POETRY. THE EVENING CLOUD. A cloud hay cradled by the setting sun; A gleam of crimson tinged its braided snow; Long had I watched the gloty moving on O'er the soft ratiance of the lake below. Tranquil its spirit seemed, and floated slow, E'en in its very motion there was rest ! While every breath of eve that chanced to blow THE THIRD ANNUAL SESSION OF THIS SCHOOL, will commence on Wedsenday the 8th of September. A limited number

Wafted the traveller to the beauteous west. Watted the traveller to the beauteous west. Emblem, methought, of the departed soul, To whose white robe the gleam of light is given; And, by the breath of mercy made to roll Right onward to the golden gates of Heaven, Where to the eye of faith it peaceful lies, And tells to man his glorious destinies.

From the Pichmond Republican.

SONG. Thy face is like the morn, love ! Just as the sun begins to rise; Smiles for thy lips were born, love; And Love's warm glances for thine eyes. And should a cloud be thine, love ! Sweet golden blushes tint it o'er, With halo so divine, love, Hon. J. McLean, Judge of the Supreme

It seems indeed a cloud no more. Thy mind is like night's sky, love ! Besprent with million stars of light; Sweet gams of varies dye, love ! Formed only for the brow of night. Thy mind hath stars of thought, love ! Which gleam from thy glad laughing eyes ! And none but I have sought, love ! To fathom its deep mysteries. Alexandria, Va. H. Daingerfield, Esq., J Eustace Conway, Esq., Fredericksburg, Va. Rev. Dr. Sparrow, Theological Seminary, Va Alexandria, Aug 19, 1847-3m.

Thy heart is like a rose, love ! With night's bright tears all gleaming ; Which in yon garden grows, love ! Like some sweet fairy dreaming: And sweet is its perfume, love ! As in its lovely purity, All bright with sparking bloom, love ! 'Twas plucked by laughing Love for me.
