POETRY:

FAITH AND DUTY.

Something ever doth impress to With a sense of righter wrong;
Something waiteth still to bless us As we journey life along;
Something viewless whispers to a
Words of hope and promise wire

Voices speak prophetic through us.

Of a life that shall endure There's a sile to be case feacher Striving with the human will, Unto each weak earth-born creature Wisdom's lessons doth instil:

Heed them, better grow and wiser. They will soften life's hot fray; Duty make your stern adviser, Aim to reach the perfect day. Trust the high hopes that impel us, And inspire our irm belief,— They alone can we'l foreteil us?

Human works how frail and brief: Trust the God that reigns above us, Faithful to his precepts be, He will guide, and guard, and love us, Through a blest eternity.

Heed the heavenly aspirations That imbue with hope the soul; Mark the glorious life-creations Flowing in without control: See in all things truth and beauty, Love o'erflowing from the skies, Exercising Faith and Duty, Earth would be a Paradise

JUDGE GENTLY. Oh, there has many a tear been shed, And many a heart been broken, For want of a gentle hand stretched forth, Or a word of kindness spoken.

Then, oh, with brotherly regard Greet every son of sorrow, so from each tone of love his heart New hope, new strength, shall borrow. Nor turn with cold and scornful eye, From him who hath offerded, Eat let the harshness of reproof With kindest tones be blended. The seeds of good are everywhere, And, in the guiltiest bosom, May, by the quickening rays of love,

Put forth the tender blossom. While many a tempted soul hath been To deeds of evil hardened. Who felt that bitterness of grief, The first effence unpardoned.

MISCELLANY.

HOW TO SPOIL A HIGH-SPIRITED

'What did you speak in that way to your wife for, young man?' asked old uncle Rog-Becauselit's fun to see her spark up, replied the hopeful Benedict; 'I like to make her black eyes shine, and her round cheeks grow red as my damask rose.' And it's quite tragic the way she puts her little foot down, and says, 's-i-r.' By the muses! If you staid long enough uncle, I'd have shown you a queen. You've no idea how grandly she tosses back her fierce little head-or with where Deliver and with the delicate hands of hers. It quite breaks the monotony of life to get up such a tempest to order. You see, uncle, one tires of clear sunshine and blue sky-and so, as I know she owns this spunky temper, I just touch it up with the spur matrimonial, and let it gallop till I see fit to rein in.'

·I've as good a mind to root out that sapling. Hal, and use it over your shoulders, as I had this morning to eat my breakfast before you spoiled my sppetite.

You are taking the surest way to ruin a finely strung organization. Saving your presence, I despise the man who thus tampers with a passionate but leving spirit .-Look at your wife-how delicate her beauty! Look at your household-the very temple of taste and neatness. The little fixings on the mantle, the fringing and tasseling here and there, give a touch beyond the common to your humble furniture. That lounge that lends so grand an air to your parler, I had set down for no less than a fifty-when le! it turns out that five dollars and a woman's ingenuity, deceived an old, experienced upholsterer like myself. Then look at the vines she has trained, the flowers she has planted, that lean towards her when she approaches them, as if she was their guardian angel! Why, Halis it possible the possession of such a being as this, tempts you to an absurdity that will surely end in the destruction of your domestic happiness ?' 'You are mighty serious about this little thing, uncle.' 'Serious! unfortunately I am something more-a victim to my own indulgence in a similar infatuation. You have heard'-here uncle Rogers gave a great sigh-that I am not happy at home. My ewn fault! Every bit of it!' and the old man gave mother earth a savage blow with his cane. 'If a man marries an augel and torments her into a fiend, who's to blame but himself.' My wife was very handsome, and as you say, spunky. There never needed to have been a warm word between us, but I liked to see her angry. I liked to see the delicate nostrils expand-the large bright eyes scintillate sparks of fire-but I did it just once loo often. I know the very time that anger raised the final barrier of opposition, and that nice sense of right became an exacting and imperious tormenter. And now your old uncle is driven from the home of his nephew, where he hoped for peace, and tertured with the fresh opening lips quivered with excitement. Hal said nothing then, but when he returned, he ground his pride between his teeth, and begged his wife's pardon. 'I'll never taunt you for fun again, Carry, he said in a low tone. And she replied as she hid her tearful face in his besom-'I am se quick, se passionate-but indeed I never begin it; and you have been so noble that I will try and conquer this basty temper. But Hal,' she added reguishly, shaking her carls in his face, 'what will you de for your queen? what will become of Dide tragedy, etc.,—ha?'

Her husband blushed (I contend that a man looks handsome when he blushes) and a kiss sealed the reconciliation. To-day, after forty years of wedded life, Hal boasts that he remembers but once making up after a sterm-and that was away back in the honey-moon. Ever since he has had still waters and a steady voyage; and uncle Rog-ers who died years ago—peace be with his ashes—used to call Hal's home a paradise on earth.

THE GRUMBLER. A PORTRAIT FROM THE CROWD.

"The faults of others be could well discern. Has the reader never been annoyed by the lmost perpetual mutterings, fault-findings. forebodings and complaints of a confirmed eyes for the errors and imperfections of others—but who can never discover or appreciate any merits of accomplishment? If the of the yoke; that's my creed. answer be in the negative, we beg leave to offer our congratulations. We can conceive of no greater pest of society, no more incorrigible bore, no more abominable nuisance. than a constitutional and habitual grumbler -one who goes about picking flaws in charthat, always dissatisfied, never comfortable himself, and ever disposed to mar the happiness of others. The weather is either too het or too cold, the wind too high er too low, business too brisk or too dull, while nothing within the range of human vision is exactly as it should be or as it might be. A gloom seems to have settled upon the mind of the wretched grumbler, and thus he sees and views everything through a hazy medium.— The success of a friend, instead of being a perilous piece of misfortune, while some sad prediction is made as to the deplorable effects in the future. The grumbler, moreover while ever eager and ready to depreciate the efforts of others, is rarely able to equal those efforts himself. It is this very consciousness in some cases, that induces him to criticize and complain. He cannot attain the same degree of skill and perfection, and hence he endeavors to underrate the faculty no faculty for appreciation. The kindest &c) act will be excepted too. Their best friends within their influence. They get up in the morning, and commence grumbling, and they continue the annoyance throughout the day. Serve them however honestly and faithfully, and they will nevertheless manifest discontent. The infirmity is not only unfertunate, but it is vicious.

The true philosophy of life is to render the path before us as smooth and easy as pessible, and at the same time, to contribute all in our power to the comfort, convenience and prosperity of others. Above all things, we should manifest a proper sense of kindness and appreciation. We should do unto others as we would they should do unto us. grateful than coldnessor complaint, on the nose put out of joint." - FANNY FERN. part of an individual whose fertunes we have endeavored to pro mote, or whose position we have exerted our best energies to assist and elevate? The effect, too, must be chilling and depressing. If, we are apt to argue, our kindness is misuaderstood or misappreciated, we should, perhaps, be more careful for the future. But, we repeat, the grumbler can never be satisfied. Nay, we could single out a case, in which an individual of this class is so noted for his prepensity, that all who know him, expect on his approach to hear him utter some ill-natured remark, to chronicle some misfortune, or to mutter some complaint. He is either sour, or bitter by nature, or he has permitted the habit of grumbling so to grow upon him, that he cannot help himself. The disease has become chronic, so to speak. It forms part and parcel of his character. A kind word from his cordial grasp of his hand, something altogether extraordinary. In what bread and happy contrast is the cheerful and contented -the individual whose heart is a perpetual fountain of sunshine and good humor, who is ever ready to say a kind thing, or to do a good turn, and wha avoids everything that is harsh, malevolent, or calculated to wound. The one is the source of constant miserythe other of constant pleasure. The one brightens and cheers the pathway of life, the other darkens and depresses. The one is ever welcome, the other is exactly the reverse. The one goes through the world appreciating and appreciated, pouring balm into the wounds of the afflicted, and giving hope and courage to the timid, the unfortunate and the despairing; while the other seems to delight in making bad worse, and in extinguishing by some melancholy forebeding or distorted and gloomy view, every thing like hope, improvement or prosperity The death-bed of a grumbler must be a scene of misery and apprehension. The shadows that have flitted across, and darkened his footsteps through life, must assume a deeper hue, as he is about to shuffle off his to be applied to his own lips. He can have no joyous recollection of favors rendered, hearts gladdening and homes made happy through his influence, but bitterness and penitence and remorse must surround his dying couch. Life has been to him a protracted grumble, and it will expire in an agonized grean. The cheerful spirit, on the other hand-the benevolent, the generous and the appreciating-will, as the evening of the last day comes on, find many happy visions flitting through his mind-visions of kind things said and good things done-visions of buoyant hearts and joyous voices I tell you, Hal, you will spoil your wife, and happy faces -- and these will not only onward flight to the upward regions of eternity. The goed that we do here will not only live with us, and accompany us to the portals of the grave, but it will there plume the wings of the spirit, and convey us in hepe and faith to the regions of the blessed. His is the desirable fate who, as the things of this world fade upon his mortal vision. feels the kappy consciousness of having con tributed to the utmost of his ability to the social, moral, rational, and religious enjoyment of his friends, his family and his fellow creatures, who, in brief, is confident, and conscious that he has appreciated the kindness of ethers, and has never committed the injustice of complaint without sufficient cause.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A MONSTER SNAKE.—Mr. John Davis, a teamster on the farm of Squire Gifford, in the northwest part of the city, on Thursday last had a sight of the great black make which has been so often seen in that vicinity. He was resting quietty in the road as Mr. Davis approached, when he made off as fast as his muscels would carry him. Upon an accurate measurement of the form where he was resting, it appeared that he was 181 feet long, and Mr. D. thinks about a foot and a half in circumference.—New Bullwal Mercury.

MR. PIPKIN'S IDEAS OF FAI TRENCHMENT.

Mrs. Pipkin. I am under the d secessity of informing you, that the family expenses are gatting to be enormous. I see that carpet weman charged you a dollar for grumbler—one who appears to have Argus man's wages; such presumption is intolerable. Pity you did not make it yourself,

Little Tom Pipkin - Papa, may I have this bit of paper, on the floor; it is your tailor's bill-says "$400 for your last year's ciothes."

Mr. Pipkin.-Tom, go to bed, and learn never to interrupt your father when he is acter, taking exception to this opinion or to talking. Yes, as I was saying, Mrs. Pipkin, wives should hold up their end of the yoke; and it is high time there was a little retrenchment here; surerfuities must be dispensed with. GNORANCE OR IMPUDENCE I The Washington Union says: "It seems to be cation of the Union is that the public money is only safe when the Democrats are in power. And this, too, in the face of the fact, patent, notorious, known to every body, unless it may be the editors of the Government organ, that more of the people's money was embezzled and made away with by Democratic office-holders, from 1831 to 1841, than the aggregate of all the other losses incurred by the Government from the adoption of the Constitution down to the close of Mr. Fi!lmore's administration. ICE-HOUSE DESTROYED BY LIGHT-

The severe storm of Wednesday evening was actended by disastrous effects at Rockland Lake. A large ice-house, the property of John D. Ascorga & Co., ecutaining about the loe thousand tons of ice, was struck by lightning and set in fire. The ice in this house was of a peculiarly fine quality, and had been laid up in a previous year, very carefully packed is sult, hay, sawdust, &c. The combustible character of these materials fed the fire until the conflagration became so great as to illumine the atmosphere to an immense distance now idumine the atmosphere to an immense distance; nor could the herceness of the flames be arrested until the flouse was totally destroyed, one entire side of the immense structure falling into the river. We regret to learn that the less to the company will amount to full $40,000, on which no insurance had been effected. Of course, most of the ice is lost, much being destroyed during the conflagration, and still more rapidly melting under the smouldering ruins.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser.

THE DISTRICT APPOINTMENTS.

If general rumor is to be believed, the "long agony" of our Democratic friends with regard to the "District appointments" will soon be over, or at least considerably relieved; the President of the United States having yesterday, it is said, appointed James G. The various acts of violence, incendiarism and indecency, which have occurred at the National Metropolis, in consequence of intemperance have ereated a very decided feeling of opposition to drinking houses; and a large majority of the people have declared against all licenses for retailing liquor. The action of Congress, however, ais required, to amend the City charter, so as to anthorize the Corporation to refuse licenses en to grocers and other retailers. That this power will be given is scarcely probable, when we consider that a large majority of the members thembelves take their daily libations from a Refectory h the Capitol! There must be reform at home, so as to resend rowdies to Congress, before the good scople at Washington will be able to purify their pipulation. Let the honest yeomanry of the country give themselves the trouble to look into the House of Representatives towards the close of a days exciting session, and they will soon conclude that decidedly gaseous and inflammable character.

FOREIGN APPOINTMENTS.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, "Bob," thus refers to the Foreign appointments from Virginia:

"Old Virginia comes in for a liberal share of Elector in 1840, on the ticket for 'Tippecanoe and Tyler too '

But he is none the worse for that. He is a gentle-man and a scholar. Then there is Mr. Henry Bedinger for Denmark. He was a member of Congress from Virginia during the tremendous warlike debates on 54 40, and made a conservative speech, in which he gave a glowing description of a certain big eagle which he saw one day at Harpers Ferry,

"High up above the storm." But whether it was that eagle, or something else, that caused it, Mr. Bedinger was not re posnipated by that district. So he went off and set up the pracas the democratic candidate in his old district, affainst Faulkner, independent Union wilg, and was beaten badly, because he was tinged too deeply with secessionism. Faulkner having succeded in getting the democratic nomination, thre was nothing left for Mr. Bedinger than a cont by the administration. Lucky man at last! He goes to brought down, last spring, thirteen Presidential candidates at a single fire—he goes Consulto Rio.

The Gerrymander has completely fulfilled the designs and expectations of those who contrived it, and we must now make up our minds to bear as best we may for the next two years, the yoke which our unscrupulous adversaries have succeeded in imposing on our necks .-This is the first time in our history that the Democratic party have ever secured a unanimous delegation in Congress from this State. Even in the palmiest days of Jacksonism, when the relative parties was as two or three to one, the a failed to elect two or three members of Representatives; but now they ne, although the Democratic voting

Our opponents allege that their majority in Virginia is an overwhelming that any fair arrangement must necessarily give the Dimocracy all the Districts, but if this he so, are should be glad to learn how it hapand that a Whig was ever elected from this State when the Democratic majorite was at least double what it now is. The matter admitted however, of an easy explanation. At the period to which we have referred the idea of disfranchising their opponents by an iniquitous and unnatural arrangement of the Congressional districts had not occurred to the minds of Democratic legislators. The express requisitions of the constitution and the obvious dictates of justice had not wholly lost their weight with the dominant party of hat day. In laying off the districts, they acted in the face of day and loosed only to those plain and simple considerations that ought to guide honest men in the discharge of a public duty. They did not deem it necessary or becoming to meet in midnight conclaves for the purpose of concecting schemes whereby the performance of their task might be made to carry along with it the accomplishment of an iniquitous and unconstitutional object. But enough of this .-The deed is done, and although done most foully and unfairly, complaints and denunciations will not now mend the matter, and so we close the sub-

The annexed letter (says the National Intelligencer of June 4th.) is of serious import. It is from the intelligent and generally well-intermed correspondent of the Journal of Commerce; and we know that its statements are substantially correct so far as they relate to General Garland's departure for the Upper Rio Grande, and the strong force of all arms which will be there under his orders. Yet we entertain a hope that the writer is mistaken in supposing that the dispute which has arisen about the patch in the Mesilla valley is to be settled by an abrupt shock of arms.

WASRINGTON, Wednesday, June 1. Gen. Garland, who has been here, en route for New Mexico, has left for his important command. He arrived here in much less time than was expected, after he had been summoned to this blace. He has received his instructions, and I conjecture that they embrace both diplomatic and military powers. He is undoubtedly to proceed forthwith to New Mexico, and to march into the Mesilla valley with a force that will enable him to encounter Governor Trias, who is there before him, and who is prepared to expel him or any other American intrader. It may be that Governor Trias will retire before Gen. Garland, and that Santa Annu will suffer the United States to take and keep possession of that disputed territory. But such is not the apparent intention of the Mexicans. 10 ir Executive Government have decided that the disputed territory belongs to 1-s under the treaty, and would be ours supposing the boundary line to be run from "a point immediately north of El Paso" westward. It is of no use now to go into the merits of this controversy. I say again that our Executive has decided the question, and it is to the results of that decision that we are to look. It is to be hoped that this dispute will be allowed to be settled in the manner contemplated in the treaty of Guadalupe, by running the line over again, or, in case of a final disagreement, to refer the dispute to the arbitration of some third party. But arms are now introduced by both parties in the dispute, and both parties indicate a resolute in ention to settle the question by arms. Gov. Trias may give way, but he has not occupied the Mesilla for the pur ose of yielding it. He has not gone there with a force of a thousand men for the mere purpose of giving up the territory to Gen Garland. With a smaller escort he could

The Ship William and Mary.—It will be gratifying to our readers to learn that the unfortunate passengers, one hundred and eighty in number, of this ill-fated ship have been saved, with the exception of two, who, in endeavoring to get into the long-boat, were drowned.—The herose and humane conduct of the two seamen, William Ward and Samuel P. Harris, who refused to quit the ship and abandon the passengers to helplessuess and despair, is a noble contrast with the cowardly and reprehensible conduct of the Captain and his Officers, who availed themselves of the first opportunity to desert and save their useless lives. The unselfish, brave and humane spirits of Ward and Harris will client the roism and humanity we trust they writt receive, as they deserve, some substantial token of public approbation.—The efforts, of Captain Sands, of the wrecking schooner Oracle, in saving the lives and relieving the distress of the Bulliam and Mary are worthy of the highest commendation. His business was that of a wrecker, and his interest was to save the cargo. But he nobly sacrificed his interest and risked his life to rescue his fellow-beings from the imminent peril to which they had been abandoned. of their rescue are given in the subjoined extract gold and silver: Gold Coinage for May, 1853: Double Englis$1,303,400 00 In bars, April and May, 2,296,716 11 424,008 Half Dollars$212,004 80 has fellow-beings from the imminent peril to which they had been abandoned.

Mr. B. also informs us that the British passenger act of 1852 makes full provision for disasters of this kind, and It will be observed to the deposits of every month this year exceeded these of the same month of last year, while the aggregate excess is nearly seven millions. The entire deposits last year were about $51,the entire cost of maintaining these passengers, although borne in the first instance by the British Government, 600.000. At the ratio of the first five months, the entire deposits of this year will be about $61,000,000, becomes by a section of that act a Crown debt, and is showing a very large increase in the productiveness recoverable from the "cowers, master, agent, and charterers" of the ship—a bond being given at the port from whence the ship sails to cover any such contingencies.—
The cost of maintaining the passengers at Nassau and transporting them to New Orleans will be about $1000.

We append the following particulars, which we find in the Bahama (at Nassau) Herald of the 14th: of our California possessions.

The shipments of specie to foreign countries during the month of May, have been $2,204,545. The entire shipments of specie to foreign countries since the 1st of January, amount to $6,294,532, against $9,511,570 to the same time last year. WESTERN LUNATIC ASYLUM. Dr. Stribling, the able and accomplished Superintendent of this Asylum, bas handed in his resignation to the Board of Directors. This intelligence will be received with sincere regret by every friend of humanity in Virginia. It is, we think, about fifteen years, since Dr. Stribling entered upon his post, and, under his auspices, and mainly owing to ais talents and influence, the Western Lunatic Asylum has acquired a degree of usefulness, and a reputation which is unsurpassed by that of any similar institution in the United States. Seldom has any officer exhibited so rare a combination of qualifications for such a post. As a physician, pre-eminent in knowledge and skill, and as a man, firm, gentle and humane, he has performed his devotion, fidelity and perseverance, which have been crowned with the most happy results to afflicted humanity and have elicited the general and enthusiastic plaudits of all good and benevolent men. We know not how the place of Dr. Stribling can be supplied. The Directors will find it almost impossible to secure a gentleman so thoroughly skilled as Dr. Stribling both in the general science and practice of medicine, and that which pertains especially to insanity and its kindred diseases; and a Superintendent, uniting so much kindness and decision, such consummate tact in the management of the insane, and such enlightened and ceaseless | as soon as he got an opportunity. He feared that devotion to the maladies both of the mind and soul. We learn that Dr Stribling contemplates removing from Staunton and resuming either at Richmond or Baltimore the general practice of the profession of which he is so distinguished an ornament. We earnestly toust that he will select our city as his residence. We feel assured that he will receive a warm welcome rom this community, and from the enlightened and liberal members of his profession in this city. We dislike to lose from Virginia, gentlemen of any profession, who have contributed to the fame and standing of the State, and we therefore sincerely hope that Dr. Stribling will decide in favor of the metropolis of his native Commonwealth .- Richmond Mail.

DISTRICT PENITENTIARY. An attempt to escape from the District Penitentiary was recently made by six or eight of the conricts, Allemander, Rady, and Camper, being the ruling spirits. They commenced in the blacksmith shop, where Rady was constantly employed, and to which place his contederates had occasion frequently to resort on bu-iness connected with their mechanical pursuits. While there, they began the work of excavition, with a view to make a subterranean passage-way beyond the walls of the prison, on the south side. The surplus dirt was thrown into the narrow sewer parallel with their "base line of operations." Every thing connected with the enterprize was skillfully managed, showing that they had thoroughly explored the ground and devoted to the plan of escape the most excessive toil, after the manner of a mole. A space of ground, just large enough for the body, had been scooped out for a distance of thirty feet, and but five more remained to be added to consummate their design, when the warden, by means not necessary to relate, discovered the plot. The prisoners, on Tuesday night last, were locked up as usual, and no doubt, they, with anxious hearts, wished for the morrow, which they fondly anticipated would dawn upon the day of their deliverance. But on the next morning the suspected persons were, one by one, brought out of their cells, and each examined in relation to the secret proceedings. The result was, they were each heavily ironed, and placed in soli-

On inspecting the blacksmith shop, a number of files, eighteen inches in length, and charpened on both edges and at the point, together with a blud-geon, were found concealed in an old pair of bellows. These were intended for defence, in case of emergency, but the combination disavowed any intention to try the effect of these weapons upon the officers of the penitentiary. Such are the particulars, so far as we could ascertain them - Republic. SINGULAR PHENOMENA.

Much to the surprise of all present the apner of inflammable gas-but sent up a strong, clear, and steady flame, as if it were composed of some kind of oil. On applying fire to the liquid which was in the other drill holes in the ricinity, it also burned in the same manner. Since that time amps and candles have been entirely dispensed with, in the subterranean apartment, the substance continuing to burn steadily, and emit an excellent light. Many persons whose curiosity is excited excited, visit the spot daily to witness the singular phenomenon. The liquid gives no appleasant odo while burning.—Cinciuntii Sun, May 27.

Com. E. W. Moore, inte of the Texas Navv. has written an able letter to Senator Pearce, of Maryland, in relation to the debate in the Senate when the bill was up to incorporate the surviving officers of the Texas Navy into the Navy of the United States. Its length prevents us from publishing it—but it is a complete defence of himself. It is probable that Commodore Moore will continue to prosecute his claim before the next Congress, when we hope he will receive a favorable hearing.

THE WILLIAM AND MARY. The Editors of the New York "Sun" has had a conversation with two of the crew of the ill fated bark William and Mary-and if the disclosures they make be true, Captain Stinson occupies a position before the public no brave man would wish to covet. We quote:

sight. The colors were set half-mast, when the schooner immediately bore down to the ship. The passengers redoubled their exertions at the pumps, and were soon relieved by the wreeking schooner Oracle, Robert Sands master, coming along side to their assistance. The woman and children were first taken off and landed, afterwards the schooner returned and saved the remainder of the passengers, two men being on the deck when the ship went down, (on Friday,) but saved themselves by jumping into the wrecking schooner's boat. When the ship went down the west end of Grand Bahama bore a-out east northeast twenty miles distant. Capt. Sands has doubtless been instrumental in saving the lives of all on board, and, with the seamen who remained with the passengers, deserves the warm approbation of the hu-mane, and a generous reward from the British and

"The sailors say the long boat was capable of holding one hundred persons, but it had been placed bottom up; upon the house amidships, and the sun opened the seams until they could be seen through. They also said it was this condition of the long boat the made the Captain slip off to the life boat the long boat would not live half an hour in the

The sailors, however, who were still on board, got some oakum, and commenced caulking the long boat as well as they could. At day light, no assistance being in sight, the ship filling, the Mate and the Second-Mate stipped off, and got on board the life boat where the sailors were. We asked the sailors how the Captain came on board their boat. They said that after the Mate came aboard, he and the Captain attempted to leave openly, the passengers would prevent him; so he watched his opportunity, and after two sailors, who were from the same place with him, and the Mate had managed to get to the life-boat, the Mate made a signal, the Captain came astern to ask him if he wanted a quadrant, then slipped down upon the sunken boat, the lifeboat was hauled up, and the Captain stepped aboard. The Painter was cut, and the boat sprang off. One of the sailors says the sight of the passengers, when they saw the Captain had left them. will never leave his eyes. It has since haunted him and prevented sleep. He feels, he says, as if he saw them all going to be murdered at one blow .-Their looks and cries were terrible. The Captain never cast his eyes around from the moment he left the ship. The sailors say that they did not see the ship sinking, as she was in sight for an hour and a half after they left her, and they were making good speed running before the wind. They saw the ong boat picked up by a bark steering up the Gulf. The long boat was then at out eighteen miles distant from the wreck. The Captain seems to have been completely paralyzed. The sails were left standing and the ship and passengers were left to the mercy of the winds and the waves. Such a case of helpless depair-or cowardice, as the sailors call it, in making their statements, was never before witnessed.' ATTEMPTED SUICIDE BY A YOUNG WOMAN.

Mrs. Glinda Doane, a respectable young woman, tho was married only a few weeks ago, attempted suicide, on the 23d ult., at Harwich, N. Y., under he following circumstances: "For a year or so previous to her marriage, she had received visits from a respectable young man by the name of Hall, to whom she was engaged to be married. Her parents opposed her choice, and favored the suit of a widower of considerable property, named Doane. Hall soon alter married another, when the parents of girl the prevailed on her to marry Doane. The friends were invited, but before the time for the ceremonies to commence the young lady excused herself and retired. Not returning, her sister went to her room, saw blood on the mirror and on the floor, went to the bed, and turning down the clothes, found her throat cut, and n after, she was married, since which time she has been occasionally deranged." Lynch Court, took place at Council Bluff, Mo., a hort time since. A party of emigrants, encamped about half of a mile from the train, were aroused at midnight by a man coming into the camp, and saving that his horse had been stolen; at daylight they went out, and found one of their party, named J. C Samuels, lying about ten feet from the camp fire, on his back, with his head severely bruised. his skull broken in several places, and his neck partly cut off with some instrument, supposed to be an axe, which was found lying near the body covered with blood. His coat and pantaloons had been opened, and his belt, containing some $300, had been taken off, and his messmate, named Baltimore Muer, was missing. Suspicion fell upon the latter, and was pursued and arrested by the Sheriff of the county. The emigrants, however, appeared, took the prisoner from the Sheriff, tried him by a jury of their own number, tound him guilty, and hung him on the spot where the murder was com-mitted. The man protested his innocence to the

DR. DE LANEY'S CELEBRATED Curative Instrument,

THE only infallible care for that dreadful dis-L ease known as Spermaterrhea or Involuntary Nocturnal Emissions, so harassing and destructive of so much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the man for business, society, and mair;-

This Instrument is simple, comprehensive, and never-failing, and may be used without the slightest inconvenience or the knowledge of the most intimate friend. It is to be used externally, producing no pain or injury whatever, nor preventing any one from attending to his business; and while in use not a single emission can take place, invigorating the organs, in a short time, to such an extent that they regain their primitive power of retention, the loss of which, caused by early abuse, is the disease in question, and the cause of the thousand concomitant complaiats, viz : Nervousness Prostration, Drspep-ia, Pain in the Head and Dimness of Vision, Weakness of the Back and Lower Extremities, Affections of the Eves, Impotence, Pimples of the Face, Premature Decline of Virility. Weakness of Memory and Power for Mental Applicati jection, Aversion to Society, Timidity. Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, &c. All these complaints invariably disappear as so on as the source is stopped from which they emanated. This Instrument has been examined and approved of by the highest authorities in Europe and America is recommended by the most prominent Physicians of all countries, as the only certain remedy existing for those complaints, and has now completely superseded the use of drugs the bougie, cauterization &c , not to mention the thousand advertised nostrums of the day, as cordials, antidotes, &c., &c. -Be it also remembered, that those complaints are but little understood by the profession in general, and that all the medicine in the world never has, and never will, stop those losses, which, if allowed to continue unchecked, are sure to produce the most distressing consequences. one of respectability and of professional attainments should devote ni- steps to diseases which people of every description pretend to cure so ca. however, but the one thousandth part of the miser is these people bring upon society were known, a very different opinion would be formed. And it is not only the present misery and dejection, preying on the mind as well as the body, that is deplored, but some are of such a nature as to affect posterity, and even to destroy the reproductive faculty, alto gether. It is a fact that, when not preperly treated, they may remain so dormant in the constitution as Certifs, of Pkg's of 26 whl. tickets, to appear in no other way than in their effects upon posterity; yet, if properly understood, are most easily and speedily removed. The above, so ingeniously contrived instrument, will doubtless, in a great measure, contribute o check the evils of quackery, so prevalert in this class of diseases hroughout the Union. The price of the complete instrument, carefully secured against all observation in a box, is only $10. It can be sent, by express to any address in any part of the United States, Canada, &c., according to order, accompanied by full directions, the expenses, even to the remotest parts of the country, being very trifling. The unexampled success this Instrument has obtained since its introduction in America, has induced some unprincipled persons in New York, Philadelphia. Albany. Hoston, &c., to get up some ridiculous things, called "Instruments." which, however, bear not the slightest resemblance, neither in term nor principle, to my own invented, long tried, and universally approved Instruments, and which are as similar to them as night is to light -Every attempt to sell such 'Instruments" for mine will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, I being not willing to connect the well and honestly earned reputation of my inventions with quacks and their worthless productions. No Instrument is genuine and none can be warranted but those or-lered from myself.

All applications and remittances must be directed post paid, Dr. B. de Laney, 51 Lispenard street, Office hours, daily, from 9 A. M. till 3 P. M., and from 7 til 8 P. M., the Sabbath excepted . The undersigned certify, with great pleasure, that the above-mentioned Instrument is not only constructed on scientific principles, but that from its use the happiest results may always, with confidence, be anticipated there being for the cure of those diseases NO OTHER CERTAIN REME-DY EXTANT

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidence of the wonderful properties of the tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the expla-nations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself. The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. It is situated on an elevation or spur of the malestic Blue Ridge Mountain, in the county of Jefferson, five miles south of Charlestown the county scat.

Passengers leaving Bultimore or Washington by the morning train of cars, will arrive at HarpersFerry at half-past 11 A. M., from thence in the Winchester and Polomac Railroad cars, ten miles Winchester and Polomac Railroad cars, ten miles to Charlestown, where a twelve-passenger Coach will receive and convey them into Charlestown, and if desired to the Springs to dinner, over a good road and through a lovely country.

The Analysis made by the late Dr. De Buscher 100 grains of the water from the main fountain, afforded 63 grs. of Sulphate of Lime, 101 grs. Carbonate of Lime, 231 grs. of Sulphate of Bagnesia (Epsom salts.) 1 gr. of Muriate of Magnesia, 1 gr. Muriate of Soda, 3 10 grs. Sulphate of Iron, and 7-10 grs. Carbonate of Iron.

7-10 grs. Carbonate of Iron. From the above analysis the waters of Shaanondale may very properly be classed among the Sa-line Chalybrates—a combination of the most valua-ble description in the whole range of Mineral waters. It may therefore be positively asserted, without exaggeration or fear of contradiction, that no mineral water within the limits of the United Sigles, possesses the same constituent parts, or is a more salutary and efficient purgative than the waters of Shannondale Springs. This water acts as gently as the trildest aperient, without giving rise to those unpleasant sensations of pain and de-bility so often occasioned by ordinary cathartics, prepared by the most skillful physicians.

The free use of this water, acts almost immediately upon the skin and kidneys, removes worms, relieves the convalescent from bilious or other levers, dyspepsia, d opsical swellings, calculous affections, hemoriheids, scrofula, indigestion rheumatism, loss of appetite, exhaustion, general debility, gravely concertions, strictures, and a variety of other diseases to which man is subject, and it is freely acknowledged by all who have been afflicted with any of the above diseases that the tree use of Shannondale waters have effected permanent cures. Salphur, Mineral, bot and cold Bathes furnished upon application at the Bar.

The Hotel is large and commodious-the cottages numerous and comfortable. No. 16, SOUTH FREDERICK St.

Established in order to afford the afficted sound and sci-intife medical aid, and for the suppression of Quack

PR. SMITH has for many years devoted his whole attention to the treatment of Private Complaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were fermerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage, be has received. Within the last eight years Dr. S. has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all the other physicians now advertising in Baltimete, and not a single case is known where his directions and not a single case is known where his directions streetly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure; the refore persons afflicted with diseases of the above majare, "no matter how difficult or long standing the case may be," would do well to call on Dr. SMITH at his office. Re. 16 S. FREDERICK ST., and if not off ctrally relieved no remuneration will be required for his services. His medicines are free from Meteury and allemineral poisons; put up in a neat and compact torm, and may be taken in a public or a private house, or while travelling, without exposure or hindrance from business, and except in cases of violent inflammation, no change of diet is necessary.

STRICTURES: Dr. Smith has discovered a new method by which he can cure the worst form of stric-tme in a very few days, and that without pain or in-times mistaken for stricture by general practitioners or charlatans. YOUNG MEN and others offlicted with Seminal Debility, whether or ginating from a Certain Destructive Habit, or from any other cause, with the train of bodily and mental evils which fallow, when neglected, should make an early application, thereby avoiding much trouble and suffering, as well as expense. By his improved method of treatment, Dr. S. can safely guarantee a speedy and perfect cure in all cases of this complaint. TO FEMALES.

All diseases peculiar to Females, (such as Suppresconvenience to the patient. Irritation of the urethra, of prestrate gland, or neck of the bladder, is some sions, Irregularities. (c.,) speedily and effectually removed. The effichcy of his remedies, for the cure of the above affections, have been well tested in an extensive practice for the last twelve years. Dr. Smith's " PREVENTATIVES," for Married Ladies, whose health will not admit or who have no desire to increase their family, may be obtained as above. Price $5.

PERSONS AT A DISTANCE may consult Dr. Sby letter, post paid, describing case, and have medicine securely put up and forwarded to any part of the United States, always accompanied with full and ex-plicit directions for use. Communications considered strictly confidential. Office arranged with separate apartments, so that patients never see any one but the doctor himself. Attendance daily, from 8 in the morning till 9 at night.

N. B. Persens afflicted with any of the above com plaints will de well to avoid the various NOSTRUMS and SPECIFICS, advertised by Apothecaries and Druggists, as a certain cure for any and every disease. They are put up to sell but not to cure, and frequently do much more harm than good, therefore avoid them. A word to the wise is sufficient. Address

Dear Sir :- I have for years en afflicted with Asthma in the worst form, so that I have been obliged to sleep in my chair for a larger part of the time, being unable to breathe on my bed. I had tried a great many medicines, to to purpose, until my physician prescribed, as an experiment, your Cherry Pectoral. At first it seemed to make me worse; but in less than a week I began to experience the most gratifying relief from its use; and now, in four weeks, the disease is entirely removed. I can sleep on my bed with com-fort, and enjoy a state of health which I had never expected to enjoy. GEORGE S. PARANT, Commission and Forwarding Merchant, From the President of Amherst College, EDWARD HITCHCOCK, M. D., LL. D. C. Counties. MENTLEMEN :- You no doubt have seen my J numerous advertisements concerning my Croup and Ashma Syrup, and of its success. Now let me humbly ask of you to lay aside your bleeding, blistering, scarifying, and giving large doses of Calomel to children in case of croup, and purchase of your humble servant the receipt to prepare a mild, pleasant Remedy, both to give and to take, which will always give satisfaction, in case of croups, if called on in time. Do not consider, gentlegentlemen, that you are stooping too low to purchase of me, because I have been raised in one of your neighboring Counties; it is just as good to ou, if it cures, as if you had getten it of the King of England, and it is well known that the regular prescribing of the day lacks much of curing croup at all times, with all the unreasonable but hery. The subscriber will come to your house, make the Syrup spoken of until you are satisfied you can perform the same, which will give as much satisfaction in two hours, as the above treatment in a life time, for the sum of $15 for each receipt; and if the least fears be apprehended, as to its value, a credit then will be given of one year with interest, and on the subscriber being unable to prove it a valuable Remedy, the amount shall be null and void, and the amount of one cent shalt never be demanded. Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial For the Cure of Inflammatury and Chronic Rhoman Rhomantic Gout, Neuralgia, Scialica, Lumbage &c., &c., &c.

OF ail diseases incident at the human family, there is none perhaps which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elect so little commiseration and sympathy as Rhematism in its various modifications. Medical writers and the faculty in general have entertained different views as to the cause of have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of com-pounds of one kind or other, which have been presented to the public as curatives. This is a preparation originating entirely with the subscriber and he can therefore recomment it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being whomy free from any deleterious substance whatever: As proof of its valuable efficacy, read the following certificates:

Mr. Zollickoffer—Dear Siri It affords me great pleasure to add my testimeny to the bencheial effect of Zollickoffer's Rheumatic Cordial. Having been afflicted with Rheumatic Gout, or as it was fermed by some physicians, Infigmmatory Rheumatism, for the last ten years of my life, almost without intermission, and the pain was greatly increased by the prevalence of wet weather, so much so, as 'o le almost insupportable: fur hermore, I was frequently confined to my bed for three months at a time.—

After having tried various physicians and remedies without number, I was induced through a friend to try your invaluable medicine, and I am happy to inform you, that after taking one buttle, I feel perfectly well of Rheumatism, and I also find that my general health has been much improved. Very truly yours, JOHN SELLERS.

Harpers-Ferry, Nov. 14, 1851. I take great pleasure in testifying to the excelent qualities of Mr. Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, in effecting what is claimed for it. I was pro-trated with Rheumitism so as to be entirely unable to attend to my business, and inde-d could scarcely walk or move. Soon after I commenced the use of the Cordial, I telt its benegicial effects upon my system, and no a find that it has well nigh eradicated the disease. I walk with ease, the swelling and stiffness has gone out of my limbs, and I feel assured that I shall soon be free from the do-minion of my enemy. JOHN J ALLEN. Being familiar with the facts above stated I subscribe myself, C. W. BUTTON, P. M. orner of Pine and Sixth street, Philadelphia; and sold in bottles, SI each, by T. D.
