One eve of beauty, when the sun Was on the stream of Quadalquiver-To gold converting, one by one, The ripples of the mighty river-Beside me on the bank was scated A Seveille girl, with auburn hair, And eyes that might the world have cheated, A wild bright, wicked, diamond pair. She stooped and wrote upon the sand,

Just as the loving sun was going, With such a soft, small shining hand, You would have sworn 'twas silver flowing; Her words were three, and not one more; What could Diana's motto be? The syren wrote upon the shore, "Death! not inconstancy!" And then her two large languid eyes So turned on mine, the devil take me! I set the stream on fire with sighs, And was the fool she chose to make me:

As much the woman as the sand! LOVE.

Saint Francis would have been deceived

By such an eye and such a hand,

But one week more, and I be lieved

What a sad thing is love! To sit and think the livelong day, Of one, than your own heart's blood dearer To pass in sighs your nights away, Yet find your happiness no nearer. To keep your faith as pure as snow, To know your love has never falter'd, Then bide, unwarn'd, the rending blow Of smiles estrang'd, and fond tones alter'd. What a sweet thing is love!

To hold the dear one's yielded hand-Pass with her, hours of free communion, Whilst schemes of happiness are plann'd-The sweet reward of nearer union. She's blushing all the time, lov'd girl! Cheek, neck and brow the flood runs over. What can you do, but kiss that curl,

The absurdity of insti-tuting a claim for a wife whom death had already released from the jurisdiction of earthly laws, was so manifest that it was at length agreed by all to leave the matter to be adjudged by five referens. It was on a bright and beautiful afternoon in spring, when we met to hear the singular ase. The sualight streamed through the dusty windows of the court room, and shed a halo around the long grey locks and broad forehead of the defendant; while the plainiff s barsh features were still thrown into holder relief, by the same beam which softened the placed countenance of his adversary.

The plantiff's lawyer made a most cloquent appeal for his client, and had we not been informed about the matter, our hearts would have been melted by his touching description of the return on the lesolate husband, and the agony with which he now beheld his house hold goods removed to consecrate a stranger's hearth. The celebrated Aaron Burr was counsel for the defendant, and we anticipated from him a splendid display of oratory.

Contrary to our expectations, however. Burr made no attempt to confute his opponent's oratory. He merely opened a book of statutes, and pointing with his thin finger to one of the pages, desired the referees to read it, while he retired for a moment to bring in the principal witness. We had scarcely finished the section which fully decided the matter in our minds, when Burr re-entered with a tall and elegant female leaning on his arm. She was attired in a simple white dress, with a wreath of ivy leaves encircling her large straw bonnet, and a face veiled completely concealing her countenance. Burr whispered a few words, apparently encouraging her to advance, and then gracefully raising her veil disclosed to us a face of proud, surpassing beauty. I recollect as well as if it happened yesterday, how imultaneously the nurmur of admiration urst from the lips of all present. Turning to the plaintiff, Burr asked in a cold, quiet tone— "Do you know this lady?"

Ans.-"I do." Burr-"Will you swear to that?" Ans .- "I will; to the best of my knowledge and belief she is my daughter." Burr-"Can you swear to her identity? Ans _ "I can."

Burr-"What is ber age?" Ams .- "She was thirty years old on the 20th day of April." Burr-"When did you last see her?" Ans .- "At her own house about a fortswer at length was-"On the 14th day of May, 17-" "When she was just three weeks old," added Burr. "Gentlemen," continued he, turning to us, "I have brought this lady here as an important witness, and such, I think, she is. > PROFESSIONAL MEN.-We hope that the time is coming, when the example of such men as Ogden and Johnson will be adopted by our young professional men, and that they will look to their own energies and to their own professions for success and honor, rather than to the uncertain pursuit and ephemeral fame of the politician. There may be less notoriety in such a course; but there will be more independence, self-respect and happiness There may be more labor; but its returns will be sweeter than fickle applause won by flattery and intrigue. BOOKS FOR THE FIRE.

Young readers-you whose hearts are open, whose funderstandings are not yet hardened, and whose feelings are neither exhausted nor encrusted by the world-take from me a better rule than any professors of criti-cism will teach you. Would you know whether the tendency of a book is good or evil, examine in what state of mind you lay it down. Ifas it induced you to suspect, that what you have been accustomed to think unlawful, may, after all, be innocent, and that, that may be harmless which you have hither-to been taught to think dangerous? Has it tended to make you satisfied and impatient under the control of others; and disposed you to relax in that self government, without which both the laws of God and man tell us there can be no virtue, and consequently no happiness? Has it attempted to abate your admiration and reverence for what is great of your country and fellow-creatures? Has it addressed itself to your pride, your vanity, your selfishness, or any other of your evil propensities? Has it defiled the imagination with what is loathsome, and shocked the heart with what is montrous? Has it disturbed the sense of right and wrong which the effects that it was intended to produce throw the book in the fire, whatever may be the title page! Throw it in the fire, young a friend! Young lady, away with the whole set, though it should be the prominent furniture of a resewood book case .- Southey.

COMPENSATION. We believe there is a "compensation" in the life of nearly every man in this world. Ruminating homeward through Hudson street the other afternoon, in the neighborhood of St. John's Square, we encountered a stalwart young man, of eighteen or twenty. with his arm thrust through an iron cogwheel, whose upper rim seemed deeply to inhazel; his cheeks were flushed with the hue of health; the day was intensely hot; the perspiration streamed from his brow, beneath his broad straw hat; but he walked, notwithstanding his load, with an alert step. While we were nearing him, a splendid carriage with richly caparisoned blood-horses, rolled indolently by; and we could plainly read in his countenance, as he looked at the sumptuous vehicle, that he was contrasting his own condition with that of its more favored inmates. Ah! if he had known all as we did. There was a helpless invalid for life on one. seat of that carriage, who would have "be; stowed all her goods to feed the poor," could she have been insured for a single year, the health of the toiling artizan who was at that moment envying her condition. And on another seat was a man rich in "worldly gear," who was a victim to misanthropy; who "lieth down and rise in up in the bitterness of spirit. and never eateth with pleasure." There is a "compensation," even in this world.

THE CHURCH LOAFER. visited, we have discovered a class of bipeds whose distinguishing trait of character is comprehended under the term of "church loafers." Your gennine church loafer is rarely over twenty years of age. He generally patronizes with his presence the Methodist Churches. These gentry generally assemble in great numbers in front of the church, about a half hour before the commencement of the services, and form a lane through which all comers have to pass, subject to the critical remarks, upon persons and apparel, of these shameless assailants .-The church loafer is generally dressed in flashy brass buttons, long soap locks, and a hat set jauntingly upon the bump of combativeness. Add to these personal attractions, a countenance expressive of the 'one idea' of assurance and impudence, and you have the church losfer in your mind's eye -After the service has fairly commenced, the fraternity enter, one at a time, at intervals of one minute, walk up the steps and through the gallery as though animated by a scientific desire to ascertain how much sound car be extracted from the contact of wood and sole leather. Before the service is quite ended the loafer leaves his seat, and rushes brethren, who again marshal themselves into the human lane through which the dismissed congregation are to pass, subject to a variation of the remarks before alluded to.

A NEW FACT DISCLOSED.

We were not aware until recently, that the books of newspaper publishers are consulted to quite a large extent, by people in business, to ascertain the pecuniary standing She drew her veil hastily around her as with the idea. James J. Jarvis, Esq. of Boston, who was a passenger in the steamer Grescent City, and who left San Francisco on the 20th June, in the steamer Panama, communicated some interesting facts in regard to the state of things in California, which are not furnished by the newspapers. The number of arrivals of passengers at San Francisco in June, by sea, was about 1000 per week. By land at the mines, from Lower California, Sonora, Durargo, and Mexico generally, the immigration is computed at 15,000, with many thousand mule loads of merchandise, which has thus found its way into California, duty free, to the great dissatisfaction of the seaheard Lierchants. Coin was scarce at San Francisco, being absorbed at the Custom house for duties .-The average price of gold dust was $15.50 to $16 per ounce. Parting Address of the State Prisoners.

Previous to the departure of the late insurrectionists, they placed in the hands of a mutual friend the following address to their fellow countrymen: "FELLOW COUNTRYMEN :- If your efforts to procure a mitigation of the peralties to which we are about to be subjected had been as successful as you desired, we could not have offered to you more sincere acknowledgements than those which we now tender for the sympathy and solicitude which you have displayed in our behalf.

We are compelled to repress even the emotions which we feel in reflecting upon the awful condition in which we leave the land we have deeply loved; nor is this a fitting occasion to point out the means by which its disasters may be repaired; but we cannot refrain from the expression of a hope that you will not despair of your country; and we may be permitted to offer to our fellow countrymen a parting exhertation that they will lay aside those unhappy dissensions which have so long paralyzed the intrinsic strength of the Irish nation, and henceforth learn to love

Even those who most condemn our conduct, know that we have not been animated by considerations of a personal nature in bazarding all that was dear to us for the sake of our native land; but we owe it to our feelings to declare that, whatever may be the sacrifices we incur by devotion to its interests, our latest aspiration will be a prayer for the prosperity, the honor, and inde-

BOILING POTATOES.

A correspondent of the London Times, says: "The following method of dressing potatoes, will be found to be of great service at this season of the year when the skins are tough and watery. Score the skins of the potato with a knife lengthways and across quite round, and then put the potato in plenty of water with salt, with the skins on. The skin readily cracks where it is scored, and lets out the moisture, which otherwise renders the potato soapy and wet. The improvement to bad potatoes by this method of boiling is very great, and all who have tried it find a great advantage in it, now that good potatoes are very difficult to be obtained."

BUTTER MAKING.

Butter ought never to be churned in an apartment where the temperature is above sixty degrees. "At this point butter," observes an able writer, "is obtained in the greatest quantity, and at fifty-two degrees, of the best quality. These facts are of high practical importance to those interested in dairy economy." Another important matter to be attended to in the manipulation of butter is the freeing it thoroughly from the butter-milk. This should be done by means of a ladle, and not by the hands, which should never come in contact with the butter, especially when the weather is hot.

Dr. Anderson's recipe for the preservation of butter has often been published, but as many of our readers may not have seen it, we insert it here as affording the best practical directions on a subject eminently de serving the careful consideration of every one. We give it verbatim et literatim :-"Best common salt, two parts; salt petre, one part; sugar, one part; put them up together, so that they may be completely blended. To every pound, or sixteen ounces of butter, add one ounce of the composition. Mix it well with the mass, and close it up

"The defalcation, whatever be its amount, was not occasioned by robbery, but by the commercial embarrassment of a house in Richmond, which was to transmit the government funds to Mr. Denby in France, and that house was ruined because of the ruin which the revolution in France has brought down upon the house there to which the Richmond house had made its consignments .-The drafts were returned protested from France, and Mr. Denby's draft shared a similar fate. Such is the account which we have heard of this transaction; and we do not liesitate to express our firm conviction, that is spite of the precipitate and illiberal libels of the Republic and the Patriot, the transaction will leave no stain upon the integrity of Kathaniel Denby, however liable he may be la law on his official bond."

We know Mr. Denby, have a personal regard for him, and certainly feel willing to let his friends make every pulliation they can. We are free to sav it was not his fault; but the attempt of our astute heighbor of the "Spirit," to liken it to the case of the robbery from one of the boxes of the Post Office at Washington is decidedly funny.

The facis seem to be these: Mr. Denby, who was a good Democrat and clever fellow, had failed in mercantile business at Richmond. President Tyler gave him the fat place of Navy Agent at Marseilles; but being unable to give the heavy secarity required, ($200,000,) Col. Osborne, another claver Democrat and active business man, agreed to before of the securities, and to get others, on condition that he should have the handling of the money. To this the government assented, large amounts were drawn by Col. Osborne, as home agent of Mr. Denly, and lost, in the manner Col. O. himself desouthes. We make an extract from his Card. After stating that he is one of Mr. Denby's securities,

It is also true, I acted as Agent for Mr. Denby in this country, and as such, received and distursed large amounts for him .-These monies I received as his Agent, paying interest for them, and consequently, as would be inferred from this circumstance, and also by express understanding, had the we of the funds until called for. All these foods were in the hands of various European and American houses; and in consequence of their failures, my losses were so great, as to involve my whole estate in ruin, and leave me destitute. The moment I ascertained my fate was inevitable, I remitted back $50 .-000; all the funds I had, and which I could control, to the Treasury Department, which I presume has been audited; and have reserved, and shall pay to the proper party out of my assets, the same pro rata amount I am able to pay to my other creditors. This is all I can do now, though I do not despair, if my life is prolonged, to discharge all my indebtedness. I admit it is an unfortunate affair, but one which I neither anticipated nor could prevent; but I have yet to ascertain that there was in these transactions any impropriety. I have submitted all my documents to friends and opponents, and am ready to submit them to any tribunal, with a perfect confidence my integrity can in no wise be impugued by honest judges."

no intention to do wrong, and that the defalcation was occasioned by the failure of various European and American houses, the question still arises, was there nothing improper in having the government money used in the manner described? The only way to bring these matters to the test, is to "tarn out" a few more of the disbursers of public with good intentions." Nobody intended to rob the government. O no! It was only designed to use Uncle Sans's funds for private benefit.

"FOUNDLINGS AND SALT BOILERS."

Under this head, the Richmond Republican has a capital piece of satire in reference to the complaints of Gen. Thompson, of Wheeling, on account of his removal from the office of U. States Attorney for the District of Western Virginia. Now we must say that we feel some regret at Gen. Thompson's removal, for we have a high personal regard for him; but as he belongs to the Rotation Party, he ought to submit gracefully. His letter to Thomas Ewing exhibited a little too much temper. He ought to have been more patient. It is not pleasant, we admit, to give up a good place-an honorable position-but then, if the General truly believes in the potency and infallibility of Democracy, he must expect to some to the "top of the pot" after a while, and higher honors are in store for him. ## SINGULAR INCREDULITY.

We regret to perceive, on the part of the late offiial paper, a strange unwillingness to admit the evidence of a truth and the force of a manifest fact .-It insists upon it that its party is not dead, nor in the process of dissolution. Possibly it might confess to the premonitory symptoms, but it denies the collapse. Our own intimations on that point, delicately given, are repelled; and the absolute declaration of John Van Buren, to the effect that the democratic party, "as such," to quote the expressive words of a Mississippi Senator, is now dissolved, treated with equal disregard. The "Union" goes so far as to call the junior VAN BUREN a Holspur. The readers of Swift will remember the lamenta ele case of one Mr. Parthinge, of almanac celebrity, whose death being predicted according to the rules of his own astrological calculations, and afterwards announced as predicted, the unfortunate man labored for some years to convince the public that he was not dead, and at length got into such a state that he had some trouble to satisfy himself on hat point. We begin to feel a little concern for our respected cotemporary in this relation. It reuses to be convinced of its true condition-and that, too, in the face of SHAKSPEARE's authority who declares the general principle of actual or prospective dissolution "when the brains are out." But it is difficult to convince one against his will and a tenacity of life is a common characteristic-especially among politicians. Not wishing, however, to hold any points of special issue on this subject with the late official, we are willing to propose a corapromise, viz: that if it absolutely and positively denies that the democratic party, as such, is defunct, and will still maintain that it is not dissolved, Mr. John Van Bunen to the contrary notwithstanding, then we may go so far as to admit that the said party does exist, like a polypus cut in-Well, admit all that is here stated, that there was to many pieces, each segment having an individual life of its own, and forming by degrees a new polypus. This is the extent to which our admis-

No where in the country is there a journal so conversant with the dialect of detraction, or possessed of a more ample vocabulary of abuse .-Like Inco, it is nothing if not critical. Its highest privilege of judgment is to condemn; it knows canor only in its perversion; and estimates the freedom of the press because of the facilities it affords for the circulation of calumnies. Let it keep to its vocation. It were a pity to spoil so good a railer. Let it go on to give new illustrations in the art of sinking, and to show that in the lowest depth of the sphere of demagogues there is still a lower deep unapproached by any but itself. Thus, if it should not be able to demonstrate to the general satisfaction that its party is alive, it may at least be enabled to Cravens the free soil full. The machine is to be patented, but we fear the inventor aims at too much. The Enquirer says: "From the work performed by the miniature specimen which we examined, we have no doubt it will accomplish all it proposes to accomplish. The advantages of this machine consist in an abolition of that killing labor, the cradling of a wheat crop in hot weather; the further labor of hauling, threshing, fanning, &c. All is accomplished by the ma-chine in the field. It is so constructed that it does not matter whether the ground be smooth or rugged. whether it have stumps or not, the machine will perform its office with a skill which we are told astonishes every one that has witnessed its operation. Mr. Rembert has made full experiments, and contrasted the work of the machine with his best eradles to be procured with the very best men in the country, and the result of a strict examination was that the cutters left five heads of grain where the machine left one! Another advantage:- The machine takes only the head of the wheat, and leaves the straw standing to partially protect the soil from the burning heat of the summer's sun, and when the plough is introduced, to be turned under, and pay back at least a part of the tribute which it had levied upon the soil. This invention, if true, is only one grade above that of the Threshing Machine invented by Mr ELISHA S. SNYDER, of this county. His machine threshes, cleans and bags, all at the same time, and does its work well and expeditiously. It is no doubt the best invention of the sort now in existence.

THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE .- The number of patents issued from the U.S. Patent Office during the week ending July 31st, was twelve, being for improvements in ploughs; movable breeches for firearms and locks; machines for pegging boots and shoes; valves of rotary engines; signal lauterns; machines to beat and brush carpets; paring, slicing and coring apples; apparatus for filtering water; bee-hives; process for hardening metals; and improvement in equalizing the action of gearing in horse power.

FREAKS OF A FEMALE. - The N. Y. Mirror gives a letter from Saratoga Springs describing the appearance and narrating the doings of a young lady, who had been figuring at that place and at Balston in male apparel, under the name of Mr. Uriah Baden; delighting mamas and captivating daughters, exhibiting no small share of genius and learning, and cossessing great conversational powers. Her career, lowever, had been cut short by the arrival of her father and mother, who took Miss Brazen home.

LATEST FROM THE PLAINS .-- Advices from For Kearney to the 3d June have been received. We learn that the tide of emigration had ceased. Twenty thousand persons and sixty thousand animals had passed between Fort Kearney and Fort Hall. The grass was found to be unusually fine, and in great abundance, but it was feared that a scarcity would be experienced in the mountains.

Campbell, of Nashville, Tenn .- formerly Secretary of the U.S. Treasury-and daughter of the late Benjamin Stoddard, of Maryland, the first Secretary of the U.S. Navy, died of cholera at Guyandotte, Va., on the 17th of July. Mrs. C. was traveling from her residence in Nashville to the Virginia Springs, accompanied by her son and daughter.

ANOTHER CALIFORNIA COMPANY .- A company of athletic and hardy-looking men, about 25 in number. passed through Winchester on the 1st instant, from Westmoreland county, bound for California. They were well armed with rifles, and in other respects prepared for hard service. They must be very industrious indeed, if they get over the Rocky Mountains before winter sets in.

DEATHS AT FREDERICK .- James Larned, Esq , late chief clerk in the office of First Comptroller of the Treasury, died, a few days since, at Frederick, Md. . . Carren Jacob week. He was commander of a regiment at Bladensburg in the last war with Great Britain, which distinguished itself for the TROOPS FOR FLORIDA .- Orders have been received by Major Loud, commanding at Savannah, to have his command in readiness to move at a moment's warning to Florida. Gov. Mosely, of Florida, has also issued orders for the raising of two companies of mounted men to repair to the scene of the late STACK YARD BURNING .- The Leesburg Washing-

ADVERTISING.

It is said quite often, " O, people do not read advertisements." "Every body knows what we keep." Do they? Here is a case in point. Some friends of ours, who gave us us the opportunity to prove the truth or falsity of these assertions; consequently, in the kindness of our heart, we gave them the bene it of a couple of squares free gratis, for nothing at all. But it so happened, whether designedly or net we will not say, that in drawing up the advertisement we inserted some articles which were not upon their shelves. The constant call for these very artic es became so very annoying after a time. that we were requested to suppress the advert sement. We did so, of course; though we could see no reason for suppressing a por-tion of a column which ha body reads.

The character of this work was very much admired, and it was acknowledged on all hands that no other in this country can surpass it so far as permanence and dorability are concerned. # HARPERS-FERRY FEMALE SEMINARY

The Annual Examination of the pupils in this fastitution took place on the 20th inst. The follow-REPORT OF THE EXAMINING COMMITTEE. The undersigned, having been invited to attend and assist at the annual examination of the pupils of the Female Seminary of Harpers-Ferry, under the charge of Miss Mania Fellows, had very great pleasure in accepting that invitation, and still greater in conducting the examination, and noting the evident advancement made by the young ladies in the studies to which their attention had been directed. The examination was held on Friday the 20th inst, commeteing at & o'clock, A. M., and continu ing (with the intermission of the noon hour,) unti 6. P. M. In so short a time it was not possible to give so wide a range to it as we might have desired, and as we are sure the attainments of the young ladies would have justified. But, when it is remembered that antil a year ago, no school of a high grade for the education of females has ever existed in our village, and that consequently such an examination as this, was an entire novelty to the pupils, and therefore in some degree embarrassing, we think we may well be permitted to say it was not only interesting, but highly satisfactory. While it has been the object of the accomplished and industrious Principal to confer upon those com-mitted to her tuition, all the graces and ornaments of a polite education, we were gratified to find that she had been far from unmindful of what are the more common, but substantial branches of female scholarship. We have good reason to know that the ordinary branches of reading, writing, arithmetic, &c., had received that attention which their importance as elementary studies deserves. In our examination in the science of numbers, we were not satisfied with barrly seeing them perform certain mathematical operations, but were careful to ascertain so far as we could, that the principle upon which the science is based had been impressed upon their minds. Hence, we required a reason for all that they wrought upon the black-board, and the result was a firm persuasion that they understood the subject, and were much more than mere automatons in the matter. We scarcely know how to express our gratification with the manner in which the classes in Physiology and Natural Philosophy acquitted them selves during the somewhat protracted and by no means slight examination to which they were subjected. It was pleasant to witness how much of knowledge these young Misses had acquired on subjects generally regarded as abstruse and difficult. Their teacher seemed to have led them into the very arcana of nature and philosophy, and made them acquainted with many of their mysteries. Though it is sometimes the case, that pupils such as those of whom these classes were composed, are by dint of constant training, so drilled that they can give parrot-like answers to the questions that have been previously prepared, and with which they have been made acquainted, yet such was not the case in the present instance. Miss Fellows had trained them, it is true, but it was to know both the books they tudied and the subjects treated in them. We could have desired that the examination on English Grammar had been more satisfactory. But whether from timidity arising from the presence of so many spectators, or some other cause, the young ladies failed to answer several of the questions which were asked. It may be that the examiners were not happy in their manner of proposing their inquiries. Howbeit, we are fully convinced that of Woollen fabries, weighing seven thousand several of the pupils failed on this branch who are and thirty pounds, and valued at upwares of much better acquainted with the subject than they $5,000! We put a note of exclamation to neared to be on this occasion. The examination upon the subject of Geography followed next. It gratifies us to be able to express the opinion, that the young ladies manifested that they had not been idle or inattentive students. With the principle; upon which this important branch of education is founded, it was apparent to us that they had been made well acquainted. Circumstances did not permit an examination upon Astronomy, although we were given to understand that such an exercise would have been quite creditable to the students as well as interesting to those who were

The improvement of the young ladies who had levoted attention to the science of Chemistry, was quite evident. Here, as well as in all other cases, uestions were proposed that were intended to bring out the knowledge they had acquired of the subject itself. They were made to rely more upon their own minds, than upon their memory of the questions and answers contained in the books they had studied. With "Watts on the Improvement of the Mind, the most of those belonging to that class showed that they had become well acquainted. Although this is a dry and uninteresting study to young persons, yet it was apparent to us that Miss Fellows had succeeded in investing it with much interest to their minds. Scarcely was a single question proposed that was not answered with great readiness and accuracy. Compared with other branches, this examination was continued for a long while, but turing the whole of it the pupils sustained themselves well-and it is thought that the attention of the audience continued unabated.
much more brief. Still it was sufficiently protracted to show that proper attention had been bestowed We shall not err if we say that the members of that class did well. Their exami nation clearly indicated that they had entered with delight and arder into the floral kingdom, and made themselves acquainted with the construction and properties of the various plants. These young ladies who had given attention to he study of the French language were found to have made considerable advancement in that polite accomplishment. With great readiness, they translated sentences which were given them, from French into English, and from English into French. Their pronunciation of the latter language, when reading Telemague, was not so perfect as might have been desired, but sufficiently so to evince that they had been well taught so far as they had advanced; and, with proper attention hereafter, will make good The young ladies afforded us another gratifying illustration of their ability. Quite a number of essays, on various subjects, were read before the delighted hearers. And we were thus enabled to form an opinion, not only of their skill in comp sition, but also of their acquirement of that qualification so frequently undervalued and so seldom attained, but which is of such primary importance, a correct and graceful elocution. To Miss Many VIRGINIA MONBOE the Principal awarded a beauti ful volume as the premium for Reading, because she had made the greatest improvement in that respect during the session.

We had the pleasure of listening to several fine pieces of excellent Music, executed in the most admirable manner by such of the pupils as had been instructed in that delightful accomplishment. learned from the Principal, however, that to Miss ELIZABETH KELLER must be awarded the merit of superior attainment in this science. Her progress, according to the testimony of the Principal, has been astonishing.

At the close of these interesting exercises, we were made acquainted with the fact that an accurate account of the general demeanor of the pupils ad been kept from the time of their admission into the Seminary-a custom which we cannot too highly approve nor too strongly recommend to universal nitation. From the reading of this statement we learned that Miss MARY JANE ROSINA KILHAM stood highest upon the conduct list, and surpassed the senior members of the institution in her various studies. We were assured, however, that this superiority was owing pot so much to her greater natural abilities as to that commendable punctuality which had marked her whole course. We should not discharge our daty, nor indeed comply with the demands of sheer justice, if we did not express our decided be lef that every thing considered, the vounger scholars far surpassed the older ones in the readiness and accuracy of their answers in their departments; and we advert to this fact to show the importance of teaching children, in very early life, to apply themselves to the acqui-In conclusion, the undersigned heartily embrace the opportunity thus afforded to commend the " Harpers-Ferry Female Seminary," and its amiable and talented Principal, to the continued patronage and support of our fellow-citizens. HARPEES-FERRY, July 24, 1849.

NO BODY DID IT.

It seems that nobody has plundered the Treasury in Mr. Denby's case, and yet there are $155,000 gone. Mr. Denby is not to blame-of course not; for though he is "technically" liable, he never received the money. Mr. Osborne is not to blame; for though he bad the money, he had also the privilege of speculating with it (!) and it has all gone to the receptacle of things lost upon earth, though a dirulend is hinted at for the benefit of the United States. Judge Mason is not implicated, though he was Secretary of the Navy, and Mr. Denby was his temporary agent at Marseilles receiving a commission of 42 per cent. on his advances and on his disbursements, as we learn from the Blue Book But this large commission was not enough for one of the clite of the distinguished Democrate of Righmond. In addition to that commission, it seems that it was a part of the hargain that Mr. Henby, or, what is the same thing, Mr. D.'s agent, should have the privilege of venturing all his Govern-ment deposites in commercial speculations.

Now, so far from there being nobody impli-

THE ELITE DEMOCRACY.

The quarrel between Mr. Ritchie and the Van Burens is likely to reveal some curious points of secret history. In a late number of the Union we find a paragraph, which develops the modus operandi, by which Van Buren was defeated of the nomination in 1844. An elite party of the most distinguished Democrats of Richmond, held meeting in some tavern on Shockoe Hill and concerted measures to effect their end It was the Richmond Junto against the Albany Regency-and the latter were nicely juggled. It appears that the editor of the Union then of the Enquirer in a very bungling way, advised Van Buren and Wright of the scheme on foot. These last, instead of profiting by the information, and taking steps to counterplot, for once, lost their cunning, and gave way to their indignation. Mr. Wright, in reply, informed Mr. Ritchie that "it was an act he should rue to the last day of his life." That threat was enough to stimulate the Richmond Junto to unwant ed exertions. It told them that the success of Van Buren was the death warrant to all their hopes of the spoils. Van Buren was the favorite of the majority of the Party To circumvent that majority, the 2-3ds rule was adopted, and " Van was a used up man"

The "facored families" reaped some rich fruits by the success of that intrigue. Mr. Polk was elected, and they had a full streep at the public treasury. At the lowest call culation, and exclusive of the $277,000 . year, which fell to the Union, they have received annually from the federal treasury not less than $100,000. The great mass of the Democratic party have received none of this sum. They have derived no particular benefit from the success of their party. The whole profits have been confined to few favored families, and their immediate dependants. It is these interested parties, who are now raising the cry of proscription, and urging the removal of every State officer. When they get the masses to concur, they will hold another meeting of the eite, and make a proper distribution of the loaves and fishes among themselves .- Rich. Whig.

MANUFACTURES IN FREDERICK COUNTY -Woollen manufactures are on a more extensive and solid footing among us than is usually supposed. We are informed that Messre. A. J. & G. H. Griffith, of the Brookland Factory, on Abram's Creek, two miles from Winchester, sent off by Railroad on Wed. nesday last, two hundred and forty-seven rolls this, because it is a novelty. Why should it be a novelty? Have we not inexhaustible waterpower, and Yankee enterprise and innumerable markets at hand? And above all have not our farmers facilities for growing wool of every quality and in almost any quantity ?- Winchester Virginian.

ELITE DEMOCRACY .- The senior editor of the Union gives us a little of the "secret history" of political movements, previous to the party's cutting loose from Van Buren. It seems that when the "elite of the Democracy in Richmond," determined to let Van Buren go by the board, the then editor of the Richmond Enquirer wrote to Mr. Silas Wright & letter informing him of their purpose, which we are now informed, was received "with a bad grace" by Mr. Wright, who replied, that "it was an act which he (Mr. Ritchie) should rue to the last day of his life"!! Ever since then, Mr. R. says, he has never been forgiven by the Van Buren clique. - Alex. Gaz.

Accident.-One day last week, Mr. Ebenezer Marshall, of this County, had his right hand dreadfully mangled by a Threshing Meessary. The operation was performed in two hours after the accident occurred, by Drs. Fisher and Waddell .- S. Spectator.

SARSAPARILLA. Wonder and Blessing of the Age. The most extraordinary Medicine in the World. This Extract is put up in Quart Bottles; it is an times cheaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures disease without comiting, parging, rickening or debilitating the Patient. The great heavity and superiority of this Sursaparil-lu over all office Medicines is, while it erad-tates dis-ness, it insignates the body. It is one of the very best SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINES ever known; it not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it creates, new, pure and sich cloud; a power possessed by no other Med-icine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the lustive years, more than one hundred thousand cures of severe cases of disease, at least, 50,000 were considered incurable. It has saved the lives of more than 15,000 children the three parl seasons. 100,000 cases of General Debility and want of Nervous Energy.

Da. S. P. Townsand's Sarsaparilla invigorates the Dn. S. P. Towssen's Sarsaparilla invigorates the whole system permanently. To those why have but their muscular energy, by the effects of medicine, or indiscretion committed in youth, or the excessive indulgence of the passions, and brought or ly physical prostration of the nervous system, lassitude, want of ambition, fainting sensations, premature decay and decline, hastoning toward that fatal disease. Consumption, can be entirely restored by this pleasant remedy. This Sarsaparilla is far superior to any INVIGORATING CORDIAL,

As it renews and invigorates the system, gives activity to the limbs, and strength to the muscular system in a most extraordinary degree. Consumption Cured.

Cleanse and Strengthen. Consumption crni be cured. Bronchitts, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Colds, Catanth, Coughs, Andrea, Spitting of Blood, Sore-ness in the Chest, Heelie Flush, Night Sweats, Dificult or Profuse Expectoration, Poin in the Side, $c., have been and can be cured.

Spitting Blood. Dn. S. F. Townsann-I verily believe your Sarsaparilla has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life. I have for several years had a bad Cough. It became worse and worse. At last I raised large quantities of blood, had night sweats, and was greatly debilisted and reduced, and did not expect to live. I have only used your Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has a wonderful change been wrought in me. I am now able to walk all over the city. I raise no blood, and my cough has left me. You can well inagine that I am thankful for these results. Your obedient servant. WM RUSSEI, 65 Catherine-st.

Fits! Fits!! Fits!! Da. S. P. Townsand, not having tested his Saras-parills in case of Fits, of course, never recommended it and was surprised to receive the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Westchester Fordham, August 13, 1847. Da. S. T. Townsenn-Dear Sir: I have a little girl, seven years of uge, who has been several years afflicted with Fits; we tried almost every thing for adheted with Fits; we tried almost every thing for her, but without success; at last, although we could find no recommendation in your circulars for cases like hers, we thought, as she was in very delicate health, we would give her some of your Sarsaparilla, and are glad we cid, for it not only restored her strength, but she has had no return of the Fits, to cur very great pleasure and surprise. She is fast becoming rugged and healthy for which we feel grateful.

Yours respectfully, JOHN BUTLER, Ja.

Female Medicines.; D. S. P. Towerspla Sarsanarilla is a severeign and speedy cure for Incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb, Continents, Piles, Leucorrhos, or White, obstructed or difficult Menatruation, Incontinence of Urine, or indifficult Menatuation, Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of inherent cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame.
Persène all weakness and lassitude from taking it, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteract, the nervelessness of the female frame, which is the grent cause of Barranass. It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreads of cases have been reported to us. Thousands of eaces where families have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable Medicine, have been blessed with fine, healthy offspring.

Great Blessing to Mothers and Children. Great Blessing to Mothers and Children.

It is the salest and most effectual medicine for purifying the system, and relieving the sufferings attendant upon childbirth ever discovered. It strengthens both the mother and the child pievents pain and disease, increases and enriches the food; those who have used it think it is indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents diseases effendant upon child-birth-in Costiveness, Piles, Cramps, Swelling of the Fack, Despondency, Heartburn, Vomiting, Pain in the Fack and Lions, Faise Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the accretions and equalizing the circulation, it has no equal. The great beauty of this medicine is, it is always safe, and the most delicate use it most successfully, very few cases require any other medicine, in some a little Caster Oil, or Magnesia is useful. Exercise in the open air, and light food with this medicine, will always secure a safe and easy confinement.

Rheumatism. It is the salest and most effectual medicine for Rheumatism. Blackwell's Island, Sept. 14, 1847. DR. S. P. Towsens Dear Sir: I have suffered ter-ribly for nine years with the Rhoumatism; considera-ble of the time I could not eat, sleep or walk. I had the utmost distressing pains, and my limbs were terribly swollen. I have used four bottles of your Sarsaperfilla, and they have done me more than one thousand dollars worth of good, I am so much better—indeed I am entirely relieved. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Yours respectfully, JAMES CUMMINGS.

The Rev. John Seger Of Jersey City, an old and highly respectable clergy-man of the Baptist Denomination, handed in the fol-lowing certificate at Dr. S. P. Townsend's office. It speaks for itself. Dr. S. P. Towssesn-Dear Sir : I am constrained : give you a statement of the benefit I derived from using your Sarsaparilla, believing, by so doing, shall render a benefit to those who are suffering as I shall render a benefit to those who are suffering as I have been. I was reduced for many months by the Dyspepsia, so much that it was with much difficulty for me to walk or keep about. I had also a tetter, which covered the most part of my head—which was excremely troublesome and soje; it got to be almost a meab. I used quite a number of remedies for both the complaints, but received little or no benefit, until I wok your Sursaparilla, which, through the kindness of Providence, has restored me to more than my usual bealth as I am now enjoying better than I have for a health, as I am now enjoying better than I have for number of years. I am now 60 years of age. I be lieve it to be an invaluable medicine, and recommenit to my numerous acquaintences, which is very large, as I have been a minister a great many years. I hope this hasty sketch may be as much benefit to you as your medicine has to me. July 11, 1847. JOHN SEGER, Jersey City.

Methodist Clergyman. The following was sent to our Agent in Rehway, by the Rev. J. O. TUNISON, of the Methodist Episco pai Church-one of the most learned and respected in the connection-and is another evidence of the wonderful effects of Dr. S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla or derful effects of Dr. S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla or the system.

Frieron Franson—Having for some time past, as you are aware, experienced great teneral debility of my system, attended with constant and alarming irritation of my throat and lungs. I was, at your instance, and in consequence of having read Captain McLean's decided testimony in its behalf, induced to try Dr. S. P. Townsend's finefamed Sarsaparilla. I tried it, I confess, more in the hope than in the confidence of its proving efficacious; but I am bound in candor now to acknowledge, that I had not tried it long before I began to experience its alutary effects; and I may now say, with Captain McLean, "that I would not be without it on any consideration." It has done me mere good than any previous remedy I have tried, and if this statement is deemed by you of any importance, you have my full consent to make it public. ou have my full consent to make it public.
Rahway, August 3d, 1847. J. O. TUNISON.

SCROFULA CURED. This certificate conclusively proves that this Sarsa-parilla has perfect control over the most obstinate diseases of the blood. Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented.

Three Children. Dn. S. P. Towsexen—Dear Sir: I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scribilla by the use of your excellent medicine. They were afficient very severely with oad Sores; have taken only four bottles; it took them away, for which I feel myself under great obligation. Very remeetfully. obligamoa. Very respect ISAAC W. Harpers Ferry, June 18, 1819,

IF you are sick, get cured; if well, employ mea-in habits, which must, to a greater or lesser extent, dis-arrange the admirable and intricate combinations which form the system, and consequently EVERY INDI-VIDUAL should possess some mild, yet efficacious, simple and accredited agent for preserving all the functions of the body in good order. Dr. Sweetser's Panacea will achieve this result, and should be in every family, and in the hands of every person, who by business, profession or general course of life, is predisposed to the very many little ailments that render life a curse, instead of a blessing, and finally result, in their aggregated condition, in the cause of Death. For Eruptions of the Skin, Scurvy, Scorbutic Affections, Tumors, Scrofula or King's Evil, White Swellings, Erysipelas, Ulcers, Cancers, Running Sores, Scabs and Biles, time and a determined perseverance in Dr. Sweetser's Panacea, will effect a cure.

Avery important Communication

TO ALL PERSONS IN ALL PLACES.

Under all Circumstances.

For Indigestion, Rejection of Food, Nausea, Vomitings, Nervous Affections, Bilious complaints. Head ache, Paleness or Female Irregularities, Dr. Sweetser's Panacea will sooneffect a cure; but if obstinate, or attended with griping, flying pains, the dose should be increased, and the cure will soon be effected. Let not the patients frighten themselves with the idea that they are too weak to take much medicine; but bear in mind that this mildly operating medicine puts not weakness into the frame, but most certainly draws weakness out, leaves strength in its place, and by giving composed sleep at night, and an appetite to relish any food, re-an-imates the whole frame with vigorous action, clearing the mind and improving the sight.
In cases of Jaundice, Asthma, Liver Complaints, Tic-Dolorgux, Rheumatism or Rheumatic Gout, Dr. Sweetsers's Panacea annot be too highly extelled; it searches out the very root of the disease, and by removing it from the Blood makes a cure certain and permanent For diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, Strictures, Gravel, Stone, Piles, Fistula, Urinary Obstructions and Extreme Costiveness, Dr. Sweetser's Panacea is the best remedy ever tried; it removes all those acrimonious humors from the blood, which give rise to the above diseases, and by keeping the blood in a pure condition For Dropsy, Falling of the Bowels, Impurities of the Blood. Mercurial Taint, Weakness of the Spine, Flow of Blood to the Head, Galdiness, Singing or Buzzing Noise in the Head and Ears, Dr. Sweetser's Panacea will give certain relief; in all severe and chronic cases the maintenance by Local Company. the patient cannot be too often reminded that LANGER noses and PERSEVERANCE will effect a cure,

In chills and Fevers, Billious Fever, Affections of the Eyes and Ears, Spongy and Bleeding Gums, Bronchitis and recent Coughs and Colds, Dr. Sweetser's Panace will be found perfectly sure and certain in its effects. DR. SWEETSER'S PANACEA. Being composed only of vegetable matter, or medical berbs, and warranted, on oath, as containing not one particle of inercurial, mineral, or chemical substances, is found to be perfectly harmiess to the most tender age or the weakest frame, under any stage of human suffering; the most pleasant and benign in its opera-tion that was ever offered to the world; and at the same time the most certain in searching out the root of any ermplaint, however deep, and of performing a core. For sale by L. S. EICHELBERGER, Charlestown; JOSEPH G HAYS, Harpers-Ferry; H S FORNEY, Shepherdstown; DORSEY & BOWLY, Winchester.

DR. HASTINGS! COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPTHA Mr. Harrison: Sir—I will trouble your patients a few minutes by informing you of the great triumply which your Naptha Symp has obtained in the care of my brother. He increased the dose as you diracted, and the result was that he began to mise very triely, and it scented so badly that it was impossible to stay in the room where he was, on the fifth day after the increase of the dose. In a day or so after, he began to get better, and at inis present time is quite revive, has a good appet; e, and don't cough a quarter as much as he dild previously. A severe cough and immensa expects ration were the prominent symptoms of the discase. It hank his case was a singular one; none of the physicians have had ever heard or seen any thing of the kind before. I mertion all these particulars, as I am firm in the beief that, had it not been for the Naptha Syrup, he could have expected nothing but a speedy grave, as there was an immense number of tube release formed on his loars, which the medicine took immediate held of, and in a few days he threw their up hy the quantity, some of them were as large as a bear.
