Each heart droops in sadness, each eye sheds a tear.

The Hero, -the Statesman, -his journey is done,

All his cares are now over, the last battle's won.

Horr sweetly he sleeps from his sorrows and fears,

And leaves a proud nation in sadness and tears.

And let the turf lightly be heaped o'er his breast;

And was deep in the hearts of the , tople enshrined;

Which often streamed o'er lin in the battle's fierce

Oh! bear him full gently-disturb not his rest.

Let the flag which he loved envelope his form,

oh' calm let him rest, with his deeds and his fame.

TOGETHER.

Of the things of olden day, When we, like lambkins loosed from tether,

For oh! he was noble, and gentle and kind,

And halos of glory encircle his name.

Let's sit down and talk together

Gaily tripp'd along the way

And tinging with peculiar brightness Silvery threads among our hair.

Many years away have passed, And fair and foul has been the w. ather

Let's sit down and talk together;

Since we saw each other last.

And some among us still are giving

Let's sit down and talk together;

Toil and thought for present bliss

The ferns still grow among the heather,

And for us their fragrance shed.

And God has hid in every minute

Something we may wisely scan.

Let's sit down and talk together;

DAD'S EXPERIMENT WITH BILLY.

Less than a hundred miles frem Syricuse, ives an old farmer, whose given same is Zury-a hard weeking, bonest old Englishman, owning a good farm of ever a bandred scres, and two faithful boys, who have been brought up to wield the 'agricultural implement,"-from one of these I have my story. Old Zury had an old goat on the farm, who is not one of the most peacefully disposed creatures in the world, and on this account the boys take no little delight in putting his lordship on his taps, ence in a while, by way of amusement; for a long time the old man had notised that when Billy came home at night he was completely covered with mu and water, and old Zury could not imagine how he should become so, find out the cause of poor Billy's daily mis-

One day he left the bays to pick up the rates, &c., after a hard day's work of haying and walked around to the ridge, where Billy generally kept himself; it was about | maturity. Many farmers know the importime for the geat to go to the house, but | tance of taking for seed what ripens earliest, there he lay, quiet and dry; so old Zury seated himself behind a stump, determined to watch his movements, for that night, at any rate; he had not been there more than fifteen minutes, when who should he see coming along the ridge but the two boys: his first impuise was to tell them to keep back, but upon second thought, he said noth-

Take my toad, Hank,' said Dick; 'it's my turn to take the fellar to night." Hank took Dick's load from his back, and Dick going down the hill a little ways, soon showed himself within a few yards of where

Billy had already caught a glimpse of the boys, and was soon on his feet. . Hank laid flat on the ground, and Dick, on the edge of the ridge, now presented a full front, which did not seem exactly to please his goatship, for he pointed for him, and down went Dick, prised at the sudden transformation of the old stump into a human being, and that too, the old man, 'at fifteen paces, who, by the way, was not one of the most forbearing persens in the world; and as he looked around on the ground. Dack thinking that a club or stone might possibly be the object of his search, started on a keen jump for the bara. The old man made up his mind that the mystery was solved. That night Dick and Hank did'nt come home to supper.

I thought I should not be able to hold myself together, as Hank related the surprise of old Zury and his son, as they stood

But hold on,' said he, 'I hav'nt told you the best of it yet; about two weeks from that time, one day me and Dick had been working all day, and wa made up our minds halo't been in the hold at all in the arterneon, and he always kept a good barrel of ale in the cellar; but when we had started, who should we see but the old man edging that way There was old dad, and there of weeks before. We and nothing, for we hadn't seen any of that kind of sport in a long time; the old man presented rather a formidable appearance, but Billy, nothing daunted, pointed for the mark, the old man lowered, but a little too late, for the goat took him 'plump.'-We heard something strike in the mud, and it wasn't Billy, for he stood looking down ever the ridge. Me and Dick pulled for the barn, and in a few minutes we saw old dad paddling for the house, covered with mire from head to fost. That night the old man was dressed up in his best clothes. I ventured to ask him if he was going ever to see the Deucon.

'Yes,' said Dick, leaking out the door; ean't a man go and see the goat, without tumbling in the mud?

Dick was gone, and the old dad looking at me, and then very significantly at a heavy wooden bootjack, I stepped out of the back door .- Spirit of the Times.

SEED CORN.

Now is the time to select cars of corn for seed. Go into the fields and pluck off the earlicht ears, and such as are well filed; and you will gain something by selecting from stalks that have two ears on them. It is important that you select in the field, and bofore all the sare are bard, for thus you will gain several days in the ripening next year. We think it probable that a majority of our farmers neglect to select their seed cars till the time of husking. But then they cannot determine certainly whether they take the carliest ears. Corn is so important a crep, and so much of it is eften lest by early frosts, that it is of much consequence to plant that which will could not imagine how he should become so, ripen early. We cannot urge the planting so he determined, if possible, that he would of the smell Canada cornt in our latitude, for is is better to lose ceessionally part of & large crep than to be always limited to a small one. LARGE CROPS OR LARGE FARMS.

"If our farmers, instead of laboring to double their acres, would endeaver to doule their creps they would find it a vast savng of time and toil, and an increase of prof. s." This statement needs little argument to sustain it. If ten acres of wheat can be made to yield four hundred bushels instead of two hundred-the tillage, seed, reut and taxes of the additional ten acres required to produce the first-named quantity, will be saved and added to the profits. The expenses of tillage will, of course, be increased, as it is by thorough culture, meauring, drainage, that such increase of crops is secured.

NEST.

This is one of the most ingenious centrivances of the age, and is the invention of is around the ridge; so Dick and me went ever | down-east Yankee. The design is to deceive poultry into the speedy and liberal, laying of eggs, and which is accomplished We laid flat en the ground, anxious to by the peculiar construction of the machinaknew what the old man was going to do. At the bottom of the nest there is a trap when what was our surprise to see him take | deer, which works on a hinge, being supthe exact position Dick had taken a couple ported by a spring. The moment an egg s placed on this, the trap epens and lets it fall through into a cushioned apartment prepared for its reception. The consequences is that the bird, just as she is preparing to cackle, glances at the nest, and seeing nothing in it, actually reasons herself into the belief that she had not laid at all, and resumes her resition on the nest in hopes of making a more successful effort.

On the first trial of this curious contrivance before the Commissioner of patents to test its virtues, a singular result was effected. A large imported Russian Hen was located on the nest and left to her meditations. On account of pressing business, tho hen was forgetten until the next day, when, 'See the Deacon! no! Can't a man put to the utter astonishment of the Commison good clothes without going to see the siener, and even the inventor himself on examining the nest they found nothing in it but a pair of claws, bill, and a bunch of feathers; the mystery was explained, however, upon examining the chambers beneath, in which they found half a bushel of eggs.

The cataract of Niagara river attracts large numbers of enthusiastic visitors, tho come from every part of the earth, full of expectation, and depart wonderfully gratified. It omes, passes and goes, yet is always there. It is always swelling, never enlarging nor bursting --It is ever boiling, yet always cold. Without mental excitement, it is moved and agitated. Without feet, it dances, and keeps time to its music without instruments. It aspires not, yet its breath rises in waving clouds. It weeps wi hout eyes, and moans, without passion or feeling. It cradles and rocks without babies or children. Its sheet is neither spun or wove. It has no cohesion, is neither sustained by hands nor cords, yet there it hangs, a-ways, and still ever hanging there. It leaps far more than Sam Patch, and yet its greatest leap is a mighty fall. BHANNONDALE SPRINGS.

We are now at the close of the present seaton of this beautiful watering place, and many pleasant reflections are suggested to our minds. Many of the visiters have considered themselves greatly benefitted by the natural beauties of the place-many others by the romantic mountain

There being two thousand visiters at the aptings we may naturally suppose, that if each visiter opent about $50, only a sum of $10,000 would be created-hence a liberal outlay by the proprietor, in the products of our tertile Valley, as well as for the products of the mountain, would be necessarily made, for which we know a generous price was so near being beaten, and yet saved their distance-just paid by the noble proprietor.

We therefore contend, that every good citizen of the neighborhood, is deeply interested in their ourishing condition of this valuable watering piace. These sources of local wealth, of domestic bride. of social amusements ought to receive the fostering care of all polished and public-spirited imen. and we feel assured no other community is more ready to appreciate, or understand their own interest, than that in which we live. Here we can look for polished manners, polite literajure-for tashions and elegance, and to this source, we believe the tastes of our people can be greatly elevated and refined, and the business men of our country become lovers of intelligence and refinement .-Hence we say with all candor, that these auxiliary means should be sought after by the friends of civilization, and thereby contribute either directly, or indirectly, to the promotion of the interest of this well known and far famed watering place.

We address ourselves chiefly to the good citizens of our county, and present to them what we consider motives affecting their deepest interest.

JUDGE MASON'S APPOINTMENT.

The appointment of our fellow-citizen, Judge John Y. Mason, (says the Richmond Dispatch.) to the Mission to France, will be gratifying to his political friends, and, if we are not mistaken, receive the approbation also of the other party. Judge Mason administered, with ability, the Navy Department, during the administration of Mr. Polk. Since that time he has occupied the responsible post of President of the James River and Kanawha Company. He is decided in his political views, but mild and tolerant towards his opponents. His instincts, we should say, are eminently conservative; his manners courteous and gentlemanly, possessing, that combination of the suavifer in modo et fortiler in re, which is essential to an ambassador at the French, and, we suppose, any other Court. Judge Mason is endowed with a large stock of political sagacity and common sense, and his self-command and evenness of temper afford a guarantee that while our rights abroad will be protected, we shall not be involved in any unnecessary and undignified squabbles. Virginia will be pleased that the illustrious Rives has so worthy a successor.

COLONEL WALTER GWINN.

It has already been announced that this gentleman has resigned his position as Chief Engineer of the James River and Kanawha Company, and entered upon an honorable and lucrative career in North Carolina. He is to receive $5,000 per annum from the Central Railroad Company of that State and $3,000 as a consulting engineer on other works This shows a just appreciation of the talents and experience of this distinguished gentleman, and is alike honora le to all concerned. Col. Gwynn has been connected with the Canal Company since 1815, and has devoted his best energies to the work in its darkest hours-first as President, then as Engineer-and has pulletted and overcone the waves of prejudice which at one time seemed to threaten the very existence of the improvement. THE GEORGIA ELECTION.

A bril-Every visiter to the springs, is a consumeer of liant Democratic victory truly! We wish the Union could have made such refreshing declarations during the warm weather last summer. It would have had a cooling influence on the aimosphere. The Union also quotes from the Pennsylvanian, in regard to the same election,

> A majority of eight hundred and twenty four complete, full, comprehensive and without a parallel! The Union is evidently facetious. Or it must have been intended as a piece of irony, to intimate to its friends in Georgia that they did not do their whole duty and eame very near losing the State in consequence.

> Such a supposition, however, is reputted by the fact that the Union proceeds gravely to argue that the result of the Georgia election establishes the confidence of the people in the President and his policy! So it does with a vengeance. We opine that if Mr. Secretary Guthrie's spoils schedule had been given out before instead of after the Georgia election, the result might have been the other way. As it is, if the Union calls this a "brilliant victory" it must be because they came as it is considered the most skillful driving to come nearest an obstacle without striking it !

> The Georgia election, it appears to us, is a very decided warning to the Administration. A majority of gant phraseology in the Bronson letter, there is very little to be anticipated from the Democracy of New York, if the Adamantine gun-flints of that State, continue to strike fire as they have lately been doing. As it will be but a short time before the meeting of Congress, it is well perhaps to take all the comfort possible-as there are unmistakable indications that a grand blow-up will be on the next Congressional programme. We hope for the best however, and can only suggest, as the pugnacious individual said when he knocked his oppouent into the river, that "cool doings is always the

TEMPERANCE AND POLITICS.

The friends of the prohibitory liquor law united with the Whigs in Pittsburgh, but the union caused the defeat of the Whig legislative ticket in a county where the Whigs have from two to three thousand majority. The Pittsburgh Gazette scolds the Temperance men severely for this result. It "In some wards and districts hardly a temperenemies of prohibition besieged every person who came to vote. If the temperance cause, has received a terrible shock in this county, the professed friends of temperance are alone to blame for it .-They did not rally around the men who risked their election in the cause of prohibition, as should have been done. They have seen their best friends stricken down while mantully standing up for the Maine law, when they could have prevented it if they had used as much effort as the advocates of free liquor."

In the State of Ohio many of the Whigs appear to have arrayed themselves on the side of Temperance, whilst the Democrats adhered to their party ticket. The Onio State Journal says that the northern section of the State has gone almost unanimously for the Maine law and the sou hanti-Maine law; but in the fight the Whigs forgot to FLORIDA ELECTION.

We learn from the Florida papers that the judicial election which came off in Florida on the first Monday of this month resulted in the choice of Hon. Thos. Baltzell as Chief Justice, and of Messrs. C. H. Dup at and Thos. Douglas, Associate Justices of the Supreme Court. Messrs Finley, Baker, and Forward were respectively elected Circuit Court Judges for the Western, Middle, and Eastern circuit, each without opposition. From the Southern circuit, where the candidates were Judge Lancaster and Thos. King, Esq. we have no intelligence. Mr. Samuel Stevens is elected Solicitof in the Middle circuit, Mr. Baker in the Eastern, and Mr. Landrum in the Western.

TRADE WITH ALEXANDRIA.

The improvement in trade between Alexandria and the Valley is highly gratifying, and none the less so that a large portion of it passes through Winchester. In evidence of the share our railroad has in it, we will mention that one firm at the depot, Bakers & Brown, have within the last four weeks received not less than three hundred thousand pounds of mercha d se from Alexandria! The same house expects to have forwarded during October two hundred and fifty loaded wagons up the Valley: Winchester Virginia

Six:—But for an edificial remark contained in the Spirit of Jefferson of the 11th inst., it is altogether probable that we should have made no further drafts upon your kindness. We are not willing, however, that the articles exattributed by ourselves for the columns of your paper should receive the condemnation bestowed by that editor upon those furnished for his own, as having 'degenerated into mere personal invective upon both sides.' We have no intention of expressing any opinion respecting the merits or demerits of the articles in questica, they are before the public, and it is for the public to judge in how far short me have failed to extend that courtesy toward our opponents which the nature of their communications definanced, or of the propriety of our language in so doing. If it best suited the purpose of others, or was a natural infirmity with them, or an acquired habit from education or association, to make use of such expletives, education or association, to make use of such expletives, as Dog, Cur, Assassin, Miscreant, Jackass, &c., they have been foreign to our nature, and our purpose, and we have no particular desire to be placed, even by an Editor, in the same category with them.

We do not suppose that the Editor of the Spirit of Jefferson, has taken the trouble to read our communications. We have too much respect for the intelligence of that gentleman, supposing he has done so, as to imagine that he could construe anything which we have said into personal invective,' to answer at all it was necessary to say something, and that something, whatever it may have been, we feel quite sure has been couched in lan-guage which could not offend the most fastidious ear, or bring a blush to the most sensitive cheek. If, however, we have unfortunately committed an error so unbecoming ourselves, we disclaim any and every intention of having done so designedly, and throw ourselves upon the public for their forgiveness and forgetfulness of the crime. Whilst we have said something above in justification of ourselves, we feel the necessity of at least attempting to wipe from the skirts of others the mud which was in-tended to attach to curselves, and for this purpose we are constrained to notice the recent effusion of a writer who has made a shallow attempt to conceal himself by an imaginary flight in the Cars. Unfortunately we think for him, he was a little too late for the train, and like many others his misfortune has been owing to his friends, one of whom tapped him on the shoulder, and exclaimed 'Mr Sinconna, you had better remain,' and when Mr. sufficient excuse for bringing out the big fun. The Administration must find encouragement elewhere and "as things now stand," to use Mr. Gutarie's elegant phraseology in the Bronson letter, there is very Fulmen,' implies something complimentary, we shall be under the necessity of believing that Mr. Sinconna neither understands the living or the dead languages, from the fact that what he calls a 'Brutum Fulmen,' was designedly ourselves as complimentary to his talents and misserative of the gout. We confess that we expect to find some difficulty in saying anything that will please either Mr. Siaconna or his friend, the 'honest man' who 'saw the hounds like a flock of frightened deer gather around one who flour-ished as Zack Downing the second, intended we suppose as a figure of speech, to convey the idea of the man which a 'horse would smile to observe the conduct of these poor pitiful and contemptible twattlers.' 'So I replaced my spectacles and read' something which instead of making him or his friend smile like a horse, produced from one the cjaulation 'ape' and from the other 'with-ering miscreant,' and from both, although they do not say it, 'Mirabile Dictu,' continuing his reading of our article rith his specks on, until his friend suddenly exclaimed Jackass,' (the public will pardon us,) ' with a smile of derision curling his lip (his upper lip) said coin one word of honest contempt and I will reverberate it, although I believe contempt would be extinguished in the foul breath of pusillanimity,' his reverbination should be ex-tinguished in the foul breath and pusillanimity of his friend, 'the empty effusions from whose brain would make the stomach of a dog heave with disgust.' If the friendship existing between the writer and his friendno matter how strange it may appear to others-is agreeable to themselves, they cught to be left to its enjoying 'extinguished' by any such effluvia produced by an individual and his friend, who if they believe in, or 'favored the Pythagorean notions of the Transfiguration of the soul would expect to find at some future day the soul of Pacificator located in the bleached skult of a Jackass." How very striking the ideas and language of the spectaeled Sisconna and the ' honest man' his friend, how very enable each other and how simple in them to wave their belief in the Pythagorean notion of trans amongst their friends, or a repetition of the request made by 'the Scotch poet,' 'Oh would that some kind power e gift would give us to see ourselves as others see us," that might be enabled to ascertain whether a transfign ration has not (whether it be or not, the doctrine of Pythagoras, though we think it was not.) already occurred, and that they are in possession of the chambers whilst living, in which at some future day the soul of Pacificator might find a location! If the doctrine of transmigraion is true and we should hereafter be transferred to the bleached skull of the animal referred to, the only request we have to make is that it may be into that of one, which whilst living, was in possession of the sugacity usually attributed to that species of the animal creation; out in mercy save me from the hollow sphere of Sabas-But Sinconna is grateful; ' to Pacificator I return my thanks for the sympathy he expressed for my gouty toes (Phalanges Digitaum Pidis) and am sorry to say I cannot remain' to have your toes trod on again ' to take the promised hangeen. Well, well, as the old woman you once spoke about said, 'you are welcome to your own,' 'I know you are young and restless and when your hair is whitened by the frost of three score years you will then know how petulent an old goutly fellow is when you invade his toes.' Why, what a venerable old age the wrier has attained, and how strange that three score years has produced so slight a crop of wisdom. We took you dant at that; if three score, forgive was pray thee, but call us not 'Pacificator my Son,' reconced what thou and thy friend hast heretofore called us, and if the endearing title now proffered were accepted by us, in what light would posterity by thine own admission hold thee? No we cannot consent to acknowledge any such paternity, nor follow the advice which you have given, there would be too much ingratitude in that as 'under such circumstances to give you the devil once,' we could not think of making any such present, were he ours to give and surely not to one who so kindly says . Now adieu, my Son Pacificator,' farewell venerable author, may you increase, not in years but in intelligence, and learn before a second transfiguration overtakes you in sending your complimentary tickets to direct them aright, as we very seriously instance that has come under our notice, in which event

We know you, but as we have dealt in no 'personal invective' even when we might have been justifiable in so doing, it is not necessary that you should learn who com-pliments you—enough to learn that it is PACIFICATOR. POTOMAC DIVISION, NO. 60, S. OF T.

The following resolutions were passed unanimously, at the meeting of the Potemac Division the 4th of Octo Resolved, That while as a Division of the Sons of Temperance we would not advocate the law commonly called the Maine Law in all its details, yet we approve and advocate its main and leading principle, to wit: the prohibition by legislative enactment of the sale of intoxicating drinks, except for medicinal, mechanical, and sacramental purposes.

Resolved, That in all our correspondence with our sister Divisions, in the action of the Grand Division of Virginia, and in that of the Grand Division of North A merica, covering, as it does, the United States, the British Provinces in North America and the British Empire in Europe, we believe that its hundreds of thousands of members are as nearly unanimous in the advocacy of this prohibitory principle as any number of men ever were or can be upon any question of moral reform. Resolved, That we hereby request our sister Divisions, throughout the general jurisdiction to which we belong, to make and publish to the world an explicit declaration of their views upon this subject. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Grand Division of Virginia with a request that it lay them before every subordinate Division within her

AN INDIGNATION ME ETING IN WASH. INGTON COUNTY—THE SWAN JURY BUNG IN EFFIGY.

It appears that some persons in Washington county, Md., who disapproved of the verdict in the Swan case, have been holding "indignation meetings," by way of demonstrating their diseatisan account of what it says was one of the "largest and most respectable" meetings ever held in that place, to denounce the verdict. The meeting was held in the academy on Monday evening. The Odd Fellow says:

The nght lasted 55 minutes, during which 37 rounds were fought at the expiration of which Morrissoy, who had been punished severely at nearly every round, was in a shocking condition, his acce cut frightfully, frem which the blood flowed profusely. At this stage of the fight a row occurred in the ring, and during the poise and confusion which answed time was

The verdict of the jury in the case of the State against Robert Swan so exasperated and aroused the indignation of our citizens and those of the county around, that they could not refrain from a public demonstration of their disaproval and disgust at this unfair and unjust verdict. Never was there a verdict rendered in the balls of Law and Justice of our county that was so generally impopular and unsatisfactory, and never was there a jury that have been denounced with more common consent than the jury in this case. We attended the meeting, and are prepared to say that we never witnessed a more orderly and peaceable gathering in our life for so large a one. When the in-eting was called to order the utmost decorum prevailed. No epithets nor indecorous language was used, but the business dispatched in a calm and firm manner in a very brief space of time. Mr. Daniel McGinley presided; Messrs. John Stonesifer, John Cost, Elias O'Neal and Jonas Davis, Vice Presidents; Josiah Knodle and James W. Monroe, Esqs., Secretaries. Resoluions were passed severely denouncing the jury and Messrs. Price and Thomas the two latter for certain alleged remarks, and applauding the course of Goy. Lowe for his determined effort in bringing the case to trial, and Mr. May, and the other counsel for the State, for the ability with which they prosecuted it.

After the transaction of the business the meeting diourned in usual order and formed in procession headed by the effigies representing the twelve jurors, and proceeded through several streets, after which they halted in the square, and there con-signed to the devouring element the twelve repre-sentatives the jury in the Swan farce. Nothing occurred during the entire ceremonies at a disagreeable nature, and by 9 o'clock the crowd drawn together had entirely dispersed, and the town left o enjoy its usual quiet, as though nothing had occurred during the evening.

A word of explanation here may be proper to place the people of this region in the right light before the public. The jury were not denounced because they did not find Swan guilty of murder in the first degree, but because of an entire acquittal. We learn from the Hagerstown Mail that a similar meeting was held in that town on Tuesday evening in the Court-house Wm. H. Boyd, Esq. occupied the Chair, assisted by Messrs. R. Bennett and J. B. Thurston, Vice Presidents, and J. W. Heard, Secretary. Much disorder and confusion existed at the meeting, so much indeed that the officers thereof determined to hold another meeting on the same subject in the Public Square, this (Saturday) afternoon, at two o'clock.

FEDERAL COURT.

His Honor, Judge Brockenbrough, adjourned his Court for the term, last Thursday. No business of importance was transacted—the large batch of Highand land suits were continued, awaiting the decision of the cause in the Supreme Court-consequently the amiliar and unique form of the venerable agent, Zohar Davis, did not make its annual appearance .vasions of a water-wheel patent, were continueding. Other cases had proceedings entered in them. The case which, from the vast amount of property involved in it and the legal ability engaged by the parties, promised the most interest-"the Harpers-"-had no action in it other than the entry of an order of survey. The nature of the claim set up, so far as we can ascertain, is to this effect :-The lands in that section formerly belonged to Thomas. Lord Fairfax, and by an act of compromise with the Legislature, he conveyed, or surrendered the land to the Commonwealth-to be held by it as other unappropriated lands are. It is alleged by the claimants-Jacob B. Brown and others, that when the State conveyed it afterwards, by patent, it was described by metes and bounds-commencing at a "Sycamore"-and not by the river, and to run with its meanders-which left a space between the lines and the river, and that the title to said space, including the river and its bed never passed out of the State until they (the plaintiffs) placed their warrant on it. The quantity said to be "vacant" is 391 acres-embracing the finest water-power in the State, and having on it divers work shops, machinery, dwelling houses and other buildings-the heretofore supposed property of the United States. The counsel for plaintiff are Walter Jones, Messrs. Hunter, Conrad, M. Mason and F. B. Miller, Esq., U. S. Attorney. We presume that in the event of success, the plaintiffs will pay large contingencies to the counsel. Whether they will give them up to my Lord Coke, and co war, does not appear on the records.-Staunton Vin-

NEWSPAPER SUPPORT.

Much depends upon the supporters of a newspaper, whether it is conducted with spirit and interest. I they are negligent in payment, the pride and ambition of the editor is broken down-he works at thankless and unprofitable tasks-he becomes disocuraged and and careless-his paper loses its pith and interest, and dies. But, on the contrary, if his subscribers are of the right sort, if they are punctual, liberal-hearted fellows, always in advance on the subscription list. taking an interest in increasing the subscribers, now and then speaking a word for his paper, cheering on his course by smiles of approbation-with such subscribers as these, he must be a dolt, indeed, who would gratification of every laudable desire on their part. We would seek no other pleasure than their satisfaction. How much, then, can the supporters of a newspaper do to make it interesting and respectable! in deed, without concurring efforts on their part, the publisher's attention, which is necessary to make it what it should be, is a thankless task .- Boston In-

She was otherwise severely bruised ant lacerated. On the arrival of the train in this city, being a stranger she was taken to the Almshouse, where every kindness and attention were shown her by Dr. Wm. PRIZE FIGHT BETWEEN MORRISSY & SULLIVAN. The contest between Yankee Sullivan and John

Morrissey, which has long been talked of, took place on Wednesday afterneen at "Boston Four Corners," one hundred miles from New York. The New York Tribune Says:-The fight lasted 55 minutes, during which 37 rounds ing the noise and confusion which ensued, time was called, but Sullivan not hearing it, did not appear. The friends of Morrissey therefore declared him th victor, which was also pronounced by the Judges. It is said that by this accident or oversight, and this only, on the part of Sullivan, he lost the battle. Morrissey, although be exhibited good pluck, sadly disappointed his friends, as he showed byt a small degree of skill. Nearly three thousand people were on the ground to witness the fight, which was net the least interrupted by the authorities of that vicinity. It is said nearly all the farmers and citizens of that region were present to witness the disgrace-

The fight was $1,000 a side. The outside bets were $100 to $80 in favour of Morrissey. Sullivan mounted a black handkerchief to show that he was bound to win, or never strip for another fight, and it is to be hoped that he will adhere to his

The New York Times has a more extended account of the matter. The excitement in New York seems to have been quite characteristic, and it is estimated that over three thousand persons proceeded to the scene of action, by the Harlem railway, between Tuesday noon and Wednesday morning. Heavy bets were made as to the result. The Times gives the following as the most reliable statement of this spasm of modern "chivalry :" "It appears the pugilists met on the ground at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning, amidst an as-semblage of some four or five thousand persons, and nothing occurred to disturb them; the ring was formed and they were brought fourth by their seconds, who were as follows:-For Sullivan, Andee Sheehan, of the fourth ward, and Wm. Wilson. For Morrissey, Awful Gardener and Tom O'Donnell. The favorite was Morrissey, $100 to 75; and, in some instances, $100 to $50, before they came to blows -They were both in good condition, and the six weeks, training appeared to have improved each of them in both appearance and strength. They walked up face to face, good naturedly smiled, and took their positions apparently in the best feeling. They squared off, and the first blood was drawn by Sullivan ith a swift tap on Morrissey's nose. At Glonburnie, the residence of her uncle, James W. Glenn, Esq., in this county, on the 11th instant, of scarlet fever, MARY BOYD STEWART, infant daughter of James Erskine and Frances Engager Stewart, of Washington city aged 2 years, 3 months and 6 days.

The deceased was a most remarkable child. Though but an infant, she gave indications of the possession of extinordinary qualities of both head and heart, which, when ripened into full bloom, would have made her one of the most lovely and attractive of women. Already by her many sweet little ways, she had endeared herself, not only to her deviced parents, but to every heart around her. It may be truly said of this precocious child, that her "thousand nameless acts spoka the woman in the child." Bet she has gone to that "happy land-far, far away,"-and of which she. though an infant, so often and so sweetly sang. "Like a gay young bird she unfolded her wings upon the earth, warbled her sweet soar, and then returned again to her home in the skie i."

Harpers Ferry licrofilm Collection The N Y. Post gives a portion of Col. Benton's narrative, to be embodied in his forthcoming political history, relating to the private life and character of Gen. Jackson. It is written with great feeling, and is of quite equal interest to anything from Colonel Benton's History which we have yet faid before our readers. The anecdotes of that theat man's domestic life, which it relates, must really walt the general respect for his character. The first Cattle show and Exhibition of the erick County Agricultural Society, which took place on Wednesday last was very successful.— There was a fine display of machinery and farming implements, and in the lacies' department there were many articles of industry and skill. The receints for the first two days + mounted to $1804. It appears that Johnson, Dem., is elected Governor of Georgia over Jenkins, Union Whig, by a majority ranging from 500 to 1 000. The Wastington Correspondent of the New York Jourwal of Commerce speaking of the result, pithily says: It is a remarkable fact, that the defeat of the party in Gentgia, which by its patriotism saved the Union, is now ready to be hailed as a signal triumph

TO THE PUBLIC.

IN the "Spirit of Jefferson," of April the 26th, and May the 3d, 1853, I offered to the public what I call a Check, or Rubber, to be used on Caes of Boats I now offer two more which I shall describe as briefly as possible. And first, On each side of the Boat is a rubber, bolted fast by one end. so as to open and close when required; within which, is an Iron Scutcheon allowing the wood to rub the Mason-work of the lock; Vertically to which is an Iron rod passing up through the fenders of the Boat to the top of the deck. On the top end of the rod is a lever, working like the valve in a lock gate. And, to the lower end of the rod, is a flange working at right angles with the rod so as to expand the rubber when required. The levers are attached to a slider or other fixture on the deck of the Boat, to be worked back and forward by a third lever, or any other device that will answer the purpose. Another has its rubbers bolted fast to the Boat as above described, with its levers working on the deck, and entering a wedge under the rubber so as to produce the required operation -These same rubbers will also answer for ship canals, as they require no openings to be made through the hulk of the Boat or vessels but operates entirely on the outside, effecting what is required by a direct and easy force.

The above Checks are now ready to be applied to use, by Mr. Sam't, W. STRIDER, Agent for the A Blacksmith Shop is being erected on the wharf at the Old Furnace, where all orders for the above arricles addressed to the aforementioned agert, wil be promptly attended to. Old Things done away and all things become THE subscribers respectfully call the attention of the Farming community to their very large Farming Implements, comprising every king of implement used by the farmer to facilitate and cheapen his opera ions, including our celebrated Patent Premium Thresher and Cleaner, which received the first premium over the New York Pitt Machine and several others at the Maryland State Agricultural Fair last fall; also, at the Washington County Fair, Hagerstown, Md., and at our Valley Fair, Charlestown-which for simplicity, durability, and capacity, has no equal in the world. By a recent improvement we can make the machine clean all kinds of grain perfectly clean for market, taking out all cheat, smut, and light wheat if wished, saving altogether the use of a Wheat Fan; thus saving the farmer two-thirds his expense over the common thresher, requiring but eight hands and from six to eight horses to thresh from 200 to 400 Eushels per day, perfectly clean for the mill. This has never been accomplished by any other machinist but ourselves, and all scentive minds can have their doubts removed by trying one and if they cannot do what we have represented we will take the machine back without charge. of so much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the man for business, society, and matri-

This Instrument is simple, comprehensive, and never failing, and may be used without the slightest inconvenience or the knowledge of the most intimate friend. It is to be used externally, preducing no pain or injury whatever, nor prevening at youe from attending to his business; and while in use not a single emission can take place, in vigorating the organs, in a short time, to such an extent that they regain their presuders power of relations, the loss of which, caused by early abuse, is the disease in question, and the cause of the thousand someorsitart complaints, viz: Nervousness, Prosize on Dys-pepsia, Pain in the Head and Dinners of Vision, Weakness of the Back and Lower Extremities, Alfections of the Eves, Impotence, Pumples of the Face, Premature Decline of Visity, Weakings of Memory and Power for Mental Application Des jection, Aversion to Society, Timiday, Sel-Distrust, Love of Solitude, &c. All these complaints invariably disappear as seen as the source is serged from which they emanated. This Instrument has been examined and approved of by the highest authorities in Europe and America, is recommended by the mest prominent Physicians of all countries, as the only ortain remedy existing for those complaints, and has now completely superseded the use of drugs, the bougie, cauterization, &c., not to mention the thousand ad vertised nostrums of the day, as cordials, antidotes &c. &c. Be it also remembered, that those complaints are but little understood by the profession in general. and that all the medicine in the word never has and never will, stop those losses, which, if allowed to continue puchecked, are sure to produce the most distressing consequences.

It has been a matter of surprise to some, that any one of respectability and of professional attainments should devote his attention to disease; which people of every description pretend to cure se easily. If, however, but the one thousandth parties he miseries these people bring upon society were known, & very different opinion would be formed. And it is not only the present misery and dejection, preying on the mind as well as the body, that is deplored, but some are of such a nature as to affect posterity, and even to destroy the reproductive faculty, alto-gether. It is a fact that, when not pri perly treated, they may remain so dormant in the constitution as to appear in no other way than in their effects upon posterity; yet, if properly understood, are most easily and speedily removed. The above, so ingeniously contrived instrument, will doubtless, in a great measure, contribute to check the evils of quackery, so prevalent in this class of diseases throughout the Union.

The price of the complete instrument, carefully secured against all observation in a lex, is only $10. It can be sent, by express, to any address in any part of the United States, Causain, &c., according to order, accompanied by fell directions, the expenses, even to the remotest parts of the country, being very triffing.

The unexampled success this list useent has obtained since its introduction in America, has induced some unprincipled persons in New York. Philadelphia, Albany, Boston, &c., to get up some ridiculous things, called "Instruments," which, however, bear not the slightest resemblance, neither in form nor principle, to my own invented, long tried, and universally approved instruments, and which are as similar to them as night is to light .-Every attempt to sell such "Instromeras" for mine will be prosecuted to the fullest exemt of the law, I being not willing to connect the well and honestly earned reputation of my invention's with quackand their worthless productions. No Instrument is genuine and none can be warrinted but those
