A SHOCKING DEATH.

We learn that a man named CHARLES Bain, was so shockingly burnt by the falling of a lime kiln, a few miles above Middleway, in this county, on the 24th ult. that he expired in an hour afterwards .-We understand that Bain came to the lime kiln, in a state of inebriacy, and insisted upon acting as fireman,-the kiln was in a heated condition, and bore evidence of falling. Those engaged in burning the lime gave warning to the poor unfortunate, but he heedlessly persisted in remaining where he was. The hands left, and in half an hour afterwards the kiln in Loudoun county: Dr. Alpheus Gibson, fell, covering the wretched sufferer with its still burning and red hot ruins. He was taken from his awful situation as soon as he could be relieved, but was burned in a most shocking manner-the flesh separating and falling off-which proved fatal in a very short time afterwards. He was fifty-five years of age, and has left a large family. Truly, a most sad warning.

It was Democratic, under "Old Hickory," to encourage Harbor and River Improvements by not only large, but extravagant appropriations. It is now Democratic in "Young Hickory," to veto an Improvement Bill containing appropriations for works of precisely the same character, as those which received the official signature of "Old Hickory" himself.

It appears from an official report made to the Senate, that the whole amount expended on all these objects, from 1806 to to 1845, not including expenses of surveys, was $17,198,522. Of this amount there was expended-

OBITUARY.

From the Tallahassee (Florida) Journal. The death of Mrs. ELIZABETH BROWN, consort f Gen. Thomas Brown, which we slightly glaneed at, in our last paper, has left a deep void in our social circles, which time even, can scarcely fill up. She had been so identified with the social history of our city-had so llong filled a station and ever remember, that a beloved name has been erased from the list of their cherished friends. rindness and truthful affection, which had so long been the centre of all that was attractive in our social circles, and which is now shrouded in the emblems of grief, will long be looked apon with -in the house of God-long will her presence be missed. Sadly will it be felt by the assembled worshippers, that one whose faithful example had long cheered them on their Heavenward course, has been taken away from their midst. Long will the pious pastor miss the sound of her voice in sincere and ardent response to the sublime and touching pathos exhibited in the exercises of the

Mrs. Brown had long been an unobtrusive, sincere and humble christian : a communicant of the Episcopal Church, and connected with St. John's Church of this City, from its earliest organization. Without parade or ostentation she was ever foremost in all acts of benevolence and charity, giving of her abundance to those who lacked-comforting those who were comfortless and upholding those who were cast down. Ste wept with those who wept, and rejoiced with those that rejoiced.

But it was at home-in the domestic circle that her character shone forth with the greatest lustre. She ordered and directed her household with that strict regard to justice and propriety with that kindliness of manner, which upheld her influence by the irresistible impulses of love and affection. It will be in the domestic circle, where her loss must be the most deeply deplored. To her sorrowing partner, to her bereaved daughters, the loss is indeed irreparable-but their grief is not without consolation. She died 25 the good would ever wish to die-"in the midst of her kindred,"-surrounded by all that she best loved on earth-in the blest assurance of all that can be hoped for in Heaven.

Those persons in want of such articles will please call and examine for themselves. He will use every exertion to give them satisfaction. therefore, conscientiously give the assurance, that in all that imparts despitch efficiency and power, combined with beauty in design and execution, the factory of these gentlemen is unexcelled by any other in the United States. The instruments made by Messrs. Knabe & Sæhle, are built with the mos; consummate care, aste and judgment; their figish is exquisiteheir tone at once full, clear and brilliant. In a word, it is but justice to these gentlemen when I say-that, while by their genius and acquirements, they are competent—their industry, zeal and ambition, are such as to ensure to the elaborations of their skill a degree of mechanical nicety, as honorable to them as workmen, as it must be gratifying to the amajeur and artist.

The GRAND PIANO, which Messrs, K. & G. ad the politeness to furnish me for my recent Concert, was of their own manufacture. The execution of that splendid instrument elicited universal admiration-its superiority was acknowledged by every judge present, and won for its constructors that applause which discriminating minds never fail to awa'd to distinguished GEORGE KNOOP.
