I am drooping, I am lonely, I am wasting on my stem; There's a canker in my bosom, Where flashed the dewy gem. quiver in the chilling blast, Tossed roughly by his wing-E'er the dawn of gentle Spring.

I am weary, I am weeping, I am fading in the air; I am pining for the lov'd tones I never more may hear. The many praised my beauty, They passed unheeded by, Until he came, with noble brow And softly beaming eye.

He whispered sweetly in my ear, He took my precious gem; But oh! he never offered To pluck me from my stem. Love nestled in his glorious eyes And sported round his lips, But he left me like the fickle bee When the honey-dew he sips. Now he loves another flower, More fairer than I. Her deceased husband, one of the worthiest men in the village, had, by industry and economy, saved a sum of money sufficient to purchase the litentirely free from incumbrance. The industrious man had planted the green and cheerful field with young trees, which already bore the finest fruit. He had chose Maria for his wife, although she was but a poer erphan, and her parents had been able to give her nothing more than a good education; he had chosen her because she was well known as the most pious, industrious, and well-behaved maiden in the village. They had lived happy together; but the typhus fever broke out in the village and her husband died. Having nursed him with the greatest tenderness, she, herself was attacked with it

In the spring season our Town was daily enlivened by the arrival of stages filled with visiters to and from the springs, and on Sabbath days the churches of Charlestown were usually crowded with the sprightly, the gay, the pious and devout visiters

At Charlestown and Kabletown visitors supplied all their mercantile wants. Our merchants will therefore regret the closing of Shannondale, as much profiit was derived from the shopping which was necessarily done with the merchants of those villages. Onr Hotels, of which it is our pleasure to boast, were liberally patronized; and the liberality of the proprietor of Shannondale Springs will long be remembered by those who purchased its marketing, and always found ready sale, at reasonable prices, for all the produce furnished at the Springs.

It is an irlance eccupation, rendered doubly so by editorial quarreis and abuse." We fully coincide with our contemporary in the belief here expressed, that editors should respect the dignity of the press, as well as the promotion of good feeling, by abstaining from violent personal abuse, and also from what is worse and more unmanly, those attacks by inuendo; which only exhibit the malice of a parrow spirit without the courage to strike an open blow. - The press is too powerful and sacred an engine to be devoted

We also agree with one as any other class of men. They are, in fact, more so, if labors and services in their cause are any recommendation. They are the most efficient agents of that cause ; they are the " sentinels upon the ramparts;" they are the regular soldiers, who fight the daily battles of the principles of the party; and yet, when the battle is ended, and the victory won, there are those who would deny promotion to the men who have done the work, lest forscoth it might make them mercenary instead of patriotic! Still, while we contend that it would be arbitrary and unjust in the extreme to exclude editors from office on account of their profession, we rejoice that the press, in the eyes of those who conduct it, is so generally and justly regarded as superior in dignity, influence and independence, to any office which government can bestow. We fully agree with our contemporary, too, that, of all occupations, none so poorly rewards an industricus laborer as that of the editor. It has its pleasures, its advantages, and its rewards, but they are decidedly not of the pecuniary sort. Where is the employment in which the reflection, the care, the labor of a daily editor would not command more than independence? And yet the number of editors is not few, who, in the prime of life, with large families dependent upon their exertions, and working from morning till night like galley slaves, are absolutely poorer

The question which has been going the rounds of the papers (says the Rickmond Whig) for some time past, swered by the Memphis Whig. Our Democratic cotemporaries took up the subject and endeavored in vain to give it an answer. Many and long were the editorials written, and any quantity of laudation was bestowed upon the Administration of President Pierce, to show that during six months of its existence it had done something besides divide out the plunder obtained by the victory which elevated it to power. They failed to show that it had done any thing more. But Whig journals have been more fortunate in their researches Our Democratic cotemporaries may rest from their arduous labors. The notable acts of the Administration are thus summed up in brief for them by the Memphis Whig: The Secretary of State has forbidden Foreign Ministers to wear uniforms, thereby checking the vanity of gold lace and brass buttons. The Treasury Department has immortalized the names of the members of the Cabinet, by bestowing them upon six new revenue cutters. The Head of the War Department has had his time fully occupied in reconciling "strict construction" with the Pacific Railroad.

After the table had been cleared-it was not deemed necessary to have a cloth to remove-Champagne was produced, and many excellent and appropriate toasts were drank-wit and sentiment abounded, amid the popping of a regular artillery of corks. We then took a visit to the works upon the road, where we saw unmistakable signs of the energy with which it is being pushed forward, and were saluted with three blasts made on the first rock blown out on the Covington and Ohie Railroad About 6 c'clock the company began to return to their homes, all highly pleased with the entertainment and festivithe this occasion to return out sincere thanks to Mr. Gallagher, the contractor; to Mr. Myres the

REED, for the safe erection of the building, the protection of those engaged upon it, and the continued aid of Providence to the Order in its future operations. The "grand honors," as they are called, were then performed by the Masonic brethren, which concluded that pertion of the exercises. The address of Rev. Mr. RIELEY was one very acceptable to the Order which he represented, and was received apparently with great favor by his audience. It was sound in argument and interspersed with agreeable and appropriate pleasantry. He met successfully, we think, the various objections heretofore urged by some in this community, against the Order, and imparted much information to his hearers, as to its origin and design, that, doubtless, will do much to correct public sentiment in relation to this ancient fraternity. Taken as a whole, no address has been delivered in our town lately that met with a more cordial reception, or that did its author more credit. The ministers generally of town were present, with several from a distance, in all twelve or more, and seemed gratified by the proceedings. The citizens turned out numerously, together with a respeciable number of persons from the surrounding neighborhoods, which would have been increased by visitors from more remote points, but for the gloomy appearance of the day preceding. The audience numbered over two thousand persons, a large proportion of whom were females. To the credit of those present, be it said, that we have never witnessed so good demeaner in so large and varied an assemblage The Methodist Choir, who occupied sea's prepared for them upon the platform, performed their duty well and very satisfactory. The Orders presented a pleasing appearance, and the number in procession, we suppose, was about two hundred and fifty. Every thing passed off in order, the day being beautiful, and nothing occurring to disturb the ceremonies

We transfer to our columns (says the Winchester Virginian,) with great satisfaction the following complimentary notice of our gifted young townsman, which we find in the Piedmont Whig, of Warrenton. The case was decided in favor of the bank :

"We have not had the leisure to be present, in the Court House, but we were fortunate enough to hear a speech on Wednesday which we would not willingly have missed. The speaker was J. Randolph Tucker, Esq., counsel for the Bank of Virginia, in the case of James B. Rust against the Bank. The speech was an admirable one; such a speech we think, as very few men of Mr. Tucker's age in this country could have made. THE DEATH OF YOUNG LOOCKER.

The Ecston, (Mil.) Genette confirms the state we published yesterday, (says the Baltimore Sus, ci Tuesday last,) concerning the death of John Loockerman. The affair occurred on Thursday night about 10 Pennington, presided. Among thogues's present, were Dr. Levi Jones, of Texas Chief Justice Hambloner, and Mr. Richard Fo. A number of toasts were offered, and in reply to a sentiment in o'clock, at "Pinindealing," near Royal Oak, Talbot county, the readence of T. R. Loockerman, the brother of the deceased. The Gasette gives the following par-

On the night stated bricks were thrown, and Robert Hughey, overseer, and Wm. H. Kercheval, gardener, were on the watch with gans, accompanied by T. R. Leockerrian. A brick was thrown, when Hughey fired, without effect. Kercheval said he saw a man a short distance from them, when Loocker nan told him to first at him. He did so, and more arriving at the one which rose in November of last year, immediately after the Whigs had given strange and circumstances which no political party in this him to fire at him. He did so, and upon arriving at the spot, John Loockerman, a brother of T. R. L., aged about seventeen years, who, it is said, had just come out of the house, was found dead, a rifle ball having pierced country ever encountered before. With most astonishing opposition in our own ranks, with ashis head just above the temple. Kercheval immediately started for Easton, and upon his arrival gave himself up and was committed for examination. Leockerman was arrested on Friday by Sheriff Clark, and committed to jail in default of bail for threatening the life of Kercheval prominent men of our party, as to the position of our candidates, and with the ands upon thouour candidates, and with there and upon thousands of Whigs voting against us; yet the Whig party gave 1,385.000 votes; and 35.000 votes would have changed the result. I have never been dismayed by defeat. The great error which the Whig party has committed has been the timidity which it has shown, and its willingness to lay down its arms at any or defeat. Not so with our Kercheval is an old man, a native of England, and is very fend of the Loockermans, and is greatly distressed at the occurrence. It was very dark where the affair occurred. He is not, we believe, censured by the community. Young Loockerman was very much liked by down its arms at every defeat. Not so with our opponents. The worse you whip them to-day, the his acquaintances, and was a quiet, peaceable youth, and pleasant compation. Loockerman is evidently much affected at the loss of his brother under such harder they will fight to-morrow. [Applause]-Principles they have none, but positions they never much affected at the loss of his brother under such much affected at the loss of his brother under such heart rending circumstances.

The jury of inquest rendered the following verdict: that Mr. John Loockerman came to his deata accidentally by a ball or sling fired from a gun or rifle, supposed to be in the hands of William H. Kercheval. At the recent dinner in Washington city to Gen.

A FACT FOR THE LADIES.

According to present appearance, in the Virgina Penitentiary, there is no such thing as crime amongst the females of our State There are two hundred and sixty-four male convicts at present in that institution, and not a single white female. -This is a fact worthy of record in the annals of our State. It speaks volumes in favor of the Virginia woman. In numbers there is scarcely any disparity between the men and women of the State; and the laws which apply to one apply to the other, in all crimical eases. Consequently, the female may claim to be 264 times better than the males.

IMPORTANT ARRESTS AT CIT CAN-

A few days ago two men, named MidCarimeticand Enight, were arrested at a house in Gucinnati, where, it is alleged, they were engaged in cutting up bank bills, some $10,000 of which were found on the premises. LOOK AT THIS! THE subscriber having purchased the LARGE STOCK OF GOODS, of George H. Beckwith, in Middle vay, Va., will continue the business at the Old Stand. He invites a call from the old customers of Mr. Beckwith, and the public generally, as he is deter-mined to sell at Low Prices with a view to reduce the Stock. The very large assortment of Calicoes, Muslins and Berages, will be sold much below their market value. He particularly asks attention to the assortment of Hats, Caps, Bonnets and Shoes; as all persons in want of them can be accommodated both in price and quality. The Stock of Ready-Made Clothing, Groceries, Hardware, Queensware, Medicines, Wines and Liquors, And the Stock generally, is complete, and will be sold on the most reasonable terms, if an early call is given to him. He will at all times pay the highest market price for Countay PRODUCE in exchange for Goods, and he hopes by his attention to business, and the wants of his customers to merit a share of the public patronage.

STABLER'S ANODYNE CHERRY EXPECTORANT

TS confidently recommended to Invalids, as un-I surpassed by any known preparation, for the and besides its soothing and tonic qualities, acts through the skin gently, and with great efficacy, for the cure of this class of diseases.

Stabler's Diarrhea Cordial IS a pleasant Mixture, compounded in agreement with the rules of Pharmacy, of therapoutic agents, long known and celebrated for their peopliar efficacy in

Curing DIARRHEA, 4 similar affections of the system. In its action, it allow named and produces a healthy condition of the LIVER, thus removing the cause at the same time that it cures the disease. The valuable Medicines above named have recently been introduced, with the approval of a number of the Medical Profession in the City of Baltimore and elsewhere, and in practice have succeeded most admirably in curing the diseases for which they are prescribed. They are offered to the Country Practitioner, as medicines which he can in all respects depend upon, as prepared in agreement with the experience of some of the most learned and judicious Physicians, and strictly in conformity with the rules of Pharmacy, and as especially serving his convenience, who cannot so readily as the City Physician have his own prescriptions compounded by a practical Pharmaceut st. See the descriptive Pamphiers, to be had gratis of all who have the Medicines for sale, containing recommendations from Doctors Martin, Baltzell, Addison, Payne, Handy. Love, &c.

Doct. R. A. Payne, says he has used the Diarrhaa Cordial in his practice with the happiest effect, and thinks it one of the most convenient and efficient com-binations ever offered to our profession " Doct. L. D. Handy, writes, "I have administered your Anodyne Expectorant, in several cases of Bron-chial affection, with the most happy results, and from a knowledge of its admirable effects. I can with the greatest confidence recommend it," &c.

Doct. W. S. Love, writes to us that he has administered the Expectorant to his wife, who has had the Bronchitis for fourteen years, and that she is fast re

TO THE PUBLIC.

IN the "Spirit of Jefferson," of April the 26th, and May the 3d, 1853. I offered to the public what I call a Check, or Rubber, to be used on Canal Boats. And in order to be able to suit all classes of Boats I now offer two more which I shall describe as briefly as possible. And first, On each side of the Boat is a rubber, bolted fast by one end, so as to open and close when required; within which, is an Iron Scatcheon allowing the wood to rub the Mason-work of the lock; Vertically to which is an Iron rod passing up through the fen-ders of the Beat to the top of the deck. On the top end of the rod is a lever, working like the valve in a lock gate. And, to the lower end of the rod, is a flange working at right angles with the rod so as to expand the rubber when required. The levers are attached to a slider or other fixture on the deck of the Boat, to be worked back and forward by a third lever, or any other device that will answer the purpose. Another has its rubbers bolted fast to the Boar as above described, with its levers working on the deck, and entering a wedge under the rubber so as to produce the required operation .-If this medicine was more generally used, we are These same rubbers will also answer for ship caly on the outside, effecting what is required by a direct and easy force. The above Checks are now ready to be applied to use, by Mr. Sam't W. STRIDER, Agent for the

JOHN BARNETT. June 23, 1853 I will also mention here, that I have invented a fixture which may be termed an ALARM, to prevent the collision of trains on Rail Roads. It consists of a piece of Mechanism operated on by the notion of the train, and a driver passing up through the Rail its machinery runs under the track, and will strike an Alarm, or point to figure indicating the distance that the train is from the place of stopping: The Bell to strike the alarm on, or the poard with the figure on to tell the distance, may be placed in a house or on a bridge, or any other secure place that the company may elect. They may with safety be placed the entire length of the road, and so arranged as to tell at all times where the trains are passing. This being something of great importance, I wish to experiment on it more June 23, 1853. JOHN BARNETT. JEFFERSON MACHINE SHOP,

New. THE subscribers respectfully call the attention of the Farming community to their very large Farming Implements, comprising every king of implement used by the farmer to facilitate and cheapen his operations, including our celebrated Patent Premium Thresher and Cleaner. which received the first premium ever the New York Pitt Machine and several others at the Maryland State Agricultural Fair last fall; also, at the Washington County Fair, Hagerstown, Md., and at our Valley Fair, Charlestown-which for simthe world. By a recent improvement we can make the machine clean all kinds of grain perfectly clean for market, taking out all cheat, smut, and light wheat if wished, saving altogether the use of a Wheat Fan: thus saving the farmer two-thirds his expense over the common thresher, requiring but eight hands and from six to eight horses to thresh from 200 to 400 bushels per day, perfectly clean for the mill. This has never been accomplished by any other machinist but ourselves, and all sceptive minds can have their doubts removed by trying one and if they cannot do what we have represented we will take the machine back without charge.

Corative Instrument THE only infallible cure for that dreadful discusses known as 8 permaters and Involuntary Necturnal Emissions, so harass by and destructive of so much mischief is the nervois system, incapainting the man for business, society, and main-

This Instrument is simple, comprehensive, and never-failing, and may be used without the slightest Institution, based of ample cap tal and gut ran- inconvenience or the knowledge of the most intimate friend. It is to be used externally, producing no pain or injury whetever, nor preventing any one from attending to his business; and while in me not a single emission can take place, invigerating the organs, in a short time, to such an extent that they regain their principle power of refertion, the loss of which, caused by early abuse, is the disease in question, and the cause of the thensand concominant complaints, viz : Nervousness, Prostration, Dyspepsia, Pain in the Head and Dimness of Vision, Weakness of the Back and Lower Extremities, Af-fections of the Evest Impotence, Pimples of the Face, Premature Deeline of Visility, Weakness of Memory and Fower for Mentel Application, De-jection, Aversion to Society, Tamidity, Self-Dis-trest, Love of Solitate, &c. All these complaints invariably disappear as soon as the source is stopped rem which they emanated. This Instrument has been examined and approved of by the highest authorities in Europe and America, is recommended by the most prominent Physicians of all countries, as the only certain remedy existing for those complaints, and has now completely superseded the use of drugs, the bougie, cauterization, &c., not to mention the thousand advertised nostrums of the day, as cordials, antidotes, &c., &c.

Be it also remembered, that those complaints are but little understood by the profession in general, and that all the medicine in the world never has, and never will, stop those losses, which, if allowed to continue uncheckid, are sure to produce the most distressing consiquences.

It has been a matter of surprise to some, that any one of respectability and of professional attainments should devote his attestion to diseases which people of every description stelend to cure so easily. If, however, but the one idousand to part of the miseries these people bring upon society were known, a very different opinion would be formed.
