WINDOW-SASH FASTENERS.

THE undersigned have obtained Letters Paten for a most volumble Are-Trong Bash Faten-En, by which you are enabled to raise the windowsash to any required height and hold it fast, without cutting holes in the frame, and at the same time to let down the upper Sash so as to let the heated air escape at the top and admit the cool air at the bottom, and also make the Sash perfectly air-ight and keep it from rattling. Who is it that has not had his cest broken by the clastering of the window-sash ein a stormy night, to say sething of the amount of hir admitted thereby ? This Fastener has great advantages over any other each stopper, giving you complete control of the sash; and will accommodate itself to any state of the weather, wet or dry-the back of the sash being grouved, and a strip inserted which is forced out against the frame, thus accommodating itself to the trame, and behind this strip is an eccentric or can fixed on a lever which passes through the sash, and raising or depressing the lever fastens or loosens the sash and enables you to lock it fast at any point. Such is the estimate put on this discovery that we have applied them to several hundred windows, not withstanding but a few weeks have clapsed since we got the fixtures and even before we obtained the patent, and many more have been engaged as soon as we can procure fas-

We would now say to the public that we have Do Rodgers of 1.0. 40. High street, Old Town, Baltimore, Md., who, by the by, we would recommend Do do do and return From Stephenson's to Larpers-Ferry to such as may want eastings done-for the promptness and the manner in which it is done-and with Mr. Wernwag, of Harpers-Ferry, the most distinguished machinist of our country as any one will admit if he will call and see his shop, and the machinery he has on hand. He has undertaken to finish our fastenings by machinery so that they will require no assorting, but can be put together with the greatest despatch. Such as may wish to purchase State or County rights can apply (post-paid) to either of us, NATHANIEL MYERS, Charlestown, Jesseson county, Va. or F. C. SMITH, Harpers-Ferry, Va., Paleston. The fastenings can be forwarded from Harpers-Ferry to any point with the same facility as they could from any of our Atlantic Cities, it being immediately on the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, about 80 miles from Baltimore, and in telegraphic communication with the East

To such as may be acquainted with either of the gentlemen whose names are given, we would say write to them and satisfy yourselves that it is no humbug: —A. Hunter, I. N. Carter, G. W. Sappington, H. Keyes, N. S. White, John Yates, James L. Ranson, G. S. Gardener, (post-paid.) who have them in use and many others who are waiting to have them put in their windows.

ATTENTION, FARMERS.

THE undersigned respectfully invites the attention of the Farmers of Jefferson, and the neighboring counties to his superior and Improved Wheat Drills, which he can safely recommend to the Farmers, as being the best Drills ever offered in this country .--It is so constructed that it has advantages over all others that have been introduced heretofore. It moves on only one wheel, which makes the draft very light for one horse, and the drill is manufactured entirely of wrought iron and wood which makes it still better. The seeding operation can be stopped or put in motion in an instant, without stopping the horse, and it so works that it is impossible for it to choke. Farmers desiring to test the capacity and value of the machine, are requested to give the undersigned notice to that effect, and should it not "do the work as represented," the same may be returned

HARTH NOT OUR HERITAGE.

Earth seems to youth an Eden land, So much of beauty lies Upon its features, as might tempt An angel from the skies; And then its joys, its ties of love, And all art's glorious things

Appear almost like types of heaven To bind the spirit's wings. Yet, all that seems so bright below, Will thee and pass away; In every bud there lurks unseen

The gean of sure decay!

Earth's latighest hopes, its purest love, Not long shall cheer the heart: Its most endearing joys, alas! Like summer flowers depart. The days of youth are on the wing : Their sonshine and their mirth,

Swift as the shadows of a cloud, Are vanishing from earth; And disappointment wrings the heart, Till Rope with drooping wing, Drawn downward from her heavenly flight, Thanka! Early is not our Heritage

Our home is in the sky, Where fadesless flowers already bloom Before the Christian's eye. Fai h sweetly whispers, when the soul With grief and pain is riven, " Afflictions are but angels' wings, To wall thee home to Heaven

HELP ONE ANOTHER. .

We have just found in our reading a capital story, which we copy for the benefit of our young readers. The lasson it teaches will be at once apparent

A traveller who was crossing the Alps, was overtaken by a snew-storm at the top of a high mountain. The cold became intense. The air was thick with sleet, and the piercing wind scenged to penetrate his bones. Still the traveller, for a time, struggled on. But at last his limbs were benumbed a heavy drowsiness began to creep over him, his feet almost refused to move, and he lay down on the snow lo give way to that fatal sleep which is the last stage of extreme cold, and from which he grould certainly never have waked again in this world.

traveller doming along the road. The unhap- caused considerable excitement. py man seemed to be, if possible, even in a worse condition than himself, for he, too, could searcely move; all his powers were frozen, and all appeared to be just on the point

When he saw the poor man, the traveller, who was just going to lay down to sleep, made a great effort. He roused himself up, and he crawled, for he was scarcely able to walk, to his dying fellow sufferer.

He took his hands into his own, and tried to warm them. He chased his temples; he rubbed his feet; he applied friction to his body. And all the time he spoke cheering words into his ear and tried to comfort him. As he did thus, the dying man began to revive, his powers were restored, and he felt able to go forward. But this was not all for his kand benefactor, too, was recovered by the efforts which he made to save his friend. The exection of rubbing made the blood circulate again in his own body. He grew warm by trying to warm the other. His drowsings went off, he no longer wished to sleep, his limbs returned again to their proper force, and the two travellers went on their way together, happy, and congratulating one another on their escape. Soon the sonw storm passed away; the mountain was crossed, and they reached their home in safety. Now then, young readers, learn that to be and make others happy. Do this and you will be happy as singing birds.

JUAN FERNANDEZ. Juan Fernandez, the old residence of Alex. Selkirk, (Robinson Crusoe,) and his man Friday, has been visited lately, and his caves discovered. The island is $3 miles long and four wide; its shores are a pile of barren rocks, some of them 2,000 feet high, splintered and separated by earthquakes. Wild horses and goats, of excellent eating, abound. Fish are abundant, and lobsters easily procured. The soil is excellent for potatoes and corn; peaches and grapes thrive in every valley, and strawberries in their senson. The island is resorted to for wood and water. Juan F. is now the Botany Bay of Chili .-A writer who was there March 11, says: "It affords a very indifferent harbor, and has only twelve inhabitants, five men, and seven women, all Chilians, except one man, who said he was governor of the island, that his name was Worth and that he was a nato mention. The subscriber also offers his services | tive of Maine. He had lived on the island to execute all kinds of work appertaining to his three years. There are five houses or huts, made of poles interwoven with straw affording a good protection from the weather."

BEAUTIFUL PHENOMENON. The Hagerstown "People's Own," says that one of the most beautiful sights ever beheld in that section of the country, was witnessed by a number of the citizens of that place on Sunday week. About 12 o'clock, two rings, having the colors of the rainbow, were observed around the sun. The inner ring was much the brighter, and was far enough from the sun to be looked upon for a short time, with the naked ave. The outer ring was not so bright but was about as brilliant as an ordinary rainbow. There were light fleecy clouds in the atmosphere at the time the rings appeared; but the clouds becoming heavy they disappeared. The rings were visible for nearly

LETTERS FROM SHANNONDALE

Mn. Emrone: I received your well intended note as to the best route to be taken in returning to Washington. I am sorry, however, that you said anything about it, for I do not wish to be reminder of the inevitable flight of time that will bring the close of the season, and leave this enchanted vale in the lone majesty of its grand prime val solivude. I wish I could convey to you some faint idea of the beauty, the sublimity of this vale. Poets nor artists in their highest inspirations, never dreamed a landscape at once so lovely and so grand: flooding the soul with a fullness of beauty and of glory, intense even to pain :- to pain because the surcharged heart and brain can find no adequate ex-sion for its strong emotions. Nothing-nothing can be added to perfect the ndrous canras of this terrestrial paradise. It seems as though nature in a fit of mad extravagance must have impoverished a hemisphere to lavish all her wealth of alluring beauty and inspiring sublim-

We got into a boat for a excursion. I told you that the mountain and the giver washing its foot, curved around the vale the shape of a horse-shoe-well-we embark near the centre. The river with its curve out of sight to the right and to the left, presented the aprance of a crystal clearlake, shadowed by mounns, rocks and trees-reflecting and investing them all in minutest detail in its clear profound;and over canopied by a gorgeous evening sky-the whole presenting a picture so glorious in beauty and grandeur of form; -so dazzingly brilliant in richness and vaciety of coloring, and depth of tone, as to be indescribable as overpowering.

Yet I will try. On this side the river was

On the other side the river to the right hand, arose the and-clapped perpendiculater eage-and the Blue inverted in its depths with distinct and clear outline-in summit, clouds and all. To the left filing down the mountain towards the rolling ound, marched the van of a deep forest-led on veteran oak trees that singly yet near together od upon the river banks like the advanced guards a great army. One day myself and a friend took a horseback ride of thirty miles to see the country about Castleman's Ferry and Snickersville. Castleman's Ferry is a very pleasant spot, at the intersection of Turnpike with the Shena River. Three miles distant from it and nearly due east is Snickersville, a picturesque little village attered at random among the rocks, hills, trees and watershoots of a gap in the Blue Ridge, and commanding a vast extent of country east and west f the same. That day's ride is one of the pleasantest, nay indeed, it is the very pleasantest on the rerds of my memory. From Shannondale to Castlenan's Ferry, the road followed the course of the henandoah through lovely intervals of glade and ove, whose lofty trees met over head affording a cool delightful shade. Through the trees on the left was seen the river, and beyond that groves, rolling hills, and distant tores, clad mountains. From Caseman's Ferry to Snickersville the road lay prone de of the Blue Ridge and down the other. THE STAMESETWINS.

Dr. Warren, of Boston, lately communicated the following among other interesting particulars in rethe side to which it is applied. From the limited vascular and nervous connection that can be discovered, Dr. Warren supposes that the influence of medicine, transmitted from one to the other, would be inconsiderable; and the same would apply to most diseases-for instance, a slight fever would not probably extend from one to the other; while diseases communicable through the absorbents or capillaries, (as small pox,) would be readily transmitted. MORE OF THE STUPE TOOP TOS-UNION PLOT.

[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Inquirer.] WASHINGTON, August 15, 1850. In my letter to the laquirer, of the 11th inst., it is stated that in January last a paper, developing a plot for the formation of a Southern confederacy, had been placed in General Sam Honston's hands to be made to Mexico to join the confederacy-that I gazelle-like shyness. I did not see her mate, but | General Houston was to be President, &c My information was from a reliable source, and I fest it

Gen. denote has to a great extent spent its fury. Houston was not present while the letter was being read, but came into the chamber immediately a terwards; and on being informed of what had transpired in his absence, at once responded to Mr. Butler's call, by declaring that the statement was a ing of such a scheme. In the course of his re- ter, Mr Thomas Griggs, and a free polored wo marks however, he stated that he hooted at the idea of Mexico juining the Sourthern confederacy. This statement scamed somewhat at variance with | been at Harners Ferry some 60 deaths, about 50 his denial of the truth of the letter, for the most prominent part of the scheme, as there stated, was this very proposition with regard to Mexico, which Gen. Houston said he hooted at. Believing from this that there must be some misapprehension on the part of General Houston, and feeling deeply sensible of the importance of the truth being arrived at I called upon that gentleman this afternoon, and found that my surmise of his having made the denial under a misapprehension of what was stated in the letter was correct. He said to me that a document, such as I had described in my letter had been handed to him last January; but that it was a mistake that General Lopez had anything to do with it, as itswas presented to him by another from a friend; that what he had intended to deny. in his remarks in the Senate, was, that the document or memorandum had the signature of Mr. Butler, or any leading Southern man, attached to it, as it had no signature whatever. I immediately called Gen. Houston's attention to the fact that I had made no assertion that any signatures were attached; that I had implicated no person by name, for I did not hear that the document was signed, and it struck me as highly improbable that a treasona-

He did not know where it was now, but he believed it was in his possession, either at Washington, or at his home, in Texas; that if the paper had been signed, he would have felt it his duty at once to have exposed the guilty parties; but being merely an unsigned document, he did not feel warranted upon mere surmise, in taking any action, and so dropped it. He also disavowed any intention of being personal in his remarks in the Senate. The matter is one of great moment to the country A plot has been, and is now, in all probability, going on for the dismemberment of the Union, and it becomes the duty of all good citizens to use every effort to unmask the treason. It will not do to utter hackneyed sneers at "letter writers," or "newsaper paragraphs." The matter is one of too much ortance to be either sneered or laughed into silence. The Senate, through some of their members, have seen fit to notice the matter, and the country will expect that it will not end here. Gen. Houston has stated that a paper, such as has been described, is in existence; and, in a matter which perhaps, involves the permanency of the Union, the authors of that treasonable paper should be dragged

In addition to this, we noticed that more attention than is usual in Virginia had been paid by Mr. R. tothe grounds about his house. The grove in front, as you enter, is intersected by circular dives, in the centre of the largest of which, as you approach the house, is a small reservoir or basin. This basin is supplied with water by means of a hydraulic ram-being first forced into a cistern in the second story of the house, and thence to a cast iron figure in its centre, there forming a constant fountain ir jet. From the basin the water again passes to the garden at the foot of the hill, thus accomplishing the three purposes, after it leaves the spring, of bathing, ornament and irrigation. Od the outside of the circular road which contains the fountain are several sodded mounds, upon the tops of which are life size busts of Venes, Petrarck, Dante, Tasso and Ariosto; while in front of his office, or study, (which is not yet quite finished, but intended to resemble the main building in minia-Then would come the question whether | ture.) is a beautiful bust of Demosthenes, supor marble found in the New England States.

We are glad to see this style of house introduced among us. It is said to be economical and confortable-is certainly picturesque and in our opinion better calculated for country residences than any other class of buildings, costing the same amount of money.

The next and last improvement which we met new building now being erected by Mr. Wm. H. Norris. IRON MOUNTAIN IN WISCONSIN.

A few days since, says the Mineral Point Tribune of July 12, we were shown a specimen of ore brought from Black river, Crawford county, the quality of which surpasses any iron ore we have ever seen. So pure is it that it is thought by good judges that smelting furnaces will be unnecessary for obtaining the pure metal-it yielding about ninety per cent. The amount of ore is said to be very great, it covering at least forty acres. Other veins have been discovered near by; and, if our informants are not very much deceived, this discovery is sure to add much to the already extensive mineral wealth of Wisconsin. Specimens have been sent to experienced iron-masters at the East, who pronounce it of a superior quality. An abundance of timber and water power are near at hand for the purpose of carrying on furnaces; and, as it is near pavigable water, it must very soon become a source of profit to the enterprising gentlemen who have surveyed and located the land for the purpose of erecting manufactories at no very distant

His wife knowing, and fearing the consequences of his peculiar habit in a trip by watar, did her best to dissuade him from so perilons an undertaking as she conceived it to be, but finding him resolute, she prevailed on Mr. Newcomb to accompany him, and exacted from Mr. N a promise that he would have a vigilant eye over her husband's sleeping moments. But her solicitude was not abated even by that promise; for on Wednesday night, when her husband left to go on board, she followed him nearly to the landing. conjuring him to turn back; but he laughed at her fears; and they parted-alas! to meet no more in this world.

In going on board he remarked the roughness of the water, caused by a fresh breeze which had sprung up since the close of the evening, and observed in a laughing way to the master of the schooner, " take care you do not drown me, Hall; if you do, I'd advise you never to let my wife see your face again," And during the next day he occasionally referred, in a jocose manner, to his fear of being drowned. On the following (Thursday) night, the schooner, having cleared York river and entered the Chesapeake, was gliding smoothly across the mouth of Black river. Mr. Catlett had kept awake since leaving home, and had resolved not to sleep while he remained on the water. As the night wore away. Mr. Newcomb, being oppressed with drowsiness, laid down on the trunk and fell asleep, while Mr. C., reclined on the opposite side of it. The captain was forward attending to the working of the vessel. Between one and two o'clock, Mr. C. (who had unconsciously and in spite of his previous resolution, dropped asleep) saddenly jumped up from his recumbent position, leaped upon the trunk and commenced shouting and clapping his hands. Capt Hall, alarmed at such conduct ran towards him; but before he could reach him, Mr. C. in stepping backwards, fell from the trunk, pitched overboard, and, the night being then very dark, was lost sight of. The boat, which was on deck, was immediately launchthe unfortunate man had sunk to rise no more! He leaves a wife and six small children who were entirely dependent on his personal exertions for their support. A sad reverse indeed !- Nortolk Herald.

CAPTIVE LADY AMONG THE CAMANCHES.

The Van Buren (Ark) Intelligencer says, a trader among the Camanche Indians has discovered, in a camp of that nation, a white woman, fair and comely in appearance, who is intermarried among them, and says she is the sister of Lieut. Love or Lovett, who cemmanded a train which left Independence about three years ago, and that she was in company with the party when it was attacked by the Camanches, and that her brother was badly wounded, a large number of the men were killed, and she, with a number of men, were parried off prisoners by the Indians. She says she is well treated by her husband; but the women are cruel to her; that she is auxious to return to her friends, and that four or five good riding horses will Wanted and the same and a series of a series of the series

Died:

"DEATH LOVES A SHINING MARK." It becomes out painful duty to record the death (by cholera) of Junet Frances, daughter of William and Mary Hurst, of this county, aged about 10 years. Her immedial spirit took its flight on Tuesday last. The tender bad had just began to disclose its bean-tles to the solicitous and affectionate eyes of them, whose fostering care had cherished its early growth: whose fostering care had cherished its early growth; the rich tints, concented in the folds of its unspread leaves, were attuning new beauty and vigor from chrisin culture, when "Lo! the Spoiler came." The oved child of a fection was his victim.

The pea of sympathy would fain bring a southing balm to the afflicted besoms; the pen of affection would delight to dwell on the opening character of this pure spirit, and trace the interesting anecdotes of her faw incipient years—but they are written in the remembrance of the domestic circle she has left, and will ever be a favorite subject of rehearsal around the Some years since these afficted parents lost a levely daughter samed Lucy. Just before life became ex-tinet in Juliet Frances, she called the family to the bed side and said, "Mother! Sister! don't cry-I am going to see little Lucy in Heaven." She even made a distribution of the small articles of value or curiosity in her possession-thus exhibiting in Shannondale Springs, August 23, 1850. An Alderney Bull.

T HAVE procured of Mr. Colt, of Paterson, N. 1 J., a thorough-bred ALDERNEY BULL, at a high cost, for the continued improvement of the milky properties of my cattle; and not desiring to monopolize the benefit of the services of this valuable animal, I will state upon what terms his services can be obtained by the public. I am willing that he shall serve a limited number of cows for the very moderate sum of $4 for each cow, and 50 cents per week for pasturage. The cash must accompany the cow in each instance, as I am unwilling to keep any account of the matter. I will bere subjoin ne extracts in relation to the milky properties of the Alderneys, and the public will then judge whether this breed of cattle is worthy their attention Mr. Colt says:

"The Bull, Patrick (the one sold me) was bred from the pure Alderney Cattle, imported by the late Nicholas Biddle, of Pa. He imported a bull and four cows at a cost of $1,500. Patrick took a silver cup when a calf, and three prizes of $25 cash, when a oull at the American Institute, N. Y. I have sold cows, (Alderney,) at $100 a piece, and could sell at SHANNONDALE SPRINGS. Jefferson County, Va.

THIS celebrated watering place having been leased for a term of years by the undersigned, is now undergoing thorough repairs in the Cabins, Baths, Bowling Saloon, Boats, eet, and will be open for the reception of company on the 19th of June. They are situated on as eminence on the east bank of the Shenondoah, five miles couth of Charlestown, in a healthy and delighth i region. The reputation of the water is so well stablished, that it is deemed scarcely necessary tomention its qualities. It is sent for and taken to New York, Charleston, and other discant places. The analysis of the late Dr. De Butts, in 1821, classed the principal fountain, with the saline chalpheater, a combination of the most valuable description, in the whole range of mineral waters, and closely resembling those of the celebrated Ecdford, in composition, operation, and efficacy. There is also a highly valuable Sulphor Spring in the vicinity. Apart from the meri's of the waters, Shannondale is remarkable for the sublime and beautiful natural scenery, which is said to surpass Bath and Bristol in England, and that of Saratoga and Ballston in New York. They are within eight hours travel from Washington and Baltimore. Coaches will be in daily attendance at the Railroad Depot, at Charlestown, to convey passengers to the Springs. The proprietors pledge themselves that their Table and Bar shall compare favorably with those of any watering place in Virginia. They have procured the best Band of Music, and most capable servants that can be found, without regard to price. TERMS: $9 for the first week, $8 for the second

de. de. Tais Medicine has acquired a very extended and established reputation wherever it has been used, based entirely on its own means, which its superior efficacy has alone statisted. The unfortunate victim of here-ditary disease, with swollen glands, contracted sinews, and bones half carious, has been restored to health and vigor. The scrofulous patient, covered with ulcers, loathsome to himself and his attendants, has been made whole. Hundreds of persons, who had grouned hope-lessly for years under cutaneous and glandular disor-ders, chronic rheumatism, and many other complaints springing from a derangement of the secret organs and the circulation, have been mired as it were from the rack of disease, and now, with regenerated constitutions, gladly testify to the efficacy of this inestimable "TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION."

The attention of the reader is called to the following astonishing cure, effected by the use of Sands' This is to certify that I have a colored woman who has been afflicted for the last five years with Scrofuls, and all the remedies I used had no effect in arresting the progress of the complaint; on the contrary, she constant's grew worse; and after expending between $70 and $80 with physicians, besides using other popular remedies without success, till the disease had eaten away the cartilage of her nose, made its appearance on various parts of her body, and had finally com-menced its ravages in the roof of her mouth. In this dreadful situation, with the prospect of death staring her in the face, I stated her case to Dr. Disosway, the agent for Sands' Sarssparilla in Newbern, N. C. by whom I was advised to use that article; and to my surprise and that of my neighbors, to whom her case was known, after using four and a ball bottles she was restored to perfect health, and that in the space of three weeks, and was able to work in two weeks from the time she commenced taking it.

In witness of the truth of this statement, I have hereunto affixed my name, this 19th d y of Sept., 1847.

SORE THROAT. The following is an extract from a letter received from Mrs. Bevan, who had been afflicted several years with Scrofulous Ulcers, Dyspepsia, &c., and recently an affection of the throat and chest:-BAHLEYSBURG, VA., Dec. 13, 1845. Messrs. A. B. & D. Sands: Before I commence! using your Sarsaparilla, my sufferiogs were almost past sion; my throat was comple a dreadful coughs, and there were frequently weeks to gether that I could not speak above a whisper; and esides, the inflammation from my throat extended to my head, so that my hearing was very much impaired. Atter taking the Sarsaparilla a short time, my health improved, and my throat is now well; I am as free from cough and lightness as ever I was, and can hear quite distinctly. My throat has been well about three months, the cure of which has been effected entirely by the use of your Sarsaparilla.

LOUISA R. BEVAN.

The following testimonial to the value of the Sarsiparilla, is from the Rev. Luther Wright, aged 76 years Congregational Minister, residing at Woburn. Woburn, Mass., March 30, 1846 Messrs, Sands: Gentlemen-From what I have experienced, and from the information I have recently re ceived from a numb r of persons of high respectability who have used your Sarsaparilla, I have not the least doubt but that it is the most valuable medicine, and that the numerous certificates you have received of its efficacy are fully stistained by experience, and although its reputation and utility are very extensive, and stand in no need of my humble efforts to increase them. I want all who are ullicted by disease to become acquainted with the efficacy and power of your valuable I am, gentlemen, gratefully and very respectfully ours, LUTHER WRIGHT.
