O. Ling not, Tren bler, to life's fragile bark ; 12 fills—it sogn must sink! Logs not below, where all is chill and dark: of the wild waste. But look, O look above,
And see the outstretched arm of Love! Clica not to this poor life. Unlock thy clasp Of fleeting, vapory air.

The world receding, som will mack thy grasp;
Bet let the wings of prayer
Take Heaven's own blessed breeze, and upwards

flee, 2 Ard life from God shall enter thee. Look not so fondly back on this false earth; Let hope not linger here, Say, would the worm forego its second birth, Of the transition fear,
This gives it wags to try a world unknown,
Although it wakes and metats alone? But shou act not alone; on either side The portal, friends star mard
And he kind piers wait, the course to sunds.
Why, why should it be heard
Or Him, who died that soul to save? Into His hands commit thy trembling spirif, Valo gave His life for thine. Guiky, fix all thy trust upon His merit; To thin thy heart resign.

O, give Him love for love, and sweetly fall Intellis hands who is thy all.

It is certainly due to the character of the Nation that the bones of Washington should not be thrown into the market, as seems to be the suggestion of some of the newspapers. It is time that all discussion on this point should cease, and that the calculations of mere speculators should be at once dissipated. The whole American nation would be disgraced by a transfer of the Tomb of Washington to any other proprietorship than that of the family or of the country itself.

NEW CHURCH IN WINCHESTER.

The corner-stone of the new Methodist Episcopal Church, in Winchester, will be laid on Wednesday, the 21st instant, according to Masonic custom and usage .-All brethren, in good standing, are invited to participate. It will be seen, also, that the Independent Order of Odd Fellows have been invited to take part in the ceremonies of the occasion; and invite all members of the Order in good fellowship to be present.

For the convenience of all these from this section we are authorised to state that an arrangement has been made with the President of the Winchester Company, by which the Cars will leave Harpers-Ferry at 51 o'clock of that morning, passing Charlestown at 6] o'clock, A. M., and returning, leave Winchester at 6 c'clock of the same evening. By this arrangement, ample time will be afforded persons of this county availing themselves of the pleasure of the trip. REAL IFIL WHEAT.

LINE, our attention was called to a sample of Wheat raised by Mr. Thos. Lock of this county, which he assures us yielded 60 bushels of measured wheat to the acre, and weighs 62 pounds. It is bearded wheat and called the cove or white mediterranian. Mr. L. has taken considerable pains to keep it pure, and having but a small quantity, he has been sowing it for five years until it is completely acclimated, and now presents the appearance of a plump white wheat He intends sowing 40 bushels, and has left the remainder at the store of Lock, Cramer & Line for sale. It is certainly worth the attention of our farmers, as its quality is most beautiful and its yield Ivanhoe and Frederick.

"Shannon Hill," situated on the Shenandoahriver, and opposite Shannondale Springs, has been sold by its present occupant, Mr. GEO. W. PETERS, to Mr. Rousen of Berkeley county, for the comfortable sum of thirty-three thousand six hundred and five dollars, twenty thousand of which, as we learn, is to be in hard cash. The farm contains 611 acres, and was sold at $55 per acre. This is one of the very best improved farms of the county, all of which are beautifully situated and most conveniently arranged. Some portion of the land is not regarded, we believe, as first-quality, though other parts are most productive and in a high state of cultivation .- Spirit. COUNTY COURT.

Drilling Hudspeth, Harry Hotspur; Mr. McCormick, Knight of the Archer; Dr. Houston, Knight of Frederick Capt. John Henshaw, Knight of Buttstown ; Magill Turner, Knight of Hardscrabble; Robert Burkhart, Knight of Scampton. The Knights having put themselves in battle array,

in front of the large assemblage, the President addressed

them thus : Knights and Gentlemen :- Six centuries ago Knight errantry originated for the purpose of protecting the weak against the strong, to punish the crimes committed against innocence and virtue, to relieve those who had unjustly suffered from the cruelties practiced in that har baric age. It was then an institution of necessity, and the only tribunal at which virtue had a hearing.— You, gallant Knights, meet for no such purpose to-day; this vast and happy throng bespeaks nought but pleasure; but catching the inspiration of that chivalric age, your contest is for the offering of a crown to her whose image is enshrined upon your inmost heart. The very air giving token that all else is secure. On then, Brave to to contact and gov chivalry he revised a skill with commendable earnestness. On the first tilt the ring was taken by Flying Artilery, the Knight of Hardscrabble and the Knight of Buttstown; on the second tilt by Flying Artilery and the Knight of Hardscrabble, and on the third tilt by Ivanhoe, Knight of Hardscrabble, Knight of Frederick, Knight of Scampton | ua's new platform : and Knight of Battstown.

The Knight of Hardscrabble having taken the ring three times successively, was declared the victor. Flying Artillery having taken it twice in three tilts had the privilege of selecting the first maid of honor. The contest for the selection of the 2d and 3d maids of honor was quite animated and was adjudged to the Knights of

The contest decided, the Knights were again drawn up to make selections from the array of beauty before them. The Herald then proclaimed Mr. MAGILL TUR-NER the successful Knight, who chose Miss Vizginta Wysong, of Darkesville, as Queen of Love and Beauty. This young lady, resting upon the arm of the First Herald, Dr. Joliffe, approached the President trembling under the gaze of the vast assembly; Mr. Eichel-BERGER thus addressed her : FAIR LADY :- In placing the diadem upon thy brow, permit me to crown thee Queen of Love and Beauty.— It is a fit offering of Chivalry to thy matchless graces, and were it the gift of this vast assemblage, it would be none the less unanimous. Subjects, I present thee thy Queen, she is worthy thy loyalty and love. Miss Sophia Stain, of Frederick City, having been selected as First Maid of Honor, Miss SNoponass as Second, and Miss Goth as Third; the President in placing the wreaths upon their fair brows, addressed them separately in a few felicitous remarks; and the whole company then repaired to the tables where they partook of a most plentiful and sumptuous entertain-In the evening a Grand Ball closed the pleasures of

Too much praise cannot be awarded the Committee of Arrangements for their unwearied attention in providing for every imaginable want of the vast concourse present. Nothing was left undone that could conduce to the pleasures of the day, and each and all enjoyed the " Tournament" as a sunny spot of their existence.

The former sum, $10,029,27, is the revenue proper of fiscal year .-The balance on hand, per report of Committee on Finance, of last session, was $17,225 66, making, with the receipts of the year, an aggregate, exclusive of the " Honolulu Hall Fund," of $27,235 93 in the hands of the Treasurer during the year. Of this sum, up to August 22, 1853, the Treasurer has disbursed, in payments for appropriations of last session, mileage, salaries of officers, current expenses and special investments, the sum of $21.-321 00, leaving a balance on that in his hands of $5,914 63. Adding, however, the sum of $5,427 75 invested on account of the Honolulu fund, leaves an actual balance of $11,312 37 -Balt. Sun.

It mentions that the men who have been most named for the place are Mr. Dix and Mr. Wise, and states that it does not think Mr. Wise fit for the place. Mr. Dix does not appear to be objectionable, and the Mercury does not think he should be victimized for the charges of Freeseilism against him. As to the opposition to the appointment of Mr. Dix, the " But we do not admit, at least we have seen no proof, that opposition to his appointment has come from the South, although it suits a portion of the Northern press to say so. It seems to us he is in reality opposed mainly by a division of the party in his own State."

After that we think we should hear no further outery against Abolitionism by Southern Democrats .- Richmond Whig.

The Ohio papers publishes a letler from Joshua R. Giddings (says the Richmond Times) proposing the organization of a new party in that State, composed of Whigs, Democrats, Free Soilers and Maine Liquor Law Men. The following is Josh-

1. Opposition to the extension of slavery, 2. Active hostility to the fugitive slave law. 3. A divorce of the general Government from all connection with slavery. 4. Free farms to actual settlers on the public

5. Retrenchment and reform. 6. Equal taxation of individuals and corpo-7. The Maine liquor law.

The State Journal, the leading Whig organ in Ohio, indignantly repudiates this fusion or cealition project and declares that defeat on the old principles of the Whig party would be preserable to a triumph on sectional issues. The Journal objects particulari; to the Anti-slavery features of the Giddings' platform. We are glad to see our friends in Ohio thus evincing a determination to adhere to their organization and to spurn all affiliation with abolitionists and other fanatics.

DOING WONDERS.

A correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer undertook a few days age to glorify Mr. Secretary Dobbin, by announcing to all the world and the rest of mankind, that the Secretary aforesaid was "doing wonders" in the way of remedying the existing inefficiency of our navy. And what do you think, most sagacious reader, are the "wonders" which are being wrought by the energetic and indomitable Dobbin? Fortunately we are not left wholly in the dark, in respect to this matter, for the same communicative correspondent descends from generalities to particulars, and makes known the astounding fact that Mr. Dobbin has actually advertised proposals for repairing the s'earner San Juinto." These be your "wonders," O ! Israel !! Such are the materials out of which Democratic partisans are now compelled, for the want of something better, to manufacture a little eclat for the Pierce administration.

THE BARRIER IN VIRGINIA.

This barrier between the two regions is the Blue Ridge; that "Blue Mountain" which was the Ultima Thule of Spottswood's march, far back, in the beginning of the last century-which divided him from the Indian and unknown land-and which stands still like a mighty batrier in our day. It alone separates the tide water from the beauty and wealth of the great valley. For long, attacks. But of late this gigantic strength begins to totter; its hoary entrails have been pierced; and soon it will groan and murmur as the long train shoots through its heart toward Staunion, or, scaling the heights at Manassa's Gap, flies along the banks of the Shenandoah, toward Strausburg, past the old haunted Massinutton .- Prinare's Mag.

IFOR THE LINCHBURG VIRGINIAN. MR. EDITOR :- I have recently met with a re-print in your paper, of an article originally published in the Rich-and Times, over the signature of "B," (the paternity of which I am at no loss to discover) containing some truthful and pertinent remarks, touching the shameful prostitution of government patronage upon the factionists North and South, who have evinced the unmitigated hostility to the Constitution. Doubtless, the Brigadier thinks that in dispensing his favors to those who are outside of any healthy political organization,' (with but here and there a true conservative taken into fellowship) he is but fulfilling his own high destiny, and, by bringplatform shall stand the Southerner with the blood of Africa upon his skirts; and the pure Pharisee of the North, who, with unaffected meckness, casts an eye of pity upon his benighted neighbor, and with infinite selfcomplaisance sends up this grateful offering. "Lord I thank thee that I am not as other men-or even as this poor sinner " That "good time" is coming—aye, is at hand, when the Northern fanatic and the Southern fireeater, who would rend this glorious Union for an abstraction-they who swear by the Constitution, and those who swear to its destruction, are gathered into one fold, and his motly crew, under the broad Ægis of Franklin the invincible, realize the untold happiness of reveling in the spoils, the only "cohesive power" that holds them together. But I purposed chiefly to notice the inquiry of the writer of that article, respecting the present posi-tion of the Hon. Charles James Faulkner, whose very consistent regard for the "rights of the South," (upon a subject against which he had taken ground in the legislature of 1832,) led him to espouse the cause of the New Hampshire candidate.

Well, the man who journeyed to Damascus "breathing threatenings and slaughter, or, he, of Revolutionary no-toriety, who ravished the shores of Virginia, was not more fierce or unrelenting than is this new light of the democracy in proscribing his old friends,—who for more than tweaty years have been his faithful constituents, and given him his political importance, by demanding the removal from isderal offices of those who are (what he heretofore professed to be) Whigs, and the appointment of democrats in their stead. The last we heard of this notorious little man, he was in the cortege of Free Soilers and Secessionists who accompanied President Pierce to the World's Fair-himself not the least wonder in that interesting collection. His position is "un-alterably fixed, and whether for weal or for woe, his fortune indissolubly identified with the democracy !!" Thus he speaks without annexing any con litions or qualilications whatsoever—but one acquainted with his past course, and remembering that he said with equal apparations of that he was determined by the said with equal apparations of the said wit rent sincerity, " that he was determined to battle in the Whig cause to the end, and when he fell, desired to be enshrouded in the ample folds of the old WHIG flag," cannot fail to supply them. We are justified in express ing the fear that he does not calculate with unerring certainty the extent of his new-born zeal for Democracy, and to suggest the possibility that, in the event of a change in the political complexion of the Sth Congressional district, the State of Virginia, or the ascendency of the Whig party in the Union, he may again be shaken from his allegiance. Vox Populi—the voice of the people—has a wonderful influence in fashioning the opinions, and giving expression to the sentiments of those who wish to be carried upon the current of popular favor. I have mistaken the impulses of patriotism, if it be not embodied in that sentiment expressed by the immortal Clay: "I would rather be right than be president."

NATIONAL ARMORIES.

Ma. Horron :- By a reference to the " Spirit e Jefferson' of the 30th ultimo, it will be seen that another charapion, styling himself. He "speaks as one having authority," and to contravert abom, it would be an unpardonable sin against bigh heaven. By way of giving force and character to his remarks, he takes especial pains to apprise his readers that he is wholly disinterested, entertaining no pukind feeling to any person living, having no connexion with the Armory except a common joint stock with every citizen of the United States," &c.,

It may be, that this individual has never held any office under the Government; nevertheles, we cannot understand how a man can make use of the language that he does, yet "entertaining no un-kind feeling" &c. It strikes us that there neat he some sort of interest in view-perhaps it may be some business capital, in the grocery line.

In our humble opinion there has no communicaion appeared lately on the subject of the National Armories which more clearly indicates deep feelings of acrimony. Our knowledge of human nature must also be greatly at fault, for we really cannot conceive how a man can so elaborate a subject without feeling some interest, other than " a common joint stock with every citizen of the United States." "Great pains and little gains make man soon weary." If he is correct in his protestations he is also en-

In plain lanwhich he has continued for several years past, to | guage, it does not require the oldest inhabitant to remember distinctly who were the prime movers in abrogating the former system. It was headed and moved to fruition by 'simon pure democrats.' Then the Military was the darling system; the Civil having been tairly tried and found wanting .-This is "knewn and read of all men." It therefore follows that our present " simon pure democrat" has gotten himself in a dilemma, to choose either horn of which, will involve him in an unenviable difficulty. He must either acknowledge that he has changed his policy, or else that he was insincere in his advocacy of the present system. We apprehend he has changed his policy;

the question then arises how long is he likely to advocate his present policy? We claim the right to ask this question, and hope he will give us a calegorical answer. If he was insincere in advocating the change to the present system, what claim has he on our confidence now ? Who knows but what it may suit his purpose in a few years to advocate the military sys tem again. Moreover, what guarantee have we that the artisans will be satisfied it a change is effeeted? If we judge from the past-and that is the Is it not a notorious fact, that they have never been satisfied? Was not one of the most efficient civil superintendents-a practical artisan toucourt-marshaled?" And although he was declared innocent of the charges brought against him, was he not compelled for the sake of peace, to resign his office? And who is so young as not to remember the tragic end of a successor under this self same civil system ? Trace the history of all subsequent administrations under this now darling civil system, and we know the same gloomy picture, without a single ray of light to relieve, even the foreground.

Perhaps it may be deemed indiscreet, thus to draw aside the vale that obstructs from the view of the rising generation, this gloomy picture. If I am blamed, I seek shelter in the maxim that " Fle who conceals a proper truth is equally guilty with the propagator of an injurious falsehood. "Truth is stranger than fiction." There are yet those amongst us who remember we'l, the leaders of the triumphal cortege, when the news reached our town, that the then detestable civil system had been abolished, and the military substituted. It was a victory too signal to be passed by without a jollification. Thus verifying the maxim, "Out of the fullness of the heart the mouth speaketh." We ask what next, may we expect? echo answers, a similar demonstration in the event of a change back again to the civil system. Thus far we have spoken of the present, as the military system, in contradistinction to the civil. This is, however, a misnomer. A civil superintendent would be bound-that is if he does his duty-to carry out the same laws and rules that now govern the establishment. Hence we feel at a less to account for the untoward influence that is being brought to bear on this question; except upon the principle that " to the victors belong the spoils."-Outs vs. lus. "Simon pure democrat" seems greatly alarmed at the tendency of Military domination. Give heed all ye thoughtless to the warning voice of wisdom! "Is not the time approximating that we have just cause to apprehent an undue power and influence in that department (in military.") Far be it from me to make light of these prophetic admonitions, Nevertheless, I am frank to costess my ignerance as to the data upon which he bases his conclusion. If he will take pencil in hand and devote a few moments to the subject, perhaps he will find it susceptible of mathematical demonstration. Let him 1 find out the ratio of augmentation of these antagonistic powers, or influences-the civil and the military-and the quotient is at hand. But possibly this malignity upon the part of " simon pure democrat," against the Military, may be owing to national antipathy. History tells us that there is hardly an object in creation that has not revolted some individuals. Henry III. King of France, could not endure a cat. Wadislans, King of Poland, ran away at the sight of apples; and Johannes de Queresto, Secretary to Francis the first of France, would fall in a fit, if cheese was held near him. After these examples, I repeat, if " simon pure democrat's" harred to the military, is attributable to a natural infirmity, I take back all that I have said, and ask his parden to boot. You may expect to hear from me again some of these days, for we shall always be prepared to tender our respects to his simon-pureship, whenerer he shall make his appearance. LONGINUS. THE RELIGION OF PAYING DEBTS.

ATTHE STOMACH prepares the elements of the bile and the blood; and if it does the work feebly and imperfectly, liver diseases is the certain result. As soon, therefore, as any affection of the liver is perceived, we may be sure that the digestive organs are cut of order. The first thing to be done, is to administer a specific which will act directly upon the stemach—the mainspring of the animal machinery. For this purpose we can recommend Hoofland's German Billers, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Acting as an alternative and a tonic, it strengthens the digestion, changes the condition of the blood and thereby gues regularity to the bowels. [September 8, 1853.-2t.

Attention, Farmers. ESSRS. EDITORS: I beg leave to acvertise through your paper, an invention of my own for which there has been a patent pending, and of which there has been a model for some time in the Patent Office at Washington. I claim as may invention a machine called a Guano attachment, to he affixed to any wheat drill whatsoever. The design of this attachment is to so wa diminished, 1120tiry of Gazno through the drill teeth with the seed wheat, and thus cover the Guano and Seed Wheat up together, having been long well assured that it was highly important to put a moderate quartity of guano where it would be immediately appropriated by the roots of the wheat; and that it is exceedingly injudicious to spread large quantities of a fertilizer so costly, and so volatile, over the whole surface sown in wheat. In a few days there will be in the James W. Beller, Counties of Fauquier, Clarke, Frederick, Jefferson, &c., a rumber of the Drills of S. & M. Pennock, with this attachment affixed to them. Farmers and Mechanics who take an interest in this matter are invited to examine them. The attachment works with great regularky, having on a recent trial, sowed several times, without any perceptible variation, at the rate of 50 lbs. guano to the acre, then 25 lbs., 15 lbs., 10 lbs., 11 s. In fact the machine will sow from 5 lbs. 10 Ibs, per acre; or the guano can be shut off al-Should farmers who have previously purchased Drills, wish to use this attachment, I can have it affixed to any kind of Drill whatever. TO THE PUBLIC. IN the "Spirit of Jefferson," of April the 25th, and May the 3d, 1853, I offered to the public what I call a Check, or Rubber, to be used on Canal Boats. And in order to be able to suit all classes of Boats I now offer two more which I shall describe as briefly as possible. And first, On each side of the Boat is a rubber, bolted fast by one er so as to open and close when required; withi rub the Mason-work of the lock; Vertically to which is an Iron rod passing up through the tenders of the Boat to the top of the deck. On the top end of the rod is a lever, working like the valve in a lock gate. And, to the lower end of the rod, is a flange working at right angles with the rod so a are attached to a slider or other fixture on the deck of the Boat, to be worked back and forward by a this medicine was more generally used, we are | These same rubbers will also answer for ship canals, as they require no openings to be made through the bulk of the Boat or vessels but operates entirely on the outside, effecting what is required by a direct and easy force. The above Checks are now ready to be applied

June 23, 1853. I will also mention here, that I have joy nted a fixture which may be termed an ALARM, to prevent the collision of trains on Rail Roads. It consists of a piece of Mechanism operated on by the motion of the train, and a driver passing up through the Rail its machinery runs under the track, and will strike an Alarm, or point to figure indicating the distance that the train is from the place of stopping. The Bell to strike the alarm on, or the board with the figure on to tell the distance, may be placed in a house or on a bridge, or any other secure place that the company may elect. if it receives that natronage which is hered for and the advocates of improvement are really in earnest they will take this enterprise by the hand and help it along, by giving a good list of students at the commencement. It is hoped that every county in the State will send at least one student the first session. And that the different Agricultural Societies will ascertain how many students can be sent from their respective districts and forward a list of the same by the 1st day of December next; The Institute will be opened for the seception of Students on the 1st of March, 1854. Turms including all expenses except Books and Stationery $200 per session of ten months.
