I HEAR THY VOICE, O SPRING!

From the President's Journal.

I hear thy voice, O Spring!

It sounds like voices from the air,

Winning my soul with their wild ravishing.

From Earth's heart-wearing care.

Dearly sweet thy song,

But yet methinks as soft the groves I pass,

Low sighs on violets wings are borne along,

Tears from the springing grass.

For where are they, the young,

The loved, the beautiful who sing thy voice?

A year ago along those valleys sung,

Did hear thee and rejoice!

There comes for them a tear,

Now more they'll grieve than in thy groves rough;

Calmly they sleep beneath the murmuring main;

Or moulder in the ground.

Yesternight, my spirit—

Wishes me to know,

To heaven music how their souls thrill,

Where balmy breezes blow.

From them both came a piping,

Whose diverse perennial dells a hundred—

Whose music in the song that Sepulchre sings,

Whose light, the smile of God!

Meets—Barrett.—The following song, taken from the "Dog Cabin," published at Cleveland, Ohio, and republished in the "Baltimore Pilot," is sent to you with a request that you will give it a place in your paper. By complying with this request you will confer a favor!

Several Log-Cabin Boys.

An Invitation to the Log-Cabin Boys, to OLD TIPPECANOE'S CABIN.

TUNE.—The good old days of Adam and Eve.

Come, boys, let us have a good time, go to have a raise;

We've got a job on hand, that we think will be pleasant;

We'll have a hard Old Tip, a new cabin,

And finish it off with chinkin' and danbin'.

We'll call all the log-cabin boys in the nation,

To be on the ground when we lay the foundation;

And we'll make all the office-holders think it's smashin'.

To see how we work at Old Tippicanoe's cabin.

On the thirtieth day of next October,

We'll take some hard cider, but we'll all keep

Well our banner on;

And have our cabin done by the second of December;

We'll have it well clinched, and we'll have on the cover;

Of good sound clapboards, with the weight rules,

And a good set of windows for the fire to blow in;

So come on, boys, to Old Tippicanoe's cabin!

Ohio will find the house for him,

And we'll have it all the same;

Will find that there's not the clamor,

For their Conestoga teams will pull as well as we;

And the Yankees' State and York State, and all of the others;

Will come and help us life like so many brothers;

The Hounds and the Suckers, and the Wolverine,

They all know the right way to carry up the cannoneers;

And every's a good enough carpenter and mason;

We'll have a good old Tip, and he'll be a good master;

And the dogs will bark at the Tippecanoe's cabin;

We'll call all the windows and have a wide door;

We'll lay a good, fat, and a fair floor down;

Well fit it all complete, for Old Tip, to see his friends in;

It's a hurrah boys, there's no two ways in,

The fun we'll have at Old Tippicanoe's cabin!

A Small Jefferson Farm FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale the small Farm that belongs to the heirs of William McEndree, deceased, in the county of Jefferson, situated on the west bank of the Shenandoah River, extending from the village of Jefferson to the village of Luray, between John L. Lewis and James Hoyer, containing about

50 ACRES OF LAND.

More than one-half of which is well clothed in timber—the balance cleared and in cultivation, improved on a farm basis, a little at a time, and very well kept. There are a dwelling House, Kitchen, Smoke House, Barn, Stable, and out-buildings, previously mentioned, together with a number of outbuildings, including two or three small houses, a large stone Distillery, with Dwelling House attached to it, and two fine never-falling Springs, within thirty yards of the dwelling, one of which supplies the water for the village, through one of the finest wheat growing sections in the counties of Clarke and Jefferson. The terms of sale will be made easy to any one disposed to purchase. Application may be made to the subscriber, Mr. John H. McEndree, who resides in Shepherdstown, Jefferson County, Virginia. JOHN H. MCENDREE, Nov. 14, 1840.

TWO VALUABLE FARMS IN THE SALMOS.

I WILL SELL, at a private sale, on responsible terms, two farms in Berkeley county, on the road leading from Martinsburg to Williamsport, formerly belonging to Mr. Daniel Clegg, Esq., and now by Douglas Campbell, Esq., my tenants. This Farm is too well known to require any description—it contains about 200 Acres—the greater part of it consists of good land, timber, and stone, and the proportion of timber subject.

I will also dispose of the STONE-HOUSE FARM, now occupied by Benjamin Boley, lying partly in Jefferson and partly in Berkeley counties. This Farm contains about of a fine quality, I may say of this tract of land, that there are few in this section of country that offer higher inducements to a judicious purchaser. The price of $10,000 per acre, will make it a highly desirable purchase on the terms on which I will dispose of it.

1,000 Acres of LAND,

Those wishing to purchase can apply to me, by letter or in person, in Richmond; or at my residence in Jefferson county, when I am there; or they can apply to my son, Beverly Tucker, who resides at Woodbury, Jefferson County, Va.

H. S. G. TUCKER.
