An Imposing Scene-The Body Transferred from the Monarch to the Funeral Car-Speech of Captain Commerell, of the Monarch, and Reply of Gavernor Chamberlain.

THORTLAND, ME., January 29.—The morning opened overcast and threatening.
The Maine Legislature, accompanied by many ladies, arrived at an early hour, and going on board the steamer Alehoning, made a trip around the fleet, returning in time to be present on the Atlantic wharf at his reception. Immense crowds covered every point of lookout, filled the boats in the harbor, and swarmed in the rigging of the shipping.

All the vessels in the harbor displayed their colors at half mast, and business was suspended. throughout the city. At 11 o'clock the Monarch fired one gun as a signal that the remains were disembarked, W OULD respectfully call attention to large and new invoices of TEAS constantly receiving, including all grades Imperials, Gunpowders, Hysons, Twankys, Oolongs, English Breakfast and Japans, at Importers' Prices.

The noble vessel which I command has been selected for this honorable service, I have the right to believe from the name she bears. I have received orders to show by every means in my power the respect and admiration in which this great philanthropist was held, not only by our most Commis'n Merchants. gracious sovereign Queen, but by the people of the United Kingdom. This task has been rendered doubly easy to me by the knowledge which the citizens of the United States al-WILSON'S AMMONIATED SUPER-PHOSPHATE | ready possess of the expressed feelings on a former occasion of our beloved Queen. The President of the United States has testified to the appreciation of what we feel by the appointment of an officer of great distinction and renown, Admiral Farragut, in command of the squadron to receive these venerated remains. It gives us great pleasure indeed, to feel that one of our great vessels-of-war has been sent here, her first errand being, not of destruction and death, but of peace and goodwill. Governor Chamberlain, into your hands, as Governor of the State of Maine, I now deliver my sacred trust; but though the remains of this great and good man must pass from us, you cannot deprive us of his memory. The suffering artisan's widow and orphan on both sides of the Atlantic, both North and South, will henceforth bless the name of George Peabody.

Governor Chamberlain replied : Captain Commercil-I receive into the care and custody of the State of Maine the sacred trust so honorably confided, and now so faithfully and nobly fulfilled with mournful pride. This State sees herself chosen as the shore where two nations meet to mingle their tears over the bier of the benefactor of mankind. It is befitting that I should express the deep gratitude of the American people in recognizing the courtesy, rising to the height of honor and tenderness, which it has pleased her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain to restore to his native land this precious dust .-England honored this man while he lived : when he deceased she laid him with kings .-One of her finest ships has borne him hither, in charge of officers known and honered in both countries, and you were escorted by a ship whose name reminds us at once of the tie that binds us to our old home and the spirit that that's a big thing for a newspaper, enough to makes us a nation. The Government of London.

The largest city in christendom, the richest and most influential in the world, has tried various forms of government and found all wanting. It has been governed for a time by the nation represented in Parliament. It has been governed for a longer time by a number been governed for a longer time by a number of muncipal organization of villages. It has been governed for some years by a singular variety of "commission" or "boards," each of them controlling a special department. Finally, it has been governed of late on a plan which is a mixture of all these, and under which each single interest is managed by a combination of powers inextricably involved together, so that no man can say precisely where lies the blame for any evil or the praise for any good. Yet with all these contrivances. for any good. Yet with all these contrivances. grave statesmen call its organization a failure. The journals describe its internal condition as "a chaos." Wealth accumulates, but taxes grow still faster. Policemen and courts mulwith oars apeak, Admiral Farragut in the tiply, but crime increases. WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Adjutant Genl's Office, Nov. 30, 1862. To the General's commanding the Departments of the Missouri, the Tennessee and the Gulf and their subordinates, etc :

You are hereby directed to place at the disposal of Rev. Bishop Ames, all houses of worship belonging to the Methodist Episcopal Church South in which a loval minister, who has been appointed by a loyal bishop of said. church, does not officiate. It is a matter of great importance to the Government in its efforts to restore tranquility to the community and peace to the nation, that christian ministers should, by precept and example, support and foster the loyal sentiments of the people. Bishop Ames enjoys the entire confidence of this department, and no doubt is entertained that all ministers who may be appointed by him will be entirely loyal. You are expected to give him all the aid, countenance and support practicable in the execution of his important mission.

E. D. TOWNSEND, Ass't Adj't Gen. A House Sawed in Two .- Some of our readers will remember a small frame building which stands near the depot, used at various times for a saloon. It stood upon the lands of two citizens of our town, who each claimed a share in the house. One wished to move it, but the other refused. The mover, however, made his arrangements to move the house, and had raised it upon rollers, when the other served an injunction upon him, forbidding the removal of the part that stood upon his land. The mover was not to be balked that move the small portion which stood upon his land anyhow. Twelve o'clock came, with no change in affairs except the content of the fort and was admitted. PORTICAL. WHAT IS A YEAR?

What is a year? 'Tie but a wave On life's dack rolling stream, Which is so quickly gone that we Account it but a dream.

Tis but a single, carnest thrab Of Time's old iron heart, Which tireless now, and strong as whe It first with life did start. White a year? Tis but a turn
Of Time sold brazen wheel,
Or but a page upon the book
Which death must shortly seal.

A few there steps and we shall walk Life's wenty round no more.

A SHADOW. When clouds rail through the sky, Dark shadows gloom the plain; When our beloved pass by, Tears fall like rain. Tears fall dike rain.
Beside a little grave.
Where year old grasses wave,
I weep again.
The flowers bave bloomed less fair:
Since she, our darling died;
She, with the sunny hair,
Pure, azure eyed;
Our most refulgent star—

MISCELLANEOUS.

ELIZABETH ZANE. A TRUE STORY.

About the first of September, in the year 1772, whilst a celebrated spy, whose name was John Lynn, was engaged in witching the war paths north west, of the Ohio river, he discovered the Indians marching with great haste for the village of Wheeling, (now the city of Wheeling, West Virginia,) and actheir danger. He swam the river and reached the village but a short time before the savage army made its appearance.

The Fort at this time had no regular garconsisting of one hundred aldermen, elected . The dwellin house of Col. Ebenezer Zane, by all householders in the proportion of two which stood at the forty yards from the Fort,

There was in the dwelling house, Col. Ebenezer Zane, Andrew Scott, George Green, Mrs. Zane, Molly Scott, and Miss McCulough. The kitchen adjoining the house was occupied by Sam (a negro belonging to Col. Zane,) and his wife Kate. Col. Silas Zane commanded the Fort.

The Indians, came up with the British colors waving over them, and before a shot was fired, demanded the surrender of the garrison. All the answer they received was the firing of several shots at their British flag, then the savages rushed on to the assault .-A brisk fire was opened on them, both from the Fort and the house, and they were driven back. Again they made an attack, and again they were reputed. They had quite a number of guns in 5th the house and Fort, and as the ladies, moulding bullets, loading guns and hand, g them to the men, enabled them to fire so fast, and yet so effectively, the Indians recoiled from every charge. It was too hot work for them. Soon night came on, sobleged to ye, parson, for your entertainin' and all was quiet, an Indian was ordered, by bis chief, to burn the dwelling house, so taking a fire brand in his hand, he crawled silently to the kitchen, and raised himself from the ground, waved the torch to and fro to rekindle the flame, and was about to apply it to the building, then he received a shot, which forced him to for his torch, and he hobbled away as fast as he could, howling as he went. 'Ha, ha F' said Black Sam, 'dat's de way I fix 'em ; he'd better not try dat little trick It was Sam who had detected the Indian just in time to stop "dat little trick."

Soon after the firing had ceased, a small boat on its way from Fort Pitt to the Falls of the Ohio, with a load of cannon balls for the use of the troops there, landed at Wheeling; the man who had charge of the boat was soon discovered by the Indians; they fired upon the next day they procured a log, which had a hollow in it bout the size of the cannon balls : they then got some chains from a shop near by and be nd the log with them. When all was ready stey put in a good load of pow-der and ball, then pointing it at the Fort the word was given and the match applied: Bang ! bang! A dreadful explosion; the cannon burst, and its pieces flew all around, killing several Indians and wounding many more. How angry and furious this accident made them ! they pressed in like a set of crazy fellows. and fired away in great fury. Still they were received with such a steady and constant fire, that they were forced to fall back. This was very fortunate for the garrison, as their powder was almost exhausted, and it now became necessary to procure some from Col Zane's house. At was proposed that one of the fleetest me should endeavor to reach the house, get a ke of powder and, return with it to the Fort. It was an enterprise of the greatest danger; but many of the men were willing to venture. Miss Elizabeth Zane, the younger sister of Colonel Zane, who had but recently returned from Philadelphia, where she had received her education, and who was totally unused to Indian fights and scenes of blood, volunteered to go for the powder. She was told of the THE WEALTH OF THE BIBLE.—The inex- great danger, and that a man could run faster but her reply was: "The loss of a man will "It is the book of law, to show the right be more severely felt; you have not one man Arriving at the door of the house she was instantly admitted. The Indians kept up the seige all the next night and day. On the third day, despairing of success, they raised the seige and retreated across the Ohio river.

Miss Zane afterwards became the wife of A gentleman recently died at his residence in one of the fashionable streets in New York, feaving $11,000,000. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church in excellent standing, a good husband and a thrifty citizen.— Portunate was I you think and see nothing admentory here; yet this man died in dearant. His agontaing, but unavailing cry, during his long, tingaring illness, was: "Oh! if Leould only be spared a few years longer, I would willingly give all the wealth I have amassed in a lifetime." The sin that drove him to despair was a life devoted to money getting. And when his clergyman tried to soothe him, he turned his face to the wall with a refree moments, when the elergyman endeavored to improve the occasion by serious conversation.

"This is a solemn duty in which we are engaged, my friend," said he.

"Hey! what do you say, sfr?" the old man returned. "Can't you speak louder?" I would give all I possess to have hope the occasion."

"The hard of hearin."

How often do ministers wink at and even "I was remarking," shouted the minister, encourage this sin in their congregation, not story or troubled in sharing in the reward of to day." "that this is a solemn road we are traveling to day."

"Sandy road! You den't call this ere sandy, do ye? I guess you ain't been down to the south deestrict. Than's a streeh of read on the old pike that beats all I ever see for hard traveling. Only a week, afore Deacon Jones was tucken sick I met him driving his ox-team along thar, and the sand was pretty nigh up to the hubs of the wheels.—
The Deacon used to get dredful riled bout that piece of road, and East Town does go ahead of all creation for sand."

Sorry or troubled in sharing in the reward of the gain purchased by the price of souls!—
Thus, this rich man, as the world goes, died without hope, bearing witness a dinst the man who had assumed the solemn office of watchings and consecrated to God. Are you the pastor of which charch? be faithful in respect to great temptation of your people. They were entering the grave-yard, but the old man stretched his neck from the carriage "Don't wan't to go to heaven, my son ?"

"No, ma, I'm sure I don't." "Why not, my son?"

"Why, grandpapa will be there, we'nt he?" "Yes, I hope he will."

Good Rules. - Stop grumbling. Get up two hours earlier in the morning, and begin to do something out of your regular profession. Mind your own business, and with all your might let other people's alone. Live within your means. Sell your horses. Give away or sell your dog. Smoke your eigars through an air stove. Eat with moderation, and go to bed early. Talk less of your own peculiar gifts and virtues, and more of those of your friends and neighbors. Be cheerful. Fulfill your promises. Pay your debts. Be yourself all you would see in others. Be a good man and stop grumbling.

- Mark Twain produces one of the most striking cases of meanness on record. He says he knows of an "incorporated society" which hired a man to blast a rock, and he was punching powder in with a crowbar when a premature explosion followed, sending the man and crowbar out of sight. Both came down again all right, and the man went to work again promptly. #### FIAT JUSTITIA.

In these days when the judicial ermine so frequently trailed in the dust-when political fanaticism is the best passport to the bench, it is hard to be astonished when the veil, at times uplifted, betrays the hideour defermity of the goddess who now rules it the temple of justice. But we were scarcely prepared for such a display of corruption as is furnished by the record of the "Hon." Judge who presides over the Seventh Circuit of our State. No criminal at the bar has ever been guilty of more crimes than those laid to the charge of Nathaniel Harrison.

In the name of God, let such mockery cease! Let the men who sit in our Legislature clear themselves of the imputation of being the friends of such a monster. Let justice be done. Such men as Harrison disgrace not the State of West Virginia alone, but the very name of civilization.

Since the above was in type we have received the news that the Senate, on Friday last, by a vote of 14 to 6, concurred in the House resolution for the impeachment this political villain. Farewell Nathaniel!

DISABILITIES.

Our latest advice from Wheeling in regard to the bill repealing the attorney's test-oath is that the Senate has passed the House bill with the addition of a preamble sustaining the policy and expediency of the law at the time when originally enacted. With this preamble as a rider, the bill goes back to the House, where the Democrats can scarcely find it in their conscience to support it. We hope however they will do so, and that the Bill will pass without further delay. Future legislation can correct the preamble. By our next issue we hope to announce that all disabilities against lawyers, school teachers, and perhaps suitors, have been repealed in West Virginia.

ENTER VIRGINIA.

To-day witnesses the formal interment of Military District No. 1, and the resurrection of the State of Virginia. The old Commonwealth rises from her ashes, her plumes a little damaged and altogether rather the worse for wear; but the signs are that the exit of Canby and the inauguration of Gov. Walker will mark a new era of prosperity. Not the worst indication of a return to the good old times is to be found in the rush for office .-The sons of the Old Dominion have been ever ready to respond to their country's call in peace or war, and there is no lack of candidates. In the excitement of the moment is there no sympathetic voice raised for the defunct commander and his appointees. Alas! the best that can be said, is "depart in peace."

TEXAS POLITICS.

General Joseph J. Beynolds, commanding the Fifth Military District. State of Texas. has, under date of January 11th, 1870, issued a general order, setting forth the results of the election held in Texas on the four days, commencing November 30th and ending on December 3d, 1869. The vote on the Constitution was as follows: Number in favor, 72,366; against, 4,928, leaving a majority of 67,438 in favor of the ratification. The State officers elected are : Governor, Edmund J. Davis : Lieutenant Governor, J. W. Flanigan ; Controller, A. Bledsoe ; Treasurer, G. W. Honey; Land Office Commissioner, Jacob Kuechler. The members of Congress are: First District, G. W. Whitmore; Second District, J. C. Conner; Third District, Wm. T. Clarke; Fourth District. E. Degener. The Legislature will assemble at Austin to day.

- The N. Y. Herald presses the argument so frequently made, and which can not be answered, in regard to the Southern States being required to ratify the fifteenth amendment as a condition of restoration to the Union. As they could not be trusted to come in and then ratify it, they ratified first and then came in. They were, therefore, not in the Union when they acted on the constitution, or else they were never out of the Union. Either then, says the Herald, "all the reconstruction laws of Congress are invalid, or these Southern ratifications of the fifteenth amendment are invalid. If the States were in the Union there was no need to admit them, and if they were not in the Union they could not participate in making laws for States that are in." But the truth is, that in this whole matter of Reconstruction by Congress, the Constitution has been violated constantly, and persever-

- Over one million of skilled workmen are entirely out of employment in the United States, with constantly decreasing demand for laborers. What's to be done? It will not social infamy is reached. There is no lower do to build up an army of hungry, discontented men in this land. There is danger in that cloud. The path of safety lies in the defeat of the party, the legislation of which has but one effect, to make the rich man more to the storm. Her Jacksons and her Lees county, asking for the removal of Nathaniel on being carefully looked for he was not to be wealthy, and the poor, man more dependent did no dishonor to the courage of her revolute Harrison, Judge of the Seventh Judicial Cir- found. Mr. Carpenter, under a suspension of rules, where ignorance was representing intelligence presented the following letter from Judge Nat. To the Honorable House of Delegates of West Virginia: Grave charges affecting my judicial character have been preferred against me by your body, whether justly or injustly, whether prompted by considerations of public good, or private mulice, is for you to determine. In to my private character, except in necessary connection with my public duties, the Legislature, I presume, would not care to institute any inquiry. I was first appointed Judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit by Governor Boreman, on the 12th of July, 1865. In 1866 I was elected and commissioned as Judge of that Circuit for a term which expired on the 1st of January, 1869. In the Fall of 1868, under the new arrangement of Circuits, I was elected Judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit of West Virginia, to take effect from the 1st of January, 1869, which office I now hold .-As removal from office is the utmost penalty which the Legislature could inflict upon me, and as I cannot be removed from an office which I no longer hold, I respectfully submit that the charges preferred against me must necessarily be confined to my real or supposed delinquencies as Judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit of West Virginia, and that all beyond that is simply coram non judice. Into my public conduct as Judge of the Seventh Circuit, I shrink from no legitimate scrutiny, to which the Legislature may desire or think proper to subject me. Nor do I wish to be inderstood as objecting to any proper inquiry into my conduct as Judge of the Ninth Circuit, except upon the ground that it would be an idle expenditure of time and money to engage in the investigation of charges which, whether true or false, could not properly be drawn into the present issue.

Very respectfully, N. HARRISON. WHEELING, W. VA., 27th Jan., 1870. Adjourned.

VIRGINIA REPRESENTATIVES .- Mr. Booker, Representative in Congress from the fourth Virginia district, was admitted to his seat today. The Virginia delegation is now complete in both Houses, except Mr. Segar, who claims to represent the State at large. But in the opinion of the committee and of prominent members of Congress, Mr. Segar is entirely out of the field, as it is not believed that the State had authority to elect a representative at large. The committee will so report, and wilk then be discharged from the consideration of the whole subject. [Baltimore Sun.

- One of our "dead head" subscribers. who happened to be over in Charleston the other day, tells the following :-

A fellow representing a Boston bucket factor came ashore from a steamer, carrying abl at a dozen diminutive specimens of his me chandise, and taking the first street he car e to, offered them right and left. He hal not progressed far before a negro policeman arrested and carried him before a coalblack justice, charged with peddling without license. The sable magistrate not only fined him the cool sum of $100, but roundly lectured the man of buckets on his conduct .-He paid the fine and left the "court" and city in thorough disgust.

On the same day another drummer from New York, was arraigned before his sable insisted that he had made no sales. Whereupon the black digalty told him to prove that, but while hunting up his proof he must leave $50 by the way of bail. The drummer handed over the money, went out and brought in three or four merchants, who stated that he had sold nothing to them. After the witnesses got through, the following decision was "Dis court hab heard de prefixes and de conclusion to dis case, and decides dat de Yankee, hab left the case in doubt; and it bein de law to gib de State de benefit of de doubt, de court will keep de fifty dollars." These are facts .- Macon Telegraph:

Irritable Invalids. Indigestion not only affects the physical health, but the dispositions and tempers of its victims—The dyspeptic becomes, too, in a measure demoralized by his sufferings. He is subject to fits of irriation, sullenpess, or despair, as the case may be prefernatural sensitiveness which he cannot control, leads him to misconstrue the words and acts troi, leads him to misconstrue the words and acts those around him, and his intercourse even with those nearest and dearest to him is not unfrequently marked by exhibitions of testiness foreign to his real nature. These are the mental phenomena of the disease, for which the invalid cannot be justly held responsible, but they occasion much household discomfort. It is to the interest of the home circle, it comfort. It is to the interest of the home circle, it is essential to family harmony as well as to the recue of the principal sufferer from a state not lar removed from incipient insanity, that these symptoms of mental disturbance be promptly removed. This can only be done by removing their physical cause, a derangement of the functions of the atomach and its allied viscera, the liver and the bowels. ach and its allied viscera, the liver and the bowels. Upon these three important organs Hostetter's Stomach Bitters act simultaneously, producing a thorough and salutary change in their condition. The vegetable ingredients of which the preparation is composed are of a renovating, regulating and elterative character and the etimulent which lends activity to their remedial virtues is the purest and best that can be extracted from the most wholesome of all cereals, viz: sound rye. No dyspeptic can take this genial restorative for a single week without experiencing a notable improvement in his general health. Not only will his bodily sufferings abate from day to day, but his mind will recover rapidly from its restlessness and irritability, and rapidly from its restlessness and irritability, and this happy change will manifest itself in his demeanor to all around him.

DEATH OF A TYPO .- We are pained to learn of the death of Mr. Edward Byrnes, which occurred at his residence in Baltimore. on Friday afternoon, January 28th. Mr. Byrnes served his apprenticeship in this office a few years ago, and was known and esteemed by many in our community. His remains were interred in Baltimore Cemetery, and his funeral was largely attended by the members of Marley Lodge of Odd Fellows, the members of the Typographical Union, and a number of personal friends. He served throughout the fate war in the Confederate army, was married less than a year ago, and at the time of his death was a compositor in the Sun office. Ned was a good young man, and enjoyed the warm friendship of a large circle of acquaintances during his residence here, especially among his typographical brethren .-Peace to his ashes!

MYSTIC SCIENCE.-Whitney, one of the most renowned and accomplished magical performers of the day, is now in our midst, and will give one of his entertainments. in Lee Hall, this evening. He is an old experienced artist, having arrived to, it is said, an astonishing degree of proficiency in his curious and fascinating art. Besides necromantic feats, he periornis numerous scientific experiments of a most wonderful and interesting character, the country. This is a good move, and to over the civilized world. See his advertisement in another column.

MINERALS DISCOVERED .- We learn from the last Warren Sentinel that Mr. Wm. D. Timberlake, who resides near Milldale, discovered in his field near the Shenandoah river, what premises to be a valuable paint mine. The paints, from pure white, combine in separate quantities all the different colors, and seem to have all the consistency of paint, free from grit, similar to that, in all respects, usually for sale. Lead and iron cre have also been found in the same vicinity.

JEFFERSON LAND .- According to the Auditor's report, the average value of land in Jefferson is $27.28 per acre, in Berkeley, $18.30, and in Morgan, $3.30; the average value of our county being over double that of Berkeley, and more than eleven times that of Morgan. This is an item for our Pennsylvania capitalists to consider in the extension of the Cumberland Valley Railroad.

THE WEATHER .- The memory of the 'oldest inhabitant' does not revert to a period when, for such a lenght of time, at the same season of the year, there has been such amild, genial and agreeable spell of weather, as we have enjoyed, almost without interruption, for the last month. Indeed, it is alost like springtime, and what is most remarkable, almost the entire civilized world seems to be enjoying a similar season.

MR. EDITOR:—In your last paper you state that G. G. Baker, Superintendent of Public Schools, in this county, has removed two of the school commissioners, Messrs: Myers and Johnson, who were duly appointed, and had substituted for them two others, Messrs. Leisenring and Simpson. You give as a reason for this removal, that the old board had dismissed the teacher of the "Fleetwood". school, (I suppose for good cause.) It does not appear that these gentleman transcended their duty or went outside of what was their right in the premises. But the question comes up, has the Superintendent the authority thus to act? The commissioners certainly do not hold office from him; rather from the people, being elected thereto. Is it not, to say the least of it, a stretch of power for an under-strapper to come along and interfere with those who are his peers, and who are not at all responsible to him. The law regulating the public schools defines the duties of the Superintendent, but I think it would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to point out the right of a Superintendent to expel-commissioner But, sir; you fail to tell us who this G. G. Baker is. For the good of the public we will supply this lack on your part. He is at present a resident of Harper's Ferry and belongs to the clerical profession, and you do him injustice when you withhold his affix of 'Rev.' He hails from Massachusetts, the gar of the universe, where all true m and blessed reform originate; the the Sumners, Philips', et id genus on is an accident of the great big war that was made upon the South, and in one of its upheavals let down in these parts. He is a representative of that monster politico ecclesiastical church, the Northern Methodist; and true to the spirit and practice of the same, and the instincts of the people from whom he came, he connects a quasi political office with the sacred one of minister of the gospel .-Such is this modern Cæsar who puts' in and out as he pleases. SUPERVISORS' COURT .- The Board of Su pervisors met in Shepherdstown on Tuesday last, and from their proceedings we make the following extracts :-

John W. Taylor having received a certificate of election, as supervisor of Gran township, qualified and took his seat.

Pursuant to an order issued by Hon. Jos. A. Chapline, Judge of this Circuit, in the matter of Gideon Leisenring vs. the Board of Supervisors of Jefferson county, the following resolution was offered : Gideon Leisenring by his attorney, Thos. Van Swearingen, moves the Board of Supervisors to re consider its action declaring Samuel Ridenour Justice of the peace of Grant township, in the county of Jefferson, and in lieu thereof, declare Gideon Leisenring the legally elected Justice of the peace, for said township of Grant, for and that a certificate of election be awarded the said Gideon Leisenring to the said office of Justice of the peace for said township of

On motion it was ordered that E. J. Williams the late clerk of Grant township be required to turn over all books and papers to Jacob Liesenring his successor. On motion the Board adjourned to meet on Wednesday following the third Monday in February, 1870. [For the Spirit of Jefferson.] Mr. Editor :- I notice a recommendation by a committee of the Congressional Temperance Society. of Washington city, that the coming 22d of February be observed by the various Temperance organizations throughout which have been witnessed by thousands all our pleasant surprise, indicates that "something good can come out of Nazareth." A day which is the natal one of a glorious man, can be well associated with so glorious a cause as that of Temperance. It is to be hoped that the Temperance organizations of our town will respond to this, and devise means to celebrate the day in so hallowed a way. -Let us have a procession, speech, etc.

DRESSMAKING. There are many ladies who would dresses, but for the difficulty in cutting and fitting them properly—the ordinary charts being very high priced, and at the same time, so complicated as to be available only to professional dressmakers, after long practice. An eminent mediate of Paris has recently issued "THE UNIVERSAL GUIDE IN DRESS-MAKING," which overcomes this difficulty entirely. It contains a superior mode of measuring, perfectly exact, yet so easy that it can be applied by any one -in itself worth more than the price of the whole work. Also a complete scale of patters,s for all sizes. from the largest adult to the smallest child. Together with printed Rules and Explanations, by means of which any lady can make her own and her children's dresses in the best style. To dressmakers it is invaluable. AGENTS WANTED FOR HOW TO MAKE THE FARM PAY. By C. W. DICKERMAN, Hon. CHARLES L. FLINT

NEARLY 800 pages on fine Calendered Paper made expressly for this work, from new clear and open type, and will be illustrated with 140 Fins Engravings by Sartain and others. Also, a splendid colored fruit-piece, containing eighteen specimens of the choicest American fruits, colored, from

In English and German. THIS BOOK is a sure, safe and practical guide to every Farmer, Stock Raiser, Gardener and Fruit Culturist. By it they can double their profits each year, and greatly increase the value of their land. It makes the poor man rich. It makes hard work easier. It rewards the labor of hourst working men. It is purchased by almost every one at sight. Nearly 600 copies sold in a few small townships, and, in many cases, hundreds in a single to waship. Agents can find no better work during the fall and winter Farmers and their sons can each make $100 per month by selling only three or four copies per day, while more than double that number can easily be sold. Farmers always make the most successful agents for this book, and during the Fa!l and Winter it is just the thing for them. If you wish to engage is the business, send for circular containing a full description of the book and terms to agents.

HUMOROUS.

Curiosity Rewarded.

A well known citizen of Hartford, Conn. a lew days ago had taken his seat in the afternoon train for Providence, when a small weazen-faced, elderly man, having the appearance of a well-to-do farmer, came into the car looking for a seat. The gentleman good naturedly made room for him by his side. and the old man looked him over from head to foot.

"Going to Providence," he said at length. "No, sir," the stranger said, politely, "I stop at Andover."

"I want to know! I belong out that way myself? Expect to stay long?" "Only over night, sir."

A short pause. "Did you cal'late to put up at the tavern?" "No, sir; I expect to stop with Mr. Skinner." "What, Job Skinner's? Deacon Joblives in a little brown house on the old pike? Or mebbe it's his brother's? Was it Tim Skinner's - Squire Tim's - where you was

"Yes," said the gentleman, smiling, "it was Equire 11m s. "Dew tell if you are goin' there to stop over night! Any connection of his'n ?" "No. sir."

"Well now, that's curus! The old man ain't got into any trouble nor nothin', has he?" lowering his voice; "ain't goin' to serve a writ onto him, be ye?" "Oh, no; nothing of the kind."

"Glad on't. No harm in askin', I s'pose. I reckon Miss Skinner's some connection of yourn ?"

"No," said the gentleman. Then, seeing the amused expression on the faces of two or three acquaintances in the neighboring seats, he added, in a confidential tone : "I am going to see 'Squire Skinner's daughter.'

"Law sakes !" said the old man, his face quivering with curiosity. Tuat's it, is it ! I want to know! Goin' to see Mirandy Skinner, be ve? Well, Mirandy is a nice galkinder hombly, and long favored, but smart to work, they say, and I guess you're about the right age for her, too. Kep' company together long ?"

"I never saw her in my life, sir." "How you talk! Somebody's gin her a recommend, I s'pose, and you're goin' clear out there to take a squipt at her. Wa'll, I must say there's as likely gals in Andover as Miraddy Skinner. I've got a family of growed up darters myself. Never was married afore, was ye!? Don't see no weed on your hat." "I have been married about fifteen years.

sir. I have a wife and five children." And then, as the long-restrained mirth of the listeners to this dialogue burst forth at the old man's open mouthed astonishment, he hastened to explain: "I am a doctor, my friend, and Squire Skinner called at my office this morning to request my professional services for his sick daughter." "Wa'll now!" And the old bore waddled off into next car.

The Boy of the Period.

The New Orleans Picambae of a recent date, has the following: A lady walking along Canal street yesterday evening, was attracted by the bright eyes and blonde curls of a little urchin seated on the curb stone .-She approached, and asked him if he was a newsboy.

"No, Mam, I ain't nothing." "Have you no home?"

"No." "Wouldn't you like to have one?"

"You bet." "You should not speak so idly, my son -But come, how would you like me for a mo-"The little fellow scanned her from head to foot for a moment, and then inquired: "Would you whip me?". "Not unless you are bad."

"Let me go bare footed?" ".No."

"Play hoss?" "No "Pull the cat's tail?"

"Lick the puddin' dish?" "No." "Cuss ?"

"No." "Chaw tobacco?" "No." "Smoke?"

"No." "Then go along with you; you don't know anything. I reckon next you'd say a feller shouldn't cross his legs and sing 'come along Josey." And the little fellow's face glowed with a sense of ineffable contempt. - A song that is just now very popular in - the London Music Halls has the unusual feature of funniness in the idea. The chorus raus thus :

I saw Esau kissing Kate, And the fact is we all three saw; For I saw Esau, he saw inc, And she saw I saw Esau.

- Pronch's "He smiles a ghastly smile" and "Many a wink he wunk" have been imitated by a minstrel wit, who said, "You speczed a spooze and said I spoze it."

-J. E. Schmidt, of Vienna, has completed his atlas on the moon. He has been at it thirty years.

- Better be upright with poverty, than unprincipled with plenty.

To the Public.

HAVING purchased available tract of timber land, and located a Saw-Mill upon it with a capacity of sawing forty thousand feet of Lumber weekly, I will be prepared to furnish nearly EVERY VARIETY OF LUMBER. Such as Pine Plank, Joists, Rafters, Studding, Plastering Lath, Chestnut Palings, Oak Fencing Plank, &c. Lumber will be kept constantly on hand at the Mill, 14 miles above Kearsley & Sheerer's Planing Mill, on the Shenandeah river, and at Jas. Law. Hooff's Lumber yard at Charlestown.

Persons contemplating building will promote their interests by calling upon the subscriber in person, or Jas. Law. Hooff, before going elsewhere.

GEO. W. EICHELBERGER. August 11, 1869-1y. MAKE A NOTE OF THIS!

WITH the beginning of the new year, 1870, it VV order to carry on our business, necessity com-pels us to adopt new rules. We shall hereafter do work for regular and prompt customers payable at the end of each month, when payment will be demanded; transient custom to be paid on delivery of the work. These rules will be strictly adhered to, and we hope that no offence will be taken by any one. WEIRICK & WELLER. January 4, 1870.
