The parallel consists in this: the Administration, eager to pounce upon the banks, invite them from their strong Mr. Biddle cautiously stretching his neck over the cotton bags, and ooking to Maine, New York, Connecticut, and the coming Virginia election, replies: "Stay, gentlemen; let us await the approach of you victorious multitude, who are somewhat interested in this affair." On Saturday the Jury returned a verdict of guilty against Josiah Dun-ham, jr. for perjury in wilfully swearing to a false return as Cachier of Lafavette Bank. The Jury retired at 5 o'clock on Friday evening and were together six hours. The verdict surprised many persons, who knew the intrinsic difficulties in the case and witnessed the very able effort and management of his talented Counsel; but this result was expected by others, who made up their opinions upon the evidence (not as reported but) as exhibited in Court .- Mr. Dunham will appeal to the Supreme Court after sentence. The State punishment of this offence is imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding twenty years.
