LIFE INSURANCE.

THE subscriber having been appointed agent for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, is now prepared to receive applications for Insurance on Laves. It is on the inutual system, without liability however, beyond the amount of premiums. All profits of the Company are divided annually among the insured.—The premiums may be paid quarterly, semi-annually or annually, or one half of the premium in a note at 12 months. Individuals insured in this Company, become members of the Corporation, and vote some members of the Corporation, and vote some members of the Corporation.

The rates of 1 remium with a full participation in the profits are as low as any other Institution in this country, and lower than any of the English ompanies with only a portion of the profits .s this is a subject not generally understood. I have provided myself with a large number of prospectus s of the Company, which fully explains devote their undivided attention to the comfort he mode of operation, advantages, safety of the Institution and rules of premium, which I will be. happy to furnish to any one who may feel any in-

ELECTION DAY Thursday, 27th of April.

PUBLICATION DAY CHANGED.

To suit the views of many of our subscribers, we have changed our publication to Friday morning. If this will not answer we will change to Thursday-and if complaints should still be made, we will publish still earlier in the week, until we find a day that seems to be agreeable to all concerned. We have, personally, but little interest in the matter, and are determined that it any one day in the week can be found to suit our subscribers, that day shall be taken for the publication of the Free Press.

HARD RUN FOR MATERIALS.

Scarce a number of the "Spirit" has been pubour columns; from the position of its conductors, have been almost closed to the discussion. Every method has been resorted to, for the purpose of impairing a well-established confidence in our letter, and continued-Senator. Such efforts have been altogether futile, and the last the most puerile of all-namely, the attempt to create a jealousy in reference to the interests of Richmond. Such a game has been tried before, without effect-by open assertion and sly inuendo-and the people of Jefferson have laughed it to scorn.

All that need be said on the subject now, isthat the very last discussion in which the present Senator was engaged in the Senate, was between himself and the Senator from Richmond, in regard to conflicting claims of Alexandria and Richgood, and in favor of Alexandria.

As to the Baltimore & Chio Bail Road question-the editor of the Spirit ought to seek setter information before he writes again. Mr. G. not only advocated and voted for every resolution upon the Baltimore Road, in favor of Alexandria, including a clause to force the Baltimore Company to grant a through ticket to the Alexandria Company on equitable terms, but he proposed to require a bonus from the Baltimore Company on each passenger. These being rejected, be declined to vote for the bill.

If the "Spirit" desires to have any influence upon sensible men, let it look well to its facts .-But enough said!

Will the "Spirit" now tell its readers whether Mr. Opie did not vote, seventh on the list, in 1817, against the School Bill ? And will it further tell us ichat sort of a School bill he now favors? And finally, whether he did or did not, sign a petition for the repeal of the School bill without a trial of
