TAYLOR'S FALL FASHIONS, 1852.

TAYLOR, OPPOSITE BARNUM's would invite especial attention to his Fall Fashions for the ensuing season, which he will introduce on Wednesday, Se tember 1st, being confident that it will be found the most graceful and truly superb HAT ever presented. In commencing the Fall campaign he would return thanks to his numerous friends and customers for their generous support, and begs to assure them that nothing shall be wanting on his part to merit a continuance of their favors. In view of the vast accumulation of small accounts as accruing under the old system of Semi-Annual collections, as well as exigencies growing out of the change in our State Constitution, has induced him to come before his customers with a new front; in other words, he has determined to change his manner of doing business, and which he flatters himself, will meet their hearty approval. A per centage, inseparable from the credit system, including losses and collection, will by this change be secured the customer; as instead of booking them for the small sum of $4 and $5, he will make an abate. ment of ten per cent, for eash payment; thus a Hat of superior quality, the material and manufacture alike being of the highest class, and which under the credit system cannot be sold for less than $5, will now nett $4 50; an article of second quality, which in all points cannot be surpassed (the humbug puffings of certain dealers to the contrary notwithstanding.) in this or any oth reity for the same price, tiz: $4, will now nett $3.60; thus there will be a clear abatement of ten per cent,, and the rule will be applied without deviation to every article in the trade. Bewond this, is impossible; to pretend more, To secure his customers a superior article, he has

POETRY.

THE GRAVES OF A HOUSEHOLD. They grew in beauty side by side,

They filled one house with glee, Their graves are severed far and wide, O'er stream, and mount and sea. The same fond mother bent at night,

O'er each fair sleeping brow, She had each folded flower in si Where are those dreamers now The sea, the lone blue sea, bath one. He lies where pear's lie deep, He was the loved of all, yet none

O'e, his lone grave may weep. One fell where Spanish vines are dressed, Above the noble siain; He wrapped his colors round his breast, In a blood-red field of Spain. One mids, the forest of the West,

By a dark stream is laid,

The Indian knows his place of rest, Far in the forest shade. And one o'er her the myrtle sheds Its leaves by soft winds fanned, She faded midst Italian flowers, The last of that fair band.

LITTLE SUE. Dear little Sue, with her eyes so blue, And her tresses of golden hair, Her cheeks that rivalled the peach's hue, And her lips so red and so fair, How her silver tongue so joyously rung, When watching, she hailed with delight,

My evening's return, while on my neck she hung, Lisping her prayer and good night. Poor little Sue, no more shall I view From the casement her beautiful face, Nor welcome at eve, for she has bade us adieu, And vacant, and silent, her place; Under the ground, where you green mound

'I do not doubt it, dear Louise.' replied her aunt, ' see only that you continue happytogether.' -.

Oh, who can doubt that we shall continue so ! I know myself. I have faults, indeed, but my love for him will correct them .-And so long as we love each other, we can not be unhappy. Our love will never grow

'Alas!' sighed her auut, 'thou dost speak like a maiden of nineteen, on the day before | Even when one of you has committed a her marriage, in the intexication of wishes fulfilled, of fair hopes and happy omeus.-Dear child, remember this -in time even the heart grows cold Days will come when the magic of the senses shall fade. And when this enchatment has fled, then it first becomes evident whether we are truly worthy charge, and in bad weather a Carriage will run to the charms that are most attractive, when youthful fre-hness has affed away, and with | will form a party and stand between you the brightness of domestic life, more and | two! That should never be. Promise this more shadows have mingled, then, Louise, and not till then, can the wife say of the husband, 'He is worthy of love;' then, first, the husband say of the wife, 'She blooms in | er, and at last become as one. Ah. if many imperishable beauty.' But, truly, on the day a young pair had on their wedding day before marriage, such assertious sound laugh-

'I understand you dear aunt. You would say that our natural virtues alone can in later years give us worth for each other. But myself I can boast nothing but the best in tentions-is he not the worthiest, noblest of his soul, every virtue that tends to make the best preservative of female beauty l'

'My child,' replied her aunt, 'I grant it. Virtues bloom in thee as well as in him; I can say this to thee without flattery. But, dear heart, they bloom only, and are not yet ripened beneath the sun's heat and the shower. No blossoms deceive the expectations more than these. We can never tell in what shape and color as in a picture or a statue; soil they have taken root. Who knows the but it is the character, it is the soul that is more than these. We can never tell in what concealed depths of the heart?'

'Ah, dear aunt, you really frighten me.' 'So much the better, Louise. Such fear is right, such fear is as it should be on the evening before marriage. I love thee tenderly, and will, therefore, declare all my thoughts on this subject without disguise .twenty years, one still looks forward into life with pleasure, the world still presents a bright side to us. I have an excellent husband. I am happy. Therefore, I have the right to speak thus to thee, and to call thy attention to a secret which perhaps thou dost not yet know, one which is often spoken of to a young and pretty maiden, one indeed, which does not greatly occupy the thoughts of a young man, and still is of the utmost importance in every household: a secret from which alone spring lasting love and unalterable happiness

Louise seized the hand of her aunt in both of hers . Bear aunt! you know I beheve you in everything. You mean that enduring happiness and lasting love are not insured to us by accidental qualities, by fleeting charms, but only by those virtues of the mind which we bring to each other .--These are the best dowry which we can possess, these never become old.'

'As it happens, Louise. The virtues also like the beauties of the body, can grow old, become repulsive and hateful with age.' 'How, dearest aunt! what is it you say? Name to me a virtue which can become hateful with years.'

When they have become so, we no longer call them virtues, as a beautiful maiden can no longer be called beautiful, when time has changed her to an old and wrinkled we-

But, aunt, the virtues are nothing earth-

'How can gentleness and mildness ever become hateful? · So soon as they degenerate into insipid indolence and listlessness.'

'And manly courage?' 'Becomes imperious rudeness' 'And modest diffidence?' 'Turns to fawning humility.' 'And noble pride?' 'To vulgar haughtiness.' 'And readiness to oblige.?'

and servility.' ' Dear aunt, you make me almost angry. My future husband can never degenerate thus. He has one virtue which will preserve him as he is forever. A deep sense, an indestructible feeling for everything that is great and good and noble, dwells in his bo-som. And this delicate susceptibility to all that is noble dwells in me also, I hope, as well as in him. This is the innate pledge and security for our happiness' 'But if it should grow old with you; if it should change to hateful excitability; and excitability is the worst enemy of matrimony. You both possess sensibility. That I do not deny; but beware lest this grace should degenerate into an irritable and quarrelsome mortal.'

Ah, dearest, if I might never become old I could then be sure that my husband would naver cease to love me.' 'Thou art greatly in error, dear child !-

Wert thou always as fresh and lovely as to day still thy husband's eye would by custom of years become indifferent to these advantages. Custom is the greatest enchantress the ugliest, familiar. A wife is young, and becomes old; it is custom which hinders the husband from perceiving the change. On the contrary, did she remain young, while he became old, it might bring consequences, and render the man in years jealous It is better as kind Providence has ordered it -Imagine that thou hadst grown to be an old woman, and thy husband were a blooming vouth ; how wouldst thou then feel?'

Louise rubbed her chin, and said, 'I can not te.i.' 'Her aunt continued: 'But I will call thy attention to a secret which"-

'That is it,' interrupted Louise, hastily that is it which I long so much to hear. Her aunt said : 'Listen to me attentively. What I now tell thee, I have proved. I consists of two parts. The first part, of the means to render a marriage happy, of itself prevents every possibility of dissension; and would even at last make the spide, and the fly the best of friends with each other. The second part is the best and surest method of . Ah ! exclaimed Louise.

'The former half of the means, then : In er, not even in mere jest, to wrangle with each other; hever to bandy words or indulge in the least ill humor. Never! I say; never. Wrangling, even in jest, and putting on an air of ill-humor merely to tease, becomes earnest by practice. Mark that! Next promise each other sincerely and selemnly, never to have a secret from each other, under whatever pretext, with whatever excuse it may be. You must, continually and every mo ment, see clearly into each other's bosom fault, wait not an instant, but confess it freely-let it cost tears, but confess it And as you keep nothing secret from each other, so, on the contrary, preserve the privacies of your house, marriage state and heart from father, mother, sister, brother, aunt, and all stuff for you as for both the girls.' the world. You two, with God's help, build fourth one whom you draw into it with you. to each other. Renew the vow at each temptation. You will find your account in it. Your souls will grow as it were togethknown this simple secret, and straightway practiced it, how many warriages were happier than, alas, they are.' Louise kissed ber aunt's hand with ardor. 'I feel that it must be so. Where this conis not he to whom I am to belong-for of | fidence is absent the married, even after wedlock, are two strangers who do not know each other. It should be so; without this all young men of the city? Blooms not, in there can be no happiness. And now, aunt,

Her aunt smiled, and said : 'We may not conceal from ourselves that a handsome man pleases us a hundred times more than an illlooking one, and the men are pleased with us when we are pretty. But what we call beautiful, what in the men pleases us, and in us pleases the men, is not skin and hair, and within these, which enchants us by looks and words, earnestness, and joy and serrow .-The men admire us the more they suppose those virtues of the mind to exist in us which the outside promises; and we think a malicious man disagrecable, however graceful and handsome he may be. Let a young maiden, I am not as yet an old aunt. At seven and then, who would preserve her beauty, preserve but the purity of her soul, those sweet qualities of the mind, those virtues, in short. by which she first drew her lover to her feet And the best preservative of virtue, to render it unchanging and keep it ever young is religion, that inward union with the Deity and eternity and faith-is piety, that walking with God, so pure, so peaceful, so benefi cent to mortals. Sec. dear heart,' continued the aunt. there are virtues which arise out of mere experience. These grow old with time, and alter, because, by change of circumstances and inclination, prudence alters her means of action, and because her growth does not always keep pace with that of our years and passions. But religious virtues can never change: these remain eternally the same, because our God is always the same, which we and those who love us are hastening to enter. Preserve, then, a mind innocent and pure, looking for everything from God; thus will that beauty of soul remain, for which thy bridegroom to-day adores thee. I am no bigot, no fanatic: I am thy aunt of seven and twenty. I love all rational and innocent amusements. But for this very reason I say to thee-be a dear, good Christian, and thou wilt as a mother ; yes, as a grandmother, be still bezutiful.'

Louise threw her arms about her neck. and wept in silence, and whispered, ' I thank thee, angel !'

LOVE OF MARRIED LIFE.

The affection that links together man and wife is a far bolier and more enduring passion than the enthusiasm of young love. It may want its gorgeousness-it may want its imaginative character, but it is far richer in holy and trusting attributes. Talk not to us of the absence of love in wedlock! What! because a man has ceased to "sigh like a furnace," are we to believe that the fire is extinct? No: it burns with a steady and brilliant flame: shedding a benign influence upon existence, a million of times more precious and delightful than the cold dreams of

The next morning, Mrs Jones had a fever, caused by over exertion the day before. She had walked too far, the doctor said and neglected to eat anything; a delicate woman, he added, ought never to do either, much less both together. Mrs. Jones was ill for a fortnight, and the

A few days since a lady of our town narrated to us the following curious incident, which she derived from a near relative, the mother of a bright little boy not a year old. The child was one day seated near the edge of a porch, a tablespoon, with which to amuse itself being placed in its hand. After a short time the mother happened to look toward the babe, and perceived that it was leaning ever the porch, and cautiously extending the spoon toward ine ground, then suddenly withdrawing it, with a hearty laugh each time that it drew its hand back. This manœuvre the infaut repeated frequently; its mother, supposing it to be playing with a kitten paid no particular attention to

At length, the child's frequent burst of laughter, and its prolonged enjoyment of the sport in which it was engaged, induced But its to use talking to you, or showing the mother to approach and look over its shoulders to see what it was that excited its glee so much. Great was her astonishment and horror on observing that the playmate of her little boy, during all this time, had been a large and dangerous snake, which with mouth gaped widely open and protruding tonge, was coiled up in the attitude peculiar to that reptile when about to strike, and had been darting at the spoon (it is supposed in play) each time when extended toward it -The mirth of the infant was created by success in baffling the attempts of the reptile to reach its plaything. The alarmed mother, not daring to leave the spot, burriedly called her husband, who succeeded in approaching the serpent and dispatching it with an axe .- Madison county (Mo) Record. CAUSES OF DEFEAT.

It is generally useless to speculate on the causes of defeat, except as a lesson for the future. There is a principle of good faith which all honorable men recognize, whether Christian or Savage-and this principle is, that practice and profession should go together.

That there has been a most gross a breech on the part of many Norther be developed in a little while beyon. There are many things palpable to ing, which cannot be proved by strictly legal testimony-and many acts which might seem incredible at first blush, but which are self-evident when the case is properly stated.

Any man of ordinary sagacity might have noticed that up to the last six weeks the signs were decidedly in favor of Gen. Scott. All of a sudden. there seem to be a damper. The belief now is, that Gen. Scott, having been sounded by the Seward and Johnson cliques as to the policy and patronage of the government, if elected, was not only immoveable, but unapproachable. He would hold no parley with them-would give them no assurances of favor-but rather showed signs of aversion-and henceforward they determined not only to drop him, means to enable them to play the traitor's part.

But let them go-they are now the subjects of scorn and contempt by all honorable men; the Whig Party, purified of them, will, when joined by the "Old Guard" stand firm.

THE SLAVE CASE IN NEW YORK.

The liberation of eight Slaves, at New York, belonging to a Mr. Lemon of Virginia, on his way to Texas, will create a rew excitement in the South. Since the election of Gen. Pierce, several of the Democratic Abolition Journals are boasting of the exertions of Gen. One thing consoles us greatly, and that is that if Scott had been elected, he would have been fettered by a Democratic Congress, who would claim the merit of the good acts and throw upon him the odium of the bad ones, as in the present administration, and as we could not get Congress, because of those extra votes, we think upon the whole that we shall say in the true spirit of our text book "whatever is, is right," and just let Pierce & Co., have a full swing, and then try them by their works as we did Van Buren in 1840."

Nine shots were fired, and four of the balls took effect in each of the combatants. Both parties expired immediately and they were ushered into the presence of their Maker to answer for the murder of the other. After the second or third shot, the Californian craw ed on his hands and knees nearer his antagonist, and fired, in order to make sure of his victim. This shot took effect in the abdomen of the Mexican.

OUR OWN.

We love our race; but our first efforts should be to cherish and protect our brethren and our countrymen. Charles Dickens, in a late number of his "Household Words," says: "Let any great social or physical convulsion visit the United States, and England would feel the shock from Land's End to John O'Groat's. The lives of nearly two millions of our countrymen are dependent upon the cotton crops of America; their destiny may be said, without any sort of hyperbole, to bang upon a thread. Should any dire calamity befall the land of cotton, a thousand of our merchant ships would rot idly in dock; ten thousand mills must stop their busy looms; two million mouths would starve for lack of food to feed them." Should not the advantages of this manufacture be reaped by our own people, or by English people removed to the vicinity of the cotton field, if you please, and adopted as citizens? That would benefit them and us, too, both in a higher degree than under the present system.

In all the elections for President and Vice President prior to and including that of the year 1800. the votes were for persons residing in different States for President—the highest in vote to be President, and the next highest Vice President. An election was generally made by some Presidential Elector erasing the name of the person intended for Vice President, thus giving the other a majority of otes. In 1800 Jefferson and Burrhad an equal num ber of votes, and the election was thrown into the House of Representatives, and t was not until after protracted balloting for six days, amid immense excitement, that Jefferson was elected over Burr the latter being elected Vice President of course. After this the Constitution was so amended as to require the Electors to designate on their ballots the persons intended for President and Vice President. OUR COUNTY ROADS.

FOR THE SPIRIT OF JEFFERSON. Mn Epiron: We have some bad roads in our county. Is it not to be desired that something should be done for their improvement?

Suppose, instead of keeping one man Overseer of the Road for years, however negligent he may be, the plan of annual rotation in office were adopted by our Magistrates, would not one single public spirited overseer set an example to the talance; emulation be infused; perhaps even a spirit of retaliation (in calling out hands) occasionally conduce to the public benefit; as well as the selfish inducement of, when opportunity offered, working the particular part of the road most used by the overseer, for the Good roads save time, teams and wagons, and promote intercourse. The best implements for working them properly are the plough and scoop; the best mode, to ridge them slightly in the middle, so as to shed the water off to the sides - not too much, however, as, in that case, but one track will be used. Each section of road should have a scoop,

HORRID CRUELTY AT SEA.

The Brooklen Advertiser tells a horrible story of bruelty on board one of the Liverpool racket ships of Messts, Grinnell & Ninturn, of New York, which is of so startling a nature, as to be almost incredible: We quote:

"The captain of the vessel in question, on his last voyago hitherward, not only barbarously flogged every sailor on board his vessel, but subjected them to a series of abuses that none but a fiend could conceive or execute. He caused heavy marlin spikes to be fastened to delicate parts of their bodies, and in this condition caused them to be dragged from one end of the deck to the other, besides inflicting upon them additional unbeard of torments. Taking some offence at the conduct of the steward of the ship, he ordered him, under pains and penalties of the severest nature, to catch three hundred flies, - and not one more, or less, - the same to be delivered to him (the captain) within a specified time. The poor fellow did as he was ordered, and when he had presented to his tyrant master the captives he had secured, he was directed to eat each fly separately, or be punished for onis ion to

Officers were sent in pursuit of him, but it is reported abat he fled to Canada.

A PORTUNE IN PERSPECTIVE.

A man, named John Croits, who had always lived in the most penurious manner, died on the 28th wit, in Boston, at the age of 76 years. The followdug paragraph, from the Advertiser, shows that his heirs may eventually derive some benefit from his

It was believed that by his penurious habite he had saved a small sum of money, carned at his trade, cabbling boots and shoes, but great was the surprise of his friends and others, on overhanling the old boots in the corner of his room, soon after his death, to find some of them literally crammed with old wallets well filled with the "root of all evil " It is impossible at present to tell the amount of fortune he has left, but we have heard it estimated at so large a sum as to seem incredible, $200,000, and what makes it more interesting to the parties concerned, he has left a will as long as the moral law, well and fuithfully executed, in which he decrees that his estate shall be kept in trust for twenty years before the heirs, with one ture's own Agent, the GASTRIC JUICE. Pamphlets, exception, can receive any benefit therefrom.

An adroit rouge has been making victims of a number of boarding house keeters and their guests in Philadelphia during the last week. GENERAL AGENCY IN WASHINGTON. HAVING surrendered everything 1 possessed on earth, in the shape of Property, Notes Claims and Accounts, both in Washington and Virginia, for the benefit of the Creditors of the "BANK OF THE UNION," I now tender my personal services for the further liquidation of any liabilities that may not be satisfied by the proceeds of my assetts What balances will be unsettled after all my available effects are realized through my Trustees, time alone can show; but, let the balance be what it may, I do not ask or desire to be released from my obligations even for one cent, as it is my determination to struggle, as long as life and health are spared me, to overcome adverse fortune, and to pay dollar for dollar. To this end, therefore, and for the maintenance of my little household, I hereby offer my services as a General Agent for Claims before Congress and the several Departments of the Government; and I will also undertake the collections of Claims against individuals in Washington.

My commissions for services rendered shall be no more than those charged by other Agents, and when employed by persons who were bona fide holders of the "Bank of the Union" notes at the time of its suspension, I will receive from them ar-PAR two-thirds of my fees in those issues. And now let ih se indebted to me make the same efforts, and the same sacrifices, and no creditor will suffer. My numerous friends in Virginia and elsewhere, who have known me from childhood, will, I am sure, still confide in me, and to them I refer all persons who may have occasion to employ an agent at the Seat of Government.

I OFFER at private sale the FARM upon which. I reside, shouted about four miles northwest of Charlestown, Jefferson county, Va., adjoining the lands of W. T. Washington, R. Werthington, Geo. 264 ACRES OF LAND, thirty of which are in timber, the balance in arable land, divided into nine fields, all under good fencing, mostly post and cap-fence. The improvements consist of a large, convenient and newly built Dwelling, containing seven rooms, with cellars under the whole —smoke house, ice house, servants' houses, stabling, corn house, and a large granary divided into garners, capable of holding 2000 bushels of wheat. All the buildings necessary for the comfort and convenience of a family have been erected within a few years past and are in good repair. There is upon the farm a variety of choice fruit selected from the best nurseries and most of them now bearing, viz: apples, peaches, cherries, apricots, plums, &c. The land has been farmed exclusively with a view to its improvement, clover and plaster has been freely used, and it is now in a nino trate of cultivation. PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON. Engraved (by permission) from Stuart's only original portrait, in the Atheneum, Boston

This superb picture. Engraved under the superintendence of THOMAS SULLY, Esq., the eminent and highly gifted artist, is the only c rrect likeness of Washington ever published. It has been characthis country As to its fidelity, we refer to the letters of the adopted son of Washington, GEORGE WASH-INGTON PARK CUSTIS, who says, "it is a faithful representation of the celebrated original." and to CHIEF JUSTICE TANEY of the Supreme Court of the United States, who says, "As a work of art its excellence and beauty must strike every one who sees it : and it is no less happy in its likeness to the Father of his country. It was my good fortune to have seen him in the days of my boyhood, and his whole appearance is yet strongly impressed on my memory, The portrait you have issued appears to me to be an exact likeness, representing perfectly the expression as well as the form and features of the face." And says Senator CASS, it is a life like representation of the great original. President FILLMORE says. the work appears to me to have been admirably executed and eminently worthy of the patronage of the public." Says MARCHANT, the eminent cortrait painter, and the pupil of Stuart, "your print to my mind is more remarkable than any other I have seen, for presenting the whole individuality of the original portrait, together with the noble and dignified repose of air and manner, which all who ever saw him considered a marked characteristic of the illustrious man it

In this preparation are strongly concentrated all the Medicinal properties of Sarsaparilla, combined with the most effectual aids, the most salutary productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom and he combination is such that one modifies and improves the other, producing a compound differing entirely in its character and properties from any other preparation, and unrivalled in its operation on the system when laboring under disease. The many well authenticated cures of Scrofula of the most malignant character, have given it a wide and deserved celebri-But it is not alone in Scrofula nor in the class of diseases to which it belongs, that this preparation has been found beneficial. It is a specific in many diseas es of the skin, and may be administered with favorable results in all; and it had been so fully tested, not only by patients themselves, but also by Physicians, that it has received their unqualified recommendations and the approbation of the public; and has established on its own merits a reputation for VALUE and EFFIcacy far superior to the various compounds bearing the name of Sarsaparilla. The following testimonials are selected from among the multitude of those we are daily receiving; and for further confirmation, he reader is referred to the Family Recipe and Medical Almanac, furnished gratuitously by all our agents. The following was sent to our Agents Messrs. W. A. WALDRON & Co., who are personally acquainted with the writer. WATERFORD, N. Y., Nov. 20, 1850. Messrs. Sands-Gentlemen,-About three months since, the disease called "Beard, or Barber's Itch," appeared on my face, and as it is of rare occurrenceno case as yet having come under the care of our villabe Physicians. I found it very difficult even to stop the progress of the disease on my face although I tried remedies that had cured from the pimples on a child's face to the galled breast of a canal horse, and even pulled out my beard on the side of my face and chin. A short time since, a friend told me that he had it for two years, and tried different remedies without success but finally cured it in a short time, by the use of Sands Sarsaparilla. On this recommendation, I bought one battle, and finding I received benefit from t, I continued its use until I am now perfectly cured. I am led to bring this to your notice gratuitously, from the fact, that the disease is not named in the list of complaints for which the Sarsaparilla is a temedy; and that you may be able confidently to recommend for such cases. Yours truly, GEO. E. SCOTT.

Messrs, Sanns :- Having suffered many years with a disease of my throat, affecting the laryax, during which time I was treated by the most distinguished physicians in Europe and the United States, without receiving any permanent benefit, but all the time my general health and strength declining, and the disease making fearful progress; coustic applications were used, and whatever else was thought most efficient for producing a cure; but I am confident the deplorable situation I was in, the laryngitis being accompanied with phthisis and great difficulty in breathing, would soon have terminated my I fe, had I not obtained relief through the medium of your invaluable Sarsaparilla I must say gentlemen, when I commenced using the Sarsaparitla I did not place much confidence in its virtues; and this will not surprise you, when you are informed I had tried more than fifty different remedies during the past four years, without any success; but of ter taking your Saisaparilla a few weeks, I was obliged at last to yield to evidence. This marvellous specific has not only relieved but cured me, and I therefore think it my duty gentlemen, for the benefit of suffering humanity, to give you this attestation of Yours, very truly, D. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption. supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based, is n the highest degree curious and remarkable.

SCIE TIPIC EVIDENCE, BARON LIEBIG in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Call, in which various articles of food. as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach." Dr. PEREIRA in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Flowers & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira. Dr. COMBE, in his valuable writings on the Physiology of Digestion.12 observes that a "diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspepsia;" and he states that a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint finding everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastrie Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved com-

AS A DYSPEPSIA CURER. Dr. Hougaron's Persia has produced the most marrell us effects in curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption. It is impossible to give the details of cases in the limits of this advertisement; but authenticated certificates have been given of more than two hundred remarkable cures, in Philadelphia, New York and Boston alone. These were nearly all desperate cases, and the cures were not only rapid and wonderiul, but permanent. It is a great nervous antidote, and particularly useful for tendency to Bilions disorder, Liver Complaint Fever and Ague, or badly treated Fever and

THE undersigned having parchased the right to manufacture and sell this unequalled Drill in the counties of Loudoun Clarke, and the southern half of Jefferson, are now fully prepared at their establishment in Charlestown to furnish to order any number of Drills, made in the most substantial manner. All orders promptly attended to.

This Wheat Drill performs the triple work of Drilling. Sowing and Covering by the same movement thereby saving much time and labor. It will plant point rows, and all irregular shaped fields with a saving of from 10 to 15 per cent. in labor. It will, with ease for two horses, plant from 8 to 10 acres per day of Wheat. Barley, and other small grains. This Machine has been in use two seasons. and wherever it has been introduced has given entire satisfaction.

HERRY PECTURAL For the rapid Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Many years of trial, instead of impairing the public confidence in this medicine, has won for it an appreciation and notoriety by far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the unmistakeable benefit conterred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community, have fuled and been discarded, this has gained triends by every trial, conferred beneats on the afflicted they can never forget. and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable

While it is a fraud on the public to pretend that any one medicine will infallibly cure-still there is abundant proof that the Cherry Pectoral does not only as a general thing, but almost invariably cure the maladies for which it is employed. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log-cabin of the American Peasant, to the palaces of European Kings Throughout this entire country, in every State, city, and indeed almost every hamlet it cont ins, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best remedy extant for diseases of the Throat and Lungs, and in many foreign countries, it is coming to be extensively used by their most intelligent Physicians. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection. Cherry Pectoral is introduced, and in constant use in the Armies, Hospitals, Alms Houses, Public institutions, and in domestic practice, as the surest remedy their attending Physicians can employ for the more dangerous affections of the lungs, Also in milder cases, and for children it is safe, pleasant and effectual to cure. In fact, some of the most flattering testimonials we receive have been from parents who have found it efficacions in cases particularly incidental to

The Cherry Pectoral is manufactured by a practical Chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye. with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration. We have endeavored here to furnish the community with a medicine of such intrinsic superiority and worth as should commend itself to their confidence-a remedy at once safe, speedy and effectual, which this has by repeated and countless trials proved itself to be; and trust by great care in preparing it with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength to afford Physicians a new agent on which they can rely for the best results, and the afflicted with a remedy that will do for them all that medicine can do? MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. WITH A HEALING BALM WE COME TO

GREET YOU!!! THE action of this Liniment is one of the most perfect remedies ever offered to the afflicted.—
Its action upon the organization is truly wonderfel. In volatile, penetrating, sooth sand healing properties diffuse themselves to the very bones. It enters into the circulation of the blood—gives a new impulse to the whole nervous system to the very extremities of the fingers and toes—stimulates the absorbents and secretions, and thus assists nature to throw off and rid herself of any diseased action of the nervous chords or ligaments, making it equally applicable to sores of any kind, Rheumatism, PAINS IN EVERY PART OF THE BODY, from a diseased action of any of the structural portions of from a diseased action of any of the structural portions of the system. WHILE IT IS PERFECTLY HARM-LESS to healthy fleth, skin or bone, it has the property of entering into combination, and dissolving any of the organic tissues when they are diseased, or their vitality is destroyed. Possessing these peculiar powers, is the REASON WHY IT IS EQUALLY EFFICACIOUS in so many different complaints. It acts upon scientific principles and FIXED LAWS OF THE CREATOR!

The large number of cases in which this Linimest has proved its value, in the sbort time it has been before the people of Virginia, is sufficient to give the greatest confidence that its virtues are incomparable in the care of Rheumatism, Bruises, Strains, Burns, Weunds, Swellings, Broken or Caked Breast, old Sores or Pains in any part

TESTIMONY FROM THE SOUTH. RHEUMATISM CURED IN ITS WORST

Extract of a letter dated New Orleans, March 5th, 1851: "Captain A. Angell has been five years under medical treatment for Rheumatism. Drs. Stone and Cartwright and other Physicians have had him in charge most of that time. He was in Dr. Stone's Hospital long time, under constant treatment. Dr. Stone pro-nounced his case incurable. Large lumps, of a hard bony substance, had formed on his hands, wrists and other parts of the body, and his lower extremities were drawn cut of shape, and he could not move about without assistance. Enclosed is a note from him, dated New Orleans, Feb. 27th, 1851:"

I sent to your store a week to-day; and got one botrische in your store i week to day; and got one sociated of the Mexican Mustang Liniment, and commenced rubbing it on my hands, arms, legs, feet, and other parts of my body. I am now up and can walk NEARLY AS WELL AS EVER! I find it doing meso much good, I send for another bottle.

A. ANGELL." Three weeks after the date of the note quoted above, he was well. He used altogether two fifty cents and one dollar bottle. This has called the attention of several of our first Physicianshere, who are now prescribing it in all cases of Coronic Rheumatism. There are many other cases of almost as marked a character as the above; but it is unnecessary to say more. A. KENDALL & Co.

SAVANNAH, Pus. 5th, 1852. Having been afflicted with acute Rheumatism for some time, and tried several of the most popular remedies, and also under medical advice, and received no relief until I had tried the Mustang Liniment; and much tomy surprise, I received immediate relief; and I am confident, that by a few more applications of this truly celebrated Liniment, I shall be entirely cured; and I advise all who are afflicted to try the Mexican Mustang Liniment.,

A. FREEMAN.
PINE VALLEY, Miss., Dec. 25, 1851. Dr. A. G. Bragg & Co.-The nine dozen bottles of Mexican Mustang Liniment left me five weeks ago, are all sold. Send me thirty dozen immediately. The Mustang Liniment has performed some wonderful curea here. Dr. W. W. Nevil says it is the greatest Liniment in the world. He had a negro girl that was nearly deaf and blind—his remedies did her no good—a few ap-plications of the Liniment cured her entirely. It is also caring James W. Coy's leg, which has been a running sore for forty years. It has not failed in a single case here, so far as it has been tried.

(Signed) ARTHUR HUDSON.
AN EDITORIAL RECOMMENDATION In the Savannah Republican of December 21, 1851, edited by A. K. Moere, Esq., he speaks in the following manner of the Mustang Liniment: "This Medicine is now offered to the people of Georgia for the first time. Our personal experience enables us to recommend it to the people with confidence, as we have felt the good effects upon a sprained ancle, which received great benefit from one application, and has been almost cured by an occasional use of it for a week."

TESTIMONY OF A PHYSICIAN [Extract of a letter, dated Pittsburg, Jan. 12th, 1852;] I will say, that your Mistang Liminent is about the best I ever used. I have used it in my own case, along the lower part of the spine, for spinal irritation, with complete relief. I used it a few nights ago, when I was perfectly crocked, and my back in complete torture, from what the books would call Opisthotonic condition of the muscles; which you know, is about as bad as "lockjaw." It gave immediate relief, and, in the morning, I could bend like a gutta percha man, and with as little pain. The medical profession, you know, have a great aversion to these kinds of remedies; but from a knowl-edge of the ingredients of the Mustang Liniment, I would have no hesitation in recommending it wherever a remedy to relieve pain is desired. I have recommended it in a number of cases in my own practice, and, as far as I can learn, it has acted with equal celerity and certainty, as in my own case. Moping that it may be used for, and drive away pain, wherever it exists, and that it may re-munerate you well for your exertions for bringing sevaluable a medicine before the public, I subscribe my-self, truly yours. GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D. HIS WOUNDS ARE HEALED.

John Shirley, Poseyville, Indiana, Dec. 30, 1851, says: "The Mustang Liniment has performed a great cure for me. On last Saturday week, I, by accident, ram a red hot red of iron through my hand, entering through my thumb and fore finger, passing through the thick part of my hand, and coming out on my wrist, between the two large leaders. I immediately applied the Mustavg Liniment, and continued its use. On Saturday next after that it was well, and I went to work as usua EORSES AND OTHER ANIMALS

There is nothing that can be compared to the Mustang Liniment, in its speedy and permanent cure of strains bruises, cuts, galls, chales, scratches, sweeny, pole evil, fistula, big head, spavin, ringbone, wind gall, cracked; heel, or any other wound, stiffness, or unnatural enlargement of bone or mucie. A livery stable keeper of this city had a match horse that he prized very highly, that, had a large ring-bone on both legs. The horse was com-pletaly cured, and his limbs left perfectly smooth, by thes TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS

Every store should be supplied with this valuable Liniment, as it pays a good profit and sen's rapidly.

PRICES OF THE LINIMENT: It is put up in bottles of three sizes, and retails at 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle. The 50 cent and dollar bottles contain 50 and 100 per cent, more Laciment, in proportion to their cost, so that money is saved by buying the larger sizes.
