Interesting Correspondence.

The following correspondence is important. as it practically illustrates the views of thinking and enterprising merchants, and those who have not altogether lost their love of country or the Constitution as handed down by our forefathers, and who have a respect for maintaining its honor and character: 594 BROADWAY, N. Y., October 14.

To George Washington Langley, 379 Broad way, New York : Rt- All sizes of Bolts and Wood Screws on hand. DEAR SIR: - When Horatio Seymour was and with Dispatch. Hydraulic Jacks to Eire of by acclamation nominated for President of the United States by the Democratic party, it was conceded by all parties that he was a good statesman and sound defender of our Constitution, but since his nomination I have noticed many slanderous remarks in regard to his conduct during the war. Happily, Hon. A. G. Curtin, ex-Governor of Pennsylvania. has expressed himself in a most friendly manner, remarking that the least said against Sey mour's conduct during the rebellion the best for the Republican party, as he would acquit him of such abuse. Now as to F. P. Blair, I have observed in several Republican papers statements that he had no claims whatever upon the Democratic party, and to this I would say why not?— Was it because he fought in the army and for the restoration of the Union? He was nominated at Tammany Hall with shouts of applause, just after proclaiming that we must have a President untrammelled by an unconstitutional, oppressive and arbitrary Congress. Since the close of the rebellion I have carefully noticed the expression of Southern journals, politicians and merchants, and find that all are desirous of living in harmony, and expect that the election of Seymour and Blair will be the means of encouragement and the extension of the right hand of fellowship. thereby evidencing a complete vindication of the object of the war and of the Constitution. and restoring the rights of an impoverished and oppressed portion of our country. Before concluding, I will address myself to the young and enterprising merchants and laboring classes. In the various city papers of recent date, I have noticed a correspon dence between Judge E. Pierrepont and A. T. Stewart, the substance of which was that they both desired the election of U. S. Grant for President, Judge Pierrepont tendéring a check for $20,000 for furthering his election Now, to the sensible reader, and to the young merchant, is not this perfectly explanatory of their interests, and is it not opposed to their development. Do they expect to be benefitted? Is it not for purely mercenary motives? The contest prescuts a well-defined issue between the bondholders and the enterprising and laboring classes, and resolves itself into an oppression. Greenbacks for one and gold for the other. In this correspondence I would not wish to assert anything against the payment of the debt, but the interest is exorbi tant-it cannot be paid, excepting in the same currency as purchased, and when this is once-done capital seeks other investments of a more lucrative character, thereby producing a revenue, and gradually approaching a gold basis. In conclusion, permit me to tender my check for $40,000, to be used in such manner as you may think most advisable for the furtherance of my views. True to our friends and kind to the weak, is the Democratic doctrine advocated by Truly yours, H. T. HELMBOLD.

THE REPLY. H. T. Helmbold, Esq., 594 Broadway : Your letter of the 14th inst. received containing check for $40,000. This amount I shall use in the most appropriate manner. I perused the contents of your letter with the utmost gratification. The question is presented to the people whether they will aid in electing an administration bent on trampling the Constitution into the dust, and elevating upon its ruins a power controlled by bondholding aristocracy, whose motto is gold for the rich and rags for the poor, with prostra- doah. Valley. tion in every branch of industry, and the business of the whole country, or one from whose intelligent administration we can have one Union, one country, one destiny.

. Sincerely yours, GEORGE WASHINGTON LANGLEY.

Grasshoppers in Texas Startling Sight. The plague of grasshoppers is again sweep

At the Sulphur Springs on the Brazos, in At the Sulphur Springs on the Brazes, in the county of Hood, they appeared in clouds on Monday, the 21st ult., and ate up every kind of vegetation. When they first appeared it was thought by the campers around the Springs to be a cloud, and preparations were made for rain: they made a noise in their flight very similar to a storm of wind and rain. When they came pearer, they began to descend, and covered the earth in every direction, consuming all carden stuffs and other green. suming all garden stuffs and other green vegetation they could find.

The following extract of a letter from John H. Cochran, Esq., dated at Belknap, on the 16th of last month, describes the first appearance of the pest:

"On yesterday, the 15th, I saw a sight which I hope no mortal man will ever see again. About 3 o'clock P. M. I went to the door, and, observing that the sun slione but dimly, I looked for the cause. I saw in the distant west what I took to be the smoke of an immense fire, but, on looking closer I perceived that it was not smoke. What is it? was the inquiry of every one, both old and young. It continued to approach, and in about two hours came near enough to us to see that it was a dense mass of moving matter. Nearer and nearer, dimmer and dimmer the sun shines-we see what it is. My Lord! the Egyptian plague! From the ground upward, as far as the eye could see, on account of their denseness, was an almost solid mass of living, moving insects - grasshoppers.

"All who saw the sight agree that, for every square inch of surface over which they were I was deprired of my waistcoat also." ving, there must have been no less than one bushel of grasshoppers. This body of insects were moving ahead of a northwest wind.-They were some three miles wide and as long each way as the horizon was to us. This they reached us the view was very limited on account of the denseness of the mass. They passed over in a northeast direction; still we have millions left of the first coming. This is no exaggeration.

"P. S.-Since the above was written we learn that the grasshoppers have been seen returning west."

The Arkansas Arms Turn out to be a Radical Speculation.

Washington, October 19.—It is known to the military authorities here that the arms destroyed on the steamer Hesperat Cat island were purchased by the Governor of Arkansas and Senator McDonald of that State as a speculation, if the Legislature could be gotten to buy them. It is not believed that any armed resistance is contemplated in Arkansas by the parties who captured the arms, as they destroyed them and did not reserve them for

- A lady correspondent of the editor of the Winchester Times, writing from Buffalo. N. Y., makes the following reference to that noble Virginian, General Jubal A. Early: "A few days since I visited Ningara, and learning that General Early, of Confederate fame, was boarding at Drummondville, Canada West, only a mile distant, I determined to see him, not having had that pleasure since I saw him at the head of his army in Winchester. Accordingly, in company with a friend, we procured a carriage and started. The ride from the Falls to Drummondville was through a pleasant farming country, and when we arrived there were directed to a small brown cottage, simple and unpretending in appearance, yet of great consequence to me as being at present the home of General Early.

"He came out when told we were at the door; and when I introduced myself and told him I was formerly from Winchester, he seemed delighted to see me, as he said he was glad to see any one from the dear old town. His form is bent and he suffers considerably from rhenmatism; otherwise his health is good. He still wears the gray. When he spoke of the South his eyes brightened, and he seemed still deeply interested in her welfare, especially in the future of the Shenanin sight of Drummondville, and when I remarked to the old General that we were quite near a celebrated battle field, he said, 'Oh, yes, but nothing like the battle-fields of the Shenandoah valley.' He again thanked us for calling to see him, and we bade him goodbye and returned to Buffalo."

POETICAL

A SPANISH ANECDOTE. 1 The following beautiful lines on Wilkie's conver ation with a Geronomite friar in some Spanish ent on the picture of the Last Supper, are from

Moxon's selections from Lord Boughton's poems : It was a boly usage to record, Upon each Refectory's side or end,
This fast mysterious Supper of our Lord,
That meanest appetites might upward tend.

Within the Convent Palace of old Spain,
Rich with the gifts and monuments of kings,
Hung such a picture, said by some to reign
The severeign glory of these wondroughings.

A painter of far fame, in deep delight,
Bwelt on each beauty he so well discerned,
While, in low tones, a gray Geronomite
This answer to his ecstacy returned:
"Stranger! I have received my daily neal
In this good company how three score years,
And thou, whoe'er thou art, can'st hardly feel
How time these lifeless images endears.

"Lifeless—ah, no! both Faith and Art have given
That passing hour a life of endless reet,
And every soul who loves the food of Heaven
May to that table come a welcome guest. Lifeless—ab, no! while in mine beart are stored Sad memories of my brethren dead and gone, Familiar faces vacant round our board, And still that silent Supper lasting on.

While I review my youth—what I was then— What I am now; and ye, beloved ones al! It seems as these were the living mer, And we the colored shadows on the wall."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Legal Anecdotes. Sergeant Marryat, who was an eminent Queen's counsel, some time after he had retired from practice, declared that the anxiety of people to go to law was amazing to hima veteran expert in the chicanery of courts. For my part," said he, "if any man were to claim the coat upon my back, and threatened my refusal with a lawsuit, he should have it,

Mr. Chitty tells of the costly blessings of chancery the following story: "An attorney on the marriage of his son, gave him £500, and handed him over a chancery suit of his own practice. About two years after, the son asked his father for more business. "Why, I gave you that capital chancery suit," replied the father, "and then you have got a great many new clients; what more can you want?" "Yes, sir," replied the son, "but I have wound up the chancery suit, and given my client great satisfaction, by putting him in possession of the estate." "What, you improvident fool," rejoined the old lawyer indignantly, "that suit was in my family for twenty-five years, and would have lasted, at least, as much longer, if I had kept it. You squander the good things of the profession, and I shall countenance you no longer, rest assured of Conflicting evidence is one of the chronic difficulties of courts and juries. It is not every judge, however, who can balance its uncertainties as mathematically as Mr. Barron Perrot. "Gentlemen of the jury, this judge s reported to have said, in summing up evidences in a certain case, "there are fifteen witnesses who swear that the water course used to flow in a ditch on the north side of the hedge; on the other hand, gentlemen, there are nine witnesses who swear that the watercourse used to flow on the south side of the hedge. Now, gentlemen, if you subtract nine from fifteen, there remain six witnesses wholly uncontradicted; and I recommend you to give your verdict for the party who called those six witnesses."

A Joke on Colfax.

There is a good joke told about Colfax when he and the Hon. Mr. Fitch were opposing candidates for Congress in Indiana. Fitch had a letter from a prominent citizen of the diatrict, which reflected very severely upon "Skyler" in several particulars, which, during a joint discussion between them, he was in the habit of reading. Colfax, of course, had no reply that he could put in, so he tried to "grin and bear it." However, Mr. Fitch imagined that Colfax was very anxious to get possession of the letter, whereupon he had it exactly copied, and on the next day of discussion purposely placed the copy in the way of Mr. Colfax, who very naturally gobbled i up. On the subsequent day, when they met, Mr. Fitch incidentally referred to the letter "he had in his possession," ect., whereupen Colfax sprang to his feet and branded the statement as a calumny that he would no longer endure, and defied him to show the letter .-Turning upon him, Fitch said: "Is that what you want, you little rascal? You think you stole that letter from me yesterday, but you did not; it was only a copy. Here is the original. And now, Mr. Colfax, I would propose to treat you as a fond mamma does a refractory boy, were it not to-morrow you to her influence, beware! LET JEEMES Go."-The Land we Love gives a model letter from a young lady whose sweetheart was in the Fifth South Carolina regiment, to Mr. Davis, President of the late Confederacy, asking for a furlough for her loyer to come home and get married :

"Dear Mr. President: I want you to let Jeemes Clancy of Company 4th, 5th S. C. regiment. come and get married. Jeemes is willin', I is willin', my mammy, she is willin'. his mammy says she is willin', but Jeemes's captain, he ain't willin'. Now when we're all wil lin', 'ceptin Jeemes's captain, I think you might let up and let Jeemes come. I'll make him go straight back when he's done got married, and fight just as hard as ever." Mr. Davis wrote on the letter "let Jeemes go," and Jeemes came home, married the affectionate correspondent of Mr. Davis, and returned to his regiment, and did fight as well as ever.

Plowing up Raw Soil.

We sometimes hear farmers remark that plowing deep they get less grain; that, briugng up the new mellow soil, their crops suffer It would be very strange if this were not the case ; for this soil, even if ever so mellow, is raw just like manure when it is "green" or "long." It is not yet converted or changed into plant food. It needs just what the long manure needs - to be changed by the beat or the air-that is, decomposed or rotted.

When the top-soil is less fertile than it used to be when the land was first tilled, you may rest assured that this under soil is always better than the upper soil, because the upper soil has deteriorated, while the under has not, but rather improved. It is therefore inadvisable, nay suicidal in some soils, to turn up deeply the underground in the spring or in the fall at sowing time.-The cold, cheerless ground will not help the grain, and were it not for the other soil mixed with it, an almost total failure would be the

But turn it up in the fall, and let the frest and the elements take hold of it, and you have another soil. It is turned into manua, a good part of it. A little lime mixed with it, scattered and harrowed in, or manure, or both, would facilitate the process. In the spring sow either with or without another plowing, and you will find no more occasio to complain. We have great fertility to draupon from below, but it requires managing.

THE RESULT IN THIS STATE.

Up to the time of going to press, we have no returns from the State election held on Thursday last, upon which to base a statement of the result, and we are very much inclined to believe that no one will know how the State has gone until after the Presidential election. We believe that the Conservative State ticket is elected, and we know that we have made considerable gains in the Legislature, but beyond this the whole matter i conjecture.

We have not even seen a statement of the vote in this county and Berkeley, and consequently are at sea-except that we know that here, we have elected our entire ticket, and given a conservative majority of about 75 .-The Wheeling Register of Saturday, in summing up, says:+ It is certain that we have made great and important gains. We have strong hopes of having obtained a majority of the members of the House of Delegates and have probably won enough to give us a majority on joint ballot, thereby ensuring the election of a Demceratic U. S. Senator in place of Mr. Van Winkle, whose term expires on the 4th of March, 1869.

It is also probable that Mr. Walker is elected to Congress from the first District by from 100 to 100 majority. The vote is so close as to require the official count to decide

We feel certain that we have gained a Congressman in the Third District, although no returns from that region have yet been re-ceived. We had advices from that District shortly before the election which leave us no doubt that Moore has been elected over Witcher, his Radical competitor.

JEFFERSON COUNTY.

We congratulate the freemen of this county, and of the State, upon our redemption from the thraldom of radicalism. Despite the meanness of an infamously mean Board of Registration, backed by instructions from a dastardly Governor, we have overthrown the miserable tyranny here, and to day, as far as the voice of the people can make us so, are unbound from the shackles that have hitherto tortured our existence.

For the State ticket, for our candidate for Congress, for Senator, and for Judge of the Circuit Court, we have given majorities ranging from 50 to 80.

For the House of Delegates we have elected both HARRISON and Wilson, beating the Smithfield Grasshopper and his associate on the radical ticket.

For Prosecuting Attorney we have elected Mej. E. W. ANDREWS, thus laying upon the political cooling board, the light-weight Stubs. (Obituary next week.)

For Assessor, our nominee, John Erwin, distances the field, unimpeded in his race by independents of regulars. He has beaten two candidates, and could have beaten four just as easily. The most gratifying part of this result, is the ignominious defeat of High-Over Anthony Turner. If there was a man in the field who ought to have been beaten, because of incompetency and general meanness, it was Turner. He aspired to a position for which he had not the slightest qualification, and his political annihilation is a deserved rebuke of his ignorant presumption.

For Recorder, the race was a closer one, as all the decency of the radical ticket was centered in the opponent of Mr. ENTLER, our nomince. But we have triumphed in spite of the clyreness of Mr. Chase, who ought anot, for his can self-respect be found in such

THE TRUMPETS SOUNDING.

The recent defeats in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, have not dispirited the lionhearted. Democracy, and all along the lines are closing up, and the bugle notes are sounding. The press is receiving new life and vitality, and "onward to victory," is now the watchword. Within the last week the fires have been kindled anew, and the steady tramp of the millions who are marching to the defence of the Constitution, ra animates the wavering, and they drop into line.

Like a ray of sunshine piercing the tempestriven cloud, is the news that the banners of the Democracy again, move forward. The Petersburg Index well says, that the columns are reformed, the bosts march onward, and the faithful masses pour, like mountain torrents, to the convergent point of allatheir hopestheir platform and their candidates.

The late crisis has tried the gold of the party and found it pure; and the great army of the Constitution has been startled into indignant energy, roused to wild determination, maddened into fatalism of resolve, by the picture of ruin lately presented to their walt ba

No stragglers now! The National Committee sounds the trampet, and from the embattled ramparts of Constitutional liberty, through the floating smoke of a hard fought fight, smites the flash and peals the thunder which tells that our flag is still there.

No faint hearts now! The Democracy of the Empire State furnish the rallying point. Our leader has not fallen. His white plume is still waving in the van of gallant contestants. "Follow me!" The voice of SEYMOUR rises above the din of warfare, the confusion of gathering forces, the shifting and manœuvring of the mighty hosts. He has come to the front, instead of leaving the field. He has seized the flag, not ordered its surrender. He sounds the charge, not the retreat.

The hideous phantom of schism recedes from sight. Its bare shadow has called forth storm of patriotism. United as one man the Democracy of the land will march up against the strongholds of despotism.

And, whatever betides a single trial of strength, there is no danger now of a parting of that cable which binds this Government to its destiny of Republicanism. The army of the Constitution stands firm. That rock of their hopes must fly from its base ere they abandon its defence.

The music of the Union sounds cheerly still across the border. Now let the South take up its stirring notes, and swell the mighty chorus. Let Kentucky's one hundred thousand freemen answer the feeble shout of Indiana's hireling six hundred. Let New York drown the voice of Pennsylvania's last uncertain call. Let North and South Carolina, Georgia Alabama and Arkansas, cancel the ingratitude of Ohio to her mother Virginia. Let Lousiana answer Maine, and Maryland and Delaware silence Vermont and New Hampshire. Let Missouri cancel Wisconsin, and New Jersey and Oregon say "never" to Illinois. Let West Virginia shake off her chains, and Connecticut and California respond in the tones of Liberty to the fanatical verdict of Massachusetts, let Colorado and Kansas, over match the fraud of Tennessee. There is the material for a good fight remaining to the faithful, and it must be entered with that indomitable resolve of perseverance which shall add another shining example to the immortal

"Freedom's battle once begun, Bequeathed from bleeding sire to con, Though often lost is ever won."

As an addendum to the above, we append the following from the West Chester (Pa. Jeffersonian-an extract from its stirring appeal to the Democrats of that State for the Presidential struggle, and an invocation to " clear the old ship for action :"

"The smoke of the great political battle which has enveloped the States of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, has now been dissipated, and we can clearly see the field before us. In Indiana, which was 15,000 against us at the last election, the radical majority is not now 1,000. The fight in that State has, in fact, been a drawn one. The home of the radical candidate for Vice President, Mr. Colfax, which was expected to give 20,000 radical majority at the October election, has disappointed all their calculations. The most sanguine Republican who has hitherto claimed it as certain for the ticket, will admit that it now hangs trembling in the balance, with an even chance for the Democracy. In Pennsylvania the radicals, on a poll of more than 600,000, have a small apparent majority for their State ticket, but it is so little a per centage of the whole vote as to be a very unsafe element for future calculations This meager result has been achieved by base frauds. Many thousand naturalized citizens had their votes rejected throughout the State by dishonest radical judges of the electionmany-more, in fact, than was necessary to have carried it for the Democracy. They must vote in November. The Democracy of the old keystone State-which is notoriously Democratic—can easily redeem it at the coming election. All that is wanted to secure that result is a bold and vigorous canvass. In Ohio, the proud majority of 43,000 which the radicals had at the last Congressional election, has dwindled down to some with four Democrats. In Indiana and Pennsylvania we have also made, over dishonest apportionments, very decided gains in the House of Representatives against the Jacobin faction. A similar change in all the States would almost tie the House, where they have held one hundred majority. by a crew who never surrenders—who never

We have only commenced on this abandoned wretch, and before we are done with him, we hope to make him loathe himself with such intensity, that he will relieve the county of his presence by jumping into the Potomac, or by hanging himself with the halter of the horse that Traynor stole-if he didn't steal the halter too. Such a termination of his miserable existence would be the most valuable service he could render the community.

POLITICAL CONUNDRUMS.

Who want Peace? Grant and Geo. Koonce. Who is the greatest political scoundrel of he age, Joe Chapline not excepted? Arthur Infamous Boreman.

Who has tried oftenest to get into the Legislature from Jefferson county, but has not yet succeeded? Grasshopper Smith.

Who wanted to be elected Assessor, and stayed in the county on purpose to run for the office, and then got badly beaten? High Over Anthony.

Who would like to steal $27,000, that belongs to the tax-payers of Jefferson and Berkeley? Joe Chapline. What ought to be shot? A dog that would bark at Under-skunk. Who stole that horse? Charley Traynor, late member of the Board of Registration of Jefferson county.

SOLDIERS IN JEFFERSON .- One company f United States regulars has been in Jeffer son during the last week for the purpose of keeping the peace during the election excitement .- Berkeley Union. The soldiers now in this county were not brought here "for the purpose of keeping the peace during the election excitement." There had been, and was not likely to be, any violation of the peace. They were sent into this county because the villianies of Boreman and the scoundrels whom he had employed, were such as to provoke a violation of the peace. The coward hearts of these infamous wretches and political vagabonds, had led them to fear that an outraged people would swing them, and thus their own imaginations furnished the pretext for bringing these troops to the county. They knew that they ought to be killed for their scoundrelism, and they naturally feared that they would be-hence the necessity of troops for their protection?

THE RESULTS .- The Mongrel orators tell us that if Grant is not elected, the results of ed nation. the late war will all be lost. Is that so? Then, what a blessed thing for the country should Grant be defeated ! What are these precious results? Negro supremacy and outrages at the South. Wholesale robbery by Federal officials. An enormous debt and taxation eating out the substance of the people. A depreciated rag-currency for the people and gold for the Bondocrats. Vastly increased prices for all the necesearies of life, and a general depression in business. Universal disregard for the law and the Constitution, and a sundering of the bonds of social order, virtue and morality throughout the country. These are some of the results of the war and Radical rule,

- The official Republican majority in the State of Penpsylvania is 8,486. The Philadelphia Age and Easton Argus express the confident belief that the State will go Democratic in November.

THE COMPANDING STORES

In this contest the straggle is between patriotism and corruption; between the advoment, and the enemies of civil liberty; be tween those who would administer the government for the best interests of a people already oppressed by taxation, and those who would continue this oppression by class legis-lation; between those who believe that " the blessings of government like the dews of Heaven, should fall upon alike, the rich and the poor, the high and the low," and those who believe that the government should distinguish in favor of the bondbolder.

The Laucaster Intelligencer says the recent e'ections in Pennsylvania and other States, show how terrible a struggle the battle of the people against organized corruption and venality is to be. The masses are honest .-They voted houestly on Tuesday. But thousands of corrupt and mercenary creatures betraved the toiling masses for so much money paid down into their dirty fingers. Fraud and corruption has achieved a temporary triumph, but, so surely will the great principles of the Democratic party triumph over all opposition, if this continues to be a Republican government. Democracy may be crushed out by a consolidated despotism, but until that is done, its battle with wrong will never be at an end. And the power of its triumph must speedily come if we would save the free institutions bequeathed to us by the fathers of the Republic.

A Letter from Wade Hampton. THE MISREPRESENTATIONS OF HIS POSITION

The Charleston Daily News of the 21st publishes a letter from Wade Hampton in reply to one from a lawyer of Wisconsin requesting him, in view of the wide spread misrepresentations of his course, to define his noition as to the issues, results, and consequences of the war. Wade Hampton says

"The main issues involved in the war were ecession and slavery the first primary, the atter brought in at a later period. party came into power, grant him partial suffrage. The State Central Club has just reaffirmed this declaration, and I have no doubt but that this declaration is sustained by a vast majority of the white citizens of the State. "We regard the reconstruction acts as unconstitutional, but we look for their overthrow-not to violence, but, in the language of a resolution unanimously adopted by the Democratic party in convention assembled, to constitutional agencies and peaceful remedies alone.' In these I have been charged with having 'dictated' that portion of the platform relating to reconstruction. This charge I have more than once denied, and I do so again most emphatically. The letter concludes as follows: " If the people of the North wish to build up a strong and lasting Union, let them be magnanimous and generous to the South .-Let them confide more fully than they have done in the honor of our people, and they will meet a cordial and heartfelt response.-The future destiny of the Republic is in the hands of the North, and upon their action it depends whether there is again to be a Union based on fraternal feelings, or one held together by the iron bands of military rule."

Doctor Bagby, who edits the Native Vir ginian, Orange C. H., has a quaint way of saying things, but there is force in his style. In his last paper he takes occasion to notice Mr. John Quincey Adams's speech at Columbia, S. C., in which that gentleman pathetreally exhorted the Southern people to be natient. This is the doctor's way of treating this admirable exhortation :-Sit down here, my man, in this barrel of boiling pitch while I pour a hod full of live coals into your lap and fasten a heavy, white hot iron collar around your neck. The situation may be unpleasant, but don't be impatient, for I will send a negro around every half hour or so to spit in your face, and will come myself regularly to abuse you like a dog and tell all manner of lies upon you. Take it easy, bide your time, and at the end of four or five years, if I'm entirely satisfied that you have no unkind feeling toward the negro and love me—really love me—as I think I ought to be loved, why then I may perhaps forgive you, let you up and permit you to work for my benefit just as you did before the war, and just as if nothing had ever happened.

Address of the Democratic National Committee.

NEW YORK, October 21 .- The Democratic National Committee has issued an address .-It makes no allusion to any change of candidates. It says: "It is charged by the Radical party, a pary of violence and usurpation, which, for the last four years, to prolong its own existence, has set at naught the Constitution and fundamental principles of our Government, that we intend revolution and defiance of existing laws. The accusation is so unfounded and absurd that it cannot be entertained for a moment by an intelligent voter who has even the most superficial knowledge of the history of his country. The Democratic party can proudly point to every page of its record .has never violated a single obligation of the fundamental compact by which these States entered into the family of nations. Its watchword in peace, as in war, has been, and will always be, "Union, the Constitution, the Laws"; and no man nor any set of men, however high they might be placed by the suffrages of their fellow-citizens, can expect to receive the support of this great conservative party in any revolutionary attempt against the established laws. Don't yield an inch of ground.-Don't lay down your arms for a single moment. Continue to perfect your organization, not only in every election precinct in this great metropolis, but in every section of the State and of the Union. The grand old party to which you belong, which in sunshine or in storm is ever the same constant and unyielding defender of the people's rights, demands your continued and earnest labors. It is the onle party that knows how well to use a victory and that stands forth fearless and undismayed in defeat. It was born with the Constitution, and it will only perish with that sacred instrument. While there is a scrap or shred of that immortal document left to bless and protect the people, the Democracy will keep up the good fight, and will never falter in heir noble exertions for 'the good old cause!' To day we begin the battle again. No work shall appal us-no labor shall make us weary -no pressure, from within or without, shall cause us to pause or halt for an instant in our oaward march. Democrats! Union men! Friends of the Constitution ! Press on-press on ! Do your whole duty, and generations yet unborn will rise up and call you blessed!"

Views of A Foreigner. The editor of the Courier des Etats Unis hus expresses his opinion of the Presidentia election: "It has seemed to us a matter of small moment whether the name of Grant or that of Seymour shall issue from the electoral urn; and now, more than ever, we are persuaded, that to which ever side the balance inclines, whatever party may gain power, will be compelled to devote itself to restoring public affairs to their normal condition-to reconstruct the South without partisan views-to reduce the public expenses, inflated by prodigality and corruption-to reduce the taxesin a word, to heal the wounds of the country and begin a new era." The editor proceeds to express the opinion that a new party, "The Party of the Future," will arise, created by the necessities of the country, composed of the patriotic and conservative men of both of the existing parties. He thinks he sees already the begining of this party among the people themselves, who in the elections just past, have shown their aversion to men of extreme views; and he nstances the rejection of Mr. Ashley and Vallandigham in Ohio. He advises the Denocrats not to waste their strength on the Presi lental election -as the President, whoever he e, will be mastered by his situation and the condition and necessities of the country-and levote themselves to the Congressional elecions. "The future belongs to them (he says) or at least to the party which will spring from their fusion with the moderate element of the Republican party. Around this nuclus will necessarily rally all who are not pervaded by the spirit of violence and faction o which the country is indebted in these latter days for so many disorders and so much

Large quantities are said to be daily raised that will work by the ordinary wet-mill process from $450 o $3,000 per ton, while selections will run nigher up in the thousands.

- General Morgan, of Ohio, who was expelled by the majority of Congress at last session for an alleged illegality in his election, has been re-elected by a large majority of his constituents. The lovers of fair play and political justice will not be sorry at his success, even though he is a very prominent Demo-crat. Congress treated him badly, and refused to give him a fair show. General Morgan rendered arduous services in the Union army for two or three years of the war.

THE falling leaves remind us of the approach Winter, and that it is high time to lay our summer wear aside, and provide for the chilling blasts that must come with the approaching season. To meet the demands, the undersigned have made every arrangement, and have just returned from GENERAL ASSORTMENT OF GOODS embracing everything usually found in a Country Store. And we are determined to sell. Numbers have found this cheapside No. I, and the cry is still they come. The demand for goods does not, how-ever, as is generally the case, increase the price, but the more goods sold, the cheaper we sell. We therefore cordially invite the citizens of Duffield's and vicinity to give us a call, and see that what we say is correct. Thankful for past favors, we solicit and hope to receive a share of public patropage.

LOCAL MISCELLANY. WINCHEST & PRESBYTERY.- From the Woodstock Herald of the 22d inst., we copy the following stice of the Winchester Presbytery, which recently held its session in that town :- "The Presbytery of Winchester, which has been holding its sessions in this town since Friday last, adjourned on Tuesday night, after a most harmonious and pleasant anceting. There were in attendance during its sessions 17 ordained ministers, and 12 ruling elders, representatives from more than thirty churches under the care of this body. The proceedings of this venerable court attracted no little attention on the part of our citizens. Theil attendance upon both its business meetings, and religious services, evinced - a most gratifying interest, in the men and the measures of a body, which, for the seventyfive years of its existence, has been so influential in moulding and fixing the religious

Some of the measures adopted at the late meeting were of a most important character, and in their bearing upon the missionary and educational interests of the Presbytery will, it is hoped, be productive of much good .-This body numbers among its members some of the most able and distinguished ministers in the Synod of Virginia. Our citizens were I leased to find at this meeting three of the former pastors of the church in which the Presbytery held its sessions. The impression which the kindness of citizens made upon the members of the Presbytery, was evinced in the cordial vote of thanks, which was tendered them for their bountiful hospitality.

NEW TEMPERANCE ORDER .- Eureka Cohort, No. 1, Legion of Temperance"-the first organization of this Order in the State of West Virginia - was instituted in this place on Saturday evening last, by Maj. C. C. CAL-LAN, of Washington, D. C., Supreme Vice Commander of North America. The following are the officers for the present quarter :-

ALCEN F. HALL, W. C. SAMUEL MYERS, W. V. C. CHAS. G. JOHNSON, W. A. Po. J. WILLIAMS, S. JOHN M. BELLER, F. S. WM. II. MOORE, Jr., I JOSEPH H. COCKRELL, W. GEO W. HAINES, C. Tuos. J. MARTIN, M. ALEX. S. SMALL, U. JOHN, W. WRIGHT, G. JAMES W. GARNEY, S. NATHANIEL COWLEY, A. S.

SAMUEL MYERS, Deputy Supreme Com-ALLEN F. HALL, District Deputy Supreme Commander.

BURNING OF WHEAT. On Wednesday morning last, a stack yard on the farm of Mr. WM. II. Moone sconsisting of four ricks and three stacks of grain, was totally destroyed by fire, involving a loss to Mr. Moore of not Pless than eight hundred bushels of wheat .-The fire was first discovered by Mr. M. between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning, and although he immediately hastened to the spot, such progress had the flames made, that any effort to extinguish them was deemed fruit-1 ss. The wheat was stacked nearly a quarter of a mile from the house, and the fire was of course the mulicious work of an incendiary, but Mr. Moore assures us that he has not the slightest suspicion as to who could have been the perpetrator of the fiendish deed.

CHANGE OF FIRMS .- Notwithstanding the general complaint of dull times and stagnation in business; we have an occasional change in firms in our town. We notice only those of recent date. By advertisement it will be seen that Mr. Joun A. Washington, has become a partner with Mr. C. W. Aisquith in the Drug Business-Mr. Archie Aisquith retiring from the firm of Aisquith & Bro. The firm will hereafter be Aisquith & Washington.

The well-known firm of Trussell & Co., have disposed of their stock to Messrs. John If. CAMPBELL and HORACE A. WEST, who will hereafter conduct business at the old stand, and will doubtless keep a stock worthy the attention of purchasers. Mr. EUGENE West will continue to run the store heretofire occupied by West Brothers, east of the Court-House Square.

HORRIBLE MURDER .- The Lynchburg Republican Larns that a man named O'Conner was found, Thursday morning, lying beside the road, near Mount Jackson, in Shenandowh county, in a condition which clearly showed that he had been barbarously murdered. His skull had been broken by repeated blows given with a heavy rail, and the head was crushed out of all natural shape and sembilarce. The body was otherwise frightfully in triated, as if by some one who wreaked an in feterate and bitter revenge. It is believed that the murder was committed by one Murply, whose daughter was betrayed and ruined by O Conner, some two years ago. Murphy was much affected by this dreadful mistortune, and it is believed that his mind was disordered.

- SUNDAY last was the anniversary-25th of October, 1853 -of one of the severest snow storms that ever visited our section of counary at that period of the year. Snow fell, and was measured on the level, to the depth of fourteen inches, accompanied by a storm of wind and rain that desolated orchards and almost swept forests in full verdure, from its violence. This year, the day was marked by severe thunder, 21 P. M., and quite a heavy fall of rain in the afternoon.

SALE - We learn that the comfortable and commodious property in the southwestern part of our town, known as the Presbyterian l'arsonage, in the days of Mr. Tustin and his accustomed guest, Gen. Macomb, has been sold to Mr. John S. Easterday, for $2,500. This sale shows a steady increase in the value of all property of the town.

IMPORTANT TO THE DEBTORS OF THE VALLEY BANK .- Mr. Fant, the Receiver of the Valley Bank, with his counsel, will be in Charlestown, on Thursday next, the 29th instant, where the debtors of the Valley Bank are requested to meet him, and will doubtless find it to their interest to do so.

[For the Spirit of Jefferson:1 "Legion of Temperance." CHARLESTOWN, Oct. 26th, 1868.

Editor Spirit of defferson:

Believing that you would enguarage any laudable movement calculated to actuance the best interests of the community, I respectfully ask you to publish the following exponents. sition of the origin and purposes of the Le-gion of Pemperance, a subordinate Cohort of which was instituted in this place on Saturday evening last,

When it was discovered that the Independent Order of Good Templars, forgetful of the purposes of their organization, admitted negroes into full membership of the Order, and became a mere party machine; under the control of a clique of fanatics, many of their members, objecting to a practical enforcement of negro equality, resolved to form a new Order. Accordingly a committee was appointed to prepare a suitable Ritual; who, after diligently applying themselves to their task, produced a Ritual which, for beauty of language, and sublimity and impressiveness of ceremonies, has no superior and few equals among the Orders of the country.

The Supreme Cohort (which is the governing body) was fully organized last January, and is presided over by Hon. Charles Sitgreaves, M. C., of New Jersey, and has among its members some of the most distinguished advocates of Temperance in the Temperance is its cardinal feature, and politics-the bane of nearly every other work of reform-is rigorously excluded. The Legion of Temperance is growing rapidly in the Southern and Western States, and is destined at no distant day, to become one of the most powerful orders in the country. Any one desiring further information relative to the Order, can obtain it by addressing Hon. Chas. Sitgreaves, Supreme Commander, U. S. House of Representatives; Maj. Chris. Callan, Supreme Vice Commander, 95 G Street, South, Washington, D. C.; W. G. Tomer, Supreme Secretary, 3d Auditor's Office, Washington, D. C.; or A. F. Hall, Esq. District Deputy Supreme Commander, Charlestown, W. Va.

Yours very truly, TEMPERANCE.

FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE.-The third annual meeting of the State Council of the Friends of Temperance of Va., says the Staunton Vindicator, assembled in the Odd Fellows Hall in this place, Tuesday night last; the Presiden', Mr. A. P. Abell, in the chair. A large number of the Councils are represented than has been the case heretofore. There are 47 Councils in the State, and the order is progressing steadily and successfully. The President in his address said: It is matter of fearful regret that the order had not yet been able fairly to present its claims to universal adoption. This, he said, at whatever cost, must be done. The cry of agony comes into our ears, from the ten thousand crushed. bleeding and dying victims of the enemy .-Missionaries must be sent forth, public opinon must be commanded, and above all, the potent influence of women must be secured in the "Associated Councils." He alluded gratefully and hopefully to the active camnign and its success in the Valley. The Council at the University he said, would prove. to be a "school of the prophets," and exert a most happy and benign influence in all the Southern States.

After the close of the President's address. he remainder of the evening was devoted to learing statements from members of the good accomplished in their respective neighborhoods. Members of subordinate Councils, although not eligible, were by vote, admitted to the meeting as visitors.

The eletion of officers resulted as follows: President, Geo. A. Bruce, of Waynesborough. Associate. J. E. Roller, of Hatrisonburg, Chaplain, Rev Wm. W. Greene, of Spottsylvania. Secretary, Rev. W. B. Wellons, of Suffolk. Treusurer, A. P. Abell, of Charlottesville. Conduc or, Dr. James L. Leitch, of Rockbridge. Sentine!, James W. Newton, of Staunton.

What's a ledy? Is it something.
Made of books, and silk and airs;
Used to decerate the parlor.
Like the Lanty rings and chairs?
Is it one that wastes on novels
Every feeling that is human?
If 'tis this to be a lady,
"Tis not this to be a woman.

Mother, theo, unto your daughter
Speak of something higher far,
Than to be mere hishion's lady—
"Woman" is the brightest star.
If ye, in your strong affection,
Urge your son to be a true man,
Urge your daughter no less strongly
To arise and be a woman.

Yes, a woman! brightest model'
Of that high and perfect beauty,
Where the mind, and soul, and body
Blend to work out life's great duty.
Be a woman; naught is higher
On the gilded list of fame;
On the catalogue of virtue
There's no brighter, holier name.

Be a woman! oh to duty;
Raise the world from all that's low,
Place high in the social heaven
Virtue's fair and radiant bow.
Lend thy influence to each effort That shall raise our nature human; Be not fashion's gilded lady— Be a brave, whole souled, true woman.

HUMOROUS.

A Literal turn of Mind. A lady was once conversing with a sailor who had suffered shipwreck; and, as she took great pleasure in the analyzation of feelings and emotions, asked him compassionately, "How did you feel my poor man, when the cold waves broke over you?" But the seaman knew nothing of metaphysics, and answered simply, "Wet, ma'am; very wet." A small child being asked by a Sandayshool teacher. "What did the Israelites do after they had crossed the Red Sea?" answered, "I don't know ma'am, but I guess they dried themselves."

Queer answers are often received by grown people who talk to children, for the reason that the latter have not yet become accustomed to the subtleties and figurative meanings and round about ways of words, and therefore. look at things very practically. "Sam," said a young mother to her darling boy, "do you know what the difference is between the body and the soul? The soul my child, is what you live with; the body carries you about .-This is your body. (touching the boy's shoulders and arms,) but there is something deeper in; you can feel it now. What is it?"-"Oh I know," said he, with a flash of intelligence in his eyes, "that is my flanuel shirt." "A passive verb," said a teacher, is "expressive of the nature of receiving an action, as, Peter is beaten. Now what did Peter do?" "Well, I don't know," said the scholar, deliberating, "unless he hollered." A youth, who was being reprimanded for playing marbles on Sunday, was asked, "Do you know where those little boys go who play marbles on Sunday ?! He had not been sufficiently taught in regard to a future state, and replied, quite innocently. "Oh, yes .-Some on 'em goes to the Common,' and some on 'em goes down to the river,' "

How to Find Speech.

Mr L-affronted his wife, who, to punish him, resolved to act dumb whenever he was present, and so well did she maintain her resolution, that nearly a week passed away, during which not a word did she utter in his presence. She performed her household duties as usual, but speak she would not. He tried to coax her out of her whim, but in vain. At last he tried the following plan to overcome her resolution, by working on her curiosity-the most ungovernable of female propensities. Returning one evening from his employment, his lady sat there as usual, mute. He immediately commenced a vigorous search throughout the room. The closet was examined, the bedroom, drawers, boxes, shelves; everything that could be thought of was overhauled. His wife was struck with astonishment at his unaccountable behavior, and as he proceeded in his search, she became nervously anxious to find out what he was looking for. What could it be? She looked in his face to glean, if possible, from his expression the object of his search; but no go, he was bober as a judgh. He lifted the edge of the carpet, looked under the table cover, and finelly approached her chair-looked under it, and even went so far as to brush her dress partially aside, as if what he sought might be there. She could stand it no longer. See burst out: "Bod what are you looking for?" He smiled, and answered, "Your tengue, and I found it."

Pretty Good. .

Many incidents of an amusing character bappened during the late war, which have never found their way into print, but which are too good to be. lost. The following, we believe, has not heretofore met the public

Wash Petty, a noted bushwhacker, whilst foraging in Southwest Missouri with his followers, rode up to a farm house whose owner was known to have ample provisions for man and beast, but whose politics were best known to himself. Petty and his men being dressed in Federal uniform, were mistaken by the farmer for jawbawkers. He began to declare most positively that he was "a Union man; God never made a better." Petty said, "we are hunting your sort: we are rebel bushwhackers." Whereupon the farmer changed his tactics and declared just as positively that he was a "Southern man." "Look here, old mau," said Petty, "you don't know to which side we belong, and you must take one side or the other, and stick to it; if you happen to take the wrong side we'll kill you." This staggered the man considerably, but after thinking a minute, he said : "Well, I said at the start I was a Union man, and I'll stick to it, if it is a d-d lie." He was left to enjoy his peculiar opinions without further molestation.

- One of our oldest and most respectable citizens called into the establishment of a joking druggist recently, and overcome by the sultry weather, sat down in a chair and was soon enjoying a sound slumber. Observing that the sleeper had on a fine new hat the druggist gently removed it, substituting in its place an old one, with a sadly dilapidated and rusty crown. The drowsy citizen at last awoke, and after a few "h hums," felt for the hat, which was rather a tight fit. Removing it from his head and taking a steady gaze at the battered relic, he turned to the of all widths and thickness, suitable for Cabinet purdruggist and inquired: "Did I sleep a long time?" "Yes" replied the joker, "a very long time?" "Yes" replied the joker, "a very soneble terms for Cash. time?" "Yes" replied the joker, "a very long time?" "Well." continued the first; "I should judge I had, for when I come

We, the undersigned, have this day witnessed the operation of a Steam Engine purchased from M. J. Leese & Co., of Parkersburg, W.
