CUCKOO IS SINGING. How glad I shall be when the Cuckeo is singing, When Spring-time is here and the cunshine is warm; For 'tis pleasant to tread where the blue-bell is springing And lilly-caps grow in their fairy-like form. They we shall see the loud twittering swallow, Building his home 'neath the cottagers' caves, The grown-headed nightingale quickly will follow, And the orchard be grand with its blossoms and leaves. The branches so gay will be dancing away Decked out in their dresses so white and so pink, And then we'll go straying,

And playing And Maying By valleys, and hills, and the rivulet's brink. How glad I shall be when the bright little daisies Are peeping all over the meadows again, How merry 'twill sound when the syklark upraises His carolling voice 6'er the flower-strewn plain. Then the corn will be up, and the lambs will be leaping, The palm with its buds of rich gold will be bent, The hedges of hawthorn will burst from their sleeping, All fresh and delicious with beauty and scent. T'will be joyous to see the young wandering bee, When the lilaes are out, and labarnum boughs swell, And then we'll go straying, And playing

And Maying By upland and lowland, by dingle and dell. How glad I shall be when the furze-bush and clover Stand up in their garments of yellow and red; When the butterfly comes like a holiday rover, And grasshoppers cheerily jump as we tread. All the sweet wild flowers then will be shining, All the high trees will be covered with green: We'll gather the rarest of blossoms for twining, And garland the brow of some bonnie May Queen. Like the branches so gay we'll go dancing away, With our cheeks in the sunlight, and steps on the sod, And then we'll go straying, And playing And Maying

And praise all the loveliness sent by our God.

WHO WOULD BE SAD!

We have always believed that the world yields a great deal more joy than it gets credit for. Thinking so little as it certainly does, it ought to afford a perfect elysium -How few people think, and how well those that do, know the cost. One gratuitous advice is, think as little as possible. Sorrew

Sorrow is the well of thought, and when by like visions; they are merely the sallies of wit and humor; meteors that glance across the firmament of the mind and disappear for ever. But thoughts that are kinmanent and solemn in their movement .-They abide your inspection, though they the foot itself; appertaining to a pretty and baffle your pursuit. They are beacons that youthful girl in the very humblest class of blink on the cold, dark horizon, to remind life. All distinctions were levelled at once you of the dangers that await you-stars, by love; the actor sought the parents of the that may tell you what light is, but are yet female, procured their consent to the mater, too feeble, to cast even a shadow on your and actually made her his wife. path. In this state of isolation, with no objective world of details to contemplate, you naturally retreat to the subjective world of imagination within. The soul is obliged to fall back on itself, and travel alone through its "vast variety of untried being." Sorrow is the night of the mind What would be a day without its night? The day reveals the sun only; the night brings to light the whole universe. LIFE'S LAST HOURS. Life's last hours are grand testing hours. Death tries all our principles, and lays baric all our foundations. Vast numbers have been found to act the hypocrite in life, who were forced to be honest in the hour o death. What atheists have owned their mandess, what infidels have denounced their principles, what worldings have bewailed their folly when death approached ? Misgivings of the heart that have been kept se-f cret through life, have come out in death; and many who seemed all right and fair for heaven, have had to declare that they had from him, he began to think more deeply, only been self-deceived. It has been said, men may dissemble in death, hence the value of dying testimonies. We gather the last words, the last acts, the last experiences; and we treasure them up as indubitable evidences in favor or against the character of those that have wore their value as tests of character, and all have felt their

MAY 27, 1852. FILLMORE DEMONSTRATION IN PHILADELPHIA.

The meeting as Saturday night, in the Chinese Museum, is represented by all the papers as having been an enthusiastic and grand demonstration. The front of the building had a large transparency, with the following inscription :- "Millard Fillmore, the son of the North, the favorite of the South, and the friend of the Union"-together with extracts from Mr. Clay's letter speaking of Pillmore.

Dr. John K. Mitchell (well known to many of our citizens) introduced eleven admirable resolutions in a nest and glowing speech. We regret we have not room for the whole of them, but a sample will do.

Resolved, Taat in the opinion of this meeting, no man comes up more completely to our standard of qualifica-tion, than the present enlightened and virtuous President of the United States, Millard Fillmore, who has enjoyed the United States, Millard Fillmons, who has enjoyed the opportunity of exhibiting qualifications for his station such as have commanded the approbation and wan the regard, not only of the great party of which he is the head, but of all true lovers of the dignity, homour and inacrest of the country.

That in the skill, the vision, the impartiality and the decision of his administration of public affairs, always difficult, and often complicated and perplexing, he has proved himself equal to any energency, either of domestic origin or foreign growth, to which the Swernment or the nation may be exposed.

Resolved, That if we could have any doubts left as to the capacity, practical wisdom, and pure natriotism of one who has been so sorely tried and so triumphantly proved, we should feel ashamed longer to hesitate, when we hear the unlifted voice in his favor of the grand old statesman to whose lessons of constitutional truth and wisdom we have so long and so profitably listened. As from the tomb, comes to us the declaration of Henry Clay, that, of the candidates for the Presidency, there is no one fitter, safer, or more cligible than our candidate, Millard Fillmort.

Resolved, therefore; That we will, to the extent of Mil-our ability, endeavor to precure the nomination of Mil-lard Fillmore, believing that, in so doing, we are consulting the highest interest of our country, and the honor and safety of the great conservative party to which it is carpride and pleasure to belong. to the following sentiment: It would not be in good taste, or in proper keeping with the high purposes of our meeting to separate this evening without an expression of our profound regard and high esteem for the great and good Henry Clay. fore be it Resolved, That we deeply deplore the dispen-sation which confines him to a bed of sickness, and carnestly hope that the brilliant orator, the wise statesman, the disinterested patriot, and generous gentleman, may again be permitted to enlighten the Senate by his counsel and illuminate the country by his lofty virtues and

The Legislature has passed an act prohibiting the buying, selling or transfering of tickets or chances in lotteries and raffles. The act is to take effect on and after the first of January, 1853.

The penalty is confinement in jail not more than one year, and a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars. Now, with all due deference to the wisdom of our Legislators, we must pronounce this act an absurdity, because it will prove to be a perfect mullity.

There is already existing on the statute book of Virginia an act of great severity against faro banks-and yet there are at least twenty of these concerns on and near the Main street of Richmond, just as well known to the police and the Legislature itself as are any of the apartments in which the honorables doze away a part of their valuable existence.

We venture to say we can, on any evening during the session, take one of our country friends who may choose to visit Richmond with us, and show him in five of these fare bank room from forty to fifty members of the Legis lature, patronizing the keepers of these games, and feasting with them upon partridges, oysters and champaigne! COUNTING THE GAME.

The New York Evening Post (Abolition Democrat) has put forth some speculations as to the probable result of the first ballot in the Democratic National Convention. It seems to consider the adoption of the two-third rule as a "fixed fact," and thus will require 192 votes to make a nomination.

He gives Cass 91, Buchanan 76, Douglass 23, Marcy 24, Butler 42, Houston 14, Lanc 13, Aller, 11, Pierce 5 Henry Dodge 2.

A report having been circulated that Judge John W. The friends of Judge John W. BROCKENBROUGH, who have known him long and well, have heard with unfeigned surprise that certain individuals, who ought to know better, are industriously circulating through the ection, that he has been brought out for the office of Judge of the Court of Appeals by Whigs, and to be run against Judge Samuels on party grounds. The undersigned, members of the Democratic party, and who would be very far from sustaining any man, for any office, who would consent to be run by the Whig party, or to further Whig purposes, consider it an act of common justice to Judge Brook enbrough to correct, over their own names, so injurious and slanderous a report as the one above referred to. No man in the State has been a more uniform, firm and consistent Democrat than Jadge Brockenbrough in all things properly appertaining to Democracy. Brought up from his early boyhood un-der the teaching of the Roanes, the Ritchies, the Tuckers, the Parkers and his own Democratic name, the Brockenbroughs, he has never in his life in any party ontest, given a Whig vote, but has always firmly and manfully borne up the basner of Democracy, and the nore zealously in the darkest hours of its fortunes. On to present occasion Democrats and Whigs, have earnest-solicited him to offer his services to the State, and he has vielded to their wishes, not supposing that any erson would undertake to make a party question of such g election. He remembered how earnestly the friends of Judicial reform had repelled, during the Convention canvass, and in the Convention, the arguments of their adversaries, that in Judicial Elections by the people, arts polities would never rule. He had seen the names f Dickenson and Sharkey quoted everywhere o prove that in such elections the people would have the wisdom to choose their best men without respect to party, and being a Democrat he offered himself without expecting any of his own party to vote for him because a Democrat, or pay Whig to vote against him for the same cause, ut hoping to have a fair race with his worthy competior Judge Samuels on the naked, single question of merit nd fitness for the office.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON'S MESSAGE.

The following is Governor Johnson's Message sent to the Legislature a few days ago, endeavoring to explain away his former abolition sentiments expressed in his first one, relative to the commutation of punishment of Jordan Hawher. We think the Governor's " want of familiarity with the lechnicalities of law," will not screen him from the just indignation of an outraged community-much less his total ignorance on the whole law touching the relation of the white man and slave:

EXECUTIVE DESCRIPTION May 19, 1852.

To the General Assembly of Definia:

In the discharge of my constitutional duty, I had the honor to communicate to your body, on the 11th inst., the reasons for the commutation of the sentence of the slave Jordan Hatcher. I loarn that the terms in which these reasons were expressed have been misconstrued. those reason were expressed have been misconstrued and my views upon the delicate relations existing between master and slave, misapprehended. Upon this grave subject I cannot permit a doubt to be felt of the views of the Executive.

I never entertained the opinion, nor did I intend to intimate, that the slave would under any circumstances be excused or justified in resisting the legal authority of his master. The right of the master or his agent to punish the slave, whenever in his opinion he deserves it, a legal right, results from the nature of the property itself, and is necessary for wholesome discipline and re-straint. It is founded on the soundest principles of publie policy, and our Courts have held that the owner of a slave cannot be indicted for the cruel or excessive while ping of his own slave. If the master abuses this high power, so far as to commit crime, he is responsible to the laws of the land alone—the slave has no rights adverse to those of the master or the agent to whom he with these views long entertained, it is almost unnecessary to say that, in my life message, I cid not intend to convey the idea that the relative positions of the white citizen and the slave, to the laws of the country, were the same, or that the exercise by the master of this areas of the apple rower of chartisment. or his agent of the ample power of chastisement given by the liw, furnishes any excasable or justifiable reason for resistance or an exhibition of resentment upon the

Our laws wisely discriminate between the punishment of white men and slaves for similar offences, and, in my interposition in behalf of the slave, Jordan Hatcher, I did not intend to express the conviction of my mind that a slave should not suffer death for offences below the grade of murder. In most instances it is proper, in the execu-tion of the laws. Upon an examination of the record of Jordan Hatcher's trial and conviction, I came to the conclusion that it presented a case for the interference of the Executive and ecommuted the punishment to the only substitute for the death penalty provided by the law.

In stating my reasons, if I have failed to do so, in clear and distinct terms, it has resulted rather from a want of familiarty with the technica titles of the law, than from any disposition to misinterpret them. I have the honor to be, very respectively,

We do not see (says the Petersburg Intelligencer) that Gov. Johnson's second message has mended matters at all. The common sense of the matter is just this .--The sentence which condemned Jordan Hatcher to death, either ought or ought not to have been commuted. Gov. J. entertained the opinion that it ought to be commuted, and having commuted it to a mere change of residence, but little difficulty in determining who is and who about which the culprit did not care a fig, he sent in a message, assigning his reasons for the commutation to the Legislature. This message was not written on the spur of the moment, but was drawn up with care and deliberation which should be bestowed on such a document. In this message, Gov. Johnson, among other things, said. "That the penalty, under such circumstances, should be death, though perhaps authorized by the letter, is, I believe, against the spirit of our laws and of the age, as it is contrary to merey and humanity, which are des ed for and extended only to the unfortunate and the gu ty. If Hatcher had been a white man the utmost he ald have been charged with, would have been justifiable horaicide, or involuntary manslaughter, and in this case it was but manslaughter, without intent to kill. This doctrine, although most alarmingly abhorrent to Seuthern people, 'constituted Gov'r Johnson's reasons for commuting Hatcher's punishment-if, indeed, no punishment at all can be called a commutation; and if he recalls these reasons-if he admits that a slave, who makes mortal-resistance against an attempt to chastise him, made by his owner or employer, should be punished with death, he, in effect, leaves himself without any reason at all for pardoning Hatcher; for that Hatcher was substantially pardoned, no man doubts. As Governor Johnson has taken back, or explained away, his old reasons, we would advise him to send in a third message, giving his new reasons for his conduct in Hatcher's case. The truth of the whole affair is just this: Gov. Johnson, born in a free State, has spent nearly all his life in a portion of Virginia, where there are few, if any, slaves; and he is, therefore, not as properly alive to the necessity for strict subordination among slaves as those necessity for strict subordination through them. Gov. Johnson's two Messages still continue to occupy public attention. No one is able to reconcile their inconsistencies. The Governor is evidently anxious to draw back from the suicidal positions of his first message. We wish he could as easily take back itsevil effects. It has been followed by a spirit of insubordination which has already manifested itself in several atrocious deeds, and which may be productive of still more dangerous consequences. We have never, in the heat of the late canvass, spoken of the Democratic candidate for Governor in any other but respectful terms, as a man of good intentions and respectable parts. In view of late events, however, we cannot but think that he has shown himself utterly incompetent for his high trust, and that his election was a public colamity -Richmond Republican.

" I never entertained the opinion, nor did I inter d to intimate, that the slave would, under any circumstances, be excused or justified in resisting the legal authority of his master. The right of the master or his agent to punish the slave, whenever in his opinion he deserves it, is a legal right-results from the nature of the property itself, and is necessary. tor wholesome discipline and restraint. RESULTS OF EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 20th gives the following account of Negro outrages in the city of Richmond and neighborhood-the result, doubtless, of Governor Johnson's elemency towards Jordan Hatcher, the murderer cf Mr. Jackson :-

A NEGRO OCTRAGE .- A negro dra yman employed at Dickerson's tobacco factory, on 14th street, attacked an overseer who was giving him some orders, yesterday afternoon, and scratched and bit him severely. He also t his teeth into the arm of deputy sheriff Cheatham, who cume to the overseer's assistance, and hung on like a ball-dog inflicting a sharp wound. After considerable scufling he was tied and conveyed to the cage for pun-

ANOTHER. - We learn that an altercation occurred on the Danville railroad, about seven miles above Manchester, on Tuesday, between a gentleman named Duncan, and a negro whom he had hired. It arcse, so we learn, from an attempt on the part of the employer, to chastise the negro. The negro struck him a severe blow on the head with a large stone and knocked him down, after which he dealt him a punch and a kick in the pit of the stomach. The other ner roes then interfered, and in a on the first opportunity. He is reported to have said that they had the right sort of man now for Governor, and that he would protect the negroes.
We give these details merely as they have been given to us. We doubt not their general correctness; but should we find them wrong, in any particular, we shall correct them with pleasure. NEW SCHOOL PRESBYTERY.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, (new school,) in the U. States, which met in Washington on Thursday, is composed of 21 Synods, 101 Presbyteries, 1,500 ministers, 1,579 churches, and about 150 000 communicants, scattered over some twenty different States out of New England. The Assembly is strictly a representative body, consisting of one ministerial and one lay delegate from each Presbytery; except when there are more than twenty-five members, when they are entitled to two ministerial and two lay delegates .-That which gives a peculiar interest to the meeting of this body, in a national point of view, is the fact that they are the only large ecclesiastical body in the United States that has ever fairly and fully discussed and settled the vexed question of slavery meeting this year, for the first time. South of Mason & Dixon's line. As they are largely represen-ted in Washington city, having four churches there, besides one in Alexandria, they will doubtless be kindly and hospitably entertained.

. [Winchester Republican. REGIMENTAL MUSTER.

The Regimental Parade for our county came off on Saturday last, and was a much more creditable affair than any we have had for several years. The beautiful Volunteer corps of Shepherdstown, the "Jefferson Rifle," under the command of Capt. V. M. BUTLER, attracted universal attention, and were very greatly admired for their soldierly appearance and gentlemanly de portment. The uniform is of grey cloth, gilt buttons and a handsome cap, with black plumes. Its width is obout 16 feet, and the track well graded. The bed of stone seems to be about ten inches thick, and made pracisely after the plan of our McAdamized roads, the stone being broken to about the same size as that used for our roads. The discovery was made by the washing away of a hill side which partially covered the road. When, and by what race of people this road was made, is unknown at the present day. but it gives evidence of the existence of a population here at some former age of the world, as far advanced in civilization, or at least in the art of road making, as ourselves. There was found in the bed of the road the stump of a chesnut tree, which was ascertained to be 150 years old at least, and how much older, our informant could not tell, as the stump was hollow. It affords me pleasare to state that Dr. Hampton has effected a most extraordinary cure of my slave boy Albert. The patient was three years of age, and had the scrofula. His father is scrofulous. The boy was a moving mass of sores from head to foot. The upper lids of the eyes were much swollen and turned inside out, exhibiting horrible mattering ulcers, and protra-ded over the eyeballs so as to produce blindness. It is strange, yet true, this child—that I felt resigned to see die as relief from soffering—has been restored to health

OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM. The value of this Medicine is now widely known, and every day the field of its usefulness is extended. It is approved, and highly recommended by Physicians and admitted to be the most powerful and searching preparation from the root, that has ever been employed in medical practice. Its operation extends to the remotest parts of the system, and consists in removing diseased action in the absorbing and secreting organs. In man, Nature seldom effects, unassisted the cure of any viculent disease, but requires the aid of a stimulant, alterative, or antiseptic medicine. In diseases of the skin and flesh, a combination of these three classes of medicinal agents is highly desirable. All these properties are combined in this preparation; and instead of operating successively upon the system, as they must necessarily do when taken separately, they operate simultaneously, and in perfect harmony when administered in this form. Its tonic property strengthens the digestion, and improves the appetite. Its alterative tendency carries off the accumulations of morbid matter, - and its antiseptic influence neu-tralizes the virus, by which the disease fostered. Its uniform success in curing and relieving the various diseases for which it is recommended, is established by a multitude of attested facts. CURE OF BRONCHITIS, OR MINISTER'S

SORE THROAT. FAIR HAVEN, Mass., Aug., 22d 1850. Messrs. Sands .- I regard it but justice to yourselves, and humanity to all similarly afflicted, to say, that your Sarsaparilla has cured me of the Chronic Laryugitis. It would be difficult for me to describe the alarming condition of my throat and vocal organs previous to the use of your invaluable remedy. During nearly three years I was forced to desist from the Dr. PEREIRA, in his famous treatise on "Food Diet," published by Flowers & Wells, New public duties of my profession; and having made use of a great variety of professed specifics, besides submitting to more than thirty extremely painful caustic applications, I had abandoned all hope of relief when, as a dernier resort, I was led to the trial of your Sarsaparilla.

My disease was of so long standing, and had so obstinately resisted the best medical skill, that I am conscious it cannot truly be said, my "faith hath saved me," for I had none; but I trust I feel in some appropriate degree grateful for the favorable result above named. I have now been able to attend to the duties of the pastorate for more than a year, and having proved from actual experiment the thoroughness of the cure, I could not feel justified in longer withholding this statement. sysiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated water, impact to the fluid the property of disextra labor, still use it as a preventire. Very gratefully yours,

S. C. BROWN, Pastor of Centre st. M. E Church, FROM THE STATE OF MAINE. The attention of the reader is called to the following certificate of a remarkable cure effected by using only five bottles of Sands' Sarsaparilla. Sinner, (Maine,) April 15 1850.

Messrs. A. B. & D. SANDS: Gentlemen .- This is to certify that I have been afflicted more or less ever since my birth, with Scrofula, which continued to increase until last February. In January, my legs were so swollen I could not get on a boot or stocking, and I bad several large sores on me all the time. In this situation. I was about to give up in despair, when I was advised to try Sands' Sarsaparilla. Thad not much | 28 faith in it, but I sent to your agents in Augusta, Me., and procured a bottle, which did me so much | 29 good, that I sent and got another, and continued until I had taken five bottles. I am now perfectly 31 well. If any person who may read his letter is afflicted with any disease of Scrofula, I would most sincerely recommend and advise them to make use of Sands' Sarsaparilla. If any person wishes forther information about my case, by calling upon me,] tis impossible to give the details of cases in the leading in the medicine.

It is impossible to give the details of cases in the medicine. P. S.—We are personally acquainted with Mr. Haywood, and believe his statement above to be DILLINGHAM & TITCOMB. Gardner & Rohr's Wheat Drill, SEED PLANTER.

HE undersigned having purchased the right to I manufacture and sell this unequalled Drill in the counties of Loudoun, Clarke, and the southern half of Jefferson, are now fully prepared at their establishment in Charlestown to furnish to order any number of Drills, made in the most substantial manner. All orders promptly attended to.
This Waeat Drill performs the triple work of Drilling, Sowing and Covering by the same movement, thereby saving much time and labor. It will plant point rows, and all irregular shaped fields, with a saving of from 10 to 15 per cent, in labor. It will, with ease for two horses, plant from 8 to 10 acres per day of Wheat, Barley, and other small grains. This Machine has been in use two seasons, and wherever it has been introduced has given en-

We have in our possession a large number of certificates, recommending this Drill to the farmer as having no superior. Among the number the fol-I have used on my farm and am still using one of the Wheat Drills, patented by Gervis S. Gardner and George Rohr, and now sold by Messrs. Henson, O'Bannon and Hunt. I do not suppose any intelligent farmer would now dispute the advantage of drilling over broadcast sowing; I also consider the above Drill altogether equal to any drill now in use, and the advantage of applying compost box to it, makes it very desirable. The compost part of the drill acts well in every p rticular and is one of the greatest inventions of the day for the farmer; it might wall be called the friend, as it saves both time and labor.
