TO THE VOTERS OF JEFFERSON COUNTY. Fellow-Citizens:-I deem it my duty to addicted without involving any principle, State or National. The good old Commonwealth has disnatterns are new and bought at very reduced pensed her favors with so liberal s hand, that we have nothing to desire, unless it may be the imstomers, paper dealers and others, many ad provement of the navigation of the Shengudoah our South-eastern border. But it is my him with a call at No. 5 Hanover st., at the old tien. This would be an obstacle too gigantic in its stand No. 128 Baltimere street, where all orders dimensions for me to meet if there were not an absence of a party contest. But in the absence of such a party contest, I flatter myself that I can say something which will reach the minds of my fellow-citizens. I will then in the first place, ask what is the object of a cancus numination? It is plainly nothing more than Ornaments, Gilt Rods, Ring and Curtain bands a compremise between men of the same political principles, to ensure their success in opposition to those of an opposite way of thinking .-It is a sort of necessary evil, to be tolerated only under the circumstances mentioned; for it surely is not the design to deprive a citizen of the inalienable right which is claimed by every freeman, of choosing his own ruler. The force of circumstances has, however, so often brought this mode of nomination into practice in this county, as to have formed but the idea of compromise, and is now claimed as a right. But it is yet to be proved, whether, in the absence of any necessity for this ectraneous measure, the people will tolerate this claim. Although I admit the necessity in propercases, of a resort to the caucus system in some way, still I do think it should be used with great sincumspection, and should be guarded as far as possible from all abuses. This cannot, in my hamble opinion, be effected in the mode adopted in our county for some years past. I do not think it necessarry to look into the reasons which have influenced this opinion, in this address, as they would be of profit now to no one. But I am sure it without any denunciations from me. But it is argued against me in particular, that in accepting the nomination which was tendered me by my neighbors, it has a tendency to divide was a party which united with perfect harmony son any one man-but if so, it is exceedingly Why then deprive our citizens of the opportonity of choice, when no principle is to be the sacrifice? I will put the question whether there are not those who object to me on the score of dividing the party, who did not desitate to give can the friends of my bosom join with my enemies, (and who so insignificant as to be without them,) in plunging a dagger into my bosom which is to wrankle and fester the residue of my days? Is that the kind of friendship which I have meted out to them? Have I ever withdrawn my hand from them in the hour of necessity? "A friend in need is a friend indeed." I appeal to them to election at your hands, but if it shall be your good pleasure to elect me, I will discharge the duties

A Good Test - We heard a story, the other day, which is too good to be lost .-Farmer Dickens, for so we will call him one of the neighboring York county farm ers, alike noted for bis shrewdness and pretty girls, was visited by Joe Jenkins, under pretence of trading oxens, while his real object was to secure one of Farm. er Dickens' daughters. Finding no way to accomplish his real object without a Harpers-Ferry Turopike, and also within four direct appeal to the old man, he ventured to pop the question, and received in re-Nura a most decided negative. Joe, was not shrewd enough to manage his girls .in oren, and, in spite of the farmer's containing eleven rooms. The chrewdness, succeeded in a bargain by Joe, nothing daunted, pushed the trade which the old man found himself essentially 'shaved.' At the next appearance of Joe at Farmer Dicken's, all was changed, and the old man at once declared growing and yielding, upon the ethat he might go sheed, for if he was shrewd enough to chest him he would rick him with the gals.
