VOL. 43.

CHARLESTOWN, JEFFERSON COUNTY, VIRGINIA. FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 10, 1851.

But judged that toil might drink.

A dreamer drop'd a random thought;

The thought was small-its issue great,

'Twas old and vet was new-

Had cooled ten thousand parched tongues,

He passed again-and to! the well,

By summer never dried.

And saved a life besides!

A simple fancy of the brain.

But strong in being true;

And lo! its lights became

A lamp of life, a beacon ray,

A watch-fire on the hill,

It sheds its radiance for adown,

And cheers the vall-y still!

A nameless man, amid a crowd

That throng'd the daily mart,

Unstudied, from the heart;

A whisper on the tumalt thrown

It raised a brother from the dust,

O germ! O font! O word of love!

WAIT A LITTLE LONGER.

When printers shall be paid their dues,

And a bran new hat to crown his head-

There's a good time coming, boys,

It saved a soul from death.

O thought at random cast!

Ye were but little at the first,

But mighty at the last!

A good time coming.

Wait a little longer.

In the good time coming

The devil's pittance shall be paid,

His pantaloons sowed stronger,

There's a good time coming, boys,

A good time coming, Subscription list shall swell in size,

Shall feel his mind grow stronger;

Proportioned to the enterprise;

PATRONIZING COUNTRY PRINTS-

There's a good time coming, boys,

When an editor can pay his debts,

(Which now too often he forgets,)

He'll settle off his old accounts,

To make his credit stronger;

With half dimes in his fob for change,

From the Suracuse Transcript.

MISCELLANY.

A transitory breath-

Let fall a word of Hope and Love,

A monitary flame.

It shone upon a genial mind,

SONGS OF LIFE. BY CHARLES MACKAY. A traveller through a dusty road

S rewed acorns on the lea, And one took root, and sprouted up, And grew into a tree. Love sought its shade at evening time, To breathe its early wows, And age was pleased, in heats of noon, To bask beneath its hours is The dormouse loved its dangling twigs, The birds sweet musigbere, It stood a giory in its place! A blessing evermore! A little spring had lost its liv. He wall'd it ir, and hung with care A ladle at the brink—
He thought not of the fleed he did.

A NOVEL SUGGESTION.

The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian suggests that we should send to the World's Fair some few specimens of our well-fed Southern slaves, to compare with the white negroes toiling to death in the mines and manufactories of England.

We would add to the significant suggestion of our Pennsylvania friend, that there le also sent to the same Fair two other specimens -one, a negro from Africa, in the purely savage condition of his race on that continent, and another, a free negro from the Five Points at New York, or, if that be objected to, a negro from Hayti, where, up to a late period, the black has enjoyed perfect social and political equality. A candid comparison of these various specimens might throw some new lights upon the British mind. The free blacks of the Five Points or of Hayti would be found as ragged in raitaen; as uncultivated in mind; as enervated is body as deprayed in heart, destitute alike of the virtues of civilization and the physical vigor of barbarism. The native African would inspire more horror than a wild least. In the human shape would be discovered the ferocity and sensuality of the brute; a savage and bloodthirsty being, without love of man or knowledge of the true God. In the Southern slave would be found the same African, elevated to the dignity of a man, civilized and Christianized-Examine him physically, and he will compare faworably with the fattest of the turtle fed aldermen of London. Examine him morally, and religiously, and he will be tound, not only above the scale of the native African and the Haytien, but far above that of thousands of the inhabitants of Great Britain. Evidence taken before committees of the British Parliament has shown that there are people in that land who have never even heard the name of the Savior of the world. No Southern slave is sunk in such a wretched abyss of ignorance. Let the learned divines of England catechise the "specimen," and ther will find that he has a clearer idea of God and of religious truth than ever had Socrates or Place. All this he owes to Slavery, and but for slavery he would still be a savage African Heathen, or, if freed, the scarcely less wretched creature who rots and festers in the loathsome dens and cellars of

Ask him who attends him in sickness, and he will answer the most eminent physicians of the land. Ask him what becomes of him in old age. Re will tell you that a master's care provides for him, and a master's hand protects him till he is coneigned to the grave.

Mr. Julian, Free Soiler, of Indiana, on Monday last, made an abortive attempt to create excitement shout the Fugitive Slave Law. BOUNTY LAND LAW.

We have been requested to publish, for general information, the following letter addressed to a member of Congress by the Commissioner of Pensions. We are further requested to ask an insertion of it in the daily papers of this city as well as in those of the country at large-it being supposed to be a matter in which the public are generally interested. The publishers of the laws are particularly desired to insert it .- Washington Republic. PENSION OFFICE. December 30, 1850. Sir,-Your letter of the 19th instant enclosing in errogatories from some of your constituents, the better to enable them to prepare their declarations on the Bounty Land Law of September last, has been duly received, and not replied to earlier because of the great number of communications on that subject daily received by the mails and other sources. Thousands intereded in the law do not at this time, I apprehend, fully appreciate the difficulties which surround us. The act passed the 28th of September, and soon thereafter a copy was published and extensively circulated, accompanied by the necessary forms and instructions to facilitate its due execution. In addition to these forms and instructions, a circular was also issued from this Bureau, giving various items of information on the Bounty Land Act; but notwithstanding these efforts to diffuse light, new questions are constantly springing up, and urgent appeals made for immediate an swers to enable the parties to prepare their declarathe subject. The eclaration according to the forms and instructions are ady prescribed, out to be forthwith executed; and, if we need more or different information from the parties they will be immediately advised thereof. Congress is at this time of he law, and the warrants will soon be ready for the engraver's press. As new questions arise, they will be promptly examined and settled upon the papers, presented, and all such decisions recorded for reneral information. To decide by way of anticipation upon cases informally or hypothetically stated would not only be excremely inconvenient, but probably productive of mischief. It is earnestly requested, therefore, that all persons interested, either as beneficiaries, or as their friends and representatives, would be pleased to exercise a little patience. All official comm inications addressed to this office will receive the parliest attention it is possible to bestow; and it is not only useless to repeat inquiries as what disposition has been made of them, but the same may plove an absolute hindrance to the despatch of busidess. Thirty thousand applications have probably agready been made, and

The Honorable ---

As among the earliest and most unwavering of the friends of this enterprise, we are always gratified at an opportunity of noticing its success. It is now beyond the reach of doubt or disaster. In his

For, who can weigh the mountains, and estimate their value! Wh shall set limits to the hidden stores of nature ?--From her highest peak, to her very foundations, Allegany County is wealth,! It is a curious coincidence that both the fugitive slave bills passed by Congress, that of '98 and that of '50, were introduced in that body by gentlemen from the same state, the same district and by the late Alexander White, of Frederick County Va., conjointly with two geatleman from Massachusetts; and the second af is well known, was proposed in the Senate by James M. There is a fitness in this : for Frederick and the counties immediately adjoining may be said to form the principal Southern depot of the " under ground railroad." HIGHWAY ROBBERY AND ATTEMPT-

A Gold and daring highway robbery and anempted sporder, (says the Baltimore Clipper,) was perpetraced in this city on Saturday night, on the person of a young man, named Alpheus Mozier, a stranger in this city, and recently from Boston, Mass. The particulars of the transaction, as far as we have been able to collect, are as follows:

Ou Saturday night, Mr. Mozier, (whose business is the peddling of jewelry and books) visited Holliday street Theatre, and whilst there was accosted by some four or five young differ in their ideas of men. Kossuth may Shipley, the son of Mr. Shipley the eper of the Maryland House, West Baltimore street, where he boarded, had been look for him; that he had gone to his brother!s, out on Loudenslager's Hill; that he trious even in defeat, while we look upon wished to see Mr. Mozier there; and, that would show him the way, if he desired. tion of the young men, supposed that such elty and vindictiveness .- Richmond Rep. was the case, and assented to their proposition of going in quest of Mr. Shipley. Before departing, however, Mr. Mozier invited is newly made acqueintances to drink with in, and in paying for the same, pulled out mocket book, in which he had about $150, ustes and gold. In leaving the Theatre, bout half past ten o'clock, his conductors took him straight out Fayette street for a ous distance, until finally, approaching the sensive, and objected to go any further. As e turned to retrace his way back, two of his meanions-the true nature of whose friendthe now discovered-drew pistols and fired at him three times. As if by a miracle, however, his assailants missed their mark, and the attempted to escape by flight. But no sponer did they observe that he was unnia; ed than they made at him with knives. One of the gang made several passes at him with a large bowie knife, which he parried with his hand, receiving a dreadful gash on his palm. He also received several cuts about the head and face, and a horrid gash on his cheek, penetrating into his mouth !-At this point, 'e received a crushing blowfrom the butt of a large pistol, which laid im prostrate and insensible. How long he had lain in this state, he does not knowprobably an hour or more-when he recovered his consciousness, and was enabled, though suffering severely from the loss of blood and from the excessive cold, to stagger a short distance in the direction of the city, guided by the lights which he could see burning in the streets. After he had proceeded in this way a short time, he met with Inaugural Address at Annapolis, Gov. Lowe, thus a watchman, who had him immediately coneyed to the Eastern District watch house, where Dr. Busk was immediately sent for to

His clothes were also cut and torn, particularly his pantaloons, which had no doubt been done by his numerous assailants in robbing him of his pocket book, containing, as we have stated, about $150, mostly in Baltimore notes, and about $20 in gold. A valuable watch and breastpin, which he had on his person, somehow escaped the attention of the robbers, or probably they were alarmed at something and fled before completing the robbery which they had taken such pains to perpetrate, and prosecuted with such a bloody purpose. identified by Mr. Mozier as his property .-The money however was not found. On the persons of two of the accused werefound a small double barrel pistol and a very large duelling pistol, with a heavy fluted stock, and the name "H. L. The other parties were arrested by officers White, Gamble and Pierson, in different places, after a most active search; in which no small amount of tact and judgement was displayed. Indeed, the officers mentioned, we consider deserving of great commendation for the manner in which they have thus arrested the perpetrators of one of the most villainous outrages that has

The melancholy announcement has been made to us, that Maj. John M. MAUPIN, an opulent Merchant of Williamsburg, Va., hung himself on Thursday or Friday of last week. > To the Farmers OF THE VALLEY OF VIRGINIA. THE subscribers would most respectfully inform I the Farmers of Virginia that they have on hand a Strove for cooking purposes, superior to anything of the kind ever offered, for its strength, durability, and sdaptedness for the use of negroes. It was made more particularly for the use of the Navy DEMAINING in the Post Office at Harpers- and is called a SHIP'S CAMBOON.

The above Camboon has been examined by some of the most practical Farmers of the Valley, and recommended by them to be one of the best articles that can be put into the hands of negro cooks, owing to its strength and durability. It has two distinct ovens, and every other convenience for cooking af one and the same time, superior to any stove We have furnished the Navy with quite a large number of the above Camboons, and they are pronounced to be superior to anything of the kind ever furnished before for Ship's use- hence they are better fitted for country use than any other Stove. Any orders left with H. L. No reflecting man can fail to see that the fifty-two visits in a year of a carefully conducted paper, intelligent, correct, elevated in its moral tone, and withal interesting in its contents, must exert a great and good influence on domestic life. Children growing up ander such influences, are far more likely to be intelligent, correct in their opinions and morals, and better prepared for the active duties of life, than they could possibly have been without it - Pulpit Reporter.

IIIA Yankee and a Frenchman owned a pig in coparenership. When killing time came, they wished to divide the meat. The Yankee was yery anxious to divide so that he would gest both hind quarters, and persnaded the Treuchman that the proper way to divide it was to cut it across the back --The Frenchman agreed to it, on condition that he would turn his back and take choice of the peices after it was cut in two. The Yankee turned his back, and the Frenchman

WATER -- Water, wherever we see it, is full of use, and boaty and glery. From the dew that distills upon the rose-leaf, to the ocean that heaves its vast tides around the world it is perpetual wonder and delight .-In the dawn of creation the spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. Water makes the beauty of our silvery clouds and golden sunsets; it spans the heavens with the hues of the rainbow; it dances to the earth in April showers, it murmurs in brooks and thunders in entaracts; it waters the earth in rivers, and bears our navies on the rolling seas.

WINDOW-SASH FASTENERS. THE undersigned have obtained Levers Patent I for a most valuable Air-Tight Sash Fastex-Ea, by which you are enabled to raise the windowsash to any required height and hold it fast, without cutting holes in the frame, and at the same time to let down the upper Sash so as to let the theated air escape at the top and admit the cool air at the bottom, and also make the Sash perfectly air-tight and keep it from rattling. Who is it that has not had his rest broken by the clattering of the window-sash in a stormy night, to say nothing of the amount of air admitted thereby? This Fastener has great advantages over any other sash stopper, giving you complete control of the sash; and will accomodate itself to any state of the weather, wet or dry-the back of the sash being grooved, and a strip inserted which is forced out against the frame, thus accoming dating itself to the frame, and behind this strip is an eccentric or can fixed on a lever which passes through the sash, and raising or depressing the lever fastens or loosens the sash and enables you to
