MISSIBLE ANTE. MARCOLINI.

A TALE OF VENICE.

It was midnight; the great clock had struck, and was still echoing through evey porch and gallery in the quarter of St. Mark, when a young citizen, wrapped in a cloak, was hastening home from an interview with his mistress. had just consented to their marriage, and the very day was named: "Loxely Guihe cried, "and shall I call thee letta!" thy Marcolini?" But as he spoke, he stopped; for something was glittering on the pavement before him. It was a scaobard of rich workmanship; and the discovery,

He turned by the church of St. Geminiano, and in three steps he met the watch. A murder had been committed. The Senator Renalid had been found dead at his door, the dagger left in his heart! and the unfortunate Marcolini was dragged away for examination. The place, the time, every thing served to excite, to justify suspicion; and no sooner had he entered the guard-house than evidence appeared against him. The brave in his light, had thrown away his scabbard-

Great was the lamentation throughout the city, and the judge dying, directed that henceforth and forever, a mars should be sung every night in the ducal church, for his own soul and for the soul of Marcolini, and the souls of all those who had suffered by an unjust judgment. Some land on the Brenta was left by him for that purpose, and still is the mass sung in the chapel; still, every night, the great square is illuminated, and the casinos are filling fast with the gay and the dissipated, a bell is rung as for service, and a gothic window that looks towards the little value, if Mr. Hovr could perform place of execution, the place where, on

We javite the particular attention of the of Jefferson to the following Card from ars. Wonrussoros and Baken. It must be regretted, we are sure, by every genuine Whig. at the present important crisis in the political affairs of our State and the country, that the seeds of dissention should be sown to any extent in the Whig ranks of Jefferson. Amongst many important dunes of the next Legisla ture, will be the election of U. S. Senator, and a Governor. And can there be a single Whig in our county who feels indifferent as to the result? This is no time to be contending about shadows the great interests of the country are at stake; and it behooves every patriot to adopt the motto: "Every thing for the Cause, and nothing for Men. We hope every friend of the several candidates will come forward to the meeting on Monday with this sentiment uppermost, and we have the surest guarantee that the conflicting claims of men will be satisfactorily reconciled, and the dark clouds which now lower o'er the prospof the Whigs for the approaching election, be driven beyond the bounds of the "garden spot of Virginia." It must be admitted that the Whigs of Jefferson cannot elect four delegates and will they throw away the certainty of electing free impossibility? Let them not dream that the Van Buren-party will not take advantage of the present divisier a der ranks, or fail to pre who were thus all a supposed the repersion of the particles and such circumstants.

They sleep only to rise up with fresh victor when the ranks of their opponents are in confusion and when too late for a regular marshalling of the forces of the enemy. 'Divide and conquer,' is a favorite mode of warfale. And they are now are placed by a double set of candidates, and and concert of action be preserved in the Whig ranks, victory will as surely result to the one party, as defeat and disgrace to the other.

The Legislature of Nova Scotia met on the 20th, on the receipt of the news from the borders, and voted a sum of one hundred thousand pounds to be at the disposal of the Governor to raise men to go to the aid of New Brunswick, and eight thousand men were to be raised immediately.—The grave Legislative Council regards the doings of Maine with the "deepest indignation," and Sir Colin Campbell, 11-2 Governor, has great pleasure in laying the sentiments so hottorable "at the foot of the throne."

The resolutions of the Assembly of Nova Scotia, which it appears passed that body unanimously and followed with "loud cheers," assert that "exclusive possession and jurisdiction" of the territory in distute, "have ever been in Great Britain,"—that "by agreement between the Imperial Government and that of the U. Staies, Great Britain is to remain in such exclusive possession and jurisdiction, until the right thereto shall be determined"—and that "with humble, reliance upon Divine Providence the thereto shall be determined!—and that "with humble reliance upon Divine Providence, the People of Nova Scotia will, to the utmost of their power and ability, aid in resisting every attempt to take forcible possession of a Territory, the safe-keeping whereof have been entrusted to them by their Sovereign, until she shall have commanded them to sorrender it."

Capt. Boston was appointed Chairman, and Robert Currin Secretary. Mr. James W. It is a leading object in this Institution to bring the pupils under a wholesome moral influ-ence. By enlightening the conscience and informing the mind of the various relative and positive duties of life, it is hoped, by Divine aid, to improve the heart and fit the scholar for the consistent discharge of her obligations, as a so-cial and moral being. The fliple, as affirding the only safe standard of morality, is duly conen ted. A portion of the Sabbath is devoted to the study of its truths, and their arrangement according to an acknowledged orthodox cateabisms. Thus, while the pupil is exhorted to acquire the utmost accuracy and highest attainnts in scholarship, she is also taught the importance of moral excellence and genuine soli-dity of character, without which learning be-comes the handmaid of vice.

The Institution may now be considered firmly established. The very liberal encouragement it has received since it first opened, has given confidence in its success and induce the Princioil to obtain the most efficient assistance and toprovide, at very considerable expense, every CLEFFR, with the entire control of him, and facility for illustrating the subjects of study.—

THE immense and increasing popularity of these Pilis, is another proof of the infallibility of the aid adage, that "truth is powerful and will prevait." Other pills are only putted, but Dr. Paters' are purchased and pressed and recommended until the demand for them has become almost universel.

Dr. Peters would impress this fact upon the public, that his Pills are not a quack medicine, but a scientific compound of simples, which has been the result of many years tokense application to a profession in which he was regularly bred, and hence it is as popular with the regular feculty as with the people at large.

One of the many peouliar virtues of the Vegatable Pilis is, that while very powerful in their effects they are particularly mind and genited their action. Unlike the generality of medicines, their application is never attended with mause or griping.

Peters' Vegatable Pills are now rewarded by he has no superior as a cross for our American mares, being of a family delebrated both for its speed and its game, and combining the best blood of all England—as Prunella, from whom are descended Wary Pope, Whalebone, Whiskey, and ahost of others; young Gisnies, from whom came Prism and Muley; and from Seling the aire of Sultan, now covering at $250) own brother to Reubens, the grand size of Camarine, and Castrel, (grand sire of Queen of Trumps running back to Matchem's grand dam. He is true, that cathertic and operion medicines are often required, but the nicest discrimination should always be observed in the selection, and if this be done nothing injurious can result from their use.

To produce this much desired result, Dr. Paters has made it his study for several years and feels proud to say he has at length succeeded, far beyond his expectations.
