

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS AND FARMERS' REPOSITORY.

Virginia Free Press.

BY GALLAHER & CO.

CHARLESTOWN. THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1860.

OUR PLATFORM.

THE CONFEDERATION OF THE UNION OF THE STATES.

The Enforcement of the Laws.

FOR PRESIDENT,
JOHN BELL,
OF TENNESSEE.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
EDWARD EVERETT,
OF MASSACHUSETTS.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE,
ELIAS C. CAREY.

DIRECTORS.
1. H. CHANDLER, of Norfolk City.
2. J. TRAVIS BEEPER, of Norfolk.
3. THOMAS BRUCE, of Halifax.
4. JOHN T. THORNTON, of P. Edward.
5. JAMES M. WOOD, of Bedford.
6. J. C. SCOTT, of Powhatan.
7. LEMUEL J. BOWDEN, of Wm'sburg.
8. JOHNSON CHRISTIAN, of Franklin.
9. J. E. KENNEDY, of Jefferson.
10. A. H. H. STUART, of Augusta.
11. W. R. STAPLES, of Madison.
12. W. A. WALSH, of Washington.
13. J. J. JACKSON, Jr., of Wood.
14. A. B. CALDWELL, of Ohio.

BUSINESS MATTERS.

For the last few days have presented us from a few scenes of the quiet of our independent country, as well as the active Breckinridge Discourse meeting at Battellton, — a free gift among the harmonies, &c.

A CALL TO ORGANIZE.

The game played upon some of the too gaudy Whigs in 1856, that there was "no chance for Fillmore," is attempted to be renewed in some quarters to the detriment of the Bell and Everett cause. But the discussion won't work the second time. The Conservatives only have to inspire confidence to ensure victory. In the language of the Alexandria Gazette:

"They do not wish to deceive themselves or others, by exaggerated reports of their own strength, or by building castles in the air, upon no other foundation than the fanaticism of heated partisans. But they know that, throughout the land, there is a solid phalanx of Conservative men, who are daily increasing in strength and determination, and to whose ranks many of the unprejudiced portion of the people, who do not look only to the mere triumph of party, are contributing; and upon them, they rely in the great contest now going on, and soon to be decided. They believe that there is a majority of the people of this country in favor of the Constitution as it stands, and that the design of the friends of the preservation of both, and they hope to satisfy this majority that the election of Bell and Everett will accomplish this end, restore peace and harmony, and place the Administration of the government once more in the hands of men who will conduct it so as to secure its permanence, and the happiness and welfare of the people. We repeat, then, to aid in the accomplishment of so glorious a result, let the Whigs and the Union men organize in every city, town, and county in the State; let County Committees, Ward Committees, and Precinct Committees be appointed; and let steady, persistent efforts be directed to have a complete and decided victory all over the States, — everywhere — in the States, — in the kind of organization needed, and which we hope to have. Let old men encourage the young, — let the young men — brave, generous, ardent, so live — come out in their strength — let all work together for the general good. The cause is a great and noble one; worthy of the patriotic labors that will be given for its success!"

A MODEST CLAIM.

After the Seceders from the Baltimore Democratic Convention, to the number of 105, had gathered together and got under way with C. W. Russell, of Virginia, (General Whig) in the chair, that gentleman made a speech, in which, with an effrontery characteristic of a new recruit, he claimed that the body there before bigwas the true National Democratic Convention. "What constituted its nationality would have puzled him sorely to tell.

When Caleb Cushing was appointed permanent President of the Seceders, he, too, claimed nationality for the fugitives.

"And in his letter of acceptance, addressed to Mr. Cushing, Mr. Breckinridge speaks to him of "the National Convention over which you continued to preside." This looks so much like wagery, or a sly sarcasm, that it is exceedingly difficult to determine whether the writer was joking or in earnest.

The Charleston fire-eaters, however, only recognize Breckinridge and Lane as the nominees of the Richmond Convention, the game being arranged there. The action at the Maryland Institute Hall is only called "a coincidence."

WHEN — FALL OUT, &c.

This adage is often verified, but not more truthfully than that presented by the condition in which our boorish friends are now situated. From the press as well as stump, the most unkind expressions are indulged in by the Breckinridge faction, wing against their Douglas brethren, except where a wile of the sections would prove of benefit to the spoiler-seeker. But as they have been so long in co-habitation, they are the best judges of their character and history, and they remind us of the following:

"Mr. Speaker," said a member of the Jacksonian Legislature, discussing a bill for the regulation of the timber trade, "I know these timber merchants are as the most egregious scoundrels, as I was in the timber line myself, two years."

AMUSING.

It is amusing to witness the Discourse branch of the Democracy endeavoring to coax, and when that won't do, to threaten the Douglas branch, in order to get them to unite in the election of Breckinridge. — When honey-falling fails, then coercion is used. They have been so accustomed to whipping them in the traces, that this is even resorted to here in the intelligent county of Jefferson. In this country, where the Democracy are equally divided, attempts are made to compel the editor of the "Spirit to place at the main-head of his paper the names of Breckinridge and Lane — thus making him stultify himself, and become the tool of those who are mere slaves, these selves and place booters.

CONFIDENCY.

For the period of twenty years after the speech of Mr. Faulkner, made in the Virginia Legislature in 1832, he had the support of the whigs in this county and district, although differing with them on important political questions of the day. — Martinburg Republican.

[Yes, and up to the period of Mr. F.'s apostacy, this same consistent editor of the Republican was the bitterest opponent of the same Mr. Faulkner, as the files of the Republican will show, could a glimpse of them be had, and although Mr. F. has not recanted but reaffirmed his '32 sentiment, he is now the great Mogul of Southern interests in the eye of this very consistent editor of the Republican.]

CAN THIS BE TRUE? — The Montgomery (Ala.) Confederate, Democratic, says — Is it true, that J. C. Breckinridge signed "a petition to Gov. Wise, begging the pardon of the traitor John Brown?"

Can this be true? Will the Enquirer or Examiner enlighten us? We call for a confirmation or denial of this strange report. — Richmond Whig.

The Monitor was an efficient advocate of Southern Rights in Philadelphia, until it found the Southern leaders going off with the Knoxville Disciples. It then belated the Bell and Everett flag, and is doing good service in the Union cause.

COL. J. GALLAHER, the same consistent editor of the Republican, was cited Presiding Justice of the County Court of Clarke on Monday last.

ANDREW HUNTER, ESQ.,

The Independent Democrat makes much ado about — the support given by this gentleman to the Breckinridge and Lane ticket. In the last number of that paper the editor uses the following language:

"We are not the defender nor apologist of Mr. H. — he needs none, but we rejoice in the fact that such men as he, all over the country, are marshalling under the flag of Breckinridge and Lane, thus giving the gratifying assurance that patriotism and love of country, in minds of character and courage, are superior to mere partisanship, and proves that the good and the true of the land, find a common ground upon which each can stand upholding and maintaining the true principles of the Union and the Constitution.

We are, of course, perfectly willing to concede that Mr. Hunter has the right to think, and to vote, as he pleases, as the right to advise and counsel, — we use his own words) the people to think and vote as he does. At the same time we have the right to advise and counsel, and to exert influence — especially Mr. H. has put himself before the people, and claims to advise and counsel them.

Mr. Hunter has always professed to be a Whig — a Clay Whig; to have always been thoroughly impressed and convinced of the correctness of the principles of that party, and he now says that it stands just where he always had stood. It is, therefore, not any change of sentiment on his part to which we are to ascribe his present position. But, says the Independent, "patriotism and love of country, rises superior to mere partisanship," and hence we are to account for the aid and comfort that Mr. H. is now giving to his old political enemies.

It is a singular sort of patriotism and love of country that induces an old Whig to vote for the Ruffian Pamphlet nominees of the Democracy in 1859, and to 1860 stand by the accession, Yancey wing of that Democracy. The first democratic vote that Mr. H. ever cast was for John Bell, and that, too, at a time when he himself visibly denounced Russification. It is just that we are to ascribe his present position to justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we have by no means intended to reflect upon the honesty or motives of our colleagues — according to them the same party of purpose which we claim for ourselves, and, respectively, that we have been induced to differ widely from gentlemen of another section, which shall be named.

Thus, in a concious manner as justice to the grave questions involved would permit, we have alighted to the prominent points in connection with the late Democratic Convention. It is hardly necessary to add, that in submitting the foregoing statement, we

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS AND FARMERS' REPOSITORY.

Sale, 18th August.
COMMISSIONERS' SALE OF LAND.

On the 18th day of August, 1860,

The undersigned, Special Commissioners appointed by the Circuit Court of Jefferson, to sell the estate of Bruce Van Vechten L. Boles, Esq., will sell the same.

On the 19th inst., by the Rev. H. McMillin, Mr. JOHN H. BROWN & Miss MARY CANN, MARRIED.

On the 20th ult., by the Rev. Dr. W. B. Dutton, Mr. JAMES PROPP, to Miss SUNDAY J. COLLIS, both of Baltimore, in this county.

On Monday the 20th Inst., by the Rev. Mr. Douglas, Mr. GEORGE KOGGINS to Miss Mary Josephine Bainbridge, daughter of the late Mr. Joseph Bainbridge, of this city.

On the 16th inst., by Rev. S. McMillin, Mr. JOHN H. BROWN & Miss MARY CANN, all of Berkeley county.

On the 19th inst., by the Rev. H. McMillin, Mr. WESTPHAL RACEY to Miss LUCY J. EDWARDS, all of Berkeley County.

DIED.

On Monday night last, ENOCH WILLIAMS, son of Mr. T. T. and Rebecca Esham, of Hagerstown, died at his home, aged 4 months.

At his residence, in Clarke County, on the morning of the 20th inst., CLAUDE MACCORMICK, Esq., a young man, in the 21st year of his age, reviving well, Mr. BENJAMIN HANFEE, in the Gabriels of his age.

On the 21st inst., in this town, GEO. CALVIN, son of Charles L. and Mary Burke, aged 10 months.

W. H. WOODWARD, THURSTON, M. D., HARRISON, an advanced age, Mr. H. was a very worth gentleman.

In Winchester, on the morning of the 11th inst., of disease of the heart, JOHN B. CAMPBELL, in the 56th year of his age.

Special Notices.

OMRAK REMEDIES.

Treats a variety of Cold Diseases.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Treatment Whipping Cough, Croup or Bronchitis.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Treatment of Indigestion, use.

The Oxygenated Bitters.

The Cure Asthma, Ailments of Heart, Bile, use.

The Oxygenated Bitters.

These remedies perform all they promise.

They relieve suffering, cure disease, restore health, thus securing consolation and comfort to those who are in trouble, where discouragement, and suffering often prevail.

COTTON, W. H. POWELL & CO., agents to all that is now required in the manufacture of Cotton for the last three years in the manufacture of Drapery, General Debility, Indigestion, Ailments, etc., and the Jumper, with the most satisfactory results, and are now prepared to those suffering from these distressing diseases, to give this valuable medicine.

Respectfully yours,

E. SMITH, L. D. A.

Excess, Mr. Smith, L. D. A.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry for Diseases of the Lungs, in all past and many diseases, with great success, to those who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Cough and Cold, and the debility and nervous prostration caused by these diseases.

Dr. W. H. WOODWARD, Hagerstown, Md.

Physician at Keeler Corner.

The only genuine Balsams has written signature on the wrapper.

Presented by S. W. POWELL & CO., Boston, and for sale.

BILLARD & BURNETT, and Co., Charlestown.

JOSEPH E. CLAGETTE, Harper's Ferry.

W.M. MOULDER, Shepherdstown.

ANDREW J. SMITH, Hagerstown.

July 12, 1860.——

A CARD TO THE SUFFERING.

The Rev. William G. Morris, while laboring among the poor, in the service of Christ, died of Consumption, when all other means had failed, by a recipe obtained from a learned physician in New York, he was enabled to cure several great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Cough and Cold, and the debility and nervous prostration caused by these diseases.

Deacons of breeding others, will send their effects which I have brought home to me, at all need, it is free of charge.

REV. WM. GOMROVE,
439 Fulton Avenue,
May 17, 1860.——

THE TIMOR AND OX RAILROAD.

Through Trains of cars, East and West, via Harper's Ferry daily at the following hours:

TRAINS WESTWARD.

Arrivals 7:30 P. M.
Mail Train 7:35 P. M.
Extra Train 10 A. M.

TRAINS EASTWARD.

Arrivals 10 A. M.
12:30 P. M.
Extra Train 1 P. M.

We publish the above weekly that our passengers may learn at any time the hours of arrival & departure by the cars of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

July 12, 1860.——

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

The undersigned having formed a co-partnership under the style of HERIT & WELCH, will continue the Milling Business, and will be the sole manufacturers of James B. Welch's best Family Flour.

J. A. HERR, JAS. W. WELCH.

Harper's Ferry, July 20, 1860.——

CITY HOTEL.

Cornelius Royal and Cassanova Street, Alexandria, Virginia.

SAMUEL HEILBRENNER, Proprietor.

THE undersigned having leased a tenement house, situated in the City of Charleston, S. C., has received full possession of the parsonage of the Rev. Mr. WELCH, and having been largely repaired and returned to its former condition, will be let at a reasonable rent.

A. E. FORTIER will be at the door upon the arrival of the Rev. Mr. WELCH, who will remain every year.

Charleston, May 10, 1860.

EVERETTE HOUSE.

MARTINSBURG, VA.

This undersigned having leased a tenement house, situated in the City of Charleston, S. C., has received full possession of the parsonage of the Rev. Mr. WELCH, and having been largely repaired and returned to its former condition, will be let at a reasonable rent.

A. E. FORTIER will be at the door upon the arrival of the Rev. Mr. WELCH, who will remain every year.

Charleston, May 10, 1860.

Public Sale.

A County and personal in arrears goes before his Will, or record in the Clerk's Office of the County of said County, I will offer for sale on Monday, 20th day of August, 1860, before the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

Court-House, in the County of said County, or at the Court-House of said County, or at the

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS AND FARMERS' REPOSITORY.

POETRY.

For the Free Press.
S. T. H. TO J. C.
—11—

The day is dawning in the skies,
The shades of night like dreams depart;
What are thoughts that once were mine?
The vision ever has cheered my heart!

The soprano once my spirit blest,
Have bid returning never more;

Silence the little birds as sweet,
But lonely strains of music pour.

I cannot chase those clouds away,
Like shades of night they gather fast;

Even so bright and cheering ray,
Beneath the sun and hallowed past.

Of that this weight of woe was gone;
These soon upon my singing heart;

When will life's cloudless skies appear?

When will the shadows all depart?

—12—

—will not tell them all my sorrow,
The bitter anguish of my heart;

But how can I say to-morrow?

As though we were forced to part,

I've loved them with a strong affection;

My fond dreams have been of thee;

But gave my love a fond direction;

Not dreamt that thou hast left me free.

You must mourn over fond hopes blighted;

Morn of joy has set at noon;

And with me will be blighted;

Madame's aile come too soon;

Song and thine shall find gladness;

The path from you is smooth,

While sweetest was your sadness,

Most ever cast their shade on me.

You go! I will not say remember;

Thy absent scenes brings deadliest chills,

Lies the dread noise of dear November;

That pend there that once did thrill;

Go, thou the charms, go and admirer,

The sparkling adoring eyes;

To see this when thy smile retires,

With passions which thy charms controls.

Wee bring the charms, loose the power;

But I break the magic spell;

Can't forget this fatal hour;

Although I say this last farewell.

VARIETY.

OMINOUS.

We perceive that the Jackson Democratic Association of Washington, an institution of some twenty years standing and which has exercised no political influence, is now numbered with the dead. It has gone summing up with the things that were.—Disagreements upon the Presidential question, occasioned its disruption.—It is to the melancholy cause of the Democratic party, it scattered on every side! Even the name and fame of the great founder of the modern Democratic party had an enemy enough in it to keep alive their association.—Who, before, was the name of Jackson so disdained by his followers?—(Lycoming Virginian.)

THE SOUTH.

Those who are always prating of Democratic power in the South, in former years, read:

Now. Score
1852 Jackson's Electoral Vote 73 105
1852 Jackson do 132 87
1856 Van Buren do 12 48
1856 Pierce do 103 67
1856 Cass do 79 87
1856 Pierce do 100 90
1856 Buchanan's do 54 116
Total. 217 625

A schmoo being asked to define the word admission, said it was "a schoolboy's word, a schoolboy's scholastic, who, with a definition do you call that? I don't know," suddenly replied the boy, "but I'm sure it says on the show-advertisements, there at the show."—Then said another boy, "children half price."

It is understood that Miss Stevens of New York city, the eventual heiress of the greatest portion of the vast Stevens estate, highest State and New Jersey, was married on the 4th of July last, to Hon. M. H. Garret, M. C. from Virginia. Let us hope that this celebration of Independence Day may prove a fresh bond of union between the Empire State and the Old Dominion.

Let us, REMEMBERED.—That Caleb Cushing, who presided over the Southern Democratic Convention, which nominated John C. Breckinridge and Joe Lane, voted, when in Congress against the admission of Arkansas, because the colored slaves!

Our dear Old.—At the present season of the year, when dysentery and diarrhoea are prevalent, it is well to have a preventive at hand. Clip this out and have it convenient. Many trials have proved it a sure remedy.

Take equal parts of Tincture of Cinnamon
— of Cayenne Pepper (treble strength)
— Rhubarb
— Egg of Peppermint (treble strength)
Sprigs of Camphor.

Mix it in a bottle, dose from 5 to 30 drops, to be repeated every 10 or 15 minutes, if necessary until relief is obtained.

The author of the following lines is said to be a distant relative of Alexander Smith, the poet. His name is probably John Hall in a far way to become as celebrated as Alexander.

Angel Brown
With a brain new grown:
Went down to the water,
When John and Lee,
Jumped right up and saved her!

Two old maids conversing with a young lady about to be married, one exclaiming popularly, "Well, if you will do it, you must bear the responsibility."

Certainly, Expect to was the signal-cry.

James and Ernest—Why Hans, you have the most beautiful cast of countenance I ever have seen.

Oh, yes, repeat Hans! I know de reas, for dat, my mother's a woman!

Opp! Why is a married man like a candle! Because he sometimes goes out at night when he ought not to.

Opp! Women are a great deal like French watches—very pretty to look at, but very difficult to regulate when they once take to going wrong.

If you doubt whether to kiss a pretty girl, give her the benefit of the doubt, and go in.

Opp! Why is horse the most miserable of animals?

Because his thoughts are always on the track.

No. 11 SOUTH FREDERICK ST., BALTIMORE, MD.

Established in order to afford the affected sound and scientific medical aid, and for the suppression of Quackery.

DOCTOR SMITH, can only Remonstrant Entomologist, and a general Physician, has for many years devoted his whole attention to the treatment of Private Complaints, in all their various and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which he does not expect to exceed 10,000 cases in the future.

He has a large number of patients, mostly in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken as directed, in all their cases and complicated forms. His practice is well known, and his reputation as a physician, as well as for his constantly successful practice, has sufficed to command the patronage which he has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated over 30,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages