THURSDAY MORNING.

AUGUST 16, 1860.

APOLGY.

A "press" of various duties has prevented our usual attention to the "Old Family Journal." Let those who are indebted to us, pay up, and we will not only give our columns with a new "dress," but will give it an attractiveness which will meet every taste,

CAMP MEETING.

A Camp Meeting for this section, commenced on Friday last, on the lands of Mr. Philip Eagle, near the Old Furnace.

The grove is well adapted for the purpose, with but few exceptions. Upwards of Fifty tents were on the ground, and the assemblage on Sunday last was very large—probably eight thousand.

Among the interesting scenes, we observed the Rev. Eggleston, Presiding Elder of this District, Dr. Bond, Editor of the Baltimore Christian Advocate, Norval Wilson, Gilmer, Hersey, Wyssong, Risticie, Perris, Welty, Magruder, Waugh, and Wolff.

The regular exercises of the occasion did not commence until Friday night, when the Congregation was impressively entertained by the Rev. Mr. Hazen, one of the "older-time" preachers. He presents emphatically, the characteristics of the "golden time," not only in dress, but expresses himself with that frankness belonging to the early ages of Christianity. His discourse was a practical one, and it might not suit the tastes of this progressive age, nevertheless presented truths irreducible.

He is a good man—one who has for many years served in the holy cause—and he does not find a prominent place on the "light Hand," we deeply sympathize with our countrymen there.

The Rev. Dr. Bond, Editor of the Baltimore Christian Advocate, one of the very best papers of that class—presented on Sunday and Monday mornings. His discourses were of a high order—eloquent, logical, convincing, and impressive. His illustrations were given with a master hand. He is a gentleman of fine abilities, and this added to pleasant social qualities makes him very popular with every one.

Our limits will not admit of a notice of all those who presided upon the occasion, but we least that the efforts of all were impressive and well-timed.

Although much rowdyism is practiced at all places where there are congregated a large assemblage of the people, yet on the ground, or within the limits of the Camp, the conduct of those present was generally deserving.

The frequent showers which occurred from the commencement of the exercises somewhat interrupted the usual ceremonies, but there are evidences that much good will result from the meeting.

ILLUSTRATION.

An illustration of hard times with some, and the value placed upon money, consequent therefrom, we note an expression of a youth who was at Camp meeting, when a rain was anticipated. "Well," says he, "I care not for rain, I've a three cent piece, and I'll git under that."

The above is a specimen of the hard times.

With some half dime in larger than even a moon—but with others only as a grain of sand.

TO MERCHANTS.

In another column of this issue will be found the advertisement of LAMBERT THOMAS—Wholesale dealer in American and European Dry Goods, No. 428 Market & 423 Merchant street, between 4th & 5th streets, Philadelphia. The merchants of this and adjoining countries may find it to their interest to give this establishment a call. C. M. GALLAHER, lately of this town, can be found with Mr. Thomas, and will be pleased to see his friends and acquaintances.

THE MASTODON PARK.

We have received from the publisher, George Roberts, of New York City, a copy of the "Illuminated Quadruple Constellation," the largest sheet of paper ever made and printed—measuring 70 by 100 inches—full of reading matter and illustrations. Price 50 cents.

PROFOUND HINMAN.

This gentleman comes to us highly recommended by private letter, and by the press as a teacher of Vocal Music. See his card in another column. The initiatory step in formation of a class, will be taken on Monday night next. All are invited to attend.

FREDERICK FEMALE SEMINARY.

Frederick, Md., Aug. 9, 1860.
Dear Sir.—Being informed that a report had been made to some extent, elicited abroad that I had resigned my position as President of the Female Seminary, I seize this opportunity to assure you that there is not, nor has there been at any time, the least foundation of truth for such a report. I have made no proposition to that effect, nor do I intend doing so.

H. N. GALLAHER, Esq.

The Faculty and Teachers and general arrangements of the Seminary will remain the same in all respects last year, and it shall be our unceasing endeavour to merit the favor and patronage of the public.

H. WINCHESTER,

President F. F. Seminary.

ATENNESSE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION.

The Tennessee Congressional delegation in the next Congress will stand as follows—Opposition—T. A. H. Nelson, Horace Maynard, R. B. Branson, W. B. Stokes, Robert Motter, Emerson, Ehrhardt, James M. Quarles, Democrats—James H. Thomas, John W. Wright, W. T. Avery. In the last Congress the delegation consisted of seven Democrats and three Opposition members.

BERKELEY AFFAIRS.

SALE.—The following sales, previously advertised by us, took place on Monday last:

C. J. Faulkner, as the agent of Mrs. Humphrey B. Powell, of Loudoun, sold at public auction before the court-house door, a tract of 260 acres of land, about three miles from Martinsburg, at the price of $60 22¢ an acre—terms, equal to cash. Wheat crop reserved, and no improvements of any value upon the land. Wm. W. Walker, purchaser.

The interest of Philip H. Dugan, being one-seventh in a 50 acre tract in this country, under an order of Court, was sold for the sum of $110, and purchased by Richard Bedine.

Also, the interest of James M. Kitchen in the Robinson farm on Back Creek, sold under an order of the Court, by Daniel Leverett, Sheriff, to George Snyder, for the sum of $141. Jacob S. Strayer, auctioneer.

QUARTERLY COURT.—The criminal dockets were very small, being but one case on the docket, and which "was an indictment for dealing with slaves"—so decided upon motion of defense.

Michael Shannon, who was arrested on suspicion of being an accessory to the murder of Jacob Sigler, had his examining trial, and there not being sufficient evidence to remand him to jail, he was discharged, Andrew Hunter, Esq., attorney for the State, and John Blair Hoge, Esq., for defense. It will be remembered that there are still three parties in jail, awaiting their final trial at the Circuit Court, for the homicide of Sigler.

The Grand Jury indicted Nathan Britain for stealing twelve chickens and a turkey—the property of Mr. Samuel Stuckey, in violation of statute, &c. W. S. Kettlewell was also indicted for selling goods without retail license.

A negro, Mat, the property of James H. Robinson, of this county, was arrested on Wednesday last, for aiding a negro woman and her four children, belonging to Mrs. Harriet Cunningham, to escape from the service of Peter M. French. Mat was tried before Geo. Dill and R. Bodine, Esq., in this place. They ordered him 15 lashes, and it is understood he is to leave the State.—Republican 13th.

BERKELEY AFFAIRS.

August Court was as largely attended as usual. There was not so much rowdiness as we have seen at former courts, although King alcohol held supreme over many present. In court nothing of material consequence was done. Samuel Gorham, was tried upon the charge of stealing a pig and found guilty, and sentenced to imprisonment in the County Jail for two months.—He was prosecuted by C. E. Tebe, Commonwealth's Attorney, and defended by Matthew Harrison and J. Edwin Young.

ATLANTA LETTER FROM GOV. WISE.

He wants to "bag Boston"—Gov. Wise has written a letter to John S. Foster, concerning secretary of the Democratic Library Association, in answer to an invitation to lecture before the society next winter.

RICHMOND, Va., July 27, 1860.

Dear Sir.—I hardly know how to describe my acknowledgments to the lecture committee and say that I am about to start for our mountains for a tour of sixty days, examining routes and resources for a camp. That from that time to the first of December I shall be engaged in preparing materials for my last message to the Virginia General Assembly, upon whom I must wait entirely until the day of January next. And that thereafter I shall be busily occupied in fixing a house and home for my family after four years absence. Besides all this extra labour of grievous but short duration, I have a high niche in the roof of my house, and a large knight and lioness knight and lioness knight will be born in this time.

POETICAL.

A PARTING SONG.

We sing and part, and shall not meet
Till leaves are brown beneath our feet—
If on the leaves we chance to tread,
For haply they may fall, tattered,
In silence on our lonely head!

DEAR BROTHER LEAVES that flutter down—
To bury all the graves in brown—

By what new states are they to fall?

The friends whose loving names we call—
Are few; and we shall keep them all!

Now we part, as we have met,
In every mood with no regret—

Except that's a merry mood

Sons leaves us peasant and soldièr,

And sorrow fills our solitude.

What joyful hours we now recall!

We stand here, but these are all;

The night wane stars are all the fell;

The glad last hours are soonest past;

We stay, to lengthen out the last.

But soon the bounding foals grow ripe,

And soon the blackbird blows his pipe,

To end the carols with his mate;

With glee the lark goes gay,

And Summer shuts her garden gate!

Yet should we weep not for her hours,
The roses shall make sweet the brier;

And wounding thorn or bouting dove,

Whose nest is in the vine above,

Shall watch our friendship turn to love.

The leaves grow golden with the sun;

God's glory enters every one.

And with it with a heavenly glow;

So may we, while the summer days,

Glow brightly by our own skies!

PART II.

The last fare-well is spoken;

The last fond word is said,

I tread with trembling footsteps

On clouds that spread like smoke.

The part before me spread,

And clouds are spreading cloud-folds

And darken sky over my head;

The clouds seem fail no longer

Lies like smoke along my way.

My heart is sad, oh when will dawn

Love's bright unclouded day?

We're part, yes, we're parted;

They happy home is far;

From mine, where bloom and blossoms are.

And spring's little flowers are.

Yet they're, like, my glove;

It is still my glove,

O, heart! I'm strong and hopeful,

Amid the spite of men,

And hope it'll bring me sweet;

You'll surely meet again."

VARIETY.

LOW NECK DRESSES.

A city servant girl in a letter to the 'Old Folks at Home,' thus describes the prevailing fashion of low-necked dresses:

"As to the low necks the lot is the most unusual in air, and the last day you wore the more, and a blue silk or hem and tail in the off and Russas Simonds cut out hem and we are all in great set of attention to the new fashions in dress. I am very fond of the new style, and hold up my dress. You can't think how much it does hold up our hair, and the tier ye holds them the more ye air thou."

Domestic.—Sickles Tragedies are quite common just now. An affecting scene of this kind took place not a thousand miles from Le Cressent in which the following dialogue occurred:

Indiguate husband to his wife's lover—
"Sounder! You have disabused him with a dog's ear."

Wife seizes the dagger—"Hold, wretched and impudent man! What would you do? Would you murder your children's father?"

Somebody who has evidently got into the world through some odd mistake, has written this—

"What are another's faults to me?
I am a virtuous' self!
To pick a starry dew, I see,
And make it wider still;
It is enough for me to know
I've failed of my own."

And on my heart the sare beseech,
And let my friend alone,

My Old Grumble was sneering at his wife's cordialities the other day, when Mrs. G. said:

"They keep men at a proper distance and that's a blessing." "Yes, to the men," said Grumble.

An Irish vagrant called for relief at St. Peter's Hospital, Boston, and complained of being ill, when the doctor gave him an order for some medicine. When he presented the order, and heard what it provided, he said he did not want it. The nurse declared that he did, for the doctor said so. "Arrah whist!" was the reply. I know better than the doctor! This physician I want at all, but assuage and say!"

A young man, while undergoing examination, for the purpose of being admitted to the bar, was asked, "What were the constitutional requirements which render a man eligible to the office of the President of the United States?" He answered, "He must be thirty-five and a good Democrat."

A negro boy was driving a mule when the animal suddenly stopped and refused to budge. "Won't go, he said to the boy, feel grand do I suppose you forgot your father was a jockey?"

A man who was imprisoned for bigamy (marrying two wives) complained that he had been severely dealt with for an offence which carries its own punishment along with it.

"It shattered mountains, tore up roads, demolished churches, laid broad meads waste, and overthrown a huge dock."
