o'clock, P. M., James K. Pork expired, at his residence in this city. Mr. Po k had suffered from diarrhoa on his way up the Missis ippi river from New Orleans, i . March ; but the attack passed off, and he reached this city in good health. A few days after his arrival he moved into his new nansion, a stately edifice, which had just be n completed and furnished in a style of contined elegance and taste. J. K. POLK, BORN NOVEMBER, 1795 DIED JUNE 15, 1849.

The Loly lies in State to-day. The noble drawing rooms are shrouded in black, and every window in mourning with black scarls of crape. The tall white columns of the majestic portico facing the south are completely shrouded in black, giving a solemnly majestic will find it to their interest to call and examine the and funeral aspect to the Presidential man-

The funeral took place at four o'clock this afternoon, masonic ceremonies being first performed in the drawing room over the body. I saw the body before it was encoffined. The features are in noble composure. Death has impressed upon them the seal of majesty. In his life, his features never wore that impress of command and intellectual strength, that seemed now chiselled upon their marole outline. He was habited in a plain suit of black, and a copy of the Constitution of the United States was placed at his feet. Lefore being taken to the cemetery, the body was bernetically soldered within a copper coffin. I rom the house the funeral cortege, which was very large, all places of business being closed by order of our good Whig mayor, procerded to the Methodist Episcopal Church, where, after services performed by the Rev. Mr. Mc erren, it was conveyed to the cemetery, followed by a vast concourse of citizens. The body was deposited in the Grundy vault, temporarily; but it will soon be removed to a vault on the lawn of the ex-Presidential mansion, where a willow now stands, and taph; thus the body of the President from Tennessee will lie entombed in the heart of its capital. Mr. Polk, by will, the evening before his death, cave the lawn to the State, in perpetuity, for this purpose. Mr. Polk sent for the Rev. Dr Edgar, of the Presbyterian church, seven days before of the season, and luxury that can be had will be | his death, cesiring to be baptized by him. He | said to him impressively :--

"Sir, if I had suspected twenty years ago that should come to my death-beil suprepared, it would etermined to make their calls agreed le. I have not even been been the market affords—his Chambers well furnish baptized. Tell me, sir, can there be any ground for a man thus situated to hope?" The Rev. Doctor made known to him the assurances and promises of the gospel that mercifully run parallel with man's life.

Mr. Polk then remarked, that he had been prevented from baptism in infancy by some accidental occurrence, that he had been several times strongly inclined to be baptized duperplexities of public life hardly gave him time for the solemn preparation requisite, and so procrastination had ripened into inaction, when it was now almost too late to act. In his conversation with the Rev. clergyman, Mr. Polk evinced great knowledge of the scriptures, which, he said, he had read a great deal, and deeply reverenced, as Divine truth;

in a word, he was, theoretically, a christian. The conversation fatigueing Mr. Polk too much for him to be then baptized, it was postponed, to take place the next evening; but in the interval, the ex-President recollected that when he was governor and lived here, he used to hold many arguments with the Rev. Mr. McFerren, the talented and popular Methodist minister of the place, his warm personal and political friend, and he had promised him that when he did embrace

From the Winchester R publican. PLEASING THE DEMOCRATS.

Notwithstanding the lamentations of the press and leaders of the Locofoco party, it is impossible not to preceive a smirk of satisfaction upon the countenances of most of thema waggish leer of the eye-as much as to say, we are regular-built mourners, employed for the occasion. Like the grief-makers of some of the old countries, their howling is hideous enough, but equally as hollow.

They are made decidedly happy, when they hear that Gen. Taylor has permitted the "guillotine" to be put in motion, and a few tleman, aided by the highest medical talent, more heads to be rolled in the dust. The only danger is, that the Old Hero will turn out better than they desire.

reasons: In the first place, it does them good to scold and get rid of a few tears in hot weather-and in the next, those of them who wish to take a turn at the wheel of fortune four years hence, want the Whigs to have the offices, so that the Locofoco President shall not be under the necessity of dismissing friends to make room for the new brood of vociferous patriots, who, in 1353, were not prepared for. We much doubt will be ready to serve their country-for a whether Robespiere excited more remor e

Thus it is, we say, that Gen. Taylor is giving infinite pleasure to the Locofocos .-From their inmost souls, every man of the the same in kind and degree. He has been outs is giving him thanks. There is an inconsistency in this whining over the "proscription" of such patriots that makes the lamentation laughable. They claimed and obtained office for party services. recognising, when seeking station, the force little too well for that. "A JUST PROVIDENCE AND A RIGHT RESULT."

The Columbus (Miss.) Whig in some interesting reflection upon that eventful hour in the history of Gen. Taylor and of his country the battle of Buena Vista, makes the following extract from a letter written by the old hero on the eve of the battle: "This may be the last communication you will receive from me; I have been stripped by the government of regular troops, and reduced in volunteers and thus stripped, and at the mercy of the foe, have been expected to retreat or resign; but I shall do neither. I care not for myself, but feel deeply for the noble soldiers who are about to be sacrificed for their country; we shall stand still and

Such sentiments, we agree with the Whig, exhibit one of the noblest characters on the records of history-a spirit, calm under the grossest provocation; inflexible in its allegiance to duty; fixed as a rock in all its purposes; full of courage and full of humanity. The result of Buena Vista proved that uch a spirit is net presumptuous in looking with infidence to the Aimighty for support. Says the

How often it is said in the present day that men and women are falsely placed with regard to each other. According to ofe party, men are too strong, and women to weak, and they demand that women's perdgative be greatly increased-they would make men of ther at once. Others consider that by a different course of education, which should direct their minds to great objects, women would quietly assume a position equal to that of man, without any more active interference. A third and large party assert that, so far from men being the stronger, they have always been the victims of the other sex. There is perlaps some truth in each of these propositions; but when wo consi er that men have always been the lawmakers, there m y be a suspicion of their having secured to themselves an undue portion of the jover and privileges of social life. It is so easy to make a law in favor of one's self that we think there is a chance of the suspe ou being well founded. On the other hand, the small amount of truth which we have supposed to exist in the proposition above stated is c mp etely swamped by the presence of a load or injustice. The destiny of man and woman, hustand and wife, is the same: each bas certain duties to perform, which of themselves, combine for the mutual advantage, as truly and beautifully as the ingraft ng of two trees will produce one exceller t kind of fruit. Getting into new apartments very naturally reminds us that it would be pleasant to put every thing on a new forting. We should like to see old accounts squared ap, and a new set of books opened. We should like old friends to bear in mind that active and practical friendship is needed to keep up the usefulness of the Old Family Journal.

It may not be an inappropriate occasion to say that we have never taxed the friendship of our subacribers by any other appeal than to their punctuality. This has too often been disregarded. We have never asked our party to go one dollar beyond an equivalent for our labor. We have seen their magnanimity taxed-we have seen it exerted-but we ask only their justice. We think we have some small claim upon their consideration, because we have often had to bear rather more than our share of party burthens. We receive comparatively nothing from the liberality of our political adversaries. They do not, like many of the Whigs, pay for weapons to be used against them; for, after starting their own paper, they mostly, with a few liberal exceptions, withdrew their support. The most rabid, however, continue to read the Free Press, (though at other people's expense,) and to abase it. With what shadow of right, these critics raise a clamor, we know not, nor do we care. We endeavor to treat all our opponents with respect, even though often repaid with rudeness and illibetality. But this shall not swerve us from the path of duty. If severity occasionally characterises our offusions, it is only when self-defence requires it, or when Truth itself furnishes the sting. Have we not, then, a reasonable right to expect every Whig in the County, who reads at all, to take the FREE PRESS, and PAY FOR IT.? Are we not embarked in a common cause? An we not animated by a common faith? Do we not alike believe that the interests of the community can be best promoted by Whig men and Whig measures?

So believing, we ask all true Whige to give this subject their calm consideration. If they sustain us well, we can the better stand up for them. If they neglect us, we must of necessity fall short of their expectations. We propose only an exchange of equivalents. We ask nothing beyond this. To the liberal of both parties, we take occasion to tender our thanks, and to assure them that, though " politics be our trade," we consider all men our Friends who are willing to reciprocate the courtesies and kindnesses due between man and man. It is the blessed privilege of freemen to differ in sentiment-and it is the chief beauty of our institutions that a tolerance of opinion is one of the strongest the same high opinion of his abilities that the editor of the Spirit has of his, and has not the "very great egotism" to believe his "claim" of "capacity "equal to those "who now possess, or who so Lewis C. as great as those who are now laboring so desperateby to wear "magisterial" garments.

"As to the political bias of "Plebeian" or the editor of the Spirit, it may suffice to say, that on the Bench or elsewhere, they ask nothing but what is right, and will submit to nothing that is wrong."

The aggregate amount of the agricultural products of the United States convertible of three or four years, is about 900 millions of bushels, of which nearly one half is Indian Corn. The quantity of wheat may be put down at 100 millions of bushels. The whole amount of this vast aggregate product required for home consumption does not probably exceed 300 millions. Of course the immense surplus is subject to exportation; so that it is not too much to assume that our country is destined to be the granary of the world.

WHITE SULPHUR, June 18, 1849. CHAPTER 53-COUNTY LEVIES. The proposition before the House being a motion to strike out the 4.h Section, authorising the County. Courts to levy the amount required for County purposes, by a tax on land, slaves, and other subjects of taxable property, &c. Mr. Thomson of Jefferson hoped the motion to strike out would not be withdrawn, as he was opposed to enlarging the power of taxation on new subjects. Unless there was inequality in the present mode of taxation and unless it was insufficient for county purposes, why introduce this new system? He was informed that neither of these reasons existel. Mr. T. believed that if this increased taxation be allowed, it would induce a system of county internal improvements as extravagant as the State system. This power had been given to Berkeley county, and the people had rebelled, on account of the unjust exercise of the power, and on this question had defeated the Whig nominees. Increase the subjects of taxation and new inducements will present themselves for wasting more money. For these reasons he hoped the motion to strike out would be adhered to

Mr. Faulkner said, that suffering as he was on that day, from severe indisposition, he should not have taken part in the debate, but for the direct reference which the gentleman from Jefferson, (Mr. Thomson) had made to certain recent proceedings in the County of Berkeley. That gentleman had referred to the vote of the people of Berkeley last Spring, as an evidence of the popular opposition to the proposed system of raising the County revenue from property, in lieu of persons. It was to vindicate the County of Berkeley from this aspersionfor he considered it such, that he rose to make a few remarks. It was well known that to the County of Berkeley belonged the honor of introducing that reform in our County Financial System, which is now to become a portion of the General Laws of the State. It had originated there, as early as 1824,but the plan was not fully perfected, and did not go into effect until 1835. It had now been in operation 14 years. It was introduced with the almost unanimous petition of the people, and from a sense of the utter injustice of the old system. Capitation taxes were the most grievous and unequal taxes that could be imposed-they exacted the same amount from the poor man, that they did from the rich, they imposed the same burdens upon all without respect to their property and interests in the ends of taxation ; were condemned by every sound principle of political economy, and had been abolished in almost every State in the Union. County taxes were mainly for the construction and repair of roads and bridges. It was iniquitous that a poor man, not possessed of a horse or wagon should pay more towards the repair of roads and bridges, than the large land holder whose convenience and advantage were continually promoted, and whose lands were steadily advancing in value by such expenditures. There was another conclusive argument in favor of the proposed Reform. In the County of Berkeley there was a large quantity of land held by nonresident proprietors. Under the Capitation System hese persons did not contribute a dollar towards expenditures by which they were annually beneof the County taxes. It was these considerations, and others which he had not time to dilate upon, which prompted the people of Berkeley to cast aside the old System, and he did not believe that there were ten men now in the County who would vote to substitute the old System for the new.

fitted. Now they are made to bear their just share The gentleman from Jefferson, has asserted that the late election in Berkeley was a test of the experience of the people on that question, and was a condemnation of the property tax system. This Mr. Faulkner denied. Other issues decided that County election which would not be proper for him, at this time, to enter into detail of, but which were very apparent to him. But this he would assert from a full knowledge of the people of Berkeley County, and of their sentiments, that no delegate from the County of Berkeley, who had any respect for his own position in that County, would dare to propose the substitution of the old system of Capitation Taxes, for the existing system by which the County expenditures were defrayed by a taxation Mr. Faulkner proceeded at some length to explain the practical operation of the system in Berkeley, and while he admitted that the greater facility of collecting a revenue from property, than from persons, might lead to a more liberal or as some would term it a more extravagant system of County Improvements, still, that was an unimportant consideration compared with its intrinsic equity, and its manifest advantages. Errors of that sort were continually committed by all public bodies and could only be checked by the vigitant energy and watchful attention of the people. The scheme prowhich it is borrowed, proposes to confer no new powers on the County Court. The objects of County expenditures are limited and defined by law .-They cannot appropriate a dollar, except as authorized by some act of the legislative will. It is their business to raise a revenue sufficient to meet their limited and well defined purposes. The only question is, from whence shall this revenue be derive. ! Shall it be raised by a tax equally imposed upon the head of every man in the County, whether he be rich or poor? Or shall it be raised by a tax upon lands, slaves, &c. ! Should it be raised by a tax upon labor, or by a tax upon property? He did not think a General Assembly of Virginia, of this day at least, could doubt as to its proper course.

Mr. Faulkner adverted to the manifest distinction between the Eastern and Western counties on this question. In the Eastern counties where slavery question. In the Eastern counties where slavery existed to so large an extent, and where the slave tithenbles were very numerous, the practical injustice of the system was not so apparent. But West of the Blue Ridge where the slave population was sparse, the Capitation System was one of unmitigated wrong and injustice, and should not be talested for one memory. GOV. McDowell's GREAT SPEECH .- A Philadelphia correspondent of the Republic says: "A friend has just shown me a copy of an oration delivered twelve years ago, before the Societies of the College at Princeton. N. J., by Gov. It is an able speech, but the repetition of it evidences a barrenness of ideas which I did not expect to see in so distinguished a personage."

CHARLESTOWN MINING COMPANY. The following letter is from an intelligent memwith the daily proceedings of this body. A mere ber of the "Charlestown Mining Company," to 2 gentleman in this town:

> My DEAR SIR :- As we are now within a day's travel of Fort Kearney, on the Platte River, when flattering promise of a successful termination to our journey. We have met with no accidents calculated to throw a damper upon our spirits; and, in fact, no mpediments save an occasional snapping of an axle-tree, hound or tongue of wagons, the result sometimes of carelessness, but mostly owing to in-different timber. Yet these have been so promptly repaired by the skill of our workmen, that the delay in consequence thereof is, not worth noting. We have, as you may know, a portable forge, with nithing tools complete, and with half hour's notice we are at any time enabled, through the energy and sideration of the Inspection Laws, and the compenpromptness of our young friend, M., to make these hills echo to the sound of the anvil; besides we have all other tools necessary for rectifying these unavoidable accidents, and, fortunately, the men to use them too. The road, so far, has been generally very good, vet the crossings at the numerous litt streams that wend their course athwart our pathway are indifferent. By a little filling up with brush, however, we get along very well, and when necessary attach a rope, which we have for the purpose, to the fifth chain, and with about twenty men to a side, we can pull wagon, mules and all out of the worst hole that ever wheel stuck in.

The question was frequently asked, before I left nome, if we would be enabled to find the road all the way across this wild country. Most persons, with out reflection, would doubtless be surprised to hear that the most constantly traveled road in Jefferson county is not more marked and perfectly defined than this great highway to the El Dorado. What the amount of emigration is on the route we are taking, it is impossible to tell with any degree of accuracy. From all I can learn, I think I hazard nothing in saying that the number of teams, and nearly all these oxen, is not less than three or four housand. The emigration is not exclusively of the ougher portion of the human family, but in every rain can be seen more or less women and children. They seem to be getting along bravely, and howevr I might be inclined to feel for them in the long nd tedious journey that yet lies before them, their smiling and healthful faces, so far, seems to intimate that I had better keep my sympathy for those that need it. It was only to say that I saw a little fellow scarcely knee high, walking beside an ox team branishing his long whip, and whooping at the oxen, nd doubtless, like Napoleon, when in boyhood he built the spowy ramparts, and thus gave token of he great genius that was within him, showing what mighty teamster he would one day become.

Monday, 28th May .- We are now at Fort Kear ey, where we are making a general overhauling of our wagons, with a view of reducing their weight We find that our teams are too heavily laden, and i. will be impossible to get through with our present amount of plunder. We will sell some three or four thousand pounds of flour and bacon at the Fort, and all matters that are not necessaries we intend throwing away. So much for experience; but we must live and learn. Several companies here have split up and are about to return home. Some are frightened by the number ahead, some have lost their cattle by negligence, and some driven them to death. Again, joint stock companies never fail to quarrel and in most cases divide. We have not been withut our difficulties in this respect. A trip of this kind is the most trying on the temper and patience than any thing on earth. If it had not been for our guide we would have shared the same fate of all uch organization before this. He is one of the most active energetic and indefatigable persons I ever met with, and is thoroughly acquainted with traveling across the plains. He not only discharges his duty as guide, but will not rest until every thing s properly arranged and well ordered in camp. Our men seeing he possesses this experience show a deference and respect to his orders and directions that no one, under other circumstances, could command. The consequence has been, that at my suggestion, the functions of all of our officers have suspended until our arrival in California, and he has been elected Captain. He and the Quarter-master are the only officers we have at present. The fewest number of officers is found to operate the best. I am, therefore, but a private individual, and I do assure you, relieved of a vast amount of trouble and anxiety. Our guide's name is Frank Smith, and s a native of Frederick county, Mc. I think our ifficulties in this respect are now over, and we will get along very well. Lhave just learned that the number of wagons ahead of us is 3 000, they having been counted at the Fort. There is not more than 1 000 behind us, making 4,000 wagons and about 25,000 oxen by the route we take. The grass over the country we have already passed is abundant for 100,000 oxen, but I apprehend a considerable searcity over some parts the route. We will doubtless be enabled, after we lighten, to pass most of these, as they are nearly all ox teams, before we reach the barren regions, and by the skill of our guide expect to get along

The Company are all well. We lost one of our men the other day-a Mr. Young, from Maryland a relative of N. S. White. He was a very worthy and estimable young man. He died of the Typhus Yours truly.

CHARLESTOWN MINING COMPANY.

FOR KEARNEY, Monday, May 28, 1849. The Charlestown Mining Company reached this point early to-day, and can sed for the purorder to see what articles might most easily be dispensed with. We are now 320 miles from St. Joseph, and 390 from Fort Independence .--The various Orders and Associations of the Formerly, a fortification existed at the mouth of ney, which has lately been excuated, and the name transferred to the present, ort, known hereto subsist on the plains! We intend either selling of throwing away, several thousand pounds of Eacon, Flour, &c., in order to lighten our wagons as much as possibie, for we find that no headway can be made with our present loads. Our guide, Mr. Frank Smith, one of the best that ever travelled over the road, says he will take us through in sixtyfive days from this point, if our wagons have not more than fifteen or eighteen candred pounds .-Our object is to get to Califo sia, and we must part with a good many things we would not, were it possible for us to take them along. We must dispense with our tents, among other things, and take it in the open air. Last night I made a trial of this kind of rest, and I found quite a sweet

Yesterday and to day, we saw quite a number of antelopes, but our boys couldn't get within " a gunshot" of them, so we didn't bring them down The only game is prairie hens, plovers, larks, and other small birds. Fort Kearney is situated on Grand Island, in a most beautiful location. The waters of the Platte surround it, whilst in front is a vast plain of almost illimitable extent-the eve wanders for some object of relief, but nothing presents itself save the vast plain, clothed in most luxuriant

Those who have never sassed through this country can have no idea of the dull and monotonous life the emigrant lives, or rather drags out -for as to living, we don't do that, so we don'twe only exist on very poor subsistence! All along, it has been bacon and short cake, until vesterday, when it was determined that our wagons should be lightened. We then "dipped" into the molasses, sugar, vinegar, raisins, cheese, tobacco, and a few other nick-nacks-delicacies which liked to have turned the heads of some of the

In consequence of this general distribution, there was good living in camp for a day or two We had flitters, raisin pudding, &c. The fact of it is, we are "some," when it comes to making nice things! I have been much disappointed in regard the weather we have on the plains. I calculated on weather hot enough to bake bread in the sun! but instead of that the stormy west wind makes a thick heavy coat entirely comfortable. Whilst in camp, on several occasions, we were assailed by a swarm of bugs, numbering as many as the locusts of Egypt. We were compelled to turn out, and surround our mules, fearing a I have spoken of the number in our advanceas to how many are in our rear, I cannot say with any accuracy. We have passed as many as a hundred wagons in a day, and the whole road seems to be swarming with emigrants. The members of our Company have all been restored to good health, and there is not one on the sick list. We have good cause to be thank ful for this, as many companies have suffered much, and many died. Scarce a day that we do not pass the grave of some one who started as buoyant in spirits, and with as fair prospects as ourselves-but we have been made to differ from them in this respect. Man is truly ungratefulor although we have been blest, we fail to render that praise and thankfulness which grateful hearts should offer up. We have understood that flour and bacon will not bring over a cent per pound at the Fort-we shall probably leave ours to perish on the way-

SHANDONDALE SPRINGS, Jefferson co., Va., June 27, 1849. MESSES. EDITORS: Being called to this region of the Old Dominion on business, and at a time when all our friends in the city were roasting from the reflection of brick walls and pavements, you may rest assured that I found a vast and pleasing difference when I reached this country of mountains and green fields. It seemed a treat to the lungs to inhale this pure atmosphere. I was induced to visit this lovely place from hearing it so frequently spoken of in rapturous terms by those who had visited here, and unlike most places which have been described to us, I was not disappointed when I reached it. The proprietors have done much, but nature more, to adorn Shannondale. Those in pursuit of health and recreation cannot find a place more nearly up to the mark than this. A fine mountain scenery, fresh air, a pretty river, affording fishing, bathing, and boating to the heart's content. Added to this, a wholeteous and attentive from a natural urbanity of Roms .- We learn that the French army com- manner, who receives his guests with a free Virmenced an attack on the 30th ult., and after a ginia cordial ty, rendering them at once easy and at home. I have visited all (or nearly so) the watering places of any note in this State, and can say that Mr. Abell-ine judice-is ahead of them all. His sole aim segms to be the comfort of his guests. The storm on Saturday and Sunday last has prostrated a large portion of the fine wheat of this county. It is in many places so completely tangled as to render it very jedious to save, and that at an increased expense. In this neighborhood many large forest trees are level with the earth. The severity of the storm was confined to six or seven miles in width. Yours, &c.

THE GROANS OF THE UNION. All the Locofoco papers do not concur with the Union in mourning over the defunct office-holders. Some of them, on the contrary, laugh at the agonies of the ancient Jeremiah. For instance, the Cleveland Plaindealer says; "There are crying times in Washingon about these, days. The Union brings the most sickly accounts of whole departments whilst on my route, but really the thing can't be assembling and joining in a general boo-hoo at the fate which has overtaken them. The old man Ritchie is chief erier. His heart is full (as well as his pockets) and it overflows like the inundation of the Nile. He knows no democracy but the pap suckers at Washington, and he thinks by publishing their tribulations the whole nation will be melted to tears." "Now if Father Ritchie supposes the pcople care one fig about such kind of troubles There are monthly mails from the Fort, and you at Washington, he is greatly mistaken .-They do not spend their money, time, and exertions, simply that a few cormorants can fatten on the spoils. The great mass of the people care nothing about office. All they want is a good government, and these accounts in the would be government organ of the groans of office holders in Washington, are sickening and disgusting. Somebody must hold the offices and discharge the duties, and under a Democratic Administration we claim this should be done by Democrats. But when the people have, in a constitutional way, declared for a change, die game, submit like

MEN, and not go out of office blubbering like This is exactly what we have been trying to convince the Locofoco press of, for the last three months. The people don't care a farthing for all the office-holders in the world, and if Gen. Taylor were to pack every mother's son of them to-morrow, it would enhance rather than diminish his popularity. They care, in fact, about as much as the editor of the Union does, and that is just nothing at all.-Richmond Whig.

She was instantly followed by Addington, who caught her, and in the effort, was prostrated by the force of the water, threwing the little girl at the same time so near the shore that the young gentleman who had her by the hand nearly caught her, but last his balance, only saving himself by catching

EXAMINATION OF WOODWARD.

The againstion of the case of Wm. Woodwand, who stands charged with forgery, came on before the Norfolk City Court a few days since-the Hon H. A. Wise, Tazwell Taylor, Est and Gen. John S. Millson, appearing as counsel for the accused, and James R. Hubard. Esq , for the Commonwealth. The counses for the defence, moved the Court to waive the examination of witnesses and remand the prisoner for trial, on bail, he conceding the ground of "light suspicion of guilt I but this being rejected by the Court, the examination was optomenced, and three witnesses were examined on one of the notes perporting to be forged, when the Court adjourned to meet this forenoon, at 11 o'clock. Unides some compromise shall be effected between law and reason, it will be difficult to fix alday for the finale of this case. It seculd that there are eighty notes purporting to be forged, and on each distinct one the pris-energy to be examined and tried; and if business will be laid before them. All claims vs. found guilty, must receive sentence in each | the Company will be placed in the hands of the uncase according to law! So extraordinary a dersigned before that day. case his probably never occurred before in the whole history of juris brudence. - Herald.

JORDAN'S FREDERICK

White Sulphur Springs, Frederick County, Virginia. SITUATED five miles East of Winchester, and one mile and a half from S'ephenson's Depot on the Winchester and Potomac Railroad, is now open for the reception of company. This Water is inferior to none in the State, as it holds in solution Sulphuretted Hydrogen, Iodine and Magnesia, imparting tone to the system, and actings as a powerful alterative, as numerous visitors can testify, having been visited for the last fifty years, and had it not been for the contracted accounmodations, must have been amongst the first Watering places in the Union. For the last 7 years the improvements have been increased so as to accommodate between 2 and 300 visitors. The Proprietor has fitted up his establishment in handsome style, by placing it under a thorough repair, and has now put this watering place on a footing with the most fashionable and comfortable places of the sort, in a plain style, and will use every exertion in his power to make his visitors comfortable. A credit of six months will be given on all sums of $5 and upwards; the purchaser giving bond and persons leaving Baltimore in the morning cars will arrive at the Depot at three o'clock the same day, where a coach will be in readiness to take them immediately to the Springs. The Proprietor feels thankful for the encouragement he has received from the public, and will use every exertion to merit a continuance of it, by making those comfortable who may give him a call. BRANCH JORDAN, Proprietor.

General Business Agency. AND TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE. THE undersigned beg leave to inform the public that, in addition to their duties as Telegraphic Reporters, they have opened a GENERAL BUSI-NESS AGENCY in the city of Baltimore. They will give prompt attention to the forwarding of business despatches or private messages to any city or town in the United States to which the Tele graph extends. Citizens of Baltimore, and strangers especially, desirous of procuring intelligence at a distant point, will find it to their advantage to make use of this medium. They will procure any desired information in Baltimore and its vicinity for persons at a distance, and forward the same by mail or Telegraph, as may

All communications held strictly confidential .-Letters and despatches must, in every case, be prepaid. Charges moderate. The undersigned tender their acknowledgments to the Southern Press for the flattering encouragement heretofore extended to them, as Telegraphic Reporters, and offer the assurance that with increasing facilities and experience, they will endeavor to eserve ils continuance. By the meeting of Congress they will be prepared to supply the Press in every part of the United States with complete and authentic reports of that body. They pledge themselves that their facilities in this respect will not be surpassed by any one.

R. T. BROWN, Jefferson Land For Sale. S the Executor of the late W. Z. Sinclair, I offer for sale, with a view to a division amongst the heirs, that part of his landed estate which remains unsold. The number of Acres in the farm offered for sale is 265 or thereabouts. It is situated about seven miles south of Charlestown, the County seat, and four miles from Thomson's Depot on the Winchester and Potomac Rail Road, and within thirteen miles of Harpers-Ferry. It has likewise the advantage of being within four miles of eight merchant mills-four of them not being over two miles from the same, where grain will command cash, deductng only the carriage to Baltimore or the District of Columbia. This farm is situated in that portion of the county of Jefferson far-famed as "the Bull-skin region," and noted as being more productive in the fruits of the soil than any part of Virginia. In point of social advantages it has no superior within the limits of the United States. Our population have every thing to attach them to home, health to enable hem to enjoy the gifts of Providence, a rich soil to fornish the means of innocent indulgence, and such a tone in the organization of society as to restrain hem within proper limits. The improvements upon this property are of the most substantial character, nearly all being new. They consist of a two story dwelling house and all the necessary out-buildings, &c. Any one desirous of purchasing would of course inspect for himself, and therefore a more minute description is unnecessary. This farm will be sold upon the most reasonable terms, and such as can no where else be obtained in this county, as the heirs are desirous of making a sale with a view to a division of the property.

Terms—One third of the purchase money will be required in hand and the balance of the payments will, in a great measure, be left to suit the convenience of the purchaser; with, however, the interest, from the day of the first payment, upon the unsettled oonds, and a deed of trust to secure the whole. Possession will be given in August to the purchaser to seed down a crop of small grain. Any communica-tion directed to me at Sutomit Point P. O., Jefferson county, Va., (post-paid,) will meet with prompt attention.

To the Public.

IN view of the apprehensions entertained respect-Ling the Cholera, it is to be presumed that almost very one will be desirous of having some Medicine upon which to rely in case of an entergency, or at least as a precautionary remedy, until professional aid can be obtained. Under this impression I have prepared from the very best materials a supply of Medicine after the following prescription which is doubtless well calculated to produce bene ficial results in Chotera or its premonitory symptoms and as the effect of a Medicine depends upon its purity. I confidently assure the public that in the preparation of this, none but the very best ingredients nave been used.

Spirits Cau phor, a each 2 ounces. Tincture Cayenne Pepper, 2 drachms, 1 opnce. Tincture Ginger. Essence L'eppermint, 2 ounces. 2 ounces. Hoffman's Anodyne. Mix all fogether. Dose, a table spoonful (in a little water) for an adult. This prescription is carried on nearly all the boats on the Western waters, and will check diarrhosa in ten minutes, and abate the other premonitory symptoms of cholera immediately. THOMAS S. BRYANT, Paymaster United States Army. Prepared and for sale hy ADAM YOUNG, Agent Hatrier-Ferry, June 28, 1849.

Daguerreotype Miniatures TAKEN IN THE BEST STYLIS BY EDWIN J. EVANS, Daguerrian Artist.

R OOMS at Capt. Jons Avis. evo doors feet of Ww. F. Loca's Store, where he will remain but a few days, for the purpose of taking unian ares by the improved Daguerrian profess.

The attention of all persons interested in procuring DAGUERREOTYPE LIKENESSES, of theraselves or friends, or copies from Ponraits, Minlatures, Paintings or Statuary, is particularly invited to my specimens. My arrangements are such, that I take a iniatures of children and adults instantly, and if deceased persons at their private residences. In style of execution and picturesque effect-in boldness of character and beauty of expression-in variety of size, and delicacy of lights and shadows-I shall aim at the highest perfection possible.

Instructions given, and Apparatus, Chemicals and Materials furnished.

PLEASE TO READ!! The superiority of my Likenesses is the result of my care in the arrangement throughout, particularly the light. I thus obtain a mild, delicate, pleasing eye, instead of a blotch of white, nearly or wholly covering the pupil; either giving it a wild, unnatural glare, ordestroying its lively appearance.
I blend artistically, my lights and shadows; and, when I color, avoid the harsh, cut, pattern-like outline, or semblance to a paper profile, or theorum.

My pictures of infants and children, being instantly taken, are invariably satisfactory, and generally very pleasing.

Miniatures taken in all kinds of weather.

N. B.—Editors and others will speak of me as they think best, or feel that my efforts merit. I shall not attempt to make any one believe mine the only work of the kind deserving credit; nor shall I ever collect, or publish a bombastic, humbugging card, bill or circular, containing a collection of my own written and paid for pulls, as "Openions of the Press," E. Important, to Farmers.

Gatlin's Patent Grain Brill. THE subscriber is now manufacturing this most I valuable implement of hust indry. These machines have been most thoroughly tested in Opio and Réons) tvania for planting Wheat Ric. Carn. Oats, Sec., and is so constructed as to drop any quantity per acre, and at any depth desired. It would almost be useless to relate the advantages of Drilling, over broadcast sowing. Experience has proven that at least 20 per cent more grain can be grown after the dril, with one fourth beaused, than proven that at least 20 per cent more grain can be grown after the dril, with one-fourth less seed, than after the broadcast sowing. The subscriber annexes some of the reasons for Drilling Wheat, given by those who have thoroughly tested the system.

1st. The seed is deposited with greater regularity, and at a proper depth.

2d. When deposited, it is covered and kept from the hirds for the birds, &c. 3d. It is not so linde to winter kill. The drill raises the ridges on each side of the row. These ridges cromble down by the action of the frost, and thus cover and nourish the young plants, and pre-vent them from being thrown out by freezing and thawing.

4th. The roots being deep, it is manifestly not so liable to injury by the drouth. 5th. It is not so liable to rust. And not so liable 6th. By the admission of the sun and air between the rows, a stronger and healthier plant is produced, and of course a heavier crop. 7th. By drilling, the farmer is enabled to have heavy crops on light land.

8th. It economises seed, and saves time, which is The undersigned could publish columns of testimonials of those who have tried the drill seeding; but he is willing to submit the claims of the system to Mr. George Eichelberger, of this county, whose field of Wheat, sown by the drill, will compare favorably with that of any other in the county, and from whom satisfactory information may be

It would be well for those who may desire to procure the machines to make known their wishes as early as possible. G. S. GARDNER. Charlestown, June 21, 1849.

$5 Reward. WILL give the above reward for such information as will enable me to prosecute to conviction, under the penal laws of the Commonwealth, the lawless depredators who passed through my farm, breaking and leaving in a shattered condition my fences, on the night of Monday, the 11th, or morning of Tuesday, the 12th inst. One of the fences was left down, and two others, enclosing a field of Wheat, were left in a condition to have been entered by any vagrant stock. I shall cause the law to be executed on all trespassers. A servant informed me that on Tuesday morning he saw five or six men on horseback with guns on my premises, but knew none at the distance he was from them-that one of the party was on a yellow horse.

HOBART'S WORLD-BEATER tooking Stores.

MAST at Harpers-Ferry from entire new patterns, ence are warranted to be better adapted to Virginia use than any other Stove-the plates are nearly twice as thick as those of the Eastern Stoves, and are proportionately strong consequently are not at all hable to injury either by heat or the carclessness of servants. These Stoves are provided with exery convenience for boiling, washing ironing broiling and trying, and have a much la ger oven for baking and roasting than any other stove. The arrange-ment of the furnace is such that although it admits long wood the consumption is very little as the heat passes in flues around the stove and is nearly all absorbed, the least amount possible being allowed to escape into the pipe and pa-s off The price of these Stoves is less than any other in proportion to the quantity of iron contained in them. The Stoves being made at Harpers-Ferry affind purchasers the facility of future repair near home as plates can at all tim s be produced there if needed. The Stoves are put up on trial and will be removed if not satisfactory.

Persons wishing to try a stove will please address BILLINGS HOBERT Charlestowa, Va. Also, on hand and for sale as above, ROSS' IRON CORN MILL, 23 00 for grinding corn in ear and other grain for stock

For Corn, Sugar Cane, Palatoes and Tobacco. THE undersigned begs leave to inform the agrichased the sole right of making and vending the above Plough, which can be metamorphosed into a great variety of shapes, by the transposition of its shares, which consists of a right and lett hand share. It finishes a row by once going brough, by throwing the director from the rows or plants, and can be arranged to suit any desirable width. Thus, any man and horse can plough eight or ten acres in a day, and perform the work in the most ad-nirable manner. This Celebrated Plough and Cultivator Complines the qualifications of performing double work in all branches of Agriculture for which it is recommended, with ease to the horse, and almost without any effort to the operator, by the adaptation of the shafts and the application of two or three shares at a time thus giving it the self-sustaining principle, which greatly recommend it to an enlightened public, sceaing the advancement of the

Its different modes of application are thus described: In furrowing, the ploughs can be applied for making two rows a a time. Then, in cross-furrowing, they can be ayranged to cover one row and furrow the next. JOSEPH G. HAYS, Harpers-Ferry;

Another Miraculous Cure. READ the following letter, and then, if you are troubled with any disease of the lungs, go and get a bottle of DR HASTINGS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPTHA ST. JOHNSVILLE, New York, Feb. 5, 1848. Mr. Harrison: Sir—I will trouble your patience a few minutes by informing you of the great triumph which your Naptha Symp has obtained in the case of my brother. He increased the dose as you directed, and the result was that he began to raise very freely. and it scented so badly that it was impossible to stay in the room where he was, on the fifth day after the increase of the dose. In a day or so after, he began to get better, and at this present time is quite revived, has a good appetite, and don't cough a quarter as much as he did previously. A severe cough and immense ex-pectoration were the prominent symptoms of the dis-case. I think his case was a singular one; none of the physicians here had ever heard or seen any thing of the kind before. I mention all these particulars, as I am firm in the belief that, had it not been for the Naptha Syrup, he could have expected nothing but a speedy grave, as there was an immense number of tubercles formed on his lungs, which the medicine took immediate hold of, and in a few days he threw them up by the quantity , some of them were as large as a hean, If he will need any more than the six bottles I now send for. Enclosed are five dollars. Direct the box as hefore to Jonas Snell. Care of Charles Kingsland, Railroad Depot. Yours respectfully, JONAS SNELL. After reading the above, who can doubt that Hastings' Naptha Syrup possesses all the virtue that is claimed for it.
