provided there is no unmistakable criminality; and then you find what an honest nature lurks beneath that Pluck's grinning countenance, resting on its own self-trust, and to be neither bought no-

THE TEST OATH.

The Richmond Enquirer thus refers to the Registration" now going on in Arkansas, and the utter absurdity of all such "ironclads" having any-binding effect either in morals or law. Whether the same be applicable to West Virginia, each should determine for himself, according to the dictates of his own considuce, and his obligation to the welfare of the State and the civil and political rights of his fellow men :-

From the progress of registration in Arkansas, it is evident that the Democracy are working with an earnestness never before equalled in the history of the State. Taking the test oath they consider a matter of easuistry; and the oath, they say, is a part of the "constitution;" all of which they swear to support. They declare that it is always and invariably true, that in taking an oath to support a constitution, it is with the reservation that it is subject to change, and that the people may change it at any time they desire. There are clauses in the "Constitution" providing for amendment and alteration, and if one portion of it can be altered, all can, otherwise such clauses are absurdities. The oath, therefore, can only be binding so long as the majority of the voters under the constitution may please to let it remain so. Recognizing these facts, and that the work of redeeming the country from Radical misrule and re-establishing it upon a constitutional basis is their paramount duty the Democrats are registering to a man almost. Of course, every nefarious trick that Radical villainy can suggest, (and their name is legion), is resorted to to prevent the exercise of this right; but so far the registrars have been able to reject but few.

THE BOARD.

Mr. George Koonce has really resigned his place on the Board of Registration, and in his stead the loval Governor of West Virginia has substituted Mr. James D. Fayman. So far as the Conservatives of the county are this is exchanging the devil for a he shall hereafter have something this action of Mr. Koonce. THE BOARD OF REGISTRATION.

If any one imagines that we experience any pleasure in writing of the doings of that body which is termed the Board of Registration of this county, he is very much mistaken, but a duty which we owe to the people, who have been most shamefully treated by this Board, compels us to pursue its members in honest exposition of their conduct. "By their fruits ye shall know them," is a standard by which men are allowed to judge their fellows, and however uncharitable that judgment may seem, no one can claim that it is not a righteous one. Now if we measure the present Board of Registration by what it-has already done, and estimate the fruits that are likely to develop from their course of intolerance, how will its members stand before an enlightened public? How ought they to stand?-They are all of that peculiar stripe of politicians with whom the shriek of " loyalty " is the shibboleth, and if they are honest men, which we believe they profess to be, they ought to take an especial pride in carrying out, in their letter and spirit, the laws which their "loyal" Legislatures have prescribed for the registration of voters. Have they done this in this county? We hardly think that any member of the Board, with the lights before the people, will have the effrontery to claim that they have; and if he should do so, as Mr. Geo. Koonce essayed to do last week, in our columns, he ought to write opposite his name-fool, as well as knave. If we should seem to be harsh, let it be remembered that we shelter ourself behind facts which no member of that Board dare controvert; facts which are patent and familiar to every man in our community.

What then is the reckoning? It is thisthe Board of Registration of Jefferson county, unmindful of its sworn duties, and acting in the interest of the Radical party, neglected to provide a registrar for this township, and this too in disregard of appeals made to it by those whom its members are bound to recognize as loyal men. What excuse has the Board to offer for such treatment to an entire community? That they were not officially notified of the declination of their appointee. Is this a fact? The declining appointee alleges that he did notify the Board, and therefore the issue is between them, with the circumstantial evidence strongly favoring the veracity of George Anderson. Bully for George, for once. But if the Board had no official notice, did not a majority of its members know, from other sources which they could not question, that Anderson would not serve as Registrar? They dare not deny it. In this neglect then, we charge a deliberate. intentional, and premeditated violation of the Registration law, which makes it the duty of the county Board to provide a Registrar for

And yet Mr. Koonce says, in his admirable and effective letter to us, that "the action of the Board looked, in all things under the law, to the fair and unbiassed polling of the loyal vote of the county." Does anybody question Mr. Koonce's word when he makes this state ment? We suppose that not more than nine out of every ten would have the audacity to do so. Because, Mr. Koonce is a loyal man, and a loyal man ought to be a truthful mani. e. a man with a "private reputation" which ought not to be "attacked and assaulted with impunity." Marvellously proper indeed was the action of this Board, in its own interpretation of loyalty. Its members must have thought that few indeed were the loyal souls who breathe a miserable existence in this rebel-ridden and loyalty-forsaken township. The ghosts of the peerless Ashby and the sainted Jackson must have haunted their night visions, and affrighted their "loyal' hearts, till they were ready to believe that nothing good could come out of, or remain in, this miserable political Nazareth. So much for the failure of the Board to give us a Re-

On Monday week-it being the third Monday of the month-the Board met at Shepherdstown, and what did it do? : It regis tered just four men, or at least it took the names of that number, but whether they were registered, is a question to be determined when these parties present themselves at the ballot box. As for the hundreds of others who had gathered there, to claim the privileges of freemen and provide themselves with passports to citizenship, they were informed that they had come on the wrong day, and that they should call again on the first Monday in October, when their cases might be considered. And in this way, the Board of Registration-composed of immaculate, loyal saints-is "looking, in all things under the law, to the fair, unbiassed polling of the loyal vote of the county." Now the time for such trifling is past, and too much is at stake in the elections which occur in this State within a few weeks, to permit any such double dealing, such cutting and shuffling, and stocking the cards, to pass unrebuked. If this Board of Registration wishes to make a name for itself, which will either ele vate its members in the public estimation, or crush them beneath a weight of just scorn and the people's contumely, they have yet an opportunity. If they are honorable men, and they ought to be, they will stand by the law minister the law for the benefit and advan- Ohio. age of radicalism, and will go und rotten concern.

Mr. JAMES W. ROBINSON, of Berkeley county, announces himself as an independent candidate for State Senator for this district. Mr. Robinson, if his record is not belied, is a radical, without any claim to the support of conservative voters. Indeed, we do not understand him to appeal to that party for support. SNEAK is the radical nominee, and ROBERT LAMON, a worthy man, is the Democratic candidate.

- The Washington Star says "now that Mr. Evarts has returned to his duty it is expected that preparations will be made for the trial of Mr. Davis, which is fixed for November. It is thought he will be tried this time or the case will be dismissed."

THE JUDGESHIP.

The Judgeship of this district is a position of great importance, and one in which the people feel, naturally, andeep interest. This interest is intensified from the fact that, for the past three years, the position has been un yorthily filled by an imported pedagogue, with has scarcely an idea of what judicial dignity is a partisan who is ever ready to soil the ermine by descending to the corrup pool of politics, while upon the bench he essays to ape the judge. It is matter of sincere congratulation, that there is at least a probability, of being relieved of this pretender .-On Thursday, the 17th instant, a conservative convention was held at Berkeley Springs, and the name of Hon. EDMUND PENDLETON of Martinsburg, was presented with great unanimity, for the support of the conservative voters of this judicial district. Mr. P. will be elected; and in his elevation to the Bench, the people will have secured the services of one eminently qualified-a ripe and experienced lawyer-a calm and dignified gentleman-a man in every way worthy so exalted a position. We present below the correspondence between Mr. P. and the committee of gentlemen appointed by the Convention to notify him of his nomination :-

BERKELEY SPRINGS, Sept. 19, 1868. Hon. Edmund Pendleton-Dear Sir : We the undersigned have been appointed by the Democratic and Conservative Convention to inform you that you have this day been nominated by acclamation, by the Convention, as their candidate for Judge of the 10th Judicial District. We are sensible of the sacrifices which you must make by accepting this nomination, as it is well known that you contemplated retiring from the active pursuits of your profession at an early day; but when we take into consideration the fact that the property, the persons and the lives of the people are in a great degree under the control of the ndiciar and that no one is fit for the position unless has possesses high moral worth and profound legal knowledge, we must insist on ehalf of the good people of the 10th Judicial District that you accept the nomination hereby

I need only say, that, while no consideration would induce me to seek a nomination for office, or to occupy the position of a candidate for a judidal place, striving to secure an election by the ordinary arts and resorts, or as the representative of mere individual or partisan interests, in a popular canvass-I, yet, recognize the propriety and duty, on the part of every citizen, of performing the functions of any office to which the voice of the people may call him-provided circumstances render it, in their opinion, material that he should be preferred for that purpose.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

Very respectfully, Your Obedient Servant,

- The next State clection which takes place is that of Nebraska, on the 6th of October. The last general election held in this State was in 1866 when the Radicals chose their Governer by 145, and their Congressman by 748 majority. They also had 28 majority in the Legislature.

What the vote will be this year is very ucertain. Nebraska is peopled, in great part, by the Sharp's rifle, Beecher school of Puritans, and and hence we shall not anticipate any favorable result from her. It is only when the voice of such States as Pennsylvania and Ohio-States which embrace all varieties of mankind within their population-is heard, that anything decisive can be gathered as to the final issue.

- The Freedmen,s Bureau employs 717 civil employes at a cost, for salaries alone, of 8836,456 94. There are many volunteer officers retained in the machine, all on full pay. The Recent Troubles in Georgia.

The first reports greatly exaggerate th listurbances which occurred in Mitchell cour ty, Geo., on the 19th instant. The following is the statement of the Sheriff of the county, worn to by himself and other prominent citins, and addressed to the Legislature :

On Saturday, the 19th inst., it was made known to the citizens of Camilla that John Murphy, of Albany, Ga., had issued a circular and secretly circulated the same among the olored men of this county, ordering them to bring their arms with them to the political necting advertised for that day at this place, and the information was corroborated by the statement made by Robert Cochran, Sr., Thos. Jones and others who came from the road in the direction of Albany, stating that armed negroes were assembling in large numbers at China Grove Church, waiting for the delegation from Albany, headed by said Murphy, and Pierce, candidates for Congress, who were to be speakers for the occasion. At the reuest of citizens, M. J. Poore, sheriff, with a committee of six other citizens, went out to meet the procession, and to protest against armed negroes marching in procession in our town, and to state to them distinctly that if they would put down their arms no objection would be made to their entering the town and holding their political meeting. The shcriff delivered this message to Murphy and Pierce, leaders of the procession, and they replied that they had nothing to do with those armed men; the guns belonged to them, and they were in the habit of carrying them wherever they went. The sheriff replied that as a peace officer it was his duty under the law to forbid he assemblage of armed men at political meetings, and assured them that if they enwere, that there would be a breach of the peace, and he wastd not be responsible for the consequence. Shortly afterwards, the column moved into town in regular order, headed by Pierce, candidate for Congress, and one Putney, white, in a buggy, armed with a double barreled shot guo, a Spencer rifle, and two pistols, with quantity of ammunition, as was afterwards ascertained. A four-horse wagon, containing a band and a number of armed negroes, next followed; a column of negro men on foot, between three and four hundred, attended by about twenty mounted outsiders, at least one half if not two-thirds were armed with guns, and most of them with pistols, music playing, and the crowd noisy and threatening in their conduct; Murphy and one Philip Joyner, negro, in a buggy, in the rear. As the head of the column apreached the square, one of our citizens, Jas. Johns' who was intoxicated, approached within a few feet of the column and ordered the | indignation when they reflect upon the treat-column moved on. When about twenty steps from him, his gun was fired, whether intontionally or uninfentionally is not known; but it was pointed in a different direction, and the contents struck the ground about twelve feet from him. The column fired a volley; some of the

Immediately about twenty. of our citizens sprang to their arms, and fired into their column by which two negroes were killed and the number wounded unknown. The negroes immediately broke to a thick cluster of timber, 100 yards North of the Court House. At this point there was an attempt made by Pierce to rally his routed force. Our citizens immediately, to about thirty, part of them mounted, made a charge, and completely routed the whole force: Pierce flying through the woods and fields; Murphy and Philip Joyner escaping in a buggy up the road towards Albany. Seven negroes were killed. From the best information we have been able to obtain, between 30 and 40 led on by wicked white men Murphy, Pierce office to expect from their white leaders .themselves. This sad result is to be attributed more to the sharpness and shrewdness of these gallant leaders in affecting their escape than to a want or intention of our people. -We hereby disavow any intention on the part of ourselves or our citizens to violate the law or the peace of the State in what was done. We were willing and so expressed ourselves to these leaders for them to hold their political meeting at the Court House in our town if negroes were unarmed, but we did think that it was our duty to obey the orders of the sheriff as a civil officer of this State in breaking up this unlawful assemblage. We felt that as their numbers vastly exceeded that of our citizens present, that if this meeting had taken place that the lives of our wives and children would be at the mercy of an infuriated mob. While the consequences are to be regretted, and we do not boast of what was done by our people, we feel that they have but discharged a painful duty imposed upon them by wicked and corrupt white men. now engaged in leading astray into acts of lawlessness the colored people of our country. We appeal to the law-making powers of Georgia and the lawful authorities of the Inited States Government to check the message to the Legislature, recommending that the President be petitioned for troops. The matter is being considered to-day. Mr. Pendleton to the Texas Democracy We find the following in the Houston

Congress Disappointed Senators.

Congress met on Monday last, but in the absence of a quorum, were unable to transact any business, and adjourned over to the 15th of October. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, thus writes of the newly elected Senators from Georgia, who were present to take their seats :-

The most disappointed of all the distinguished gentlemen who appeared at the National Capitol yesterday were the Georgia Senators, Messrs. Hill and Miller. These gentlemen had confidently anticipated making their debat on a Senatorial theatre, and "drawing" lots of pay for services naver rendered.

Nevertheless, they experienced the truth of the old adage, "there's many a slip between the cup and the lip," and were politely left out in the cold. It is barely possible that Mr. Hill would have been admitted to a seat if his colleague, Mr. Miller, had not also been in attendance; but an attempt to have the latter sworn in would have resulted in suspending the credentials of both. There was also a strong opposition to Georgia being allowed any representation in Congress, growing out of the action of her Legislature in unseating the colored members. Several of the Radical Senators, who favor Congress taking the whole subject into their own hands, deny that these Senators were constitutionally elected. if the negro members of the Legislature were not eligible to office. If eligible, then they charge that Georgia has violated the Recon-struction acts and the terms on which she was admitted as a State. Mr. Hill urged that the Senators from Georgia should be admitted that there might be parties properly interested in having a through investigation made. If tered the town with their music and band tion of Georgia as one of the States of the ners, followed by armed men as they then Union, Mr. Hill claimed that it was due Georgia, to have at least one representative. on the floor, to see that the subject was fully and fairly investigated. But his appeals were in vain, and reconstructed Georgia found the Senatorial doors still closed against her, and her Senators leave this evening for their Southern homes.

The Badical Reconstruction Policy.

The New York Herald says: The truth is, the reconstruction policy Congress in the South has failed. The recon struction laws are fast becoming, if they are not almost already, things of the past-null, void and inoperative-dead letters, politically and morally. The Radicals relied upon the negro vote to carry out their policy, and now they feel that they are fast losing their grip upon Sambo. The ambitions colored Demostheneses are disappointed. They, boil with nusic to stop, which was not obeyed. The ment of their fellows by the Radicals in the Georgia Legislature-their ignominious expulsion therefrom whereas not a single Northern adventurer would have found a seat therein had it not been for the black vote -They have been promised houses and plantations and eminent political positions, and have been deceived and befooled. They have been formed into secret leagues and armed bands under the delusion that such organipreserve their freedom against the injustice and encroachmen's of their form r masters. But they are becoming awakened to the motives of their white Radical leaders in forming them into these bodies. These white Radicals, as an intelligent Southern contemporary observes, wanted a "means of binding the negroes together, of giving the political league power for attack and aggression and of protecting themselves, if necessary, against the people whom they had outraged and wronged." "But," adds the same authority. "it remains to be seen whether they will be able to so direct the huge machine that it will always move or be still at their bidding .-There is danger that the white Radicals may be hoisted with their own petard. Their tools were wounded, all of whom have been properly | will sooner or later learn that the justice of cared for. It is a source of deep regret that the Southerner is safer than the partiality of he calamitous consequences of this affair fell the needy adventurer. They already know exclusively upon the poor deluded negroes | that they have neither land nor money nor and Putney, who made good their escape in | They are aware that their armed organizations the hour of danger; with but little injury to are in appearance a gigantic power. And they may ere long be tempted to take up arms to secure their share of the spoils of war, their share of pomp and state, their share of profitable plander. Every day lessens the danger of a serious collision between the negro and the Southern whites; each day increases the hazard that the poor negro worm may turn upon and wound the miserable knaves who now tread him in the dust."

The Reason Why.

In Senator Doolittle's Valparaiso (Indiana) peech we find the following:

"Three years ago this fall, when General Grant was in Wisconsin, he held the same views which I now hold on this question, and authorized me to state to the people of Wisconsin and to the Convention assembled at Madison, that if Congress should insist on negro suffrage as the basis of reconstruction at the South, we should be obliged to keep a standing army there in order to prevent a war of races. "Oeneral Grant, in the report which he made in December, 1865, said the condition of the South was so good, so quiet-so fine a feeling prevailing among the people of the South-that the army, with very few exceptions, can be withdrawn. But Congress insists upon this new Radical policy of forcing negrosuffrage down the throats of the white people, and therefore the necessity of keeping the army at the South, and keeping the Freedmen's Bureau there to manipulate the negroes and organize them as a Radical party." General Frank P. Blair, in his speech at Leavenworth, Kansas, explains the reason of this remarkable change of front on the part of General Grant. It is not because he has been converted to the negro suffrage doctrine; it is not because he hates or has any particular antipathy to the people of the South. But he sees that the Radical policy is calculated to enhance the importance of military men and make their voice omnipotent in the administration of the government. He recognizes the fact that they are making steps cannot urge too strongly our brethren of in the path which leads to a military desthe weight of their means, their power and influence. It is well for the people to understand this, and to bear in mind constantly

The New York Sun, a Radical paper, peaking of the wholesale defection of the fermans from the Radical party, says Just now, however, the majority of the ermans are wedded to the Democratic party.

Germans are wedded to the Democratic party. They have been driven to it by the Republicans. They love lager heer. It is their natural beverage. They love it in their infancy as a substitute for their mother's milk. They drink it all their lives long, and they always drink inst as they are about to die.-It is good in the morning and in the evening. It is especially good for them on Sunday .-Then they gather with their children, their wives, and their friends, around the foaming beaker, and drink health by the gallon. The privilege of these Sunday festivals the Repubcans have taken away from them. They hate the Republicans in consequence, and mean to vote against Grant, Culfax and Griswol 1.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

HANDSOME IMPROVEMENT .- Among the several new structures now in progress of erection in our town, none have attracted more attention or been more generally admired, than the addition being made to the residence of Mr. Hiram O'Bannon, through the good taste and skilful workmanship of Mr. J. C. Holmes. The building is frame in material, but the weather-boarding is something entirely novel, to us at least, and has been so ingeniously constructed by Messrs. Weruwag, of Harper's Ferry, as to give the general apprarance of blocks of granite, and with a few touches of the painter's brush, can only be told from a brown-stone front by close inspection. The finish of the doors and windows, cornice and projections, is alike new and attractive, and reflects great credit upon the good taste of those who planned, and the filelity of those who executed. When the old building adjacent is acconstructed, as we learn it soon will be in the most modern style, no more handsome improvement-will hive been added to the appearance of our Main street or the "run district."

JIMMIE DUFFIE .- Who that has any recellection of this town twenty years ago, does not remember the eccentric and dissipated Jimmie Duffie? For years he was the sport of the town boys who delighted in approving him while peranibulating our streets, by att. c'ning to his coat fire crackers and other inoffensive pyrotechnics. When in liquor, Jimmie, like other Irishmen, and other people-too, felt himself very rich, and would frequently claim that he was the owner of several farms, but that some one cise was always sure to have a farm on top of his. Well, poor old Jimmie has his farm at last, a nacrow piece of ground six feet by two. The cares of life, and its festivities too, are over with him, and he has enjoyed his last spree. He died on the farm of Mr. David Fry, between Middleway and Summit Point, on Tuesday, the 15th inst, at an advanced age.

A COMPLETE STOCK of seasonable goods may now be found at the store of our friend. A. W. CRAMER. It is a gratification to examine such an assortment as his, although the financial pressure forbids us indulging to any considerable extent, the desire we feel to purchase something pice. With his admirable taste, Mr. C. has provided f r the comfort and fancy of the ladies, and there is hardly an article of dress in their line, that may not be found in his stock, and secured at low figures. His stock of cassimeres, for gentlemen, comprises some excellent pieces-and at prices that remind of the past, before war had made the gentleman's wardrobe such an expensive luxury. Mr. C.'s liberality to the printer, and his known spirit of accommodation, together with his fine array of goods, ought to secure a host of customers.

A New Institution, and one that deserves, and we hope will receive; a liberal encouragement, is the clothing store recently opened in the village of Berryville, by Messrs. Myers & Schilling, whose advertisement appears in our paper. We are acquainted with both of these gentlemen, and know them to be worthy and fair in their transactions .-The store in Berryville is in charge of Mr. Myers, and if Isaac does not do the clean thing by his customers, then we are greatly mistaken in the man. We do not believe he would misrepresent an article for the sake of selling it, and in these days of mammon worship, that is saying considerable. Mr. Schilling still carries on the clothing trade at Harper's Ferry, and is always ready to supply any demands made upon him.

P. O. MONEY ORDERS .- The following changes have been made in the rates for Post

On orders not exceeding $20 10 cents. · Over $20 and not exceeding $30 15 " Over $30 and not exceeding $40 20 " Over $40 and not exceeding $50 25 " No fraction of cents to be used in an order. United States Treasury notes or National bank notes only received or paid. The above changes began September 1st.

DECEASED, after a brief illness, on Sabbath morning last, Mr. URIAN RUTHERFORD, in the 65th year of his age. He was well known, and very generally esteemed by the citizens of our county, as a hard-working, industrious farmer, whose pathway through life was but a confirmation of that decree, that. man should "earn his bread by the sweat of his brow." He leaves a large family and numerous friends to mourn his departure.

A NEW FEATURE. - Instead of sending "way down North" as has been the wont of our merchants to do, in order to secure the rakes even for our harvest field, we noticed a six-horse wagon load passing through our streets a few days ago, from the machine shop of Messrs. Kable and Taylor of Kabletown, for shipment to Baltimore, we presume.

Messrs. STOUFFER & BREMEMEN will accept our thanks for the nice mess of Potatoes sent us. They were of the Peach Blow, Early Goodrich, and Shannon species, and undoubtedly the finest we have seen this

Mr. John Nipe died very suddenly, in Martinsburg, Monday morning week, from appoplery. He retired Saturday night in ming good health.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.-The Winchester accommodation train commenced running again yesterday, on the old schedule-passing Charlestown bound East, at 6.01 A. M; returning at 8. 34 P. M. By this line our business men may visit Baltimore, remain five or six hours, and return the same day. All the trains on the B. & O. road are now running the same as before the recent freshet.

TOURNAMENTS, Pic-Nics and a good time generally, seems to be the predominating idea with our Shepherdstown friends just now .-Well, any thing will do, to pervert the minds of the better part of her people from the moral leprosy which radicalism is endeavoring to infuse, and at times threatens to make the old burg as a doomed city.

BURNED .- A child of Mr. James Hardy, residing on the farm of Mr. Caleb Burns, near Rippon, was burned severely on Sunday last as to produce death. It was about three years of age, and its clothes caught fire from FEIENDS OF TEMPERANCE.-We are pleased to note that this Order is increasing rapidly. A charter has been issued for the organization of a Council in Winchester, which makes the 44th in Virginia.

REV. DR. STILES .- This esteemed Presbyterian divine, who made so deep an impression upon our community several years since, is now delivering a scries of sermons to the people of Fincastle, Va.

See advertisement in to-day's paper of the valuable farm near Charlestown, the property of the late James L. Ranson, Esq. It is one among the most desirable estates in

The Register says that Abraham Wenger. living 71 miles North of Harrisonburg, near the Valley turnpike, has sold his fruit farm containing 1182 acres, to Maj S. M. Yost, of this place, for $55 per acre, equivalent to This is one of the most valuable fruit farms in the county. It has on it about 2,500° young bearing fruit trees, including the best varieties of peaches, pears, apples, &c . and a small vineyard of a superior quality of grapes. NOTICE TO FARMERS. WE now have on hand and for sale the GUM SPRING DRILL Willoughby's Patent, man-ulactured by Crowel & Davison, Greencastle, Pa. We would state that after six years experience by using and two years in selling, (in which time we have sold seventy-five, giving perfect satisfaction throughout.) we believe them to be the strongest, most durable and most perfect Grain and Compost Drill in use. We could give hundreds of certificates in favor of this unequalled Drill, but think it unnecessary, as the great number of these Drills which are in use in this county, is an evidence that they are: the Drill. Persons wishing to examine them can call on us or Messrs. Hilleary, Willson & Johnson, Summit Point ; or Mesers Starry & Lock Charlestown Depot, where they are on exhibition These Drills are warranted to give satisfaction no sale. SNYDER, LINK & OSBOURN, Tills Company, incorporated by the Legislature of Maryland for the Manufacture and Sale of Fertilizers, are now prepared to furnish the agricultural community with their products.

Deriving their supply of material from the richest of the recently deposits of Bone Phosphates in South Carolina, they have established, and will inflexibly maintain, a higher standard of Fertilizing value than any similar productions hitherto on the ma ket.

While the material they use contains 60 per cent. of Bone Phosphate of Lime, it is guaranteed to contain a larger per centage of SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE than any heretolore used. Ammoniated Super Phosphate, Price $50 per Ton. in Bags. FINE GROUND BONE PHOSPHATES, Price $30 per Ton, in Bags Containing, by the average of the Analysis of Pro-fessors Piggott. A Diplomatic Jest.

In later years Talleyrand loved wit better than conversation. Leaving his accomplished neice, the Duchess de Dino, entertain his other guests, he would retire with some of the foreign ambassadors, old friends and old foes, into his own room, and play a scientific rubber, the intricacies of which it was curious to watch, seeing that the talents which were employed to settle the divisions of Europe at the Congress of Vienna, were now all concentrated on the odd- trick. The stakes were gold rejess, but they often reached the sum of a thousand francs. One evening at the termination of one of these parties, the English ambassador suddenly dived beneath the table and began fumbling on the carpet. "Wint is your excellency about?" asked Taileyrand. " Looking for a Napoleon which has fatlen!" "Wait an instant," said Talleyrand, with a twinkle of his light gray eye, and a sarcastic twist of his thin and distorted lip, "you cannot see to find so small a thing." As he spoke he twisted a thousand franc bill in to a paper match, and, and setting fire to it, held it to the ground. "What are you about?" exclaimed the astonished ambassador, pausing on his hands and kness and looking up. "Merely lightning your excellency," said Talleyrand. Upon which the discomfitted minister, understanding the epigram, instantly rose, leaving the Napoleon as a perquisite for the servant who should find it.

- A Yankee and a Frenchman owned a pig in copartnership. When killing time time they wished to divide the carcass. The Yackee was anxious to divide so that he could get both hind quarters, and persuaded the Frenchmen that the proper way to divide was to cut it across the back. The Frenchman agreed to it on condition that the Yankee would turn his back and take choice of the piece after it was cut in two. The Yankee turned his back and the Frenchman asked: " Vich piece will you have? Ze peace vid de tail on him, or de peace vat ain't got no tail

"The piece with the tail ! shouted the Ynokee, instantly. "Don, by gar, you take him, and I take the oder,' said the Frenchman.

Upon turning round the Yankee found that the Frenchman had cut the tail off and stuck it in the pig's mouth. - During the cross examination of a witness at the tombs, the district Attorney asked were his father was. To this witness, with a melancholly air, responded: " Dear, sir dropped off very suddenly, sir." " How came he to drop off so suddenly?" was the next question.

"Foul play, sir, the Sheriff imposed on his very unsuspicious nature, sir, and getting him to go to a platform to look at a select audience, suddenly he knocked a small trap door out from under him, and, in falling, he got entangled in a rope, from the effects of which he very mysteriously expired."

Lombard Street, Baltimore. Middleway, Jeff. Co , W. Va., } January 21st, 1868. Ma. GEO. HE BECKWITH: Dear Sir—A few days since I sprained my ankle very severely. It was badly swollen, and very painful—I could not get on my boot. A friend gave me some of your Liniment. I used it once only—rubbed long and well at night, and the next morning was so far relieved as to be able to get on my boot and walk without liming.

MISCELLANEOUS.

No Humbug Here:

THE subscriber, having just returned from Fred erick City, with an extensive stock of superior material, is prepared to offer to the citizens of Jefferson county, the very best bargains in BOOTS AND SHOES, manufactured under his own supervision, by the best city workmen. His stock is such as to recommend it to every judge of

LEATHER, and has been purchased with great care from the manufactory of Messrs. Bantz & Wachter, of Frederick, the oldest and most experienced TANNERS in the State of Maryland As he employs none but the best workmen—such as thoroughly understand the trade—and works none other than the best finished material, he feels confident of his ability to give satisfaction. Especial attention given to the LADIES' WORK. For the accommodation of the trade, he will keep on hand, at all times, a complete assurtment of READY-MADE WORK, which he will warrant to compare with any that can be found in the country.

REPAIRING done in the best style, on the shortest notice. New WORK and REPAIRING executed in from twelve to forty-eight hours, and no disap-pointments at the hour promised WATER-PROOF COMPOSITION. He has constantly on hand a supply of this valua-ble article, which has been used during the past winter with entire satisfaction by many of his cus-tomers. He would refer those who wish to krow something of its value to the following gentlemen, who have used it with effect, viz: Dr. John D.

and George W. Eichelberger. April 21, 1863-6m. FOUTZ'S Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation; long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetitorives asmooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this prepare tion is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent, and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and ourse for the Hog Cholera.
