POETRY. THE MOTHER'S HAND.

BY CHARLES SWAIN A wandering orphan child was !-But meanly, at the lest, attired: For oh, my mother scarce could bay

The common food each week required; But when the anxious day had ded, It seemed to be her dearest joy. To press her pale hand on my head, And pray that God would gaide her boy.

But more, each winter, more and more Stern suffering brought her to becay; And then an angel passed her door, And bore her lingering soul a way !-And I-they know not whroff led, What was pure to delet, save that which weeps a mother dead.

A suible', 1172  Mid reckless deeds—and desperate men But still Inever quite forgot The prayer I ne'er should hear again; And oft, when half induced to tread Such paths as unto sin decov. I've felt her fund hand press my heal,

And that soft touch hath saved the boy! Though hard their mockery to receive. Who ne'er themselves 'gainstsin had striven; Her, who on earth I dared not grieve, I could not-would not-grieve in heaven;

And thus from many an action dread, Tou dark for human eyes to scan; The same fend hand upon my head Taat blessed the boy-hath saved the man!

'I was thinking, Jones,' she said, one night, just as I was composing myself to sleep on my pillow, that we ought to give a party. Not a regular ball, indeed, but a select entertainment where a few congenial minds may be brought together. I should ell.'-I said at last, when my wife stopped for want of breath. The two Misses Howell were amiable, intelligent and pretty girls, in whom I took a particular itterest, because their father bad been an extensive shipping merchant, but having becase reduced and died bankrupt, the sisters were compelled to earn a livelihood by stanting in a store. They had numerous rich telatives on whom they might have billette themselves, but, with a spirit of proper intependence, they preferred to work for their maintenance, instead of eating the bread of charity. I had long nourished a romattic idea of seeing them married well, and had consequently made it a point always to invite them to our parties; to there; and it every other direct way, to as-take effence at my inviting such persons to meet her. I shouldn't like to do it, indeed, without first asking her; and I can't do that this time. She's very particular, and so excessively high-bred." Then I don't think she'd regard you the less, my dear,' I ventured to say, ' for being acquainted with two such excellent girls as Patty and Lizzy Howell' Mr. Jones, don't be a child,' replied my wife, flinging herself to the other side of the bed. At your age you should know some-thing of the world. Exclusive people, like admitted to her world. Exclusive people, high admitted to her world you saw, whom she I may say, indeed, that I has summer; all she included the conversa. aure excited my wife's nerves, and deprived her of sleep, so I said no more, but closed my eyes and courted slumber anew. I have no recollection of anything after that, till I woke the next morning, and leaving Mrs.

Jones in bed as usual, went down to see that the fires were right, and to do the marketing while breakfast was being prepared. The invitations to the party were issued that week, Mrs. Mortimer Mowbray graciously promising to attend.

When the important evening arrived, my wife was all nerves. At every ring of the bell, the color rose to her face with expectation, but guest after guest entered without Mrs. Mowbray appearing. Her nervousness soon began to change to anxiety, and this, as the hours wore on, to disappointment and dismay. She delayed the supper for a full hour, thinking that her new friend might yet arrive; but in vain. What can be the matter, I wonder,' she said to me, as soon as we were alone. 'I hope the dear babe is well. THE WHEELIN ...DGE.

The decision of a Supreme Court of the United States against the Wheeling and Belmont Bridge Company will prove a serious matter. The Bridge is declared to be an obstruction to the navigation of the Ohio, although it is 90 feet above the water .-It is a wire suspension bridge, constructed by Charles Ellett, Esq., an eminent Civil Engineer. The prosecution looks like a piece of spite, as Peansylvania herself has several bridges over important streams, that are not as high as the Wheeling Bridge. There may probably be a compromise. THE FORREST TRIAL.

We are gratified than otherwise, though not well satisfied with Mrs. Forrest's general conduct, that her husband, and alimony to the amount of $3000 a year. Forrest well deserves this, for his want of manliness in regard to his wife, as evinced on the trial. But there was one feature in the proceedings noder the "New Code" of New York which exhibited brutality to a high degree. We mean the latitode given in regard to the character of Miss Cliftons for some years in her grave. If human frailty cannot find rest in the tomb, then has humanity cast off its better part.

> The gentlemen are coming out, in the way of fashions. Recently, I saw a gaily dressed individual on the Avenue with what appeared to me, to be a regular blanket shawl enveloping his shoulders. This article of dress has always been exclusively monopolized by the fair sex, but it now appears, that in return for the encroachments they are daily making of the wardrobe of the sterner sex, the shawl, which when worn properly looks so gracefully, is unceremoniously appropriated to mankind. GOVERNOR BIGLER'S ADDRESS.

In the inaugural address of Governor Bigler to the Legislature of Pennsylvania, (says the Baltimore Clipper,) we find sentiments which it gives us pleas. ure to record. On the subject of the fugitive slave law he is plain and explicit, and fully sustains the sentiments which he expressed prior to the election. The following is his language:

eured by a faithful observance of the terms of the constitution under which it was formed. The Union and the Constitution are one and indivisible. The former canno: exist without the latter, and the latter had no purpose but to perfect and sustain the former. He, therefore, who is not for the constitution is against the Union; and he who would strike at either would commit political sacrilege against the great fabric sanctioned by Washington and Franklin. The federal constitution must be maintained and executed in all its parts. It is the paramount law of each State, and it is the imperative duty of their respective governments to assist in the To Congress undoubtedly belongs, in the first instance, the duty of making provision to carry fate execution the intent of this instrument; but it is the right and duty of the States, moving within the limits of their reserved rights, to co-operate with the general government in this legitimate work. They should certainly never attempt by means of their legislation to embarrass the administration of the constitution. Such interierence cannot fail to engender hostile feelings between the different sections of the Union, and, if persisted in, lead to a separation of the States. So far as legislation of this kind can be found on the statute-book of this State, it should be speedily repealed. Of this character I regard the greater portion of the law of 1847, prohibiting the use of our State prisons for the detention of fugitives from labor while a waiting trial. In that work I shall most cheesfully participate, as I shall also aid as fat as I may possibly do so to reasons all attempts to resist the constitution of the renotto appropriate committees, was taken up and tion of fug tives from labor or for any other constitutional purpose. The necessity for such action is fully demonstrated by the fatal consequences result ing from such an attempt recently occurring within our own borbers. "The lovalty of Pennsylvania to the national Union cannot be doubted. She is now, as she ever has been, for the constitution and its compromises. She will maintain and execute, in letter and spirit, the several adjustment measures as passed by the late Congress on the subject of slavery. She regards these measures as a permanent settlement of this dangers is geographical conflict, and will discountenance, to the full extent of her influence al attempts at future agitation of the questions settled by them. She has planted herself on the constitu tion, and, guided by its wise provisions, will seek to de justice to all sections of the country, and en deaver to strengthen the bands of the Union, by cherishing relations of amity and fraternal affection between all its members."

If these sentiments be also entertained by a majority of the Pennsylvania Legislature, such measures will be adopted as will cause the fugitive slave law to be faithfully executed in that State. We consider it probable that a bill similar to that recently vetoed by Governor Johnston, will be passed, granting the use of the State prisons for the confine Patrick, McDearmon, of Appointation, Winston | ment of fugitive slaves, which will facilitate their recovery, and prevent those collisions between the citizens of Maryland and Pennsylvania, which have heretofore occasionally been attended by the GREAT BRITISH QUARTERLIES AND BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.

Important Reduction in the rates of Postage i! LEONARD SCOTT & CO., NO. 5% GOLD ST., NEW YORK.

CONTINUE to pullish the following British Periodicals viz: The Lordon Quarterly Review (Conservative), The Edinburgh Review (Whig), The North British Review (Free Churci),

The Westminster Review (Liberal), AND Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory). These Reprints have now been in successful operation in this country for ticenty years, and their circulation is constantly on the increase notwithstanding the competition they encounter from American perio licale of a similar class and from numerous Echetics and Magazines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small ortion of their contents is devoted to political subects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer), "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Black wood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the carliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Certificate. I, JOHN SOLLEDAY, of Hampshire county Virginia, do hereby certify and affirm that the advertisement, published in the Charlestown Virginia Free Press about the 10th of December, 1851, in relation to a Bay Mare as stolen from me, is at variance with the fact and done under impulse and feebleness of health and advanced age, must and will serve as an apology where I am known. To all persons interested or feel themselves injured by said advertisement, I ask pardon, and disciaim any wrong being attatched to Mr. WM. RICHARDSON .-The Mare he parchased with his own money, and he and I tended a crop of corn with her this year; and my only claim to her was a gift to my wife which was intended as a loan for my convenience -I had not paid him anything for her. The said William Richardson and myself had a fal ing out before he left this place which lacknowledge. The said advertisement would not have been made if nothing had occurred to mar the mutual good feeling existing heretofore between us; and I take pleasure in saying, he has as far as my knowledge goes always borne the character of an honest man. A WELL IMPROVED FARM FOR SALE.

OFFER at private sale the FARM upon which I reside, situated about four miles northwest of Charlestown, Jefferson county, Va., adjoining the lands of W. T. Washington, R. Worthington, Geo. L. Washington and others, and containing about 260 ACRES OF LAND, thirty of which are in timber, the balance in arable land, divided into nine fields, all under good fencing, mostly post and cap-feace.

The improvements consist of a large, convenient and newly built Dwelling, containing seven rooms, with cellars under the whole —smoke house, ice house, servants' houses, stabling corn house, and a large granary divided into garners, capable of holding 2000 bushels of wheat. All the buildings necessary for the confort and convenience of a family have been erected within a few years past and are in good repair. There is upon the farm a variety of choice fruit selected from the best nurseries and most of them now bearing, viz apples, peaches, cherries, apricots, plums, &c. The land has been farm d exclusively with a view to its improvement, clover and plaster has been freely used, and it is now in a cilities for the transportation of the produce of the farm either to the Baltimore or District markets.— The Harpers-Ferry and Smithfield Tumpike affords a good and safe route to Charlestown at all seasons of the year. he tocation will compare favorably with that of any farm in the county of Jefferson, as regards health, society, fertility of soil, or facilities to mar-

JOHN THOMPSON'S DAUGHTER.

A fellow near Kentucky's clime, Cries Boato an, do not tarry, And I'll give thee a silver dime

To row us o'er the ferry." " Now, who would cross the Ohio, This dark and stormy water ?"

"O. I am this coming lady's bezu, And she, John Thompson's daughter. "We've fied before her father's spite,

With great precipitation— And should be find us here to night, I'd loose my reputation "They've missed the girl, and purse besides, His horsemen hand have pressed me, And who will cheer my bonny bride

If yet they shall arrest me?" Out spoke the boatman then in time, "You shall not fail, don't fear it; I'll go, not for your silver dime,

But for your manly spirit. " And by my word, the bonny bird In danger shall not tarry. For though a storm is coming on,

I'll row you over the terry." By this the wind more fiercely rose, The boat was at the landing.

And with the drenching rains their clothes Grew wet where they were standing.

But still, as wilder rose the wind, And as the night grew dreary, Just back a piece, came the police, Their trampling sounded acarer.

"Oh, haste thee! haste!" the lady cries, It's anything but funny; "I'll leave the light of levely eyes, But not my father's money! And still they harried in the face

John Thompson reached the landing place-His wrath was turned to swearing. For, by the lightning's angry flash, His child be did discover; One lovely hand held all his cash, And one was round her lover!

"Come back, come back," he cried in voe, Across this stormy water, "But leave the purse, and you may go, My daughter, oh, my daughter.

"Twas vain; they reached the other shore, (Such dooms the Fates assign us.) The gold he'd piled went with his child, And he was left there, winks.

EXAMINATION OF ATTORNEYS.

The following racy examination of a candidate for admission to the bar is taken from the Western Law Journal, and is decidedly a good hit: The examiner commenced with-

"Do you smoke sir ?" "I do sir."

"Have you a spare cigar." "Yes sir," (extending a short six.) "New sir, what is the first duty of a law-

"To collect fees." "Right What is the second?" "To increase the number of his clients." "When does your position towards your client change ?"

"When making a bill of costs." "Explain." "We then occupy the antagonistic position-I assume the character of plaintiff, and he becomes defendant." "A suit decided, how do you stand with the lawyer conducting the other side ?" "Cheek by jowl." "Enough sir; you promise to become an ornament to your profession, and I wish you | prominent and all prevailing cause of Dyspepsia; success. Now, are you aware of the duty | and he states that "a distinguished processor of you owe me ?" "Perfectly.

"Describe it." "It is to invite you to drink." "But suppose I decline?"

(Candidate scratching his head)-"There is no instance of the kind on record in the books. I cannot answer the question " "You are right, and the confidence with which you make the assertion shows that take drinks, and I will sign your certificate." Mr. Partington remarked to his wife that he had decided to make several oppositions to his house, and had actually purchased some of the immaterials for the purpose. "What do you propose to do," said Mrs. P. ? "Why, my dear, I mean to build a lemonade in front, and set out a revenue frem the street to the front door." "And why not, my dear husband, run a position threagh the large room, and when our friends call, we can treat them kind of hostile ?" "It will be a good place," said he; and I have been thinking of bringing down the wolf-pit spring, in an anecdote, so as to have a fountain." It will be too costive, my dear,' said Mrs. Partington; to which he scented.

This preparation has now borne the test of ever 14 years experience, since its first introduction to public favor, during which time numerous imitations have sprung into existence, founding their claims to the confidence of the community on the curative powers contained in Sarsaparilla Root, the great reputation and extended use of which has been mainly attributable to the many wonderful | And from which not one dollar will be issued for cures effected by the use of this preparation. While Sarcaparilla Root forms an important part of its combination, it is, at the same time, compounded with other vegetable remedies of great power, and it is in the peculiar combination and scientific manner of its preparation, that its remarkable success in the cure of disease depends. Other preparations imitate it in the style of putting up, and in bearing the name of one of its ingredien s, and here ends their resemblance to it. Those needing a remedy and purifier like this, are requested to note where this difference exists, and in making choice of what they will use, not to take any other but that one entitled to their confidence, from the long list of cures it has effected on living witnesses, whose testimonials and residences have been published,

LIVER COMPLAINT AND SALT RHEUM. NEW YORK, July 27, 1849. MESSRS A B. & D. Sanns, - Gentlemen: Words can but feebly express my feelings, in conveying the pleasing intelligence that my wife is restored to perfect health by the use of your invaluable Satsa-parilla. She was afflicted with a severe cutaneous disease that covered the whole surface of the body. so that it would have been impossible to touch any part that was free from the humor; the head, face, and body, were covered with scales like those of a fish; the hair tell out in large quantities, and walking caused the most excruciating agonies, as it alprostration of the nervous system. Physicians, both in Europe and America, had exhausted the usual remedies, without effecting a cure, or scarcely affording relief; and the best medical skill was unavailing, until she happily used your Sarsaparilla. The disease was pronounced salt rheum, but her whole system, internally and externally, was altogether deranged; but so complete has been the cure, after using the Sarsaparilla for six weeks, and taking in all less than one duzen bottles, that she now enjoys better health than for years previous to taking the Sarsaparilla. My object in making this communication is, that all who have suffered as she has may know where and to whom to apply for relief, (and that not in vain,) as a complete cure will be the result. My wife unites with me in Northern Exchange, or Virginia Bankable Funds. By a strict adherence to a legitimate issue ppon such a basis, it will readily be perceived that the public are protected and the bank itself made to stand on the surest foundation. This enterprise is entered upon after the maturest deliberation, and it is gratifying to know that it meets with the approval of experienced and sugacious financiers of NEW YORK, WASHINGTON and RICH-MOND. In addition to the issue of rotes for circulation THE BANK OF THE UNION' will collect drafts on the Government, and on the principal cities of the United States, and will negotiate for the purchase or sale (on commission) of State Stocks, Guarantied Bonds of Canal and Railroad companies, and other good securities. Any business connected with the different Departments of the Government in Washington, will be a tended to on liberal terms.
