The Washington correspondent of the Naw York American thus speaks of the Chagress whose public labours have just ce used : The Whis Congress is remarkable for many pecaliar circumstances distinct and apart from pecaliar circumstances distinct and apart from pecaliar circumstances distinct and apart from aliar, circumstaners distinct and apart from tical characteristics or sets. It has now been is netual session more than one year and a quar-ter, being now in the sixteenth month of its le-gislative labors.' weive mocthe. This has set more months, more resignation, lost more by death, than any prehave lost their wives by death during this Congress. Nine have married since their election .--Twelve or more have lost their children by death during that time. Seven Senators and theelve Representatives have resigned. Of the twelve Representatives so resigning, three have been relected to the same seats in this same Congress. Of the more distinguished men in this Twenty.

Beventh Congress, one has been President and Use of Piano one Vice President of the United States; two Drawing, and Painting, Mezzohave been Secretaries of State, one Secretary of the Treasury, one Secretary of War, one Secretary of the Navy, one Postmaster General, txo Attorneys General, four Ministers Plenipotentia ry, two Speakers of former Houses of Kepresentatives, fifteen Governors and Lieutenant Governors of States and Territories. Six more. have been the candidates of their parties for Governors of States. Three have been unsuccess-fal candidates for the Presidency. Three are avery exertion is made to render the sciences innow avowed candidates for the Presidency -Two others have in former periods been the can-didates of their party for the Vice Presidency of the United States.

Of the Members of the two Houses of this Congress, three were Members of Congress more than forty years ago. Others have been M.m. bers for more than twenty years in unbroken succession. Several others were members more than twenty years ago. Three are more than seventy years old. One is only twenty-eight. Of those who have been Members of this Congress and have been eminent in the public service, and who will not be Members of the n-xt, I need only name CLAT, CALHOUX, Preston, Sergeani, Granger, Fill-more, Saltonstall, Morrow, (among the living,) Bouthard, Lewis Williams, and Lawrence, (among the dead,)-to show that the next Congress can n replace to the country what it loses in this. I might lengthen this list by the addition of many faithin, devoted, distingushed, honored and beloved patriots who now leave the public service, some for a brief interval, no doubt,—but too many forever. The eggregate of fame, stability, fidelity and worth which this Congress has exhibited to the country, has been "rarely equaled,—never excelled."

Of the doings of the twenty-seventh Congress we may condense a brief ab. stract from the details given by this writer. The Twenty-Seventh Congress sat some four hundred and fifty days-passed INFORMS the citizens of Charlestown, and price per foot, linear measure, for setting the more than four hundred bills into Acts I the adjoining country, that he is prepared to hammered stone, base, caps, sills, posts, and cor-(nearly twice as many as any previous execute all orders in his line with neatness and
