EXFRACT OF A LETTER FROM

Thomas Jefferson to La Fayette, Executive.

"Who is to be the next President, is the topic here of every conversation. My opinion on that subject is what I expressed to you in my last letter. The question will be ultimately reduced to the northernmost and sourthernmost candidates. The former will get every federal vote careful to say nothing of the acts of their favor-ite. Where are the evidences of his superior the victory of Orleans, the peace of Ghent, pros-Cote Gauche, Ultras and Radicals, Serviles and Liberals. The sickly, weakly, timid man, fears the people, and is a tory by nature. The healthy, other duties as fiscal agents of the Government, strong and hold, cherishes them, and is formed which may be imposed by this or any other acts In reply to numerous inquiries in reference to a Whig by nature. The people of the north went blindfold into the snare, followed their leaders for, a while with a zeal truly moral and laudable, and they became sensible that they were injuring instead of aiding the real interests of the slaves, that they had been used merely as tools for election cering purposes, and that trick of hypography theological as quickly, as it, had been got up. For they are followed therefore, as frequently as they may be directed, (sec. 9;) but meanwhile, it is made lawful for the Secretary of the Treasury they had been used merely as tools for election the same succeeding a distribution, which had been so that they had been and succeeding a distribution, which had been and so large the same are in the that of republican and federal, or while and too. Mr. C. said that, on the most attentive and anxious consideration which he had given to the subject, he had been able to discover but one possible object in this peculiar enactment. He inferred the object of it from its effect. In the words of his object of it from its effect. In the words of his amendment, it was "to enable the public money to be drawn from the Treasury without appro-priations thereof made by law." Ir gave to the President power to crade that clause of the Con-President power to crade that clause of the Constitution which provides that "No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law." That vital part of the Constitution is multified by this bill. Henceforth, the absolute control of the public money is left to the discretion of the President, through the officers of the Treasury.

From the Sidney (S. W.) Herald, March 13, 1840. Discovery or the Antaberic Continent.

Amongst the arrivals to be found on our shipping list of this day is that of the United States ship Vincennes, under the command of Charles Wilkes, Esq. The Vincennes has been absent from this port almost eighty days, most of tion; and we are happy to have it in our pow-er to announce, on the highest authority, that the researches of the exploring squadron after a southern continent have been completely successful. The land was first seen on the morning of the 19th of January in Istitude 64 degrees 20 minutes south, longitude 154 degrees utes east.

The Peacock, (which ship arrived in our har-ber on the 22d ull, much disabled from her contact with the ice,) we learn, obtained soundings in a high southern latitude, and established beyond doubt the existence of land in that direction. But the Vincennes, more fortunate in escaping injury, completed the directory, and ran down the coast from 154 degrees 18 minutes for 57 degrees. 45 minutes east fongitude the labe, often so near 2s, to get sounding; with a few fathoms of fine, during which time she was constantly surrounded by ice islands and ergs, and experienced many heavy gales of wind, exposing her constantly to shipwreck. We also understand that she brought several ecimens of rock and earth procured from the

VARIETY.

THE WIFE .- Woman's love, like the rose blooming in the arid desert, spreads its ray-over the barren plain of the human heart, and while all around it is blank and desolate, it rises more strengthened from the absence of every other charm. In no situation does the love of woman appear more beautiful than in that of wife: parents, brethren and friends, have claims wife: parents, brethren and friends, have claims upon the affections, but the love of a wife is of a distinct and different nature. A daughter may yield her life to the preservation of a parent, a sister may devote herself to a suffering brother, but the feelings which induce her to this conduct, are not such as those which lead a wife to follow the husband of her choice through every pain and peril that can befal him, to watch over him in danger, to cheer him in in danger, to cheer him in adversity, and eret remain unaltered at his side, in the depths of ig nomicy and shame. It is an hereic devotion which a woman displays in her adherence to the fortunes of a hopeless husband; when we behold prized for the extreme joy which that presence we can scarcely credit that the fragile being who seems to hold existence by a thread, is expable of supporting the extreme of human sufferior; nay, when the heart of man sinks beneath the weight of agony, that she should retain her printine powers of delight, and by her words of com fort and nationee, lead the distracted muraute to peace and resignation.

Must profits by connection with the world, but woman never; their constituents of mind are different,—the principles of shought and action are moulded variously, and where the characte of man is digitified and ennobled, that of woman becomes reduced and degraded.—The one is raised and exalted by mingled associations, the

Apr. Jayne Dear Sir I have been using your Expectorant, extensively, in my practice, for the last three months, and for all attacks of colds, indammation of the lungs, consumption, astima, pair and waskness of the breast, it is decidedly the best medically the best medically and the second process.

Extract of a Certificate from the Hev. Dr. Baheock, late President of Waterville College, Maine:

"From infimate personal sequaintance with Dr. D. Jayne, a regular student of the Medical University of Pennsylvania, and an experienced, successful practitioner of medicine, I was prepared to appreciate the numerous testimonials in favor of histifferent medical preparations, mach more lightly than the great majority of those which are extensively enlogised. On trial of them in my own family, and some of them personally, I have more than realized their favorable anticipations. They are what they profess to be—unit quark more than realized their favorable anticipations.

New York, June 15, 1839.

To Dr. Jarne—Dear Sir—I have made use of your Expectorant, personally and in my family, for the last six years with great benefit. Indeed, I may consider my life prolonged by the use of this valuable medicine, under the blessings of God, for several years.—I may say almost as much in the case of my wife, and, also of the Rev. Mr. Tinson, of the Island of Jamaica. For all cases of cough, inflammation of the chest, lungs, and throat, I do most unhesitatingly recommend this as the best medidine. I have ever tried.—My carnest wish is, that others affirmed as I have been mass experience who same relief, which I am persuaded they will, by using your Expectorant.

extract of a certificate from the Dr. JAYNE-Dear Sir-My child, owing to'ex-Dr. Jayre-Dear Sie-My child, owing to exposure, when recently coming up the Ohio, was attacked by that horrible malady, CROUP. We landed in the night at Beaver Point, and when our fears were alarmed, least the hourse, sepulebrai cough was the forerunner of death, we gave him a traspoonful of the "Expectorant," is bottle of which you presented me with when in Philadelphin and applied some liminent to the throat and breast, and before many minutes the hourseness was gone, the child breathed freely and slept sweetly. Owing to these circumstances it cannot be wondered at why I have so high an opinion of Dr. Jayne's medicine, and why Talvise every family to keep it on hand, ready for any emergency.

Respectfully, yours.

ARTHUR B. BRADFORD.
