I love to look on the young face fair, With the sunay smile of chilhood there; And the zephyrs breathe, in their lute-like tones, Like the gladoome shout of the summer sea, For it seems to say, as they float along, With mazy dance and murmured song, "The land !- the land !- by sunset sky, Where tears are not, and we'll no more die;

Oh! the old grow young, in that realm of day, Far, far away !" There, starry rivers are murmuring low; To deathless flowers that by them blow And the zephyrs breathe, in their lute-like tones, And hymns the stars on their golden thrones; The sun sings on; and there is no night; And myrind ones, in robes of white: Floating along upon azure wings, Their rapture tell on their trembling strings;

THE SNAKE AND THE CROCODILE. The following thrilling account of an engage ment between a boa constrictor and a crocodile in Java, is given by un eye withess: It was one morning that I stood beside a small lake, fed by one of the rills from the mountains. The waters were clear as crystal, and every thing could be seen to the very bottom. Stretching its limbs close over this pond was a gigantic teak tree, and in its thick, shining, evergreen leaves lay a huge boa. in an easy cell, taking its morning nep. Above him was a powerful ape of the baboon species, a leering race of scamps, always bent on mischief. Now the ape, from his position saw a croeedile in the water, rising to the top exactly I do not love this man,' said she to herseif, 'and how cruel it is in my purent to but always Basset's.' ing to a limb of the the, but a buttle royal immediately comments in the water. The serpent grasped in the middle by the erocodile, made the water boil by his furious contortions. Winding his fold round the body of his antagorist he disabled his two hinder legs, and by his contractions made the scales and bones of the monster crack. The water was speedily tinged with the blood of both combatants, yet neither was disposed to yield. They rolled over and over, neither being able to obtain a decided advantage. All this time the cause of mischief was in a state of the highest ecstacy .-He leaped up and down the branches of the tree, came several times close to the scene of the fight, shook the limbs of the tree, uttered s yell and again frisked about. At the end of ten minutes a silence began to come over the scene : the folds of the serpent began to be relaxed and though they were trembling along the back, the head hung lifeless in the

The crocedile also was still and though only the spines of his back were visible, it | was evident that he, too, was dead. The nkey now perched himself on the lower limbs of the tree, close to the dead bodies, and amused himself for ten minutes in making all sorts of faces at them. This seemed to be adding insult to injury. One of m? companions was standing at a short distance, and taking a stone from the edge of the lake hurled it at the ape. He was totally unprepared, and as it struck him on the side of the head, he was instantly tipped ever, and fell upon the crecedile. A few bounds, however, brought him ashore, and taking to the trees he soon disappeared among the thick

In accordance with the instructions of the State Temperance Convention, held in Staunten, in August last, the undersigned, State Central Committee, now announce the time and place of holding a Convention in the present year. After due consideration the Committee have fixed upon Charlottesville as the place of meeting, and, Wednesday, the 3d of August, as the most suitable period. The object of this Convention will be to promote the Temperance reformation generally, and especially to consider the great question—what shall be done to secure the prohibition of the Liquor Traffic in Virginia,—and to devise the means of prosecuting, vicor-ously, this reform, until the work is accemplished. The committee would suggest that the Convention of last year did little comparatively, from the simple fact that no efficient plan was adopted, by which to raise the funds necessary to this great undertaking; and they now therefore urge the friends of Temperance in each county, to hold a meeting at an early day and resolve to raise some specified sum towards a general fund. A large amount (not less than from $10,000 to $20,000.) ought to be placed in the hands of the Convention, for the purpose of employing a num-ber of able lecturers to go forth into every part of the State to advocate the cause; and by means of pamphlets, tracts, and colportues, to spread light and truth into every nock and corner of this wide wise? JUNE 23: 1853.

SOOTHING NOTES OF THE ORGAN.

The Washington Union, Dil at the rate of $250. 000 a year, continues its lasor of love to quiet the discontented National Democrats, who are doomed to stand by and see all the best offices go to the Abeliaenists of the North and the Fire-Eaters of the South. Being itself fed to plethora, it is lost in honest wonder that any body else should be hungry. Every thing was fixed at Baltimore! The two extremes surrendered, asked forgiveness, and jamped apen the platform; and therefore it is necessary to thep them in the traces by leeding them at the publie erib. The "old fogies" are expected to work patiently as a matter of course, and keep quiet.

Is it not enough that Gen. Armstong, Jefferson Daris, John A. Dix, Pierre Soule, Richard Moloney. Thompson Campbell, and other olds and ends of factions, should be made prominent, and feed fat upon the spoils? Why should the old Union men grumble? Did they not invite a feast of all the mongrels? What right have they to gramble if their guests take the best dishes?

But in spite of all their philosophy and patriotion, the old fine Demuerats find they are themselves but a portion of frail humanity. They have appetites like other people, and a moderate degree of ambition withat and they can hardly keep cool was "awful hot weather." They begin to chafe predigiously, and the grumbling will be audible by the time Congress meets.

There is, too, a sprinkling of discontent amongst a portion of "Young America." The most striking aign is to be found in the movement to get up another Democratic paper at Washington. The men of "progress" have not got all they thought themselves entitled to; Mr. Beverly Tucker was not made Marshal of the District, and therefore he and his friends must have a press at the seat of government through which to vent their complaints, either softly or in thunder tones as the necessity may require. True, Mr. Tucker was a Taylor man font years ago-but what of that ? Have not later converts been rewarded ? Have not far less bustling politicians had their "sop," and been quieted?

Besides, two years are long enough for any one est of potnicts to have the public printing. Three or four hundred thousand dollars, in the shape of Congress work, and Executive advertisements, are altogether too tempting for modern virtuosos, and Gen. Armstrong must divide. Douglass has not given up his aspirations for the Presidency ; and without an especial organ, what progress can be make ?

This fatter movement has alarmed the old concern, who are suspected of a design to push Pierce Waion! "There is fun ahead!" Whigs, keep your powder dry.

The "Old Guard" of the Democracy are now beginning to discover that they are deemed but the immaterial portion of the party. In the South, the "Fire Laters" have had the preserence for all importast appointments; and in the North, not merely the Barnburners, but the regular Abolitionisis, are in the ascendant. In Massachusetts, one of the most notorious of the latter has been appointed Postmas. ter of an important town, and in Illinois a regular Free Soiler is District Attorney, the better, we sup. pose, to carry out the Fugitive Slave law.

During the Presidential canvass, it was urged with great effect that Gen. Scott, if elected, would give the supremary in his Administration to Seward and the Freesoilers. This apprehension defeated him unquestionably. What more could he have done in this respect than Gen. Pierce has done? Would not the whole Southern country have been in a flame if he had appointed a single prominent Freesoiler to au office, however unimportant? Would nut the Nashville Convention have been re assembled long ere this, to have adepted strong measures of denunciation, if not of pesistance? Would not the welkin have been now singing with noisy execrations and cries of trea-

Yet we find the government organ at Washington daily engaged in soothing the public discontent with the flimsy pretext that all the factions had surrendered their opinions at the Baltimore Conweation, and it is necessary and just that they should have a share of the public plunder! Yes, the organ which has its pipes of praise tuned at the tate of $250,000 a year, softly urges the discontents to be quiet-amnesty was promised, and the spoils must be given to the repentant sinners! The daily businces of its editor is to rub his own fat paunch, and bid the grumblers to hald still. The mere scent of the viands should be enough for them! The Great Dispenser means to do what is right, and the disappointed must not murmur, because the Whigs will be gratified at the symstoms of discontent!

Precious logic this, for the Conservative and Union Democrats, who made themselves hoarse in .declamation against Scott and Seward, and emptied their pockets in the struggle for the triumph of the Beltimore Platform!

The aigns of a regular rebellion against the rule of Secessionism and Abolitionism are becoming daily more prominent. It was with great difficulty that a mutiny could be suppressed in the New Hampshire State Convention, and in Georgia the dissatisfaction is becoming both loud and deep .-The flame is only smothered for a season.

The Administration has been more than three enenths engaged in tittle else than a dispensation of the apails, and not one-twentieth part of the aspirests, have been served. But, worse than all, the leaders of the factions have had the preference, at the expense of the National Democrats. In the language of the New York Herald, the Administration is drifting on the breakers. The flattories of aycephants and courtiers may be agreeable, but that nearly all the office sheers have left the city of Washington. After the disgraceful scenes that have been transpiring at the Capitol, for the last six meaths, over the spoils, it is traly comfortable to hear that a stampede has taken place among the hungry harde. For the credit of the Nation it would have been a blessing if it had occurred much aconer; and we trust such a disgraceful acramble for public plunder will never again occur at the Capitol of our country, or any where else.—

There can be no re-union of the Democracy-upon terms which exclude and overshadow the Cass and Dickinson portions of the party. Whigs, "waite for the wagon."

Cur at the Capitol of our country, or any where else.—
That depen is though upon the success of the spods party hereafter. Another triumph in a Presidential election would raise up the same horde and thousands more, for it appears that the result the party expect from their victories is, that every man is to get in office and that they are to be supported by the Governmen!-- but it is to be converted into a sort of Alais House for the Demoeratic party. By the first of July a general turning out of the Whies that are left is to take place and the offices filled with Democrats. Should the spoils party be suecessful in the next Presidential election there is but litthe hope that a similar scandalous scramble for office will not be earried on. The fact that the others are already filled with Democrats will not be sufficient to present it. for the "outs" of their own party will fall a foul of the "ins" and seek to cust them. When Deniverate hav'ng got Whigs to deyour they fall apon one another. They believe in rotation in office, they say, and another victory in '56 would give the "outs" a glorious chance to rotate the "ins" out, and rotate themselves in. We hope to see the "ins" saved from that misfortune, however, and any rotating out that is to be done, be performed by a Whig Administration. We are in carnest about this, for the Whies are going to elect a President in 1856. Mark that down as a fixed fact. The signs of the times show it already. The thousands of disappointed Democratiswho have just had to feave Washington without any thing in their sacks, have been truly unfortunate, for they "can't come is" next time. If they will take a piece of price from us, they are welhonest calling and don't expect, because you are a Democral, that you are to be supported by the Government. Uncle Sam has enough to do to support himself, when the Democracy hold the purse strings.

THE MEMPHIS CONVENTION.

The large number of delegates assembled at Memphis adjourned after a full interchange of sentiment in regard to Southern and Western interests. Thed liberations appear to have been entirely harmonious. We sincerely regret that the advanced sesson prevented so many of our merchants from participating in a Convention to which they would gladly have bastened in cooler weather. Baltimore, bowerer, felt certain that whatever tended to promote, the prosperity of the regions represented could not but redound to her welfare. The influential citizens who were our delegates in Meanhis, did not appear as the grasping rivals of a trade which has hitherto nourished other capitals .-They sought to present, fairly, the facilities of our city as a depot for Western produce and Southern agricuiture, which, under the influence of a direct trade with Europe, would be able to compete with northern cities as a carrier either to the continent or to Liverpool. We are glad to see that no sectional or saccasional for re-election, and therefore A. O. P. Nicholson of feeling is shown in the resolutions tipally passed. A Tennessee and some other able writer are to be spirit of Union pervaded the assembly. The great inced in charge of the editorial batteries of the terest of "Navigation" first of all engaged the Convention's notice, and "Pacific rallroad" was adopted as the bond that is to girdle and strengthen the loips of the land. The unanimity with which this national project PREE SOILERS IN THE ASCENDANT. | was sustained, demonstrates that the present South-West and the West are no longer to be halled by those distinctive titles, but are to be known as the great"Central States," while the "West" and "South-West" will henceforth apply to Oregon and California alone .--The Orinoco, Amazon and La Plata rivers ; the Tehnantepee route; hydrometic gauges; diplomacy concerping cotton; and steamers from Southern ports; were all advocated in separate resolutions, which we think canno fail to excite interest if they do not in all cases, produc general satisfaction. We were especially sappy to see that gentlemen from such regions are beginning to awake to the necessity of national manufacture. The Convention passed the following preamble and rescla

Whereas, The Southern States of this Union nov have, and for a long period must have, a victual monopoly in the productions of the raw cotton of commerce; and whereas, it is of vast importance to these States that their great staple should be sent abroad in its post valuble form; and whereas, it is believed that this staple can be wrought up with extraordinary cheappess and facility on and near the fields of its growth, therefore be

Resolved, That the President of this Convention appoint a committee of five members who shall be reques-ted to prepare for publication and distribution, particuly in the manufacturing districts of Europe, a full report of the peculiar facilities offered by Southern and Wes-tern States for the manufacture of cotton, and that this report be published as a part of the proceedings of this

Now, when it is remembered that prior to adjourn ment the delegates agreed to the appointment of a committee of five to prepare "an address to Congress" and to the people of the United States upon the " topics embraced in the action of this Convention and enforcing them upon their consideration,"-we are encouraged to hope that the South at last perceives that the security of its industry depends as much upon its own manufactures as upon its own power of exportation. The true value of cotton is imparted to it by the loop; and he who can both grow the raw material and fabricate it into an article of commerce, as well as send it abroad to foreign markets, possesses resources of wealth for which even California need not be envied .- Balt. American.

The New York National Democrat, an Old Hunker Journal, in speaking of the New York Barnburners asking office of the present administration, and at the same time endeavoring to reorganize their party, says:

It may be fairly questioned if the nevil himself has brass enough to ask for patronage to be used directly against the principles which bestowed it .-Every body knew that human nature was very bad. but nobody suspected it capable of such bare-faced

But we have the testimony of the editor of the National Democrat himself as to the fact that the Freesoilers, while engaged in their attempt to reorganize their party, have not only the "brass," the " bare-faced impudence." to ask for patronage, but the good luck to get it. Now it their asking implies on their part more impudence than the devil him self possesses, pray what does the granting imply on the Administration's part? Can the editors of the National Democrat, who are trying to be first-rate friends of the President, answer that?

The editors of the National Democrat seem-to think that the Freesoil officeholders, in using the Government patronage for strengthening Freesoilism, are "using it directly against the principles which bestow it." But President Pierce and his Cabinet ought surely to know best upon what prin. ciples they bestowed the patronage, and the very the shock. CHURCH DEDICATION.

The building designed for the use of the Oh School Presbyterian Church of Shepherdstown in this county, was Delicated to the worship of Got on Thursday last. Though small, this Congregation, under the Pestoral charge of the Rev. Mr. Heaton, recently purchased the large and commodious Stere-house, &c., situated on the corner of Main and Market streets, formerly occupied by Mr. Webb. One portion is to be set apart for a Female Academy, and the upper rooms have been most harrisomely and conveniently arranged as a piace of worship. TEMPERANCE CONVENTION. temperance.

Your readers are no doubt aware, that a State Temperance Convention was held in the town of Statuston, during August of last year, having for its object the promotion of the Temperance Reformation. That contestion did but little, from the fact that no efficient plan was adopted, by which a requesite amount of fonds might be raised in order to carry out this great undertaking.—The convention, however, before its adjournment, delermined to hold another Convention during the present year, the time and place of holding which, to be fixed by a committee appointed for that and other purposes. The committee have performed that part of their duty, and have fixed upon the town of Charlottsville, and the 3d day of August next, as being the most suitable time and place of holding said Convention.

In publishing their call, the countree urge upon the friends of Temperance in each county, to hold meetings at an early day, and resolve to raise a specified sum towards a general fund. They say, a large amount, (not less than from $1000 to $3000.) ought to be placed in the hands of the Convention, for the purpose of employing a number of able lesturers to go forth into every part of the State, to advocate the cause; and by means of pamphilets, tracts, and colporteurs, to spread light and truth into every pook and corner of this wide commonwealth. They also urge upon the friends of the cause in each county, the necessity of appointing delegates to represent them is the convention, and they recommend it, as as a measure of justice, greatly conducive to a fall and patient attendance, that the reasonable expenses of their delegates be paid by their respective constituencies, but in all cases, where reliable Temperance men, whose expenses cannot be provided for, but who are to attend at their own expease, let them, by all means, be appointed.

Harpers-Ferry, June 14.

THE COURTS.

The June term of the County Court continued four days, during which a very leavy ducket was mainly disposed of. The case of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. D. Gilkeson was decided by a judgment of $100-the amount of the tax imposed upon the Sheriffalty in this county-against the plaintiff. Mr. Gilkeson refused to pay the tax on ground that it was not ad valorem, and was, therefore, unconstitutional. He has appealed against the decision, and the case will be argued at this term of the Superior Court. The Superior Court began on Wednesday .-There is a great deal of business, and it is probable that the term will be a lengthy one. The criminal docket was gone through with on the first day. There was but one case of the grade of follow .-Nathan Tilden, of this county, was convicted of stealing a horse from Henry Richards, on the night of the 10th of May, and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. The prisoner was deeply affected during tria!, and excited general sylapathy. The searcity of cases on the criminal docket speaks well for the law-observing people of Frederick county, and is worthy of remark.

JOINT WORM. This enemy to the wheat crop is supposed by some of our farmers, to have made its appearance in Loudoun. We had left at our office this week, by R. J. T. White, Esq., several stalks of wheat, taken from his field, which were literally destroyed by a worm which cutered the stalk at the second joint from the head .-The worm, which we discovered in one of the stalks was about an inch in length, dark and white striped, and moved like what is commonly called the "measur ing worm." Some who profess to know something of the nature of this worm, assert that the one left with us is too large for the real " joint worm." Whatever may be their opinion, we know the worm entered the stalk at the joint, and completely destroyed the wheat. We should be glad totlearn something of the nature of this small but terrible enemy of the wheat crop. - Wash'n.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.-In this place, on Wednesday night, a man by the name Conoly, and his wife came near losing their lives from an explosion of camphine. He has purchased a barrel on taking it to his yard he discovered that it contained a portion of oil, which he drew in a crock. His wife to ascertain the quantity, approached the crock with a canale when the finid ignited, communicating with the barrel it exploded with a loud report. A stave or part of the harrel struck Mrs. Conoly on the head cutting the scalp loose from the side and leaving the skull bare. She had prompt medical attendance, and the wound is not supposed to be very dangerous. unless inflammation of the brain should be caused by

AFFECTING CASE.

In the Criminal Court of Washington city on Thursday a case of more than onlinary interest was disposed of, under prentjarir affeting eireumstances, which are thus stated in the itepublic. On that day Judge Crawford over-rolled a motion for a new trial of Daniel T. Woodward, who on Thursday, the 9th instant, was convicted of killing his wife, by shooting her on the 2Ph of December last. After the lapse of a few minutes, the judge asked the prisoner, "Daniel T. Woodward, have you anything to say why the sentence of the law shall not be pronounced by the court !" The prisoner, who had risen in the dock and was leaning upon the rail, replied in a firm and audable voice, "I have, your honor." All eyes were now directed towards him, and there was more than usual quiet in the court-room. He continued-

"I am not guilty of the charge brought agains sie. I did not cause the death of my wife. The with esses against me swore to falsehoods. My wife's irelings were wrought on by her father; I do not deny that there had been diffesences between us. She knew I nover raised my hand to her unless provoked to such a degree that I did not know what I was about. From the first day of our marriage until her death I never knew that she was going to deprive herself of existence. On the evening of the 23d of December, Hilton came to the house for me; I don't recollect the hour-and I found my way to the magistrate's of-fics. I asked what was the matter. Squire Drury said I had uttered abusive language. I replied, do not know that I had, except talking roughly .-He then said if I would leave the pistol I might go home. I at first hesitated, but finally gave up th pistol. Hilton said to Maston that Mrs. Woodwad was afraid of her husband, and you are a single man and can go home with her, and that he would go along too. We sat down there, talking, but about nothing in particular. It was said by a witness that I proposed to sing my wife's favorite songs, 'Washington's Grave' and the 'Irish Emigrant's Lament.' Hilton said to me, 'it's strange that at one time you are low-spirited and melancholy, and at other times are given to levity.'

don't recollect my answer, for the reason he did not inquire the cause of it. I have been laboring under a strange condition ever since I left the jail. After the officers had been at my house, Hilton, at ten o'clock, papposed to go. They left every thing peaceable as I quiet. I have sayself on the bed with a cigar. My wife was or the opposite side of the bed. I appealed to her feelings, and I will tell you what binguage I made use of. After lying there with my clothes on, I said to her: 'Why do you go after the police officers, and have constables running after me ?-What have I done that you should do so! I was injured in both arms and ankles.' After appealing to her feelings. I said I could not live so, and if it was agreeable we would separate. I asked her what she would do. Considering a few moments, she said: 'Well, Dan, you shall never go to jail while I live' I got up and went in to the shop to see what was doing there, and she went into the back room and fastened the door. When I went into the front room I heard the repe its of a pistol and entering the other room I saw if v wife breath-

There was no soul in the house to my knowledge. I mink it was s'aut up. I don't know how it occurred, unless she destroyed herself. We here noticed many of the au diters in tears, occasioned by the solemnity of the scene and sympathy for the prisoner, in view of the awful sentence shortly to le pronounced.] I praty your honor to consider my case—to reflect, not for my sake in particular, but for the sake of justice, and for the sake of my poor old mother and my sisters, and for the take of old acquaintances who have known me here in Washington. While learn ing a trade, and growing up to manhood, no person could say that a wrong act was done by me. No ne can say so." There was an interval of profour d silence of several minutes duration, and all eves were now directed to Judge Crawford, who, having taken from his drawer a sheet of manuscript, an i filled a blank therein, proceeded to sentence the prisoner in the following language. He was very much affected while discharging this painful but incumbent official duty, his emotions at times near ly choking his utterance, and causing him to shed te ars:

"You have been convicted of the crime of mur der. The jurors who tried you, if they cannot be said to have been of your own choice, were free from all exception in the estimation of yourself and vonr counsel. They devoted themselv es with commendable assiduity throughout rine clays to a full understanding of the law, the evidence and the arguments which were brought to their consideration, and were compelled by a painful sense of duty to say that you were gailty. You had, moreover, the aid of counsel who manifested great zeal and earnestness in your defence, and arged with ability in your behalf all the facts and circumstances : bat in their judgment, were likely to weigh in your favor. These are not unusual advantages. To 'an impartial jury' and 'the assistance of counsel? you had a right secured by the Constitution of the Uni-ward's life was destroyed by your hand was con-tested, but it was a vain effort to repel the coavic-is concluded. tion to which the evidence irresistibly led the fury Into the details of the course of your married and the uniform evidence in relation to it, I will not enter, for it could not be done without imminent hazard of adding to suffering which must have borne, and be now weighing, most oppressively up on all connected by blood or alliance with the de ceased or vourself. You have been pronounced guilty of the murder of a woman, and that woman your wife, committee on the 21th day of December ast in your own house, in the darkness of the night, and without a witness save God. This remark is made with no desire to forture your feelings. It would be ishumanity to address with unneeded severity a man upon whom the whole force needed severity a man apon whom the whole force of society, in its various forms of power, is now fixed. But it is made for the better purpose of exciting within your bosom remorse for the sins of your life, which must precede, and if felt in true and sincere contrition of spirit will necessarily lead to repentance. If you repent in humility and brokenness of heart, and will seek by Divine grace through the mediation of the Saviour of men the forgiveness and favor of the Creator and Judge of all the savib they will be resided. forgiveness and favor of the Creator and Judge of all the earth, they will be granted to you. A man in your circlumstances may imagine that his situation is desperate—that he can have no hope for eternity; that as he is doomed to perish in this world he will be less in that which is to come. This would be a fatal error—fall not into it I entreat you. We are taught by our hely religion that all sion, however enormous, will in forgives, on the single condition that parden be sought in the right spirit.

"To this end I mixise you to send for a minister of the Gospel of the religious persuasion to which you have attached gourself; or, if unfortunately you should not be ong to any religious essociation, send for the minister you prefer. He will acquaint you with the promises of the Bible, will pray with you and for you, will instruct you, will assist and guide you in the important work to which your altention is directed. More, weak mortals cannot do for each other. Duty to you suggests the propriefor each other. Duty to you suggests the propriety of observing that, in my judgment, there is no reason to suppose the Executive will interpose in your behalf. I hesitated and doubted whether I should say so—reflection satisfied me that to forhear the remark would be cruelty to you. It is inade with the sole object of preventing your mind from being distracted by defusive hopes. The great, perhaps the only, duty that you are now required to perhaps in this life is to prepare for death. to its full and faithful discharge I give you my parting counsel to devote every energy of your body and mind-immediately and unceasingly.

"It is now as painful duty to pronounce the sentence of the law upon you for the crime whereof you have been convicted. The sentence is that you be hanged by the neck until you are dead : and that the Marshal for the District of Columbia do, on peril of what may fall thereon, cause execution of this judgment to be made and done upon you on the second day of September next, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 12 o'clock at noon, of the same dav; that you be now taken from hence to the fail of Washington county, in the Distriet of Columbia, from whence you came, there to be elosely kept until the day of execution; and on the day of execution appointed as aforesaid you are to be taken to the place of execution, according to the provisions of the act of Congress of 25th January, 1853, there to be hanged as aforesaid until you

"In closing this solemn scene, I earnestly pray that Almighty God in His infinite goodness have mercy on your soul!"

The prisoner listened attentively to the reading of the sentence, and did not appear to be as much affected by it as the most indifferent spectator in the court-room. However, his reflections now, in the night season especially, cannot fail to impress him deeply with more feeling than he exhibited during the progress of his trial. - He is probably about forty-two years of age, and of genteel and intelligent

THE CASE OF ANN MCELROY.

An extraordinary outrage and murder has ju een committed in New York, the nature of which is explained by the following remarks of the New York Commercial Advertiser of Saturday afternoon "The advertisement which appeared in our paper sterday, and was referred to editorially, will have painted our readers with the principal points connected with the disappearance of Ann McElrov, a oung woman employed in the house of Mr. Charles Clayton, in this city, and the subsequent finding f her body in the East river at Williamsburg with istakable evidences of brutal outrage and murde ward of one thousand dollars (in addition to $500 already offered by Messrs, Bushnell, Bussing and Clayton) for the discovery of the fiendish perpetrate of this almost unparalleled crime. Alderman Peck, renman, and others proposed and advocated a larger eward, and the resolution was finally amended so is to authorize the Mayor to offer $1,000, or any further sum that he may deem necessary, to bring the perpetrator of this outrage to justice. We cordially concur in the remark of one of the aldermen, that $10,000 had better be offered, or twice $10,000, rather than the brutal murderers should go undetected. The resolution was concurred in by the Board of

Let us look at the facts of this case. The victim was a young woman, about eighteen or rineteen ears of age, well known to the three respectable genemen who have united in the offer of $500 reward. having lived awhile in the family of each, and won their confidence and respect by the uniform propriety of her conduct. On the evening of the 21st of May, etween 8 and 9 o'clock, she went to a store in the neighborhood of Mr. Clayton's residence, which is in Sixteenth street, near Fourth avenue, on a domestic errand, which would have detained her but a few nutes. She never returned, and the last authentic information obtained respecting her is that on the way to fulfil her errand she called in at a dry goods store on the avenue, where she was well known .-The clerks were busy and she turned to leave the store One of the clerks promised her immediate attention, to which she replied that she would return shortly. Between the dry goods store and the one to which her principal errand would lead her, are, we elieve, some open lots. All attempts to trace her further proved unavailing. When the body was found it bore evident marks of strangulation and outrage, and the strong probability is, that being a sobust girl she struggled so violently with the brute or brutes who were maltreating her, and for fear of letection, they strangled her, and subsequently threw the corpse into the river. That worse than robbery was the villain's mo ve, is apparent, not only from the condition of the body, but from the fact also that the trinkets upon her person, and the contents of her pockets, were left untouched. To Mr. Clayton, and the gentlemen asociated with him, much commendation is due. Ann McElroy had no claims upon them beyond those of ommon humanity, made more potent with them be cause of the estimable conduct of the deceased while a domestic in their respective families. Yet we know that from the very evening of her disappearance Mr. Clayton has spared neither time, labor, nor expense o discover her fate. He has acted as became a man and a Christian citizen, and on the broad principle hat the crime is the same, and the duty of discoverng the criminal equal, whether the victim be humole and unknown or a star in society; whether she be a hired domestic or a beloved sister, or daughter or wife. In seconding the efforts already made and still making, every citizen must remember that any female member of his family, stepping at early evening into a neighboring street, may fall into the power of some prowling brute, who may be emboldened to graftify his lust, if the murderer of Miss McElroy escape undetected or unpunished.

EXAMINATION OF THE REMAINS OF ARTHUR SPRING.

The body of Arthur Spring was taken to the Disecting Room of the Philadelphia College of Medicine, on Saturday morning week, and anatomically examined by Professor James McClintock in the resence of Dr. Kirkbridge, Dr. Evans and several ysicians and other scientific gentlemen, and the udents of the Medical class. The Professor, before proceeding to discect the ody, read a letter from Arth'r Spring, jr., giving his consent to the post mortem examination. Young Spring said in the letter that he had no objection to such an examination of the body of the deceased as the interests of science might render desirable. The phrenological developments of the head of murderer were characteristic of the man. The head was large, being over 22 inches in circumfernce. The perceptive faculties were strong, and the reflective weak. Benevolence and other organs which are indicative of a good disposition were found very poorly developed, while selfishness and firmness were large, and cautiousness was well developed. Secretiveness was large, and the animal organs, such as combativeness and destructiveness, were enormous. The base of the brain was very large. The forepart of the head was very small, and the back very large, indicating sensuality and cruelty. The Professor styled the cranium of the deceased a "bull dog head." There was but little in the annearance of the brain to indicate that the deceased had died from any violence to the head or neck. The brain was very slightly congested and there was no signs whatever of extraversation. There was nothing in fact unusual in the appearance of the brain. Nothing to indicate hanging.

The dissection of the neck disclosed a different condition of things. The muscles were found to be much congested, and there was a great extraversation of blood. The windnine was found to be disruptured in front, having been bursted by the action ted States; but the full enjoyment of this right gives of the cord. This result unparallelled, so far as the me a warrant for saying that you have had a fair knowledge of the demonstration extended. assigned to Virginia. It says: "Mr. Meade having declined the chargeship to Sardinia, Virginia is left to carry on negotiations at Copenhagen and to collect consul fees a Rio. Now, this is rather singular. For the first time in the history of the government, the Old Dominion is ot honored with either a minister in the cabinet or abroad. While a sprinkle of clerkships, &c., may serve to satisfy the honger of the ravenous place hunter, yet they fail to gratify the State pride of our people. They look more to honor than to hunks." And further: "Virginia lays no claim to office; to the wants of her rapacio ons who belonguer the capital in quest of spoils, her copie are indifferent. It is only in a matter where pride and honor are concerned that they are sensitive.
"Pride and honor," indeed! Virginia must com down from her stilts if she gets zaything. "Pride and honor," one would think, ought to have prevented these complaints. If Virginis really does not want some of the lowes and fishes to feed upon, why get angry beanse they are not thrust upon her? Men of "pride as came they are not thrust upon her? Men of "pride and hour" generally preserve a dignified silence, but the houghy and familiary speak right out. Gen. Pierce is evidently calculating that "pride and honor" will keep the Old Dominion steadily in the traces, and therefore gives all the best places to Northern Free Soilers.

TN the "Spirit of Jeff-rson," of April the I. and May the 3d, 1e53, i offered to the ] what I call a Check, or Rubber to be used on nal Boats. And in order to be able to suit all c es of Boats I now offer evo more which I sha scribe as briefly as possible. And first, On side of the Boat is a rubber, holted fast by one so as to open and close when required; we which, is an Iron Scutcheon allowing the woruh the Mason-work of the lock; Venical which is an Iron rod passing up through the ders of the Boat to the top of the deck. (a) in the and of the rod is a lever, working like the value a lock gate. And, to the lower end of the rod. flange working at right angles with the rod so expand the rubber when required. The levers are attached to a slider or other fixture on the of the Boat, to be worked back and forward by a third leves, or any other device that will an wer the purpose. Another has its rubbers so led last to the Boat as above described, with its levers withing on the deck, and entering a wedge under rubber so as to produce the required operation These same rubbers will also answer for ship mals, author require no openings to be made through the hulk of the Boat or vessels but operates engirely on the outside, effecting what is required to a direct and easy force. The above Checks are now ready to be applied to not, by Mr. San't W. STRIDER, Agent for the A Placksmith Shop is being erected on the wharf at the Old Purnace, where all orders for the acove articles, addressed to the aforementioned agent, will be promptly attended to. JOHN BARNETS.

June 23, 1853. I will also mention here, that I have investe, a fixture which may be termed an ALARM, to arevent the collision of trains on Rail Roads. It yousists of a piece of Mechanism operated on by the motion of the train, and a driver passing up through the Rail its machinery runs under the track, and will strike an Alarm, or point to figure indicating the distance that the train is from the place of stopping. The Bell to strike the alarm on, or the board with the figure on to tell the distance, thay be placed in a house or on a bridge, or any either secure place that the company may elect. They may with safety be placed the entire length of the road, and so arranged as to tell at all times where the trains are passing. This being something of great importance. I wish to experiment on it more June 23, 1853. JOHN BARNETT.

J. F. CALDWELL, Dentist, Snow at Carter's Hotel, in Charlestown, where he is ready to OPERATE on the TEETH. he would respectfully intimate that many teeth can be saved, without destroying the nerve; the detruction of the nerve is the cause of more deepeated pains about the face and head. His mode l'extracting teeth is greatly more safe, and is atended with much less force and the indiction of less pain, than by methods dependent on keyed instruments, pullicans or forceps. Those who are suffer-ing pain in the forehead, face and jaws, would do well to submit to his remedial treatment. The most atisfactory certificates and references can be seen as testimonials of his skill in his operations. If arrangements are made, and the desire expressed for him to do so, he will with pleasure give Gratuitous Lectures, under the sanction of the Physicians and Dentists who may choose to attend, in explanaion of the causes of the disease of the Teeth, and also of their irregularity, and the remedial treatment to cure and correct them, likewise expose the liet can be avoided, and how they can be extracted with much more comparative ease and safety.

Roasting Coffee by Steam. THE subscribers having purchased the right to dispose of Francis & Hart's Patent Coffee Monsters in Jefferson, Berkeley and Clarke coun-ties, are now prepared to furnish one of the greatest comforts and economists that can be brought into a family. Roasting Coffee by steam, with this Roaster, preserves the entire strength-making it at least one-third stronger than when roasted in the ordinary way. It prevents all escape of the aroma, adding greatly to its flavor, and requires only fitteen or twenty minutes in roasting it fit for use.— It is very simple and economical, and the price rings it within the reach of every family. Coffee cannot be reasted with as much regularity in the KEYES & KEARSLEY.

MM. DR LANEY'S CELEBRATED Carative Instrument, THE only infallible care for that dreachti dis

Nocturnal Emissions, so harassag and destructive of so much mischief to the nervous system, in capacitating the man for business, society, and matri-This Instrument is simple, comprehensive, and never failing, and may be used without the slightest inconvenience or the knowledge of the most intimate friend. It is to be used externally, procuring Foreign and Donestic Exchanges, Time-Bills, Pro-missory Notes, Certificates of Doponie, Letters of Credit, Bank Notes and Coin.

no pain or injury whatever, nor preventing any one from attending to his business; and while in use not a single emission can take place, invegerating the organs, in a short time, to such an extent that they regal a facts primitive power of releation, (he loss of which, caused by early abuse, is the disease in question, and the cause of the thousand concomitant complaints, viz.: Nervousness, Prostration, Dyspepsia, Pain in the Heat and Dimness of Vision, Weakness of the Back and Lower Extremities, Affections of the Eves, Impotence, Pirmus of the Pace, Premature Decline of Virility, Weakness of Memory and Power for Mental Application, Dejection, Aversion to Society, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, &c. All these complaints invariably disappear as se on as the source is stopped from which they emanated. This Instrument has teen examined and approved of by the highest authorities in Europe and America, is recommended by the most prominent Physicians of all countries, as the only certain remedy existing for those complaints, and has now completely superseded the use of drugs, the baugie, cauterization, &c., not to mention the thousand ad vertised costrums of the day, as cordials, antidotes, &c., &c.

Be it also remembered, that those complaints are but little understood by the profession in general. and that all the medicine in the world never bas. and never will, stop those losses, which, if allowed to continue unchecked, are sure to produce the most discressing consequences. It has been a matter of surprise to some, that any one of respectability and of professional attainments should devote his attention to diseases which people of every description pretend to cure so easily. If, however, but the obethousandth part of the miseries these people bring upon society were known, a very different opinion would be formed. And it is on the mind as well as the body, that is deplored, not only the present misery and dejection, preving but some are of such a nature as to effect posterity, and even to destroy the reproductive faculty, altogether. It is a fact that, when not properly treated, they may remain so dormant in the constitution as to appear in no other way than in their effects upon posterity; yet, if properly understood, are most easily and speedily removed. The above, so ingeniously contrived instrument, will doubtless, in a great measure, contribute to check the evils of quackery, so prevalent in this class of diseases throughout the Union. The price of the complete instrument, carefully secured against all observation in a box, is only $10. It can be sent, by express, to any address in any part of the United States, Canada, &c., aceording to order, accompanied by full directions the expenses, even to the remotest parts of the country, being very trifling. The unexampled success this Instrument has obtained since its introduction in America, has induced some unprincipled persons in New York, Philadelphia, Albany, Boston, &c., to get up some ridiculous things, called "Instruments," which, however, bear not the slightest resemblance, neither foot, to run a race of a considerable distance in form nor principle, to my own invented, long tried, and universally approved Instruments, and which are as similar to them as night is to light .pion of the 'foot course' should carry ten | Every attempt to sell such "Instruments" for mine might choose to select. DR. SMITH has for many years devoted his whole attention to the treatment of Private Complaints, is all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were formerly considered incutable, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage. In has received. Within the last eight years Br. 8, has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no don't exceeds that of all the other physicians now advertising in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, w thout effecting a radical and permanent care; therefore persons afflicted with discases of the above nature, "no matter how difficult or long standing the case may be," would do well to call on Dr. SMITH at his office, No. 168. FREDERICK ST, and if not effectually relieved no remuneration will be required effectually relieved no resourceration will be required for his services. His medicines are free from Mercury and all mineral poisons; put up in a neat and compact form, and may be taken in a public or a private house, or while travelling, without exposure or hindrane from business, and except in cases of violent inflam mation, no charge of diet is necessary.

STRICTURES Dr. Smith has discovered a new method by which he can cute the worst form of stricthre in a very few days, and that without pain or in convenience to the patient. Irritation of the prethra of prostrate gland, or neck of the bladder, is some mistaken for stricture by general practitioners YOUNG MEN or charlatans. and others afflicted with Seminal Debility, whether originating from a Certain Destructive Habit, or from any other cause, with the train of bedily and menta. evils which follow, when neglected, should make an early application, thereby avoiding much trouble and

Loudoun County Agricultural Institate and Chemical Academy,

ALDIE, LOUDOUN Co., Va. January 26th, 1853. MR. GALLABER-Dear Sir: The enterprising armers and friends of improvement in Virginia Bitzer, two practical and successful agriculturists, for the purpose of establishing an Agricultural In- at liberty to use it as you think stitute and Chemical Academy in this County .-The experimental Farm will contain 320 Acres which will be cultivated according to the true principle of science, and in which many interesting and important experiments will be made. And efforts will be made to obtain seeds from every part of the United States and from Foreign Countries. In addition to two commodious dwellings already on the estate, a new building has been designed 180 by 30 teet. One half of which will be erected the present year. The Latoratory will be furnished with an extensive collection of the largest, the handsomest and best apparatus in the United States. The museum will contain Geological specimens, Minerals, Fossils, Shell and also Models Draughts and Catalogues of Agricultural Machines, Implements and Tools. And for the convenience of making and repairing apparatus a workshop will be fitted up with Turning Lathe, Slide Rest and all necessary tools for working in wood, iron and brass. Full courses of Lectures will be delivered, which will be illustrated with several thousand useful and interesting experiments. The instruction will be thorough and practical, embracing Mathematics, Mechanics, Chemistry and other branches of Science and Art, in their application to Farming and Farm purposes. Particular attention will be pain to Agricultural Chemistry-Preparation of Pure Chemicals-Management of water courses-Principles of irrigation -Analysis of Soils-Construction of Farm Buildings-Estimates of Lumber-Planting, Budding, Grafting, Pruning and cultivation of Fruit Trees -And in fine every thing important to the practical farmer and men of business. To complete the designs of this Institution will require an outlay of 40 to 50 thousand dollars, and if it receives that patronage which is hoped for and expected, no expense will be spared to make it the best institution of the kind in the World. If now the advocates of improvement are really in earnest they will take this enterprise by the hand and help it along, by giving a good list of students at the commencement. It is hoped that every county in the State will send at least one student the first scssion. And that the different Agricultural Societies will ascertain how many students can be sent from their respective districts and forward a list of the same by the 1st day of December next. Students on the 1st of March, 1854. Terms, including all expenses except Books and Stationery $200

The Institute will be opened for the reception of per session of ten months.

Zollickoffer's Anti-Rhoumatic Cordial

Rheumatic Gout, Neuralgia, Sciahea, Lamingo, Ac., &c., &c., &c.

Of all diseases incident to the numan family, there is none perhaps which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to clicit so little commisseration and sympathy as Rheumation in its various modifications. Medical writers and the faculty in general have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of comids of one kind or other, which have been presented to the public as curatives. This is a preparation originating entirely with the subscriber and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly enfe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deliterious substance whatever. As proof of its valuable efficacy, read the following certificates:

Mr. Zollickoffer—Dear Sir: It affords me great pleasure to add my testimony to the beneficial effect. of Zollickoffer's Rheumatic Cordial. Having been afflicted with Rheumatic Gont, or as it was termed by some physicians, Inflammatory Rheematism. for the last ten years of my life, almost without intermission and the pain was greatly increased by the prevalence of wet weather, so much so, as 'o be almost insupportable: furthermore, Lwas frequently confined to my bed for three months at a time -After having tried various physicians and remedies without number, I was induced through a friend to try your invaluable medicine, and I am happy to inform you, that after taking one boule. I feel perfectly well of Rheumatism, and I also find that my general health has been much improved.

Very truly yours, JOHN SELLERS. Very truly yours,

Harpers-Ferry, Nov. 14, 1851. I take great pleasure in testifying to the excelent qualities of Mr. Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, in effecting what is claimed for it. I was pro-trated with Rheumatism so as to be entirely unable to attend to my business, and inde d could scarcely walk or move. Soon after I commenced the use of the Cordial, I felt its igneficial effects upon my system, and now find that it has well nigh eradicated the disease. I walk with ease, the swelling and stiffness has gone out of my limbs, and I feel assured that I shall soon be free from the dominion of my enemy. JOHN J. ALLEN.
