THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 19, 1844. WHEN I AM GONE Ramble the hills where in youth we did stray, When I am gone, when I am gone—

Visit the place where we oft thet to pray, When I am gone, when I am gone Think of the parent who taught us to say, Each morn, "O, Father, protect us to-day," But shed not a tear for your fatent far away, When I am gone, when I am gone.

When I am gone, when I am stone-Weep not for me though you kneet at my grave the Railroad Depot, opposite Hancock and this place; distance only five miles.

Think of the crown all the rangoned shall have, when I am gone, when I am gone.

Plant you a tree that may ware one me,
When I am gone, when I am gone.
Sing you a song if my grave you should see, When I am gone, when I am gone-Come, it may be a calm summer's lay, Come when the sun sheds his last ling'ring ray, Come and rejoice that I am thus passed away, When I am gone, when I am gone.

THE PLOUGH BOY'S SONG. 'Tis sunrise now On the mountain's bow, And the air is cool and clear; And who would dream, In the morning's beam, When beautiful Spring is here? I'll hasten with speed. To the glittering mead, Where the mists are gathered now; They will pass away, As opens the day,

And speeds the glittering plough. The lark is high, In the clear blue sky, And his carol is wild and free! He has left his nest, On the meadow's breast, In the sunlight of Heaven to be.

I cannot fly
To the clear blue sky, Or carol so wild and free ; But I'll whistle so clear, That the skies shall hear, As my plough glides o'er the lea!

And when the day Shall have passed away, And the sun has sunk in the sea, I'll take my team From the strong plough beam. And hasten away o'er the lea. And then at night, When my heart is light, And sleep stealeth over my brow, I'll lie and dream

Of my field and team, And of guiding the farmer's plough.

EDUCATION OF CHASTREN.

What a noble sentiment is that of John Adams, which he conveyed to his wife when public duties for a time separated him from his family. 'The education of our children is never out of my mind. Train them up to virtue -babilcate them to industry, activity and spirit. Make them consider every vice as she neful and unmanly. Fire them with ambition to be useful. Make them disdain to be desstitute of any useful knowledge."

What a valuable lesson is this—coming as it does from a man who had reached the highest summit of human greatness.

Every parent should treasure it up, and keep it constantly in mind.

If all of us who are parents, would make this sentiment true, so far as we are concerned, what a levely face would so—the first true of the sentiment true, so far as we are concerned, what a levely face would so—the first true of John Janney, of Loudoun;

> For the Free Press. DAYTON, (OHIO.) Sept. 1844.

Messrs. Editors :- Concluding again to visit the great Convention city (Dayton) I left Harpers-Ferry about the 8th of August !last. I landed in Pittsburg, Saturday the 10th, and remained there 5 days—during which time I found the Whigs up and a doing, and I was delighted with the enthusiasm and good feeling that prevailed at one of the greatest torch light, transparency, and banner processions, I ever witnessed. There were some fifteen thousand ons : persons in the procession, carrying with them four hundred transparencies, with all kind of one with a huge ram butting James K. Folkabove him were these words, " Wool needs no protection:" and some two or three hundred 5anners and torches. After parading through the principal streets, amid the shouts and cheers of the smiles of the desarbores [for they are dear] who occupied more elevated positions, the windows and balconies of the houses-they wanded their way to Allegany city, immediately opposite, and there listened attentively to three or four able, eloquent, and soul-inspiring addresses, by distinguished men of the city, whose names have escaped my memory. On Thursday I embarked on board the steamer North Bend, bound for the Queen City of the West, Cincinnati. We had 125 passengers—on Saturday we took a vote which resulted-for Clay

90, Polk 11, and Van Buren 24. Most of the towns and villages that adoro and beautify the banks of the Ohio, and the beautiful, well improved, and cultivated farms, demonstrate to the passer by that the spirit of '40 has again aroused the hardy pioneers of the West, to action, and rekindled the fire that has lain dormant for the last three years, so such a height that all the Polk juice in the Ucion canriments not extinguish. In front of every farin house, the United (with but few exceptions.) may be seen a as infac- pole with a flag and streamer thrown to the breeze, and on them inscribed the endearing names of Clay, Frelinghuysen, and the Union. At Portsmouth, I counted forty-two poles, a-veraging from 100 to 125 feet—each with a National Flag, and underneath a streamer, wafting, by the gentle winds of Heaven, the names dear to every true and honest American. Of those 42 poles there were fifteen Polk & Dallas Poles, which could be distinguished from the Whige, by a large Polk bush or Hicko-On Tuesday, 20th, I landed in Dayton, and a few days after, I had the gratification of attending the Polkats' Mass Meeting. Their great champions of Democracy, Gen. Cass, and Hon. J. B. Weller, were in attendance. The General occupied the most of his time upon the immediate annexation of Texas. He was followed by J. B. Weller, in a strain of abuse against the illustrious and gallant Henry Clay, and the Whig policy, consisting of coarse vulgarity, equalled only by a certain orator at the Hiel ory Hagerstown Whig Pestival. The Whig Festival at Hagerstown, comes off on Thursday the 26th. A cordial invitation is extended to the Whige of Jefferson.

We are indebted to the Cincinnati Genette for the following extract from a speech of Mr. Dallas, made some years ago. "It is true, as the Senator from South Carolina has said, that the political economy of free trade, however captivating in theory, is, indeed a discovery of modern times. IT HAS NO EXISTENCE BUT IN BOOKS. It never has been tested, and desire it never can be tested, without the Utopito see that law revived or any other Bank | an resort to a Congress of nations, - a resort recommended by some pamphieteer.

When Mr. Dal'as uttered this sentiment, he was not a candidate for the Vice-Presi-Ensing Off!—After claiming the vote of New York and Pennsylvania as certain for Polk and Dallas a few days ago, the last Richmond Enquirer says: "Four gentlemen have just returned from a visit to the North, and they are ulmost confident of the vote of N. York and New Jersev-and almost certain of Pennsylvania." Almost ! But to clinch the nail, the En-Pens- quirer adds : "One of the best informed his services, his merits? Such men are sylvania, horrever are stealing to his citizens of the Empire City will not even foul blots upon our common humanity, benefit, the doctrines of the Will party admit she is doubtful." Is it possible that and make us sicken at the reflection of in regard to wool. That's the very text "one" man can be found in New York who is thus sangaine?

MESSES. SANDS:—Gentlemen.—I consider it but an act of justice to you to state the following facts in reference to the great benefit I had received, in the cure of an obstinate Cancerous Urcer on my breast. I was attended eighteen months by a regular and a house for servants, together with other requisite out-buildings, all in excepted repair.

There is upon the premises a fine YOUNG ORCHARD of choice fruit, in full leaging; and also near the nouse there is a fare limestone spring which affords running water in most of the fields.

I do not deem it necessary to give further particulars in reference to the plan, is I presume that all who may wish to parchase will call and examine the property for themselves, and to any such I shall be mappy to furnish and to any such I shall be mappy to furnish rapidly getting worse, I almost despaned of recovery and considered my case nearly hopelets.

Seeing various testimonials and certificates of cure by the use of "Sanns's Sansaparilla" in cases similar to my own, I concluded to try a few bettles, several of which were used, but from the long, deep seated character of my disease, produced no very decided change; considering this as the only probasince the cure was completed; there is not the slight-est appearance of a return. I therefore pronunce myself WELL, and the cure entirely effected by SANDS'S SANSAPARILLA, 88 I took to other medicine of any kind during the time I was using it, nor have I taken any since. Please excuse this long deferred acknowledgement, which I think it my duty to else could, and If eel myself under listing obligations to you. I can say many things, I cannot write, and I do most respectfully invite ladies afficted as I have been, to call upon me and I will satisfy them fully of the truth as stated above, and many other BALTIMORE, June 10, 1844. Messra Sanns-Gentlemen : Most cheerfully do add to the numerous testimonials of your life preservative Sarssparilla. I was attacked in the year 1859 with a scorfulous affection on my upper lip, and continuing upward taking hold of my nose and surrounding parts, until the passages for conveying tests from the eyes to the nose were destroyed, which caused an unceasing flow of tears. It also affected my gums, causing a discharge very unpleasant, and my teeth became so loose that it would not have been a hard task to pull them out with a slight jerk-such were my feelings and suffering at this time that I was rendered perfectly miserable. I consulted the first Physicians of the City, but with little benefit .-Every thing I heard of was tried, but all of no service, and as a last resort was recommended change of air; but this, like other remedies, did no good, the disease continued gradually to incress, until my whole body was affected. But thanks to humanity, my Physician recommended your preparation of Sarssparilla. I procured from your agent in this City, Dr. James A. Reed, 6 bottles, and in less time than three grantles was restored to health less time than three months was restored to health and happiness. Your Sarsaparilla alone effected the cure, and with a desire that the : flieted may no longer suffer, but use the right medicine and be free from disease, with feelings of joy and gratitude I remain your friend,

relation to this cure. DANIEL McCONNIKAN. Personally appeared before me the above named Daniel McConnikan, and made oath of the facts contained in the foregoing statement.
