KANSAS.

The test question on this subject must soon come up in Congress. The messenger bearing the official copy of the Lecompton Constitution is already in Washington, and the document was transmitted on Tuesday last by the President. Various calculations have been made as to the strength of parties on the subject, the friends of the administration, however, relying upon Executive influence, as potent enough to carry the measure through in spite of the vote of the 4th of January against it, and of the remonstrance by the territorial Legislature.

Many of the Southern men admit that the victory of the pro-slavery party will be but temporary, and that the Democratic organization of the North must be broken up, but they appear determined to adhere, and the most of them are rather pleased at the prospect of disunion which they think the occasion affords. They think it obvious that, after the admission of three Free States, (a matter which Gen. Milner warned them might come too soon,) there will be very little chance for a Southerner man to be President, and hence they long for an opportunity to break the bonds.

It is now said that there is a scheme on foot to annex the States of Tamaulipas and Sonora, so as to make a formidable Southern Republic; and the late revolt in those States against the Mexican Federal Government seems to afford the opportunity for "Americanizing" that region.

The Richmond "Soul" has just put forth a "leader" on the subject.

The battle has been renewed in Congress on the Kansas question. The President on Tuesday last, transmitted the Lecompton Constitution, with a special message, and urges the immediate admission of the State in the most decided terms. He makes it a party test, and goes through a detailed statement of the occurrences there within the last eight months to show that every thing will require further assistance from the State.

THE NEW-MEXICO LINCH.

The Methodist Church which has been undergoing an enlargement, together with many important improvements, in drawing to completion. To accomplish this object a much larger sum of money has been expended than was at first contemplated. The Church is therefore in debt. As it is an edifice in which all may worship without money and without price, and listen to the thrillingly eloquent and impressive sermons of the Rev. Naval Wilson, they may well calculate that the intelligent and thriving citizens of the town and vicinity will extend a little further aid in enabling them to liquidate the remaining liabilities. Those who cannot give money, could perhaps give to the Building Committee produce or other articles, which could doubtless be made available in the payment of debts.

With the completion of the Methodist Church, Charlestow will have three of the largest and most comfortable edifices for worship in the Valley of Virginia. They will stand as monuments of the liberality and public spirit of our people.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A young man living at Harper's Ferry by the name of House, was killed on Saturday morning last near Sandy Hook, in Maryland. He got on one of the freight trains while going over the Bridge at Harper's Ferry, with a view of riding as far as Sandy Hook, and was thrown from the train in some manner or other, when several cars passing over him had his leg and one arm severed from his body, and his head much fractured. When found he was alive, but lived but a short time. His body was taken to Boonsboro, Maryland, where his father resides. He was about 24 years of age.

As several accidents have occurred in the last few years in a similar manner, by persons jumping on freight trains whilst passing through, it would be well to give a caution to future.

POETICAL.

Contentment.

By CHARLES D. STODD.

The brightest rays the world can boast
The poorest men may wear,
And keep it as an amulet
To exercise his care.
It never mocks at poverty,
Nor makes the wretched proud,
But sheds soft lustre on his path,
Like sunlight through a cloud.

It's one the nests in his hall,
The mighty won him there,
Mid life gone, and memory;
Can part with their own,
Gently green stately domes,
Although it tells us death;
Indeed, in one's delight upon
The least attractive duty.

It is not to be bought with gold,
Nor high estate can gain it;
And yet the humblest in the land
May easily obtain it.

It is not found in Orient streams,
In deep mines or hidden caves,
But in the heart of man, where virtue
Is born, and virtue grows.

And even comes when fades.

Will make a man a hero,
A paradise of earth;

And though it can be cheaply bought,
It costs a world to wear.

And it is vice who wears it—
The jewel in his breast,

Himself will own its beauty;

However much opposed.

It keeps the brow from frown,
The spirits ever young;

And teaches more and better truth
Than all old wisdom.

If checks impulsive wanderings,
Takes pain from banishment;

And, after all, this precious thing
Is nothing but Content.

WILL A Bottle of Cider.

Old friend, accept this bottle,
Your mouth then open the wider,
First fitful, then to expand
By George! what glorious cider!

Perhaps some fair young dame,
Whose love has not yet tested her,
Will not object to take a swig,
When you are down the cider.

And this then indulges,
You may then have to guide her;

But she'll say it's owing to The stuff which is in—

VARIETY.

AARON'S CALF DISCOVERED.

"William, look up," said lawyer Gray; "tell us who made you?"

William, who was considered a fool, screwing up his face and looking somewhat bowled-over, slowly answered—

"I don't—Moses I pose!"

"That will do, William."

"Certainly, William," said the Judge, "as many as you please."

"Well, then, Mr. Lawyer, who do you think made you?"

Lawyer Gray, imitating witness, I dunno—Aaron, I pose!"

After the mirth had subsided, the witness exclaimed aloud—

"Well, now, we read in the good book that Aaron once made a Calf, but who'd have thought that the tarnation critter had got in here!"

The court was in a roar, and the counsel looked all colors at once.

MISTAKING THE HYMN.

A young clerical gentleman relates the following anecdote of one of his Dutch brethren.

The old fellow was about commencing one of his spiritual exercises when to the disadvantage of his being a little near sighted was added to the poor light of a country church. After clearing his throat, he gave out the hymn, pronouncing it with theology.

I cannot see to read this hymn,

I don't mean to sing this hymn,
I only meant mine eyes is dim.

The clerk, supposing it was the first stance of the hymn struck up the tune of common metre. The old fellow, taking somewhat aback by the turn of affairs, corrected
the mistake by saying:

"I don't mean to sing this hymn,
I only meant mine eyes is dim."

The clerk, thinking it a continuation of the couplet, finished it in the preceding strain. The old man, at the top of his voice:

"How do, doothee? I said Mickey, as he met Dr. Fuchtwager, yesterday, miffed to the eyes."

"Very bad, Mickey, very bad!" replied the professor of medicine, "I have got bad cold in my head."

"Got a what, doothee, dear?"

"You had cold, I tell you, in mine head."

"A cold in your head?" ejaculated Mickey.

Mother of Moses! I've heard of a felly wid'a 'm're's test, but swap me aviver I seen one hatched out afore."

A blundering printer, in setting up the types, "Woman, without her, man would be a savage," got the punctuation in the wrong place, which made it sound like this: "Woman, without her, man would be a savage." The mistake was not discovered until the Editor's wife undertook to read the proof.

Printers with nine children are to be exempted from taxation in the State of New York.

Very safe legislation that. We would like to see the printer who had any thing to tax after feeding nine children.

A person threw the head of a goat on the stage at the Bellville theatre. Otto, advancing to the front, said: "Gentlemen,
if any one among you has lost his head, do not be uneasy, for I will restore it at the conclusion of the performance."

Old Mrs. Darley is a pattern of household economy. She says she has made a pair of socks last fifteen years by only knitting new feet to them every winter, and new legs to them every other winter.

The editor of a newspaper down east has been bled to improve circulation—of his water.
