less collision about facts, than about the motives and views that led to the facts.

Upon the matter thus presented to the Chancellor, the parties were referred to a Master, before whom all the facts considered material in the cause were to be made manifest.—In glancing over nearly a thousand pages of evidence taken before the Master, we gather that the principal points endeavored to be maintained by the parties, were:

By the Orthodox—Their belief as set forth in the answer and original bill of Hendrick son—its identity with the belief of early Friends—the spurious character of the Hickster ite doctrines, and their repugnance to those ontertained by early Friends—that the separation of the Society grew out of an attempt to spread these spurious sentiments on the one hand, and to suppress them on the other—and that the Hicksites were unsound, and onlike ancient Friends in belief, and seceders by their own acts. That the Society of Friends were never in their meetings, governed by the voice of the majority, but by the sense of the meeting gathered by the clerk.

Peleg Bissel—(you know Pe-leg, who is all the while whitlin, and sawin, and makin clecks, and apple parers, and churns, and lives nigh Seth Sprague's School House, down to Downingville,) well, Peleg sent the Gineral a new churn the Gineral, that are churn is jest like His Government—its only got one wheel, and a smasher; and that it will make more butter than any other churn, and out of any most any thing. The Gineral is so pleased with it, he will act and turn it near the coat of pleased with it, he will set and turn it nearly all day. Says he, 'Major, I like this ere churn amszingly, that Rissel is a knowing fellow. If that churn had been made ing fellow. If that churn had been made by Congress, it would have more than 50 and then he kinder calmed oph like, and

And so I did; and I tell'd him in the letter, that the Gineral would keep his churn in the hall of the White House, to let folks see that it did'nt require as many cog wheels to make butter, as they think on, and then when they come up chamber, in the Cabinet Reom, and find only me and the President, they'll understand it the better. When the Gineral come to sign this letter, 'well,' says he, 'Major, that's just what I was thinking on. We get every day, an everlasting batch of letters from Mr. Van Buren and Amos Kin dle, and they are so plagy jagged, that we cant make 'em fit exactly with some others, eny most as jagged, from the South and West, and all from our folks too—and mind and make the skrift short email and mind and make the skrift short email. A Fact.—A gentleman, formerly of Vermont, but now living in the State of New York, having been in poor health for about two years past, repaired to the Richfield (N. Y.) Springs. Improved Rail-Way.—We have been favored with the sight of the model of a new mode of rail-way conveyance, which, if brought into use, will present extraordinary advantages to the public. It is on the principle of the Sazton locometive pulley, and according to the calculations of the projecter, who is an angineer of some celebrity, the average rate of travelling will be nearly thirty miles an hour on a light rail-way laid upon the ordinary row road, without requiring the least expenditure for levelling, so that the cost per mile, instead of being £20,000, as it is on the rail-way low in use, will be only £5,000. Whenever your schemes are not matured, awear by "all the gods and little fishes" that you are not for "any particular candidate at this time." In the meanwhile, throw is all the compliments you can find to the Kinderhook statesman, (just by way of defence,) until the "Jackson Republican Democratic" presses of Pennsylvania mature another "Grand National Convention," in which the "little magicians" friends alone are to appear. But above all things, do not force the Editor of the Enquirer to "stand the hazard of the die," before he ascertains the exact political temper of the next Legislature.— After that, throw up your hats as high as he does in praise of the most popular man in Virginia, if you can.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1933.

The Richmond Enquirer has again sent forth signs of distress at the "premature agitation" of the "question of the mecessing" and bewalls most pitcously the degeneracy of the opposition prints, in pressing the matter upon such pacific and gentle souls as the "President's friends."

Now, really, if every reader of the Enquirer did not at once perceive the object of this ridiculous cant, it might be worth the crouble to expose it. But every note is turned up in scorn or contempt at such filmsy and palpable hypocrisy. "Our duty in this situation (quoth the editor) seems to be traced with a pencil of light. (!?) NEW FIRM.

DAVID H. SNYDER and WM. CLEVE-LAND having taken Mr. Daniel Snyder's Ford Mill, on the Shenandosh river, for the purpose of carrying on the milling buffness, have the pleasure of informing the old customers of that establishment, as we'll as the public generally, that the mill is at this time undergoing a complete repair; and to its former capacity, they will ad all times snable them to furnish flour for the jargest crops of wheat at a few days notice.

From the experience of D. H. Snyder in the milling business, and an earnest desire on the part of each to give satisfaction, they hope to merit a large share of the grinding custom of the county. From all those who may prefer selling their crops, they earnessty request a call, as they expect constantly to be in the market, at the highest market price in cash. The style of the firm will be

A CARD.

In retiring from the Ford Mill, the undersigned would feel guilty of ingratitude, were he to refrain from making his heart-felt acknowledgments for the manifold favors received of his friends and the public. His chief aim was to reciprocate the benefits conferred; and in entering, into a more private life, he feels the cheering consolation that his efforts were not entirely vain. Though it was his pride and pleasure to do justice to all, yet if he fell short of his purpose, it was more from want of ability than disposition.

Actuated by sentiments of unextinguishable gratitude, he will still feel himself bound to make additional efforts to serve his friends and former customers; and in recommending to their patronage the present occupiers of the mill, he does so with the conviction that the business will be conducted quite as well as heretofore, and with the pledge that he will most cheerfully give them the benefit of his advice and experience: A hetping hand ahall be readily extended, if needed; and an anxiety ever felt to make some further return for the numerous acts of kindness which have rendered him the public's obliged and grateful, servant.

TO THE FARMERS

THE undersigned have taken, for a term of years, Mr. Beckham's well-known Merchant Mill, on the Island near Harpers-Ferry, which is now undergoing sundry repairs. They will give one barrel of Flour for every 300 pounds of good merchantable Wheat, and will stand the inspection in any of the Eastern markets. They will be able, from the roost condition of their inspection in any of the Eastern markets. They will be able, from the good condition of their mill, and from their experience in the business, to render the most perfect satisfaction to their customers; and they are determined not to be excelled by any millers in the country.

They will give the highest price, in cash, for good merchantable Wheat, delivered in their mill.
