MISCELLANY.

THE CALIPH'S DAUGHTER. BY JAMES H. DANA.

It was the afternoon of a sultry day, and youngest and loveliest of the two had just emerged from the water, and with a loese robe thrown around her, and one foot still dangling in the water, sat in a pensive attitude, while her companion, who was evidently of lower rank, was endeavoring to console

Allah-il-allah! This epistle, as may e supposed, opened Amra's eyes to the fily, or if not folly, the hopelessness of her ove. Had her suitor been within call, shewould have thrown humble condition in lie, shared with the young hunter who had won her virgin heart But he was far away and no shadow of escape was open to her. She saw, with agony inexpressible, that submission was her only that she was lost to him forever. The conversation between her and her attendant with which our story begins, had been on this mournful theme, and it was the last conversation that they could ever hold on the subject, for that evening the Caliph and Prince Hafiz were expected at the pavillion.

It was with many tears that the young princess yielded herself to the hands of her interview. At last, arrayed in garments of the richest texture, and decked with choicest gems, she came forth from the inner bower of the harem and took ber seat on the cushions of the receiving room. This was a large apartment, with walls painted in arabesques of blue and silver, and a divan of

I recollect a pretty incident which may not be uninteresting to the reader. A wild young fellow married a lovely girl, and having long been addicted to habits of dissipation, even the sincere attachment which be entertained towards his wife would not entirely disentangle him from its snares. His occasional irregular hours would have given any but one of so pure and sweet a disposition every reason to suspect that she did am proud to give him m favorite daughter. | not hold that place in his effections which was her right; but this reflection scarcely ever intruded upon her spirits. The hus band was far away from being cruel, and gready loved her, but his disposition was weak and his companions elequent, and he herself into his arms, fillingly sacrificing seemed to grow worse rather than better in wealth, rank, and a father's blessing for an his habits. It happened once that he was called out of town, and in his haste left behind him a letter, in which, to please an unprincipled friend, he had spoken of his wife

He recollected, too, with a pang, that he had wantonly, in answer to her inquiries, boasted that it contained a profound secret, which he would not have revealed for the world. He paced the deck in an agony of disappoint ment and shame. He pictured her opening attendants, to be attired for the approaching the letter, turning pale with horror and indignation-perhaps fainting with anguish, alarming the servants, flying to her father and renouncing him forever. LOVE LETTERS. The first love letter is an epoch in loves happy season-it makes assurance loubly sure-that which has hitherto only found utterence in sweet and hurried words, now seems to take a more tangible existence .-A love letter is a proof how early even in . absence you are remembered. We once heard a young friend regret her approaching marriage, because she would then receive no more charming notes. Alas! the charming notes are not the only charming things that are no more But a le letter! how much of life's most perfect happiness do these two words contain! With what auxiety it is expected! with what, delight it is received !-it seems almost too great a pleasure to open it. Suddenly we mock ourselves for the charming delay -- the seal is hastily broken-the contents eagerly deyoured: then it is read slowly, dwelling on every sentence to lengthen out its enjoyment; how sweet does every little word of endearment appear !- what importance is attached to the choice of an epitaet, to the turn of a phrase! Through the whole day, with what a conscious thrill its possession is recalled !- with what care it is read over at night, till its contents mingle with our dreams! We often wonder, when we see words they used to say and the letters they moment bring back the old feeling, or at all events a tender regret for its departure?

THE PAPER DON'T SAY.

Mr. Sleeum was not educated in a university, and his walk in life has been in by-paths and out-of-the-way places. His mind is characterized by literalness rather than a comprehensive grasp of great subjects. Mr. Slocum can, towever, master a printed paragraph by dint of spelling the hard words in a deliberate manner, and he manages to get a few glimpses of men and things from his little rocky farm through the medium of a newspaper. It is quite edifying to hear Mr. Slocum reading the village paper aloud to his wife after a hard

'day's work.

'I'll read the 'count, wife, and then you will know all about it.' Mr. Slocum began to read

'HORRIBLE AND FATAL ACCIDENT .- It becomes our painful duty to record the particulars of an accident that occurred at the lower mill, in this village, yesterday afternoon, by which a human being in the prime of life was hurried to that bourne from which, as the immortal Shakspeare has said no traveller returns.' 'Do tell !' exclaimed Mrs. S.

'Mr. David Jones, a workman who had but few superiors this side the great city of New York, was engaged in adjusting a belt upon one of the large drums-'I wonder if it was a bass drum, sich as has 'E Pluribus Unum' printed on it !' said Mrs. Slocum. -when he fibecame entangled. His arm was drawn around the drum, and finally his whole body was whirled over the shaft at a fearful rate. When his situation was discovered, he had revolved about fifteen minutes, his head and arms striking a large beam a distinct blow at each revolution.' 'Poor creatur, it must have hurt him '

-portions of the durameter, cerebrum, and cerebellum in confused masses, were scattered about the floor-in short, the gates of eternity had opened to him.' Here Mr Slocum, paused to wipe his spectacles, and the wife seized the opportunity to press the question-·Was the man killed? 'I don't know-haven't come to that yet, you'll know when I've finished the piece.'-

And Mr. Slocum continued his reading. 'It was evident, when the shapeless form was taken down, that it was no longer tenanores, I presume we shall come upon it right away.' And he went on.

'This fatal casuality has cast a gloom over our village, and we trust that it will prove a warning to persons who are called upon to 'Now,' says Rowerful kur, how & the narrative was ended, 'now I should like to know whether the man was killed or not.' Mr. Slocum looked puzzled. He seraton-

ed his head, scrutinized the articles he had been reading, and took a general survey of 'I declare, wife, it's rather curious, but really the papers don't say.'

CHASED BY A LOCOMOTIVE.

NO. 46.

A Heosier writes to the New York Dutchman an account of his first sight of a locemotive and his adventure therewith:

I came across the country and struck our railroad, and was plying it about four knots an hour. Now, I've heard tell about your locomotives, but never dresmed of seeing one alive and kicking; but about two miles from here I heard something coming, coughing, sneezing and thundering; so I looked round. Sure enough, there she came after me-pawing the earth up and splitting the air wide open, and more smoke and fire flying than eught to come out of a hundred burning mountains. There was a dozen wareading an account of a dreadful accident gons followin' arter, and to save her tarnel, and to save her tarnel, black, smoky, noisy neck, she could not get ing at the mount, what her next line are ing at the mount, what her next ing coals, and pitched right at me, like though the 'count of the 'count of the count of the cou ger, so I wheeled round, and took down the road, and began to make gravel fly in every direction. No sooner had I done that, than she put right straight after me, squlling like a thousand wild cats. She began to gain on me coming up a little hill, but I came to a pint of straight level on the road. Now, thinks I, I'll give you ginger ; I'm great on a dead level, so I pulled to it, and got under full speed, and then she began to yell and to stamp, and came full chisel, and made the whole earth shake. But I kept on before, bounding at the rate of twenty feet each jump, till I got to a turn in the road, and I was under such a beadway that I could'nt turn, so I tumbled heels over head down a bank by a house, landed cosmulic into a swill barrel, and my feet stuck out behind and up in the air. Just at that time the locemetive found I had got away from it, commenced spitting hot water into me, and just literally spattered all over me. I thought in my soul that Mount Vesuvius had bust some place in this neighborhood. But do you suppose I staid there long? No sir! I just walked right through that barrel, and came out so quick that I really looked ashamed of myself .--New, here I am, a real double revolving snelly glester, ready to attack anything but a combination of thunder and lightning, smoke, railroad iron and water.

We clip the following from the last number of the Scientific American: When the cemetery of the Innocents at Paris was removed to the outside of the barriers, the buried corpses, which had acenmulated to the depth of 60 feet, were found, to a great extent, apparently converted into fat. The substance of the skin, cellelar tissue, and tendons, all the soft parts, and even the bones had completely disappeared, leaving only the fat, which, resisting ted by an immortal spirit, that the vital longest the influence of decay (oxygen,) reof fine sentiment, and they certainly carried the point to a charming point of reflection in receiving light from candles made out of the bedies of their fathers. STEAMERS FROM NORFOLK TO ANT-WERP.

At the last session of the Legislature of Virginia, a bill was passed by the Senate for the establishment of a line of Steamers from Norfolk to Apt. werp in Belgium, and the subject is now pressed before the House of Delegates.

We regret that our limited space will not enable us to put our readers in possession of all the facts bearing upon this proposition, but its importance will be seen at a glance.

The government of Belgium offer many advantages to encourage this enterprise.

Belgium as a manufacturing country, offers the strongest inducements for steam communication with the South. The cities and towns where the great manufactories exist, are connected directly with Antwerp by Rail Roads of the lest construction, admirably managed, and under the immediate control of the government. These Roads stretch is therefore (says Mr Thompson, who writes on the subject,) the connecting point at which a Steam Line from the South may lay under contribution the entire iron nel work of the Rail Roads of Europe,

Norfolk is considered the most central point upon the coast of the Union, with the best and most accessible waters, and will probably be connected in a few years with the Valley of the Mississippi at Memphis.

The Continent of Europe until recently, has obtained almost its entire supply of cotton, tobacco, and other Southern productions, through England. When a still more direct trade from the soil whence grow the great articles of exchange, cotton and to. bacco, is established, then will the Continent of Europe be ireed from its commercial vassalage to England, and the cotton and tobacco raising States be also freed from theirs to New York.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Speaking of the business before the present Legislature of Virginia, the Wheeling Intelligencer says: But little has been done to carry out the various provisions of the Constitution. The registry acts, for the prevention of illegal voting and for providing for a more efficient and equal system of taxation, thus affording certainty in the various departments of voting and taxation. The judiciary acts are fir from complete, and in many respects very imperfect, and may be vastly improved and simplified; and then the great fund, for accomplishing all that Vir ginia can desire, and for carrying her up to the point of development, which she should attain to, is yet locked up in the Feder- the Doctor. al Government, kept out of the hands of the true owners and squandered by the Federal Government on stock-jobbing Corporations, gotten up for the purpose of benefitting a few of the new States, while the old States, to whom an important part of this great fund be ongs, are wholly deprived of this "common fund for the common benefit of all the States, Virginia inclusive." Here then is a great field for the efficient action of the Legislature, and it remains to be seen whether it will prove itself adequate to the mission, with which it is en-

By recommendations of the Governors of 20 States of the Union, Thursday last was observed as a day of thankfulness for the manifold blessings | enjoyed by the people. It was also observed in the District of Columbia.

The following is a list of the States in which Thursday was observed as a day of Thanksgiving. Maine, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Ialiana, Rhode Island, Louisiana, Delaware, Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio Georgia, Florida, Wisconsin, North Carolina, Vermont, Alabama and Michigan. This festival was also observed in Mississippi on the 14th, and in South Carolina on the 29th October, and in New Hampshire on the 11th of November.

THE ILLUMINATION.

FOR THE VIRGINIA FREE PRESS. It having of late years become fashionable on the of a presidential campaign for the sucvince their satisfaction or give vent rant joy in a "jollification" made up of ill amination, bonfires and torch light processions, accompanied by all manner and sorts of devices and transparencies, emblematical of the ignored principles of their opponents, or characteristic of Such being the fashion, we do not purpose at this to object to it, on the contrary as it is a harmless passime and calculated to afford (without additional cost or labor) quite as much amusement to the defeated as to the victors, we are decidedly in lavor of its continuance and for the purpose of preventing its degenerating into a miserable burlesque on the part of our democratic friends, we use upon them the propriety, hereafter, of selecting for office men who after being elected, they will not to be ashamed in a spirited and becoming manner, men having in some way distinguished themselves by real or supposed service in their country's cause. shall not only receive the suffrage of their countrymen, but be entitled to an abiding place in their affections. To such only ought a free people render evation, and to such suly have they rendered with spirit, feeling or enthus asm.

As a matter of course we are not prepared to say whether our democratic friends deem such selections essential to their purpose, or whether they are influenced by the same consideration which operate upon the whig minds, but we do say, that whenever it has been our furn to make the shore it has been done up right, with light in abundance, free cheer, and a sort of personal pride in doing honor to whom honor was due.

But our object (almost forgotten) is to notice v Lat was designed as a demonstration (as we presume) of joy, by our democratic brethren of Harpers-Ferry in Honor of the recent overwhelming and ponderous returns in favor o Pierce & King and the IRtry, suce an evidence, and in addition to others, an unmistakeable one, that true greatness is only appreciated when death has set his seal upon it; surey there was something in all this which demanded omething better than a bonfire, scarcely visible in midnight darkness, a paltry dozen of miserable transparencies borne by boys in a straggling juvinial procession, or of a two cent candle divided in twain to illuminate a window of eighteen lights ten by twelve. Oh my countrymen what a demonstration was this! and if your joy was commensurate with the enthusiasm which prevailed, our pen is unable to portray the fullness of your joy, and overpowered by the fulness of your emotion, we too exclaim "Hurra for Pierce & King," demanding for this patriotic effort on our part, the solu ion of the question, now mooted "whether the illumination was intended to render the transparencies in the procession visible, or whether the transparencies were designed to make discernible the illumination. If the anticipations of this affair, like the mammoth bills of a travelling Menagrie, or a broken down Circus, promised infinitely more than was seen, still we were very agreeably compensated, by seeing the talented democratic elector for this district, whose appearance had been announced in former bills, but who had unfortunately been prevented from making his appearance in consequence of his liability to an attack of "Butlerism," which on several occasions came near proving fatal to his usefulness as a public speaker, in fact so inveterate and certain were these visitations that his Physician pronounced a fatal termination as the keen quiet. The advice was judicious, and although we were pleased to see him looking extreme ly well and in full possession of his powers of speech, vet considering the circumstances of the case it may be a matter of regret to his friends that he should to soon have forgotten the instructions of

There was considerable excitement in our Market yesterday morning, growing out of the seizure and sale, by the Master, of some ten pounds of butter found to be under-weight. It was the first instance, since the revision of the rules which govern the agents of the corporation, that the Master deemed it his duty to enforce them. FREDERICK FEMALE SEMINARY.

We earnestly call attention to the advertisement of this admirable and deservedly popular Seminary, than which, we believe, no similar institution in the country is more deserving of patronage, ranks higher as a finishing school for young ladies, or is better prepared to confer an elegant and refined education, in all the branches of femine accomplishment. The large corps of professors and teachers enjoy, individually, an extended reputation for experience, good taste and learned ability; and Parents and Guardians may rest assured that the most parental care will be exercised for the welfare and future happiness of the pupils entrusted to their taition.

his not a sectarian school; on the contrary the preceptors are of various denominations, and the regular attendance of the scholars at worship in their proper churches is strictly required.

Frederick is almost proverbial for its healthy location, morality and good society. The seminary is situated in Church Street, in the heart of the town, yet sufficiently retired from the thoroughfares of business to escape interruption.

We would suggest, in conclusion, that the beginning of the year is a convenient time for boarders and day-scholars to enter, and would recommend all concerned to take advantage of the occasion. For circulars and further particulars, enquire at this office, or address H. Winchester, Esq.,

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT ON THE HAVANA DIFFICULTY.

In consequence of the alleged misrepresentation of the views of the President, and the effort which it is alleged also is continually making by those who side with Mr. George Law, of New York, it his efforts to give the fillibusters something to start upon, the Washington official papers of Saturday state that the President has decided to allow the publications of the subjoined private letter from him to the Collector of New York, in reply to one addressed to him personally from that officer:

WASHINGTON, November 12, 1852. Hon. Hugh Maxwell, New York City-Your note of Hon. Hugh Marwell, New York City—Your note of yesterday came to hand this monaine, in which you state a conversation you had with Mr. George Law, from which you learned that the "Crescent City will go to Cuba and enter the port of Havana in defiance of the Spanish authority, and if fired upon, she will be surrendered, and then he and others will immediately commence hostilities against the Island." You say, also, that the degree to know whether he is right in perthat " he desires to know whether he is right in persisting in the pursuit of his lawful business, and if the government shell tell him he must not go, he will not go. f, however, the government says nothing against his going, he will infer he has a right to go." You say, also, that " be professes to be friendly to me and my ad-Of the sincerity of this latter profession one can best judge by reading his letter of the 9th, published in the New York Herald of the 10th inst.

But, in regard to the chief matters of your letter, permit me to say that, in the first race, I do not admit the right of Mr. Law, or any other citizen, to threaten awar n his own account, for the purpose of seeking redress for real or imaginary injuries, and then to call on the Government to say whether it approves or disapproves of such conduct, and assume its approbation unless the act is forbidden. The constitution of the United States has vested in Congress alone the power of Ceclaring war, and neither the Executive branch of the Government nor Mr Law has any right to usurp that power by com-mencing a war without its authority; and if he shall attempt it, it will be my duty, as it is my determination, to exert all the power confided to the Executive Gov-erament by the Constitution and laws to prevent it. I am resolved, at every hazard to maintain the business: but when a question is raised by Government and a foreign nation as to whether the business which he pursues is lawful, or pursued in a lawful anner, the decision of that question belongs to the two Governments, and not to him. If the object be to assert his right to enter the port of Havana with such persons as he may choose to select, in defiance of the laws and Government of Spain, he has certainly done enough to present that question for the decision of the Governments Spain and the United States; and the negotiation has lready commenced, and our rights, as we understa them, have been a-serted, and, as I said before, will be maintained. But the act of this Government cannot be controlled by the interference of any individual, and it is entirely unnecessary that Mr. Law should repeat these attempts for the purpose of settling this controversy; and if he wilfully does so, and in so doing violates the laws of a foreign nation within its own jurisdiction, and thereby loses or forfeits his vessel, he can expect no indemty for such an act of folly from this Government. We regulate the terms and conditions upon which all foreign vessels shall enter our ports, and we fix the penalties for a violation of our laws, and the right to do so we shall never suffer to be questioned by oreigners, and we do not question theirs to do the same thing. He must wait the result of the negotiations between the two governments. This is a question not to be settled between him and Cuba, nor even between the United States and Cuba, but between the United States and Spain, which alone is responsible for the conduct of the overnor of Cuba. I write in some haste, as the mail is closing; but you are at liberty to make known the contents of this letter to Mr. Law, and to inform him that as a good citizen I presume he will not attempt any violation of our neutrality laws by attacking Cuba. I am truly yours, MILLARD FILLMORE.

In publishing this letter, the Republic accompa with the following statements: We understand-and it is due to Mr. Law to saythat, when apprized of the contents of the above letter, he remarked that his intentions in relation to making war upon Cuba had been misunderstood.

BERRYVILLE AND CHARLESTOWN

TURNPIKE COMPANY.

This road is about twelve m les and a half ong. There are two full toll-gates, one near Berryville and one at Charlestown, and one hall toll-gate about mid-way. It is understood that bargains for the use of the road by the year, on horse-back, or in light carriages, may be made with any of the Directors, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors at their next monthly meeting, at very low rates, for the cash in advauce-thes will give the free use, in that way, for an entire farm, tamily or an individual. For wagons and carts, tickets, may be purchased at either of the post offices on the route, at a discount of 30 per cent., by taking as many as will amount to one dollar or more; and the toll spon all travel returning the same day is one half. The legal tell is 61 cents a horse, tell only is charged on an empty wagon going to either of the mills near there for a load of flour Two trips, full loaded, are, by means of the Depot in Charlestown, in a day. Instead, therefore, of, as formerly in winter, when the roads were bad, earning $1 70 a day, forty barrels and npwards may now be delivered, without cifficulty, in the same time, which at the same price of 10 cents a barrel is $4 00, less the toll, 80 cents, making a clear gain to the farmer for the use of his team of $1 50 a day-or, rather reducing the carriage to Charlestown from 10 to 61 cents a

This benefit will be still increased if the County Court think proper to open the road petitioned for, by many citizens on the Bullskin, from the pike to the upper mill on that stream. It would not be difficult to demonstrate that it is the interest of the Kabletown district to set to work at once to construct a pike to intersect the Berryville and Charlestown pike The annual gain upon the wheat ground there alone would offset the interest on the cost. No doubt the undertaking would be aided by many stockholders in the Berryville and Charlestown road.

A PINE SHEEP. We saw yesterday a superb specimen of the fleecy tribe on its way through our streets to the Deput of the South-Side rai road. It was a male the Cotswold breed, lambed last spring, and fer irgeness of size, symmetry of form, heaviness and friedess of fleece, superior to any animal of the kind we have ever seen. It was raised by J. W. Ware, Esq., of Clarke courty, in this State, and was purchased in Baltimore for R. H. Allen, Esq., of Notioway county, we believe, to whose planta-tion it is on its way. We have often heard of the apacity of our mountain pastures to produce wool of the richest fabric, but we have realized the full "Dain the hoy" says the boy, "I dont care nothin about it, but nab's under it." A PEEP AT GUANO WHERE GATH-ERED?

Having anchored between the north and middle island, at the latter of which we are to load, we will borrow the beat, and have a closer look at the huge muck heart Putting half around the island, the landing place, we step ashore on a narrow strip of sandy beach, which appears to be cleared from the surrounding rocks for our especial convenience. Our appearance disturbs thousands of the web-footed natives; these thousands count with the old hands as nothing, for they tell' us that the shipping has driven all the birds away. Sailing above us is a flock of percans, hovering over the clear water like hawks, which they resemble in their mode of darting nown or stooping on their prey One of these every instant drops from the fleck as though a ball had whistled through his brain, but, after a plunge, he is soon seen

On the detached rocks and the lower edge of the island -member of a pretty numerous convocation stands the penguin, the parson-bird of the sailor, whose good name is fairly earned by his cut away black cout, white tie, and solemn denreanor. His short legs planted far back; and his long body, do not fit him for a walk ashore; but he will sit for hours on a little rock just washed by the waves, apparently in such deep absence of wind, the passers by are tempted to ap-to grasp his neck, and catching him. Just heels, in a most irreverent and already out manner, dives under manner, dives under the boas, and shots his head about a quarter of a mite out at sea, where the sailor may catch him who can, for he is the fastest swimmer and best direr.

Stepping over the mortal remains of seveeral sea lions, in a few strides we were our Mc Sargeant's public life commenced early - the guano, and at the next step in it up to our knees. The guano is regularly stratified: the lower strata solidified by the weight of the upper, and has acquired a dark red color, which becomes gradually lighter towards the surface. PROSPECTUS FOR PUBLISHING THE WRITINGS OF Dr. JOHN LOFLAND, THE MILFORD BARD,

With a Portrait of the Author, and a Sketch of his Life. Collected and Arranged by the Rev. J. N. Mc.

THE subscribers have in Press, and will publish early in November, the Writings of the Min-rord Bard, consisting of Sketches in Prese and Poetry, Moral, Patriotic, Sentimental, Sympathetic and Humorous.

These Sketches are greatly varied, both as regards subject and syle, and will form a volume of eighly interesting character.

The MilfordBard was well known as a writer, having obtained considerable distinction in Literature ty his contributions to various Periodicals throughout the country. Many of the Sketches, drawn from real life and founded upon well known facts, were widely circulated, and received high commendations from individuals celebrated for literary taste, as well as from the Press. Since the death of the Bard, the subscribers have determined to present his Works in an embodied form to the public. They have been collected and arranged for the purpose by a gentleman who was familiar with his history and character, during his life, and who assisted him in the arrangement and publication of a former volume. Many of the pieces have been written since the former volume was issued, and are among the best and most interesting of his productions.

This work will be issued in an 8vo volume of upwards of 500 pages, Embelished with an excellent Portrait of the author. It will be handsomely bound in Embossed Cloth, Gilt Back and Sides. and furnished to subscribers at the low price of 52 50 per copy, or in Cloth, Gilt Edges and Sides, suitable for Holiday Gifts, at 53 per copy, The work will be sent by mail, any distance (to whom the usual discount will be allowed,) are respectfully solicited.

SMILES AND KISSES; OR FRIEND-SHIP AND LOVE.

Two exquisite jewels of feeling Are set in the circle of Love,

Bright glimpses of heaven, revealing The joys of spirits above, lough friendship shines first in the ring, A smile is the emblem of this; Which ever lies hid in a kiss.

Whenever my spirit is weary, And longs for rest from its strife, When all of the future is dreary.

And dark is the pathway of life; If friendship will smile, it can cheer, As feebly I struggle along, But a kiss from the lips that are dear Will render me ten times as strong.

Life's duties it changes to pleasure, Its trials can bravely be met, For my heart in itself has a treasure, Since Love mid its jewels was set; My pathway is dotted with flowers,

Which seem at each step to unclose, For Love lends his wings to the hours And tints there with couleur de rose. Though friendship's an exquisite feeling,

A breath from an angel above, Which over the spirit comes stealing And wakes the first notes of its love;

That love is a stronger emotion, That stirs all the depths of the soul, As the waters of mighty old ocean Are moved by the moonlight's control And if ever to mortals is given A feeling approaching the bliss

Which spirits experience in heaven, 'Tis felt in the thrill of a kiss. A smile may be given to many, 'Tis only of friendship a part, But give not a kiss unto any Who has not the love of your heart.

INDIAN SUMMER.

There is a time, just ere the frost Prepares to pave old Winter's way, When Autumn, in a reverie lost, The mellow day-time dreams away

When Summer connest in musing mind, To gaze once more on hill and dell, To mark how many sheaves they bind, And see if all is ripened well.

With balmy breath she whispers low, The dying flowers lock up and give For her who made their beauties live She enters 'neath the woodland shade,

Her zephyrs lift the lingering leaf, And bear it gently where are laid The loved and lost one's of its grief. She seeks the shore, old Ocean heaves, In gladness huge his mighty breast, Prisons his wild winds in the caves.

And basking in their smiles is blest And last old Auturan, rising takes With boist'rous hands the trees he shakes

Intent on gathering all his own. Sweet Summer, sighing, flies the plain, And waiting Winter, gaunt and grim, See miser Autumn hoard his grain And smiles to think its all for him.

Quoting Scripture. - A worthy deacon in the good town of r. was remarkable for the facility with which he quoted Scripture on all occasions. The Divine Word was ever at his tongue's end, and all the individual, as well as important occurrences of life furnished occasions for quoting the language of the Bible. What is better, however, the exemplary man made his quotations the standard of action. One hot day he was engaged in mowing, with his hired man who was leading off, the deacon following in a swath, conning his apt quotations, when the man suddenly sprang from his place, leaving the swath just in time to escape a wasp's

"What is the matter?" hurriedly inquired

the deacon. "Wasps !" was the laconic reply. "Pooh!" said the deacon, "the wicked flee when no man pursueth, but the righteous are as bold as a lion;" and taking the workman's swath, he moved but a step when a swarm of brisk insects settled about his ears, and he was forced to retreat with many a sting, and in great discomfiture. "Ah !" shouted the other with a chuckle, "the prudent man foreseeth the evil and hideth himself, but the simple pass on and

The good deacon had found his equal in making application to the sacred writing, and thereafter was not known to quote Scripture in a mowing field.

The day after the loss of the Atlantic, an individual at Dotroit whose wife was on board and supposed to have been drowned, exhibited very extraordinary manifestations of grief-somewhat to the surprise of his neighbors who never suspected him of being a fond husband While he was thus boisterously bewailing his loss, a boy arrived in haste from the Telegraph Office. A wag stopped the lad. 'Isn't Mr. - in here? said the latter. 'Yes.' 'I have a dispatch for him-his wife is saved.' 'Ah, well,' said the wag, 'don't tell him-the poor fellow feels bad enough already.'

II "I sat by the open window on a fine dewy morning," writes a very poetical scrib-"the stars shown out, and the moon bler, "the stars should be rocks that bound flung her beams over the rocks that bound my view. The birds had retired to restthe wakeful frogs made music in the neighboring marsh, and fire flies bespangled the darkness. I looked out upon the charming scene-I raised my eyes to the milky way, and recollected that I had no clean shirt for

A resident of a western tewn, complained that he could not sleep one night, and summed up the causes -"A wailing babe of seventeen days-dog howling under the window -cat fight in the alley -a colored serenade at the shanty over the way-a tooth acke -and a pig trying the back door."

TAYLOR'S FALL FASHICKS, 1852.

MAYLOR, OPPOSITE BARNUM'S Would invite es-I pecial attention to his Fall Fashions for the season which he will introduce on Wednesday, Settember 1st, being confident that it will be found the most graceful and truly superb HAT ever presented. In commencing the Fall campaign he would return thanks to his numerous friends and customers for their generous support, and tegs to assure them that nothing shall be wanting on his part to merit a continuance of their tayors. In view of the vast accumulation of small accounts as accruing under the old system of Semi-Annual collections, as well as exigencies growing out of the change in our State Constitution, has induced him to come before his customers with a new front; in other words, he has determined to change his manner of doing business, and which, he flatters himself, will meet their hearty approval. A per centage, inseparable from the credit system, including losses and collection, will by this change be secured the customer; as instead of booking them for the small sum of $1 and $5, he will make an abatement of ten per cent. for cash payment; thus a Hat of superior quality, the material and manufacture alike being of the highest class, and which under the credit system cannot be sold for less than $5. will now nett $4 50; an article of second quality, which in all points cannot be surpassed (the humbug putings of certain cealers to the contrary notwithclear abatement of ter per cent., and the rule will be applied without deviation to every article in the Beyond this, is impossible; to pretend more,

To secure his customers a superior article, he has perfected arrangements by which he imports all his raw materia! and has established on his premises a manufactuling department; the whole establishment being under the immediate supervision of his own eve, and directed by his experience, the skill and tact of superior foremanship regulates the details, and thus completes the whole arrangement, and insures to the customer the faithful performance of every part of the contract.

In this preparation are strongly concentrated all the Medicinal properties of Sarsaparilla, combined with the most effectual aids, the most salutary productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom; and the combilition is such that one modifies and improves the other, producing a compound differing entirely in its character and properties from any other preparation, and unrivalled in its operation on the system when laboring under disease. The many well authenticated cures of Serofula of the most malignant character, have given it a wide and deserved celebriauthenticated cures of Scrofula of the most malignant character, have given it a wide and deserved celebrity. But it is not alone in Scrofula nor in the class of diseases to which it belongs, that this preparation has been found beneficial. It is a specific in many diseases of the skin, and may be administered with favorable results in all; and it had been so fully tested, not and the application for value and efficient on the same are putned to the same and the same a cacy far superior to the various compounds bearing the name of Sarsaparilla. The following testimonials are selected from among the multitude of those we are daily recriving; and for further confirmation, the reader is referred to the Family Recipe and Medical Almanac, furnished grat ritously by all our agents. The following was sent to our Agents Messrs, W. A. Waldron & Co., who are personally acquainted with the writer. WATERFORD, N. Y., Nov. 20, 1850. Messis. Sands-Gentlemen, About three months since, the disease called "Beard, or Barber's lich," appeared on my face, and as it is of rare occurrenceno case as yet having come under the care of our village Physicians. I found it very difficult even to stop progress of the disease on my face, although I tried remedies that had cured from the pimples on a child's face to the galled breast of a canal horse, and even pulled out my beard on the side of my face and A short time since, a friend told me that he had it for two years, and tried different remedies with-out success, but finally cared it in a short time, by the use of Sands' Sarsaparilla. On this recommendation, I bought one bottle, and finding I received benefit from it, I continued its use until I am now perfectly cured I am led to bring this to your notice gratuitously, from the fact, that the disease is not named in the list of complaints for which the Sarsaparilla is a remedy; and that you may be able confidently to recommend for such cases. Yours truly, GEO. E. SCOTT.

REMARKABLE CURE OF BRONCHITIS. NEW YORK, Feb. 17, 1849. Messrs. Sanus :- Having suffered many years with a disease of my throat, affecting the larynx, during which time I was treated by the most distinguished physicians in Europe and the United States, without receiving any permanent benefit, but all the time my general health and strength declining, and the disease making fearful progress; caustic applications were used, and whatever else was thought most efficient for producing a cure; but I am confident the deplorable situation I was in, the larvingitis being accompanied with phthisis and great difficulty in breathing, would on have terminated my life, had I not obtained relief through the medium of your invaluable Sarsaparil-la. I must say gentlemen, when I commenced using the Sarsaparilla I did not place much confidence in its virtues; and this will not surprise you, when you are during thepast four years, without any success; but atter taking your Sarsaparilla a few weeks, I was obliged at last to yield to evidence. This marvellous specific has not only relieved but cured me, and I therefore think it my duty, gentlemen, for the benefit of suffering humanity, to give you this attestation of Yours, very truly, D. It is ex-tracted from Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus the aid of this preparation, the paros and with of Indigestion and Dyspersia are removed, just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of Debility. Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based, is in the bighest degree curious and remarkable,

SCIENTIPIC EVIDENCE,

BARON LIEBIG in his celebrated work on Anmal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Calf, in which various articles of food. as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach." Dr. PERLIRA, in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet," sublished by Flowers & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the nethod of preparation. There are few righer authorities than Dr. Pereira. Dr. COABE, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that a "dimi-nution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspepsia;' and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved com-

Dr. GRAHAM, author of the famous works on Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of disg various articles of tood, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process." Professor Dunglison, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Beaumont, on the Gastrie Juice obtained from the living human stomach, and from animals, are well formed I had tried more than fifty different remedies known. Dr. Houghton's Persin has produced the most marvellous effects, in curing cases of Debility, Emaciation Narrous Declisenced; Duradin Carcarea certificates have been given of more than two hundred remarkable cures, in Philadelphia, New York and Boston alone. These were nearly all desperate cases, and the cures were not only rapid and wonderful, but permanent. It is a great nervous antidote, and particularly useful for tendency to Bilious disorder, Liver Complaint, Fever and Ague, or badly treated Fever and Ague, and the evil effects of Quinine, Mercury and other drugs upon the Digestive Organs, after a long sickness. Also, for excess in eating, and the too free use of ardent spirits. It almost reconciles Health with Intemperance. OLD STOMACH COMPLAINTS There is no form of old stomach complaints which it does not seem to reach and remove at once. No matter how bad they may be, it gives instant relief! A single-dose removes all the unpleasant symptoms; and it only needs to be repeated for a short time to make these good effects permanent. Purity of blood, and vigor of body follow at once. It is particularly exceilent in cases of Nausea Vomiting, Cramps, Soreness of the pit of the Stomach, distress after eating, low, cold state of the Blood, Heaviness, Lowness of Spirits, Despondency, Emaciation, Weakness, tendency to Insanity, Suicide, &c. We have in our possession a largnumber of certificates, recommending this Drill the farmer as having no superior. Among the raber the following:

I have used on my farm and amill using one of the Wheat Drills, patented by evis S. Gardner and George Rohr, and now d by Messrs.

Henson, O'Bannon and Hunt. In not suppose any intelligent farmer would now ispute the advantage of drilling over broadca sowing; I also consider the above Dri'l altoget equal to any drill now in use, and the advante of applying a compost box to it, makes it vendesirable. The compost part of the drill acts weln every particular and is one of the greatest in prions of the day for the farmer; it might well behiled the farmer's friend, as it saves both time anabor.

AN EDITORIAL RECOMMENDATION

In the Savannah Republicanof December 21, 18e1, edited by A. K. Moore, Esq., are speaks in the following manner of the Mustang Liniment:

This Medicine is now offered to the people of Georgia for the first time. Our personal experience enables us to recommend it to the people with confidence, as we have felt the good effects upon a sprained ancle, which received great benefit from one application, and has been nose cured by an occasional use of it for a week."

TESTIMONY OF A PHYSICIAN. I will say, that your Mustang kiniment is about the best I ever used. I have used it in my own case, along Extract di a letter, da the lower part of the spine, for spinal irritation, with complete relief. I used it a few nights ago, when I was perfectly crocked, and my back in complete forture, from what the books would call Opisthotenic condition of the muscles; which you know, is about as bad as "lock-jaw," It gave immediate relief, and, in the norming, I could bend like a gutta percha man, and with as little pain. The medical profession, you knew, have a great aversion to tasse kinds of remedies; but from a knowledge of the lagredients of the Mustang Liniment, I would have no hesitation in recommending it wherever a rem-edy to relieve pain is desired. I have recommended it in a number of cases in my own practice, and, as far as I can learn, it has acted with equal celerity and certainty, as in my own case. Hoping that it may be used for, and drive away pain, wherever it exists, and that it may remunerate you well for your exertions for bringing so valuable a medicine before the public, I subscribe my-self, truly yours. GEO, H. KEYSER, M. D. HIS WOUNDS ARE HEALED. John Shirley, Poseyville, Indiana, Dec. 30, 1831, says: "The Mustang Limiment has performed a great cure for me. On last Saturday week, I, by accident, ran a red hot rod of iron through my hand, entering through my thomb and fore finger, passing through the thick part two large leaders. I immediately applied the Mustang Liniment, and continued its use. On Saturday next after that, it was the ter that it was well, and I went to work as usual."

HORSES AND OTHER ANIMALS.

There is nothing that can be compared to the Prustaing

Liniment, in its speedy and permanent cure of strains bruises, cuts, galis, chafes, scratches, sweeny, pole evil, fistela, big head, spavin, ringbone; wind gall, cracked heel, or any other wound, stiffness, or unnatural enlargement of bone or muscle. A livery stable keeper of this city had a match horse that he prized very highly, that had a large ring-bone on both legs. The horse was completaly cured, and his limbs left perfectly smooth, by the use of this Liniment.

TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS Every store shouldbe supplied with this valuable Lin-iment, as it pays a good profit and sells rapidly. PRICES OF THE LINIMENT: It is put up in bottles of three sizes, and retails at 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle. The 50 cent and dollar bottles contain 50 and 100 per cent, more Liniment, in proportion to their cost, so that money is saved A. G.
